MILK PRODUCERS' FIGHT

Promises to Cause a General Drought at the Hub

"STRIKERS" STANDING FIRM

Contractors' Supply May Be Cut From Fifty to Sixty-Five Percent—President Ward Urges Doubters to Withhold Their Product From Boston

Boston, April 1.—The milk trains running into this city today will be eagerly watched, because the size of their loads will determine, in a general way, whether Boston is going to experience a milk drought this week, or will have the usual generous supply of the lacteal fluid.

The strike on the part of the Milk Producers' union against the prices offered by the milk contractors goes into effect today. A. B. Ward, president of the union, makes the statement that the supply usually delivered here to the principal contractors—the Brigham company, D. Whiting & Sons, Boston Dairy company, and Elm Farm Milk company—will be curtailed from 50 to 65 percent, and perhaps more.

Mr. Ward bases this estimate upon the information which he had received from his associates in the union throughout New England. If Mr. Ward's advices are correct, Boston's contractors will receive from 10,000 to 15,000 cans of milk today, instead of the usual 30,000 cans.

The contractors are not saying much, but they are doing a lot of hustling. They admit that the supply from many of the usual sources will be curtailed, but they do not think this curtailment will be sufficient to affect the situation.

Their ordinary supply of milk is always largely in excess of the demand, and their surplus, instead of being turned into butter and cheese, as is ordinarily the case, will be sold to the retail dealers. In addition to this surplus, they claim they will have an additional supply of milk from new sources which will be sufficient to bridge over the threatened difficulty.

The controversy is over the summer prices offered by these companies. The farmers are offered 33 cents per can, minus the loss from surplus. The members of the union ask for a flat price of 32 cents. They object to the surplus clause, which reserves to the contractors the right to change on the first day of any month of the season the price offered for the season's milk.

The contractors have a great advantage in a systemized business and a mutual understanding as to what the price should be. The only independent contractor of any consequence is the Deerfoot Farm company. Just how far this concern will be a factor in the situation remains to be seen.

President Ward has issued a statement saying that the reports are favorable, and warning all producers against the evil results that will follow if they continue to send milk to the Boston market after today. To all who send today, not wishing to decide until they see how big the strike is going to be, he appeals to withdraw their milk tomorrow without fail.

In a number of Worcester county towns yesterday, the farmers sent their milk, but did not take the empty cans at the station home with them.

Lancaster, Warren and North Brookfield join the strike today. Hardwick is still uncertain, and the final effort will be made today.

Bolton has turned down all the advances of the Boston contractors, and contracted to send its milk to the Deerfoot Farm company. A route from Still River has gone over to the Deerfoot. Northboro will not ship over 65 cans today, and this will go to the Deerfoot. Westboro and Upton are among the strikers, as are New Braintree and Oakham. Sterling will not strike to any extent probably, as the contractors have refunded the surplus charges of the last year in order to hold the farmers.

Several towns report that the contractors' agents are making tremendous efforts to get milk, and are making all sorts of promises if the farmers will agree to send. Little success is reported.

New Hampshire Farmers Act

Manchester, N. H., April 1.—A special dispatch from West Canaan to The Union says: A large meeting was held here Saturday evening by milk producers from Hanover, Lisbon, Enfield, East Lebanon and Canaan. The conclusion of the meeting was that the action proposed by the Milk Producers' union was not advisable, although it was voted to take off the milk today, amounting to some 1300 cans.

Couldn't Reach an Agreement

Brazil, Ind., April 1.—The conference of block coal operators and miners which has been in session here endeavoring to reach an agreement adjourned sine die Saturday night, and work has been ordered suspended in all the mines of the county, throwing thousands of workingmen out of work. The miners demanded increased wages.

GAMBLERS CORRALLED

A Bunch of Fifty-Six Gathered In by the Police of Lynn

Lynn, Mass., April 1.—The ordinary Sunday quiet of the city was disturbed yesterday afternoon by a wholesale raid by the police upon gamblers, resulting in the arrest of 56 persons. About 3 o'clock City Marshal Burkes, Inspectors Wells and Colby and Officer McKenney, went to the block at 311 Union street, where, in a large back room on the second floor, they found a crowd of men surrounding a large table, engaged in shooting craps.

The crowd became demoralized upon the entrance of the officers, and some of them made a rush for the back windows from which six or seven of the men jumped to an open area and made their escape. One of them, however, who gave his name as James Smith, fell astride a barrel, resulting in severe injuries. He was taken to a hospital. The others in the room, 56 in number, were placed under arrest, but owing to the large number in the room, a considerable amount of money, which was on the table when the officers entered, could not be secured.

The men were taken to the police station in two patrol wagons, which were obliged to make several trips, the transfer causing much excitement upon the street. Among the prisoners were two boys 9 years of age.

At the police station the men were booked, all giving names that are probably fictitious, and the majority of them were subsequently bailed out by friends.

Thinks Missionaries at Fault

Boston, April 1.—President Tucker of Dartmouth college took the Christian church to task for its part in the Chinese troubles, during a Lenten sermon at the Old South church last evening His strongest sentences were these. "The very apostles sent forth by the church have shown that they do not know how to keep the Ten Commandments. In China it looks as though the gospel was suspended as well as the law. The Christian church has been set back, nobody knows how far, by the behavior of the missionaries in China."

Hotel Keepers Are Hit Hard

Boston, April 1.—From a standpoint of a spectator, business in the hotels was paralyzed yesterday because of the strict enforcement of the laws and police rules regulating Sunday selling of liquor to guests. The new police rule is that no liquor can be served on the ground floor of a hotel if the restaurant contains a bar. In hotels bidding for trade "guests" congregated in the upstairs rooms, and were served to their hearts' delight with all manner of liquid concoctions, but the liquids in all cases accompanied the stage sandwiches.

Action In the Best Case

Boston, April 1.—The Herald says that counsel for John C. Best, convicted of murder in the first degree last week, have filed the motion asking to have the verdict set aside. The grounds are: First, because the verdict is against the evidence; second, because the verdict is against the weight of the evidence; third, because the verdict is against the law; fourth, because Juror Trask was not a proper person to serve on said jury, owing to the fact that he was deaf and could not properly hear the evidence.

Burglars Attempted Incendiarism

Milford, Mass., April 1.—Some time Saturday night or early Sunday morning, the residence of Mrs. Norah Shea was entered by burglars, who ransacked the house, and stole $75 in money. They then saturated the carpet in the sitting room with kerosene and set fire to it, but the fire went out after burning a hole two feet square in the carpet. Mrs. Shea, two children and four boarders were asleep upstairs.

Novel Experiment Contemplated

Portland, Me., April 1.—Sheriff Pearson says: "I contemplate inserting an advertisement in each of the Portland dailies, offering a standing reward for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons engaged in the sale of liquor. It would cost me a deal of money, but I should be willing to spend it if results were satisfactory."

GOVERNMENT ROBBED

Another Army Scandal Has Developed at Manila

NUMEROUS ILLICIT DOINGS

In Which Quartermaster Barrows, Commissary Sergeants, Government Contractor, Clerks, Storekeepers and Other Civilians Have Had a Hand

Manila, April 1.—Sensational developments of present and prospective far-reaching frauds in the commissary department have well-nigh overshadowed interest in the capture and fate of Aguinaldo.

Captain Frederick J. Barrows of the Thirtieth volunteer infantry, quartermaster of the department of southern Luzon, together with seven commissary sergeants, several civilian clerks, a prominent government contractor, the assistant manager of the Hotel Oriente, the proprietors of three of the largest bakeries in Manila, a number of store keepers and other persons, have been arrested. The investigation has scarcely begun, but thousands of sacks of flour, a quantity of bacon and wagon loads of other goods, all bearing government marks, have been found in the possession of unauthorized persons.

It is asserted that large quantities of question, who has been doing a business approximating $100,000 per month, has spent huge sums in entertaining officers.

A prominent officer is accused of leading a scandalously immoral life.

It is asserted that large quantities of stores have been lost or stolen in transit, and also that there is a shortage in the accounts in the commissary department.

New scandals are developing daily. Illicit transactions have been traced back to June, 1900, and it is possible that there are others of earlier date.

The exorbitant tariff on provisions makes the surreptious sale of commissary supplies immensely profitable.

It is understood that other United States officers may be arrested.

Lieutenant Philip K. Sweet of the Forty-sixth volunteer infantry, is prosecuting the investigation, under the direction of Colonel Wilder, chief of police.

Washington Hadn't Heard of It

Washington, April 1.—It was said at both the White House and war department last night that absolutely nothing had been received by the government regarding the alleged unearthing of crooked work on the part of army quartermasters and others in Luzon. General Corbin said furthermore that the government had no intimation of any sort that such developments might be expected. He was inclined for this reason to think the frauds against the government could hardly be so serious as reported, though admitting this opinion was based wholly on the lack of advices from the government. Captain Barrows, he said, was not the regular quartermaster for southern Luzon, and must have been acting quartermaster there at the time of the arrests.

"Treated Like a Guest"

Manila, April 1.—Aguinaldo continues to express himself as pleased with and impressed by the courteous treatment accorded him by General MacArthur. "I am a prisoner," said he yesterday, "but I am treated like a guest." A representative of the Associated Press has interviewed many Filipinos on the subject of the capture of Aguinaldo. The majority of the persons questioned were unfeignedly glad that Aguinaldo had been captured, and said they considered that the worst obstacle to the speedy pacification of the islands had been removed.

The Administration Denounced

Boston, April 1.—President McKinley's administration was denounced and Aguinaldo's name loudly applauded by an audience that listened to the speakers at the Anti-Imperialist meeting in Faneuil hall Saturday night. Ex-Governor Boutwell and George G. Mercer of Philadelphia were followed by Sixto Lopez, Aguinaldo's former secretary, who was greeted with great applause. His address, which was not long, was as to the condition, needs, purposes and aims of the Filipinos.

An Alarming Rumor

London, April 1.—Arthur J. Balfour, government leader in the house of commons, went to Windsor yesterday to visit King Edward, although his majesty only left London Saturday afternoon. The visit is supposed to have some connection with Lord Salisbury's illness. Lord Cranborne, the premier's son, issues, however, a denial of this alarming suggestion.

Troops Are After Deserters

Accra, April, 1.—Three hundred men of the British West African regiment, who deserted at Kumassi, marched armed to Cape Coast Castle, where all business has been suspended, owing to a fear that the deserters will loot the town. Troops were dispatched from Accra to Cape Coast Castle yesterday to suppress the revolt.

Operators Come to Terms

Youngstown, O. April 1.—The blast furnace operators of the Mahoning valley have acceeded to the demand of the furnace workers, by granting them the increase of 20 cents per day asked for. The men would have gone on a strike at 6 o'clock this morning if the operators had refused their demand.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ If schemes for saving a million dollars at a time can be shown to be feasible the prosposed ship canal may be built without expense. The discovery that the outer harbor, just east of the narrows and leading up into Weymouth Fore River, provides excellent depth and room for anchorage, which Boston harbor proper does not, was an important one and one which should help the canal plan along.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ The czar of Russia is advised to spend less time and thought in devising means for putting down riots and a little more in considering how to make his subjects cease wishing to riot. Advice like that might be bestowed on the great American nation with as much reason. Every time there is a lynching or a season of mob violence in the United States, half the orators and newspapers break out with vehement exhortations to vindicate the majesty of the law by stern repression of all disorder. A modicum of the intensity might well be devoted to thinking whether the way is not open to prevent the desire to riot.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ There's trouble in a Kentucky church and plenty of it. The ladies of the church got out a cook-book for the benefit of the church work—and now it is discovered that one of the receipts in the book for a cough remedy closes with "boil ten minutes and then add a pint of good whiskey. "Good whiskey, mind you—none of your Salem bootleg stuff—but Good whiskey." And the dose—a pint—that ought to cure a pretty bad cold if the patient held out, but that does not help the row in the church which just now is at fever heat. Just imagine, the lord of the manor rolling home at about 3 A. M. with a cook-book under his arm and about three "cure for cold" receipts under his belt. Wow.—Beverly Times.

☞ Funston has always wanted to capture Aguinaldo. He wanted to try it when he was a Colonel, but Otis held him back. He never gave up the idea, and his capture of the rebel archives, with correspondence and Lucana's seal, gave him material in the working out of his plans. It was a cleverly devised scheme, but it was no child's play, and the hardships of the expedition are something the members will not soon forget. The strategem was perfect, and the working of it no less so, and the honor goes to Funston. MacArthur accords it to him, with the suggestion that he ought to be made a Brigadier General of the regular army at once. Of carpet knights we have a plenty, but a chivalrous fighter like Funston is less common, and his reward should be given him without delay, not only as a reward for his achievement, but as an incentive to others to heroic endeavor—Lynn Item.

No Liquor Officers.

At an adjourned town meeting in Braintree Saturday night, it was voted after considerable debate that the Selectmen be instructed to appoint a police officer in each precinct of the town to enforce the laws. No appropriation, however, was made therefore. The only other business was the appropriaiton of $6,000 for support of poor.

SENT OUT OF STATE.

Quincy Woman Supposed to be in Insane Hospital

Sent to a New Hampshire Town.

Grand Jury Indicts a Massachusetts Official.

Sarah J. Howard, aged 53 years, and probably insane, who lived in Quincy at one time, is now in the Coos county almshouse at Slewardstown, New Hampshire, and thereby hangs a tale. It appears that she was taken from the Westboro asylum last December and sent to Lancaster, N. H. That she was put off there in a dazed condition, and was found wandering about half frozen. The county commissioners made an investigation and last month the Coos County grand jury found an indictment against Dr. Owen Copp, the executive officer of the Massachusetts State Board of insanity, for shipping an insane pauper into the state of New Hampshire.

Quincy is interested in the outcome of the affair, inasmuch as it appears that Mrs. Howard came to Quincy from Halifax, N. S. She was employed here as a domestic, and when out of work made the house of Mrs. Martha Jones, 10 Pleasant street, her home. It is said she was steady and economical, and had deposited money in the Quincy Savings bank, and that $300 was deposited to her credit, the bank book being held by Fred Smith her last employer. Last fall she was taken sick and sent to the Quincy City Hospital. She was there examined by physicians, declared insane and taken to the insane hospital at Westboro. Mrs. Howard lived in Quincy about four years.

Cottage Avenue Widening.

A petition will be presented to the City Council this evening for widening and acceptance of Cottage avenue, a short street of 502 feet between Hancock and Chestnut streets. Not being a city way the avenue is in a dangerous condition most of the time, yet it is much used by pedestrians and teams. It is now but 24 feet wide with buildings abutting on the street on both sides. It is proposed to widen wholly on the north side, by taking sixteen feet of land from the Packard estates. The plans also call for a good round corner on the north where the avenue enters Hancock street. This is a much needed improvement, and the petition is generally signed by the Hancock street merchants.

Sale at Wollaston.

The Gleaners circle of Kings Daughters held a very successful sale at the residence of Mrs. Whitman, Grand View ave., Saturday afternoon and evening. Aprons, and fancy articles, cakes, lemonade were offered. The aprons were sold by Mrs. Record, Mrs. George Litchfield, Mrs. Jewell and Miss Adams.

Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Sayward sold candy. Mrs. Brasee and Mrs. Battison had some delicious looking cakes for sale, while Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Whithan sold lemonade. A quilt was also sold by vote.

Young People's Easter.

A large number assembled in the vestry of the Wollaston Baptist church Sunday evening to join in a young people's Easter. A male quartette consisting of a chorus of young men sang several selections. Mr. Frantz gave a very good talk on the "Resurrection of Christ." Other addresses were delivered by Mr. John Manning of Harvard College and Mr. Stacy Southworth a teacher of the Quincy High school. The congregational singing was ably assisted by Mr. Critchly.

Co. K Reunion.

The Spanish war veterans of Co. K, th Massachusetts regiment, held their second reunion at the United States Hotel, Boston, Saturday, Mar. 30, on the anniversary of their muster out at Greenville, S.C., in 1899. Capt. Maurice A. Colbert was chairman, and the guests included Maj. W. E. Morrison, Capt. Charles Spear, Capt. Thomas Clark, Capt. W. P. Stover and Mr. George H. Wilson. About fifty were in attendance.

The Mother's meeting of Bethany church will be held Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. E. W. Sheppard at 16 Greenleaf street, instead of the chapel as usual. The subject will be "Dont's ror mothers' boys; leader, Mrs. Sheppard.

BUSINESS TONIGHT.

Important Reports for City Council to Consider.

A public hearing will be given at tonight's meeting of the City Council on the widening of Hancock street on the west side, between Granite street and Cottage avennue.

The Finance Committee will report in print the annual appropriation order.

The Committee on Streets will report on the orders for new street lights; on the acceptance of Albertina street; Warren avenue bridge; discontinuance of Forrest street, and grade of Sea street,

The Committee on Public Buildings will report on remodeling City Hall.

The Finance Committee have several matters before them upon which reports may come in.

There is also on the table two vetoes of Mayor Hall, namely, on an appropriation for an expert accountant to examine books of the several departments; and the amended ordinance concerning the purchase of supplies. These may be taken from the table.

The Committee of the Whole may also continue the hearing relative to the Board of Health.

Last of the Season.

The Edward Hewitson associates met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Lincoln, Grand View avenue, for their regular monthly social. As this was the last meeting this year, a fine time was given the young men. It will be pleasing to many, to know that in the March entertainment the boys netted forty-five dollars A vote of thanks was extended to the committee who had charge of March entertainment and to Mr. Dow. The club, heartily thanked, also, Mrs. Tenney and Mr. Carl Rice who have greatly assisted in making the club a success.

The first part of the evening the graphophone afforded much amusement. Mr. Dow, assisted by Mr. Chester Tenney, played several selections on the mandolin. Rev. Edward A. Chase read two selections in a very entertaining manner entitled, "Miss Pislca's Christmas Possum" and "When Mellindy Sings." Mrs. Hicks gave a very interesting stereopticon lecture on Greece, carrying us to Patras, Olympia, Corinth and Athens. She also carried us to the excavations of Troy.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, games and singing were indulged in by many young men. Before departing a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Lincoln for the use of her house.

Bicycle Accident No. 1.

The Hyde Park bicycle club made a run to Quincy Sunday. As they were coming along Granite street, the fork of a tandem broke throwing the two riders. One of the men had a deep gash cut on his forehead. His arm and side was also injured The second man escaped with a few bruises. The injured man was taken into Joseph Fletcher's and a physician summoned who dressed the wounds. He was then taken to his home.

Ben Hur.

People in New England who want to see the great Klaw & Erlanger production of "Ben Hur," at the Colonial Theatre in Boston must secure their seats at once for the closing performances are now announced.

Positively the last performance in Boston and in New England will be that of Saturday evening April 20. There will be no changing of this date for on Monday April 22 comes Annie Russell in "A Royal Family," "Ben Hur" begins an engagement at the Columbia Theatre in Brooklyn April 22 and will be played several weeks until the warm weather. The next season it will be played in Chicago with three other companies, one at the Drury Lane Theatre in London, one in Paris and one in Berlin, with the probability of another in Australia. "Ben Hur" will be seen nowhere else in New England at any time than at the Colonial Theatre in Boston and only during the next three weeks. These facts are of sufficient import to all those who intend to witness this great dramatization of a great book. The curtain is raised at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7.45 o'clock at night on the beautiful tableau of the appearance of the Star of Bethlehem to the wise men in the desert.

TODAY'S COURT.

Braintree's New Industry.

W. S. Lees & Co., of 52 Leonard street, New York city, have taken a five year lease of all the buildings, except the large wooden building, formerly owned and occupied by A. S. Morrison & Bros. They will manufacture ball wicking, miners wick and mattress tips, which will be shipped to all parts of the globe.

George S. Collins of Central Village, Conn., has been engaged by them as superintendent of their factory. He has had about twenty years of experience in the business with Thomas Sheldon at Central Village. With Mr. Collins came his brother, Henry P., and two friends, Fred Record and James Mulgrove.

Manufacturing will begin here in about two weeks, making employment for about twenty hands, men, women and boys.

Mr. Collins tells the writer that he has orders enough ahead to keep them busy a year and at first the factory will be run day and night.

The buildings were all wired for electric light and connections will be made at once with the town system.

Supt. Collins is married and has four children; two boys and two girls. His family will move to Braintree as soon as convenient.

It will be a pleasure to see these mills once more in use and it is hoped that W. S. Lees & Co., will be sucessful here and increase their business

In Jamaica.

R. D. Gordon has forwarded the Ledger an attractive pamphlet with description of places of interest in Jamaica. "The Princess of the Antilles" is evidently a foreign country as the illustrations show. Its history dates back to the time of Columbus, having been discovered by him in 1494. The area of the island is 4,193 square miles, the extreme length being 144 miles, and the width varying from 20 to 50 miles. Coffee, banana and cocoanut growing are carried on most profitably. The climate is wonderfully varied, owing to the high and low altitudes. The fact that in the lowest altitudes one requires a blanket for sleeping indicates cool restful nights. Visitors are cautioned to avoid any violent exertion during the heat of the day, say from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M. The rule in the island is to keep under cover after sunset to avoid the night chill, the darkness shutting down immediately without any twilight. The scenery of the island surpasses description. The total population is 639,491 of whom but 14,692 are whites, yet the white man is master.

Mr. Gordon leaves this week for home and is expected April 7.

Shooting of Wild Fowl.

The act relative to the protection of wild fowl in Boston harbor has been further amended by this Legislature as will be seen by Section 1 of Chapter 174, viz:

Section 1. Section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-four of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety seven is hereby amended by striking out the words "any mechanical means" in the seventh line, and inserting in place thereof the words "steam, naphtha, gasolene, electricity, compressed air or any other similar motive power,—so as to read as follows:

Section 1. Whoever within the limits of that portion of Boston harbor lying westerly and southwesterly of a line running from Deer Island to Point Allerton, including the waters of Dorchester bay, Quincy bay, Weymouth bay and Hingham bay, shoots at, kills or pursues any wild fowl from or by the aid or use of any boat or floating device propelled by steam, naptha, gasolene, electricity, compresed air or any other similar motive power shall be punishable by a fine of twenty dollars for each offence.

CHARGES IN NEW FORM.

G. B. Bates Criticises Board of Health and City Solicitor, and Brings Specific Charges Against Inspector Keniley.

Quincy, April 1, 1901.

To the Board of Health and the Committee of the Whole of the City Council authorized and empowered to investigate the Board of Health and the Inspector of Plumbing:

Gentlemen—I see by the papers that it is the unanimous decision of the learned counsel for the Inspector of Plumbing and the efficient Board of Health that the charges filed by the Board itself have not been sustained. We have been greatly interested and amused in the able and thorough manner in which the interests of the city have been looked after by our well paid salaried City Solicitor. As near as we can learn the only legal services rendered by him in the matter, was the alacrity with which he agreed with every point raised by the counsel of Mr. Keniley, and under his advice and instruction every one of the eight charges but one were dropped.

Why were the charges in regard to the plumbing work in the Quincy Adams station of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. dropped? This work was done in the summer of 1898 and inspected by J. J. Keniley, for which inspection Mr. Keniley was paid three dollars for a full inspection, which bill was approved by the present chairman of the Board of Health, Dec. 15, 1898, and audited by the present Mayor. We understand that the claim was made that this plumbing work was performed before the ordinance was passed May 7, 1894, relating to plumbing. All of the above is a matter of record at City Hall.

When this plumbing work was performed in 1898 the ordinance provided that "Every drain pipe shall be supplied with a suitable trap placed with accessible cleanout at or near the point where it leaves the building." There is no trap in the main drain at the Quincy Adams station. The ordinance further provides that "All connection with horizontal or vertical pipes shall be made with Y branches. No Y branches were used. But 4 T. Y. branches were used in direct violation of the ordinances.

I was arrested and brought into court by this Inpector for using T. Y. branches. The ordinance further provides that "Traps shall be protected from syphonage or air pressure by special cast iron air pipes and every connection of the air pipes with the drain pipes shall be above the upper fixture of the building." The vents or air pipes from the three water closets in this station, where they connect with the drain pipe are only eight and one-half inches above the floor, and are below the top of every fixture in the building. The upper fixture in this building is a sink over twelve feet above the air pipes on water closets. There is a stench from its sink connected with this plumbing job, so that the tenant has to saturate the surroundings of the sink with chloride of lime and disinfectants to kill the terrible odor caused by this defective plumbing, approved by our Inspector of Plumbing and the Chairman of the present Board of Health.

Why was the 6th charge against the Inspector of Plumbing dropped. Even if our learned City Solicitor did advise the Board of Health so to do.

The ordinance provides: "If on inspection the work is not satisfactory, the plumber shall be notified in writing." The Inspector never notified this plumber in writing. The Inspector never hesitates to notify me in writing, and after I have written to the Board of Health and ask for a hearing on the alleged violation, this privilege is denied me, and I am arrested and brought into court.

The plumbing work referred to in the 6th charge in the building at the corner of Chubbuck and Washington streets is defective in many ways. There is a trap at the foot of a stack in an unsanitary position. The soil pipe through the roof is within 4 feet of a bath room window and is less than five feet above six windows within 15 feet.

In spite of the unanimous opinion of the counsel for Mr. Keniley, who practically had full charge of the hearings before the Board of Health, assisted by our City Solicitor, I claim that the 5th charge in regard to the soil pipe in the house of S. B. Willey, Jr., is a violation of the plumbing ordinance, according to the ruling of the Inspector of Plumbing himself.

I did a plumbing job for H. M. Talbott of Atlantic,, corner of Charles and Brooks street, and a portion of three drain pipe was below the cellar bottom, but was not to be concealed from view. Light soil pipe was used by me.

I saw Mr. Keniley and he told me that it was below the cellar bottom, and that extra heavy pipe must be used. The owner of the building saw the Board of Health, and explained the situation, yet I was compelled at an expense of $35.00 to remove the light soil pipe, and use extra heavy pipe.

I claim this is discrimination and persecution. Why was the 8th charge dropped? Has the stress of mind upon the Board of Health been removed by the legal opinions rendered your City Solicitor, and the valuable assistance he has rendered in this investigation. The Board of Health knew whether that charge was true when they themselves signed it. If it was true then is it not true today?

We ask for an investigation and we claim any fair minded man will say that the city's case was not properly represented.

The Board of Health asked for the resignation of Mr. Keniley last January. They would not have done this unless they honestly believed that the interests of the city demanded it. If they are frightened by the threats of Mr. Keniley and his henchmen from doing their duty, let them resign and then appoint in their place men who have backbone enough to investigate the charges fairly and honestly, and not look to Mr. Keniley's counsel for advice and information.

In conclusion, I wish to give notice and prefer 10 distinct violations of the plumbing ordinances relating to two of the plumbing jobs referred to in the 8 charges preferred by your Board of Health against the Inspector of Plumbing. One of these plumbing jobs is in the Quincy Adams station and was done in the summer of 1898, and the other plumbing job is in the building corner of Chubbuck and Washington streets, Quincy, and if I do not prove upon investigation by a fair and unbiased committee of practical men that each of the following [violations preferred are true I will donate to the Quincy City Hospital fifty dollars for each violation charged and not proven upon an investigation, the following are the ten violations of the plumbing ordinance of Quincy.

First—There is no trap in the main drain pipe as required by the plumbing ordinance for the plumbing job performed in the Quincy Adams station in the summer of 1898.

Second—That the air pipe from the closet fixture connecting with the drain pipe in the men's water closet in the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898, is not in accordance with the plumbing ordinance. It is too low.

Third—There is a T. Y. branch used in the connection of the closet fixture in the men's water closet to the drain pipe in this plumbing job at the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898 and the ordinance states, "Shall be made with Y branches."

Fourth—That the air pipe from the closet fixture connecting the drain pipe in the women's water closet in the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898 is not in accordance with the plumbing ordinance. It is too low.

Fifth—There is a T. Y. branch used in the connection of the closet fixture in the women's water closet with the drain pipe in this plumbing job at the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898 and the ordinance states, "Shall be made with Y branches."

Sixth—That the air pipe from the closet fixture connecting with the drain pipe in the tenant's water closet in the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898, is not in accordance with the plumbing ordinance. It is too low.

Seventh—There is a T. Y. Branch used in the connection of the closet fixture in the tenant's water closet in the Quincy Adams station performed in the summer of 1898, and the ordinance states, "shall be made with Y Branches."

Eighth—There is a running trap at the foot of a stack in the plumbing work performed recently in the building corner of Chubbuck and Washington streets, Quincy, and is in an unsanitary position. The ordinance says "No trap shall be placed at the foot of a stack."

Ninth—There is a soil pipe coming through the roof in the building (recently performed) corner of Chubbuck and Washington streets, Quincy: this soil is less than four feet away from the bath room window.

Tenth—This same soil pipe coming through the roof in the same building, as in charge ninth, is less than 5 feet above four windows within (15) fifteen feet. These windows are in the upper hall, which is a violation of Sec. 6 of the Plumbing ordinance.

Respectfully submitted for justice,

G. B. Bates.

NO DEMAND TODAY.

For a Canal for the Coastwise Shipping.

Councilman Richard R. Freeman who is secretary of the Ship Owners and Captains Association contributed the following letter to the Globe symposium on the question: "Do we need a canal for our coastwise shipping and where?"

It does not appear that today there exists any demand for a canal to accommodate our coastwise shipping. All the demands of our shipping trade are met now without inconvenience by the present routes and methods. I do not think there is any likelihood of a canal being built in my time at least, because no condition exists that would create a demand for it.

Whatever saving of time and distance a canal would promote would be more than counterbalanced by all the cost to the vessels. The toll would amount to a considerable sum to vessels of light tonnage and to a very large sum to vessels of heavy tonnage. It does not appear likely that manufacturers would be willing to pay the increased price for goods that the additional tolls to their original value would demand. I hardly believe that the saving of even a day to ships in the time of their trips would compensate them for the payment of the tolls.

The subject of a canal has been before the public as long as I can remember but it does not seem to have gained in favor. The demand for such a project seems to have decreased rather than increased. There is an even less demand for it now than there was 10 or 20 years ago because today more ample provision exists for handling the shipping trade than we formerly possessed and the number of tugs and tows has increased.

The report of the chamber of commerce or last year shows that the gross tonnage entered at Boston from southern ports was over 5,770,000 tons. Of this the steamships carried nearly 2,200,000 tons, and the barges carried nearly 2,374,000 tons. I am unable to discover that any of this class of vessels feel the necessity of a canal, or experience any difficulties in meeting the demands of the coastwise trade which a canal would advantageously relieve.

It is doubtful whether a canal would save much time or afford much protection to ships in bad weather. It would be necessary to have locks, and the dangers from ice and the delays occasioned by fogs and stormy weather would at times amount to more than the time saved by the shorter distance.

Now is the Time.

If you wish to save your fruit or ornamental trees from canker worms, caterpillars, and other crawling insects now's the time As the frost comes out of the ground the insects start, and a little labor now will destroy thousands. Morrill's tree ink or canker worm exterminator, is the best thing to use. For sale in small cans at this office.

HER BEST DAYS COMING

New South Declared to Be Just at Its Birth

DIFFICULT "RACE PROBLEM"

Engendered by the Civil War Will Ultimately Reach a Natural Solution — Career of Richmond as Central Business Point of World Beginning

New York, April 1.—A paper by Colonel John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate raider, on "The Dawn of the Real South," will appear in the forthcoming issue of Leslie's weekly. Colonel Mosby says:

The real south is just at its birth. The growth of this child of the nation may be gradual, but in the end the south will be far richer and more powerful than the north. In the days to come the south will become the dominant section of the country.

Without the war of secession the south could never have hoped to attain the future that is now certain. Slavery was a great incubus, paralyzing natural energy. By abolishing this wrong our war benefited every state south of the Mason and Dixon line. The negroes are producing more as freemen than they ever did as slaves, and the great mass of the people are vastly better off today than they were under the old ante-bellum system.

Socially, as well as industrially, the abolition of slavery was highly beneficial in its results to the masses, for slavery was a great wrong and no community can exist in the highest state of happiness when its system is based on a wrong.

There are the soundest reasons for asserting that the negro's status is bound to improve. While they are not as near to equality with white people as they were under the system of slavery, they are certain to be absorbed by immigration and in this engulfment they will disappear. This is the natural and wisest solution of what we now call the "race problem."

Richmond is the city most likely to become in time the banking centre and commercial headquarters of this country, and therefore of the world. The days of that famous old city as a political capital are past, but its career as the central point of manufacture for the whole south and from there for the world at large, is just beginning.

While great forces have been working for the change industrially and socially, the political change is hardly less marked. It is well nigh folly today to speak of the "solid south." That, by the way, was a phrase of my own invention. When Hayes became the Republican candidate for president, I urged, in a letter (August, 1876) that it was better for some southern men to support him, because, if he was elected, his administration must necessarily rest on whatever supported it. It was better for the southern people to divide between the parties, so that, no matter which side won, there would be men friendly to southern people who would control its southern policy. This contention is fully realized today, and the "solid south" belongs wholly to the political past.

He "Owned" a Ward

Philadelphia, April 1.—"Squire" William McMullen, a local Democratic politician, who has for more than 40 years been an interesting character in this city, died yesterday from a complication of diseases, aged 77. McMullen was born and lived all his life in the fourth ward. He was the leader of the ward for many years, and wielded an influence therein that mystified his opponents. His career was a strenuous one, and several times he narrowly escaped death by knife thrust or pistol shot. He served in both the Mexican and Civil wars.

Armor-Clad Russian Officials

London, April 1.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: A revolutionary committee composed of 70 members has been arrested after a desperte defense, the revolutionists firing at the police. Two secret revolutionary printing presses were seized in connection with the arrests. Altogether 3000 arrests have been made. It is reported that some of the ministers now wear steel cuirasses.

From a Boer Source

London, April 1.—The Amsterdam correspondent of The Daily Mail says: Dr. Leyds and his colleagues have sent a private notification to Mr. Chamberlain warning him that a powerful combination of European and American merchants intends to boycott English goods systematically until the independence is granted to the Boers.

Twenty Thousand In a Riot

Barcelona, April 1.—Twenty thousand persons participated here yesterday in an anti-clerical demonstration. A large crowd stoned the Jesuit college. Finally the police charged and dispersed the demonstrators, injuring several.

Hard on Small Depositors

Oswego, N. Y., April 1.—The banking firm of W. J. Brewster & Co. of Hannibal has failed, with liabilities of $125,000. The entire village is affected by the failure and many small depositors suffer severely.

Washington, April 1.—The president has appointed General Wheaton to be major general and Colonel Jacob Smith and General Frederick G. Funston to be brigadier generals in the regular army.

Treaty's Ratification Predicted

London, April 1.—"There is reason to believe," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, "that the Manchurian convention between Russia and China will be ratified in April."

BRAVE OFFICER'S FATE

Lieutenant Commander Roper Killed While Aiding His Fellow Men

Washington, April 1.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Admiral Remey, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic station, reporting a fire yesterday in the sail room of the gunboat Petrel, and of the death by suffocation of the commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Jesse M. Roper, as a result of an heroic effort to rescue the men below. The dispatch also shows that 22 other officers and men were prostrated, but all are recovering. The damage to the gunboat was slight.

The department at once sent a telegram to H. F. Fay, the brother-in-law of Lieutenant Commander Roper at Longwood, Mass., asking that he inform Mrs. Roper of the news.

The deceased officer was born in Missouri and entered the naval service June 25, 1868. He was commissioned to the rank held by him at the time of his death on March 3, 1899, and ordered to command the Petrel Nov. 15, 1899. The Petrel was one of the vessels under Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila bay, when she was in charge of Lieutenant Commander Wood. The latter officer came home shortly after, and Lieutenant Commander Roper succeeded him.

Not Held For Robbery

New York, April 1.—Joseph Coughlin and Matthew Ryan, two 14-year-old boys from Somerville, Mass., who ran away from home, were recently arrested in a Brooklyn theatre. Through an error on the part of the arresting officers, it was announced that the boys were held on the charge of abstracting money from the possession of Frank Munwalls. Next day, however, they were arraigned on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. No charge of theft was preferred against them, and they were later taken in charge by their parents.

Japan Asks Russia to Explain

London, April 1.—Japan has made direct representations to St. Petersburg against the Manchurian convention, says a dispatch to The Times from Tokio, dated Saturday, "but the result is not yet known. Japanese public opinion is very strong on the subject. The cabinet is prudent and pacific, but impressed by the national enthusiasm, which is certain to become uncontrollable if there is any undue yielding. The result of the issue of the first instalment of the Seoul-Fusan railway loan testifies to the extent of the patriotic enthusiasm.

Ballets For Four

New York, April 1.—S. Paglia, an Italian, last night shot Frank Matarezzo, the latter's wife and daughter, and then shot himself. Paglia desired to marry Carmela Matarezzo, who is only 14 years old. He asked the father to let the ceremony be performed at once, but was told that he could not wed her for two years, she being too young. Becoming enraged, the lover drew a revolver and began shooting. All will recover.

Terrible Method of Suicide

Canastota, N. Y., April 1.—Saturday night William Welch and his wife quarrelled, and yesterday the woman, brooding over her troubles, saturated her clothing with coal oil, set fire to them and was burned beyond recognition. She died shortly after neighbors discovered her.

Famous Colored Minister Dead

Richmond, April 1.—Rev John Jasper, the famous colored advocate of "the sun do move" theory, died at his home here, aged 90 years. He had for many years been pastor of the Sixth Mount Zion church, and was held in high esteem by the people of his race.

Barrymore Gets Newspapers

New York, April 1.—There is some improvement in the condition of Actor Maurice Barrymore, a patient in the Bellevue insane pavilion. The newspapers were given to Mr. Barrymore, but not until all reference to him was cut out.

Villages Washed Away

Constantinople, April 1.—The river Maritza has overflowed and caused disastrous floods in the province of Adrianople. Eight villages and 20 mills have been destroyed, and it is believed that several lives have been lost.

RED IN THE BLOOD

is the sign of life, of vital force, of the force that life has, of the force that life is.

When the red is lacking, life is weak, the spirits are weak, the body is weak.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil puts red in the blood and life in the body.

It's the food you can turn into muscle and bone and nerve. It gives you the mastery over your usual food—you want that. What is life worth if you've got to keep dosing yourself as an invalid?

Red in the blood! get red in the blood!

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

THE FUTURE OF CUBA

General Lee Says It Rests With People of the Island Themselves

Omaha, April 1.—General Fitzhugh Lee, for the first time since his retirement from the army, has given expression to his views with regard to the future of Cuba. The occasion was a banquet given in his honor at the Omaha club. After referring to his service as consul general and in the army in that island, he said:

"Porto Rico is ours by conquest, while Cuba has its status fixed by the Teller resolution in the act declaring war against Spain. Under that resolution the United States disclaims any intention of exercising sovereignty, jurisdiction or control of the island of Cuba, except for the pacification thereof, and when that is accomplished, the government of the island should be turned over to its own people. That solemn declaration is binding on our government, and, in my opinion, will be and should be rigidly adhered to.

"The expenditure of treasure and blood, the dead American soldiers and sailors, the geographical location of the island, the large interests held by the Americans, Spanish, English, German, French, and, indeed, the Cubans themselves, demand that the island should not only be pacified, but permanently pacified. The pledge of the United States does not demand that American control of supervision be absolutely withdrawn.

"The war was waged to make Spain withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and relinquish its authority in the island. That having been accomplished, the United States is now concerned in upholding its solemn pledge of pacification in the interests of all.

"Cuba's future will be determined by Cuba's statesmanship. Should the collective Cuban wisdom be sufficient to keep the craft afloat on the waters of prosperity and establish a stable government, strong enough to protect life and property, and give confidence to capital, there will be no disposition on the part of the United States to interfere, but if the government problem cannot be solved after a fair trial by the Cubans the future destiny of the 'smile of the sea' will be forever confined to the care of the great American republic."

Marseilles Strike Not Ended

Marseilles, April 1.—At a strike meeting held last evening it was decided to continue the strike until the masters concede an eight-hour day. Four hundred dock foremen, who had not hitherto joined the strike, decided to refuse to continue to work with the improvised dock hands until the demands of the strikers were conceded. This will paralyze dock work, as inexperienced laborers cannot work without foremen. The strikers' union has promised to support the foremen against any consequences of their action when work is resumed.

Theft of Five Thousand Dollars

Columbia, S. C., April 1.—Last Thursday the Bank of Columbia of this city forwarded to the Bank of Commerce of New York $5000 in paper money. When the package arrived at its destination Saturday it was discovered that the money had been removed and brown paper substituted for the money. It is believed here that the package arrived in New York city all right, and that the substitution was made there. The package bore no evidence of having been tampered with.

Funeral Quietly Conducted

Dublin, April 1.—The funeral of James Stephens, leader of the Fenian movement of 1866, who died here last Friday, took place yesterday, the remains being interred in Glasnevin cemetery, in the presence of a great assemblage of people, including delegates form the various nationalist organizations. Mr. Stephens was buried beside his wife in the martyrs' plot. There were no speeches or demonstrations.

Mine Works Destroyed

Denver, April 1.—A special to The News from Gallup, N. M., says that there were only three men in the Weaver mine at the time of the explosion Saturday. It was thought that a number of Japanese were entombed, but this seems to have been a mistake. The three men were killed and the works of the mine were destroyed.

Two Bullets In His Body

New York, April 1.—The body of Francis M. Zabriskie was found in his bachelor apartments yesterday afternoon. There were two bullet wounds in the body, and the police put it down as a case of suicide. Zabriskie was 27 years old, was known to be always well supplied with money, and is said to have very rich relatives.

His 129th Birthday

New York, April 1.—For the last 36 years Noah Raby has celebrated his birthdays in the poorhouse near New Brunswick, N. J. Today he reached the age of 129. The old man, while having no noticeable symptoms of disease, is so weak that it is believed he has not many days to live. He sleeps almost continually.

Didn't Get Life Sentence

St. Petersburg, April 1.—Peter Karpovich, the assassin of the minister of public instruction, has been sentenced to 20 years' penal servitude, with a loss of civil rights. The announcement that he had been sentenced to life imprisonment in a fortress was erroneous.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. ## THE MILK CONTROVERSY

Both Sides Now Resting on Their Arms

NO SHORTAGE AT BOSTON

But the Drought Will Be Felt In a Few Days If the Predictions of the Producers Hold Good — Yesterday's Fresh Supply Away Below Normal

Boston, April 2.—The milk "strike" is on in earnest, and each contestant in the milk war over the price of a can of milk in this city, the producer or farmer, and the contractor or wholesaler, is claiming a victory in the first test of strength. The producers are asserting that yesterday's supply for the Boston market was at least 15,000 cans below the normal. The contractors admit that the shortage averaged about one-third, which means in round numbers 10,000 cans.

The consumers were not placed on short rations, however. The contractors, anticipating that their full consignments of milk would not be received, had taken the precaution to have their tanks stored to their fullest capacity on Sunday. The consumer will, therefore, have milk enough for today and probably for tomorrow. The contractors say there is no question regarding a full supply on any succeeding day, even though the strike runs into next week; that they have arranged for other sources of supply, which will preclude the possibility of any milk drought.

On the other hand, the producers assert that the shortage of 15,000 cans will be increased by half as many more cans tomorrow. They add that the farmers are determined to fight to a finish, and reassert their former statement that if the regular contractors do not take their milk some others will.

Each side is watching for the next move of the other side. It is difficult for an outsider to get absolutely correct detailed information, for the reason that neither side cares to show its hand at present. One thing that each side thoroughly understands is the loss of hundreds of dollars daily as the result of the strike. Representatives of either side appear to be willing to arbitrate, but the difficulty lies in the fact that these representatives claim to speak only for themselves as individuals.

The producers seem to be greatly encouraged by the results of yesterday's contest. They claim that the new territory, which the contractors speak of as flowing with milk, does not exist. They do not deny that the contractors may be able to obtain a temporary supply of milk, sufficient to supply the wants of Boston for two or three days, but they make skeptical remarks when the possibility of obtaining a permanent supply on this territory is suggested.

One result of the controversy, if it is long continued, may be a shortage of butter and cheese. The contractors have sent word to their various creameries to send to Boston all of their available milk. Of course some of the farmers who have withheld their milk can send it to the independent creameries, but the trouble lies in the fact that creameries are few and far between, and that the old-fashioned farmer's wife's accomplishment of making butter is almost a lost art. If the contractors win, it is not improbable that a rival company may enter the field and take the milk of the boycotted farmers. Competition might not enlarge the profits of the farmer, but it would probably not be a serious detriment to the consumer.

Killed by an Elevator

Gardiner, Mass., April 1.—Thomas Jacobson was leaning over an elevator well at the factory of the Heywood Bros. and Wakefield Rattan company yesterday, when the elevator struck him, throwing him against the wall and crushing the life out of him.

Yellow Fever Stamped Out

Havana, April 2.—For the first time in the history of Havana the month of April begins without a single case of yellow fever in the city. With the sanitary measures now being enforced and the valuable information gained during the recent investigations of the yellow fever commission, it is almost certain there will be but few cases during the coming season.

Mind May Be Deranged

Bristol, R. I., April 2.—Manuel Cabraldos Reis, who tried to kill his wife March 15, with a knife, was yesterday held in $1000 for the grand jury. He pleaded not guilty. He also tried to kill himself, and his wounds kept him in the hospital until last Thursday. He will be examined as to his sanity.

Three Miners Killed

Cumberland, Md., April 2.—Three coal miners were killed in Allegany county yesterday, two by a fall of coal in Pine Hill mine, and one by a similar accident at the Hoofman mine.

Plague Continues to Spread

Cape Town, April 2.—The bubonic plague is increasingly virulent in Cape Town. Five deaths occurred yesterday and six new cases were officially reported.

"WET GOODS" SCARCE

Sheriff Pearson Intends to Bring Portland's Liquor Traffic to Low Ebb

Portland, Me., April 2.—"The close of my first three months in office," said Sheriff Pearson yesterday, "marks the beginning of another effort to stamp out the sale of liquor in Cumberland county. The most serious blow to the line of campaign mapped out at the beginning of my administration was a recent ruling of the municipal court that certain beers are not intoxicating within the meaning of the law. Under this ruling many saloons which closed their doors Dec. 31 have reopened and are now doing business. However, I am confident the final ruling will be in our favor.

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Pearson, "not a drop of 'hard stuff' is being sold in saloons in this city. Pocket peddlers and kitchen barrooms manage to dispose of a certain amount, but it is done under the most unpropitious conditions and with the greatest difficulty.

"All the jail conditions are steadily improving. When I entered office I signed for 145 prisoners. Now we have only 98, and at one time only 91 prisoners were confined in the institution.

"In the future the work will be prosecuted vigorously, according to a rearranged plan, to meet new conditions, and I am confident that before my term of office comes to a close, the liquor traffic in Portland will be at the lowest ebb in its history."

Admits His Guilt

Pawtucket, R. I., April 2.—John Gleason, 26 years old, employed as a clerk in the stockroom of the Royal Weaving company's mill at Central Falls, was arrested last night on the charge of embezzling. For the past year the company has known that cuts of silk were stolen from the mill, but they have been hitherto unable to detect the thief. Last night Agent Ott of the company secreted himself and saw Gleason come in, take some silk, secrete it under his coat and go out. Ott followed him, and caused his arrest. Gleason finally broke down and confessed that he had stolen silk to the value of $715.

Swiped Wife With Leg of Mutton

Providence, April 2.—George Dunlap was before Judge Sweetland yesterday for assault. Dunlap and his wife had words while the latter was getting the Sunday dinner. Dunlap picked up a leg of mutton which was on the way to the table and with it floored Mrs. Dunlap, and followed it with a number of swishes of the mutton upon the prostrate woman. Dunlap was given a light jail sentence.

Alleged Conspiracy to Kill

Montpelier, Vt., April 2.—District Attorney R. A. Hoar yesterday afternoon filed information against seven Italians, alleged to be anarchists, charging them with conspiracy to kill Ignazio Miglirini, janitor of Socialist hall, Barre. It is alleged that a conspiracy to kill the janitor led up to the riot which Chief of Police Brown quelled, and which resulted in the chief being shot.

Run Against Thrifty Farmer

New London, Conn., April 2.—Eleven soldiers from Fort Griswold, who were blown across the sound to Gardiner's island Sunday afternoon, while practicing the boat drill, were picked up Sunday by a government tug, after a prolonged search. The men were found engaged in chopping wood for a farmer, who had given them shelter and food, and who demanded their services in remuneration.

Fire Chief Is the Boss

Fall River, Mass., April 2.—Trouble which has existed for a long time in the fire department was ironed out last night by the city government in the passage of an order giving Chief Devoll of the fire department full control. The controversy has been that the board of engineers held that they alone could make transfers, promotions and reductions, while Chief Devoll claimed the same right.

Went Off With Unknown Man

Danvers, Mass., April 2.—The overseers of the poor of this town have requested the town counsel to investigate the disappearance of John McCarthy, an orphan boy, who had been a town ward until adopted a short time ago by a Mr. Cole of Danversport. The boy was taken from school last week by a man whose identity is as yet unknown.

Schofield Woman Held Responsible

Worcester, Mass., April 2.—Judge Utley yesterday filed his finding in the inquest held by him on the death of Mrs. Clara McKee, and he finds that she came to her death on March 24 from the effects of an operation performed on her by Mary Schofield, who is already under bonds for the grand jury in this case.

Murder In Second Degree Charged

Meriden, Conn., April 2.—Coroner Mix last night returned a finding from the autopsy over the remains of Joseph Gracey, alleged to have been killed by Gustav Wagner, a local saloon keeper, charging Wagner with murder in the second degree. Wagner was admitted to bail in the sum of $5000.

Fifty-Six Gamblers Paid Fines

Lynn, Mass., April 2.—Fifty-six men filed into the police court here yesterday on a charge of gambling, and the same number contributed $10 apiece toward the general welfare of the community. It was the sequel to a successful gambling raid made Sunday afternoon.

Good Afternoon

The annual appropriation order for 1901, which is wholly for city purposes, amounts this year to a little over half a million dollars, the exact sum being $500,336.95.

Of this sum $52,155.50 is for the Water department, and is to be paid from the water rates, but this does not include the maturing water debt of of $31,500.00, which must be included in the tax levy order, and which will take over $1.50 of the tax rate of 1901. When the receipts are sufficient to include the maturing water debt, the system will be self supporting, and that should not be many years.

Of the $500,336.95, the sum of $29,065.75 is for the Sewer department, which is to be met from Sewer assessments. This includes debt, interest and maintenance, but as the assessments are not perpetual, this source of revenue cannot always be depended on to meet these appropriations. The abutter who pays an assessment for one-half the cost of a sewer in his street may well ponder over the problem as to what he really does pay for. It would seem as if the abutters on sewered streets were paying the entire cost of the sewer system at present.

Deducting the $52,155.50 for water, $29,065.75 for sewers, and $123,157.70 which is necessary to meet maturing debt and interest of the year, leaves $295,958.00 (less receipts) to be raised by taxation.

In 1900 the city appropriation to be met by taxation amounted to $270,808.00, and were reduced by estimated receipts to $203,412.87. The amount that can be raised by taxation this year under the $12 limit is, according to Mayor Hall's inaugural address, $237,230.00. The receipts of 1901 must be in excess of $58,728.00 to legalize the contemplated appropriations for the year.

Further, unless the municipal loans of 1901 are kept below $68,605.00, the municipal debt will be increased. Is it not time to begin to reduce the municipal debt?

The Finance Committee have given the School Committee exactly the amount asked, and have increased the estimates of the Mayor and City Treasurer for current expenses to be raised by taxation, $4,461.00. They reduced the amount to be paid from water rates $1,000, and from sewer assessments $2,000, so that in reality the appropriation order is $1,461 in excess of estimates.

Reference to the report of the City Council today, shows that the Finance Committee made a great many changes in the estimates of the Mayor and City Treasurer, increasing or decreasing at least 24 of the 55 items. None were dropped entirely, but one new one was inserted, that of $2,000 for edgestones and setting and for permanent sidewalk where abutters pay one-half the cost.

The greatest increases were: pay of firemen, horses and harnesses for fire department. City Hospital, street lighting, repair of public buildings, public library, miscellaneous police and street lighting.

The largest reductions were in advertising, printing and stationery, enforcement of liquor laws, miscellaneous city, and in maintenance of the Water and Sewer departments.

There is a demand for permanent sidewalks, and abutters generally are willing to be assessed.

—Weymouth will hold a special town meeting April 12 to consider street lighting, and the erection of a schoolhouse at North Weymouth.

HALF A MILLION WANTED.

For Expenses of the City of Quincy for the Year 1901.

No Reduction This Year in the Amount Asked by the School Committee.

The Estimates of the Mayor Increased Slightly in the Aggregate.

By the same Committee, on the street light order locating new lights in different parts of the city. Rules suspended and order passed.

HANCOCK STREET WIDENING.

A public hearing was held on the the petition to widen Hancock street on the west side between Granite street and Cottage avenue.

John R. Graham said he believed in good sidewalks. The proposed widening took 603 feet of the land of the Quincy Real Estate Trust which he represented. This was taxed at $1 a foot. There were two sidewalks here and he saw no way except to raise the grade of the street. If grade of street was raised, the company would give its land. If not, damages would be claimed.

John F. Merrill said if inner sidewalk was brought out, it would make a very high curbing. Where it joins the Wilson property two steps would be required. There was now six inches difference in the inner to the outer sidewalk and six inches to the Wilson walk. He should protest against narrowing sidewalk as it would injure his property. Also objected to lowering the inner sidewalk.

The hearing then closed and the order was recommitted.

The Golf Season.

The Wollaston golf team will open the season on Saturday afternoon with a Harvard University team on the links at Montclair.

Tournament matches have been arraigned by seven golf teams, those of the Wollaston club being: With Braeburn, April 24 and Oct. 2; Country, May 1 and Oct. 9; Lexington, May 8 and Oct. 16; Concord, May 15 and Oct. 23; Oakley, May 29 and Nov. 6; Vesper, June 5 and Nov. 13.

The Women's Golf Association has arraigned inter club spring matches between the same clubs on the same dates

Q. Y. C. Challenge Cup.

The Herald has been on the lookout for a challenge for the Quincy cup, and reviews the situation as follows:

According to the terms which govern the Quincy Yacht club's challenge cup, no challenge can be sent to the Manchester Yacht club for the present year unless the latter club modifies the conditions. The deed says "to insure a contest, one challenge must be delivered by April 1. Subsequently, other clubs may challenge and enter the same contest on the terms proposed in the challenge, first received and accepted; but no challenge will be accepted if received after May 15." By this it will be seen that as no challenge has been received on the first named date, the race is off unless the Manchester Yacht club, by mutual assent, agrees to accept a challenge after the dates named in the deed of gift.

There was one party who thought of challenging for the cup race, and he has been in consultation with Designer Starling Burgess, but no definite plan has been agreed on.

The sketch of the boat has been outlined in the rough. In view of the fact that this will be a very busy season, perhaps it is just as well that a race for the cup should go over to next year when more interest would be taken in it. Besides the result of the experimenting this year will put the designers in a stronger position to turn out defenders and challengers for the coming year.

NO ANNEXATION.

Majority in Atlantic Don't Want It.

Best Speakers, However, on that Side.

Interesting Debate Before Monday Evening Club.

The Monday Evening club of Atlantic had, as a feature of its entertainment on Monday evening a debate, the subject being—"Resolved that Quincy be annexed to Boston" For the affirmative were Mr. Theodore Parker and Mr. Herbert Gearwar. For the negative Mr. Charles Hall and Mr. Charles Safford.

Both sides of the question were presented by the debaters with force and skill and convincingly, so that as each side took the stand it seemed as though it alone must be the final verdict although it flatly contradicted the arguments advanced by the opposite side.

While each of the debaters did finely Mr. Theodore Parker in particular deserves special mention for the able manner in which he presented and sustained the affirmative. His arguments were along the line of commercial advantage to Quincy, lower tax rates, more spent upon each individual, more economy in running a large city than a small one, schools and libraries and other educational advantages.

Fire department, streets, etc., came in for their share of interest on the affirmative only to be stoutly declared by the negative to be quite superior in Quincy to any Boston would furnish us as a suburban district.

Mr. Gearwar was a staunch and bright and able supporter of the affirmative.

Mr. Charles Hall's arguments seemed almost impossible to refute being given with wisdom and reflection, while Mr. Safford was an electric battery of witticism and pounded in every argument with one of his sparks.

Mr. James Churchill, Mr. H. A. Abercrombie and Mr. T. D. Borst were the judges and decided for the affirmative on the merits of the debate.

In the general debate Mr. Charles Merrick and Mr. Frank Thomas advanced strong arguments opposed to annexation.

In the vote taken on the merits of the question the Chairman declared the majority for the negative, though the vote was doubted.

Mr. Frank Coe was chairman of the debate. Mr. Charles Cherrington was chairman of the evening, and after the intermission announced the program.

Miss Katherine Smith and Miss Fannie Hayes played to the enjoyment of all two duets—"Comedy Overture,"—Carl Bohm and "Canzonetta"—Godard.

Mrs. W. H. Snow sang "Two Children," by Behrend, elicting hearty applause, to which she responded with "The Flower of Yarrow Vale," by Gilbert.

Mr. Burnham of the Emerson School of Oratory recited "The King's Pardon," with power and fine effect, and responded to two successive encores with "Tom," which convulsed the audience, and "Barnum's Circus," which displayed Mr. Burnham's acquaintance with the Negro dialect, and gratified the hearers.

Mr. Vogel of Brockton played two selections on the violin "What are the wild waves saying?" by Stephen Glover and "Moment musical," by Bertram C. Harritt. His sweetness of tones and evident sympathy with the sentiment of his music could not help attracting the feeling and sympathy of the audience and impressing them with the idea that so fine a touch and such lovely expression at the beginning of his musical career must mean something in the future of the very highest order.

Miss Maude Rice and Mr. Charles E. Charrington were the committee for the evening on the debate. Miss Ella A. Horton and Mr. Edward W. Crocker were the music committee, and Mrs. S. N. Bennett and Mr. Frank Jenkins the introduction committee. There was an attendance of two hundred and thirty-four. The evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

Children's Corner.

Easter Egg Rolling.

In the Woman's Home Companion for April Waldon Fawcett gives a lively description of the children's egg-rolling carnival which takes place every year in the President's yard:

"The event of the day—the climax looked forward to by the older folks as well as the juvenile visitors—comes when the President, who has from time to time all day peeped out at the glad gathering, steps out on the veranda of the White House and bows in greeting to the sea of little upturned faces. Then as the band strikes up some patriotic air the youngsters all shout lustily and clap their hands, and as likely as not testify their appreciation in some of these unique, unconventional ways so dear to the hearts of youth, and which are prone to make the dignitary on the portico laugh outright. Mrs. McKinley, whose love for the little ones is warm and earnest, usually sits almost all day Easter Monday at one of the south windows of the White House, watching with smiling interest this gigantic frolic of the romping children. Usually a number of her acquaintances spend the day with her sharing in the enjoyment of the novel spectacle.

"The one element of seriousness which characterizes this great outing you may discover as you stroll down to the little building which ordinarily serves as a 'central station' for the policeman who guards the White House grounds. For this one day, however, the watchmen's house is transformed into an asylum for lost little folks. Hither the big blue coated officers bring the little tots who chance to go astray in the great medley of humanity, and here a nurse soothes and comforts the tiny weeper until the inevitable anxious mothers appear. At the last egg-rolling festival there were twenty-seven 'lost children' in the little habitation at one time, but mothers and nurses so universally understand where to seek for missing little ones that scarcely any confusion is caused by these separations."

MYSTERY AT PORTLAND

James Reagan May Die as Result of Assault

WAS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Number of Terrible Wounds on His Head Probably Inflicted by Fellow Lodgers, Who Have Disappeared Without Leaving a Clue

Portland, Me., April 2.—A brutal assault, which ultimately may result in a murder, occurred in Simon Rubinoff's lodging house on Fore street yesterday. The victim was James Reagan of Lewiston, about 30 years old, and he is now in a precarious condition at a hospital. The affair is surrounded by mystery, and the police are almost absolutely without any direct clue upon which to work.

Reagan has remained unconscious, with the exception of a few minutes last evening, when he told a hospital attendant his name and said his home was in Lewiston. He added that he came to Portland yesterday from Kennebunk, where he had been employed in a shoe factory. Then he again became unconscious.

When first found it was thought Reagan's skull was fractured, but a closer examination proved this to b an error. On his head, however, were a number of terrible wounds, from which a great quantity of blood had flowed, and it was feared he was dying. Later he rallied and was removed to the hospital.

Two men went to Rubinoff's house Sunday evening and asked for a room for the night. They were assigned to a room on the third floor, which contained three beds, and nothing more was heard from them. About two house later four more men applied for lodgings and they also were sent to the third floor room. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rubinoff claim that no disturbance occurred during the night, and nothing was seen of any of the men until yesterday afternoon, when one of them came down stairs with a glass and asked for water. He said he wished to take some medecine. The water was given him, and he returned upstairs.

About noon Mrs. Rubinoff went to the room and told the men they must get out, as she wished to made up the beds. One of the men came to the door and said that they intended to remain through another night. She then informed them that they must pay in advance, if that was the case. They put her off with promises and later Mr. Rubinoff demanded payment for the room. One of the men came to the door, and, after considerable parleying, the amount was paid. Mr. Rubinoff told the lodger that if the party would leave the room for a time the chamber work would be done, but this offer was declined.

Nothing more was said or thought of the matter until yesterday afternoon when a chambermaid who was at work on that floor was attracted to the room by a peculiar odor. When she opened the door she saw the unconscious body of Reagan lying in a pool of blood.

The other lodgers were not to be seen. Reagan's head and clothing were covered with blood, and there was a pool nearly three feet in diameter on the floor. The room was the scene of greatest confusion. The police were notified, and they at once removed the unconscious man to the stationhouse, where his wounds were dressed, and later removed him to the hospital.

The police immediately went to work on the case, hoping to find some of the men who occupied the room Sunday night, but the descriptions of the wanted men were such as to aid them little.

The principal hope of the police is that Reagan will again become conscious and remain so long enough t tell them something about his meeting with the men, and how the assault was committed.

Heavy Claim Has Lapsed

London, April 2.—From a statement made by Mr. Chamberlain in the house of commons yesterday it appears that the South African war has relieved the British chartered South African company of all financial liability in regard to the Jameson raid, the colonial secretary admitting that the claims of the Transvaal had not passed to Great Britain as the result of conquest.

Republicans Win In Michigan

Detroit, April 2.—Robert M. Montgomery (Rep.) has been re-elected justice of the supreme court by about 40,000 majority, and Frank W. Fletcher and Henry W. Carey, Republican candidates for regents of the state university, have also been elected by a majority almost as large. The vote was light, except in cities where there was a fight on some local issues.

None Exempt From Army Service

Berlin, April 2.—The Prussian minister of the interior has issued a decree reviewing the regulations regarding Americans sojourning in Prussia. The decree says: "All American citizens of German birth, who return to Prussia in the military age, after having avoided army service here, will not be allowed, under any conditions, to reside in Prussia permanently."

Filipino Officers Give Up

Manila, April 2.—The recent surrenders include General Gonzalez, 11 officers and 44 men, with 45 rifles, at Malabon, and Colonel Herrara, 3 officers and 25 men with rifles, at Laguna, and Colonels Pablo, Teason and Sibul at Bulacan.

Twenty Soldiers Drowned

Jiddah, Arabia, April 2.—The Turkish transport Asian has been wrecked near Yembo. Twenty soldiers were drowned.

THE HAZING OF BOOZ

Was Not the Cause of His Death, According to the Court of Inquiry

Washington, April 2.—The findings of the military court of inquiry which investigated the treatment alleged to have been accorded to the late Oscar L. Booz, a former cadet at the West Point military academy, have been made public at the war department. The findings of the military court are summed up in a letter written by Secretary Root, which accompanies the report. This letter says:

"The findings of this court of inquiry, which are sustained by the evidence, show that the statements which led to the convening of the court, to the effect that former Cadet Oscar L. Booz came to his death by reason of injuries received by hazing at the academy, were not true. They show that at the time Cadet Booz was a member of the academy hazing was prevalent there to a deplorable extent; that the present officers of the academy have shown commendable energy, zeal and efficiency in detecting and punishing offenses of this character, and that they greatly decreased the practice and improved the public sentiment among the cadets upon the subject. The testimony and findings of the court were placed in the hands of the committee of congress at about the same time with the investigation of the subject, and the very efficient and beneficial action of that committee, followed by the legislation upon the subject, contained in the act of March 2, 1901, renders further action by the department unnecessary."

Slight Republican Gains

Cincinnati, April 2.—While the Democrats carried the larger cities and some of the smaller places in the local elections yesterday, yet the Republicans show slight gains in the state as a whole. In the three larger cities, Columbus, Cleveland and Toledo, the Democrats show gains which are offset by Republican gains in the smaller cities throughout the state. At Columbus, where the Republicans have had the city government, the Democrats elected their mayor by a close margin, while at Cleveland, Tom L. Johnson (Dem.) was elected mayor by about 3000 plurality. Golden Rule (non-partisan) Samuel T. Jones was re-elected for the third time at Toledo.

May Decide Prohibition's Fate

Topeka, April 2.—The prohibitory issue forms the principal bone of contention in the fight over the various municipal elections in Kansas today. Since Mrs. Nation's crusade and the temperance upheaval that followed both sides have become convinced that the outcome of the municipal elections this spring meant much for or against the prohibitory law. The opinion is current in some quarters that the matter of re-submitting the prohibitory amendment to the people will depend in a large measure upon the result of today's election.

Merriman May Go to Commons

London, April 2.—John Redmond, Irish Nationalist leader in the house of commons, is said to favor the suggestion that one of the Nationalist members should resign his seat in order to make possible the election to the house of J. X. Merriman, former treasurer of Cape Colony, who would thus obtain an opportunity to speak in parliament with respect to the South African settlement, as he has signified a desire to do. It is not unlikely that the project will be carried.

To Give Mayors a Second Chance

Albany, April 2.—The section of the New York charter which gives the mayor a term of two years and makes him ineligible for re-election will be amended. The assembly cities' committee decided to amend the section by striking out the clause forbidding a second term. It is intimated that the clause had been left in by mistake. It was in the original bill which gave the mayor a four-year term.

French Will Be Kept Busy

London, April 2.—Dispatches from Cape Town and Brussels talk of General Botha and General De Wet joining a gathering of 13,000 men for operations against General French in the Transvaal. Two hundred Boers have reappeared near Richmond, Cape Colony, and the town guard has been called out to defend the place.

A Victim of Hiccoughs

Newburg, N. Y., April 2.—F. W. Magee is dying here of hiccoughs. He became ill with the grip on March 22. Pneumonia developed, and on Sunday there were symptoms of inflammation of the brain. With this came hiccoughs and since Monday he has hiccoughed almost incessantly, and is steadily growing weaker.

Was Popular With Subordinates

Washington, April 2.—Charles H. Duell, who recently resigned as commissioner of patents, was yesterday presented a magnificent loving cup for which every employe of the patent office subscribed. Mr. Duell made a speech expressing his gratitude.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Thomas Swift, aged 64, well-known in Masonic and Grand Army circles throughout the country, died at Seymour, Conn., of pneumonia, after a two weeks' illness.

Edward F. Lawrie, 3 years old, fell into the Blackstone river at Pawtucket, R. I., and was drowned.

Medical Director William T. Hord of the navy died at Washington. He held the relative rank of captain on the retired list. His naval service covered a period of nearly 40 years. He was born in Kentucky, and was about 70 years old.

Evarts Cutler, well known throughout New England as an art dealer and collector, died at his home in New Haven from the results of a paralytic stroke. He was 69 years old.

WON'T YIELD TO RUSSIA

Manchurian Convention Will Remain Without the Signature of China

London, April 1.—"The Chinese emperor, I am officially informed, has instructed the Chinese plenipotentiaries," says the Pekin correspondent of The Daily Mail, "not to sign the Manchurian convention even in a modified form."

Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Pekin, says: "The Yang Tse viceroys have carried the day. Li Hung Chang, who wired urging Emperor Kwang Su to reconsider his decision, received an answer that the throne's decision, in the presence of the unanimous advice of the chief provincial officials, was irrevocable, and that the Manchurian convention could not be signed.

"In spite of her threats, Russia seems disinclined to slam the door. Negotiations between Li Hung Chang and M. De Giers were certainly proceeding yesterday when M. De Giers agreed to several formal amendments of the text. Russia's cynical and bold diplomacy appears for once to have overreached itself."

Russian Flags to Come Down

Pekin, April 2.—As an outcome of the British protest, M. De Giers, the Russian minister, has been instructed from St. Petersburg not to allow Russian flags to be placed on or near the land in dispute at Tientsin, while the case is pending.

Seven Thousand Germans to Leave

Pekin, April 2.—About 7000 Germans, whose time of service in the army will shortly expire, are to be returned home as soon as transports are available. It is not expected that their places will be filled.

Miners Going on Short Time

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 2.—Notices were posted at all the mines of the Delaware and Hudson company yesterday that until further notice the collieries would work only half time. In the Wyoming region about 4000 men and boys are affected. During March, or since a strike of miners was first talked of, the output of coal has been very heavy. Everybody who could stocked up. But now that the operators and miners have settled their differences there is a big falling off in the demand.

Syracuse and Cornell Split

Syracuse, April 2.—The general committee of Syracuse university yesterday formally severed all athletic relations with Cornell university. A demand was made that Cornell produce proof for its given reasons for refusing a game of football with Syracuse. A resolution was adopted by the athletic committee, condemning college professionalism and declaring for clean sportsmanship. The navy board is contemplating action similar to that of the athletic committee.

Tolstoi Driven From Russia

St. Petersburg, April 2.—It was rumored several days ago that Count Leo Tolstoi had been banished from Russia because of the attempted assassination of Privy Councillor Pobiedonostzeff, chief procurator of the holy synod, on March 22, in revenge for the ex-communication of Count Tolstoi. It is now known that Count Tolstoi passed through Vilna March 26, being escorted to the frontier by two gendarmes.

Nothing About Aguinaldo

Washington, April 2.—A dispatch was received yesterday from General MacArthur stating that the transport Wyefield arrived at Manila March 23, and the Pingsuey March 29. Several asterisks used at the bottom of the dispatch indicate that it contained other information which the department did not care to make public. It is understood that the omitted portion related to Aguinaldo.

Barrymore Hopelessly Insane

New York, April 2.—Drs. Stewart, Wildman and Fitch yesterday made an examination of Maurice Barrymore in Bellevue hospital. Barrymore had passed a quiet night and was in a position thoroughly favorable for an examination. At the conclusion of the examination Dr. Stewart announced that the patient was hopeless insane. He will be taken to an asylum today.

Flour Mills Consolidate

Philadelphia, April 2.—The consolidation of practically all the flour mills in this section was completed yesterday with the transfer of the Paxton mills and the leasing of the Steelton Flouring Mill company to the Eastern Milling and Export company. The capacity of the consolidated companies is said to be 10,000 barrels of flour daily.

Independence Almost Completed

New York, April 2.—Captain Hank Haff will leave Sayville, L. I., for Boston tomorrow, and on Thursday will assume charge of Mr. Lawson's Independence. Captain Haff is enthusiastic over his crew of 48 sailors, and says they will report to him on April 20.

Thirty Thousand Miners Idle

London, April 2.—Reports received at a mass meeting of the Lanarkshire colliery engine handlers, at Hamilton, show that 20,000 miners are idle in Scotland, owing to the strike for an eight-hour day.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Wednesday, April 3.
Sun rises—5:24; sets, 6:12.
Moon rises—6:48 p. m.
High water—11 a. m.; 11:15 p. m.

A storm which developed Sunday in the extreme southwest is central over Louisiana, and is moving northeastward. It has been attended by rain from Texas eastward and northeastward through the South Atlantic states and lower Ohio valley, by snow northward into Kansas, and rain and snow into Missouri. There was also some rain and snow in eastern New England. It will be fair in New England. On the coast the winds will be fresh north to east.

Building

Requires a foundation. That is just as true of the building up of the body as of the building of a house. The foundation of a strong body is a strong stomach. No man can be stronger than his stomach. A weak stomach means a weak man.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food which is eaten. Thus it builds up the body and restores strength in the only way known to Nature or to science—by digested and assimilated food.

"While living in Charlotte, N. C., your medicine cured me of asthma and nasal catarrh of ten years' standing," writes J. L. Limaden, Esq., of 221 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga. "At that time life was a burden to me, and after spending hundreds of dollars under numerous doctors I was dying by inches. I weighed only 131 pounds. In twenty days after I commenced your treatment I was well of both troubles, and in six months I weighed 170 pounds, and was in perfect health. I have never felt the slightest symptom of either since. Am sixty-five years old and in perfect health, and weigh 160 pounds. No money could repay you for what you did for me. I would not return to the condition I was in, in October, 1872, for Rockefeller's wealth."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery," when a laxative is required.

Millionaire Rice Was Slowly Poisoned

Chloroform Finally Used to Complete the Work

Startling Confession by Valet Jones Implicates Lawyer Patrick

New York, April 3.—Jones, the valet-secretary of Millionaire Rice, testified yesterday afternoon that on the day of Rice's death he told Patrick that Rice seemed to be better. According to the witness Patrick then gave him a bottle of chloroform, told him to saturate a towel with it, and to place the towel over Rice's face for about 30 minutes, which Jones did, causing Rice's death.

WILLIAM MARSH RICE.

The confession was the climax of a remarkable recital in which was laid bare the details of an alleged subtle conspiracy which had for its object the seizure of $3,000,000 in cash and negotiable securities, and the conversion of $3,000,000 in realty to the uses of the alleged chief conspirator.

There was a dramatic force in the directness and minute attention to detail with which Jones approached the tragedy—the moment when he covered the face of the sleeping man with the chloroform-saturated napkin, and then waited for him to die—and the audience in the court room became still and breathless as the climacteric period was rounded.

The self-confessed murderer told the story of the alleged plot from its inception. The capital crime he committed and all the minor offenses that preceded it were, he declared, at the instigation and direction of Albert T. Patrick. It was Patrick, he said, who conceived the idea of forging a will and forging transfers and conveyances. It was Patrick who induced two persons to witness the forged signature. It was Patrick who determined that Rice should die, and it was Patrick who sought to have him killed slowly, and then, becoming impatient, decided upon quick action. And, according to Jones, remarkable as it may seem, Rice never knew Patrick during his lifetime, and never saw him but once.

CHARLES F. JONES.

Jones, according to his story, first began his acquaintance with Patrick when the lawyer called at the residence of Millionaire Rice, in October, 1899. The witness told of the growing friendship and the gradual approach to the discussion of the affairs of Mr. Rice, which finally resulted in the proposition to defraud, and Jones finally yielded. Then came the details of the story of the transfers and conveyances of real and personal property to Patrick, over the forged signatures of Rice; the stealing of blank checks from the millionaire's check book; then delivery to Patrick and the forging of Rice's signature; the proposition to put the aged millionaire out of the way, first weakening him by continuous doses of mercury; the calling of a physician at frequent intervals, thus apparently providing for the issuance of a death certificate, and the extreme care with which this plan of slow poisoning was carried out.

Then, as calmly as though unfolding the plot of a drama in which he was interested only as a spectator, Jones led up to the day of the murder.

He described a meeting in the street with Patrick, who told him that the old man was lasting too long, that he must be put out of the way at once, that Jones should do the work and that there would really be no harm in it because Rice had poisoned his own wife years ago, and deserved punishment.

Jones described his return to Mr. Rice's apartments and the discovery of the millionaire sleeping peacefully in bed; he told of his stealthy search for a napkin and the fashioning of it in a cone shape as directed, he said, by Patrick; he detailed the story of the pinning of a small sponge at the point of the cone. Then he told of saturating the napkin and sponge with chloroform and holding it over his own nostrils to test it.

It was at this point that the crowd in the court room became so quiet that a pin might have been heard to drop. Jones looked straight into the eyes of Assistant District Attorney Osborne, and continued his story without a break, without a tremor in his voice. He described his approach to the bed with the saturated napkin in his hand; of the placing it over the face of the sleeping old man; of the flight from the room; of the weary wait of 30 minutes, in accordance with Patrick's alleged instructions, of the call for the physician, who came with Patrick to find the old man dead.

It is impossible to describe the coolness of the voice of the witness as he related the different links which forged the chain. Patrick, accused by the witness of being the arch-criminal, listened to the witness with attention and occasionally made notes of the testimony. Not even the remarkable witness on the stand was more cool, calm and collected than this remarkable prisoner. Patrick's hand was firm and steady. He displayed neither anger, fear nor restraint. When Jones reached the description of the murder of the sleeping man, Patrick merely stroked his beard and leaned back in his chair, apparently slightly bored by the recital of the details.

Good Afternoon.

Wonder if there will be a scramble for those two $75 jobs in the Assessor's department! It would not be surprising if twenty wanted them.

The present site of the car barn in City Square is too valuable for the purposes and cannot easily be enlarged as required. As at present it is unsightly and the connecting tracks more or less objectionable. Many will be pleased to see the location abandoned as it will not be long before a business block will take its place.

A reserve police force of but five members will be allowed the city of Quincy if she accepts Chap. 314 of the Acts of 1896 as proposed. Not until the city has a regular force of eighteen officers can an additional reserve officer be appointed. All such appointments will come under the civil service rules and compensation will be fixed by the City Council.

We were about to criticise the city administration of last year for grossly exceeding appropriations, but in seeking light upon the unpaid bills which the City Auditor referred to the City Council this week, we learn that they are another installment of unpaid bills of 1899, when H. A. Keith was Mayor, and John T. Cavanagh the Commissioner. The bills amounting to $417.73 were mostly in departments of the latter and have been filed since the deficiency bill of 1899 was passed.

Councilmen Adams and Newcomb have been successful in having the new schoolhouse at Quincy Point located on the present site, that is on the present lot enlarged. It was an uphill fight as the Committee on Public Buildings and the Council were at one time ready to vote in favor of the Packard lot or some other lot. In a few years it will be necessary to erect another building, perhaps for primary grades only, between Sumner and Union streets, or else locate the new Coddington in the vicinity of the Universalist church.

The City Council did not treat very kindly the Mayor's request, that immediate action be taken with reference to inviting President McKinley to visit Quincy while in Massachusetts in July. Perhaps it was an oversight, as the communication of the Mayor was laid upon the table when introduced, and no one made it their special business. However, as the City Council will meet next week it will not be too late to extend the invitation then. No great demonstration will be necessary for the entertainment of the President. Mr. McKinley would, without doubt, like to visit the birthplaces and burial place of the Presidents Adams, and possibly the Fore River ship works and some of the granite quarries or works, and enjoy one of the famous dinners at the Squantum Inn. If there is to be any speaking it might be while at the First church.

Some objection is heard against an increase of $500 in the city's appropriation this year toward the maintenance of the Quincy Hospital. There seems to be a too general belief among many that this is a city institution supported by the city and that patients need not pay unless they want to. Some even are ridiculed because they do pay. The number of patients average from 15 to 20 and at $1 per day each the receipts from patients should be upwards of $5,000 per year. In fact they fall considerably under that. By an act of the Legislature of 1896 the city is authorized to appropriate a sum not exceeding $5,000. Another suggestion is that the appropriation should be paid in monthly instalments rather than in one check early in the year. As now the city borrows the money in anticipation of taxes and pays interest whereas the trustees of the Hospital receive the money and either put it out to interest or expend it more lavishly than they otherwise might.

Drift of Opinion.

☞So Hawaii wants to be a state, Well, New Mexico and Arizona have wanted to be states for about fifty years, and should be admitted about fifty years hence, into the Union. And then, fifty years after they are admitted, Hawaii should begin to have hopes.—Brooklyn Eagle.

☞Attention is called to the fact that New York city, which has spent vast sums of money uselessly and extravagantly, might have secured all the libraries involved in Mr. Carnegie's scheme for a cost of about $200,000 a year. The city had to wait until it was shown its chance by a man who accepted the responsibility, and acted.—New Bedford Standard.

☞They are trying an experiment in the city park of London, of raising butterflies of handsome plumage as a beautiful feature of the reservations. The caterpillars which produce the elegant butterflies are to be given suitable plants on which to feed and grow, and it is thought they will be able to keep ahead of their natural enemies, the birds. The presence of gaudy butterflies among the flower beds would add to the attrractions of the parks and the experiment of raising them could be tried with little or no expense.—Lynn Item.

☞Some surprise has been expressed at the ethical doctrines promulgated by President Hadley of Yale in an address which the papers named his "message to Boston." The surprise, however, could scarcely have arisen on account of the doctrines, for they were simple expositions of fundamental morality. Some people are made nervous, we notice, whenever any public reference is made to the golden rule and the decalog. It is not the teaching, but the too obvious application of the teaching that brings water to eyes unused to weep.—Universalist Leader.

☞Frauds have been discovered in the Quartermaster's Department at Manila, and several arrests have been made. It is in this department that frauds are possible, and in spite of all the safeguards there are men who find the opportunity to steal and embrace it. If the offence is not condoned by the higher authorities and the offenders are quickly brought to justice, the most is done that can be. Sometimes, as in the case of Captain Carter, a great fight is put up to save the man through whose connivance contractors were able to rob the government, but generally the guilty man suffers in the end.—Lynn Item.

☞There has been no better evidence of the temper of the American people, and the popular purpose in this war which we have been waging for the supremacy of American authority in the Philippines, than that which has been offered in the past few days in the comments upon the capture of Aguinaldo and the suggestions that have been made as to the treatment to be accorded him. It may be safely assumed that the sentiment toward him as an individual is characteristic of that which is entertained toward the Filipinos as an insurgent body, for, whether rightly or wrongly, he is popularly supposed to have been the inspiration and leader of the rebellion. The spirit of revenge has been minimized in all of our victories throughout the war, and our troops have rightly earned a reputation as magnanimous conquerors. —Haverhill Gazette.

—The Worcester Telegram remarks that "the law providing that murderers may do their work in Massachusetts without fear of death, concealed under a proposition to abolish the death penalty, was wisely defeated by the senate by decisive majority."

CAP SAVED HIM.

Murderous Assault on Quincy Man at Braintree.

James Holbrook was arraigned in the district court at Quincy this morning for assault with a dangerous weapon, with intent to murder Michael O'Brien.

It appears that some time ago the Holbrook family, who live at Mayflower Park, Braintree, purchased a stove of Henry L. Kincaide & Co. at Quincy on the instalment plan. Payment not having been made O'Brien was sent on Tuesday after the stove.

He was admitted to the house and it is then alleged that the door was locked and Holbrook made an assault on O'Brien using a flatiron with which he struck O'Brien on the head twice splitting his head open. It is also alleged that a loaded gun was brought forth during the fracas and threat made to shoot O'Brien.

O'Brien managed to escape and had his head dressed by a physician who gave it as his opinion that but for the thick cap O'Brien had on at the time of the assault the chances were that it would have resulted fatally.

A warrant was issued against Holbrook and he was arrested.

Evangelistic Services.

Rev. H. Edgar Brady, Evangelist, continues his work of soul saving in Calvary Baptist church, Franklin street. During the meetings, fifteen have been added to the church after believing in the Lord Jesus as Saviour and following His example in baptism. Others are waiting to do likewise. Never in this place, says a member of this church, have been seen such remarkable manifestations of the Holy Spirit's presence and power. The very atmosphere seemed charged with the electricity of God's presence. Christians, old professors as well as new converts, are bowed down in prayer, and are willing to work as well as pray both in and out of the meetings, and this has been a great help to Mr. Brady. This work has continued eight weeks or more, and still the soul crying need is,—What must I do to be saved.

No extraordinary methods have been used here. The simple preaching of the word, coupled with prayer on the part of Christians, house-to-house visitation talking Christ, and praying in the homes have been the means used by the spirit in bringing about these great results. As workers for Christ, our own souls have been revived and have learned some new things in regard to Christian work, which ought to have been learned before. The most important among these is the great and constant need of the aid and direction and infilling of the Holy Spirit. The conscious, absolute surrender to the spirit of God, the thing above all others needful to the work of Christ. We want to praise God for it all and take no glory to ourselves and pray that the work may continue.

The Passion Play.

An appreciative and attentive audience listened to an exceedingly interesting lecture given in the Universalist church Tuesday evening by Prof. Sara Hamlin of Dean Academy, Franklin. Her subject was the Passion Play of Oberammergau which she personally witnessed last summer. Miss Hamlin held the attention of her audience throughout the entire lecture. At the close she invited all to come forward and see some of the many photographs which she brought home with her. She was also ready to answer all questions in regard to the drama which one might ask her. Many enjoyed the privilege of meeting and talking with Miss Hamlin at the close.

Unusual Rush.

A crowd of twenty-five or more, including several ladies were lined up on the sidewalk in front of George W. Jones store Tuesday night, waiting for the opening sale of tickets to the Pi Eta theatricals to be given at Music hall next week. Almost the first man in the line was Henry H. Faxon, who purchased a whole row. All seats were $1 each, and for an hour the committee were kept busy taking in money and passing out tickets. In this hour over 230 seats were disposed of. The remainder of the seats have been placed on sale at Hearn's drug store.

TODAY'S COURT.

The many times continued case of G. B. Bates, for violation of the plumbing ordinances at Quincy, was called, and he was fined $15. Appealed.

James Holbrook was arraigned for assault with intent to kill, at Braintree, upon Michael O'Brien. Holbrook was held in $600 until Thursday morning.

ADAMS CHAPTER.

Resume Meetings at the Adams Birthplace.

Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, have been meeting during the winter months at the houses of members, and although the meetings have been very pleasant they were glad to get back to their headquarters at the John Adams birthplace on Monday afternoon for the April meeting.

The caretaker, Mrs. Smith, had had a spring cleaning, even to washing all the flags, and the whole house was immaculate. In the large open fireplaces cheerful fires were burning. The club room was comfortably filled, about fifty ladies being present. Among the invited guests were: Mrs. Frank O. Wellington and Mrs. Hobart of East Braintree, Mrs. James H. Flint of Weymouth, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Miss Abbie Wood, Mrs. Arthur Fitts of Quincy and others from out of town.

At the business meeting resolutions were passed on the death of Mrs. Benjamin F. Dyer of South Braintree, a charter, and much beloved, member of the chapter. A letter was read from Secretary Long in answer to an invitation for President McKinely to visit the John Adams birthplace when he comes to Hingham early in the summer.

After the business meeting, the program was in charge of the entertainment committee, who were Mrs. Frank F. Prescott, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. William H. Ruddick, Miss Harriet M. Phillips and the chairman, Miss Annie Lincoln Prescott. There were several amusing readings by Mrs. Lillian Pierce Henniger of Boston, and a paper on "A Hero of the Revolution" by Miss Edith Randall, of Quincy. Lafayette was the hero, and the paper was extremely interesting. At the close of the paper Mrs. Titus stated that she had succeeded in having the Tremont street mall of the Boston Common called Lafayette mall, in honor of Lafayette, as it was here all the school children gathered to honor him on his visit to Boston. She also said his grave in France was marked with a Revolutionary marker and hoped some day Americans would see that his grave had a suitable monument.

Hot chocolate, sandwiches, cake and olives were served by the committee and a social hour followed.

Auburn, N. Y., April 1.—Owing to the refusal of the bosses to grant an increase of 2½ cents an hour and an eight-hour day, the painters and decorators of this city went on strike yesterday.

Geneva, N. Y., April 2.—The painters and paper hangers of this city quit work yesterday for an advance of 2½ cents in wages, and an eight-hour day.

Steel Company Raises Wages

Lancaster, Pa., April 2.—The Susquehanna Iron and Steel company posted notices in its mills at Columbia yesterday that an advance of 25 cents a ton will be made to puddlers on April 15, and a proportionate increase to the other employes. The increase is voluntary.

A Strike at Buffalo

Buffalo, April 2.—A strike of mill hands in nearly all the planing mills in the city began yesterday. Between 600 and 700 men are out. The men demand a nine-hour day instead of 10 hours, as at present, with the same pay for a day's work.

Blast Furnace Workers May Strike

Sharpsville, Pa., April 2.—Employes of the five blast furnaces here have posted notices demanding the same scale of wages conceded by the blast furnace owners in the Mahoning valley. A general strike is threatened in the Shenango valley April 5, unless the demands are granted.

Want $2.80 For Eight Hours

Cincinnati, April 2.—Members of the Journeymen Painters' and Decorators' union struck yesterday because of the refusal of the employers to sign the scale recently adopted by the union, demanding $2.80 for an eight-hour day.

FOR THE THIRD TIME

Carter Harrison Is Elected Mayor of Chicago—Other Contests In the West

Chicago, April 3.—Carter H. Harrison has been re-elected mayor of Chicago for the second time, and will next week commence his third term as the chief executive of the city. His total plurality over Judge Elbridge Hanecy, the Republican nominee, was 28,257 votes. Out of the 35 wards of the city, Harrison carried 26, and Hanecy nine. The vote was badly split.

Township and municipal elections were held at many points in Illinois. The elections were about evenly divided. The Democrats carried the south, north and probably the west towns, while the Republican officials have been elected in the towns of Jefferson, Hyde Park and Cicero.

At Springfield, the capital of the state, after one of the hardest fought local political fights known, Alderman Phillips (Rep.) defeated William O. Converse (Dem.) for mayor by over 500. The entire Republican city ticket was elected.

Elections In Kansas

Kansas City, April 3.—Municipal elections were held yesterday in all the larger cities of Kansas. Party lines were not drawn generally, and in numerous cities the issue was prohibition, Mrs. Nation's crusade having aroused the temperance people to demand enforcement of the law against liquor selling. In Kansas City there were straight party tickets and the result is not known. In Topeka the Republican ticket, supported by the temperance people, was elected. A Democrat was elected mayor of Atchison. At Leavenworth the entire Democratic ticket was elected. At Wichita, where Mrs. Nation began her crusade, the temperance ticket was overwhelmingly defeated by the Republicans. The Democrats carried Galena.

Six-Cornered Fight Won by Wells

St. Louis, April 3.—Of the six mayoralty candidates, Wells, Democrat, has carried the city by about 10,000 plurality. With him was elected the entire Democratic ticket. Charles F. Wenneker, the Republican candidate for city collector, concedes the defeat of the entire Republican ticket.

Lincoln Goes Republican

Omaha, April 3.—The issue in nearly every small town in the state was license or no license and reports received from 50 villages indicate that the majority have gone for license. In a few of the larger towns politics entered into the campaign. Lincoln went solidly Republican.

In the Lone Star State

Houston, April 3.—Municipal elections were held throughout Texas yesterday. There were no contests of more than local interest and the vote was generally light.

Arkansans Stick to Democrats

Little Rock, April 3.—Municipal elections were held throughout the state yesterday, and in nearly every case where party lines were drawn the Democratic nominees were elected.

Wisconsin Republicans In Line

Milwaukee, April 3.—The result of various municipal elections in Wisconsin yesterday show Republican victories throughout the state.

Denmark Celebrates a Victory

Copenhagen, April 3.—The 100th anniversary of the naval battle which was fought off Copenhagen in 1801, between the English and the Danes, was celebrated here yesterday. The city was generally decorated with flags, and there was a naval and military parade. The graves of the Englishmen and Danes who fell in the engagement a century ago were decorated, and an impressive service was held in Holems church.

Cruiser Will Watch Frenchmen

St. Johns, April 3.—The Newfoundland government is preparing for the annual crusade against the French in the matter of obtaining bait from colonial waters for the fishery on the Grank Banks. The herring season begins April 18. A cruiser will leave Thursday to take up the patrol.

To Invest $7,500,000

London, April 3.—The London county council has decided to buy 225 acres of land, on which to build workmen's houses to accommodate 42,000 persons. The cost will be $7,500,000.

Barrymore In an Asylum

New York, April 3.—Maurice Barrymore, the actor, was taken last evening from Bellevue hospital to Brunswick home, which is a private insane asylum near Amityville, L. I.

NEWS IN BRIEF

While at work on a steamer at Boston, Nicholas J. Patterson was caught in the cable winch, drawn over the shaft and instantly killed.

Francis Hollis, one of the oldest wholesale and retail druggists in Boston, died suddenly of heart trouble. He was 68 years old.

James G. Hill, formerly superintendent of the Lawrence Manufacturing company, died at Lowell, Mass., after an illness of 10 weeks' duration. Apoplexy was the cause. He was born in Albany in 1841.

Frank W. Parker of Boston, who says he has no occupation, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $70,654.42, and his assets are $250.

Rev. Nathan H. Chamberlain died at Monument Beach, Mass., of paralysis. He was born on Christmas day, 1831, and, after ordination to the priesthood in the Episcopal church, had pastorates in Milwaukee, Baltimore and Boston. Twenty years ago he retired to home life and did much literary work.

Rev. Daniel Jones died at Fort Jefferson, L. I., aged 89. He had occupied many pulpits in Long Island and Connecticut.

MORE PROTECTION.

The City and Fore River Company Make a Transfer.

Chief Engineer Williams has made an arrangement with the Fore River Ship Co., as a result of which the steam fire engine owned by the company is now in charge of Chief Williams and will be used on second alarms or at a conflagration. It practically gives Quincy two steamers.

The steamer was purchased by the company when they were located at Braintree, as the town did not have a good water service near at hand. At Quincy Point large mains have been laid through the works, and numerous hydrants put in, so that a steamer is not necessary. Therefore the steamer has been loaned to Chief Williams for an indefinite period. Chief Williams in turn has loaned the Fore River Ship Co. two hose reels which have been installed at the plant.

With good hydrant service the company's fire squad can do much better service than with a steamer. Meanwhile Quincy is receiving the benefit of an additional piece of apparatus.

California Trees.

Capt. Daniel Higgins of South street has received a calender from friends in California illustrative of the enormous size which the trees in that state often reach, the log portrayed in the calendar is part of a tree 300 feet tall, 16 1-2 feet in diameter, 150 feet from butt to the first limb; full contents of logs 166,125 feet; weight of logs 4 1-2 pounds per foot, 747,563 pounds; bark of tree, 6 inches thick. The number of days from time choppers commenced until tree was made up into logs ready for transportation was four and three-fourths. As the largest log was split up into wood before transportation it took nine logging cars to haul logs to the mill. This tree was cut down in Humboldt Co. but Capt. Higgins says that in an adjoining county (Mendicino Co) there is a larger stump the size of which can be imagined from the fact that there are seven trees growing form the stump, the smallest of which is 31 feet, and the largest, 37 feet in diameter.

One More Unfortunate

Providence, April 3.—The body of Miss Annie C. Richardson, 24 years of age, whose home was in Dracut, Mass. was sent to Lowell, Mass., yesterday, she having died here after a fortnight's suffering. She was taken to a hospital under conditions that were brought to the attention of the police at the time, and her death is now certified to by a medical examiner as the result of a criminal operation. The woman's mother and father committed suicide some years ago by clasping arms and jumping from a bridge at Boston.

Lime Workers Get an Increase

Rockland, Me., April 3.—The wage question in the lime industry has reached an amicable settlement. At a conference last evening a compromise proposition was made to the workmen, offering an increase in wages from $1.75 to $1.87½ per day. The men had asked for $2. This offer was accepted after the corporation had agreed that there should be an abatement of certain conditions which tend to lessen the earning power of the employes.

Revolver Pointed at Carrie

St. Louis, April 3.—Mrs. Carrie Nation yesterday visited two Market street saloons, engaged in heated arguments with the bartenders, and finally was forced from a saloon named after her, at the point of a revolver. "These things will be different some day," she declared. "Look out for me after I get out from under bond in Kansas."

Two Thousand Men Punished

Shamokin, Pa., April 3.—The Reliance and Alaska collieries, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, and employing 2000 men, were closed down yesterday indefinitely. This move is the outcome of the men having left their work Monday and joined in a celebration at Mount Carmel.

Charged With Abduction

New York, April 3.—Joseph Trafton was held in $3000 bail in Jefferson Market court yesterday for examination on the charge of abducting 15-year-old girls from Montreal. They are Fortin Brown and Mary Friendly. The magistrate committed the girls to the care of the Children's socitey.

Force of Wind Was Terrific

Brewer, Ga., April 3.—A cyclone passed a half a mile west of this place yesterday afternoon. Its path was a quarter of a mile wide. Turpentine trees for miles along the track of the disturbance were twisted off, and heavy limbs fell a mile from the track of the disturbance.

Foreign Minister Fired

Canea, April 3.—Prince George of Greece, the high commissioner of the powers, has dismissed the foreign minister, M. Veniselos, for having said that Crete should be independent.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. ### His Education.

Several years ago an effort was made to collect all the chimney-sweepers in the city of Dublin for the purpose education. In connection with this attempt the Christian Observer cites a story.

Among the boys came a little fellow who was asked if he knew his letters.

"Oh yes sir," was the reply.

"Do you spell?"

"Oh yes sir," was again the answer.

"Do you read?"

"Oh yes sir."

"What book did you learn from?"

"I never had book in my life sir."

"And who was your schoolmaster?"

"Oh I never was at school."

Here was a singular case. A boy could read and spell without a book or master! But what was the fact? why, another little sweep had taught him to read by showing him the letters over the shop doors which they passed as they went through the city. His teacher then was another little sweep like himself and his book the sign-boards on the shops. what may not be done by trying?

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

The Producers Appear to Be Gainers In the Milk Fight

RECEIVERS ARE HUSTLING

To Obtain an Adequate Supply Outside of Regular Sources, Which Are Now Withholding About Eighteen Thousand Cans—No Shortage at the Hub

Boston, April 3.—Each side in the pending milk war between the contractors and the producers claims that its status has been strengthened by yesterday's developments, and consequently both sides are confident of ultimate success. The producers affirmed that they had received important additions to their ranks during the day, while on the other hand, the contractors contended that the claims of the union officials were extravagant, and that no difficulty was experienced in getting a normal supply of milk into the city.

As the milk trains came in from Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island and the different parts of Massachusetts they were watched with considerable interest. When they started neither the contractors nor the producers knew how much milk they would pick up along their routes, for developments Monday were pretty certain to change the minds of a great many farmers who have in the past sent their milk to Boston.

Indifferent and timid farmers are joining the ranks of the more aggressive, and President Ward is sanguine in his prediction of ultimate success for the producers. This was evident at many of the milk stations along the railroads. At some of them the farmers had assembled to see the trains pass by, leaving nothing up empty cans for the contractors to pick up, and it is reported that many of them poured their milk into the roads as an indication of their disposition. Others were within the reach of creameries or cheese factories, and could turn their products to better use. Officers of the Milk Producers' union came into Boston on some of these trains, and they addressed the farmers wherever they found on opportunity, urging them to stand by the union.

The whole amount of milk brought here does not appear to be any smaller than usual, and the producers say they did not expect it would be. But a great deal of it comes from new sources. President Ward figures the strength of his position on the attitude of the farmers who in months or years past have turned their milk over to some one of the five Boston contractors, and as near as he could figure they held back about 2000 cans more yesterday than Monday, which means a reduction of about 18,000 cans in the supply from the regular sources.

The contractors were all disposed to considerably discount the claims of the strikers as to the total amount of the milk withheld.

Still Without Gilman Papers

Bridgeport, Conn., April 3.—Vice President Merwin of the Bridgeport Trust company, in whose hands have been the affairs of the Gilman estate, states that the search of the Black Rock mansion is completed, and that nothing has been found that throws any light upon the property of the dead millionaire. He added that the trust company would now take steps to obtain from various persons the papers relating to the Gilman estate.

Youngster With Abnormal Mania

Boston, April 3.—Beacher Ramsey, aged 9, was tried yesterday in the Dorchester court for setting two fires in the old Mather school last week. Judge Churchill found him guilty. The boy, he said, is evidently suffering from a morbid, abnormal mania. Because he was so very young, he was placed on probation to afford an opportunity to teach him the seriousness of such offenses.

Receiver For Stocking Company

Bennington, Vt., April 3.—Upon petition of Olin Scott, one of the stockholders, Judge Munson has appointed William H. Bradford receiver of the Lasher Stocking company. The company's factory had run overtime nearly all winter, employing 200 hands. The schedule of liabilities and assets has not yet been filed.

Almshouse Destroyed by Fire

Ware, Mass., April 3.—The almshouse of this town was destroyed by fire yesterday, causing a loss of $6000. Warden Deragon was boiling down some sap late in the afternoon, and the chimney became overheated, setting fire to the building. There were 12 inmates, all of whom escaped without injury.

State Law Must Be Obeyed

Fall River, April 3.—Despite the consent of the city government the state authorities yesterday prevented minors who performed in a specialty feature with a theatrical company from doing their act. The state claims that the city has no right to grant permission, as it is contrary to the state law.

Gone South For a Rest

Boston, April 3.—The report that the cause for George Fred Williams' going south for his health, with an affection of the lungs, is pronounced by the family physician of Mr. Williams as unwarranted. Mr. Williams' brother declares that rest was all that his brother needed.

Missing Councilman Coming Home

Lowell, Mass., April 3.—Pierre Brousseau, the missing president of the common council, is said to be on his way home. He is said to have communicated to a friend here his intention, but the mystery of his whereabouts is still carefully preserved.

RUSSIA TO JAPAN

Defines Her Attitude In Relation to the Manchurian Convention

Yokohama, April 3.—Leading Japanese newspapers assert that the Russian government has replied to Japan's protest against the Manchurian convention, to the effect that Russia does not wish to enter upon a discussion with a third power relative to her negotiations with China; that the proposed agreement is purely temporary and not intended to impair the sovereignty of China or to injure the interests of other powers; that the contents of the agreement, immediately upon its conclusion, will be communicated to the other powers, who will undoubtedly find them acceptable; and finally, that, if any of the provisions are not acceptable to Japan, Russia is prepared to discuss the matter in a friendly spirit.

China Said to Have Yielded

London, April 3.—The Morning Post publishes the following dispatch from Pao-Ting-Fu: "Chinese officials here profess to have received information from Li Hung Chang that the Manchurian convention has been signed."

Earl Li In Poor Health

Tientsin, April 3.—Li Hung Chang, with his bodyguard, is returning to Shanghai. He is indisposed. Steamers are detained at his disposal, and he is expected to arrive here Thursday.

Powers Won't Fight For China

Berlin, April 3.—Discussing the refusal of China to sign the Manchurian convention, The Lokal Anzeiger says: "China cannot expect more than the moral support of the powers."

Excludes Catholics and Negroes

Boston, April 3.—In the will of David W. Hitchcock of this city, filed yesterday in the probate office, appears a clause, bearing upon a bequest made to Wellesley female seminary to establish scholarships for worthy young women, which says: "I exclude Roman Catholics and colored persons because I feel that the introduction into said seminary of pupils who differ essentially in race and religion from the others may prevent the best interests thereof."

Prince Napoleon In Paris

Paris, April 3.—It is announced that Prince Louis Napoleon has arrived in Paris on a visit. Le Courier Du Soir, the ministerial organ, gives him a warning to abstain from scheming against the republic, and says: "We hope, for the sake of the tranquility of the country, no incident will occur which will oblige the government to treat the prince as he deserves, namely, as a pretender."

Something Unusual For Switzerland

London, April 3.—The Daily Express has received the following from its correspondent at Geneva: A riot has occurred at Bienne, in the valley of Chamonix, owing to the municipal council selling land on which the people had enjoyed grazing rights. The inhabitants tried to set fire to the town hall, and a fierce conflict ensued between the rioters and the gendarmes. Ten persons were killed and 15 injured."

Iron and Steel Works Crippled

London, April 3.—The disaffection existing among the Lanarkshire miners and engineers, 30,000 of whom are idle owing to a strike for an eight-hour day, is having an adverse effect upon the iron and steel works in Scotland. Some of the iron masters have taken steps to dump down their furnaces, while the steel makers will stop their mills.

Oswego Strikers Win

Oswego, N. Y., April 3.—The strike of the painters and paperhangers ended last night, the master painters agreeing to the union schedule for 22½ cents an hour, and nine hours to constitute a day.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, April 4.
Sun rises—5:23; sets, 6:13.
Moon rises—7:07 p. m.
High water—11:45 a. m.; midnight.

The southwestern storm has divided into two sections and one is central over Ohio, and the other over western North Carolina. There will be rain in New England, and the temperature will rise. On the coast the winds will be fresh east to southeast.

COLDS

The quickest relief, for a cold, is by Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We all have colds, you can try it and see. You will find the edge taken off in a night; and, in three or four days, you'll be wondering whether that cold amounted to anything anyhow.

That's relief. If you tackle it quick, the relief is quick and complete, if you wait till the cold is in full possession of head and lung, why, of course, the relief is quick if it comes in a week.

A little emulsion won't clear and restore your whole breathing-machine in a minute; don't be looking for miracles.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

AGUINALDO TAKES OATH

Allegiance to Revolutionary Government Renounced

IS NOMINALLY A PRISONER

While Authorities at Washington Are Considering Final Disposition of the Matter—MacArthur May Avail Himself of Good Offices of Ex-Chieftain

Washington, April 3.—Aguinaldo has accepted the inevitable and taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. That this action will hasten the end of armed resistance to the authority of the United States can scarcely be doubted. General MacArthur's dispatch conveying the information contained much more than was given to the public. The portion withheld related to the future disposition of Aguinlado and made suggestions as to what the late chief of the insurrection might accomplish.

No official statement could be obtained as to what finally would be done with the prisoner. It was emphatically stated, however, that he would be held for the present, but would be granted all possible immunity consistent with existing conditions. General MacArthur has hoped that a great deal might be accomplished through Aguinaldo. During the time he has been prisoner he has made quite a favorable impression upon General MacArthur.

It has been suggested that under the terms of the notice of amnesty the prisoner should be set at liberty at once, but there is a provision in the amnesty proclamation which says that those who have violated the laws of war are excepted from its terms. Whether or not General MacArthur has satisfied himself that Aguinaldo has not violated the laws of war cannot be stated, as the prisoner would be permitted to take the oath of allegiance pending an investigation of his past conduct.

Aguinaldo, having been the head of the insurrection, undoubtedly can be held until further investigation is made, or until the circumstances which surround the situation in the Philippines makes it advisable to release him outright, or otherwise dispose of him. These conditions, and the general situation and Aguinaldo's relation to them, were the subject of General MacArthur's dispatch, and are being considered by the authorities here who will have the final disposition of the matter.

The news of Aguinaldo's action was received with evident satisfaction by the war department, and the opinion was expressed that good results would follow among those who have been still holding out against the United States.

The taking of the oath in itself is regarded as giving Aguinaldo a status of loyalty to the United States quite different from those still in arms, but the army regulations make no distinct provision that the taking of the oath shall give complete liberty to a person.

The war department authorities say that offenses against the articles of war excepted in the proclamation of amnesty refer to murders and like depredations. Only recently five Filipino officers were executed for such offenses. It is not known here whether Aguinaldo was responsible in any case for such offenses, though from the fact that General MacArthur allowed him to take the oath of allegiance it is assumed that the commanding general does not hold Aguinaldo to be chargeable with a violation of the articles of war. It is believed General MacArthur will keep the ex-leader under his eye, and avail himself of the good offices of Aguinaldo in loyalizing the remnant of the insurgent forces.

Lopez Will Reserve Judgment

Boston, April 3.—Sixto Lopez, in a statement given out last night says: "The fact of Aguinaldo's having taken the oath—if it is a fact—is not of itself significant, until it is known under what conditions or pressure he was placed to take it. It is improper to pass judgment upon his action until we know what he himself has to say about it. I therefore hope that he will be allowed to make a statement, free from official interference or censorship. Until he does this, I, for one, will reserve judgment as to the merits or demerits of his act."

Not Fighting For Filipinos

Boston, April 3.—Erving Winslow secretary of the Anti-Imperialist league when informed that Aguinaldo had taken the oath of allegiance, said he did not see how that affected the work of his organization. "It does not concern us what attitude the Filipinos may take, as much as it does what the United States may do. Our battle has not been fought for the Filipinos, but for the constitutional liberty of America."

Defendants Failed to Show Up

Frankfort, Ky., April 3.—In the criminal court yesterday the indictments against ex-Governor Taylor, ex-Secretary of State Finley, Berry Howard and John T. Powers, for alleged complicity in the Goebel case, were called, but continued, none of the defendants being in custody.

Result of Battle Not Known

Newcastle, Natal, April 3.—The Boers derailed and wrecked a train near Mount Prospect. Subsequently General Campbell's column attacked them and heavy fighting ensued, General Campbell being at a disadvantage. Owing to the mist on the hill the result is not known here.

President Receives New Englanders

Washington, April 3.—President McKinley yesterday received about 250 school teachers from Massachusetts and other New England states. They are here on an excursion, and were received by special appointment.

Boston Not Suffering From Scarcity of Milk

NO AGREEMENT REACHED

At a Conference Between Officers of Producers' Union and Contractors—Suggestion That Prices Should Be Fixed by Conference Is Favored

Boston, April 4.—The third day of the milk war brought no discomforts to the consumer, so far as is visible to the general public. President Ward states that 18,000 cans were withheld yesterday from the city's usual supply and that an increased amount will be held back today.

On the other hand, the contractors say they have been able to secure milk enough to supply all demands, which is undoubtedly true, although it is an open secret that it has been secured only by hard work upon the part of the contractors and at a considerably higher price than they have ordinarily paid.

Representatives of the contractors and the New England Milk Producers' union were in conference for nearly six hours yesterday in the hope that the differences at present existing might be satisfactorily adjusted. This result was not accomplished, however, and the full boards of directors of both organizations will meet today.

George O. Whiting and G. O. Whiting, Jr., of the C. Brigham company and H. A. Whiting of D. Whiting & Sons, were spokesmen for the contractors, while the producers were represented by President Ward, Secretary Hunter and Directors Scammon, Barry and Freeman.

The clause first taken up for discussion was that which provides that the price of milk to the producers may be made contingent upon any change in the price of milk in Boston. The producers claimed that this was an inequitable clause, in that they were supposed to send their milk at certain stated prices for six months. They further claimed that this clause gave the contractors the right to raise or lower, at their pleasure, the price paid for their milk. The farmers asserted that this was a new clause, and that the members of the union were suspicious of it. Harvey A. Whiting said he attached very little importance to this clause, and felt that the producers had as much interest in it as the contractors; therefore he favored giving them a voice in whatever change might be contemplated. He had sufficient confidence in these directors to believe that they will act in a reasonable manner.

George O. Whiting said that it was the intention of the contractors to confer with the representatives of the union in case any change was contemplated, although it was not so specifically stated on the cards. He wanted the matter to go beyond a conference, however, and, assuming that they could not mutually agree at a conference, to leave the matter to a board of arbitration.

Harvey Whiting's suggestion that the price could and should be fixed by a conference of the two parties to the agreement was evidently agreeable to the directors of the union present, G. O. Whiting expressing himself as satisfied with that method of settlement with the added proviso that if they failed to agree the state board of arbitration should be called in.

After a recess for lunch the conference was resumed. This session was chiefly devoted to a discussion of the questions of the flat price of milk and the surplus, in all their phases. Suggestions were made by several speakers, but no definite propositions were presented by either side, and, after several hours had been consumed in talk, the conference adjourned until today, when it is understood the producers will present their demands in formal shape.

Worried Over American Competition

Vienna, April 4.—An important representative meeting of Austrian manufacturers held here dealt with the question of meeting American competition. A resolution was adopted unanimously declaring the necessity of placing the commercial relations of the dual monarchy with the United States on a basis of reciprocity and equality simultaneously with the renewal of the commercial treaties in 1903.

An Important Concession

Washington, April 4.—An arrangement has just been concluded between the United States and Canada under which all postal moneys sent between this country and Canada will go at the domestic rate of .3 of 1 percent, instead of the international rate of 1 percent as at present. It is expected that the radical reduction in the rate will treble the business.

Miners' Troubles Ironed Out

Terre Haute, Ind., April 4.—At the final meeting last night between the representatives of the 6000 miners in the Indiana bituminous fields and the operators, the miners surrendered to the operators on the claims for the purchase of powder, and the threatened strike is averted. The miners will resume work at once.

REPRIEVE UNLIKELY

Friends of Sorti Abandon All Hope of Saving His Life

Boston, April 4.—Governor Crane left the state house yesterday afternoon without taking any action toward a reprieve of Murderer Sorti, an Italian, now awaiting death in the Charlestown prison by the electric chair. It seems quite probable, therefore, that the sentence of the court will be carried out sometime next week, although Warden Bridges absolutely refuses to give the day or hour.

Two hearings were held yesterday in the executive chamber, at which Sorti's countrymen again reviewed the crime and Sorti's motive for commiting it, in the hope that the governor might see some way to stay the execution, but as the evidence was almost exactly the same as that produced before the executive council two weeks ago, which resulted in a vote of 7 to 2 against commutation, the governor gave no encouragement. The plea for reprieve yesterday was on the grounds that the crime was not premeditated in the strict sense of the word, and that Sorti killed his man because he feared he would be killed himself.

There was nothing new in either of these pleas which would warrant the governor in disregarding the advice of the council, and all hope for saving the man's life is now at an end. It is said that the condemned man is in a state of collapse.

The McPherson-Whitney Suit

Boston, April 4.—The basis of the suit brought by Representative Charles J. McPherson against Henry M. Whitney to recover $50,000 damages has become definitely known, being set out in the declaration filed yesterday. The action grows out of certain statements made by Mr. Whitney before a legislative committee. It is alleged that Mr. Whitney accused the plaintiff of blackmail, and also charged him with criminally conspiring with Mr. Lawson to have the defendant and the companies with which he is connected expend money for the purpose of corrupting the legislature. The plaintiff says he was not actuated by any improper motive in discharging the office.

Launching of the Illinois

Boston, April 4.—The cup defender Illinois, which is to sail for the interlake cup against the Canadians on The Great Lakes, was put into the water today at Lawley's shipyard. Her mast has been stepped and with the exception of her sails she is all ready for her trial Friday. A low flat car 60 feet long is in readiness for her, and the Illinois will probably start on her land journey to Chicago on Saturday.

No Beer In Portland

Portland, Me., April 4.—The liquor deputies visited about every place in the city yesterday, and no hop beer or any other kind of beer was being sold so far as could be learned. The sheriff was told that some dealers were taking their barrels of hop beer down to the docks and running the stuff off into the water in order to save the barrels.

Strike of Lowell Painters Ended

Lowell, Mass., April 4.—Late last evening, after a conference between the master painters and the union men, the differences were adjusted. The master painters agreed to grant an eight-hour day and a minimum wage of $2. The painters, who had asked for $2.25, accepted the terms offered and will return to work on Monday.

Rockland Has a $30,000 Fire

Rockland, Me., April 4.—Fire was discovered in a block on Main street last night when a heavy windstorm was at its height. The blaze was on the second floor, which, with the upper story of the three story brick building, was used as an annex of the Thorndike hotel. The total loss is estimated at $30,000.

From Prison to Workshop

Boston, April 4.—Governor Crane yesterday pardoned Joseph Perry, aged 19, from the state prison, where he was serving a term of 15 years for breaking and entering. He was convicted in February, 1895. Perry lived in Fall River, and tomorrow will go to work in a mill in that city.

Famous Tenor Laid Up

Executrix's Notice.

Good Afternoon.

Lawyer Patrick probably regrets now that Jones, the valet of W. M. Rice, did not commit suicide as he suggested.

How would it do to invite President McKinley to have Aguinaldo to accompany him on his visit to Quincy on the Fourth of July?

In view of the decline of farming, and the frequent statements that farming doesn't pay, we hope the farmers may be successful in getting better pay for their milk, even if the consumers have to pay more. There should be a fair profit in all lines of business.

Mr. Henry H. Faxon and his "temperance bureau" have almost won in their fight against the removal of the semi-colon from the hotel liquor law, as it is said by the Boston dailies that the friends of this "remedial legislation" have been losing heart. Mr. Faxon's secretary, Miss Brown, has awakened an interest all over the State against a change, and the hotel interests have been surprised at the remonstrances which have been pouring into the clerk's offices of both branches. A canvass of the Senate gives a majority against and several doubtful.

Henry Clews continues to be a bear on the Wall street market and gives the grounds for his lack of faith in the following argument, which will strike most people as reasonable:

"Some $2,500,000,000 of sound and honest industrial investments which have rarely seen the open market have been suddenly converted into $5,000,000,000 of issues, the larger part of which is in common stock, liable at any moment to be thrown upon the market. The result of these conversions is to put our industrial system largely upon a speculative foundation. At the same time, the management of this vast amount of business has been subjected to untried methods about the outcome of which there can be no certain estimate. The whole movement is a stupendous experiment, undertaken as much from speculative impulses as from sound business motives. And this immense volume of uncertain issues is to find its market in Wall street. The effect upon the steadier securities of the railroads must at least be disturbing, and the morale of speculation can hardly fail to be lowered."

Stop the interest! This should be the attempt of the city government. The last few years the debt maturing was so large and ill proportioned that it seemed expedient to borrow on ten year instalments, but now that the financial situation has improved, should not the city borrow on shorter time, and thereby reduce the interest account? The appropriations this year include $13,832 for interest on municipal debt, $1,720 for interest on park debt, $6,500 for interest on loans in anticipation of taxes, $29,172 interest on water debt and $14,265 for interest on sewer debt. If all this interest was paid by direct taxation it would cause a tax in itself of over $3 per $1,000. Remarkable progress could be made by the city if this sum of $65,489 could be used each year for improvements rather than for interest. The interest on the municipal debt alone will be a tax of 70 cents per $1,000 this year.

There was a loan of $6,500 authorized by the City Council this week which is spread over ten years, and in such a way that $1,000 will mature the last three years. Would it not have been better to have paid it in seven, viz. $500 in one year, and $1,000 in each of the following years? This would pay the debt three years earlier and save about $500 in interest.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Gen. Funston appears to have completely eclipsed Carrie Nation.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞Aguinaldo can end the Filipino rebellion in short order if he will. His advice to lay down arms would be heeded by his followers.—Beverly Times.

☞Boston never realized till now how strong the country cousin is, particularly when she puts on a boycott. Boston couldn't live without her suburban friends and the milk boycott merely shows her a sad truth.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The vital point in all this Westminter Chambers matter is whether the laws of this commonwealth are made to be obeyed or not, and whether the general court of Massachusetts has sufficient self-respect to insist that they are to be obeyed.—New Bedford Standard.

☞A despatch from Amsterdam announces that President Kruger will sail for the United States next month where he hopes to collect $50,000,000 as the fruits of lectures which he is to deliver. Oom Paul has evidently heard the old fable of our golden paved streets.—Milford Journal.

Supper and Entertainment.

A surprisingly large number attended the supper at Bethany church Wednesday evening and those who braved the rain enjoyed an excellent supper, a good social time, and a fine entertainment. There were cold meats and salads in variety, also rich cake, coffee, tea, rolls, etc. The entertainment included: Selection from Mr. W. G. Shaw's phonograph; violin solo by Alfred Wason; reading by Miss Minnie Packard; German-American version of Barbara Frietchie by Mr. M. P. Hayward; solo by Aubrey Peters.

During this time several of the young people were holding a private entertainment in the ladies' parlor. This affair was brought to a close simultaneously with the main attraction; after which a jolly group gathered around the piano and sang college songs, closing a very enjoyable evening with a hearty "Good Night Ladies."

Granite Industry Revival.

The long period of depression in the local granite industry is about at an end, says a dispatch from Hallowell, Maine. At the Hallowell Granite Works increased activity in business already has set in, and there are employed at the sheds and quarries about 200 men. The officials state they will continue to add good workmen to their force until the number employed reaches 500. It also is understood that a large force of men will begin work in the Tayntor quarry as soon as weather permits, and the indications are that between 700 and 800 granite workers will have employment here during the coming summer, and probably much longer.

Quincy Bicknell.

The late Quincy Bicknell, a native of Hingham, who died recently in that town at an advanced age, highly respected, was the master of the Grammar school in the Centre District of the town of Quincy in the years 1843-1846. He afterwards filled many positions of trust in his native town, and was regarded in his later years as the "Village Squire," doing officially, and otherwise, kindly acts and services for and in behalf of his townspeople. Of his Quincy school boys, nine only, are living, namely, Daniel F. French, John Hall, John Whitney Hall, Lewis Bass, Quincy Tirrell, Henry Chubbuck, Lyman R. Prescott, Peter B. Turner and Charles Lowell Nightingale.

Alliance Meeting.

The Woman's Alliance held its regular meeting at the Wollaston Unitarian vestry Wednesday afternoon. In spite of the storm a good number were present, as it had been announced that Miss Maria Baldwin of the Agassiz school at Cambridge was to speak on Harriet Beecher Stowe. The storm, however, prevented her from coming. There were many matters of importance to be discussed so the meeting adjourned late in consequence. Chocolate and a social followed.

Quincy Mutual.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was held Wednesday and these directors elected, the only change from last year's being the election of Charles G. Hathaway of Plymouth, president of the Old Colony Bank, in place of Benjamin W. Munroe deceased: Charles H. Porter, Theophilus King and Charles G. Hathaway, of Plymouth, for 3 years; Charles A. Howland and Henry M. Faxon for 1 year.

—H. S. Treadwell of South Boston is the new Supreme Governor of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers.

MR. BOB A SUCCESS.

Many Out in Rain to Witness the Production.

Notwithstanding the stormy weather, quite a large gathering witnessed the production of "Mr. Bob" Wednesday evening in the Wollaston Unitarian vestry. The play, given for the benefit of the Sunday School, was entirely in charge of Mr. Lawrence Loring, who carried his part exceedingly well.

The principal character of the play was Mr. Bob, a nickname for Marian Bryant, who so successfuly won the yacht race and was at last revealed as Mr. Bob. A character who afforded constant laughter was Robert Brown, who was so confused and had so many assumed names that he really did not know his name himself. Mr. Brown was first warned to keep his name quiet. Secondly, he was welcomed as Mr. Bob; next as Mr. Saunders, and then Robert Brown the architect. At last, as Mr. Bob again, who was supposed to have won the yacht race.

The play was in two acts, "Breakfast room in morning," and "Breakfast room in afternoon." All the parts were well selected and the cast was as follows:

Philip Royson, Mr. Hull
Robert Brown,—clerk of Benson and Benson Mr. Schumacher
Jenkins, — Miss Rebecca's butler, Mr. Loring
Rebecca Luke, — a maiden lady, Miss Cote
Katherine Rogers,—her niece, Miss Luard
Marion Bryant,—Katherine's friend, Miss Hatch
Patty,—Miss Rebecca's maid, Miss Brown

The play was such a success that it will be repeated next Thursday, April 11, when a larger audience is expected.

Missing Girl in Quincy.

A new London dispatch of Wednesday to the Globe says: Charles Bullock of Mansfield, Mass., was here today in quest of a runaway daughter, Sarah Elizabeth Bullock. Mr. Bullock made inquiry at the police station this morning and gave the information necessary for the police to work upon. The daughter left home in Mansfield on Sept. 30.

Nothing was heard of her until about three months afterward she called on friends in Quincy, Mass., saying that her parents knew where she was. A few days before Jan. 1, she wrote to her parents and told them she would be home on the first of the new year. The day passed, and up to this time no word has been received from her, but the mother became so despondent that it has turned her mind, and now she is insane. While telling this part of the story, Mr. Bullock wept.

The family were later informed that the daughter was stopping with friends named Snape in New London, and it was said they were proprietors of a bicycle store here. No such persons can be found here. Her age is 15.

Water and Fire Water.

As it stormed, Wednesday, Kenneth McLean, a laborer, thought it a good chance to take a day off and go to Boston, which he did. He also filled up with Boston fire water, and when he started for the City of Presidents by electric cars he was gloriously drunk. He created a disturbance on the Quincy cars and Conductor O'Brien put him off. This angered McLean who retaliated by smashing a window in the car. Later, McLean fell into the fatherly arms of Officer Barry who put him into court this morning for drunkenness and malicious mischief.

Haskins--Parkhurst.

A pretty wedding occurred on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Haskins in Wollaston. The contracting parties were their son Mr. Waldo F. Haskins and Miss Dorothy L. Parkhurst of Boston. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. E. Waterhouse of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church, a dainty wedding lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Haskins will reside in Boston.

HAD A HOT TIME.

Experience of O'Brien at Holbrook's House.

Holbrook Is Held for the Grand Jury.

He Then Had a Fit and Exciting Time Followed.

The case of James A. Holbrook, who is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Michael J. O'Brien, a driver for Henry L. Kincaide & Co., was heard in the district court this morning. A large crowd was present to hear the testimony which afforded considerable amusement.

O'Brien was sent to the Holbrook house in Braintree to do one of two things, bring back a stove purchased of the firm which had not been paid for as agreed, or bring back the money. It turned out that he did not do either, but came out of the scrap which ensued with a cut on his head inflicted with a flat iron in the hands of Holbrook, and thought himself lucky to escape with his life. According to his story, crockery and other bric-a-brac was flying about in a promiscuous manner. O'Brien was a good dodger and escaped being hit by flying china, while his assistant protected himself by seizing the kitchen table and holding it in front of himself as a shield. This he did until his arms got tired and then he did the African dodger act.

O'Brien testified that when he went into the house the first time Holbrook was mending a pair of shoes. He made known his errand. An argument ensued, in which Holbrook is alleged to have struck O'Brien, who defended himself. O'Brien did not want to fight in the house, but said if they were in the street he might do something different.

The stove was hot and the assistant was sent for some clothes to lift it with. When he came back the dishes had begun to fly, and O'Brien was forced out of the house. He returned in a few minutes and told Holbrook he desired to give him one more chance to give up the money or stove.

Holbrook, it is alleged, invited him in to talk it over. As he entered the house the second time Mrs. Holbrook locked the door and the row was resumed, during which Holbrook is alleged to have hit O'Brien over the head with a flatiron, and to have supplemented this assault by taking a gun which he pointed at O'Brien, at the same time threatening to shoot him.

O'Brien then got out and had his wound dressed by Dr. Holmes, who said the wound was a dangerous one.

Holbrook, when put upon the stand, denied striking O'Brien.

Holbrook was held for the grand jury, however, and while in the cage waiting to be taken to Dedham he had a fit. He was attended by Dr. Holmes who was still in court

Dr. Holmes worked over Holbook for an hour, trying to bring him too. He was quite violent at times, and four men were required to hold him. At noon, Holbrook's condition was unchanged and Dr. Garey was called in and etherized Holbrook, who was then taken to the City Hospital. It is said that when he comes out of the ether the fit will probalby have left him.

Now is the Time.

If you wish to save your fruit or ornamental trees from canker worms, caterpillars, and other crawling insects now's the time As the frost comes out of the ground the insects start, and a little labor now will destroy thousands. Morrill's tree ink or canker worm exterminator, is the best thing to use. For sale in small cans at this office.

Manual Training.

In the Legislature Wednesday, Representative Badger spoke in favor of Mr. Osgood's amendment to the bill for extending the system of manual training to all cities and towns of over 10,000 by making it permissive instead of obligatory. There were arguments pro and con, but the amendment was adopted and the bill ordered to a third reading.

Another Charge.

Chief of Police Hayden has reason to believe that Charles N. Perkins, who was before the court last week for breaking and entering the Brooks Adams residence, is the party who broke into Daniel J. Nyhans brass foundry and stole patterns.

When Perkins' case was called before the grand jury this week Chief Hayden also brought that charge against him.

Poison Proof People.

There are entire communities of poison proof people who partake of doses of white arsenic with as much zest as the average person partakes of a meal.

Chief among these singularly gifted people are the Styrian and Corinthian shepherds who inhabit the districts of Lamprecht, Salzburg, Hartberg, Leoben, Oberzeirung and the Erzgebirge mountains. The sturdy mountaineers consider that arsenic improves their wind for chamois climbing.

Some years ago Dr. Knapp put two of these men through their paces before the German Society of Physicians assembled at Gratz. The one ate six grains of white arsenic, or enough to kill three men, without experiencing the slightest inconvenience. The other partook of four grains of yellow arsenic, or orpiment, with equal impunity. It was explained that, seeing the good effect of the drug upon the coats and condition of their flocks, many of these shepherds start the practice under the impression that taken in moderation it is good for human beings also.

Usually started with a small weekly dose spread upon bread and butter, the embryo arsenic eater has to undergo a very severe test of his devotion to the drug. Violent sickness and burning pains accompany its first use, and the drug speedily asserts its fatal power over its devotee.

Any attempt to leave off the drug is generally fatal. The women of these arsenic eating districts are famous for their beautiful complexions and luxuriant tresses.

THE MANILA FRAUDS

MacArthur's Report Shows That They Were Not Very Important

Washington, April 4.—General MacArthur's report on the alleged commissary frauds at Manila hardly justifies the cable tolls. The irregularities come down apparently to what was suspected at first—improprieties in the sale of articles saved by the companies from their commissary issues.

Technically the army regulations forbid sales of commissary or quartermaster's stores to civilians; actually, there is considerable doubt among the high military authorities whether the regulations in this regard would be sustained if tested in the civil courts. Hence, infractions of the rules have been punished with enough mildness to prevent, if possible, a resort to such a test.

There is a serious feature to the case of sales in the Philippines to civilians which would not apply in this country—namely, the evasion of the insular customs tariff. All army stores, of course, enter the islands free of duty, and the person who obtains irregular possession of these, which would as commercial imports pay a tax, would be classed as abettors of smuggling, and probably so prosecuted.

The MacArthur dispatch contains no reference to Barrows' arrest, either in the part given to the public or that held back by the secretary of war.

Phillips Hasn't Lost His Nerve

Chicago, April 4.—A strong effort was made on the board of trade yesterday to crowd George H. Phillips, the "corn king," to the wall. He was driven clear out of the wheat market, but gave up none of his holdings in corn or oats. Enormous calls for margins were made on Phillips, all such demands being met promptly. His firm now has nearly $500,000 up as margins. Phillips stuck to his policy. At the close he declared he had not been shaken out of his corn and oats. The wheat deal was a different story. Phillips unloaded nearly 1,000,000 bushels. The wheat showed a loss aggregating nearly $25,000. After the close Philipps was advising customers to "keep a stiff upper lip," and was acting on that advice himself.

Has a Record to Be Proud Of

Washington, April 4.—General Henry B. Carrington of Hyde Park, Mass., soldier and historian, was a caller at the White House yesterday. General Carrington is 78 years old, and retired from the regular army in the '70s, because of severe wounds received in an Indian campaign. He was adjutant general of Ohio from 1857 to 1861, and while serving in that capacity made out and signed the volunteer commissions of both ex-presidents Hayes and Garfield. He also assisted in organizing the regiment which General Harrison commanded. In all he mustered 127,000 men into the Union army.

Successful Wireless Telegraphy

Washington, April 4.—Professor Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has returned from an inspection of the wireless telegraphy stations on the Virginia and North Carolina coasts, and reports that he found the work progressing satisfactorily betwen Hatteras and Cape Henry. Signals are exchanged daily between these two stations, 47 miles apart, and messages can be transmitted at any time. It is the intention to keep this section for experimental and research work.

Dangerous Obstruction Disposed Of

Norfolk, April 4.—S. H. Mitchell of the United States artillery department reports having successfully blown up a stray submarine mine near Sackett's Harbor. The mine was one that had been planted during the Spanish war at Port Royal, S. C., and it had broken loose and since that time had been drifting at sea. Some farmers discovered it some days ago, thrown up by the tide.

Oil Well Ablaze

Beaumont Tex., April 4.—A disastrous fire is in progress in the oil fields. Heywood's well struck a heavy flow of gas last night, and it caught fire from a torch in the hands of a workman. The flames shot up in the air high above the derrick and continued to burn. The derrick was destroyed and all the machinery damaged. No attempt is being made to extinguish the fire.

Will Not Alienate Sympathies of Many For the Sake of One—Controversy of Grave Character May Arise If Russia Continues to Remain In Manchuria

Pekin, April 4.—Russia has been notified by the Chinese government that China, owing to the attitude of the powers, is not able to sign the Manchurian convention.

"It is China's desire," says the formal notification, "to keep on friendly terms with all nations. At present she is going through a period which is most perilous in the empire's history, and it is necessary that she should have the friendship of all.

"However much she might be willing to grant any special privilege to one power, when others object, it is impossible that, for the sake of making one nation friendly, she should alienate the sympathies of all others."

Li Hung Chang says this letter settles the matter definitely, and that Russia was informally notified to the same effect March 29.

Prince Ching asserts that every Chinaman, except Li Hung Chang, was against signing the convention.

Washington Not Officially Notified

Washington, April 4.—Great interest was manifest in official and diplomatic circles last night over the Associated Press report from Pekin that the Chinese finally had determined not to sign the Manchurian agreement. No official information had reached this government or the principal foreign embassies. To the Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, the news came as a great surprise, as he had hoped for a successful conclusion of the convention. The ambassador declined, in the absence of official advices, to indicate what probably would be the future course of his government.

Russia In an Unenviable Light

Washington, April 4.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Associated Press, printed yesterday, has aroused interest in official circles here. For the same reason that prevented the correspondent from giving any authority in the Russian government as a source of the suggestion contained in the dispatch, it is not possible to cite official authority for the comment that has been passed her upon the suggested Russian plea.

This, in brief, is that the action of the powers in opposing the Manchurian agreement will make it impossible for Russia to leave Manchuria at all. The comment upon this suggested plea is that Russia deliberately proposes to commit a greater offense in the permanent seizure of Manchuria, if the powers will not connive at a lesser one, in allowing her to make a secret and private agreement with China.

This plea, it is said, would be laughed out of any court of international law, so disingenious is it. Russia is displeased because the powers discouraged China from signing the agreement; yet Russia herself joined with the other powers in undertaking to avoid any such private arrangement involving the acquisition of Chinese territory. Even if she forced China to sign the Manchurian agreement, there is no obligation upon the powers, and certainly not upon the United States, to whom this Russian pledge was given, to look upon it as binding at any point. By the same reasoning, should Russia, failing to secure an agreement, continue in Manchuria beyond a reasonable time, there is no obligation upon any power to respect her title, and it may be predicted that this subject will lead to controversy of the gravest character.

Okuma's Bellicose Attitude

Yokohama, April 4.—Count Okuma (formerly premier and now leader of the opposition) declares, in the course of an incisive newspaper article, that Japan must assert herself or the work of 30 years will be lost. Korea, he says, is not a Russian chattel, and Russia's action is a direct challenge to Japan."

Government on the Defensive

Kingston, Jam., April 4.—According to advices received here yesterday the rebels continue to hold strong positions in the neighborhood of the city of Panama. The attempts of the government troops to drive them out have signally failed, and the government commanders are now content to guard the city against attack. The Liberals are confident of ultimate success. Business in important centres of Colombia is still paralyzed.

Chinaman Gave False Testimony

Syracuse, April 4.—Loo Wee, a Chinaman, who has been used as a witness on behalf of certain Chinese immigrants who were being brought into this country across the Canadian border, pleaded guilty to the indictment of perjury yesterday. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and to imprisonment for one year.

"Tige" Anderson at Death's Door

Macon, Ga., April 4.—Word has been received here from Anniston, Ala., that General G. T. ("Tige") Anderson is at the point of death. Anderson was a brigadier commander under Longstreet in the Civil war, and was one of the most famous of Confederate fighters.

Famine and Typhus Rampant

Odessa, April 4.—Famine and typhus are raging throughout the governments of Kherson and Bessarabia, and portions of the governments of Kieff and Taurida. The mortality is 30 percent of the entire population.

JONES' TESTIMONY

Valet Admits That He Hopes to Escape Death Penalty For Murder

New York, April 4.—Charles F. Jones, the valet of William Marsh Rice, who, according to Jones' confession Tuesday, was murdered by Jones himself in September last, finished his testimony on direct examination yesterday in the proceedings charging Albert T. Patrick with murder. The story of the murder and conspiracy which Jones outlined on Tuesday, he yesterday filled in with a wealth of detail and with the same remarkable exhibition of coolness and nerve.

According to the story told by Jones on the stand, he and Patrick had drawn up a bogus will, and were waiting for Rice to die, when a mill burned down in Texas. Rice's connections there desired to rebuild it, and he spoke of advancing the $100,000 or $125,000 required to replace the burned property. "Patrick told me to use my influence," said Jones, "with Rice not to rebuild the mill, as this would take out all the ready cash from the estate.

"But Rice insisted on advancing the money, and authorized a draft for $25,000 from one of his correspondents in Texas. Word of the draft arrived in New York Saturday, and then Patrick said," testified Jones, "that he would have to do something to get Rice out of the way before the draft was presented."

When Jones was later asked about the effort he had made at suicide in the tombs, he said Patrick suggested that he (Jones) take the blame for the conspiracy and murder; of his refusal to do so, and then said calmly that Patrick handed him a knife, and of the attempt at suicide.

In the cross-examination Jones admitted that he hoped by teling his present story to escape the death penalty for murder. He said he had gathered from his lawyer, Mr. Battle, who had talked with District Attorney Osborne, that if he did tell the whole truth some measure of consideration would be shown him. This and his conscience, he said, induced him to admit his guilt of murder.

If Jones was undisturbed by the situation in which he found himself, he had no advantage over Patrick, who showed no evidence of being disturbed by the statements made by the witness.

Heavy Damage by Snow and Rain

Pittsburg, April 4.—Pittsburg was yesterday the centre of a snowstorm that began early in the morning and continued with great force until afternoon. It rendered practically useless for a time every electric wire in the city, suspending all street car travel and in the early hours isolating the city from the outside world. Heavy rain fell before the storm came and all reports from up river points tell of rising streams which may bring about a flood here and below. The losses are estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000.

German Battleship Badly Damaged

Kiel, April 4.—Because of bad steering, the battleship Kaiser Frederick III ran into the shallows near Bornholm island, yesterday, the approach of which is forbidden to warships. Soon after the battleship went aground fire broke out from some unknown cause in the engine room, and it was not quenched until after two hours' fighting, when the room was placed under water. The damage is serious, and several months will be needed for repairs.

Tingey Contract Annulled

Washington, April 4.—The navy department has arranged to advertise for bids for the completion of the torpedo boat Tingey, there having been a default on the part of the Baltimore contractors in completing the vessel. A formal annulment of the contract was made yesterday. The ship is afloat and about 70 percent completed. The contract price was $168,000, and of this $105,840 has been paid, leaving $62,160 with which to complete the ship.

Railroad Rates Go Up

New York, April 4.—The Times says that the traffic managers of the railroads interested have decided to advance all differential rates from New England points westbound, to take effect tomorrow. This action was prompted by the belief that the differential lines were in position to compete successfully for such business at these advanced rates. The advances vary from 1 to 40 cents a hundred on rates of various classes.

Making Good Progress

Battle Creek, Mich., April 4.—The biennial report of Elder Erwin, president of the Seventh Day Adventist general convention, was made yesterday. During the past two years the increase in membership was 12,504, and the total membership for the world 75,765. The tithes for the same period amounted to $1,000,915. Donations to carry on missionary work amounted to $151,098.

Enforced Vacation For Miners

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 4.—Notices were posted at the colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company at Sugar Notch yesterday that until further notice there would not be work at the mine. Six hundred men are thrown out of work.

Killed Mother and Brother

Sunbury, Pa., April 4.—John Gulick, who made his escape after murdering his aged mother and younger brother at their home near this city Tuesday morning, is still at large. The aged father thinks his son committed suicide.

AGUINALDO SURPRISED

To Find American Plans So Fair and Liberal

INVITATION FROM M'KINLEY

To Visit This Country Said to Have Been Accepted by the Ex-Chieftain —Instructions Sent to MacArthur as to Attitude of the Administration

Washington, April 4.—An Associated Press dispatch from Manila says that Chief Justice Arellano, who administered to Emilio Aguinaldo the oath of allegiance to the United States government, described yesterday the conditions leading up to and attending the ceremony, which was semi-private.

Aguinaldo, still detained in an apartment of the Malacanan palace and awaiting orders from Washington, had expressed himself as anxious to learn more regarding the American system of government, and had asked Chief Justice Arellano to enlighten him. The chief justice carefully explained the various measures passed by the Philippine commission, and showed him what provisions were made for education and progress and for municipal and provincial self-government.

Listening with deep interest, Aguinaldo finally exclaimed: "I never believed the Americans would be so fair and liberal."

When the conversation was over he agreed to take the oath of allegiance, and this was immediately administered.

Senor Arellano says: "Aguinaldo's action will induce all the insurgents to surrender, and I predict that the islands will be completely pacified by June Aguinaldo is eager to visit the United States, but when I questioned him on the subject of holding office he replied that he had no desires in that direction and intended to retire to private life after a trip to America."

It is reported in Manila, the dispatch says, that President McKinley has invited Aguinaldo to visit the United States, and that the former insurgent leader may sail from Manila April 15 General MacArthur, when questioned regarding the rumor, said he had absolutely nothing to communicate.

After a consultation with the president, Secretary Root last night sent a cable message to General MacArthur giving him instructions regarding Aguinaldo, and the views of the administration on some recommendations as to Philippine affairs, made by General MacArthur.

The contents of the cablegram will not be made public for the present. It was stated at the war department yesterday that the attitude of this government toward the insurgent chief had not changed. He is held as a prisoner, and while he will be treated with kindness, there is no disposition to allow him liberty until it is demonstrated that he intends to comply fully with the amnesty terms and his oath of allegiance.

The cable message sent last night was of considerable length, and was quite specific as to the policy of the government. It is understood that Aguinaldo would like certain assurances or promises from the government, and the message informed General MacArthur just what the government would do. While it is believed that the insurrection would end before long without the assistance of Aguinlado, the government would be glad to make use of him to hasten the pacification of the islands, if it can be done consistently with Aguinaldo's former attitude and consistently with what the best interests of the United States in the islands are believed to demand.

Laborious Task Ahead

Paris, April 4.—The recent successes of the Americans in the Philippines, says The Figaro this morning, appear to have discouraged the resistance of the Filipinos, and will probably lead to a real pacification, but the organization of the country will be a difficult and laborious task. Surprises are in store, although it is not to be doubted that the tenacious conquerors will eventually solve the problem.

Patient Was Armed With Knife

Sunbury, Pa., April 4.—Dr. Johnson, a physician in the state hospital for the insane at Danville, was stabbed to death last night by an insane Italian patient named Capello. Capello became unmanageable, but an attendant finally subdued him, and as Dr. Johnson was stooping over him, taking his temperature, he plunged his knife into the doctor's breast three times. Dr. Johnson died almost immediately.

Defeat For Danish Government

Copenhagen, April 4.—The elections to the folkething have resulted in overwhelming defeats for the government. Of the constituencies from which complete returns have been received, the opposition, composed of Leftists and Reformists, have carried 73, the Moderate Leftists, 15; the Social Democrats, 14, and the Rightists or Ministerialists, 8. The few seats that remain are doubtful.

Charges Won't Be Pushed

Havana, April 4.—There will be no prosecution in connection with the charges made against Horatio Rubens and Gonzales De Quesada by a director of the Havana Gas company, to the effect that they had obtained money from the company by representing that they had influence in Washington to secure a reduction of the tariff on crude petroleum.

De Kock Said to Have Been Executed

London, April 4.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post asserts that the Boers have tried for treason and executed Mr. De Kock, the peace envoy who took the message from General Smith-Dorrien to Commandant General Louis Botha.

MOTHERHOOD

Is a natural instinct which shows itself in the girl as soon as she is big enough to play the mother to her doll. Unfortunately the womanly health does not always keep pace with the motherly instinct, and when real motherhood comes it often comes to mothers who suffer intolerably during maternity and who are unable to nurse the weakling child which frets and moans in their arms.

Motherhood is prepared for and provided for by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, gives a healthy appetite and promotes restful sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother abundant strength to nurse her child.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"Two years ago I was very sick and began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Ed. Hackett, of Chardon, Geauga Co., Ohio. "When my baby boy came he weighed twelve pounds and a half. Have had good health ever since, until about three weeks ago, when weaning my baby, I contracted a heavy cold. Am taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am thankful that poor sufferers have such a grand chance to regain their health by using Dr. Pierce's medicines. It would take pages to tell the good it has done in our family, and in a great many more families under my observation."

"I thank you for your kind medical advice."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 cents in one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR CUBA'S OWN GOOD

Only Reason Why We Wish to Intervene In Conduct of Her Affairs

Havana, April 5.—The so-called Radical element in the Cuban constitutional convention held a conference yesterday with Governor General Wood, regarding the Platt amendment. General Wood said that the United States government intended to deal justly and honestly with the Cubans, and had no desire to retain possession of the island. He pointed out that the Platt amendment was drawn up primarily with a view of protecting a weak nation against outsiders, as well as against internal strife, and would not interfere with Cuban independence.

He explained that the Washington interpretation of clause 3 of the scheme of relations was that the United States claimed the right to intervene solely for the purpose of preserving the independence of the island, maintaining an adequate force to protect life, property and individual liberty, and completing the obligations imposed by the treaty of Paris upon the United States. He expressed the opiuion that, in drawing up a treaty, many points in the future relations of Cuba with the United States might be more clearly explained to meet present objections.

The delegates retired apparently pleased with the interview.

Trees For the Million

Washington, April 5.—A new plan, having for its object the distribution of young trees throughout the country, will be put into practical operation by Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department next year. The distribution will be made in a manner somewhat similar to that employed in the seed distribution authorized by congress. Especial attention will be given to trees of the nut bearing, shade and lawn variety, and oaks, ash and lindens also will constitute a prominent portion of the distribution. The secretary believes the idea will prove popular, and, in view of the rapidly diminishing forest reservations, will be a decided benefit to the country.

Widow Would Clear Her Name

London, April 5.—Owing to certain unpleasant rumors, Lady Cook (Tennessee Claflin), widow of Sir Francis Cook, has applied to the home secretary to have the body exhumed. Sir Francis Cook died Feb. 17. Lady Cook desires that the exact cause of her husband's death, which was senile decay (he was 84 years old at the time of his death), shall be officially certified to, so that, hereafter, in the event of her death, nothing can be alleged against her. The relations betwen Lady Cook and her late husband's family are quite cordial. Sir Francis left a large estate.

PATRICK FEELS SAFE

Cannot Be Convicted by the Testimony of Jones

JUSTICE JEROME'S OPINION

Is That the Valet Is Weak, Wicked and Unfortunate, and Deserves Contempt—Indomitable Nerve of Accused Lawyer Clearly Brought Out

New York, April 5.—During yesterday's cross-examination of Charles F. Jones, the valet and self-confessed murderer of Millionaire William M. Rice, there were at least two incidents which rose above the ordinary. Possibly the one which stood out from the proceedings most prominently was the announcement made by Justice Jerome, who presides at the hearing, and which probably shows why Lawyer Patrick, accused with Jones of the murder of the former Texan, has all along taken the accusations of Jones against himself with a demeanor almost bordering on contempt.

Attorney Moore, for the defense, had asked that when the hearing closed for the day it be not resumed until Tuesday. Justice Jerome in giving his consent said: "It is necessary that Jones' testimony as to this murder should be corroborated. He being a self-confessed accomplice, his testimony alone is not enough upon which to hold Patrick."

Attorney Moore tersely added to this: "We understand that, and we suppose the district attorney does, too."

Mr. Moore added that he presumed the district attorney would spend the intervening time in an effort to secure come corroborative testimony. The willingness of the defense to give this opportunity to the state is taken as strongly indicative of their confidence in the ultimate outcome being favorable to Patrick.

The other incident brought out, in the clearest light, the indomitable nerve of Lawyer Patrick. In the face of the reiterated story of Jones, that Patrick had instigated the murder and the forgeries, the latter took his place in the court proceedings with as much nonchalance as he would a he had been suddenly called on to act as an interpreter in a police court "clothes line" case. At one point it became necessary that a statement made by Jones be read. The paper was given into the hands of one of the counsel for the defense for that purpose. This was the statement in which the valet claimed that Patrick killed Rice, and which he has since denied. The reader hesitated and stumbled over the written words. Suddenly Patrick, interrupting, said: "Here, I guess I can make it out; I'll read it."

This was agreed to, and in a loud, clear voice, he read: "P got a towel and sponge and saturated the sponge with a colorless liquid he had in a bottle. Then he went into the room where R lay in bed. I (Jones) was not in the room, but opened the door and peeped in. P was standing over R with the cone shaped towel in his hand and he pressed it down over R's face."

Patrick was still reading, with no show of emotion, when Justice Jerome ordered a recess for luncheon. The Ps and the Rs in the statement stand for Patrick and Rice.

At another point in the proceedings Justice Jerome gave his estimate of Jones with characteristic terseness. Attorney Moore had been racking the witness with questions, all tending to bring out the valet's lying propensities. He showed by Jones that Jones had lied and deceived his own father, when the latter called on him in the hospital after he attempted suicide; that he had told untruths to Attorney Osborne and that he had lied to his own counsel. Here Justice Jerome struck in with the remark:

"This witness is a weak, wicked and unfortunate man. He is a self-confessed murderer and deserves contempt, but I won't allow you to insult him."

The whole cross-examination of Mr. Moore, Patrick's counsel, was confined to showing up Jones as a man who could not be believed. When court adjourned it was until next Tuesday.

Lieutenant Implicated in Frauds

Manila, April 5.—Lieutenant Frederick Boyer, chief commissary for the second district of the department of southern Luzon, has arrived at Calamba, where he has been charged with misappropriating 50 cases of bacon and with other irregularities. It is alleged that the shortage in the commissary depot in Manila aggregates $185,000.

General Strike Threatened

Charlotte, N. C., April 5.—The Observer says that a general strike of the operatives in the textile mills of the south will be ordered unless the demands of President Gompers for a 10-hour day is acceded to by the Riverside mills at Danville, Va. The general strike will be ordered on May 1.

Kennebeck Clear to Augusta

Augusta, Me., April 5.—The Kennebec is now free from ice from this city to the sea, the last leaving last evening. The ice above the Augusta dam is breaking up. The river is greatly swollen, but no danger is anticipated.

YEAR IN STATE PRISON

For a Deacon Who Has an Inclination to Elope With Young Girls

Skowhegan, Me., April 5.—Deacon Tracey of Smithfield was sentenced to one year in state prison yesterday for a statutory offense. In this instance it was charged that the deacon eloped with a 17-year-old girl, although previously warned to follow the straight and narrow path. Once before the deacon was in court for a similar offense, and, being fined, his wife, believing that his penitence was sincere, raised money enough to get the deacon's release. This time, however, the district attorney felt that it was not right to make the wife suffer hardships, as was the case when she assisted her husband before, and so asked for a prison sentence, after the deacon had been convicted. Deacon Tracey is not a young man, and his doings have been the cause of much excitement in Smithfield, his last escapade exciting not a little indignation.

Sheriff Wouldn't Give Up Prisoner

Bristol, R. I., April 5.—Manuel Cabral, who nearly ended the life of himself and wife by stabbing her, was yesterday adjudged insane by Judge Bosworth on the report of a board of physicians, but when he was ordered by the court to be committed to the state insane hospital, Sheriff Cady took the stand that, as the prisoner had previously pleaded guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon, and was bound over to the grand jury, the man was a prisoner of the state, and, therefore, he declined to surrender him. As the matter now stands it will be necessary to have a commission appointed by order of the supreme court to make an examination of the prisoner.

Death of Colonel Thomas

Boston, April 5.—Colonel Henry A. Thomas, ex-postmaster of Boston, died last evening at the McLean asylum, after an illness of more than two years' duration. His death was not unexpected. Mr. Thomas died of brain trouble, which developed during his incumbency of the postmastership. Last summer his power of locomotion began to fail, and he lost entire use of his mental faculties. Mr. Thomas was born in South Weymouth in 1856.

Fireman's Act of Heroism

Providence, April 5.—Frank C. Worth, driver of hose 14, in rescuing a 5-year-old boy from a burning dwelling last evening, twice went down in partial collapse before he reached the child, and each time was rallied and spurred to renewed endeavor by hearing the cries of the little one. He finally reached the boy, and succeeded in getting him to a window. As he passed the child out he fell entirely unconscious across the window sill, and had to be dragged out and revived. The child was uninjured.

Natick Man Disappears

Natick, Mass., April 5.—The police were notified last night that Edward P. Sweeney disappeared from his home here early on the morning of March 27, and has not since been seen by his family or neighbors. Sweeney is 38 years old. The last knowledge of his whereabouts was at Sherborn. At that time he was driving an express wagon. Since that day Sweeney or the team have not been seen.

Steamer Hard Aground

Providence, April 5.—The steamer Chapin lies on the rocky coast of Prudence island with her nose scarcely more than 10 feet from the beach at low water, and there are two holes in her hull, which divers are now working on. The freight and passengers have been transferred and when the holes are patched up an attempt will be made to pull her off, but the chances of success are not bright.

Portland Chosen as Shipping Point

Portland, Me., April 5.—James Frazer, agent for the British government, visited Portland yesterday, and decided that the facilities of this port for caring for and shipping to South Africa 5000 horses was better than any Atlantic port he had visited. He said that these horses would be shipped from Portland direct if the shipment is made before May 10, otherwise they will go from Montreal.

Mill Hand's Close Call

Fall River, Mass., April 5.—Rose Como, a comber in the Kerr thread mills came very near death yesterday by being drawn over a shaft. Her hair caught in the belt of the combing machine she was tending. Her screams gave warning and the power was shut off in time to save her. Her injuries are about the scalp and shoulders.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 5.—After a prolonged executive session yesterday the legislative committee on metropolitan affairs voted to recommend the appropriation of $13,000,000, asked for by the governor, for the metropolitan water system, to be used by the new metropolitan water and sewerage commission.

Baseball League For New England

Lowell, Mass., April 5.—A New England Baseball league was organized at a meeting of baseball men here yesterday, with the following cities comprising the circuit: Lowell, Manchester, Nashua, Dover, Haverhill, Portland, Lewiston and Bangor.

Scarlet Fever Subsiding

Good Afternoon.

With the addition of Butler's pond and some of the land surrounding it to the High school grounds, the city might have a very attractive spot. It is already attractive but at small expense it could be improved.

Col. Thomas of Weymouth had many frineds in this city who have been pained at his long sickness which terminated fatally last evening. They have taken courage by his enthusiasm for country and for party, and watched with pleasure his promotion to positions of respnsibility. He was in the prime of life and although but 45 years of age, had been prominent in public affairs, as he entered the Boston post office at seventeen years of age.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ They hold cock fights in the town of Weston under the name of auction sales. The red flag that was displayed meant danger, although the bidders did not know it until the police arrived and set them all "going."

☞ Mr. Carnegie has but one thing more to insure himself against the disgrace of the dying poor. He has planned to endow theatres in New York and London for the elevation of the stage, and if he will now endow a newspaper on ideal lines, he will have the satisfaction of seeing the ducats roll out faster than all the trusts in Christendom can cause them to roll in.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ An adverse report on a street railroad charter is rather unusual in the legislature, but two of them went in last week. We have an idea that a feeling has become prominent that many of the roads are built for bonding purposes, and that the stockholders are the ones who get left. This being the case, it is rather to be expected that the legislature would report adversely on schemes which do not appear warranted by the situation in which they are to be placed.—Newburyport News.

Oakes or Clements.

An election to fill the vacancy of colonel in the 5th infantry, M. V. M., caused by the promotion of Col. J. H. Whitney to the command of the 2d brigade, has been ordered for tomorrow at 3 P. M. at the headquarters of the regiment, South armory. The Herald says there are two candidates, Lieut. Col. William H. Oakes of Charlestown and Maj. Murray D. Clement of Waltham. close contest is likely. Lieut.-Col. Oakes has been connected with the regiment since 15. He did not enter the Spanish war with the regiment, however, his place being taken by Capt. E. M. Weaver of the regular establishment. Maj. Clement came to the 5th infantry from civil life, and jumped to captain of company F at once. He was in the service as major from July to November, 1898.

MARRIED 60 YEARS.

Remarkable Record of a Quincy Born Lady.

The Herald has an interesting sketch of a Quincy born lady and her husband, who have been married sixty years:

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ross of Mt. Pleasant street, Stoneham observed the 60th anniversary of their wedded life on Thursday. There was a reception at their home attended by about 50 relatives and intimate friends.

Willis Ross was born at Bakersfield, Vt., 84 years ago. His father's name was also Willis. For many years Mr. Ross was employed by the Chickerings in their piano factory and during that time the couple lived in Boston with the exception of four years during the civil war when their home was in Bedford. Going to Stoneham Mr. Ross was employed in local shoe factories until he concluded that he was entitled to a rest. Since his retirement Mr. Ross has been quite successful as a gardener and raiser of fruit. The house in which Mr. and Mrs. Ross live is flanked by a large garden which in season is under high cultivation.

Mrs. Ross was Mary A. Field born in Quincy 80 years ago. The house in which she was born still stands on Franklin street and there was also born President John Quincy Adams. The couple were married April 4, 1841 by the Rev. Frederick T. Gray in the Bulfinch Place, Unitarian church in Boston. Of those present at the ceremony all have passed away except Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Ross' brothers, William Field of Stoneham, and Frank C. Field of Quincy, and Mrs. Mary Shaw, a sister of Mr. Ross, who now lives in Davenport, Ia. Mrs. Ross' father was William A. Field, a Boston musician, who for years was a member of the old Boston Brigade band. Her mother was Elizabeth C. (Glover) Field of Quincy.

In a cottage within a stone's throw of Mr. and Mrs. Ross' home lives Mrs. Ross' brother, William Field, a musician, who for a great many years played in theatre orchestras all over the country, and made many tours with the Symphony orchestra, of which he was a member. Mr. Field has just completed a record of his work as a musician, and the matter occupied 55 sheets of closely typewritten paper. The record gives the data, place and occasion of every performance in which he appeared, as well as the name of the conductor or director. Mr. Field is 77 years old, and devotes much time to piano practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross have had six children, the only one living being Marianna, wife of Representative Marden. There are two grandchildren, Mrs. Carrie Richardson of Waltham and William Marden, a page at the State House, and a great-grandchild, Mrs. Richardson's daughter. Mrs. Ross is in excellent health, generally, though she is at times troubled with "bad' spells. Her appearance is that of a well-nourished person of 50 years. Her hair is streaked with gray, yet her step is firm, her voice full, and her utterance without quaver. She hears perfectly and does not use glasses. Mr. Ross is a trifle hard of hearing, but his health is fair.

Officer Qualey who had Holbrook in charge, remained with him at the hospital all night. Holbrook had one or two violent attack during the early morning. He later quieted down and as stated above was a little more easy this morn.

Isn't pleasant work; no one cares to do it at home, and even if they do try, it's almost impossible to beat out all of the dirt.

Now cleaning carpets is part of our business; we like to do it, not by hand though, for our electric carpet beater does the work neater and better than the hands of any man can do.

We take your carpets one day and return them the next. Carpet Cleaning, 5 cents per yard. We take them up and have them relaid if you wish.

TO CALIFORNIA.

The Largest Shipment of Polished Quincy Granite.

T. F. Mannex shipped from West Quincy today, two dark Quincy polished dies, each of which measured 12 feet 7 inches, by 8 feet 3 inches, by 5 feet 6 inches, each die being in three pieces. This is the largest shipment of polished granite ever sent out from Quincy on one car, there being nearly four hundred square feet of polished surface on the six pieces.

These stones were shipped over land to California, and it will be at least a month before they reach their destination. Quincy granite was selected in preference to any other known granite on account of its durability, and because of the beautiful pollish which it takes and retains indefinitely.

Mr. Mannex says that hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Quincy granite could be sold in California and other distant States beyond the Missouri river, were it not for the excessive freight rates, the freight bill on a single 30 ton car to California being about $750.

Others are being built at all times. I will meet parties who wish to talk about them at the rooms of the Master Builders' and Traders' Association, Savings Bank Building, from 11 to 12 daily, or telephone to Quincy, 83-2.

LETTER FROM CHINA.

A Soldier from Roxbury Writes to a Quincy Man.

Mr. George H. Wilson has just received the following interesting letter from a Roxbury boy, who is in Uncle Sam's army in China, who has been remembered with newspapers:

Tung Chou, China,
Feb. 20, 1901.

Kind Friend: This letter may be a surprise to you as it comes from China, and the writer you have never seen. I wanted you to know how grateful I am for those papers you have been so kind to send for the last year and a half. I will try and give my best account of my two years in the service.

First, I was in the Philippines for fourteen months, through all the skirmishes and battles, but two, which took place there.

I have been in all the battles from Tien Sien to Pekin. No doubt but you have read of these in the papers time and time again, so I will not tire you with an account.

Co. I is the only American troop stationed at this place. We are guarding the U. S. quartermaster's depot. The rest of the regiment is at Camp Rielly at Pekin, fifteen miles from here, and two Companies are at Tien Sien at Liscum barracks.

The camp at Pekin was named after the late Capt. Rielly, who was killed at the taking of that city, and Liscum barracks after our late Colonel who was shot at the assault of Tien Sien.

We have the best quarters, which are Chinese houses, while the men at Pekin live in tents. These Chinese houses are very warm. The government has furnished us with little Globe stoves, which replaced the Chinese fire-places. The fuel that they use in these fire-places is mostly corn-stalks. The windows do not have any glass in them oil paper is used instead.

Every house that I have seen so far in China has a wall around it, in fact everything from a chicken coop up, has to have a wall around it. You cannot blame them for it is easy to manufacture brick. All you have to do is to go out in the street and mix up some mud and let the sun dry it, in a day or two you will have a good solid brick.

All the powers have there quartermasters depot at this place. The Pieho river and the Imperial canal form a junction here. It is impassible for the Chinese junk which were employed by the various powers on the canal to Pekin. It is not wide enough for so much shipping. It was a common sight to see fifty to a hundred of the junks going both ways.

Each junk has ten Chinese coolies whose duty it was to push and pull these junks along when the wind did not blow. They hitch themselves up like they do a mule on the canal in the States. The U. S. government gives each Coolie a tag. If they lose this they will not receive their ten cents per day. The one that gets the tag with No. 1 is considered the boss. All he does is to sit on the boat and smoke his long stemmed pipe, the bowl of which will only hold a half a thimble-full of tobacco. He lights up every five minutes with matches, if he can get them; if not he will use his steel and flint.

Steal! These people will resort to all kind of tricks to get things away. The penalty is, if caught, to get their cue cut off.

These people are not strong in their arms. But they can walk off with an immense load, if put on their backs. I have seen them walk off with 400 pound ox on their back with ease.

Their food consists of vegetables and dog meat of which they are great lovers. When our men go out in the country they shoot dogs just to see the Chinks (as the soldiers call them) fight for their dead bodies. For they all like dog meat, which is a great delicacy.

The women are hard to distinguish from the men, as their clothes are almost the same. They wear no dresses, but a kind of a bloomer and waist. Their small feet and the way they walk, or hobble, gives them away. Otherwise it is impossible to tell them apart.

This country is covered with vegetable gardens and corn fields. There are very few trees. At this time of the year everything looks like a desert.

The weather is very cold. But is so dry that you do not mind it as much as you would in the States at the same temperature.

At Xmas all the Germans received a big cake for a present. We did not have any presents but had a big dinner. At least the men in the Army considered it a big meal. It was as follows: Roast chicken and gravy, mashed potatoes, liver, pudding, bread and cocoa, California peaches and chocolate cake. Each man received one-half a chicken.

We have a reading room that the Y. M. C. A. people have started for us.

We are just reading the latest papers dated two months back. There is some talk of the 9th going back to the Philippines.

This letter may not be very interesting but trust you will favor me with an early reply. The men are always glad to receive mail, and all letters will be promptly answered that are directed to the following address.

I remain respectfully yours,
Pri. Lewis S. Legg,
Co. I, 9th Inf.,

Children's Corner.

The Son of His Father.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who is a tabloid edition of his distinguished father, wandered over the state, war and navy building today to see how things were running.

The first object of interest that struck his eye was the beautiful model of the cruiser Brooklyn. Down to the smallest detail it is a perfect pattern of the warship and it struck Teddy as immense.

"Ge whiz," he exclaimed, "I'd like to own that."

"Why don't you ask Secretary Long for it?" asked a bystander.

'Oh! go on, he wouldn't give it to me," replied the youngster.

"He might lend it to you," he was told. That seemed to strike Teddy as possible. "By jove I'll try him," he exclaimed. He bolted into the secretary's office without the formality of an introduction—but then the two are good friends.

"We're going back to Oyster Bay Wednesday, Mr. Long," he began, "and there is a bully pond up there for sailing ships. Won't you let me have that Brooklyn for a couple of days? There's a fellow up there just my age who can put clock works in it and make her go just like the real thing. I won't hurt it at all; and say, Mr. Long, Ill' knock the eye out of anything that's been in that pond. I might sail it on the bay, too, but I will promise not to do it, because it might be blown too far out. I'll send it back all right.

Secretary Long's breath was almost taken away by the audacity of the request, but placing his hand on young Teddy's head, he said:

"That boat cost just $3,000 and doesn't belong to me, so I'll have to refuse you. But make the president appoint you to Annapolis some time, and after a while you may command the real Brooklyn and sail her on a real sea."

Teddy was silent for a moment, and then heaved a sigh.

"It's such a long time to wait," he said.—Philadelphia North American.

IS TOLD OF HIS DOOM

Storti Shocked by News That He Must Die

LAST WORDS TO THE PUBLIC

He Says That If Witnesses Had Told the Truth He Would Have Been Acquitted, as He Killed Calluccl In Self-Defense—Pardons His Enemies

Boston, April 5.—Luigi Storti was yesterday told that he was doomed, and that the final effort to save him from the electric chair had failed. The news was broken as gently as possible, but it was a severe shock to him, just the same. Now he lies in his cell moaning and crying.

Governor Crane leaves tomorrow for his home in Dalton, and will not return until Tuesday next, or afterwards, by which time Storti will have been electrocuted.

In a statement given to the press Storti says:

"I wish to inform the public through the press of the doleful pains I am suffering. I must meet a death which I do not deserve. I wanted to confess my crime just at it happened, but Mr. —— told me it was not necessary to do so. He also promised that I would be liberated and would not suffer for the crime I committed."

Storti goes on to say that had Vincenzo Bucilli not appeared and given his testimony he would have been condemned to to death, and that if other witnesses had told the truth, which, he says, they feared to tell, he would have gone free, as he killed the man in self-defense.

In concluding his statement, Storti says: "As I am about to leave this world and must meet the supreme judge, it is my wish to let the public know that I killed the man in self-defense. If I have ever offended anybody in this world I sincerely beg his pardon, and I pardon those who have injured me, as Christ, before being crucified, pardoned all those who injured him.

"I wish to thank Father Ubaldus and Father Anderson, and the prison authorities for their kindness towards me, especially Fathers Ubaldus and Leonardo, who labored untiringly in my behalf.

"Hoping that the public will be informed of the true facts of the crime for which I am judged guilty, I bid you all good-bye, to meet again in heaven."

Had Long Been Undisturbed

Chicago, April 5.—Bonds having a paper value in excess of $1,000,000 were found yesterday in the vault of the office of the city comptroller, by members of an accounting firm which is engaged in some expert work on the books of the city of Chicago. The bonds were issued in 1873 by the Chicago and Great Western Railway company. President Walsh of the Chicago National bank said last night that the bonds were worthless. "The road never amounted to anything," he said, "it never was anything but a balloon scheme and the securities were, in all probability, turned over to the city to make good the shortage of City Treasurer Gage, who defaulted early in the 70s.

Surfman Was Not In Error

Washington, April 5.—General Superintendent Kimball of the United States life saving station has received the report of the commission appointed to investigate the alleged failure of Mark Ellingsen, a surfman, to report the distress signals from the City of Rio de Janeiro, which foundered off San Francisco bay Feb. 22 last. Ellingsen was suspended from duty and an investigation ordered. The report completely exonerates Ellingsen and orders have been issued restoring him to duty.

Bradley Martin Ordered to Settle

New York, April 5.—The appellate division of the supreme court yesterday handed down a decision affirming an order by Justice Andrews to compel Bradley Martin to pay taxes in this city. His personal property has been assessed in the sum of $200,000 for the year 1899. Bradley Martin claimed to have ceased to have a residence in this city, and to have acquired a residence in Scotland prior to Jan. 1, 1899.

France Crowding British Interests

London, April 5.—The Times has received the following from its correspondent in Wellington, New Zealand: "France, after establishing a naval station in the Pacific and increasing her warships to five within a few weeks, is now engaged in strengthening her land defenses. This action is regarded as menacing British interests in the south Pacific."

English Company Supplies Boers

Berlin, April 5.—H. Von Schierstaedt, a former combatant on the Boer side, has sent to The Local Anzeiger the wrapper of a package of cartridges such as the Boers have used in thousands, the imprint of which shows that the package came from the Kynoch company of Birmingham, Eng., for German Mausers.

Insist on Permanent Agreement

Springfield, Ills., April 5.—Only two mines in the Springfield sub-district are in operation, and by tomorrow it is not likely that any of the miners will be at work. The miners state positively that they will not return to work until a permanent agreement for the coming year has been reached.

Old Confederate Gone

Anniston, Ala., April 5.—General George T. (Tige) Anderson, the famous Confederate brigade commander and a veteran of the Mexican war, died here yesterday, aged 77. He served under Longstreet in the Virginia campaign.

FOUGHT WITH REVOLVERS

How Two Oklahoma Women Settled a Feud of Long Standing

Chicago, April 5.—A special to The Record-Herald from Newkirk, Okla., says: Mrs. Ella Zeiglin and Mrs. Daughson, living near this city, fought a duel with revolvers at 20 paces yesterday and Mrs. Zeiglin was shot twice in the breast, and is now in a hospital dangerously wounded.

The duel grew out of a long standing feud between the women, jealousy being the original cause. Mrs. Daughson lives on a farm just north of the city and Mrs. Zeiglin has frequently endeavored to arouse the temper of her neighbor by various means, the most effectual being the claim that she (Mrs. Zeiglin) could take Mrs. Daughson's husband away from his wife any time she wished.

Mrs. Daughton finally appealed to the courts and Mrs. Zeiglin was fined $300 for trespassing upon the Daughson property and inciting trouble. As soon as she paid the fine, Mrs. Zeiglin drove out to the Daughson home, smarting under the loss of money and the criticism of the trial judge. Riding up to the door of the Daughson house, she invited her rival to come out and fight a duel.

Mrs. Daughson promptly accepted the challenge, and came out armed with a revolver. The women faced each other at 50 feet, and began shooting, the signal being given by a daughter of Mrs. Zeiglin, who had accompanied her from town. Each fired three shots without effect. Then Mrs. Daughson got the range and fired two shots in quick succession, both striking Mrs. Zeiglin in the breast. She fell and Mrs. Daughson assisted in carrying her into the house, where a physician dressed her wounds, after which she was conveyed to a hospital.

Now the husbands of the women are seeking each other, vowing to kill on sight.

The Kaiser's Outpouring

Constantinople, April 5.—The Constantinople papers publish the text of a telegram sent by Emperor William to the sultan after the recent earthquakes in this city. "It is with deep emotion," said the emperor, "that I have just learned what danger your majesty was in at the time of the feast of Bairam, and how manifestly God has protected your majesty's precious life. In offering my sincere congratulations on your majesty's escape from danger, I cannot conceal my admiration for the attitude your majesty observed and the example of bravery given by your majesty to your subjects and to the foreigners present. I pray the Lord to continue to hold your majesty in his gracious and holy keeping."

A Corner In Peanuts

New York, April 5.—It is announced that a firm in Hoboken, N. J., has cornered the peanut market, having purchased all the nuts in the Chicago, Boston and New York markets, as well as having secured this week 125 carloads from Norfolk. There has been an advance in price from 70 to 90 cents a bushel lately.

Ex-State Senator Goes Wrong

New York, April 5.—Alonzo Whiteman, formerly a member of the state senate of Minnesota, was yesterday convicted of grand larceny in the court of general sessions. He was convicted of passing a forged check for $100 on Feb. 19 last.

Lehmann to Leave Editor's Chair

London, April 5.—The Daily Express says it understands that Rudolph C. Lehmann, who recently became editor of The Daily News, will resign in favor of Henry W. Massingham, retaining, however, his large financial interest in the paper.

Big Combination at Montreal

Montreal, April 5.—The Montreal Heat, Light and Power company was formally organized yesterday, with a capital stock of $17,000,000. This concern will control practically all the gas, electric light and power plants in this city.

Brought 7000 Bales of Tobacco

New York, April 5.—Steamer Mexico, which arrived last night from Havana, brought the largest cargo of tobacco ever shipped from the port of Havana, having on board over 7000 bales.

BRONCHITIS

may mean a mere cold or a chronic incurable inflammation of wind-pipes.

The quickest relief, for a cold, is also the most effectual balm for the worst condition of wind-pipes and lungs.

It takes the edge off a cold in a night, and relieves it progressively—one forgets it after a little.

An old bronchitis, however, is obstinate. Nothing restores the tissues, when once destroyed; and an old bronchitis has gradually impared and partly destroyed the lining of those small pipes between throat and lungs.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the balm; it sooths if it cannot restore.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

CONTRACTORS RECEDE

Regarding Right to Change the Price of Milk

UNION WINS FIRST ROUND

But Deadlock Over Straight Price and Surplus Remains Unbroken — Producers Urged to Hold Back Their Milk Until Controversy Is Settled

Boston, April 5.—The net result of yesterday's conference between the representatives of the New England Producers' union and the contractors, may be set down as a victory for the producers, inasmuch as the contractors, through their spokesman, George O. Whiting, agreed to take from the card the present clause reserving to the contractors the right to change the price of milk at any time, and to insert the clause which the producers favor, providing that the price shall be changed only by agreement of the two parties. This removes one of the chief objections to the present agreement, and is a reversal of the position previously taken by Mr. Whiting.

The deadlock over the questions of a straight price and surplus, however, could not be broken. The contractors were firm in their declarations that the system could not be changed at the present time, while the union's representatives suggested various plans in a vain effort to find some one that could be agreed upon. Mr. Whiting said the contractors were willing to consider a straight price plan, to go into effect next fall, but at the present time, in justice to the contractors and to the farmers who are living up to the present system, the contractors would not consent to a change.

Mr. Scammon, on behalf of the producers, suggested that the latter would take the present surplus and subtract 1.9 cents, or the average surplus, and accept 31.1 cents, last year's net price, as a straight price. They would go farther and let the contractors limit each man to his last year's production. This suggestion was met by the arguments already stated, and was not accepted.

After having devoted several hours to the discussion of the surplus and straight price clause, without any prospect of an agreement, the meeting adjourned until today.

Last evening there was a large number of callers at President Ward's headquarters at the American House, where the situation was informally discussed by members of the union. It was said by some of those present that the contractors had very good reasons for wishing to have the surplus clause retained, as they, in fact, made more money out of the surplus clause than out of their other milk. Not only can this milk itself be sold, but the whey can be made into sugar of milk, which is very much in demand, and the curds can be made into cheese, and by a new process can be worked into a material similar to celluloid, so that a can of milk that costs them 31 cents brings a return to them of about 55 cents.

President Ward last night gave out the following, addressed to the milk producers of New England: "Hold your milk. Now is the time for the producers of milk to hold stronger than ever. I consider every producer of milk for the Boston market a member of the union, and I ask all to stand together in this controversy."

Two Killed In a Tunnel

Brunswick, Md., April 5.—The dead bodies of two men were found along the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in the Williams Point tunnel yesterday. On the body of one was found a deposit book of the Union Institution of Savings, Boston, bearing the name of Joseph Ryan, and on the body of the other a deposit book of the same institution, bearing the name of Kenneth H. Cobb.

Preacher, Soldier and Poet

Marshall, Mich., April 5.—Rev. Dr. George F. Huntington, one of the best known Presbyterian ministers in the country, died at his home here yesterday, of paralysis, after two years of failing health. He was formerly president of Alma college. Dr. Huntington was prominent as a G. A. R. man and Knight Templar, and had considerable fame as a poet.

Kaiser's Bodyguard With Lances

Berlin, April 5.—The members of the emperor's bodyguard, besides special corps of bicyclists who relieve each other, are now armed with lances when accompanying his majesty on horseback. The Vossiche Zeitung demands to know what justifies the kaiser in showing such a fear of the people. It compares his precautions with those taken by the czar.

Passenger Struck Coal Train

New York, April 5.—A passenger train from Newark to Perth Amboy, N. J., collided last night with a coal train which moved out from a siding to the main track as the passenger train came up. Fireman Cronin was killed and Engineer Mahoney seriously injured. The cars of the passenger train were derailed and the passengers severely shaken up.

Got Away With Big Stealings

New York, April 5.—Charles L. Roller, arrested about two weks ago in Los Angeles, was brought back to Newark, N. J., last night. Roller is accused of obtaining nearly $100,000 on forged notes and endorsements. He was a real estate dealer.

Holy Procession Prohibited

RESURRECTION.

Trust gives sweet peace to every living thing;
The wavering robin that in space has flown
Finds its safe nest; the germ of roses sown
Waits, sure in darkness, for the touch of spring;

The tendrils of the ivy blindly cling,
Stretching their brown threads toward the wall unknown,
To find a place secure, where, spite the moan
Of rushing winds, they hang till soft airs sing.

We who love life fear most the mystic death,
Yet we in death the selfsame life shall live,—
This very life we know,—but glorified;
And the fair temple which now holds our breath
Shall simply take the glory seraphs give,— Renew its joys, and say, "I have not died!"

POVERTY.

If four blank walls be mine, and every wind
That goes careening through the vasts of sky
Makes free with my shrunk casement, and my hearth
Shows but a feeble flame, and the rough floor
Has but the dust for carpet, am I poor?
Nay, I am very Cræsus, that, and more!
For no swart Mede can rob me of the dreams
Wherewith I hang a rapt Madonna there,
A face Murillo painted, drape rich folds
Of gold shot damask round yon oriel
And heap about me rugs of velvet pile
Deft wrought upon the looms of Kermanshah!
Poor! Is he poor who has God's gift of dreams?

The Prosecution Of Mrs. Dullet

I was on a visit to my friend Dave at his mountain home and was standing one day in the courtyard at Lexby, the county town, discussing the possibilities of his re-election to the position of commonwealth's attorney when down the street came at a long gallop an old fellow mounted on a thin, ewe necked sorrel colt whose long rusty tail whipped between his legs at every jump. Up to the courtyard gate he clattered and, dismounting, flung the rein over the post in utter disregard of the large printed notice posted on it that no horses were to be hitched there. Through the turnstile and up the walk he came swinging.

"I believe that's old Dullet from Jacksborough," said Dave. "He's a man of influence up there and dead against me—always is. I wonder what he wants?"

He had not long to wait, for the old fellow strode up to a group and said, "Whar's the commonwealth's attorney?"

"I am the man," said Dave. "What can I do for you, Mr. Dullet?"

"I wants you to put my wife in the pen'tentiary," he said.

"What!" exclaimed Dave; then recovered himself. "What do you want that for?"

"She's forged my name, and she's got to go to the pen'tentiary," said he.

"Well, tell me about it," said Dave, seeing the gravity of the situation, and, turning, he led the way into his office and offered chairs.

"Well, it's this way: My oldest gal Sairy is been a-wantin to marry a feller named Torm Hackle for gwine on two years, and I wouldn't let her."

"Why?" said Dave in a professional tone, drawing a pen and paper toward him.

"'Cause Torm's on t'other side," said Dullet.

"Oh!" said Dave, writing down something. "Go on."

"Well, I wouldn't let Torm come over on our side. I sont him word ef he did to look out. And Sairy she got kind of sick and peaked, and my old woman she wanted me to do it then, and I wouldn't, 'cause I had to sign the dockiment. Then she got kinder worser, and my wife she wanted me to go for the doctor. So day before yistiddy I went down for the doctor, and he said he'd come today, and I staid at Jim Miggins' store all night and yistiddy a-waitin for him, and when I got home last night my wife she said, 'Whar's the doctor?' And I said: 'He's a-comin. How's Sairy?' And she said: 'She's done got well. She's got all the doctor she wanted. She's done married Torm Hackle.' 'How did she done it,' sys I, 'and I ain't signed the license?' says I. 'I signed your name for it,' says she. And I said, 'You has done commit a pen'tentiary offense, and I kin put you in the pen'tentiary for it,' says I. And she bet me a dollar she hadn't and I couldn't. And I says, 'I bet you $2 I kin, and I will,' says I. And now I are gwine to do it. I kin do it, can't I?"

Dave reflected, while the old mountaineer sat still, perfectly passive.

"Well," he said slowly, "there are not a great many precedents." The old fellow's face hardened. "But, of course," he added, "forgery is a very serious thing, and, ah!" The old fellow's eye was upon him. "How long have you been married?" he asked.

"Twenty year come next month."

Dave wrote it down.

"Wife always been good wife to you?"

"Ain't got no fault to find wid her till now, when she forged my name an'"—

"Ever have any trouble with her?"

"Never at all, 'cept, of course, fights like all married folks has."

Dave wrote it down.

"Industrious?"

"Got no fault to find wid her about dat."

"Help you save what you got?"

"Ain't a hard workiner, saviner 'ooman on the mountain."

"How many children she got?"

"Nine—eight livin. I don't count that one."

"How many dead?"

"Four."

Dave wrote laboriously.

"Wife good to 'em?"

"Jes' as good as could be. Nursed 'em faithful."

"Sit up with 'em when they were sick?"

"Never went to bed at all; never took her clothes off."

"Go hard with her?"

"Went mighty hard, specially when Johnny died. He was named after me."

Dave wrote silently.

"Go hard with you?"

"Right sort of hard."

"Sort of lonesome after that?"

"Mighty lonesome."

"How old your youngest one now?"

"Gwine on 3; that's Billy."

"Fond of his mother?"

"Can't bear her out of his sight."

"Fond of you?"

"Sort of—right smart."

"Say Sairy was your oldest?"

"Yes."

"Thought right smart of her when you didn't have any others, just at first, I reckon?"

"Umh. Might 'a' done; don't remember."

"Wife did, anyhow?"

"Yes; always fool 'bout her. Oldest—see?"

"She was young and fresh then?"

"Yes; likeliest woman on the mountain."

"Bet she was! Used to have good time sitting up to her, going to see her summer evenings, walking through the woods?"

"Yes, sir; did that."

"She thought more of first baby than you. She had more trouble with her than you—when she was a baby, I mean?"

"Oh, yes; guess she did."

"Carried her round in her arms, nursed her when she was sick and made her little frocks for her?"

"Yes."

"As she did Johnny's?"

"Yes."

"And does little Billy's?"

"Yes. She's made Billy a little pair of breeches."

"With pockets in them?"

"Yes; two."

Dave laid down his pen, opened the code and read a little to himself. "Well, I can put her in the penitentiary for you," he said. "'Not less than one nor more than ten years,'" he read.

Dullet sat forward a little.

"How old is your wife?"

"'Bout 50 year."

"I'll draw the indictment. Let me see, the grand jury will meet when? Then the jury?" He was talking to himself, with his eyes turned up to the ceiling. "There might be some of those Hackles on the jury. Umh, that would be bad." Dullet twisted around in his chair. "They'd send her on for the full time, though—ten years. That would be good."

Dullet leaned forward. "Are them Hackles obleeged to be on that jury?" he asked.

"No," said Dave; "not at all. Only they may be on there, that's all." He lifted his eyes again to the ceiling. "That might be all the better. They'd of course be pretty rough on her. Ten years. She'd be about 60 when she came out. Umh! They'd have worked her pretty hard. Let me see. I suppose they'd put her with the thieves, dress her in stripes and maybe whip her." Dullet started to give an exclamation, but stopped to listen. "I suppose little Billy would be sorry at night at first, but he'd get used to it, or he might go down to see her once a year or so for a few minutes in his breeches if she lived. He'd miss her some. If she died, she'd go to Johnny. Well, the Hackles wouldn't be sorry. Yes, I can do it, I think," he said, bringing his eyes down on Dullet's face and speaking positively.

Dullet rose with a jump. "Look a-here, Mr.—Mr.—What's your name?" he said. "I'll just be durned ef any of them Hackles kin put my wife in the penitentiary, and ef anybody thinks they kin let 'em try it!"

Dave looked at him calmly. "I agree with you," he said, "and I'll help you."

There was a pause, in which Dullet was reflecting. Then he asked, "What would you advise me to do?"

"I don't advise you to do anything," said Dave, "but I know what I'd do if I was in your place."

"What?"

"I'd go home and send for Sairy to come over to dinner next Sunday and tell her to bring that fellow with her—he's more Dullet now than he is Hackle, and every time my wife got uppish I'd tell her I could have put her in the penitentiary for ten years, but I was too good to her to do it."

Dullet reflected and then said: "I'll do it. What does I owe to you?"

"A good deal," said Dave, "but I want you to present it to Mrs. Dullet for me."

"Well"— He walked to the door, paused and then said slowly, "Th' nex' time you runs for anything, Jacksborough is a-gwine to vote for you." He went out.

Dave was re-elected.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Basque Funeral Customs.

Among the Basques funeral festivities were kept up not only after the funeral, but also for eight days more, and on New Year's day, when they were repeated. In their case this was a purely religious ceremonial observance, even if it originated in pagan days. For religion has entered into and still pervades the funeral rites of the Basques to a degree now hardly conceivable. The deceased who was the head of the family, probably belonging to the third religious order, was usually buried in the appropriate dress of the order. The funeral was presided over by the serore, who was a sort of nun. This probably, as O'Shea says, came down from the time when women held high ecclesiastical positions among the Basques.

The very feasts were relics of days when an offering of meat, bread and wine was wont to be taken into the church or churchyard not only at the funeral, but every day for two years afterward, for the supposed benefit of the deceased, but really for that of the clergy.

Up to 1766 in Guipuzcoa on the occasion of a funeral an ox was taken to the church door and then killed and subsequently eaten, a survival, of course, of pagan sacrifices in primitive times. In whatever way the habit of taking the deceased to the church on an open bier arose, there can be no question that the fire lighted at the nearest crossroads and the obligatory pater a l'intention du defunt are of deeply religious origin and both in deed and in truth appeal to each neighbor to pray for the soul of a departed brother.—Gentleman's Magazine.

EASTER EGGS.

They Date Back to Ancient Times. How to Decorate Them.

All the traditions connected with the Easter egg, its decoration, cooking and eating, are, of course, decidedly old world, and yet there is some myth among the legends of the Inca Indians which tells of a magic egg and how it may be found in some mysterious spot, and of its wonderful power. Whether or not this is one of the superstitions of the far east which Manco Capac brought with him from the other side of the Pacific is altogether unknown, but certain it is that in Asia, Africa and Europe feasts were kept in most ancient times when the egg played a prominent part. The Jews used eggs in their feast of the Passover long before the coming of Christ. In Persia colored eggs are presented at the celebration of the solar New Year's, an extremely ancient custom with this people.

From Germany comes the singular connection of a rabbit with the Easter eggs. It is believed that this little animal steals into the house when all is quiet and hides a store of pretty eggs in most impossible places, giving the children, who must search for them, a great deal of trouble and excitement in finding them. The house mother prepares by procuring a quantity of eggs and colors them herself by wrapping them in colored calicoes, some plain and some figured.

To the country boy or girl of America Easter or "Paas," in rural vernacular, resolves itself first and foremost into a contest to see who can accumulate the greatest store of eggs, and, secondly, who can eat the most. For weeks before Easter the hens are the recipients of marked and unremitted attention. Their daily habits are closely scrutinized, and the "cut-cut-cut-ca-da-cut!" that announces a new contribution to the food supply of the country is the signal for a rush on the part of the children to obtain the coveted treasure.

Each child has long before this selected a hiding place in the fragrant haymow, and thither in secrecy the lucky finder bears each new addition. Then when Easter morning dawns the hoarded contents are all brought forth, and proud indeed is the lucky boy or girl whose "Paas" outnumbers his fellow's. Then the Easter breakfast! Boiled or fried, with juicy, pinky ham, egg after egg disappears until "the wonder grows how one small" stomach can hold the wealth of eggs committed to its care. At Sunday school Easter Sunday in all the hamlets of the state the story of the resurrection, it is safe to say, will be overshadowed in many a small boy's mind by the more present question, "How many eggs did you have for 'Paas?'"

In the simpler forms the eggs are swiftly colored in rainbow hues with aniline dyes, then daintily etched with a sharp pointed knife, or they are coated with metallic paints, or they are frosted with diamond dust. For decorating by whatever method the eggs are either hard boiled or the contents are blown out by means of a tiny hole at either end and the eggs are then finished with narrow ribbons for a hanging.

An exquisite greeting is this bit of nature's porcelain when transformed into a vase and filled with violets. The support for the vase is made of three pieces of bronzed wire, each three inches long, twisted together in the form of a tripod.

To make a vase, carefully break off the smaller end of the shell. Leave the edges jagged and gild them heavily. Decorate the outer shell with tiny sprigs of blue flowers in oil. A dainty bit of white and blue china is the result.

By tinting the shell a delicate yellow, gilding the jagged edges of the opening and then adding light designs in red and gold lines the vase is suggestive of royal Worcester.

A great variety of vases can be made. They should in every case be filled with dainty spring flowers.

Prior to the application of paints to the shell it must be well washed, thoroughly dried and rubbed with benzine. After this treatment there is no more difficulty in painting on eggshells than on paper.

Prettily decorated eggs nestling in the fragrant depths of flowers or in a nest of fresh grass breathe of glad springtime.

A quaint wooden shoe, gilded and supplied with white satin ribbons for carrying, may be filled with smilax, posies and eggs.

A large straw hat with ribbon handles in pale and deep green lined with sweet grass is a dainty nest for colored eggs. Eggs decorated with comic faces are much appreciated by the children.—New York Tribune.

The Dyeing of the Eggs.

'Tis Easter mild,
And every child
Will agonize
With splashing dyes.
"Oh, mamma, I'm needing some crimson red!
I can get it all for a dime.
Oh, mamma, please do not shake your head!
You know it is Easter time.
And, ma, can I have the bottle of blue
That sits on the kitchen shelf?
I'll stand on a chair and won't bother you
And dye all the eggs myself."

Then, oh, for the white and yellow egg glaze
That plasters their curly hair,
And a sticky mass that lingers for days
Spread over the kitchen chairs!
No tattoo deep of the pirate main
Or the paint of the Zulu bands
Could ever hold their indelible stain
Like the dye on the children's hands.

MILK WAR WILL GO ON

Contractors Refused to Ratify a Dual Agreement

PRODUCERS DISAPPOINTED

Say That Farmers Who Have Been Neutral Will Now Join the Union's Ranks and That the Fight Will Be Waged Harder Than Ever

Boston, April 6.—The conference of the Milk Producers' union's officials with representatives of the contractors last night came to naught, as no agreement could be reached on the surplus clause. Moreover, the trouble is back to its first stage, as the contractors refused to confirm the price concession agreed to by Mr. Whiting yesterday, and which apparently gave the producers first blood in the battle. The terms of this agreement were not made public. President Ward of the producers says that the fight will now go along determinedly to the end. The conference began yesterday afternoon and was not ended until this morning.

The contractors on their part then submitted two propositions to the producers, through Mr. Scammon, which were in turn rejected, and as the controversy now stands it means a fight to the finish, with the producers more determined than ever to withhold their milk. The two propositions made by the contractors were: First, the present arrangement; second, the same as the first, excepting charge back for surplus milk will not exceed 2 cents a can on the average for six months in any zone. In case the surplus does not amount to 2 cents on the average for six months, the difference will be paid back pro rata per can in such zone as the surplus is less than 2 cents per can, reserving the right not to take an amount of milk from any producer in excess of last year.

It was the general feeing yesterday, when the conference of producers and contractors voted to leave the duty of drawing up a plan that would be agreeable to both sides to Messrs. Whiting and Scammon, that a decided step toward reconciliation had been taken, and when later in the day it was announced that the two gentlemen had agreed upon a basis of settlement it was felt that the question was as good as solved. Scammon had authority to act for the union, but any action that Whiting might take required the endorsement of his fellow contractors. For the purpose of discussing this dual agreement, the contractors held a secret conference, which lasted from late yesterday afternoon until early this morning, with the result before stated. The contractors will hold no more meetings to consider the matter unless new developments force them to such action.

The producers, while greatly disappointed that no amicable settlement could be reached, were very outspoken in their assertions that the fight against the contractors would now be waged harder than ever, and that the amount of milk now obtained by the contractors will be greatly curtailed by the accession to the union's ranks of farmers who have heretofore taken a neutral position.

President Ward, after the result of the contractors' meeting became known, gave out the following appeal:

"Producers: Still hold back your milk. Hold back another 1000 cans this morning."

President Ward also warns producers not to believe or take any stock in circulars or statements made by the contractors that the reports sent out from the union's headquarters are untrue, or that the efforts of the union had resulted in utter failure.

A Female College Escapade

Bowling Green, Ky., April 6.—Five young men were indicted by the grand jury yesterday for alleged participation in an escapade at Potter's college Saturday night, in which several young women attending the college were involved. It is charged that they placed a ladder under a window of the college and enticed the girls from the college, and that when Professor Cabell, president of the college, shot at them, they returned the fire, but without wounding him. The young men declare they intended to take the girls to a supper.

Mother Must Be Insane

Parkersburg, W. Va., Apri 6.—Held in the fire by its mother until its head was literally burned away and its body a mass of charred flesh, the year-old child of Mrs. Morris met an awful death yesterday. Mrs. Morris seemed contented and happy until a few days ago, when she began to evince a dislike for her youngest born. The woman is sullen, and will give no reason for what she has done, other than that she was weary of the care of her child, and thought it would be better dead.

Got Caught In Ice Pack

Halifax, April 6.—A dispatch from Meat Cove, C. B., light station, reports that the sealing steamer Hope is ashore on Bryon island, and likely to be a total loss. The steamer was caught in the ice pack a week ago, and was slowly carried toward the land. The crew were saved with difficulty. There were 5000 seals on board.

IN A BAD CONDITION

Murderer Storti Suffers From a Severe Hemorrhage in Prison

Boston, April 6.—Luigi Storti, the convicted murderer of Michele Calucci, who is confined in state prison here awaiting electrocution, had a serious hemorrhage last night, resulting from a violent fit of coughing. Dr. McLaughlin, the prison physician, was present at the time, but the prisoner's condition was so serious that an Italian physician was summoned from the city proper. The bleeding was finally stopped, and Storti is said to be all right now, unless a second hemorrhage ensues, in which case the consequences might be very grave.

Another statement by Storti has been made public by Professor Anzalone, who took if from the prisoner and who has translated it to be sent to the governor. This statement is somewhat like the one previously given out. It was signed on Thursday of last week before Storti's removal to the state prison. Professor Anzalone says that Storti laughed heartily when he had certain things written, calling people "donkeys" and other similar terms.

Peter S. Maher, Storti's counsel, who has not abandoned hope for a reprieve, says he thinks that Storti is demented. He thinks that if it can be shown to Governor Crane that Storti has tuberculosis and will die a natural death in a short time, the death penalty in the electric chair will be reprieved to imprisonment for life.

A Gigantic Railroad Scheme

New York, April 6.—Reports that huge railroad combinations are in process of formation were widely circulated here yesterday. Detailed statements concerning the plan already published looking to the combination of all the great railway systems of the United States under the control of one company were given, but as a general thing prominent railroad officials and bankers decline to discuss the matter. According to all accounts the enterprise involves the greatest combination of capital known in the history of finances.

For Accommodation of Navy

Washington, April 6.—Secretary Long has appointed a board of naval officers to inquire into the advisability of utilizing a large fresh water lake in the state of Washington, not far from the Pacific coast, for the purpose of accommodating vessels of war. It is proposed to dig a canal connecting the ocean with this lake, to be used for commercial purposes, but the board is to inquire whether the plan should not be enlarged so as to take into consideration the needs of the navy.

Compulsory Religious Instruction

Berlin, April 6.—The public schools of the province of Saxony have been acquainted with a new code of regulations under which hereafter a pupil must learn by heart 291 biblical verses and 193 verses of hymns, in addition to the catechism. The Vossische Zeitung says that this is the first important step, presumably, in carrying out the emperor's recent warning regarding the demoralization of the youth of the country, and the lack of religious training.

Phillips a Winner

Chicago, April 6.—George H. Phillips, the "corn king," is waging a merry war against the bears, and so far he is winning with ease. Despite fierce onslaughts by the bears, the price of corn has gone up steadily, and for a couple of days it has hovered around 42½ and 43 cents. The country traders and farmers have faith in Phillips, and have lost no opportunity to assure him that he has their support.

For Letter Carriers' Comfort

Washington, April 6.—An innovation looking to the comfort of letter carriers throughout the country during the heat of summer probably will be introduced this year by official permission to them to divest their coats on their rounds when it is felt to be necessary, modifying the requirements so as to allow the carriers to wear a suitable gray blouse, with turn-down collar and a black tie.

New Gun Does Its Work Well

Washington, April 6.—The first of the new type of 5-inch naval guns, for cruisers, was tested at the Indian Head proving grounds yesterday, with very satisfactory results. A projectile weighing 60 pounds was fired with a powder charge of 26 pounds. The muzzle energy is sufficient to pierce seven inches of Krupp armor at the muzzle and five inches of Krupp armor at 2000 yards.

Free Trade a Cure For Trusts

London, April 6.—The Daily Mail, in the course of an extended article on the American steel trust, says it can see no escape for the United States from the oppression of trusts, except in free trade. The operations of the trust, it says, may induce general tariff legislation by Europe, and will certainly consolidate the British iron and steel trades, which will give the trust a hard fight here.

Won't Have Dewey's Company

Boston, April 6.—Admiral Dewey has disappointed the Vermont association of Boston, for he has sent word that he cannot attend the banquet here on May 1, as he had planned. He assigns the effects of grip as the reason for its withdrawal.

CLAY'S DOMESTIC WOES

Have Brought About Another Shooting Affair

ATTEMPT TO SERVE A WRIT

Causes the Old General to Open Fire on a Sheriff and His Deputies—They Return the Compliment and Clay May Have Been Wounded

Lexington, Ky., General Cassius M. Clay, the famous abolitionist and duellist, and former United States minister to Russia, yesterday led his little bodyguard to battle against a sheriff's posse, which had gone to Whitehall, his palatial mansion in Madison county, to serve papers upon the general in a civil case, instituted against him by his daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Clay.

GENERAL CASSIUS M. CLAY.

Many shots were fired on each side, and the posse finally departed without accomplishing the purpose of its visit. It is reported that General Clay was wounded in the affray. Fleeing from his supposed enemies, he barricaded himself in his den in the mansion, and there remains, guarded by his faithful servants. Whether or not he is wounded is known only to himself and to his little bodyguard. No physician has been summoned to the house, and none dare approach, except on invitation.

Yesterday's conflict was directly connected with the domestic woes of General Clay, which have darkened the closing years of his life. The principals in the battle were General Clay and two of his bodyguard, Bud Literell and Jim Bolin, on one side, and Sheriff Colyer, Deputy Terrill and Frank Mason, on the other. The writ the sheriff sought to serve was one ordering the delivery of some furniture belonging to the general's daughter. The officers approached the house from the north, passing through the apple orchard. The general's Russian bulldogs set up a barking and the officers stopped at the yard. The general's bodyguard promptly came to the door, and the sheriff announced that he desired a personal interview with the master of Whitehall. General Clay in a few moments came to the door, revolver in hand.

"General Clay," said the sheriff, "we are here on a peaceful mission."

"You are on my property without leave, and I will shoot you," replied the old man, who, almost blind, strained his eyes as if trying to make out the location of the enemy.

"Don't shoot, general; we are friends," shouted Sheriff Colyer.

"Spies," he retorted, and handing his pistol to one of his men, he took instead a repeating shotgun, and cocked it.

Sheriff Colyer sought shelter behind a large oak tree nearby, and his deputies also hid themselves. All pulled their weapons. General Clay shrieked: "The vendetta, the vendetta," and began firing in the direction from which he heard the voices. The sheriff fired in return, after the general had emptied the weapon, and his deputies also fired.

After emptying his shotgun, General Clay tried his revolver, which would not fire. He then took from the hands of the other guard another rifle and discharged it in the direction of the frightened sheriff and deputies. Exhausting his ammunition, General Clay sought retreat. He went into his room, and, putting up the iron bars, ordered his men to adjust the pistols, which were three large navy weapons, always kept lying on a dresser. He armed himself with a large bowie knife and a butcher knife. Stationing himself by the side of the door he awaited further attack.

Sheriff Colyer says he will not bother General Clay today, but will wait until Monday before serving the papers.

Dozen Indictments Against Him

Newark, N. J., April 6.—Charles L. Poller, the young real estate operator, who fled from Newark several months ago, after fraudulently raising, it is alleged, about $100,000 on promisory notes, was arranged yesterday, and pleaded not guilty to a dozen indictments charging him with forgery and uttering forged notes. He was committed to jail in default of $10,000 bail.

Incurred Kaiser's Displeasure

Berlin, April 6.—Baron Egloffstein, hitherto Emperor William's court marshal, has resigned his position, and will be succeeded by Baron Trotha, the court chamberlain. The former retires in disgrace, because the kaiser attributed to him the communication to the press of several recent versions of his majesty's public utterances that are said to have been distorted.

A SCHOOL PARK.

Purchase of Butler's Pond by the City Favored.

The petition for the purchase of Butler's pond and surrounding land for park purposes is largely signed by taxpayers and prominent citizens in that vicinity. They have heard that the owner might allow the pond to be used as a dump for the Metropolitan sewer which will this year be constructed through Greenleaf street, and naturally object to the loss of this attractive spot. It is, in fact, about the only fresh water pond of any size in Quincy, and for this reason should be preserved.

In winter it is the resort of the skaters, and the owner has refused offers for the ice, because he did not wish to interfere with the pleasure of the young people.

In summer it is equally attractive for its cool breezes. A pond of water like this always adds to the charms of a neighborhood, and the value of real estate.

When the High school was located in this vicinity the city with considerable foresight purchased a large lot, but it will be none too large if all the additions suggested are made. One idea is to put Ls on each side running toward the rear and later to duplicate the present building directly in the rear. In this event the lot should extend to the pond.

At present the city is not giving much attention to the rear portion of the school lot and it is rather unsightly. With the purchase of the pond and a little of the surrounding land, and adding it to the school lot, the Quincy High would have a park which would be the envy of other cities.

The construction of a walk around the pond, and the erection of a few seats would make it a popular resort on a summer day or evening. Whether the young people would like the addition of a few electric lights, may be a doubtful question, but may be mentioned as improvements.

The idea to preserve this pond, forever to the people did not originate with the owner but he is willing to meet the people half way. No definite sum has been fixed as the value but it is said his price is only a normal one.

At present Ward One has no park or playground although all the other wards have at least one, and yet the centre of the city is the ward which needs a park if any ward does. It is said there is a balance in the city treasury now applicable to the purchase of playgrounds.

The petitioners are: George M. Rand, C. W. Guy, George B. Glover, A. G. Coffin, C. B. Tilton, W. G. Shaw, John O. Hall, Jr., Osborne Rogers, S. W. Fiske, Eben W. Sheppard, E. W. Baxter, William H. Fay, Warren W. Adams, Walter R. Fegan, William Edwards, Rupert F. Claflin, H. C. Halloweil, Horace F. Spear and Frank S. Patch.

—George A. Plympton of New York will give a library of Italian literature to Wellesley college as a memorial to his wife, Frances Taylor Plympton. The library, which is very complete contains the works of the principal authors of Italy, from Dante to the present time, chiefly in first editions, making this a very valuable gift.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS.

Now in Vogue at Fore River Works ---Big Pay Roll.

Without doubt the busiest place in Quincy is at the plant of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. A large gang of men is already at work but nothing to the number that will be employed as soon as active work is commenced on the two battleships. Applications for work are coming in almost by the hundreds and many are put to work. Those that prove their worth or show that they have ability are retained and given permanent employment. Some of these men are useless, however, and a few days' work develops the fact that they were the class looking for soft snaps. These are given an opportunity to look elsewhere.

Frequent trial trips are made by the torpedo-boat destroyer Lawrence, and she is showing her builders that she has all the speed desired. The crew are being well trained and when the official trial trip is held a few weeks hence, those who are aboard will experience the sensation of flying through the water at steam railroad gait.

Work putting the finishing touches on the McDonough is progressing. Just when she will have her first builders trial is undecided. There is no question but what she will develope as much speed as the Lawrence.

Work has been commenced excavating for the keels of the two battleships. A building will be erected over the two ships which are to be built under cover. The building will have a span of 150 feet. A travelling crane, to be operated by electricity will also be built over each vessel. This will enable the easy handling of the heavy materials used in the construction of the vessels.

A large swinging crane will be built on the pier.

Two large buildings are being erected, one to be used as a pattern storage house, and the other as an electrician and carpenter's shop.

The plates on the cruisers Des Moines are being rapidly put into place and are now fully two-thirds of the way up.

George W. Davenport, vice president of the Eastern Auditing Co. of Boston, has been appointed treasurer of the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. His office will be at the works. Weekly payments are in force here and thousands of dollars are paid out every week. Many hardly realize what a benefit this industry is to Quincy. Not much has been asked by them of the City Council, but they should be given every possible encouragment.

Taken to Dedham.

James A. Holbrook, the prisoner who was taken from the court room, Thursday, to the City Hospital suffering from a fit was removed yesterday to Dedham jail. He was taken in a carriage and was accompanied by two officers. He had another attack on the way over, but the two officers were able to quiet him. He was placed in the jail hospital.

Alarm at 2 A. M.

The alarm from Box 74 at 2 o'clock this morning was for a fire in the greenhouse of Danforth Arnold on Arnold street. The fire is supposed to have started from the heater. The loss on the building was about $300.

☞We take pleasure in announcing to our readers that an interesting performance will be given the public of Quincy, next Friday evening, April 12, when the under-studies of the Castle Square will give a new version of "Ten Nights in a Bar-room"; with specialties between the acts, at Quincy Music hall. —By the will of the late Franklin H. Bishop of Russell, Mass., the state of Massachusetts is made his residuary legatee. The will reads: "As I have no relatives on whom I care to bestow my goods and estates, after the payment of my just debts and funeral expenses, I give all the residue of my estate to the commonwealth of Massachusetts to its sole use and behoof forever. The executor says that when the estate is settled the commonwealth will reivece about $7,000. Mr. Bishop was a prominent citizen of Russell and an ardent admirer of his state.

Colonial Theatre.

People in New England who want to see the great Klaw & Erlanger production of "Ben Hur," at the Colonial Theatre in Boston must secure their seats at once for the closing performances are now announced.

Positively the last performance in Boston and in New England will be that of Saturday evening April 20. There will be no changing of this date for on Monday April 22 comes Annie Russell in "A Royal Family," "Ben Hur" begins an engagement at the Columbia Theatre in Brooklyn April 22 and will be played several weeks until the warm weather. The next season it will be played in Chicago with three other companies, one at the Drury Lane Theatre in London, one in Paris and one in Berlin, with the probability of another in Australia. "Ben Hur" will be seen nowhere else in New England at any time than at the Colonial Theatre in Boston and only during the next three weeks. These facts are of sufficient import to all those who intend to witness this great dramatization of a great book. The curtain is raised at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7.45 o'clock at night on the beautiful tableau of the appearance of the Star of Bethlehem to the wise men in the desert.

Keith's Theatre.

The principal attraction announced at Keith's for the week of April 8 is the long delayed revival of the popular songsheet novelty. There will be 50 voices in the chorus, Belle Davis will be soloist, assisted by her amusing pickaninny, and the excellent new orchestra will be sure to give it a swing such as was unknown when it was last heard at this playhouse. Among the principal entertainers scheduled to take part in the programme are: Hilda Thomas, probably the best liked soubrette in vaudeville; Charles Dickson, the well-known light comedian, assisted by Nell McEwen, presenting a new comedy sketch entitled "The Lady and the Bath; Janet Melville and Evie Stetson, singing comediennes, and likewise two of the best dressed women on the stage; James and Rose Finney, who will give marvelous natatorial exhibitions in a glass tank. It is worthy of note that the new and complete orchestra, which became a permanent feature of Keith's this week, has added immeasurably to the pleasure of the delightful entertainment, for which this theatre is noted.

AT HOME AND ABROAD

Mr. Thomas Raleigh Reads a Paper on the Scotch.

It is characteristic of the people of all nations to look upon themselves as the equals, if not the superiors, of all other nationalities.

Mr. Thomas Raleigh before the City Band Literary society on Thursday evening testified to that fact, by claiming for the Scotch the enviable position of being the most brainy, honest, and otherwise most excellent people on earth.

The essayist in a well written paper, reviewed the history of the Scotch in the various walks of life and noted, that in the past Scotchmen had easily held their own in all departments. That in proportion to population no other people had contribued so large a number of leading men to the pulpit, the bench, literature, science, statecraft, etc. Mr. Raleigh cited a host of names in support of his statements.

At home, the Scot is undoubtedly cautious, and perhaps slow; but with him these are virtues which he considers would be sacrilege to discard, "better slow and sure than speed with sorrow" is a Scotch proverb worthy of consideration.

The Scot loves peace and he also loves war when that is neccessary, and not in all the world have more valiant warriors marched to the line of combat than have the kilted sons of Scotland.

The Scot is to be found in every land and thrives in every clime. He is tenacious and persevering, though not haughty nor domineering. His high purpose and generally good conduct gains for him, the respect of his neighbors and his presence at public functions is invariably for good.

Scotchmen ardently love their country, and cling to the manners and customs of their native home with a love that is only swayed by circumstances which are considered necessary and proper. They easily adapt themselves to new surroundings and readily assimilate with those whom they consider worthy.

The Scotch have been considered lacking in humor, but Mr. Raleigh easily disposed of this contention by the number of laugh provoking stories he worked into his paper, all of which proved that the Scots are among the most humorous of men.

There are bad Scotchmen too; and as one speaker remarked their degree of badnesss has sometimes to be qualified by a high-sounding adjective.

On the whole, however, it was contended by Mr. Raleigh and those who spoke on the subject by way of criticism that the Scot compared favorably with any other race the world over; and with his faults he is today a power and an influence for good wherever he may be found.

The paper was the last of the sylabus and closes the literary work of the society until the first week of October.

After the paper the company enjoyed a short musical and social.

Next Thursday evening the society will meet to make arrangements for the coming fall session when it hopes to introduce new features and render the meetings more helpful and attractive to all who may desire to attend.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of Jeremiah Sullivan for non support, was called and complaint was dismissed.

Boston Museum.

Handsome costumes and beautiful scenery, catchy music and clever people will mark the engagement of the big Klaw & Erlanger opera "Foxy Quiller" at the Boston Museum, April 15th. "Foxy Quiller" seems like a lifeline thrown out at the close of a century and the birth of a new one to rescue legitimate and clean comic opera from the depths into which it has fallen. One can advise one's friends to go and hear "Foxy Quiller" without fear for their morals. Jerome Sykes is tuneful and mirthful, and his natural ebullience lends the pleasantest aspect to the opera. The chorus is large and, under Sig. DeNovellis and Ben Teal, is a joy to the eye and ear. It is truly a comic opera success.

INTENTIONS OF RUSSIA

Outlined In a Communication to the United States

TO RETIRE FROM MANCHURIA

As Rapidly as Safety Will Permit—Favorable Impression Created by Czar's Aspirations For Peace—Triumph of American Diplomacy

Washington, April 6.—A document which has created a profoundly favorable impression at the state department, and is looked upon as the most salutary development that has occurred for many months in the eastern situation, has been received by the United States government from the Russian government. It bears on conditions in China, and particularly those relating to Manchuria.

As to the exact terms of the communication there is no official statement thus far, although later it doubtless will be communicated to the public. Secretary Hay received it from the Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, Thursday night, and took speedy steps to lay it before the president. The latter shared the secretary of state's gratification that a way had been found to dispose of the complications over the Manchurian question, and to bring Russia into strong accord with the other powers. At the Russian embassy no information was obtainable as to the communication, Count Casini asking to be excused from all inquiries.

While there is an entire absence of authoritative information, yet it is understood that Russia now takes occasion to give positive assurance of the disinterested sentiments which have animated her throughout the consideration of Chinese questions. As to Manchuria, it is made clear that Russia's course never has varied in the purpose to leave that province an integral part of China, and to retire the Russian troops as rapidly as safety would permit. This, moreover, it is made plain in the communication, has been Russia's course throughout, notwithstanding assertions to the contrary.

But as a more signal evidence of Russia's purpose, and in harmony with the czar's aspirations for peace and harmony between the nations, the Russian government now gives assurances of the most definite and satisfactory character as to the execution of this purpose.

The extent of the assurances can be best judged by the impression made in the highest official quarters here that the threatened crisis over Manchuria has been completely averted.

The Russian communication is the more significant coming at a moment when the press advices from Europe asserted that Russia was collecting an army of 300,000 men for the purpose of holding Manchuria without reference to the desire of the other powers. There is no doubt that Russia has a large military force in Manchuria, so that had she determined to hold the province she has the military establishment already on the ground prepared to maintain her occupancy.

To the officials in Washington one of the most gratifying features of Russia's action is that it is responsive to Secretary Hay's note of March 1 last. This note had been previously communicated to the Chinese minister at Washington, and advised him that the United States viewed as inexpedient and dangerous to the interests of China the conclusion of any private territorial or financial agreement.

A copy of this communication was sent to the United States ambassador at St. Petersburg, Mr. Tower, and the Russian ambassador at Washington also was made aware of its contents. While the note never was addressed directly to Russia, yet by the foregoing means it came fully to the attention of the Russian authorities.

The fire seems to have gone out itself.

HEAD AND HAND GONE

Body of an Unknown Man Found by a Vermont Hunter

Vergennes, Vt., April 6.—The mutilated body of a man with legs and arms attached was found on the banks of Lewis creek, on the farm of Lieutenant Governor Allen, in Ferrisburgh, yesterday, by a man who was muskrat hunting. The indications are that the man met with an accidental death by drowning months ago, and the elements assisted decomposition in rending the body, for the head and one hand were gone.

The man must have been of large frame, and was clothed for cold weather. One shoe was left, and this had a large brass buckle. In one pocket of the clothing was 20 cents; in another a rosary and beads, a knife and a Montpelier paper, dated Sept. 5, 1900. The selectmen and health officers of Ferrisburgh failed to find any marks which would lead to the supposition that a murder had been committed. The lungs and neck had been torn by an animal, and the remnant of flesh on the neck also had the appearance of having sloughed away from the head through decomposition. No one is known to have been missing from this neighborhood in the fall, and so it is hardly likely that identification will be made here.

Leaking Gas Caused Explosion

Boston, April 6.—The drug store of Charles E. Coombs, on Massachusetts avenue, was completely wrecked by an explosion of gas. Proprietor Coombs, his two clerks and two women customers were in the store at the time. All were badly frightened. The explosion took place in the cellar and blew out all the windows and doors, and demolished everything in the cellar. The explosion is said to have been caused by a leak from gas pipes, and Daniel O'Neill, a gas company employe, was in the cellar investigating when the miniature cyclone flung him against the wall, injuring him quite badly.

His Wife's Weak Heart.

It is a singular thing that in the popular view of disease the interdependence of the several organs of the body is lost sight of. The heart, for example, is diseased and it is treated as if it were entirely separated from, and independent of, every other organ.

The fallacy of this opinion is shown by the cures of heart "trouble," liver "trouble," kidney "trouble" and other so-called "troubles," effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Primarily the "Discovery" is a medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and blood. But it cures diseases of organs seemingly remote from the stomach, because these diseases have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I doctored with three different doctors for weak heart, but they did me no good," writes Mrs. Julia A. Wilcox, of Cygnet, Wood Co., Ohio, Box 52. "I was so tired and discouraged if I had had my choice to live or die I would have preferred to die. My husband heard of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and he bought a bottle. I took that and the first half seemed to help me. I took six bottles before I stopped. I am perfectly well, and am cooking for six boarders. It has been a God-send to me."

It more than any other riod seems to be the birth of spring, unfolding of nature's sweetest secr the shrubs and flowers. It is a day wh hospitality is supreme. Spring flow make a most lovely table embellishme Yellow blooms should be employed—y low, the glory of the sun, the emblem life—with their own crisp foliage. Y low can also be placed under a white l centerpiece. If madam is the posses of gold and white glass or gold and wh china, it should be used. Yellow bonb are obtainable, and candied quarters oranges are especially appropriate in c or as well as delicious in flavor. should not be forgotten, however, ev on this feast day that it is spring a that consequently the viands to be serv should be dainty. Here is an acceptat and seasonable menu for Easter lunc eon:

Oysters on Half Shell.
Anchovy Canapes.
Fresh Sliced Cucumbers.
Chicken Breast with New Cauliflower.
Easter Salad.
Salpicon of Fruit.
Black Coffee.

Chicken Breasts.—Have the butcher r move the fillets from the chickens an lard them. Under each one lay a slice fat pork in the bottom of the braisin pan. Dredge well with salt and peppe Cover the pan and set on the stove. Coo slowly half an hour, then add one pint white stock. Cover the pan and plac in a moderate oven for one hour, bastin frequently with the gravy. Do not l the gravy cook away. Take the fillet drain them, cover with soft butter an dredge lightly with flour. Broil till a ligh brown. Boil the cauliflower and place i in the center of a platter and place th chicken breasts about it and then smal link sausages, fried. Over the cauliflowe pour a white sauce and on the breasts sauce made of the stock in which the were cooked. Skim all the fat from i and cook a tablespoonful of butter an one teaspoonful of flour together until light brown; then add the gravy and boi up once and strain. Select new potatoes of even size, boil and serve with a little melted butter seasoned with salt and pep per; sprinkle over them finely chopped parsley.

Easter Salad.—Select the crisp, fine leaves of endive and form into a fluffy green nest in the salad bowl. Mash two cakes of Neufchatel cheese and soften with a teaspoonful of olive oil, mold into egg shaped balls and place within the green. Pass a French dressing with this salad.

Salpicon of fruit served with whipped cream is universally liked. Mix lightly equal portions of orange pulp, bananas cut into half inch dice, pineapple and a few strawberries. Add sugar and sherry or liquor. Let it stand an hour on the ice before serving. Then place in a glass or silver bowl and over the top pour sweetened whipped cream. Garnish thickly with strawberries.

What the Red Azalea Said.

It seemed to her that she had never received so many flowers at Easter time. There were Easter lilies, a cluster or two of violets, lilies of the valley, and all manner of flowers breathing Easter messages. There was even a red azalea, which had been sent by the young man who was always doing something original and thought that all ideas of the proprieties would die with him.

"Azalea!" said the girl, looking at the glaring redness wrapped up in a bent cylinder of pink tissue paper. "I wonder whatever possessed him to send that!"

"What are you going to do with all those flowers?" asked the girl's aunt, who was interested in charities. "Don't you think it'll be a splendid scheme to send them to the flower mission?"

"Well," replied the girl, "I don't know but that it would. How would it do to send the azalea first of all. I suppose that as a matter of fact I ought to place it in the parlor window on a stand and loop up the curtains on either side."

"I'm afraid," sighed the elderly woman, who had little time to think about herself, "that you are rather hypercritical."

There was a spot where the red azalea bush, with its covering of pink, brought joy and sunshine. It was in the place where physicians move from cot to cot, and the jangle of the ambulance bell was heard every few minutes in the street below. It was not often that flowers came into that room to speak to those whose heads were lying upon the white pillows. Yet there was a message which the red azalea brought to many. I do not remember that in the language of flowers the azalea means anything at all. In a sheaf of pink tissue paper, with a red ribbon bound around it, there is little of eloquence. Yet in that hospital ward the red azalea was not dumb.—New York Herald.

Coloring Easter Eggs.

Easter eggs can be colored with aniline dye. It should be diluted to the proper shade and the eggs boiled in it. Green, the color of hope and resurrection, is particularly appropriate, but a variety is pleasing—red, pink, blue, pale yellow and purple. Eggs can be boiled hard and painted in water colors with a single spring flower, as a primrose or a butterfly, also a symbol of the resurrection. They should be arranged in nests of moss. German children believe that the Easter eggs are laid by hares, so representations of this little animal are often placed on them, or near them. Painted butterflies, mounted on wire, can be made to hover over the nest.

The French peasants believe that on Easter morning, at the sound of the rejoicing bells, fair angels with azure wings were supposed to descend from heaven bearing baskets of eggs, which they deposited in the houses of the faithful. Sometimes, however, it happened that the evil one slipped in an accursed egg among those which came from heaven.

The hot cross buns at Easter are the cakes which the pagan Saxons ate in honor of their goddess Eastre and from which the Christian clergy sought to expel the paganism by marking them with the cross.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 7—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Dead to sin, alive to Christ.—Eph. ii, 1-10.

In this passage we have what has been called "the spiritual history of the Ephesians." Its correspondence to the first chapter of Genesis has also been noted. "It is a spiritual creation and resembles in its stages the creation of the physical world. There are (1) chaos (verses 1-3), (2) the dawn (verses 4) and (3) the work of creation in successive stages (verses 4-10)."

One who is spiritually created is dead to sin. Before he is born again he is dead in sin. But after he is born again he is dead to sin. Sin no longer has a charm for him, and its power over him is gone. Then he is alive in Christ. Then he has spiritual life, because he is in Christ and Christ is in him. The man who is dead in sin is dead to Christ; but the one who is dead to sin is alive to Christ.

The change that takes place in the sinner's heart and life when he becomes dead to sin and alive to Christ is entirely the work of God. No man can raise the physical dead. No man can raise the spiritual dead. God only can raise the dead, either physical or spiritual. All through this passage Paul attributes to God only the power to change from spiritual death to spiritual life. "God," he says, * * * "hath quickened us together * * * and raised us up together and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus." "By grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God. Not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God before ordained that we should walk in them."

The whole plan of eternal salvation through Jesus Christ, in its conception and in its execution, is the work of God and of God only. The sinner is dead spiritually—not weak or simply sick, but "dead in trespasses and sins." A dead man cannot raise himself. God only can do it. Salvation on God's part is of grace and on man's part of faith. There is no place for human boasting in this plan, but only place for unmeasured gratitude and thanksgiving unto God for His grace and goodness.

Paul also calls to our attention in this passage the attributes of God that led him to raise men from death in sin to life in Jesus Christ. (1) It was God's mercy. "But God, who is rich in mercy." Mercy is undeserved favor. (2) It was God's love. "For His great love wherewith He loved us." "God is love," and He "so loved the world" that He was willing that Christ should die to raise men from death to life. (3) It was God's grace. "By grace are ye saved." (4) It was God's kindness. "In His kindness toward us through Jesus Christ."

The important question that comes to us as individuals in the consideration of this topic is, Am I dead to sin and alive in Christ? Have I passed from death to life? And, if I have, am I showing it in my life? Am I living a new life in Christ Jesus, or do the graveclothes of sin still cling to me? If dead to sin, let us not live in sin; if alive in Christ, let us live a Christ life that will show that we have been born again and are living together with Christ Jesus in heavenly places.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a voluntary service in which each one takes part as led by the Spirit.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. i, 16-20; Ps. li, 1-13; John v, 24; Rom. vi, 1-14; Gal. ii, 20; Eph. v, 17-25; Col. ii, 8-15; iii, 16; I Pet. ii,-21-25; I John i, 8, 9; ii, 1, 2.

Knowledge.

"If any man willeth to do His will, he shall know of the teaching." Understanding shall grow with growing earnestness of purpose. And he that tries heartily to do Christ's will shall know of the doctrine; know it more and more, know it deeper and deeper, know all that he needs. To selfish, earth bound hearts no secrets are revealed. No token of personal remembrance, no signs of secret favor, come from the master. True redemption is our deliverance from that restless selfishness and our return to union with God. No mastery among men, no conquests of self promotion, no prosperous economy, no career of politic success, contains a joy so exquisite and so full as that pledge of friendship from the love and power and wisdom that fill the throne of eternity.—Bishop Huntington.

A Robust Religion.

We keep our religion too much indoors. It ought to be climbing rocks or hewing forests—a stalwart religion, a robust religion, a religion able to digest the strong meat of the word, instead of being kept on the pap and gruel of spiritual invalidism. It is high time that we threw off the Sunday clothes of sickly sentimentality and put on the workday dress of an active, earnest Christianity.—Christian Herald.

Self Respect.

When a Christian is heard asserting that his self respect will not allow him to do this or submit to that it is reasonably safe to conclude he is deceiving himself. Nine times out of ten, if not ninety-nine times out of a hundred, he is merely indulging his personal pride. * * * So long as we do nothing unworthy ourselves we need not fear the loss of self respect.—Episcopal Recorder.

Make the Best of Home.

If we must measure our habitation by a few feet and our vision be narrowed by the width of a small street, let us make for ourselves a world within which is suggestive of all that ennobles and enriches life in freer spaces and where man has united his achievement to God's glory.—New York Evening Post.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Business In General Appears to Be In a Prosperous Condition

New York, April 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: While the general business world has looked with amazement at the performance of the stock market this week, trade has maintained its even course, and there are many more points of gain than loss, with even a slightly steadier tone in the dry goods market. Some sellers have withdrawn offers at recent low prices, though buying is small as yet. Collections in all lines are unusually prompt, and in the building trades contracts have been entered into sufficient to furnish a decided impetus in allied lines during the spring season.

Breadstuffs and provisions rose, dairy and garden products declined, and clothing declined 3 percent. Metals rose 1 percent. Railroad earnings continue to gain.

No sign of lessening demand is perceptible in any branch of the iron and steel industries. Permanence of prosperity in this industry is becoming more certain as there is less evidence of inflated prices.

Shipments of boots and shoes from Boston are steadily increasing. Large shops have contracted for many months, but among the smaller concerns there are some that will soon catch up with orders, unless the volume of new business increases. An unexpected demand has appeared for russet shoes.

The wool market has steadied, and there is much more trading. Moderate buying is done by worsted mills.

After declining within 1-16th of 4 cents, it was not surprising to see cotton recover 1-2 cent. The oversold condition of the speculative market was chiefly responsible, and southern dispatches gave support by statements of unfavorable planting conditions.

Aggressive manipulation of corn forced prices to an unreasonable point, from which the fall was severe; and wheat also weakened, although exports from the Atlantic coast continue liberal. Pork products did not show the usual sympathy with corn when it reacted, for Chicago operators absorbed offerings readily.

Combination Strike Threatened

Buffalo, April 6.—The strike of the mill hands, which began on April 1, may involve all the building trades in the city, in a sympathetic strike. Forty-eight hour notices have been sent to all Buffalo contractors, warning them the possibility of a general sympathetic strike of carpenters. This action is in accordance with an agreement existing between the contractors and labor unions, which requires 48 hours' notice before a strike is declared. The mill owners have been hiring non-union men to fill the strikers' places and when their products begin to reach the builders, it is believed the strike will be declared.

The Sultan's Prayer

Constantinople, April 6.—The Sultan of Turkey, replying to Emperor William's telegram of congratulation on his recent escape from harm during the recent earthquake in Constantinople, thanks the kaiser for his cordial sentiments, and adds: "My attitude at the time of the earthquake was the result of a feeling of constant submission to the divine will, and I thank the Almighty, who is watching over my person and subjects, and who preserved them from peril. I shall pray God ever to spare humanity such calamities."

Poor Consolation For Lipton

London, April 6.—The Feld, commenting upon the forthcoming race for the America's cup, says: The average British sportsman long ago arrived at the conclusion that our American cousins are too many for us at the yachting game, and most yachtsmen refuse to accept the hardy annuals offered as apologies for successive defeats. These excuses fail to account for the fact that, although since 1851 some 25 races have been sailed, only twice has a British yacht come in first."

To Take Pattern by Americans

FRESHETS AND WRECKS

Large Rivers In New England Are on a Rampage

DAMAGE WILL BE HEAVY

Lumber Interasts In Maine Likely to Suffer Later From a Log Famine—Wrecks and Loss of Life Off Cape Ann and Cape Elizabeth

Boston, April 8.—The intermittent rains of the past week will result, in many parts of New England, where streams have extensive water sheds, in freshets, the damage from which may equal that sustained during any spring for a score or more of years. It is a little early to estimate just what the losses may be in life and property, but the Associated Press reports from places on nearly all the large rivers in New England indicate great danger.

The warm rains have made inroads into the unusual amount of ice and snow in northern Vermont and Maine, so that the great rivers which drain those immense areas will be overtaxed for two or three days to carry off the water in natural courses. Winter in southern New England disappeared weeks ago, for the snowfall the past winter had been exceptionally light, yet the rains which still fall and which are to come have swollen the rivers and smaller bodies of water almost as badly as in the New England traditional "January thaw."

The great floods are in the St. Croix river on the north, the Penobscot and Kennebec rivers, their manifold tributaries and great chain of lakes in Maine, the Merrimack river, fed by its main arteries, which find their sources in the White mountains, and that other great waterway, the Connecticut, which gathers together the water of about all the rest of New England.

The freshets in Maine were indicated last week with the "going out of the ice," as the lumbermen say the sudden rise in water breaking log booms and carrying away portions of the winter's timber cut. The freshet comes too early, the loggers say, and if their judgment be right, the monetary loss which is usually summed up when the water goes down will be an open account until next summer, when the log driving begins.

The log drivers fear that the freshets now will mean a drought when they need the water, and a log famine at the mills on the rivers at cities and towns near the seacoast may result.

With the Merimack and Connecticut rivers the danger of flood is to the numerous manufacturing plants which line their banks, and already the outlook is serious.

The southeast storm just before the Easter dawn threw up on the jagged rocks of Eastern point, off Gloucester, the old Calais schooner Hyena and within an hour the waves had torn her to pieces and swept off her crew of four men. Two of them, Elmer and Bennet Stanley, managed to reach shore and dragged their half drowned and bruised bodies up the rocks, but her skipper, Captain R. B. Dix, and the steward, Fuller, failed to gain the shore, and were probably either drowned or killed outright by being dashed on the rocks.

The two-masted schooner Wendall Burpee of St. John, went ashore off Cape Elizabeth shortly before noon yesterday. The captain, cook and one sailor were drowned, while the mate only was saved. The lost were: Louis Murseburg, the captain; George Foster, the cook, both of St. John, and a sailor, known as "English Charlie." The mate John Swensen, managed to reach the shore, more dead than alive, but the others were less fortunate. The Burpee was coal laden, from New York to St. John, and was valued at about $4000.

Unknown Vessel In Danger

Gloucester, Mass., April 8.—While a number of people were on the rocks yesterday afternoon watching for the bodies from the wreck of the Hyena, a large three masted schoner was seen through the fog, scarcely a mile off shore, trying in the light breeze to avoid being driven on the rocks by the long roll of the sea. The vessel apparently did not have steerage way. At dark there was still a large crowd on the rocks, but nothing could be seen of the vessel.

Wreck on Massachusetts Central

Hudson, Mass., April 8.—A serious freight wreck occurred yesterday on the Central Massachusetts railroad, eight miles west of here, when six freight cars and their contents were destroyed, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. The accident was the result of a washout, caused by heavy rains.

Caught In Rushing Waters

Franklin, N. H., April 8.—Michael Burke, an employe of the International Paper company, lost his life yesterday by falling from the dam across the Winnipiseogee river. Burke was engaged in removing the flash boards on account of the high water, when he fell in.

Marseilles Strike Is Off

Marseilles, April 8.—The striking dockers yesterday decided to resume work tomorrow.

A SPECTACULAR EVENT

Forward Part of the Collier Merrimac Blown Up In Effort to Clear Channel

Santiago, April 8.—Fifteen hundred pounds of dynamite were used by the authorities of the port yesterday in blowing up the forward superstructure of the sunken United States collier Merrimac, which has long impeded the entrance to the harbor. The explosion was plainly heard in the city, five miles away. Divers immediately descended and found 40 feet of clear water over the forward portion of the wreck. Port Captain Irwin will begin today to place mines aft, which he expects to explode in a week, thus completely clearing the harbor.

Yesterday's incident was highly spectacular. Residents on Smith key, adjacent to the wreck, left the island, fearing that their houses would be demolished. The overlooking hills were lined with people and large numbers of pleasure vessels encircled the wreck at a safe distance. When the electric button was touched, a pyramid of water rose 40 feet high, and the surface of the water was immediately covered with wreckage and tons of dead fish. The launches and yachts returned to the city laden with souvenirs of the wreck.

Probability of Railroad Strike

New York, April 8.—A strike is imminent on the Central Railroad of New Jersey system. This opinion is based on the fact that Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers left the city last night for his home in Cleveland, and Chief Sargent of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, is preparing to leave the city also. Added to this is a statement made by Chief Clark of the Brotherhood of Conductors, who says that he certainly will sanction any action his men, meaning the conductors of the road, may see fit to take. He added that he knew of only one time in the history of railroad strikes where the sanction of the executive chiefs had been withdrawn.

Christian Science Attacked

Berlin, April 8.—The leading Protestant organ in Germany bitterly complains that of late the so-called "Christian Science" has been imported from America, and is now being rapidly spread by Americans residing in Germany. It characterizes the beliefs of Christian Scientists as "superstition" and their practices as "methods for wringing money from the unwary." The article, which is now making the rounds of the press, has created a sensation.

Evidently Preparing to Fight

London, April 8.—The Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring yesterday and dealing with the attitude of Japan toward Russia's Chinese policy, says: "Shipping companies have been ordered to hold their vessels in readiness for transport service. Cruisers on the reserve list have been commissioned for active service. All leave has been recalled and officers of the first reserve have been warned for service. There is much popular excitement."

Both Sides Took a Rest

Boston, April 8.—Yesterday was an off day so far as conferences between the opposing interests in the milk war were concerned, although there was talk and speculation indulged in by the many producers who visited President Ward's headquarters during the day. As far as can be learned no definite arrangements for another conference have been made.

Typhoid In Full Sway

New Haven, April 8.—The typhoid fever epidemic, which has assumed such alarming proportions during the past four days, shows no signs of abatement. Reports from fresh cases have been coming in with great frequency, and in all probability the figures will show at least 150 cases today.

Killed by Gas Fumes

Wilmington, Del., April 8.—Walter Keech, a drug clerk of this city, aged 21, and Madge McGinigan, aged 30, were found dead yesterday in a room at a resort on Orange street. They had been asphyxiated. It is supposed that by mistake they had opened the stopcock of the gas stove, after the flame had been extinguished.

A Clergymans' Sudden Summons

Berlin, April 8.—At St. Paul's church, Augsberg, Bavaria, yesterday, Rev. Simon Mueller fell dead at the altar while pronouncing the words, "Christ is risen."

Two Sunday Raids.

The police were on the war path, Sunday, after alleged violators of the liquor laws and they made two successful raids.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Chief Hayden, Inspector McKay with Officers Barry, Murray, Davaron, Bradley and Goodhue started for West Quincy armed with a search warrant.

The first place visited was that of Frederick Trentor at 38 Cross street. Here they made quite a haul, securing four half barrels of bock beer and two empty half barrels.

They also visited the premises of Peter Parduzi in the same neighborhood and secured a barrel of wine, a small quantity of beer, and a lot of empty bottles, glasses and other paraphernalia.

Trenton is well known in police circles and was formally a constable. He has been active in the naturalization of Italians, and as he speaks good English he has often been employed by them in transacting their business. He is also frequently employed at the district court as an interpreter.

Struck by a Train.

An elderly woman, who later turned out to be Mrs. Christina Peterson of Cranch street, was struck by an inward train at the West street crossing of the Granite branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. at West Quincy between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Whether she was struck accidentally, or threw herself in front of the train, is not known. The train was stopped and she was taken to Boston, to the Massachusetts General hospital, on the train.

Saturday evening a young man called at the police station looking for his mother. He said she was in the habit of going out and being gone all day and that she went out Saturday morning. Nothing was thought of her absence, but when night came, and she had not returned, the family became alarmed. The police telephoned to the hospital and it was learned that a woman giving her name as Christian Peterson had been admitted during the day. The young man visited the hospital, and Sunday notified the police that she was not so badly injured as at first supposed.

EASTER SEASON

Weather Not in Keeping With the Day.

Large Congregations in Attendance.

The Decorations at Many of the Churches Beautiful.

Rainy and threatening weather did not make it a typical Easter day, but did not seem to diminish the congregations. Perhaps many Easter hats remained at home; certainly but few we out.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH.

In the First Unitarian church Sunday morning a large congregation assembled to greet the pastor, Rev. Mr. Butler, and Mrs. Butler, after a separation of two months.

The preacher contrasted the sunny weather of the south at this season with the lowering, stormy days in New England, then he reviewed the lowering, gloomy creeds that overcast the minds and hearts of former generations of the Christian faith, with the more hopeful, sunny view of accepting divine revelations today. The pastor gave an exhaustive talk upon the development of science, reason and the natural craving of the hearts of all humanity for light upon life. At the beginning of the last century the gifted and sainted William Ellery Channing gave the name of "liberal Catholic" to the so called doctrine of the Unitarians, constrasted with that held by evangelical denominations, so-called. After a century the simple faith devoid of what the heart can not freely accept as a gospel of love and peace, instead of one of hate and punishment, is part of the best of all creeds. Mr. Butler says the word has gone upward on the wings of faith and hope.

The Easter lilies made a harmony of color against the crimson of the pulpit. The Easter music by the quartette was fine.

The children of the Sunday school had a special service at noon and an informal social service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

BETHANY CHURCH

The decorations at Bethany church were beautiful. In front of the desk was large white cross inscribed in gilt, "He is risen;" at one side a huge harp with the words "Rejoice, be glad;" suspended above was a white dove from which were festooned white ribbons. There were Easter lilies in profusion; also palms and potted plants and flowers.

Rev. E. N. Hardy, the pastor preached an Easter sermon to a large congregation, and there were Easter anthems and solos by the quartette choir and chorus.

An Easter concert was given at 7.30 by the Bible school under the direction of Supt. Blanchard. The interesting exercises, songs and recitations by the pupils were interspersed with selections by the choir, making it all in all an enjoyable concert.

UNIVERSALIST.

Easter was observed at the Universalist church with appropriate music by the enlarged choir and an Easter sermon by the pastor. The solo by Miss Lulu Phelan of Wollaston was particularly fine. Communion was observed at the close of the sermon. Next Sunday an Easter concert will be given in the church by the pupils of the Sunday School.

SWEDISH CHURCHES.

Easter services at the Swedish Lutheran church were largely attended in spite of the inclement weather. Special music was furnished by the choir. The pastor's subject was, "The Easter Message" In the evening the Sunday School held a festival with an interesting program of music and readings.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Four services were held at Christ church and all were largely attended, especially the Sunday school festival at 4 P. M. Rev. G. A. Strong, the rector, and Miss Saville addressed the Sunday school. The rector acknowledged the gift of a solid silver paten from the infant class and later took pleasure in exhibiting it to the congregation. Prizes were presented to the choir boys for good behavior.

The children made an offering in boxes which will be given for mission ary work. Each pupil was presented with potted plants.

At the other services music was a feature, and was of the usual excellence for which Mr. E. Landys Snyder, the chorister, has become noted.

WATER ST. PRESBYTERIAN.

The Easter services were largely attended at the First Presbyterian church, Water street, yesterday. The pulpit and choir enclosure were beautifully decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and Easter lilies.

The communion was dispensed at the morning service when eleven members were publicly welcomed of fifteen who had been added to the church.

The service was very solemn and helpful though no sermon was preached.

In the evening the church was filled and Rev. Dr. Todd preached an interesting and thoughtful sermon on The Resurrection, a historic fact. The anthems were well rendered and Miss Todd's solo was sweetly sung.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The Easter service at Calvary Baptist church was one long to be remembered, Rev. H. E. Brady evangelist, in behalf of the church, gave the hand of fellowship to nineteen persons. Mr. Brady assisted by his wife and consecrated to the service of Christ, and through the holy spirit press the truth of the old gospel upon the hearts of lost men and women, and lead them to one mighty to save.

AT WOLLASTON.

All of the Wollaston churches were largely attended at the Easter services. St. Chrysostom's church was especially attractive in its floral decorations. The chancel was profusely dressed with pinks and lilies and palms were plentiful. In front of the pulpit was an abundance of potted geraniums, which were distributed, at the afternoon festival, to the Sunday School pupils The choir prize was awarded to John Todd.

A special feature of the afternoon service at the Baptist church was the fine musical talent. The regular church choir was assisted by Miss Adelaide Thomas, violinist; Dr. Florence Olney, organist; and Miss Lulu Phelan, soprano soloist.

At the Unitarian a special musical program was prepared for the morning service. A male quartette consisting of Messrs. Moulton, Litchfield, Bishop and Arnold sang several selections.

Solos were rendered by Miss Witcher and Mr. Arnold. In the afternoon festival Superintendent F. E. Parlin gave an interesting talk to the children on the origin and meaning of Easter. During the service, Mr. Wellington, the treasurer of the church, received an Easter offering of money pledged by the different classes in the Sunday School.

The Congregational service consisted largely of selectons by the scholars and a short talk by Rev. Edward A. Chase. The special attraction was the infant class who sang and recited a variety of selections. On taking their seats each receive a bunch of violets.

Whist at Atlantic.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings of Clive street gave a whist party Saturday evening consisting of four tables, the guests numbering fourteen. The first favors were awarded Mr. Henry Kolseth and Mrs. C. L. Coe; the second were given to Mr. Alfred Jeline and Mrs. L. A. Bassett. While the ices and cake were being served, Mr. Cummings sang a very amusing song about the "Hayseed who into the city went." Each guest departed with a tiny little crepe paper basket of candy, which was tied with different ribbons to enable the bearer to find partner and table before the game.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget With the News in a Nut Shell.

Rain.

More rain.

Rain is predicted.

April showers bring forth May flowers.

Where is the man who said we needed more rain?

The City Council committee on Finance will meet tonight.

Quincy officers are in attendance at the Superior court at Dedham today.

The Assessors are busy getting their cards ready by streets for the first of May.

Probate Court for Norfolk County will be held in Quincy Wednesday morning.

Galen says we are to have forty days of this weather. He should be run out of town.

The extremes of noon temperature in March were 59 and 26, against 65 and 23 last March.

The eighth annual dance of Societie St. Jean Baptiste will be held at St. Mary's hall tonight.

The souvenir programs for the Quincy Clerks minstrel show are being printed by Geo. W. Prescott & Son.

There will be no meeting of the City Council tonight, but an adjourned meeting will be held tomorrow night.

People are getting accustomed to this kind of weather, for today is the eighth consecutive day that it has rained.

The recent rain has resulted in turning the grass a greenish color and a few days warm sun would give it a rich velvet look.

The executive offices of the Old Colony street railway will be moved to the new building on Hancock street when erected.

Twin girls have come to the full house of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Bracket street, making ten little children now in the family.

The recital of Miss Spear at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Goodrich, Wollaston, has been postponed until April 18.

A dress rehearsal of the minstrel show to be given by the Clerks' Association will be held at Music hall, Wednesday evening.

George F. Spooner, representing John B. Drake & Co., Commission Merchants, left Sunday night for an extended trip though Deleware, Maryland and Virginia.

E. E. Thayer of Braintree died this morning at 6 o'clock. He will be buried with Masonic honors on Thursday, having been a member of Rural lodge of Quincy for nearly thirty years.

The funeral of Frederick Scammel was held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 from his father's residence on Glencoe place. The services were conducted by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy and largely attended. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mr. George Markor, who has taken the house on Upland road, lately occupied by Mr. Hill, pharmacist, has also succeeded him in the drug store of Mr. Charles C. Hearn. His family, consisting of himself and wife, moved here from Allston.

The police have been requested to look out for a lot of articles stolen from a gunning stand on Atlantic beach last winter. It is thought that Charles N. Perkins who has pleaded guilty to several breaks in Quincy may have had a hand in this also.

Miss Annie L. Prescott received from Miss Alice White, who is stopping at the Lenox, Pinehurst, N. C., an Easter greeting in the shape of a box of fragrant arbutus, which grow there in great abundance. Miss White's health has not improved as much as was expected and Wednesday she goes to Fayetteville, N.C., a typical southern town, where she hopes to benefit by the change.

Bicycle Gossip

Riding a bicycle is one of the most delightful ways of getting exercise, reducing flesh, at the same time building brains and muscle.

Mr. Pickwick used to say, "Always shout with the crowd, and when there are two crowds, shout with the largest."

His wisdom you can readily apply to the bicycle situation, for the low prices on Sterling Wheels will bring them within the reach of everyone, and will increase two fold the number of bicycle riders.

Then the wheel, above all things buy a bicycle of standard construction and unquestioned excellence.

America's choicest makes are here for your selection.

VETERAN BUILDER.

Mr. Samuel D. Ramsdell Passes Away at Atlantic.

Samuel D. Ramsdell of Atlantic closed an active life this morning, aged 82 years, 8 months.

His native place was Hanson, where he followed his father's trade of house building, operating in that neighborhood but more extensive in Bridgewater where he built many houses for the employers of the Bridgewater Iron Works and the place where many of them were erected is still known as "Ramsdell's hill."

In 1852 he moved to Quincy, building for his home what became in later years "The North Quincy House." Many other houses were here erected by him, Mr. Thomas Gurney's house and store, and Timberlake & Small's store being among them, but a still larger number may be found in the West district.

At the breaking out of the Civil war he was one of the early volunteers enlisting in company K of the Seventh Massachusetts. Upon arriving at Washington the authorities there, in considertion of his age, advised his return, but upon his request to remain to help put down the rebellion they consented, and then for three years and three months he remained at the front engaging in nearly all of the great battles of the Army of the Potomac and at last returned home.

The funeral will be held from his late residence Wednesday, at 10.45 A. M., and also on the same day at 2.30 P. M. at Bryantville.

Castle Square Understudies.

One of the most interesting occurrences of many years as to theatricals in the city of Quincy, is announced. The understudies of the Castle Square theatre have decided to give their first performance at Quincy Music hall on the night of the 12th. There is not a person in Quincy who has not a certain amount of interest in the remarkable theatre which has attracted to itself the greatest wonder in regard to its seemingly marvelous, weekly, stock attractions of any place of amusement America has ever seen. Therefore the people of Quincy should take no small degree of interest in such a promising affair.

A great many tickets have been sold in advance to some of the best people in the city and at present an audience of a fine class is promised from profesional circles in Boston.

In the vaudeville show, the specialties have not yet been announced, but in the play itself the cast will be as follows: Joe Morgan, Seth A. Arno.d; Samph Hurchill, Henry Edwardes; Simon Slade, Frank MacHerdy; Mr. Romaine, Fred Bruce; Harwy Green, Horace Pierce: Willie Hammond, Miss C. Hubener; Frank Slade, William Savean; Mary Morgan, Marian Finley; Mehitable Cartwright, Miss Harding; Mrs. Morgan, Miss K. Braphy. Advanced sale of tickets at Music Hall pharmacy.

The Great Show.

The advance sale for the Clerks' minstrel entertainment has been large and the rehearsals promise well. Mr. Channing T. Furnald will be the interlocutor and there will be eight end men, viz: Bones—Billie Howard, Bill Jones, Charles Prout and Jack Sullivan; Tambos—Bill Field, Fred Prout, John Fallon and Charley Gilligan; Tenors—J. E. Glover, Dick Prout, Walter S. Weaver, Archie Rogers, Charles La Breck, Bert Metcalf, Harry Matthews, Carl Johnson, William Warmington and A. Parsons; Basses—J. F. Burns, Everett Pollard, John Dackers, G. W. Turner, Harry Lark, Herbert Crane, Jere. E. Ford, Henry McLean, John Pierce and George Guston. In part two there will also be many taking specialties.

HIS OWN EXECUTIONER

Manuel Cabral, Sheriff Cady's Only Prisoner, Kills Himself by Hanging

Bristol, R. I., April 8.—Sheriff Cady, who is also keeper of the county jail here, finding that his only prisoner, Manuel Cobral, was not about the jail corridor yesterday as he usually was each morning, proceeded to the cell of the prisoner, to find the man had committed suicide by hanging himself by means of his undershirt.

Cabrel was held under two warrants, one charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon on his wife, March 15, and the other charging the man with being dangerous to be at large.

He was 51 years old, and a native of the Azores.

He became despondent because of illness some weeks ago, and, attacking his wife while she was in bed, slashed her throat and then stabbed her in the stomach, afterwards attempting suicide.

Both recovered, Cabrel pleading guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and Judge Bosworth held him in $1000 last Monday. On the following Thursday, on the report of physicians that Cabrel was irresponsible, the court ordered him confined in the state insane asylum. Sheriff Cady claimed that the district court had no jurisdiction, the man's case being for the grand jury, and therefore he would not surrender him.

Was Mistaken For a Tramp

Burlington, Vt., April 8.—The body of the man found in North Ferrisburg on Friday has been identified by Reuben Haight as that of Dennis Deshaw, aged 75, of Westfield, Mass., his wife's father. The man came to town Sept. 21 in a fierce storm, walking on the railroad track. He was very weak, and went to the home of Chilcott Deshaw, a son, but Mrs. Deshaw was alone, and thinking the man a tramp, ordered him away. He went towards the swamp where his body was found, and was never seen alive afterward.

Chinamen In a Serious Scrape

Manchester, N. H., April 8.—Wan Sang, Moy Kee and Moy Sing, local Chinese laundrymen, were arrested yesterday on the charge of felonious assault, while See Coon, a fellow countryman, who lived with Wan Sang, is held as a witness. The arrests followed the story told by Lena Conroy, aged 14, who disappeared from her home in this city Nov. 20 last. Yesterday she told the police that she had been living with Wan Sang at his laundry.

A Descendant of Puritans

Hingham, Mass., April 8.—Oliver H. P. Stoddard of the firm of Damie, Stoddard & Co. of Boston, died at his home here yesterday, after an illness lasting since last Thanksgiving. Mr. Stoddard was born here in 1844, and was of the seventh generation of John Stoddard, who settled here in 1638. Mr. Stoddard compiled a history of the Stoddard family, tracing it back over 1000 years. He was prominent in the social and political life of the town.

Aged Man Charged With Stabbing

Fall River, Mass., April 8.—Hoscot Sopeseyz, 30 years old, is in a precarious condition, and John Cote, 63, is locked up on a charge of committing an assault upon him. Cote and the Pole reside in the same building and of late have had considerable trouble. They met last night in an entryway and as the result of a row, it is alleged that Cote stabbed Sopeseyz in the throat.

Fell Dead on Car Track

Natick, Mass., April 8.—An electric car struck the body of Cornelius Donovan, which was lying on the track on East Central street, late Saturday night, making a deep indentation in the skull. The medical examiner decided that the man died from heart trouble, and that he was dead before the car reached him. Donovan was a retired farmer, 61 years old.

"Doped" to Death

Boston, April 8.—Patrick Murphy, a veteran of the Spanish war, strong and able-bodied, but for a year past addicted to the use of morphine, died last night from the effects of an overdose. He had been invited to spend Easter with friends, and in their presence consumed almost an entire box of morphine pills, against their remonstrances.

Blown Up by Dynamite

Westerly, R. I., April 8.—James Donovan, a tool sharpener at the Misquanicut golf grounds, was hurled from his forge by an explosion of a stick of dynamite which had been placed near the fire by an Italian. The forge was wrecked and Donovan blackened with powder and badly cut up, but no bones were broken.

Reagan Preserves Silence

Portland, Me., April 8.—James Reagan, the victim of the recent murderous asasult in a Forest street lodging house, is resting comfortably at a hospital. He declines to reveal any clue to his assailants' identity, and the police have practically abandoned work on the case.

Salem Has a $50,000 Fire

Salem, Mass., April 8.—Fire destroyed the Gifford mill and Irving box factory and damaged two dwelling houses here yesterday, entailing a loss of about $50,000. Help was summoned from Beverly, Peabody and Lynn. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

A Few Less Licenses

Boston, April 8.—The board of police has fixed the number of liquor licenses to be granted for the coming year at 885, which is a falling off of 105 from last year, a majority of the refusals being on account of abuttors' objections.

Will Go Back to Jail

Fall River, Mass., April 8.—James Frary was arrested here yesterday on the charge of breaking jail at Brookline, Conn. He had been sentenced for a term of 150 days.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City o Presidents.

R. D. Gordon has returned from his trip to Jamaica much improved in health.

The Wollaston golf team was defeated in its first match on Saturday with a team from Harvard University, 10 to 8.

Peter Fay of Norfolk Downs has opened a grocery and provision store in the block near the Norfolk Downs station.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton (Pauline Wilkins (are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born Monday, April first.

Miss May Hill, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill of Walker street, left Saturday for her home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roundy of Lynnfield Centre and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howe of Malden spent Easter with Mrs. Herbert Gearwar of Madison street.

It has been a sore trial for Weymouth the past week without street lights, and those who voted against the appropriation must have kicked themselves several times.

The Queen Wanda royal gypsy camp, which had a successful run at 1637 Hancock street a few months ago, will reopen tomorrow for a few weeks. There are four palmists in the party.

Harry Read of Squantum street has the sympathy of everyone on account of the illness of both his wife and little daughter Margeret. Mr. Read himself has been confined to the house with the grip.

The Metropolitan Water and Sewer board has asked authority to build a wharf 500 feet long at Nut Island, also for embankments to connect the island with the main land. A steamboat company also ask the privilege of building a wharf and dredging a channel near by. Both will be given a hearing on Wednesday by the Harbor and Land Commissioners.

Base Ball at Thayer.

The recent fine weather has made it so that the base ball squad of Thayer Academy could get some outdoor practice, and they have been out in the rear of the Academy for the past week.

A large backstop has been erected by the boys assisted by James Lane, and some fine batting practice has been enjoyed, the backstop is 26 ft. long and 9 ft high.

Coach, Prof. Townsend has the boys in fine shape, and while only two of last year's team remain, the school will have a strong nine.

The manager is F. E. Winslow of Quincy and he is a "hustler" and is rapidly filling up the schedule.

All the positions on the team are filled with the exception of the pitchers box, and that position will probably be filled by Prof. Townsend, as there is no student capable of doing satisfactory work in this place.

Behind the bat will be found Bennie Woodsum, he is a steady player and in many ways is considered the best man that has represented the academy for several years. His father ex-Senator B. H. Woodsum was one of the finest catchers in this part of the state in his time.

The initial bag will be looked after by Remick and it is thought that he will make a good man for that position.

Carr will proberly be tried at second for he is putting up a very fast practice game.

Kelley seems to be the leading candidate for the third sack, and will no doubt be kept in that position for the season.

Borden of last year's team will be at his old position at short and he will be able to steady the younger players on the diamond.

Newell, another of last year's nine, has been chosen captain of this year's team and will play centre field.

Right and left field have several candidates. Carl Emerson, Thayer, Esterbrook, Dow, Kingsbury, Rielley and Rollin Gallagher, are trying for the positions, and Coach Townsend will have a hard time picking the best as they are all clever players.

The following players will probably play the first game: Woodsum, catcher; Townsend, pitcher; Remick, first; Carr, second; Kelley, third; Borden, short; Emerson, right; Newell, centre; and Gallagher, left.

The boys are to have new suits for the season.

Whist at Wollaston.

A subscription whist for the benefit of the Wollaston Sunday school was held Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. E. G. Thayer, Willow street, Wollaston Park. Notwithstanding the severe storm there were a large number present and all seemed to enjoy the social game. The prizes, four in number, were awarded to Mr. Foss, Mrs. Foss, Miss Marion Taylor and Mr. Joseph Morse, Jr., of Quincy.

WITHOUT ALARM.

Fire Discovered in St. John's Church During Services.

Few, if any, of the hundreds who were present at the evening service at St. John's church Sunday evening, knew of the danger that threatened the church, and but for the timely discovery of Supt. Austin of the Electric Light and Power Co., a serious fire, coupled with loss of life might have resulted.

Supt. Austin was at the church making some minor repairs to the electric light wire, while the services in the church up stairs were in progress. While thue engaged he delected the odor of smoke. He immediately made an investigation, and upon opening the door of a closet in the vestry, discovered a brisk fire in progress.

He realized what the result would be were the audience upstairs aware of the fire, and unassisted he gave it battle. Water was near at hand and after a few minutes hard work he had the fire out.

There were rumors this morning that the fire was the work of an incendiary, but this is hard to believe. It is more than likely that the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion. Inspector Adams of the Fire Marshals office, however, is making an investigation. The loss was trifling.

An Ancient Newspaper.

While working in the paper mill at South Braintree, recently, one of the employes came across a newspaper nearly 75 years old. The paper is the "Microcosm," of Providence, R. I., and bore the date of May 5, 1826. It is No. 48 of the first volume. The paper is well preserved, and the printing is very clear and distinct.

One of the most interesting articles is an account of the report of the Boston school committee. At that time there was a total enrollment of 2938 pupils, but little more than twice that of Braintree today.

It also gives an account of the old stage line between Boston and New York.

The paper is now in the possession of Postmaster W. A. Torrey, and has been on exhibition at his drug store during the past week.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Conlin and Patrick Maquire were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy and were fined $5 each.

John Carroll was fined $5 for drunkenness at Holbrook.

HIS DAYS ARE NUMBERED

Consumption May Prevent the Execution of Storti

HAD LOST CONSCIOUSNESS

After a Severe Hemorrhage, but Rallied and Is Said to Be Improving — Governor and Council to Take Action on Question of Reprieve

Boston, April 8.—Whether Luigi Storti, murderer, will die in the electric chair at the Charlestown state prison, or die from consumption, was the question which perhaps half of Boston pondered over yesterday, while the other half went to church to hear the story of the first Easter.

No murder case in New England ever presented so complex a situation at the time when the mandate of the court is about to be fulfilled. Saturday night it was thought that Storti would not see another day, yet last night he had rallied from a state of unconsciousness due to extreme exhaustion from hemorrhages of the lungs, and was reported to be quite comfortable.

Storti is ill with consumption, and his first severe hemorrhage was on Friday On Saturday he was better, and ate a good dinner. Late that night his second bad hemorrhage necessitated the attendance of three physicians, and Father Ubaldus was sent for and administered extreme unction, as the end appeared very near. Storti recognized the priest, and then began the watch for the end. Several times the little group about the bedside in that forbidding stone cell thought that the end had come. His breath came in short gasps, and the throat rattled as though the breaths were his last. The priest continued his prayers in low, solemn tones; one of the physicians felt for Storti's pulse; it rose to 200. They waited and to the prison guard that came for news the death watch whispered: "He will go very soon now."

Then suddenly he rallied. The physicians pressed about him expectantly; Storti's breathing gradually, slowly became less labored, his pulse fell by degrees until it was down to 160. Then the message was sent to those waiting in the prison office that Storti seemed to recognize those about him.

Two of the physicians left, and the fight for life on Storti's part continued all day. In the afternoon Warden Bridges said that the man was in a comfortable condition.

At 3 o'clock this morning the official report was that the prisoner remained about the same, although he had one sinking spell which was of short duration.

The Globe says that Governor Crane has notified Warden Bridges to delay the execution, which had originally been set for today, until such time as the matter of a reprieve can be passed upon by the governor and council. It is now the opinion of physicians and the prison officers that Storti will not be executed.

General Bridges was notified by telephone from Dalton by the governor that he had determined to delay the execution. Dr. De Amazaga, who was at the prison, carried the news immediately to Storti's cell, where he was lying weak and wrecked, both physically and mentally.

"Keep up your courage; you will not have to die in the electric chair tomorrow or the next day. The governor has said that you need not die yet," was the message the doctor conveyed to the condemned man. Storti understood and smiled as if his hope had been realized, at least for a time. He murmured a soft blessing for the governor.

Enjoys President's Confidence

Washington, April 8.—Charles H. Allen, governor of Porto Rico, who arrived in Washington Saturday, had an hour's conference with President McKinley. Governor Allen afterward announced that he would not resign, and would return to his duties about the first week in May. It is pretty well understood that Governor Allen asked the president to relieve him of his duties in Porto Rico, but the president prevailed upon him to continue at the head of the administration of the affairs of the island.

Double Murderer In Custody

Sunbury, Pa., April 8.—Remorseful, haggard and worn, John Gulick, who last Tuesday murdered his mother and brother at their home near this city, was lodged in jail here yesterday. He was discovered in the spring house on the Gulick farm. Since the day of the crime he has roamed through the mountains during the day, and at night went to nearby towns and begged for food. He stated that he witnessed the funeral of his victims from a nearby hill.

Rain Bad For Bicycle Invaders

London, April 8.—In the volunteer cyclists' maneuvers ordered by the British war office, the attack on London this morning proved that the military value of wheelmen is largely dependent on the weather. The attacking force out-generalled the defenders, but lost so many men in the rain and owing to the bad roads, that it was unable to attack in force at the proper time.

Evangelists' Daughter Kills Herself

New York, April 8.—Mary Rivers, 18 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rivers, evangelists, of Jersey City, committed suicide yesterday by taking carbolic acid. The parents insist that they know of no reason why she should have ended her life.

Mormons Re-elect Smith

Kansas City, April 8.—The general conference of the re-organized Church of Jesus Christ and Latter Day Saints met in annual session at Independence and President Joseph Smith was unanimously chosen presiding officer.

THE KAISER'S LATEST

Soldiers Are Warned Against Listening to the "Voice of the Tempter"

Berlin, April 8.—Careful investigation regarding the circumstances in which Emperor William delivered his latest military address developed the information that, during a review last week of a number of military bodies belonging to the Potsdam garrison, including the First regiment of footguards, extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent any representative of the press or other civilian obtaining knowledge of his majesty's remarks. From persons present, it was learned that the kaiser spoke substantially as follows:

"A hand from out of the people was recently raised against me to my intense sorrow. Evidently serious times are coming, which will try our mettle. I know that the army is true to its traditions and to the solemn oath it has taken. I know it will remain steadfast and faithful to me.

"My conviction is especially strong regarding the guards and regarding this regiment now present, which is tied to the Hohenzollerns by indissoluble bonds, as the past has shown during troublous times abroad, and even during revolutionary times at home. The authority of the crown must be maintained at all hazards. Woe to the soldier who listens to the voice of the tempter."

Orders seem to have been given by the Prussian ministry of the interior to suppress all public mention of quotations from the emperor's recent speeches.

Another Gotham Mystery

New York, April 8.—The New York police have in their posession the nude body of a woman which was taken from the Erie basin yesterday, and are working upon the theory of a possible murder. The body was that of a woman about 30 years old, and weighing about 195 pounds. There are abrasions of the back and left ankle. The suicide theory in the case the police think will hardly hold good, because of the fact that there was nothing on the body except a pair of well-worn Oxford ties. Even the stockings were missing. It is believed that the body had not been in the water more than 48 hours.

Grant Made His Escape

Chicago, April 8.—Prentice Tiller and G. H. Grant, who were recently arrested in Nebraska and who were wanted by the federal authorities in Cincinnati and other cities for robbing the United States mails, made a sensational dash for liberty in the Union station last evening. Grant made his escape from the officers who had the two men in charge, and is still at large. Tiller was recaptured. When they made their break for freedom, they had just arrived in Chicago, in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Moore and Sergeant Dempsey of Omaha.

Czar Realizes That Change Is Needed

St. Petersburg, April 8.—Adjutant General Vannovsky has been appointed minister of public instruction, in succession to M. Bogoliepoff, who was assassinated by Peter Karpovitch. Emperor Nicholas, in an imperial rescrip, addressed to the new minister on his appointment, said: "Experience in recent years has shown the existence of material defects in our scholastic system. I thing the time has arrived to undertake an immediate thorough revision and improvement."

No Further Hitch Anticipated

Pekin, April 8.—Mr. Rockhill, United States special commissioner in Pekin, had a long interview yesterday with Li Hung Chang, who satisfied him that there is not likely to be any further important hitch in the negotiations for a settlement between China and the powers. Li Hung Chang says the court is extremely anxious to return to Pekin as soon as the foreign troops evacuate the capital.

No Verdict In "Joint" Case

Salina, Kan., April 8.—The first trial of a "jointist" under the new law passed by the legislature, which makes it a misdemeanor to be found in possession of spiritous liquors, resulted in no verdict here late Saturday night, and the jury was discharged. The passage of the law was a result of the temperance crusade started by Mrs. Nation.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking Scott's Emulsion.

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample its agreeable taste will surprise you.

OUTBREAK IN MONGOLIA

Rebellion Headed by Notorious Tung Fuh Siang

USE OF FOREIGN TROOPS

May Become Necessary to Protect the Imperial Court From the Followers of Powerful General Who Actively Supported the Boxer Movement

Pekin, April 9.—The rumors which have been current during the past few days of the outbreak of rebellion, headed by General Tung Fuh Siang (the former commander of the northern army), in the provinces of Mongolia and Shen Si, have been absolutely authenticated.

GENERAL TUNG FUH SIANG.

Unofficial Chinamen of intelligence regard the rising as most unfortunate, at the present time, to the interests of China, and as possibly meaning the use of foreign troops to protect even the court itself. The ministers of the powers do not think that, provided foreign interests do not suffer, any present interference is likely. If the dynasty should be overthrown it would, to a certain extent, delay the peace negotiations, but they consider that a regime not bound by traditions like those of the present court would probably be much easier to deal with eventually.

General Tung Fu Sian has been looked upon as the most formidable of the Chinese generals. He is an ex-Mohammedan of central Asia. In 1890 he commanded the Chinese troops at Aksu, in Kashgary, and in 1893 he was entrusted with the task of crushing the Tung-Yan rebellion in the province of Kiang-Tsu.

He supported the Boxer movement, and, when commanding the Chinese troops near Pekin, boasted that no foreigner should enter the Chinese capital. It is understood that he directed the bombardment of the foreign quarters at Tientsin, and he was reported to have been upon the point of using his guns on the legations after he had retreated before the international forces. He was, later, impeached by the viceroys, and was said to have fled to the province of Shan-Si.

His death has several times been reported erroneously, and his execution was demanded, but it was represented by the Chinese that his following was so large that it would be dangerous to press matters in this connection. Eventually he practically defied the court, but was sentenced to be deprived of his rank and degraded. Reports of his rebellious intentions have been current for some time past.

Porto Rican Police to Carry Carbines

Washington, April 9.—Governor Allen of Porto Rico had a long conference with Secretary Root yesterday. The governor made arrangements for exchanging the arms of the insular police of Porto Rico. This numbers 600 men and proved very serviceable in ridding the outlying districts of bandits. They are armed with old-fashioned Spring fields, but by the arrangement made yesterday these will be exchanged for the latest pattern of breech-loading carbines.

The Case of Captain Carter

Washington, April 9.—A motion was made yesterday in the United States supreme court by Jeremiah Wilson for the admission of Captain Oberlin M. Carter to bail. Solicitor General Richards gave notice that he would resist the motion on behalf of the United States, and he was given five days in which to prepare a brief.

A Warning to Colonists

Cape Town, April 9.—It is understood that acts of rebellion after after April 12 will not be tried under the special law of last session, but by the old common law, under which rebels are punished with death or any terms of imprisonment the board desires to impose.

Bad Wreck In Nevada

Reno, Nev., April 9.—In a collision with a freight train near Wells yesterday, a west-bound limited on the Central Pacific railway was partially wrecked. Two firemen were killed. Fire, which followed the collision, destroyed two mail cars.

GOVERNOR TAKES ACTION

Has Called Special Session of Council to Consider Murderer Storti's Case

Boston, April 9.—The executive council will meet in special session today, to act on the question of a respite for Luigi Storti, now awaiting execution by the electric chair in Charlestown prison. Governor Crane arrived at this decision yesterday after a conference with Warden Bridges and two of the prison physicians. The governor's action in calling the meeting was due entirely to Storti's physical condition, as the physicians told him that the condemned man was too weak to walk from his cell to the chair. Subsequently, Attorney Rowley appeared before the governor and made an oral petition for a respite.

The condition of Storti will be laid before the council by Governor Crane with a request that some action be taken, as the governor is unable to grant such a respite without the consent of the council, and also with Chief Justice Mason of the superior court, in which court Storti was tried, and District Attorney Sughrue, one of the government's attorneys at the trial.

State Grange With Producers

Worcester, Mass., April 9.—Warren C. Jewett, master of the Massachusetts state grange, made this statement to The Telegram last night: "The State Grange is thoroughly in sympathy with the farmers in the Boston milk war. The contractors of Boston have been receiving more for their milk than is charged in any other city in Massachusetts. The producers, who have been shipping their milk to Boston, have been receiving a smaller price than any milkmen in the state. In the present strike, the cause of the farmers is a just one, and I propose to go to Boston tomorrow to assist them in winning. The support of the grange will assuredly be thrown into the balance."

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 9.—For the first time in many years the cloture was applied yesterday in the Massachusetts senate to cut off debate on a local bill for the appointment of first assistant assessors in Boston for a term of three years. As the time for the appointment of these assessors expires tomorrow, the Democrats filibustered successfully against the bill for two days, until late yesterday afternoon their opponents, by a vote of 14 to 13, ordered the debate closed within an hour. The order, however, proved ineffective, for the senate soon postponed further consideration of the bill until today.

Reached Port In Safety

New Bedford, Mass., April 9.—Schooner Jesse Barlow, which left this port March 19, with whalemen's stores, bound for Martinique, W. I., and which was reported by steamer Teutonic, March 27, as dismasted, south of Nantucket, reached port yesterday under jury rig. Since reported by the Teutonic, the Barlow has been searched for, without success, by two revenue cutters. The accident which dismasted the Barlow occurred on March 22. Since then the vessel has been drifting about at the mercy of the wind and sea.

On Trial For Alleged Murder

Montpelier, Vt., April 9.—Frank A. Miller was placed on trial in the county court yesterday, charged with the murder of Seth Johnson, on June 9, 1900. He pleaded not guilty. The introduction of the government's case begun this morning. The government's case is understood to depend on circumstantial evidence, it being claimed that Johnson was last seen alive in Miller's company.

Youth an Alleged Forger

Providence, April 9.—Thomas Corcoran, 19 years old, of Ottawa, a nephew of Mrs. George R. Shirley of this city, was arrested at the door of a bank yesterday and locked up on two charges. The police say he will be arraigned on the charge of forging the name of Henry R. Shirley to a bank check, and also on a charge of larceny of clothing, money, etc., from the Shirleys.

Liquor Dealers on Probation

River Point, R. I., April 9.—At the meeting of the Warwick town council yesterday the complaints against the Jericho liquor dealers, the revocation of whose licenses had been demanded for Sunday selling, were continued for two weeks. The dealers complained of have signed an agreement to observe the law prohibiting Sunday selling and are practically on probation now.

Jail Breaker's Novel Defense

Dedham, Mass., April 9.—Andrew C. Remick of Hyde Park was before the superior court yesterday charged with breaking out of the Dedham house of correction, where he was serving a three years' term for polygamy. He claimed in defense that he walked out of an open door. The jury, however, found him guilty and he was given two years more in the same institution.

Good Afternoon.

Because President McKinley is coming to Massachusetts for rest, it does not preclude a visit to Quincy. The "City of Presidents" would be pleased if the visit is entirely informal. Secretary Long will doubtless plan a few drives for the entertainment of his distinguished guest and the attractions of Quincy are within thirty or forty minutes over the newly constructed State highway, within sight of old ocean the greater part of the way. The birthplaces of President John Adams and John Quincy Adams are the Mecca of many people who enjoy history, especialy as they are preserved in their ancient simplicity, and have many relics of Revolutionary days. Then there is the Adams Temple, their burial place. The President would also enjoy the famous dinners of the Squantum Inn.

Should the City Council pass the annual appropriation order tonight as is probable it will be the first time that the appropriations have been made in advance of the publication of the City Book. The contract for the printing was awarded Feb. 1, over nine weeks ago. If the annual reports have any value they should be in the hands of Councilmen and taxpayers before the appropriations are made and it would be better they were out when the Mayor forwards his estimates in March for the year. Under a town government the year closed Feb. 1, but the Town Reports were always distributed before the first Monday in March, and now the financial year of the city closes Jan 1. The by laws of the town of Braintree require that the Town Reports shall be distributed two weeks before the town meeting.

At Milford the town meeting was postponed because the Town Reports were not printed. In Quincy the reports should be given to the printers before the fifteenth of January, and then a reliable printer could easily complete the job early in March.

Perhaps, it is not because Henry H. Faxon believes our city so wicked, but because he is in the same boat with Andrew Carnegie, and believes that it would be a disgrace to die rich, that he today scatters $2,500 about the city. He says it is for "the moral, spiritual, social and political welfare of the people of this historic city." Now, he ought to know that $2,500 would not go very far in either of these directions. It is only ten cents per capita, and if divided equally for the four purposes would be only two and one-half cents for our moral welfare, two and one-half cents for our spiritual welfare, two and one-half cents for our social welfare, and two and one-half cents for our political welfare. He does not tell us over how long a period the two and one-half cents must be spread. It is two or three years since Mr. Faxon made a similar gift, perhaps longer, so unless he is to give of his wealth in monthly instalments it is probable that the two and one-half cents must be spread over two and one-half years, or about one cent per year. Of course editors do not need any of this oversight, so there will be a little more for the rescue of the sinners.

THE ANNUAL BALL.

Enjoyable Party by Societe St. Jean Baptiste at West Quincy.

One of the best known French societies in America is the Societie St. Jean Baptiste. One of the most flourishing branches of that order is located at West Quincy and it is hardly necessary to say that many of the French speaking people of Quincy are numbered among its members. The objects of the societie is fraternal, seeking to aid its members when sick and to care for the widows and orphans of past members, Almost since its institution the Quincy society has held an annual ball the object of which was to replenish the treasury and to furnish an evening's enjoyment. The eighth annual of these affairs was held Monday evening at St. Mary's hall and was a success in every way being largely attended. The attendance was not limited to those of French descent but included may friends of the society.

The invited guests many of whom were present included Mayor Hall several of the city officials and the presiding officers of the other fraternal societies in the city.

Lyons' orchestra furnished music for the dancing which was in order from 8 to 2 o'clock. During a brief intermission at midnight refreshments were served in the lower hall.

The several committees in charge to whom the success of the ball was due were:

Comite D'Arrangement, — August Rouleau, President; C. D. LeClaire, Tressrier; Joseph Landry.

Directeur De Danses,—Archible J. Rogers; Frank Rouleu, Assistant.

Aids,—Nap. Larendeau, Thomas DeCourt, W. B. Dalpe and Narcise LeClaire.

Hostess Surprised.

Monday evening the Happy Eight whist club met with Mrs. Thomas Hewson of Washington street. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. W. Tirrell, Mrs. W. J. Tilley, Mrs. Young and Miss M. Jennie Davis. A bountiful spread was provided and as the happy party entered the dinning room, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, in a few chosen words, presented Mrs. Hewson with a beautiful picture in behalf of the club, in honor of her having reached another milestone in life's journey.

Buried at Quincy.

The funeral of Mrs. William F. Deasy, formerly of Braintree, was held from St. Ann's church at Neponset this morning. The services were very largely attended. Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Murphy of Neponset and Rev. Fr. Fitzpatrick of Milton. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy.

TODAY'S COURT.

Fred T. Nichols was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until April 23.

ANNUAL REUNION.

Easter at Atlantic.

At the Memorial Congregational church, Sunday morning, there was a large attendance, and a beautiful Easter service. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion by Mr. W. Jay Sanborn. Mrs. Clifford Whall of Webster street kindly loaned her entire collection of beautiful palms, ferns, rubber trees and other plants and these with a quantity of lilies, daffodils, and American beauty roses were most effectively arranged. The choir rendered with good effect their various selections, the anthem—"I have nothing to do with tomorrow," being the most pleasing of all. In the evening the Sunday School gave a very successful Easter concert. The church was unfortunately too small to accommodate the audience, many being unable to find admission.

Trap Shooting.

A regular shoot was held by the Wollaston Trap club Saturday. All events were for ten targets at unknown angles:

The ladies' night of the Granite City club tonight promises to be one of the most enjoyable occasions the club has held. The program, as arranged by the entertainment committee, opens with a concert in Colonial hall by the University club, following which lunch will be served in the club rooms. Then will follow a social hour at whist for those who desire to play.

The Atlantic drug store, which has been opened by the H. O. Nute Company of Boston and is running on the scale of Boston prices, ought to be successful enough to remain through the spring and summer. It being a branch store, its support does not depend so largely on extensive trade, but where a drug store keeps nothing but the best goods, trade and lots of it, is bound to come in time.

Bicycle Gossip

Riding a bicycle is one of the most delightful ways of getting exercise, reducing flesh, at the same time building brains and muscle.

Mr. Pickwick used to say, "Always shout with the crowd, and when there are two crowds, shout with the largest."

His wisdom you can readily apply to the bicycle situation, for the low prices on Sterling Wheels will bring them within the reach of everyone, and will increase two fold the number of bicycle riders.

Then the wheel, above all things buy a bicycle of standard construction and unquestioned excellence.

A GUARDIAN ANGEL

Henry H. Faxon Makes a Generous Bequest.

Moral, Spiritual, Social and Political Welfare.

Would be Pleased to Escort Clergymen About the City.

Henry H. Faxon, Esq., has today forwarded to the several pastors of Quincy churches his check of $100 each, accompanying the same with one of his characteristic letters reading as follows:

Dear Sir:—Inclosed find check for one hundred dollars ($100), to be expended as you and your parish committee may deem wise in promoting the moral, spiritual, social and political welfare of the people of this historic city.

I emphasize the word political, for the reason that no city or town can be free from the worst forms of vice if its civic affairs are controlled by selfish and unscrupulous politicians.

The greatest political rascals are those that abuse the preachers, who dare to expose, or in any manner interfere with their methods of demoralizing both church and state.

I never knew a rumseller to say a word in commendation of a minister who, from the pulpit or through the press, portrayed the evils resulting from the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

On the other hand I have known instances where the personal checks of liquor dealers toward the work of the church were made so large that their soul-destroying business had nothing to fear from the religious society whose treasury was thus enriched.

If there is a clergyman in this city who is at a loss for a theme upon which to preach a practical sermon, I shall be pleased to act as his escort to some of the so-called clubs and billiard rooms, as well as our district court, where his observation will provide him with sufficient material for a multiplicity of sermons on "What I know about sin."

In closing, I beseech you to pray without ceasing, that fewer sham victuallers' licenses shall be granted in our municipality, that less billiard and pool rooms, and bowling-alleys shall exist, that no boys' clubs where gambling and kindred vices prevail shall be contenanced, and, most important of all, that an honest, fearless and efficient police force shall be maintained.

Very truly yours,
Henry H. Faxon.

Makes Himself Out a Bad Man

Columbus, O., April 9.—A young man giving the name of D. M. Depew, arrested at a hotel yesterday on the charge of attempting to beat the proprietors out of a board bill, confessed to the chief of police that his right name is M. P. Depuy, and that his home is at Minneapolis. While employed by the Minneapolis Elevator company, according to his statement, he stole $200. A few months later he returned to Minneapolis and stole goods to the value of $100. He then set fire to a lot of old letters, destroying the entire block.

Aged Monarch's Birthday

Copenhagen, April 9.—The 83rd birthday of King Christian was celebrated yesterday everywhere in Denmark. In the squares fronting the Amielnborg palace several thousand people constantly cheered the king, who in response appeared upon the balcony with his daughters.

Opposition to Religious Orders

Madrid, April 9.—Large and excited anti-clerical meetings in many cities have passed resolutions demanding that the government expel the religious orders of Spain. At Corunna the manifestants stoned the Jesuits' college and the office of the clerical newspapers.

Royal Victor Came In First

Memphis, April 9.—Before 10,000 people, T. P. Hayes' brown colt, Royal Victor, won the Tennessee derby yesterday from John F. Schorr's filly, Lady Schorr, with George Long's bay colt, Gaheris, third. The time was 1:57.

Five Hundred Miners Out

East Liverpool, O., April 9.—The miners employed in the Salem Coal company's mines, near here, struck because of a refusal of an advance of 5 percent a ton. Five hundred men are affected.

Hundred and Fifty Homeless

London, April 9.—Fire destroyed 25 houses in Andover, Hampshire, this morning, rendering 150 persons homeless.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Death of Aged Citizen.

Mr. Samuel Ramsdell, whose death was reported yesterday was one of the charter members of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church and has always held the office of steward and trustee, and at his death was their oldest member, and was also a member of the Paul Revere Post of the G. A. R.

A few years ago he fell and broke his hip and later on suffered from a severe attack of the grip but he was endowed with such marvelous vitality and strength that he endured beyond all expectations. He leaves a widow, one son John Ramsdell of Atlantic, and one daughter Mrs. G. T. Cushman, M. D., of Roxbury, also one brother Eliab Ramsdell of this place who is now the last of a large family.

The photograph that heads this article was taken by Mr. Skinner and called for on his last visit to Quincy.

Easter Concert at Park.

Although it was stormy Sunday evening, there was hardly standing room in the Park and Downs Congregational church at the Easter concert. About 6.30 the primary department of about 40, under the control of Mrs. Staples marched in through the church to their seats on the platform. After which the school and audience sang the opening hymn, followed by the responsive reading. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Megathlin lead in prayer, after which a recitation was rendered by Master Ruel Jefferson. Then a recitation by the Primary department, who also pleased the audience with their singing; a recitation by Miss Mary Tobey's class; Master Roy Haines and Louis Coombs sang an Easter duet; recitations by Helen Saunders and Mrs. Sanford's class; responsive reading by Mrs. Shay's class; recitation by Mrs. Smith's class; reading by Miss Ethel Marr; recitation by Mrs. Millberry's class; and recitation by Mr. Blaihe's class.

The programe closed with the closing hymn. The altar was handsomely decorated with Easter lilies and potted plants Much praise is due to the entertainment committee, who worked hard in preparing such a concert.

Annnal Church Meeting.

The annual meeting of the corporation and church of the First Presbyterian church, Water street, was held on Thursday evening, April 4. There was a good attendance and the reports from all the departments of the church's work showed splendid results.

The financial reports showed that $3,889.17 had been raised and expended for congregational purposes, and $214.00 had been contributed for missions during the year.

This is all the more gratifying as the church had been without a pastor for five months of the year.

The attendance at the Sabbath services has greatly increased and many members have been added. The Sunday school membership is now 290 the largest in the history of the church, and the C. E. work is also active.

This church is in a prosperous and most hopeful condition.

A. Clark was reelected president; William Cumming, secretary and the other trustees were reelected.

A happy social time followed the business meeting, at which lunch was served.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

ON VALUATION.

With Credits and Debits for Special Reasons.

Charles Francis Adams, Thomas M. Stetson and John C. Hammond, commissioners of apportionment in adjusting the payments, by towns and cities interested, of the cost of the park system, filed an answer on Saturday, says the Herald, supplementary to their award, in pursuance of an order of court, dated March 12, 1901. They review therein the process by which they arrived at their conclusions and some of the reasons actuating them.

At the hearing before us, say the commissioners, it was claimed by certain municipalities that we should assess by population—by the town of Brookline, that we should deviate from the ordinary mode of valuation assessment and make the apportionments on a basis of population and valuation combined. Such a deviation is important. It would increase the assessment of Weymouth one-half and lessen that of Brookline by 40 per cent.

Another series of municipalities claimed that valuation should be the basis of aapportionment. The method by population either alone or in combination threatened injustice to the poor and populous towns and cities, and unduly burdened the individual taxpayer in such places for no good reason shown to us by the evidence or argument.

The method of apportionment by valuation had also danger of injustice. A valuation already hypothecated to heavy and continuous public duty is not worth its full face value for the purposes of this cause. Another valuation, which easily and at a low rate bears its existing public duties, is more powerful.

We disapproved assessment by population. We deviated somewhat from an assessment by valuation. We started, however, with that method; the same was affected by credits and debits as later set forth.

Work for All.

The changes in Quincy that induce such a large number of the unemployed to seek work here, and to be unable to find it, make the pamphlet published by the Massachusetts Association of Relief Officers a valuable one for us. Copies of this can be obtained easily from Mr. Otis Merriam, Chelsea, Mass., and they should be studied by city and town officials over all our Commonwealth. These men, many of them, are not tramps in the common acceptation of the term, but they are honest men seeking work for wages; and, the demand exceeding the supply, they are for the time helpless and in need of the best aid.

Dr. Henry Shaw thinks the time has come to adopt some general system such as prevails in Holland, where reclaiming heretofore waste land, planting trees and cultivation of the soil generally should be made under the guidance of proper persons, where these men could get a fair living. The ground is about the only industry not overcrowded, and this is the season for philanthropists and public-spirited men to try to help the community rid itself of a heavy burden in dealing with this problem of work for all.

Mortgagee's Sale.

BY Virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles P. Hillstrom of Campello, in the County of Plymouth, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to John H. Dinegan of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth aforesaid, dated June 6, 1893, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib, 694, Fol. 586, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on SATURDAY, the fourth day of May, 1901, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described as follows, to wit:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated at Houghs Neck, Quincy, being lot No. 234, Sect. 3, on plan of Manet Land Associates, made July, 1890, and recorded in the Book of Plans in Norfolk County Registry of Deeds. Said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows:

Northerly on lot two hundred and thirty-three on said plan, one hundred and twenty-eight 16-100 (128.16) feet; easterly on River Road, fifty-two 55-100 (52.55) feet; southerly on Darrow street, one hundred and twelve (112) feet; westerly on part of lot two hundred and thirty-two on said plan, fifty-six (56) feet; and containing six thousand and four (6,004) square feet of land.

This property will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax title assessments, etc., if any there may be.

$100 is to be paid in cash at time and place of sale and the balance within ten days at my office in Quincy.

Children's Corner.

The Boy and the Worms.

A very small boy on Saturday was watching the spading of some tough ground to be made ready for flower garden. Many earth worms came up out of the round, showing the little holes they came through. The gardener saw the tiny lad taking these worms and carrying them all into a corner, where he carefully put a big piece of sod over them so no one could hurt them. This was better than to treat them roughly as boys used to do. Our school boys are careful of animals and like their company.

THE RUSH OF WATERS

Creates More or Less Damage Throughout New England

MANY MILLS ARE CLOSED

Bridges Washed Away at Some Points and Railroad Traffic Subsequently Delayed—Situation Not So Bad as Feared—Danger Is Considered Over

Boston, April 9.—The losses all over New England, due to the rising waters under the influence of nearly five days of rain, will be heavy, no doubt, but nothing to be compared with some of the freshets of recent springs. The scare has flattened out, for the reports indicate that a change for the better will come today.

The reason is obvious to people in southern New England, for the early spring left the ground open for a good soaking, and this natural absorption of the rain is taking care of much of the water, while the great surplus of the overflow, being unimpeded by ice, is rushing seaward, sweeping the banks as it goes. The chief stream on which damage threatened was the Merrimack, and while the height of water indicated at dams below Concord, and at Manchester and Nashua, was very high, it appears to lose rather than to gain. At Nashua the freshet came within three feet of the 1896 record. At points below Nashua the outlook is for a decreasing flood, although high water will stop industries for many days.

The turn in the flood on the Connecticut, Kennebec and Penobscot rivers may not come for some hours, for they drain vast areas over which the bonds of winter have yet to be thoroughly loosed by warm winds. Especially is this true in the Maine lake region, yet the head of water there is not likely to cause the ruin as in some freshets when ice jams on the lower parts of the streams held back the flowage to the danger point. What ice is left in the rivers is chiefly in the far north. The Penobscot river is clear of ice almost its entire length.

Taking everything into account, the flood has not the serious outlook that reports of Sunday and yesterday showed, provided, however, that good weather comes speedily and in warm, open fashion.

The chief property damage reported as the result of the floods is to railroads and highways from washouts. Lowlands in all sections are inundated and buildings thereon are flooded. At some points bridges have been washed away, and in some places the structures have been weakened. This has caused considerable interruption to traffic upon various short lines in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, but trains on the main lines are running with nearly the usual regularity. Among the mills which were compelled to shut down are many in Lawrence, where 20,000 hands are idle, and at Lowell, where the majority of the big corporations suspended; at Lewiston, Me., and Nashua, N. H. At Lowell the street railway power house is in the midst of a lake.

At Manchester, N. H., the flooding of the departments in the lower sections of mill buildings caused a suspension, and several thousand operatives are forced into idleness. Haverhill, which is at a bend of the Merrimac at a point where the river narrows, also suffers.

Along the Connecticut river the damage reported is not so serious as from some other points, although the water is very high. In Rhode Island the mills are handicapped by high water in the Pawtucket river, which is out of its banks at many places.

Government of the Philippines

Washington, April 9.—The news from Manila regarding the establishment of civil government is in accord with information already made public here that the new Philippine government will be established about July 1. The civil government proposed will not be very elaborate, but sufficient to meet the present requirements. Authority of the islands probably will be exercised by the president through Secretary Root, as the secretary already is familiar with the government of the islands.

Italy Wriggles Into Tripoli

London, April 9.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a dispatch from Tangiers regarding a new Franco-Italian entente in northern Africa. This is likely to have great consequences, says the correspondent, Italy ceasing her opposition to French designs in Morocco in return for permission to occupy Tripoli. It is suggested that Great Britain would welcome the creation of a friendly state between Tunis and Egypt.

He Loved Army Life

Baltimore, April 9.—General Joseph M. Sudsburg, a prominent officer of the Union army in the Civil war, died of apoplexy at his residence in this city yesterday. General Sudsburg was born in Munich in 1825. He served in the Bavarian and French armies before coming to the United States and entering the Union army.

Possible Fear of Public Opinion

Havana, April 9.—The Cuban constitutional convention did not meet yesterday, owing to the absence of President Capote. La Lucha, referring to the delay, intimates that the delegates are afraid of public opinion such as would be likely to result from decisive action on the Platt amendment.

Czar Contemplates Abdication

London, April 9.—The health of Emperor Nicholas has been shaken by the recent commotions, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Express, and he will probably abdicate if the next child of the empress should be a daughter.

MURDERED HIS WIFE

Manchester Man Committed Crime In Shop Where the Woman Worked

Manchester, N. H., April 9.—A murder was committed at the Manchester Garment works yesterday, when Charles A. Underhill shot and killed his wife. Underhill fled, but was arrested later.

The couple did not get along well together, and recently separated. Underhill entered the Manchester garment factory yesterday through a rear door. He ascended to the second story, where the machine girls, his wife among the number, were employed, and reached her side before she was aware of his presence. He seized his wife and hurled her to the floor and commenced choking her. He released one hand and inserted it under his coat.

At this juncture the couple were approached by Mrs. Dustin, an employe, who took hold of Underhill by the shoulder and said: "What are you doin ghere, stop that at once."

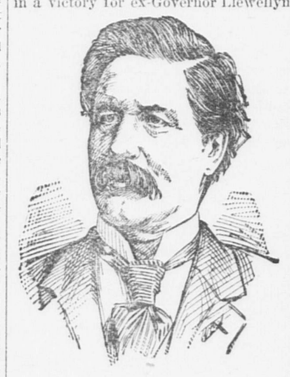

At these words Underhill arose, and as he straightened up a revolver fell from his pocket. Mrs. Underhill arose and started to run down the room away from him. At this he picked up the revolver, taking deliberate aim, and fired. She fell at the first shot, but the murderer fired twice more.

An autopsy on the body of Mrs. Underhill showed that the bullet had entered the side of the head, about two inches back of the ear, and in a horizontal line with the lower part of the ear, and that it passed directly through the base of the brain and fractured the skull on the other side, lodging there. No other bullet marks were discovered. The employes of the factory who witnessed the tragedy will be examined this afternoon. From the testimony of the physicians it is evident that death must have been instantaneous.

The calibre of the ball fired into Mrs. Underhill's head cannot be determined by the shapeless piece of lead that was extracted from its place in the shattered skull. It has been handed over to the police.

Powers Elected to Congress

Bangor, Me., April 9.—The special election in the Fourth congressional district yesterday to choose a successor to Charles A. Boutelle, resigned, resulted in a victory for ex-Governor Llewellyn

LEWELLYN POWERS.

Powers of Houlton (Rep.), by a majority estimated at slightly more than 2000 over Thomas White (Dem.). In September Mr. Boutelle's majority in the district was more than 10,000.

Now 'Tis a Dry Goods Trust

New York, April 9.—The Journal of Commerce says that it may be stated on authority that the plan to consolidate large retail dry goods companies has now been definitely completed, and a syndicate has been organized to finance it. This would seem to indicate that the securities of the new company will be offered for public subscription. J. P. Morgan & Co. are the head of the syndicate, and will, it is understood, underwrite the issue. The capital of the new concern will be about $20,000,000.

Indemnity For a Lynching

Washington, April 9.—The Mexican ambassador yesterday received from the secretary of state a draft for $2000 paid out of human consideration, and without reference to the question of liability, as full indemnity to the heirs of Florentino Suaste, a Mexican citizen who was lynched in Lasalle county, Tex., in 1895.

Carrie Wants Her Hatchets

Topeka, April 9.—Mrs. Carrie Nation says she will sue the city for some of her hatchets which are now in the possession of the police department. The hatchets were taken from her on the occasions of her several arrests during saloon smashing days. She made a demand on the chief of police for the hatchets yesterday, but was refused.

Had Been Acting Queerly

New York, April 9.—The body of a nude woman, found Monday in Erie basin, was identified last night as that of Mrs. Bridget Keyes. The identification was made by Mrs. Keyes' son, who said that his mother, who had been acting queerly for some time, left home before daylight Monday morning.

Botha May Renew Negotiations

London, April 9.—It is declared in Transvaal quarters in this city, says the Brussels correspondent of The Morning Post, that General Botha will shortly renew the peace negotiations.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Bella Snider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells; was nervous and weak. Had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ADMITTED BY JONES

First Told Lawyer House That He Killed Rice

OSBORNE ASKED QUESTION

In Retaliation For Insinuations That the Prosecution Concocted Jones' Story—Accused by Patrick's Counsel of Unprofessional Conduct

New York, April 10.—A line of questioning which led to a heated scene at the recess between Attorney Moore, who represents Lawyer Patrick, and Assistant District Attorney Osborne, was a feature of the examination of Valet Jones in yesterday's session of the hearing concerning the death of William Marsh Rice, the Texas millionaire.

Frederick House is one of Patrick's lawyers. Previous to Jones' turning state's evidence, Mr. House represented the valet also.

During all the long cross-examination of Jones, which ended only an hour before recess, Mr. Moore made it apparent that his questions were all directed at one point. He sought to show that Jones' story was concocted at the instigation of some of the men interested in disproving the second Rice will.

When at last Mr. Moore said: "We are through with the witness," Mr. Osborne, on the rebuttal, leaned back in his chair and asked quietly: "Jones, to whom did you first tell the story of your having chloroformed Mr. Rice? I mean the same story you told here."

"To Mr. House," was the reply.

The question was apparently a surprise. Mr. House flushed and looked hard at the table. Patrick tugged at his beard, and Mr. Moore sprang to his feet.

"We object to that question," he shouted, "we have some rights in this court. Anything the witness said to his counsel involves the prisoner. It is a professional confidence which must not be revealed."

But Justice Jerome only said: "Motion overruled," and Jones then described at length his first interview with Mr. House in the tombs counsel room. On Patrick's advice he told the truth, he said. "I told Mr. House that I murdered Mr. Rice," said Jones. "I told him that I gave him mercury pills, where I got the chloroform and all about it."

"Did you tell him about the oxalic acid?"

"Yes."

"And what did Mr. House say?"

"He told Patrick that it would not do for him to put all the blame on me; that he was as much in it as I was."

"What did Patrick say to Mr. House?" Mr. Osborne asked.

"Why, he explained that we had put Mr. Rice out of the way because the drafts were coming from Texas," said Jones.

Court then adjourned. A few minutes later Justice Jerome went out. Mr. Moore walked up to Mr. Osborne. "Mr. Osborne," he began, in a quiet voice, "I want to tell you that your conduct in making Jones tell about his conversation with Mr. House was unprofessional. It was not right."

The district attorney's face was crimson in a minute.

"I only did it," he said, "because of your insinuations that we concocted Jones' story. You have cast reflections upon Captain Baker. He is my friend. I guard his reputation as zealously as I do my own."

"You have not strengthened your case any," continued Mr. Moore. "You have only put Mr. House in a hole. I tell you it was not fair."

"I don't give a d—— for the way you do things," answered Mr. Osborne. "You attend to your side of the case. If you had a professional sense of honor you would not interfere with me in trying the case out of court."

Assistant District Attorney Gargan then stepped between the two men, and after a running fire of accusations and recriminations the lawyers separated.

Gold Mysteriously Disappeared

Cherbourg, April 10.—On the arrival here yesterday of the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, from New York, it was announced that three gold bars worth $60,000, had been stolen during the voyage. All the baggage landed here was examined with the utmost care, but the gold was not discovered. One hundred and fifty passengers landed for Paris, and several detectives travelled in the special train with them.

Dry Goods Combine a Certainty

New York, April 10.—Official notice of the rumored combination of department stores has been given by J. P. Morgan & Co., who solicit subscriptions to the stock of the Associated Merchants' company. The company is capitalized at $20,000,000 and proposes to acquire dry goods businesses or interests in this and other cities.

A Wonderful Easter Collection

New York, April 10.—Rev. W. R. Huntington, rector of Grace church, has just made public the fact that nearly $100,000 was collected in that church on Easter Sunday. The feature of it was that it was not the result of any special pleading, but was a spontaneous giving by members of the congregation.

WATER IS RECEDING

No Further Flood Damage Probable, Unless Heavy Rain Comes

Boston, April 10.—The weather man promises rain for today and that is the only discouraging feature of the flood conditions throughout New England, which have steadily improved. Everywhere, nearly, the river and lake reports are that the height of water is at a standstill, or receding. At Nashua, N. H., the Nashua Manufacturing company, which could not operate Monday, resumed work yesterday afternoon, and at other points on the Merrimack river the fear of additional damage is over. The high water has continued to make serious inroads in the log harvest on Maine rivers, and it may for some days to come, as the ice and snow is fairly on the move in northern Maine. On the Connecticut river the high point reached at the big dam at Holyoke is considerably above the figures shown today, so the flood on that stream seems to have spent its force. It will take a good heavy rain to bring about the conditions of Sunday and Monday.

Kaiser Receives Britishers

Berlin, April 10.—At the reception yesterday of the British special mission to notify Emperor William of the death of Queen Victoria and the accession of King Edward, the emperor wore a British admiral's uniform, with the Order of the Garter. The members of the mission are the emperor's guests while here. The commission did not wholly escape a demonstration of Anglophobism. There were shouts of "Down with the English" outside the hotel, in spite of the strong police force on duty in its vicinity.

Bullet In His Head

New York, April 10.—Albert Jensen, a victim of over-indulgence in liquor, wandered to Battery park yesterday. His peculiar actions attracted the notice of a number of boys, who began teasing him, and Jensen tried to escape by running away. The boys followed, and as Jensen ran up Broadway the crowd increased until as many as 500 people were following him. At last Jensen drew a revolver and fired two shots into his own head. There is no chance of his recovery.

Stage-Struck Youth's Doings

New York, April 10.—Confessing that it was he who wrote letters to George H. Penniman, threatening to blow up the latter's house unless $500 were placed in a hiding place where he could find it, Elias C. Katz, 18 years old, is a prisoner. The boy said he wrote the threatening letter because he wanted to raise money enough to go on the stage. Katz broke down and said he regretted having caused so much trouble.

Back In Old Quarters

Boston, April 10.—The Boston Advertiser and Record returned to their own quarters in Newspaper Row last night, from which they were driven three weeks ago by fire. During the absence The Globe has hospitably entertained the staffs of the two homeless papers, and through its mechanical equipment has brought out the daily editions without a break.

Smashup of Trolley Cars

Providence, April 10.—A head-on collision between trolley cars occurred at Riverside last evening. That a fatal disaster did not ensue seemed miraculous. As it was, both cars were sufficiently broken to require their withdrawal from service for repairs, and the motorman of one of the cars had to visit a surgeon.

Took a Dose of Acid

Calais, Me., April 10.—William Doyle, 27 years old, committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid. He committed the act in a room adjoining a local restaurant. He died in 15 minutes, after an unsuccessful attempt of two physicians to save his life.

Injuries Resulted In Death

Worcester, Mass., April 10.—Joseph Mileffky, aged 29, died last night from injuries received by being hit by a freight train at a railroad crossing yesterday. Both the right arm and leg were cut off. He was a laborer.

Warrant Out For "Hinky Dink"

Chicago, April 10.—Warrants were yesterday sworn out for the arrest of Alderman Michael Kenna, well known as "Hinky Dink," on charges of violating the midnight closing ordinance at his saloon. The warrants were secured by Mrs. Boyd of the new Anti-Vice Crusade society, who also requested warrants for Police Inspector Hartnett. These were refused.

Whole Family Annihilated

Cripple Creek, Col., April 10.—The family of James Smith, including the father, mother and four children, were instantly killed in their home last night by the sliding of a huge dump of the Granite mine. The Smith residence was located just below the base of the dump.

Good Afternoon.

Concord, N. H., and Gloucester have also voted to extend invitations to President McKinley. Quincy's vote was unanimous.

There was a rush to get the annual appropriation order through the City Council, but those in favor are now the ones to favor a postponement of the next regular meeting to April 22.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ A Detroit business man just returned from Porto Rico says: "It is a splendid island, the only trouble being that it is too small." Most of the talk about Porto Rico in the last two years has apparently been based on the theory that it is larger than the United States.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ It is time that this wearisome "gag" about the poverty of newspaper men was tabooed, at least on the part of the newspapers. When it comes to the ability to keep out of the almshouses, the class in question will compare favorably at least with any other workers that may be mentioned.—Salem News.

☞ The committee on cities of the legislature are of the opinion that the people of the various cities of the commonwealth are the best judges of the desirability of the permanent tenure of their police forces, and the legislature will probably endorse their position. It seems that there are some rights still pertaining to the municipalities.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ The idea of sending forty-four men of the executive and legislative departments to see the Buffalo show at the expense of Massachusetts is simply preposterous. So it is regarded by sensible men not in line for the proposed free trip, and there are men of sense enough on Beacon hill to stop it. This junket scheme is booked for early death as it ought to be.—Springfield Republican.

☞ Mr. Carnegie's example is bound to be contagious to some extent. His sturdy dictum that it is a disgrace to a man to die rich, backed by his own methods, is bound to be felt all about the walls of our plutocratic Jericho. Other multi-millionaires, especially those who are now entering that rank, are going to have their thoughts directed to the public weal and to a study of the methods by which each can individually distinguish himself by advancing the interests of humanity. Such recognition of the trusteeship of the plutocrat will take out much of the sting of the present commercial order and do away with the serious danger which always accompanies the exhibition of selfishness and greed by those who already possess disproportionate riches.—Dry Goods Economist.

CASES AT DEDHAM.

Quincy Defendants Sentenced to Jail and State's Prison.

The following Quincy and Milton cases were disposed of at the Superior court at Dedham, Tuesday:

Charles N. Perkins, for breaking and entering a dwelling house in Milton was sent to the Dedham House of Correction for three years. Five other complaints, each for a similiar offence, committed at Quincy were placed on file. Perkins is only 19 years of age, but took the sentence very calmly.

Giovanni Capineri, for an assault on a fellow Italian at West Quincy, March 2, 1901, went to the Dedham House of Correction for eight months.

John H. Walker, a Roxbury colored man, got a year in the Dedham House of Correction for breaking and entering the dwelling of Edward Mitchell at East Milton, March 12, 1901.

Arthur Flowers, a boy, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering at Quincy, was put on probation.

Thomas Hennessey and Charles Stewart, having each pleaded guilty to breaking and entering at Quincy, Jan. 24, 1901, the shop of John E. and Daniel Keniley, were sent to the state prison, each for a term of not less than three years nor more than four years. Hennessey told the court that he had already spent 14 years in prison, and Stewart said he had served one term of three years.

Castle Square Understudies.

The performance to be given at Quincy Music Hall, this Friday evening by the understudies of the Castle Square Theatre, is to materialize, despite the efforts of nine or ten days of rain to disfavor all things in general, material or otherwise. If the night is fair as it is hoped it will be, a crowd purposes attending from within the limits of Boston, and even as far off as Cambridge.

To them and all others who purpose honoring the company with their presence, it might be stated that cars will leave the turn-out at Quincy Music Hall after the play, connecting with Boston and all other points. Another thing might be added which is intended for all late comers. The overture will commence at 7.55 and the curtain will rise promptly at 8.

By reason of the indisposition of Miss Brophy who was to have played the part, Mrs. Morgan will be played by Miss Avonia Eldridge, a well known Quincy girl. This was entirely out of the general order of things, and should lend a considerable degree of interest for many people.

Tickets are now on sale at the Music Hall Pharmacy. The prices are fifteen twenty-five, and thirty-five cents.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of Henry Rosen for receiving stolen property was heard and again continued until Thursday morning, when he will be held in $500 for the grand jury.

LADIES' NIGHT.

Granite City Club Royally Entertain Their Ladies.

Ladies' night was observed by the Granite City Club Tuesday evening and although the inclement weather prevented as large an attendance as was expected there were many present and they were well repaid for braving the elements for the evening proved one of enjoyment.

The first part of the evening an entertainment was given in Colonial hall by the University Quintet. The program included selections by the quartet; solos by the individual members and readings of a humorous nature by Mr. F. I. Brown. Encores were general and graciously responded to. The work of the quartet was good and the tenor solo "Heart's Delight," by Mr. A. W. Ferguson was exceptionally fine and fully merited the rousing encore it received.

The readings by Mr. Brown were good but perhaps that which pleased the audience the most was "Romeo and Juliet," written by Shakespeare, transcribed by Kipling to the animal kingdom and by Brown to the hen yard.

At the conclusion of the entertainment the guests returned to the club rooms on the upper floor which had undergone a transformation scene during the entertainment. Each of the card tables was adorned with a large cluster of handsome tulips and set with dainty china. One of the billiard tables had been transformed to a dining table. In the centre was a handsome candelabra. The table was also strewn with pinks and smilax.

The floral decorations which were by Patterson, were greatly admired, and the ladies fully appreciated the handsome pinks with which each was presented.

A light lunch was served at the conclusion of which a social hour was passed, while those who desired indulged in the ever popular game of whist.

New Music.

An inspiring march song has recently been issued, with the title of "When they Play 'God Save the King.'" The song is just as interesting as its title, for it is based on the fact that "America" and "God Save the King" are sung to the same melody. "Every Darkey Had a Raglan On" is the title of a convulsingly funny coon song which is the reigning hit in New York theatres. "'Tis All I Ask" is one of those beautiful semi-popular love songs by Otto Heinzmann, the composer of "Sometimes, Dear Heart." The quaintest song of the season is "Jane, Jane, Jane," Heelan and Helf's new waltz song. Dainty words and dainty melody make it a charming number. Charles Shackford, the composer spoken of as "enshrined in the hearts of all music lovers," has a beautiful new ballad entitled "Just at the Turn of the Tide," a story of love of surpassing loveliness. The above publications are issued this month by Jos. W. Stern & Co., who are also agents for the celebrated S. S. Stewart Banjos and the George Bauer Mandolins and Guitars. They will be pleased to send their illustrated catalogue free, upon application to their main offices, 34 E. 21st Street, New York.

Communication of Mayor Warns City Council

That Annual Appropriations Are Too Large.

An Order for Investigation of Plumbing Ruled Out.

Financial matters were prominent at the meeting of the City Council Tuesday evening, when the annual appropriation order came up for passage.

Because of a note of warning from the Mayor and the fact that the Annual Reports of 1900 have not been printed, action was postponed.

Mayor Hall sent in a veto of a loan order but it was not sustained. Another attempt to get after the Inspector of Plumbing was quashed.

The absentees were Councilman Hultman, Newcomb and Sherman.

A communication of Mayor Hall remonstrated against the reduction in his estimates of the year for clerical services to the Tax Collector, maintenance of Water department and maintenance of Sewer department, claiming the amounts proposed in the order were not adequate. The Mayor also warned the Council that the appropriations proposed were in excess of the $12 limit allowed by law by $4,445. The communication in full will appear in the Thursday's Ledger. Received and placed on file.

APPOINTMENT.

The Mayor gave notice of the appointment of William T. Isaac as Sewer Commissioner in place of Frederick L. Jones resigned.

CLAIMS.

The claims of the abutters of Copeland and Arthur streets having been referred to the Executive, the Mayor notified the Council that the department had no money to settle such claims.

BUILDING LAWS.

A petition of the Master Builders and Traders' Association requested the appointment of a committee to cooperate with a committee of the Association in framing a building ordinance for the City of Quincy. The following committee has been appointed by the Association: J. W. Pratt, Julius Johnson and George H. Field. Referred to joint committee on Public Buildings and Ordinances.

WORKS AT NUT ISLAND.

Notice was received from the Harbor and Land Commissioners of a hearing to be given on petition of the Metropolitan Water and Sewer board, relative to the construction of wharf and riprap embankments at Nut Island. The Committee on Legislative Matters and the Mayor were requested to appear.

BILLS OF 1899.

The Commissioner of Public Works reported a deficiency bill of $467.00, for the plumbing of the Coddington and Wollaston schools under Commissioner Cavanagh. Referred to Committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

A VETO.

Mayor Hall returned without his approval the loan order of $6,500 for the purchase of the lots to enlarge the Washington school lot, because of the financial arrangement. He was opposed to loan being spread over ten years.

Councilman Freeman said all conversant with finances of the city knew that the high tax rates had been caused by the haphazard way the loans had been made and the large sums that had matured. The policy of ten year loans which has been inaugurated would give relief. He favored passing over the Mayor's veto.

The order was passed by a vote of 17 to 2 as follows:

Yeas, — Adams, Alden, Callahan, Craig, DeNormandie, Elcock, Freeman, Gassett, Hadlock, Hughes, Langelier, McLennan, Nicol, Smith, Spargo and Thompson—17.

Nays—Bass and Faxon—2.

Absent—Hultman, Newcomb, Sherman.

Not voting—President Bryant.

SEWER APPROPRIATION.

The Sewer Commissioners asked an appropriation of $6,000 for house connections. To Committee on Sewers and Drains.

EDISON STREET.

A petition was received for the acceptance of Edison street. To Committee on Streets.

PETITIONS.

Several applications were received for State Aid and Licenses of various kinds which were referred.

A petition for a light on Federal avenue was referred to the Executive.

A remonstrance was received from the abutters on Granite street to the proposed concrete sidewalk. To Committee on Streets.

The order for refund of taxes to Mary McAuley was amended and adopted.

The Finance Committee reported ought not to pass on order of $150 for John A. Boyd camp for Memorial Day. Accepted.

ASSISTANT ASSESSORS.

The Joint Committee on Finance and Ordinances reported an amendment to the order for the appointment of two Assistant Assessors, making the number six, one from each ward.

Other perfecting amendments were ordered by Councilman Nichols and adopted.

Councilman Freeman raised the point of order that the report purported to have come from the Committee on Finance, but said committee had not considered it.

It seems a communication had been referred to one joint committee and an order to another joint committee, and they had become mixed.

Point of order sustained and order recommitted.

ORDERS.

Orders for State aid were adopted.

The new ordinance concerning the acceptance of streets, was passed 19 to 0.

The order for new lights in different parts of the city was passed unanimously; also the order for changes of several lights.

SCHOOLHOUSE PLANS.

Councilman Adams offered an order requesting the Commissioner of Public Works to secure plans for a 12-room schoolhouse at Quincy Point. To Committee on Public Buildings.

PAVING ORDER.

Councilman Nicol offered an order appropriating $10,000 for paving 1,300 feet on Quarry street west of Kidder street. To Committee on Streets.

An order introduced by Councilman McLennan for relocation of lights at corner of Brooks avenue and Centre street was adopted.

ANOTHER SIDEWALK.

Councilman Langelier offered an order appropriating $2,500 for a concrete sidewalk 1,800 feet long on Rawson road. To Committee on Streets.

INVITATION TO PRESIDENT.

Councilman Adams offered the following:

Ordered—That this City Council, having in mind the high honor that would be conferred upon this city by the presence of the Chief Executive of the United States, does hereby request his Honor the Mayor to extend a hearty invitation, in behalf of the citizens of Quincy, to his Excellency William McKinley, President of the United States, to visit this city during his proposed trip to Massachusetts.

Councilman Adams said the details could be arranged after acceptance. Upon his motion the rules were suspended and the order adopted unanimously.

PLUMBING.

Councilman DeNormandie offered the following:

Ordered—That the sum of $100 be and is hereby appropriated, so much thereof as may be necessary, to be expended under the direction of the Mayor for the purpose of employing competent Master Plumber, who is not now, and never has been a citizen of Quincy, and who is not now and never has been, directly or indirectly engaged in the plumbing business in said city to inspect the several alleged violations of the plumbing ordinances of this city as set forth in the recent charges preferred by the Board of Health against the Inspector of Plumbing.

The person so employed shall make a careful and thorough inspection of each specific alleged violation of the plumbing ordinances and report his findings in detail upon each case in writing and in duplicate one copy of which report shall be filed with the Mayor and one copy thereof transmitted directly to the City Council.

The Mayor is hereby directed to carry into effect the provisions of this order with the least possible delay, the expense thereof to be charged to any unexpended balance or any unappropriated monies.

The President ruled the order out of order, giving as his reason, in reply to Councilman DeNormandie, that it was an interference with the duties of the Mayor.

Councillman DeNormandie appealed. He did not see how it could interfere with the duties of the Mayor. The plumbing of the city should be examined.

President Bryant said he did not care except on a point of ruling. The Board of Health had already judicated on the charges and had disposed of them.

Councilman De Normandie queried if it was any less interference for the Council to pass an investigation order when the Board of Health was holding an investigation.

Called to order by President and directed to confine himself to the subject.

Councilman De Normandie, continuing, did not see how it interfered with Mayor in the slightest.

The chair was sustained.

ORDERS PASSED.

For transfer in Poor department, account of 1900.

For discontinuance of Forrest street.

For change of grade of portion of Sea street.

Order for $6000 for street watering.

APPROPRIATION ORDER.

The annual appropriation order took its second reading.

On motion of Councilman Freeman, the sum of $450 was added to the appropriation for Assessors to provide for Assistant Assessors, and the item for interest on city debt was increased $236.25 to provide for new oans.

Councilman DeNormandie moved to recommit together with communication of the Mayor.

Councilman Freeman objected. He claimed the Finance Committee had very carefully considered each item. Information relative to receipts, had been received from the City Treasurer, and indications were that they would amount to $74,000 which would be ample.

Councilman DeNormandie said the annual appropriations should be very carefully considered. The City Books of 1900 were not yet out, and not a few Councilmen were prepared to pass on the items.

Councilman Freeman said the Finance Committee had had the figures of the different departments, and nothing was to be gained by recommitting.

Councilman Nichols moved to lay on the table. He had no criticism of the Committee, but in view of the communication of the Mayor, we should give the order further consideration.

The motion to lay on the table was declared lost, but being doubted, there was a good majority in favor.

Adjourned until April 22.

Rain or No Rain.

A big robin came out of a deep hole in a tree near by and he seemed cast down by the doleful weather. We gave him some crumbs which he ate. He then flew off, but soon returned with seven brothers and sisters, and he seemed to say, "Here we all are." We returned to the house and got more bread. Later we saw them sticking their heads out of this hole in the old apple tree. They are not afraid of the boys. Why should they be when they and the boys enjoy Spring days, rain or no rain.

CLAIMS ARE EXORBITANT

Powers Demand More Indemnity Than China Can Pay

LEAVING OF OUR TROOPS

Not Affected by Mongolian Uprising, as the Time Has Passed When We Can Interfere In Her Internal Affairs and Slate Is Wiped Clean

Washington, April 10.—The cabinet gave some attention yesterday to the subject of indemnity to be required by the powers of China, it being brought forward by Secretary Hay in connection with Mr. Rockhill's dispatches received since the last meeting. Great surprise was expressed at the enormous total of the claims, which, according to the ministers at Pekin approximate the vast sum of $500,000,000.

Moreover, at least one of the powers insists upon keeping the account open until it elects to withdraw entirely from Pekin, at a remote date, to be fixed at its own will, thereby leaving the total of its claim to be increased greatly hereafter. The opinion of the other cabinet officers completely accorded with that of Mr. Hay, as to the desirability of securing a reduction of the claims.

On the same footing with the other powers, our demand is set at $25,000,000, but we have announced our willingness to scale down proportionately with the rest and have put in our plainest protest against the plan to demand more than China can pay. The other powers have thus far manifested no disposition to yield. The difficulty in this case, as compared with other disagreements which have arisen, is that there is no just and universal standard for measuring the injuries respectively suffered by the several powers, though every sign points to the theory that some of the demands are for vindictive rather than actual damages.

There is the highest authority for saying that the uprising in China will make no difference in the arrangements of the United States about the withdrawal of their troops. Our government is not concerned with anything in China beyond the protection of American interests, and the preservation of the territorial integrity of the empire, and in the latter particular it is believed here that we can make our policy more effective through moral influences than by warlike demonstrations in any direction.

Thus far our most potent weapon for the restraint of international greed has been the pressure of the world's opinion. In voicing this opinion we have taken the initiative at every stage of the Chinese imbroglio, and the readiness of all the powers to agree to the course which seemed to the rest of them wisest and fairest, has undoubtedly averted much threatened trouble.

Of course, the present situation suggests some new and vexatious problems, but it is our government's purpose to deal with these individually as they arise and take practical form, always bearing our unchanged general policy in mind. The first question seems to present itself in the possible overthrow of the existing dynasty by the insurgents under General Tung. It can be stated positively that we shall not actively concern ourselves with this, which as things stand now, is purely a domestic interest of the Chinese people.

We shall not, therefore, take any part in either putting down the rebellion or defending the dynasty. Had events taken another turn last summer, we might have become involved in a concerted action with the European powers for the protection of the emperor. But his flight from Pekin, his refusal to return, even under the strongest guarantees, the necessity forced upon all Christendom to be united in a military campaign for the rescue of the besieged legations, the persistent neglect of some of the conditions of the American note of July 23, and the continued dominance of treacherous or openly hostile influences at the imperial court, have wiped the slate clean.

We are now as good a friend of China as ever, and as ready as heretofore to put forth our strongest efforts to prevent her dismemberment, but the time has obviously passed when we can interfere in her internal affairs, even to help put down a revolt which menaces her capacity for paying her debts.

A New Move by Russia

London, April 10.—Russia has now changed her tactics, says a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Tokio, and is making desperate efforts to secure not only Japan's neutrality, but her benevolent assistance toward Russia's far eastern schemes.

Wants Indemnity of $90,000,000

London, April 10.—According to the St Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, Russia will demand indemnity from China to the amount of $90,000,000.

Attributed to the Kaiser

Berlin April 10.—According to the Frankfurter Zeitung, Emperor William, at the unveiling of the monument to Emperor William I, March 31, made a speech to his entourage in which the doctrine of "bayonets vs. an unruly people" was a strongly marked feature.

Batch of Students Released

St. Petersburg, April 10.—The new minister of public instruction, General Vannovsky, has lost no time in exercising clemency, but has already liberated 283 students. It is expected that he will introduce drastic reforms.

Coal Workers Yield

Marseilles, April 10.—The coal workers decided to resume work yesterday, and with this decision the prolonged strike came finally to an end.

GRANTED RESPITE

Life of Murderer Storti Prolonged Thirty Days by Governor

Boston, April 10.—The executive council yesterday, by a unanimous vote, recommended that the governor grant a respite to Luigi Storti, now under sentence of death at the state prison, until May 11, 1901. The governor, therefore, granted the respite, which is practically a 30 days' reprieve.

In his remarks before the council Governor Crane made it very plain that his desire to grant the additional lease of life to the condemned man was due solely to the physical condition of the prisoner, and that no witness had appeared or word come to cause him to change his belief that the murder was premeditated and done in cold blood.

Clarence W. Rowley, counsel for Storti, said that he did not know what would be the next legal step to be taken in the interest of his client.

The reprieve was read to Storti in his cell in state prison late in the afternoon by Dr. De Amazago, Warden Bridges being present at the time. Storti appeared to be in a stupor, and, while probably not understanding the words of the document read, he did catch the purport, and it dawned upon him that his life had been prolonged. A few minutes later he feebly spoke to the doctor and warden in words that meant thankfulness for their efforts in securing delay of execution. Storti's condition does not show any material change, but the prison physicians say he undoubtedly has improved slightly.

To Hold Another Conference

Boston, April 10.—Another conference between the milk producers and the contractors will be held today, and should an agreement be reached at that time there is likely to be a very radical change in the entire situation. The spirit of yesterday's mass meeting was very encouraging to the farmers. The contractors have offered a flat price of 31 cents, but there are conditions attached to the offer which condemns it in the eyes of the farmers. The mass meeting passed a vote demanding 32 cents, but the matter is left to the discretion of the board of directors.

No Diminution of Fever Cases

New Haven, April 10.—The official report of cases in the typhoid epidemic in this city last night reached 211, and it is probable that the total cases number nearly 300. The reports of new cases are still coming in at an alarmingly increased rate from day to day. The epidemic is not yet of a week's duration, and it is expected that the death rate, when the cases have had time to develop, will be large, as all reports indicate that the disease has taken a malignant form.

Skull Fractured With a Bat

Rockland, Me., April 10.—James Fury of Bangor, whose skull was fractured late Tuesday night during a row in a place kept by Fred Savage, is still at the police station in a precarious condition, although he is expected to recover. Savage will be kept locked up until it is definitely settled whether Fury will survive. The prisoner admits having used a baseball bat that was found broken in his saloon, to defend himself with.

Boston Firms Burned Out

Boston, April 10.—The two upper floors of the five-story block, 42 to 46 Arch street, occupied by Henry C. Whitcomb & Co., electrotypers, and the Forbes Lithographing company, was entirely gutted by fire last night. The other occupants of the block, including the Smith Premier Typewriter company and Seth W. Fuller, electric goods, were badly damaged by water and smoke. The total loss is about $50,000.

Combine to Control Sewer Pipe

Pittsburg, April 10.—Negotiations are now on for the consolidation of all the sewer pipe manufacturers into one corporation, with a capital of about $11,000,000. With such a combination as is being meditated, all of the clay sewer pipe output in the United States will be controlled by the new company.

No Cigarets In Texas

Austin, April 10.—The 27th Texas legislative session adjourned sine die yesterday. The house passed a bill which entirely prohibits the sale of cigarets in Texas.

BABY'S BUSINESS

A healthy baby is comfortable; and that is enough for a baby. His business in life is to grow.

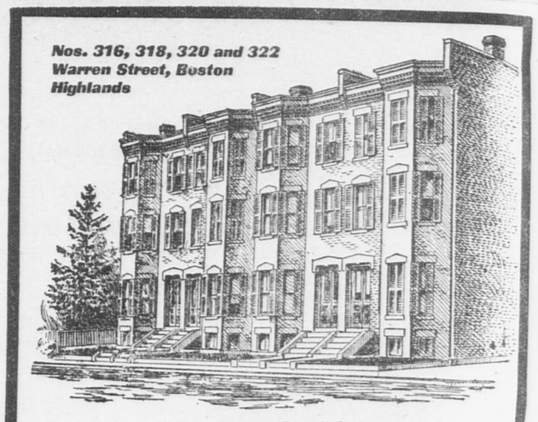

Aside from acute diseases, his food is the cause of most of his troubles. But Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil delivers him from it.

He isn't sick; only a little hitch, somewhere, in his machine for turning food into growth.

It is a great thing to do, for a baby, to help him over a hitch with mere food—the emulsion is food that has the tact to get there.

The tact to get there is medicine.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Appreciates Russian Friendship

Nice, April 10.—President Loubet and M. Delcasse last evening received Admiral Birileff and four other Russian naval officers, who had disembarked at Villefranche. At the banquet in honor of the Russian officers, M. Loubet proposed the health of the czar, "who, in sending you hither to salute the President of the French republic, has proved once more the constancy of his sentiment for a friendly allied nation."

Shipwrecked Seamen Rescued

Baltimore, April 10.—Steamship State of Texas, which arrived here yesterday, had on board Captain Berry and the crew of six men of the wrecked schooner Erie, picked up at sea last Sunday. The Erie was wrecked the day before on Frying Pan shoals, and her master and crew were drifting almost exhausted on a raft, which was slowly sinking when rescued by Captain Eldridge of the State of Texas.

The Goldsborough's Performance

Washington, April 10.—So far as the standardizing trial goes, the torpedo boat Goldsborough is believed to have broken all American records. A dispatch from Lieutenant Commander Peters of the naval trial board, dated at Seattle, reads: "Goldsborough standardizing trials completed; over measured mile gave average speed 30.84. Official trial probably Thursday."

Mike Conley Suspected of Murder

Cincinnati, April 10.—Mike Conley, a former pugilist and known as "the Ithaca giant," is under arrest, charged with being implicated in the murder of Charles D. THIRTY-ONE CENTS A CAN

The Price Finally Agreed Upon by Producers and Contractors—Late Contest Was Worked at Considerable Loss to Both Sides

Boston, April 11.—Milk contractors and the directors of the New England Milk Producers' union met in conference yesterday afternoon, and agreed to a settlement of the existing milk war on the basis of 31 cents a can, straight price, the contractors taking the risk of surplus on a basis of 2 cents a can.

This settles the fight which has been carried on for the past 10 days. The settlement was reached by mutual concessions. The contractors conceded that the stipulation on their contract cards, under which they claimed the right to change prices at any time during the season was not equitable, and agreed that no such change should be made without an approving vote of the contractors' and union's directors. The contractors also conceded the demand for a straight price in preference to a higher price with a surplus charge back.

The price agreed upon is a little lower than the net price, based on last year's figures—about .1 cent per can—but the desire of the producers was so strong for a straight price for milk that they agreed to this proposition. A better figure seemed to be out of the question, and any insistence in that direction would have caused a breaking off of the negotiations.

The producers allow the contractors 2 cents a can in order to be free from the surplus charge-back, so that it shall fall heaviest upon the producers near Boston, and lightest upon those shipping from remote points.

A small minority of the directors were inclined to hold out for the 31½-cent price, and one favored a 32-cent straight price. The great majority, however, believed the 31-cent offer, under the conditions which accompanied it, a fair one, and voted for it.

Doubtless some of the radicals will believe that this was an unwise settlement, but the great body of producers will probably commend it. The contractors have demonstrated their ability to supply the Boston market, even if the union members withhold their milk. It cannot be done to such advantage as is possible if the New England milk finds its natural market here, but its possibilities have been shown.

On the other hand the union has shown its power to shut off over two-thirds of Boston's normal supply. In the late contest both sides worked at a loss, and the natural thing to do under the circumstances was to settle upon a fair basis, if possible.

The contractors say it will take three days to secure the return of cans which are being sent to other districts for milk, but that as soon as these cans are returned they will be shipped to their usual producers. The regular shipments will therefore begin about Saturday morning. If any producers are so fortunate as to have cans of the contractors they are at liberty to begin shipping milk at once.

So far as the contractors are concerned they sustain the surplus loss at the cost of 2 cents, and maintain practically the net price of last year, which was the highest for many seasons. In other words, they still pay at the rate of 33 cents a can for milk, by assuming the responsibility for any loss caused by over production.

New Haven Epidemic Grows

New Haven, April 11.—The situation in the typhoid fever epidemic shows no improvement over that of the past few days. The reports from cases are steadily increasing, the figures at the health board at noon yesterday showing 260 cases, while by 6 o'clock the number had grown to 285. As has been the case during the earlier days of the epidemic, these official figures do not show the actual amount of the disease, but indicate rather the situation a day or two previous.

Professor Goodwin Resigns

Cambridge, Mass., April 11.—Professor William W. Goodwin, Eliot professor of Greek literature at Harvard for the past 41 years, yesterday handed in his resignation, which will take effect at the close of the present college year. He is 70 years old and since 1856 has served the college in various capacities. He was born in Concord Mass., in 1831. Professor Goodwin is the author of a number of works, and has a wide international reputation.

NEGOTIATING FOR PEACE

Botha Considers It Useless to Fight, as De Wet's Intellect Has Weakened

Cape Town, April 11.—General Botha has reopened negotiations with the British for peace. As explained here, this action was determined in part by General Botha's discovery at a recent meeting that General De Wet's intellect had weakened, that his influence with his followers was diminishing, and that a continuance of the campaign, in view of General De Wet's irresponsibility, rested with General Botha alone.

GENERAL CHRISTIAN DE WET.

It is understood here that, although General De Wet at his recent interview with General Botha refused to surrender, General Botha, regarding him as irresponsible, undertakes to negotiate in behalf of the entire Boer forces. The British authorities here consider that if General Botha surrenders, De Wet's following can be easily taken.

London, April 11.—The report that General Botha has renewed the negotiations with Lord Kitchener is not yet officially confirmed, but it is generally credited and received with satisfaction, except by the ultra-jingoes, who fear that the government will renew the terms recently rejected.

Regarding General De Wet's mental condition reports have been very conflicting for some time. His recent inactivity points to there being some truth in the rumors, which allege that long continued hardships, under the harrassing British pursuit, have unhinged his mind.

On the other hand a correspondent of The Times quite recently acknowledged the "wonderful foresight and fertility of resource" which characterized General De Wet's retreat from Cape Colony.

Transport Rawlins Under Water

New York, April 11.—The United States army transport Rawlins, which was to have sailed at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Cuban ports, is lying with her saloon deck awash in 30 feet of water to the south of the army pier, Brooklyn. Fire was discovered aft of the Rawlins' main engine room, and so many thousands of gallons of water had been pumped into the transport's hold that she keeled over and settled until her keel touched bottom. Four men were overcome by smoke. The property loss will be $50,000. It will cost perhaps $20,000 more to pump her out and raise her.

Tri-Colored and Old Glory Mingled

Washington, April 11.—At the ball given last night by the French ambassador in honor of the French naval officers and cadets of the training ship Duguay Trouin, something of an international significance was given by the entwining of the French tri-color and the American Stars and Stripes, the presence of nearly all of the members of the cabinet and their wives, and the fraternizing of officers of all branches of the United States military and naval service with their companions in arms from the sister republic of France.

Critical Situation on the Penobscot

Bangor, Me., April 11.—From Bangor and half a dozen miles below to the head waters of the river, the Penobscot is a whirling, muddy mass of turbulent water, full of floating ice and logs. The situation upon the river is without question the most serious that has been known in a great many years. The water is higher by five inches than it was during the great freshet of February, 1896, and much higher than at any time for 20 years previous to that. The situation is considered critical.

Question Still Undecided

Havana, April 11.—The Cuban constitutional convention at yesterday's session took no action regarding the proposal to appoint a commission to go to Washington in reference to the future relations between Cuba and the United States. The whole time was taken up by Juan Gomez and General Sanguily, who made long and impassioned speeches, the former against the Platt amendment and the latter in its favor.

Discouraging to Crusaders

Chicago, April 11.—Alderman Michael Kenna ("Hinky Dink") prominent in "levee" politics, who was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Kate M. Boyd, secretary of the Anti-Vice Crusade society, charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday, was acquitted by a jury yesterday. Attorneys for the defense were severe in their examination of Mrs. Boyd, who announced that she will take no further action in the matter.

Permits Limited Boxing Contests

Albany, April 11.—The Brooks bill, to permit amateur boxing exhibitions throughout the state, was reported favorably today by the assembly codes committee. The bill provides for four-round contests between amateur boxers in good standing in the Amateur Athletic union, and is framed so as to prevent any professional pugilist from taking advantage of it.

Bicycle Gossip
Riding a bicycle is one of the most delightful ways of getting exercise, reducing flesh, at the same time building brains and muscle.
Mr. Pickwick used to say, "Always shout with the crowd, and when there are two crowds, shout with the largest."
His wisdom you can readily apply to the bicycle situation, for the low prices on Sterling Wheels will bring them within the reach of everyone, and will increase two fold the number of bicycle riders.

Good Afternoon.

The newspapers which have made considerable of the crusade of Mrs. Carrie Nation in Kansas were delighted when they heard that Henry H. Faxon had given the pastors of Quincy $100 each for "promoting the moral, spiritual social and political welfare of the people." The newspapers scented sensational news which the public seem to demand, and special men have been sent out, not only by the Boston dailies but by the New York dailies. The newspapers seem delighted when a woman or a clergyman takes up a fight against liquor or vice, as illustrated by the appointment of ministers as liquor officers, or their election as sheriff.

Quincy ministers, however, have disappointed the Metropolitan dailies, and said papers have not found the condition in this city such as would warrant an aggressive fight. As a Quincy policeman said, when interviewed, bowling alleys do not flourish in this city, and the two we had a few years ago have closed for lack of support, and the buildings converted into stores. Today there is only one public bowling alley in the city and but two clubs have bowling alleys, so that they cannot be said to flourish in a city, of 25,000. The pool rooms are not numerous and have a precarious existence.

Perhaps the millennium has not reached Quincy, but people who take a pride in their city, may well claim that it has less vice than any other city of 25,000 population in the world, and they dislike to have the impression get abroad that it is otherwise. If any figures are necessary to substantiate this statement, they are the low amounts found necessary each year for the Police department and the support of the poor.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

Last night another town meeting (No. 9) was held in Braintree. Hon. F. A. Hobart was moderator. It was voted to pay the moderator for his services during the year $35. Last year he received $5 for each meeting, a total of $65. About twenty-five small appropriations were made, amounting to nearly $30,000. At 10.10 P. M., the meeting was adjourned till Wednesday evening, April 17.

The last four town meetings have been slimly attended, on account of rain and also because the voters are being made weary by the many meetings.

NO CRUSADE.

The Gift of H. H. Faxon Has Attracted National Interest.

The gift of Mr. Henry H. Faxon of $100 to each of the 23 pastors of Quincy has not only received considerable space in the Boston dailies, but the New York World today has interviews with some of the Quincy pastors. People at a distance may receive a wrong impression from Mr. Faxon's letter, as to the prevalence of vice in this city, and they are probably wondering why the ministers are so lukewarm in making an aggressive fight, but the pastors interviewed are not those who believe in revivals generally, and as to a crusade against pool rooms they see no urgent need in Quincy of such a fight.

The Record has interviewed a few of the Quincy pastors and the interviews will be of interest:

Rev. E. C. Butler, of the First Congregational (Unitarian) church, of which Mr. Faxon himself is a member, seemed to be surprised that more than one way of employing his check could be even suggested.

"I have already endorsed the check," said Mr. Butler, "and turned it over to the church committee.

"I did not take it, that in accepting the check one was bound to enter upon any particular crusade. A latitude in its disposal is to my mind allowed, that makes the effect of Mr. Faxon's donation the same as had he simply deposited the check in the contribution box.

"The letter? This one is not the first communication of the kind received from Mr. Faxon.

"Of course, he feels very strongly on the temperance question, and when he hits, he hits hard, perhaps harder than he intends."

Rev. E. N. Hardy of the Bethany Congregational church said:

"The church committee has not acted, and personally I have not decided as to just what use Mr. Faxon's contribution should be put.

"I hardly think, however, that it will be used for any 'political' purpose. Bethany raises fully one-third of the no-license campaign fund annually, and inthis respect we are already doing our full duty.

"The church is engaged in every form of philanthropic work and by applying Mr. Faxon's check to any of its branches we should assist in what he seeks to carry out.

"My idea perhaps would be that the $100 check should be banked as a separate account and used in general accordance with Mr. Faxon's suggestions."

Rev. G. A. Strong, rector of Christ church, Episcopal:

"The decision rests with the committee as well as with the pastor. Until the committee has been consulted I am not prepared to make any statement.

"It appears from Mr. Faxon's letter that he gives the churches wide discretion as to the uses which they are to make of the money, specifying only the moral, spiritual social and political welfare of the city.

"Therefore I presume that the officials of Christ church will feel justified in availing themselves of that latitude."

Mr. Strong was quite certain, however, that no "crusade" would be undertaken.

Rev. James Todd, D.D., of the First Presbyterian church.

"In my judgment acceptance doe not commit us to any reform work other than we are now doing here.

"Since August we have spent $3,000 improving our property. We owe $1,300, and will apply this money toward paying off the balance of this debt.

"The check has not been formally accepted yet, but I shall advise the committee to accept it, and it will used for no specific object whatever except that I have indicated."

The clergyman who did not receive a check is Rev. Fr. Francis Friguglietti of St. John's. "Had Mr. Faxon sent me a check," said the father I should have been compelled to return it with my compliments."

The Ledger has interviewed, Rev. A. F. Roche of the other Catholic parish of Quincy, who was among the beneficiaries. Fr. Roche was pleased to be remembered and thought Mr. Faxon was exhibiting a broad Christian spirit in not discriminating. The check would be used for regular church work.

An official of the Quincy police department was asked by the Record whether in his opinion, Quincy needs an anti-vice crusade.

"I don't believe it," said the official. "I think the city is pretty clean. There is not much crime. Mr. Faxon was aroused over pool rooms, because there were one or two complaints of minors playing without permission of their parents. As for bowling-alleys, there were two here once, one is used for a fish-market now and the other is used for a shop too. No, I don't think Quincy needs a crusade."

NO CRUSADE

The Post sums up the situation very accurately It says:

The Quincy vice crusade instigated by the redoubtable Henry Faxon has not yet begun work. Indeed it looks very much as if Mr. Faxon would be obliged to dispense with the active services of the various clergymen of the city, among whom the sum of $2,300, extracted from Brother Faxon's stout wallet, was distributed.

Up to date none of the beneficiaries have taken advantage of Mr. Faxon's offer to take them on a personal tour of Quincy in order to show up the dens of vice lurking within the city limits in the shape of so-called clubs, pool rooms and bowling alleys.

Indeed, the clergymen seem to ignore that part of Mr. Faxon's letter of gift, and rely on the opening portion, where he says the money is to be used in "promoting the spiritual, social and political welfare of the city of Quincy."

Most of them propose to add the donated amount to their general fund and use it in the same channels as the regular church donations.

The supposed bombshell has really fallen in a lukewarm atmosphere.

But Mr. Faxon is not discouraged. For years he has been the moral censor of the city of Quincy, fighting the liquor traffic with a skill and vigor borne of long experience. The result is that today there is not even a druggist's license in the city. Kitchen bar rooms, if they exist, must indeed be deeply hidden if they escape Mr. Faxon's active search.

Now he sighs for more worlds to conquer, not being content with having purged Quincy of liquor selling. The so-called clubs, pool rooms and bowling alleys, where minors are wont to congregate, are to be attacked.

For this reason Mr. Faxon issued his letter donating the thousand to the churches. The clergymen seem rather shy of undertaking an active crusade against vice, for when Mr. Faxon puts on his war paint and sallies forth in search of the monster it means days and nights of hard work.

The police force of the city is not relied on by Mr. Faxon so much as hard personal work by citizens in hunting vice.

For twenty years Mr. Faxon has given time and money to the one object of keeping the city of Quincy clean.

While he now says that the city is in better shape than it ever was before, yet he is not satisfied with conditions.

For that reason he thinks the crusade necessary to a final purging of the evils existing.

APRIL SHOWERS.

Nuggets of News Fall in All Parts of the City.

A Freshet Which Overflows Ledger Columns.

The Pitter Patter Heard During Night and Day.

Showery today.

The sun is still hidden.

Patriots' day a week from tomorrow.

The "ads" of Brooks & Ames attract considerable attention.

The prospects of a pleasant day seems as far off as at any time for a week.

Mrs. Wainwright and family have returned to 264 Washington street, Quincy Point.

The Woman's alliance will give a shirt waist party in Brasee's hall, Wollaston, next week.

The moon changes tonight at 10.57; can we hope for pleasant weather, or must we wait for the new moon, April 18?

The "ad" of George W. Jones is in a new border today. The spring is the time for a new dress, and Mr. Jones sells a very fine fitting, dressy shoe.

George P. Mead and George Wendell were the two gentlemen fortunate enough to secure the silver spoons at the whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday night.

The ladies of Wollaston are invited to listen to an address by Mr. F. E. Parlin, on "Delivering the child from evil," at the Unitarian vestry on Wednesday April 17, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be under the auspices of the branch of the Woman's alliance.

The supper and social of the First church, Wednesday evening, was largely attended and was one of the most enjoyable of those held. Supper was served early in the evening, following which was a social and informal welcome home of Rev. Ellery C. Butler, the pastor. Mr. Butler spoke briefly of his recent trip South.

The program for the Unity club on Friday evening of this week is in the hands of Mrs. L. Washburn, Netherlands being the subject. Mr. Sampson, principal of the Quincy school, Mr. Southworth of Quincy High school, and Mr. Hallett, a Boston artist, will give papers. Miss Edna M. Goullaud and Mr. Charles D. Waterman, members of the Boston Cecilia club will, sing.

The Clerk's Rehearsal.

The dress rehearsal of the Quincy Grocers Clerks' Association was as usual a scene of bustle and confusion. The stage littered with props, the "kids" under foot and everyone doing the best in his power to add to the general wildness of a last rehearsal.

Chinamen and seamen from the U. S. Battleship Dixon, mingled with the ballet and jersey lilies, and the good-natured endmen, with the usual facial cavity, grinned at the stern but good-looking interlocutor.

Mr. Skinner, the flash-light man, has a rather startled, but permanent impression of the circle, and Al Taber from his aerial perch in the balcony, distributed different hues and shades from the calcium. Soloists and chorus were evidently saving their strength for a full outburst of harmony tonight. But as a whole, the last of many rehearsals proved satisfactory to all concerned, and don't (on account of the weather) miss seeing the boys.

ANNUAL BUDGET.

Too Small in Three Items Says the Mayor.

In Aggregate $4,445.22 Too Large.

Has Since Been Increased $686.25 by the City Council.

The communication of Mayor Hall to the City Council this week, relative to the annual appropriations of the city for 1901, is worthy of more consideration than some of the Councilmen were disposed to give it, even though they did not agree with His Honor. Every communication is entitled to respect, especially such an important one as this, as the appropriations concern all the taxpayers, many of whom are clamoring for lower taxes.

The letter in full:

Charles M. Bryant Esq., President of the City Council:

Dear Sir: I see that in reporting the appropriation bill the Committee of Finance has reduced the clerical service from $780 to $520 for the Collector. This amount will not be sufficient, and is hardly fair to the Collector as he has in former years employed two and three extra clerks at different seasons of the year which he has paid from his additional receipts.

As those receipts are now paid into the Treasury it is necessary that the needed clerical force should be provided for the proper transaction of the business of the department.

I trust the Council will amend the amount as originally recommended.

Water maintenance as provided for will not be sufficient to carry through the year, and sewer maintenance is not enough to properly maintain the efficiency of the system, but if the Council will give me more money later in the season that arrangement will be satisfactory.

The sub-division of the appropriation for water maintenance is a violation of the charter and is therefore illegal, and should be stricken from the bill.

The spending of money of the city is purely an executive function, and cannot be exercised by the Council. I trust these matters will be adjusted by the Council before the bill is passed.

The changes made in the items as reported by me in the bill of estimates needed for the transaction of the business of the year have carried the amount beyond the total which the Council can appropriate, and the appropriation bill should therefore be readjusted before the Council passes it to be ordained.

The amount which we can appropriate for current expenses is, on the $12 per $1,000 of valuation $236,230. The receipts of last year were $50,632.78, making the total amount $286,862.78.

The total of my original estimate was, $183,132; Add amount by school committee, $108,365; Total, $291,497.

Deduct amount named by Council viz. New hose, $2,600; Dwyer award, $2,050; total, $4,650; giving total of $286,847.

Amount reported by the Finance Committee, $295,958.00; Correct amount, $291,512.78; Needed reduction, $4,445.22.

I trust these matters will be adjusted that the bill may be put on its final passage, properly apportioned.

Mill Hands Exposed to Smallpox

Fitchburg, Mass., April 11.—John Begnoche, 21 years old, had been sick for 10 days without the attendance of a doctor. Tuesday night a physican was called in, who pronounced the disease a genuine case of smallpox. The patient died yesterday. A great many people have been exposed to infection, as his sisters have worked in the mills every day since he was taken sick.

Babineau's Big Family Sick

Springfield, Mass., April 11.—Nine of the 17 children of Philip Babineau of Chicopee are sick with what is declared to be typhoid fever, and the board of health is taking precautions against the disease. It was at first thought the children were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes.

THE VETO MESSAGE.

Mayor Hall Opposed to 10-Year Loan But is Overruled.

The text of Mayor Hall's veto of the School Lot Loan will be of interest. His Honor had but little support in the City Council, where the necessity of the new schoolhouse probably overshadowed all else, but at the same time there is a desire generally to reduce the debt and interest:

Quincy, April 5, 1901.

Charles M. Bryant, Esq., President of the City Council:—

Dear Sir, — I return without my signature order 51 for the purchase of land for the schoolhouse at the Point, but only because of its financial arrangement.

Believing it to be for the best interest of the city to abandon the policy of borrowing money to the extent to which it has been done, I am utterly opposed to making loans for so long a time as ten years. Had this loan been arranged on a seven year basis I should have given it my approval, but I believe it is incumbent on this Council to inaugurate such a system of finance as will tend to the gradual reduction of the city debt, and at once reduce the burden of interest.

A serious mistake was made when we begun this system of borrowing and the sooner we take measures to reduce both debt and interest the greater will be the prosperity of the city.

Out of thirty-eight cities and towns in this vicinity, only five have a higher tax rate than ours and most of them have a very much lower rate.

We are quite likely to be called upon to provide for an addition to the High schoolhouse this year and to build a new schoolhouse at the Point, and with the amount of money which we must borrow for these purposes our further increase in the debt should be confined to the smallest amount.

We ought not to increase the debt at all for streets, and our borrowings for sidewalks and edgestones should be for a term not exceeding five years.

Of our municipal debt $68,605.61 falls due this year and we should limit our increase of this debt so that the total will be less on December 31, than it was on January 1, of this year.

For these reasons, I trust the Council will so amend this loan as to bring it within the time named above.

Respectfully,
John O. Hall, Mayor.

A PICKWICK TREAT.

Delightful Musical and Literary Talent for Its Open Night.

The Pickwick Club Musicale of last evening at the home of Mr. William T. Isaac, Linden place, was a rare treat for the fifty members and guests present. Miss Simonton and Miss Isaac, who had charge of the program were fortunate in securing exceptionally fine talent.

The Misses Schumacher, of Boston, charmed the audience with their sympathetic interpretation of a variety of selections including the "Hungarian Rhapsody" by Hauser, "L'Abelile" by Schubert and "Pizzicatti" by Thome.

Miss Schumacher received her early musical instruction in Germany and has studied with Loeffler. The club appreciated her generosity in responding to repeated encores and the fine quality of her work.

Mr. E. E. Bullock, tenor, also Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, were listened to with pleasure, recalling to many of the days of the Quincy Musical society.

Mr. Bullock's strong tenor voice was heard to advantage in the song "Winona" by Bartlett. Mrs. Tirrell gave among other selections "The Swallows" by Cowan and "You and I" by Schuman in a charming manner.

But the club was further honored by the introduction of Charles Follen Adams, the creator of "Leetle Yawcob Strauss," who generously gave numerous dialect selections of inimitable humor. The attempt of "Yawcob" to write a composition a la Longfellow on "Mr. Finney's Turnip" brought down the house.

Altogether the evening was one of the most delightful the club ever enjoyed.

Views of Siena.

Eighty-four beautiful views of the Tuscan city of Siena have just arrived at the Thomas Crane Public Library, having been loaned for exhibit by the Library Art Club. Siena is situated on a hill, 60 miles by rail south of Florence. It has fine specimens of Italian Gothic architecture. Siena had its own school of painting, of which Sodoma was leader and master. Siena was founded by the Gauls, made a Roman colony by Augustus, was a thriving town in the Middle Ages, a free state in the twelfth century, and head of the Ghibelline faction in Central Italy. It was at war with Florence, and was annexed to Florence in 1557. It has a population of about 23,000, and is a beautiful and healthful city.

AN EXPERT COUNTERFEITER

Albert Skoog, Who Tried to Kill Himself, Proves to Be an Old Offender

New York, April 11.—It has come to light that the man who attempted to commit suicide by twice shooting himself in the head while being pursued by a crowd in West street Tuesday is not "Albert Jensen" at all, but John Albert Skoog, a Swede, 35 years old, born in Stockholm, and the son of prominent and wealthy parents. He early began a criminal career, and is pronounced by officials of the United States secret service one of the most expert counterfeiters alive.

In March, 1897, Skoog escaped from the penitentiary at Joliet, Ills., while serving a sentence for making and passing counterfeit $20 bills. Skoog is wanted in Sweden for making and passing a large number of counterfeit 100 kroner notes, such as are issued by the Bank of Sweden at Stockholm. This work was done early in 1898, Skoog having gone to Sweden at once after his escape from Joliet. These notes are about perfect in execution and bear the date of Jan. 2, 1898.

Skoog on Tuesday attempted to pass 50 kroner notes on the Bank of Copenhagen, at the banking house of C. B. Richardson & Co. The notes, although dated 1897, were crisp and new. They were apparently good, however, and were accepted, Skoog being paid American money in exchange. A few moments after Skoog left another man entered and presented some similar notes. This looked suspicious, and Skoog was recalled. He was, however, moving away when an official threatened to call a policeman, and Skoog fled down Broadway, followed by two policemen and a crowd. When Policeman Brady caught him, Skoog drew a pistol and turned it on himself, sending two bullets through his head. Should he recover, which is thought likely, it is the intention to return Skoog to Joliet.

One of the biggest raids in the history of the secret service of the United States was made last night by Chief Hazen. It was the result of the attempted suicide of Skoog. Chief Hazen visited Skoog in the hospital and afterwards, taking with him several secret service agents and following a clue which he got from papers in Skoog's pockets, he went to a building in Grand avenue, Brooklyn, and arrested Emil Mobert, a Swede.

One of the most complete and perfect counterfeiting plants ever found was discovered in the house. The long sought plates for the 50 kroner notes of the Bank of Sweden and the 100 kroner notes of the Bank of Copenhagen were among those found. They were buried away with other plates for the making of a £20 note of the Bank of Scotland which, it is said, the entire secret service of Great Britain has been trying to run down for years.

A Significant Declaration

Chicago, April 11.—"Entering upon the new century the Catholic educational system in America must be prepared to meet with difficulties that will test its strength to the utmost. The unification of education under state control has established a mighty machine of secularized institutions which threatens to destroy all private effort, either on the part of individuals of the church. It is important to meet unification by unification, to so strengthen the Catholic educational system that it may defend itself against all attacks and save the religious instruction of its people from the dangers of non-religious education." Intense enthusiasm greeted this significant declaration yesterday by Dr. Thomas Conaty at the conference of representatives of Catholic colleges in the United States.

Suicide of Stock Speculator

New York, April 11.—Benjamin Forst, a broker, and member of the consolidated exchange, committed suicide yesterday in the Hoffman House by taking poison. Light was thrown on the suicide when his suspension was announced at the opening of business on the consolidated exchange. It was learned that Mr. Forst had outstanding debts amounting to $100 at the close of business Tuesday, and this is believed to have been the cause of his suicide Mr. Forst made oil stocks his specialty.

Legislator Convicted of Bribery

Lansing, Mich., April 11.—D. J. Hammond, who was a state representative in the legislature in 1899, and who has been undergoing a trial in the circuit court here on the charge of having solicited a bribe of $500 in connection with the Sayre anti-trust bill, which was before the legislature in May of that year was found guilty by a jury last night. He gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court, and was released on bail.

To Be Called the McKinley

Canton, O., April 11.—President McKinley has donated $5000 towards a fund of $30,000 necessary to secure the erection of a new and modern hotel in this city. The hotel will be built on the site of the recently burned Saxton block. Canton people have asked the president that he allow the hotel to be called the McKinley. The new building will cost $100,000.

Contractor Must Give Bond

Havana, April 11.—N. F. Chamberlain of Chicago yesterday signed the contract to remove the wreck of the United States battleship Maine, agreeing to give the government 3 percent of the proceeds of the sale of the material. The government insists upon a bond of $25,000 before the work is begun. This question has not yet been settled.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Sun rises—5:09; sets, 6:22.
Moon rises—1:06 a. m.
High water—3 a. m.; 5:30 p. m.

The high pressure which has covered the greater portion of the country for several days past shows signs of rapid dissipation. Rain has continued in New England. It will be partly cloudy followed by fair. On the coast brisk northerly winds will slowly diminish.

NO CRUSADE.

Mr. Faxon's position is not approved by many residents.

The chief of police says no crusade is needed. "Arrests for crime are not on the increase," said he. "The city is in good condition. Mr. Faxon is always making these gifts to aid in the enforcement of the laws. It is quite a common thing for him to do so."

THE REBEKAHS.

Entertain and Celebrate Their Third Anniversary.

The George L. Gill Rebekah lodge observed third anniversary Wednesday evening by entertaining the members of Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F. They also had as guests members of Amana Rebekah lodge of Braintree, Carrie E. Ruggles Rebekah lodge of Wollaston, Reliance Rebekah lodge of Neponset, and Mary Washington Rebekah lodge of Boston.

In the absence of Mrs. Henry P. Furnald the Noble Grand, Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell presided, and spoke the words of welcome. The star entertainer was Miss Beckwith, the reader, who was at her best, and completely enlisted the attention of her audience, and convulsed them with laughter. She was recalled and recalled. Miss Berry, Mrs. E. S. Perry, Mr. Everett Winslow and Mr. William Wilson entertained with songs; Mr. Wilson and Miss Elvira Ewell gave piano selections. By special request Mrs. C. P. Tirrell sang a popular medley to her own accompaniment.

A bountiful supper was provided by the ladies including cold meats, salads, baked beans, coffee and rolls, cake, etc.

The anniversary was in the hands of the first five officers of the lodge: Mrs. H. P. Furnald, Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell Mrs. William Young, Miss M. Jennie Davis and Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.

Christ Church Sale.

The annual sale of the ladies of Christ church opened Wednesday afternoon at Faxon hall. The attendance was quite large and the receipts from the first day exceeded the expectations, and was more than gratifying.

Senator Sprague Against.

Senator Sprague spoke in opposition to the Semi-Colon or Hotel Men's Association bill, in the Senate on Wednesday, which now seems doomed to defeat. A test vote on an amendment to substitute "until 12 midnight each day" was rejected by a vote of 10 to 21. An adjournment was taken before a vote was taken on the bill.

Lower Fares.

Representatives Badger and Sheppard both voted against the bill providing for 5-cent fares on railroads within the city of Boston, which passed the House on Wednesday by a vote of 95 to 93. The House refused to reject the bill to provide that railroads shall issue 12-trip tickets in the suburban districts at a rate not to exceed the lowest rate now charged.

MRS. HALL BRINGS SUIT

For Her Alleged Share of the Gilman Millions

MANAGED HIS HOUSEHOLD

And Entered Into an Agreement by Which All Real and Personal Property Was to Be Left to Her—Declares She Was Forcibly Ousted

Hartford, April 11.—Mrs. Helen Potts Hall of New York begun action in the circuit court here yesterday for the recovery of her alleged share in the millions of the late George F. Gilman of Bridgeport. Mrs. Hall declares that she is the adopted daughter of Mr. Gilman, and brings her action through her next friend, her brother, Frank G. Potts against the Bridgeport Trust company as administrator of the Gilman estate and against George W. Smith of Bridgeport, as receiver.

The bill of complaint, which consists of 21 typewritten pages and contains 17 counts, declares that Mr. Gilman was engaged in the tea business with George H. Hartford, and that they had about 200 stores in the United States. This part of the complaint is interesting because it has been understood that the Bridgeport Trust company, as administrator, takes the position that Mr. Hartford was manager only, and not a part owner in the tea business.

After estimating the value of the estate at more than $1,500,000, the complaint says the property came into Mrs Hall's possession at the time of Gilman's death and there remained until she was forcibly ousted by the defendants. For several years prior to Gilman's death, continues the complaint, he, having conceived a strong personal regard for Mrs. Hall, adopted her as his daughter, and she became a member of his household and resided there until his death, managing the household and rendering him the obedience of a natural daughter.

On or about Nov. 1, 1900, it is alleged, Mr. Gilman entered into an agreement with Mrs. Hall that if she would continue to live with him as his daughter until his death, she would then be entitled to all his property, both real and personal, as fully and to the same extent as if she were his natural daughter. The complainant claims that she has fulfilled her part of the agreement. She states further that none of the relatives lived on intimate terms with Gilman, but that, on the contrary, they have for many years been estranged from him, and some were hostile to him, and that Gilman failed to make a will and died intestate.

The complaint asks for a writ of injunction perpetually enjoining the Bridgeport Trust company as administrator of the estate from interfering with the business conducted by the Great American Tea company; that the Bridgeport Trust company deliver to the complaint such assets as remain in its hands, in like manner as if she were the sole heir and next of kin of the deceased. A preliminary injunction is also asked for, restraining the company from further interference with the tea companies during the pendency of this action. A writ of subpoena directed to the trust company commanding it to appear in court and answer to the complaint is likewise asked for.

The complaint further asks that George W. Smith, the receiver, who claims to have an interest in the estate, be enjoined from maintaining the same. Hatch & Wickes of New York are entered as solicitors, and D. Davenport of Bridgeport as counsel for the complainant. The writ of subpoena is made returnable to the circuit court the first Monday of May.

Alcohol Poisonous to Children

Vienna, April 11.—Both sessions of the anti-alcohol congress held in Vienna yesterday were very stormy. Strong attacks were made upon the medical profession for encouraging the use of alcohol, and there were mutual recriminations between the medical and non-medical elements of the congress, and between the moderates and the total abstainers. It was unanimously agreed that every dose of alcohol administered to children is poisonous. Last evening the delegates dined with Dr. Von Hartel, and drank champagne and beer.

Alleged Passer of Worthless Checks

Plattsburg, N. Y., April 11.—Waldo E. Barnes of Providence, arrested here on the charge of uttering worthless checks in payment for a carload of cattle waived examination yesterday, and was held for the grand jury. Sheriff Reeves of Burlington, Vt., is here with a warrant for Barnes for a similar offense, alleged to have been committed in Vermont a few months ago. Barnes' 10-year-old son is in jail with him.

Queer Case of Robbery

Portland, Me., April 11.—Late last night it was found that the liquor agency had been broken into. Entrance was effected through the basement, but the guilty person evidently forgot how he had got in after generously sampling the stock, and made his exit feet first through a street window. A suspect has been arrested.

Big Department Store Burned

Richmond, April 11.—The big dry goods and department store of Julius Meyer's Sons, together with the stock and fixtures, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday. R. E. Slaughter manager of the carpet department, was killed. The rest of the 400 employes are said to be accounted for. The total insurance is $250,250.

Railroad Wreck and Fire

San Francisco, April 11.—A passenger train over the New Coast division was wrecked near Bradley yesterday. No one was injured. Seven cars were burned.

MORRISON'S OPINIONS

Of the Military and Diplomatic Conditions In Pekin as He Sees Them

London, April 11.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Pekin, draws a gloomy picture of the situation there and urges the necessity of withdrawing the troops before the hot, rainy season sets in, adding that unless orders for withdrawal arrive before May it will be almost impossible to move before autumn.

Neither the Chinese nor the ministers of the powers, says Dr. Morrison, are responsible for the slowness of the negotiations, but rather the home governments, whose apparent indifference and dilatoriness provoke much adverse comment among the diplomatic body.

Dr. Morrison says that M. De Giers demands the return of all communications to the Chinese authorities from the Russian legation regarding the Manchurian negotiations, and he has warned Li Hung Chang that, instead of being, as heretofore, an advocate of the Chinese cause in the conference of the ministers of the powers, he will henceforth support the policy of the utmost severity.

The Franco-Italian Demonstration

Paris, April 11.—The important festivities attending President Loubet's visit to the Riviera were brought to a climax yesterday in the double naval demonstration at Villefranche and Toulon. Both proved splendid spectacles. The French people derived as much pleasure from the incidents at Villefranche as from the meeting of M. Loubet and the Duke of Genoa at Toulon. M. Loubet fully appreciates the value of the French set word "ally" in connection with the relations of France and Russia, and he again took an opportunity to pronounce it on board the Alexander II. The general program at Toulon was carried out without a hitch. The Duke of Genoa, the Italian officers and sailors, met with a flattering welcome, the French seamen fraternizing with the Italians on shore. Every desire was shown on both sides to cultivate a mutual good feeling.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 11.—Although filibustering prevented a vote on the main question, the so-called "semi-colon" bill, or measure to permit the sale of liquor by hotels after 11 o'clock at night, practically received its quietus in the state senate yesterday on a roll call. The senate had been thoroughly canvassed on the measure, and, scenting defeat, those favoring the bill brought forward an amendment, providing that only first-class hotels should have the privilege of selling liquor until 12 o'clock. There was but a short debate on this question before it was defeated. The advocates of the bill then resorted to dilatory tactics and were able to put the main bill over until today. There is very little hope, however, of its final passage.

Young Mail Thief Locked Up

New York, April 11.—A mystery which has surrounded the finding of a lot of letters on April 2, on the beach at Ocean Grove, N. J., was solved yesterday, and Thomas F. Martel, aged 20, a postoffice messenger of this city, was locked up and charged with mail robbery. He acknowledged that he had opened all the letters in the bag which he was to have put on an elevated train, had abstracted the cash and had left the checks and money orders. He then threw the letters into the North river.

Lowell Postal Receipts Falling Off

Washington, April 11.—The gross postal receipts for last month for the 50 largest postoffices in the country show an increase of 11.4 percent over the corresponding month of last year. The most remarkable increases are 60.5 percent at Indianapolis and 41.5 percent at Louisville. There are seven offices whose receipts decreased, the most notable being Lowell, Mass., with 8 percent.

Strike May Be Averted

New York, April 11.—There is a strong probability that the conference between the employes and officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, abandoned at the time of the fruitless intervention of the railway brotherhood chiefs, may be resumed, and it is believed that if the disputants get together in a friendly spirit that the possibility of a strike on the line will become very remote.

Yellow Jack at Jamaica

Kingston, Jam., April 11.—Yellow fever has made its appearance at Port Royal, the entrance to this harbor. Two cases have been officially reported, and one death has resulted. The health authorities are taking prompt measures.

Instantly Killed by Trolley Car

Woonsocket, R. I., April 11.—Patrick Dwyer, 8 years old, was run over and killed by a trolley car near his home in North Bellingham, Mass. The body was horribly mangled and death was instantaneous.

Robbers Routed by Germans

Berlin, April 11.—According to a dispatch of Count Von Waldersee, Chineses robbers were surprised at Tang-Shan, April 2, and pursued by Captain Meister, who killed 20 of their number.

A Child's Cry

Pierces the mother's heart like a sword. Often the mother who would do everything for the little one she loves, is utterly impotent to help and finds no help in physicians. That was the case with Mrs. Duncan, whose little one was almost blind with scrofula. But fortunately she was led to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so cured the child without resorting to a painful operation. The great blood-purifying properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have been proved over and over again in cases of scrofula, eczema, eruptions and other diseases which are caused by an impure condition of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which feed disease, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

"My little daughter became afflicted with scrofula, which affected her eyes," writes Mrs. Agnes L. Duncan, of Mansfield, Sebastian Co., Ark. "She could not bear the light for over a year. We tried to cure her eyes, but nothing did any good. We had our home physician and he advised us to take her to an oculist, as her eyelids would have to be 'scraped.' They had become so thick he thought she would never recover her sight. As there was no one else to whom we could apply my heart sank within me. I went to your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' read your treatment on scrofula, getting the properties of medicines there advised. With five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have entirely cured my child.

"Hoping this will be of some use to you and a blessing to other sufferers, with heartfelt thanks, I remain."

Bicycle Gossip

Riding a bicycle is one of the most delightful ways of getting exercise, reducing flesh, at the same time building brains and muscle

Mr. Pickwick used to say, "Always shout with the crowd, and when there are two crowds, shout with the largest."

His wisdom you can readily apply to the bicycle situation, for the low prices on Sterling Wheels will bring them within the reach of everyone, and will increase two fold the number of bicycle riders.

Then the wheel, above all things buy a bicycle of standard construction and unquestioned excellence.

IN FEAR OF HIS LIFE

DeWet Distracted by Hopelessness of His Cause.

LATEST RUMORS OF PEACE

Believed to Have a Basis of Foundation—Series of Disastrous Defeats Probably Convinced Boers of Inevitable Outcome—Methuen Has Been Ill

London, April 12.—A news agency publishes a dispatch from Cape Town, received by the Frankfurter Zeitung, which says that General De Wet is so distracted by the hopelessness of his cause that he can truthfully be described as insane. He goes in fear of his life amidst his own troops and keeps himself surrounded, night and day, by a bodyguard of chosen adherents. But from his own ranks, voices are now more frequently heard calling imperatively for peace.

No further news has been received from South Africa regarding the reported resumption of peace negotiations said to be pending, but the fact that the censor allowed the report to pass, and the fact that the government has not issued a denial are held to prove that negotiations of some sort are in progress.

With practically the entire railroad system of South Africa in the hands of the British and British garrisons at every point of strategic importance, while numberless more or less mobile columns are keeping every Boer commando in the field on the move, it is not necessary to accept the theory that De Wet has become deranged to account for Botha's alleged proposal to reopen negotiations for peace. If the punishment inflicted upon the Boers previous to the negotiations begun in the latter part of March was not sufficient to point to the inevitable outcome, the blows their cause has received since ought to have done so. The defeat of Delarey, the further loss of guns, ammunition and supplies and the capture of Petersberg, the gateway to the Zoutspanberg district, the occupation of which President Kruger is reported to have said would prove the final act in the South African drama, should have convinced them that nothing but the die-in-the-last-ditch policy demained.

The casualty list issued yesterday revealed the fact that Lord Methuen was discharged from the hospital last week, this being the first notification that he had been ill.

There is no information from South Africa beyond the fact that the British have evacuated Hoopstad, which, The Daily Mail observes, "seems to show that Lord Kitchener's force is still none too strong."

It is announced from Brussels that the Dutch Transvaal committee has handed to Mr. Kruger a check for 1,000,000 florins, collected in Holland for the assistance of the Boers.

It appears that Mr. Kruger's entourage assert that the route from Leydsdoran to Zoutpansberg is heavily fortified, and able to resist the British a long time.

Warning to British Soldiers

London, April 12.—The British war office has issued the following special order regarding surrenders in the field: "Any officer or soldier who, when in the presence of the enemy, displays a white flag or other token of surrender, will be tried by a general court-martial."

Chamberlain's Suggestion Disapproved

Melbourne, April 12.—The federal cabinet, at the first meeting, today, decided that it was unable to recommend the suggestion of Joseph Chamberlain that Boer prisoners be sent to Tasmania.

Lack of Business Methods

Washington, April 12.—A letter from A. L. Lawshe, auditor of the Philippines, has been received at the war department and certain portions of it have been sent to the postmaster general for his information. The letter relates largely to the methods of keeping accounts, which are not approved by Mr. Lawshe, and which have not been in accordance with the forms prescribed. It is said at the department that there is no intimation of any fraud or wrongdoing, but that a system of bookkeeping is in vogue which lacks the business methods necessary to secure the best results.

The Hall-Gilman Case

New York, April 12.—The World says: "To guests whom he was entertaining at his mansion at Black Rock, Millionaire George F. Gilman is said to have made formal announcement of the adoption of Mrs. Helen Potts Hall as his daughter and heir to his entire estate. Mrs. Hall, it was learned yesterday, will summon many who were present on this occasion to aid her in proving title to the fortune of over $1,500,000."

Proposed Zoo For Boston

Boston, April 12.—The common council last night passed an order for a $100,000 loan for the purpose of establishing a municipal menagerie in Franklin park. It is estimated that the total cost of such a zoo will be $500,000, and that $75,000 or $100,000 will be required annually for its maintenance. The order now goes to the board of aldermen.

REMANDED WITHOUT BAIL

Patrick Hearing Is Finished—Justice Jerome Reserves Decision

New York, April 12.—The hearing in the case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William Marsh Rice, closed yesterday afternoon, and Justice Jerome announced that he reserved his decision, but hoped to make it known by next Monday. It rests with Justice Jerome whether or not Patrick will be held for the grand jury. Meanwhile Patrick will stay in the tombs.

Mr. Moore, acting for David L. Short and Morris Meyers, waived examination of the charges of forgery against them, as he also did concerning the charge of forgery against Patrick. The latter was remanded to the tombs without bail, on the murder charge, but no bail was fixed for him in the forgery matter, while Short and Meyers were held in bonds of $10,000 each.

Kidnapped His Own Child

South Norwalk, Conn., April 12.—Ernest R. Wilson, formerly of this city, now of Stamford, brought to South Norwalk last night his 3-year-old child, who he had kidnapped from her mother in Brooklyn. Wilson and his wife separated two years ago and, it is said, Mrs. Wilson took the little girl, then but a year old, and left for parts unknown. Lately the husband learned that Mrs. Wilson was in Brooklyn. Wilson went to Brooklyn yesterday, and with a lawyer visited the house where he found his child alone. He succeeded in persuading the little one to accompany him, although she did not recognize him after the two years of separation, and brought her to this city. Wilson has a divorce pending on the ground of separation.

Storti Is Gaining Strength

Boston, April 12.—Storti appears to grow slowly better. Yesterday he ate with a better appetite than for many days. The hope that his reprieve has inspired is doubtless responsible for the turn for the better. His execution having been deferred for a month, the possibility—to him a probability—that his sentence may be revoked by the courts, is considered a strong factor in his recovery. An unfavorable decision by the courts and the knowledge that another day had been set for his execution would, it is thought, be sufficient to excite Storti to the extent that he would have more hemorrhages, but at present he is believed to have every chance to live his reprieve out.

Minister and Wife "Regulated"

Independence, O., April 12.—A number of negroes made up of members of the faction in the Baptist church, that is opposed to its pastor, Elder J. T. Fitts, seized the minister and his wife after prayer meeting last night, threw ropes around their necks, dragged them into a hollow beside the road and "regulated" them with barrel staves laid vigorously on their backs.

Two Cars Were Wrecked

Bangor, Me., April 12.—Two freight cars in the middle of a mixed freight on the Maine Central left the track near South Orrington yesterday, rolled down an embankment and were broken up. Emergency brakes on the passenger cars prevented them leaving the track.

[Pesthouse Destroyed by a]Mob

Bradford, Pa., April 12.—A mob, composed of people living in the neighborhood of a smallpox pesthouse in course of being fitted up for the reception of patients, destroyed the building by fire last night. There was no interference and no arrests have been made.

French Miners May Strike

Paris, April 12.—The congress of French miners opened in Lens yesterday. Unless the French government agrees to bring in an eight-hour bill, the delegates will probably vote for a general strike.

Three Thousand Idle

Indianapolis, April 12.—Work in the block coal districts of Indiana, where over 3000 union miners are employed, is at a complete standstill, owing to the disagreement over the powder question.

Good Afternoon.

It will be good news to the temperance people to know that the so-called semi-colon bill was buried in the State Senate Thursday by a vote of seven in favor and twenty-eight against. This bill has been before the Legislature for some time. It looked as though the bill would go through. In fact, the Boston papers have stated that the bill was sure to pass. Then Miss Brown, secretary to H. H. Faxon, come to the rescue, and she has worked incesantly to have the bill killed, and it is due largely to her efforts that it was buried. Miss Brown made an appeal to all members of both branches of the Legislature, as well as to temperance societies and churches throughout the State, and flooded them with literature bearing on the matter. She succeeded in rousing a public sentiment against the bill, and Senators and Representatives have frequently sought her out for information. The result was as stated above, the bill has been killed. Miss Brown and Mr. Faxon have received many congratulations on her good work.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Carnegie says that "the chances for the poor boy to become rich in this country are as great as ever." That leaves it "up to the boy."—Beverly Times.

☞ It is urged by those who oppose the disfranchisement of illiterate voters that disfranchisemnt is no cure for illiteracy. Education, they declare, is the thing needed. The answer to this argument is not hard to find. Disfranchisement is not final. The illiterates may enfranchise themselves by learning to read. Disfranchisement, on the other hand, is a remedy for the various evils arising from the debauchery of the suffrage, which must continue while ignorance shall be armed with a potent weapon that can only be properly wielded by intelligence.—Philadelphia Record.

☞ Quincy is kicking against the pious zeal of its foremost citizen, Mr. Henry H. Faxon. He has just sent checks for $100 to each of the 23 churches in the city, with a request that it be expended for the "moral, spiritual, social and political welfare of the city." There is a strong hint that the ministers have special cause to use it in warfare against the rum-sellers, and a general intimation that the city is going to the demnition bow-wows and is in need of strenuous prayer and effort. The ministers, althongh always ready to accept cash, do not appear to agree with Mr. Faxon as to to the exigencies of the times, and the Qnincy Ledger evidently thinks that Quincy can get along with out any such advertising. Mr. Faxon should send his checks hereafter to some more grateful community.—Haverhill Gazette.

—A company has been formed in New York with a capital of $10,000,000, to fight the ice trust. It ought, with that amount, to make the trust shiver at least.

Quincy Clerks Carry City by Storm.

The Minstrel Entertainment a Great Success.

Topical Song by Ed. Fitzpatrick the Hit.

A crowded house greeted the Quincy Retail Clerks' Association at their second minstrel entertainment Thursday evening, and no one went away disappointed. As advertised, a dollar's worth of fun was given for 25 cents, reflecting credit on Mr. H. W. French, the director, and all who took part.

The interlocutor was Mr. Channing T. Furnald, who was called into the position late but, who took the part with dignity and ease. The other men on the platform were:

Bones—Billie Howard, Bill Jones, Charles Prout and Jack Sullivan.

Tambos — Bill Field, Fred Prout, John Fallon and Charley Gilligan.

Tenors—J. E. Glover, Dick Prout, Walter S. Weaver, Archie Rogers, Charles La Breck, Bert Metcalf, Harry Matthew, Carl Johnson, William Warmington and A. Parsons.

Basses—J. F. Burns, Everett Pollard, John Dackers, G. W. Turner, Harry Lark, Herbert Crane, Jere. E. Ford, Henry McLean, John Pierce and George Guston.

The interlocutor and stars were in colonial dress and their faces were not blacked. They wore gray wigs and the lapels of their coats were blue.

The bones and tambos were blacked and in sailor attire; the former in white duck pantaloons, yellow shirts with red sashes and ties; the latter in white duck, red shirts and yellow sashes and ties.

The programme:

1. Opening Chorus, arr. by H. W. French, Company
2. "If That's Society, Excuse Me," Charles P. Gilligan
3. "When you were Sweet Sixteen," Mr. Lee
4. "I Don't Care What Happens to Me Now," Jack Sullivan
5. "Come Away," Granite City Quartette
6. "If I only Had a Dollar of My Own," Jack Fallon
7. "Say You Love Me, Sue," Master Harry Glover
8. "I'm Looking for a Angel," Charlie Prout
9. "Mississippi Sue," J. E. Glover
10. "I'll Break Up This Jamboree," Fred Prout
11. "Last Night, Dear Heart," William Biganess
12. "My Louisiana Lize," Jonesey
13. Topical Song, Ed. Fitzpatrick
14. "Lam'-Lam'-Lam'," Bill Field
15. Grand Finale, arr. by H. W. French, Company

N. B. The costumes by courtesy of Ryder & Odiorne.

Part II.

1. Song. Selected, Granite City Quartette
2. The only Speck in Buck and Wing Dance.
3. Dun's Tumblers in Specialtie.
4. Fred G. Prout in Song entitled "Love will find a way."
5. Robertson and Butler in a laughable sketch entitled "Casey at the Gym."
6. Granite City Quartette in Song.

The chorus in the second and third rows were blacked and also had blue lapels on their coats.

Master Harry Glover in Summer attire was seated at the feet of the interlocutor when the curtain went up.

The opening chorus introduced Chinese boys, a soloist, flag girls, sailors and the Militia, and went off with a dash.

Encores were the order of the evening, every soloist being recalled. In Mr. Gilligan's number a young couple were introduced in a cake walk. Mr. Sullivan was a lively coon. Attempts of "the bones" to rattle Mr. Fallon added life but were not successful.

Master Glover was clever in his song and the audience clamored for more.

Mr. Prout when recalled was presented a black doll, but understood his business. Mr. Glover was slightly off key. Mr. Fred Prout with his huge razor and revolver terrorized the crowd. Mr. Jones was all right, but Mr. Fitzpatrick, in Carrie Nation attire, was the hit of the evening. The first verse hit Mrs. Nation, the next Henry H. Faxon, and the others remembered were Mayor Hall, Inspector Keniley, President Bryant, town of Weymouth, Officer Barry, Director French and Bill Field.

Mr. Field's number was a great success and he was recalled several times, on one occasion being presented with a large roast of lamb served on a platter.

Between each number there were jokes by the end men, but before the grand finale there was such a sunburst of wit that some say the sky cleared and the stormy weather for a week was dispelled. Director French was hit hard on several occasions, and cruel things were said of Galen, Walter Burrell, the Quincy police, Mayor Hall, and others.

In the grand finale Miss Helen Rhines was introduced in a fancy dance, also the moon-beam babe a cake walk and other specialties.

The children to take part in the entertainment were:

Henry White, Edward Sanborn, Fred Mitchell and Elm Burns, as Chinese, sailors and in cake walk.

Margaret Brown, Clara Brown, Stella Brown and Agnes Sanborn in cake walk.

Master Knight in Jersey Lily song.

Agnes Sanborn in Rhoda.

May Taylor and Helen Connor.

Eleanor Taylor in moonbeam babe.

The Granite City Quartet was appreciated in all its numbers, and the specialties in the olio were all enjoyed.

The light effects were the only disappointment, not being strong enough.

Mr. H. W. French, the director, occupied a chair on the floor directly in front of the platform, and the only regret of the reporter is that no one present had a kodak to catch him at times when he was encouraging the boys to do their prettiest. Mr. French was ably assisted by Mr. John W. Walsh as stage manager, and Mr. H. C. French as pianist. The light effect were by Mr. A. H. Taber, and the costumes by Ryder & Odiorne.

The souvenir programs received favorable comment, and the fact that scarcely one was left in the hall shows that they were prized as mementoes of the evening.

Sad News from the West.

A dispatch in the morning papers announces the death Thursday at Omaha, Neb., of Clifford Warren Smith, formerly of this city. He was born in Quincy, Sept. 23, 1868. His early life was spent in Boston and Rockland, Me. He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1890, and went to Omaha that year. He was a director of the United States National Bank and a member of the Omaha Club and the Country Club. Aside from the interests of his family here, Mr. Smith personally was interested in the Union Stock Yards Company and in buying large tracts of good farm lands. He was a member of the firm of Tyng & Co., dealers in bonds, in Buffalo.

His wife Josephine Winslow Smith, and a son less than a year old, Winslow Warren Smith, survive him. Mr. and Benjamin F. Smith and Mrs. Dudley Wolfe, Mr. Smith's sister, arrived this morning from New York a few hours after his death.

Mr. Smith was one of the heirs of the George Warren Smith estate, aggregating millions of dollars. The other living male heirs are George Warren Smith, 2d, bachelor; Francis Smith, childless, widower, and Benjamin F. Smith, father of Clifford, who has just died, and the latter's baby.

Sociable at Wollaston.

The Congregational church social was held Thursday evening in the vestry. Supper was served at 6.30. The young men who waited on table were: Charles Dowe, Mr. Nash, Jr., Gorham Nickerson, Lowell Baker, Freddie White, Frank Nichols, R. Garfield Wright and Carl Lewis. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed. The entertainment consisted of recitations by Miss Fannie Beckwith, and solos by Mr. Wilde. Mr. Charles Dowe showed unique taste in decorating the vestry. During the evening, ice cream and cake were served.

The Rectory fund of Christ church amounts to $2,829. But $71 more must be raised before April 15, to receive the gift of $100 promised on condition that $2900 was pledged by that date.

Many West Quincy people would like to get their hands on the Chinaman, who until recently ran a laundry in the old Hose house on Copeland street. A short time ago John sold out his business to a fellow countryman and skipped out, leaving behind him unpaid rent and several store bills. That is not the worst part of it, for he carried off all the goods that had been left with him to be laundered. It will go hard with that particular Chinaman if some people lay hands on him.

New Naval Training Station

Washington, April 12.—Admiral Crowninshield, who has just returned from an inspection of southern ports with a view to the establishment of a naval training station, has recommended to the secretary of the navy that the naval station at Port Royal, S. C., be utilized for this purpose. The secretary approves the recommendation, and the buildings at Port Royal will be used and improved for the accommodation of from 500 to 1000 boys, chiefly from the south.

About Time to Hear From Geronne

Washington, April 12.—The transport Garonne sailed from Manila on March 9, with the Twenty-sixth volunteer infantry, except company F, and has not been reported at San Francisco. This has not caused any apprehension at the war department, for it took the Garonne 11 days to reach Nagasaki, coal and resume her voyage, while the other transports take only nine days. She is a slow vessel, and may be a week behind the other transports.

Taylor Shows Germans How to Ride

Berlin, April 12.—In the bicycle races here yesterday, "Major" Taylor, the American, won the kilometere match with a prize of 300 marks, defeating several German riders and leading Arend by 20 lengths. In the tandem race, 600 metres, Taylor and Arend were the winners

There was a good attendance Thursday night at the fair of Christ church at Faxon hall, and about all the articles were sold. The entertainment was furnished by a blind ventriloquest.

The Granite Business.

A trip through the granite district finds a prevailing air of activity. There seems to be plenty of work and all firms report that they have a good lot of orders on hand. Many of these orders are for medium sized work, althouge there are some good sized jobs in the city.

One firm said that they had more orders upon their books now than ever before at one time, and that their orders aggregated over $10,000.

Some of the firms have commenced to put on more men but the increase of men is not as general as might be expected. From a manufacturers' point of view this is due wholly to their inability to get the rough stock desired. But little difficulty is experienced in obtaining light and medium stock, but to get the extra dark, for which there is the greatest demand, is next to impossible.

As a good part of the dark stock wanted is for work to be delivered before Memorial Day, the manufacturers are in an uneasy frame of mind for fear they will not get their orders off in time.

Another thing that has proved a bother is the stormy weather that has prevailed for nearly two weeks, for it has not been possible to do much work during this time.

Entertainment.

The members of F. L. Souther camp, No. 27, S. of V., were treated to a pleasing entertainment at the last meeting in the form of a debate. The subject being, What to do with Auguinaldo? Several different ideas were expressed much to the pleasure of those not taking part. Several visitors were present from neighboring camps.

At the next meeting Tuesday evening there is to be another debate on the blue uniform for S. of V's., between Bros. Foss and Holmes. As an interesting time is to be had all members are requested to be present.

Music was furnished by the orchestra and various parlor games were enjoyed during the evening. One of the most taking features was the souvenir machine which was well patronized. # DOING GOOD WORK.

The St. Mary's Parish Encouraged by New Church.

It is doubtful if there is any church within miles of Quincy, that for convenience of arrangement and beauty surpasses the new St. Mary's church of West Quincy, and Rev. Ambrose F. Roche, the pastor, can well feel proud at the result of his labor during the short time he has been settled over the parish. Yet what has been accomplished has not been without hard and incessant labor. It was a labor of love for his people, who have ably aided him in his efforts, and today the Catholics of West Quincy can worship in a church replete in all its details, and one that will fill the wants of the parish for some years to come.

The church, or basement, is built entirely of Quincy granite and illustrates what is possible with Quincy granite as a building material. The interior of the church is gorgeous and reminds one of the descriptions of the famous European palaces.

The walls and ceilings are tinted a delicate blue tint, while on the walls between the stained glass memorial windows are the stanchions of the cross. An air of restfulness immediately takes possession of one as he enters and he feels that he is in a sacred place.

On either side of the altar are the shrines of the Virgin Mary and the Sacred Heart. These are set in alcoves of oynx marble and are very beautiful. On either side of these are the confessionals. On the front of these is a mosaic window representing confession. Entrance to the confessionals for the priest is from the rear, and for the people from the main church.

The pews for the church were of special make and are built for comfort. The organ and choir loft are at the Crescent street end of the church.

In the rear of the altar is the robe room, in which is located the baptismal bowl. There is also a small vestry, where week day masses are celebrated.

To fully appreciate the beauty of the interior of the church it must be seen at night. More especially at Easter Sunday on which occasion hundreds of colored electric lights were used about the altar. Around the shrine of the Virgin Mary was an arch surmounted by a cross. These were composed of colored lights. Aside from these the space inside the chancel rail was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, potted plants in bloom and cut flowers.

In no church is more beautiful music heard than in Catholic churches and that on Easter Sunday at this church was very fine. The soloists were Miss Mary A. White, Miss Frances Sullivan Mr. Robert J. Teasdale, Dr. Daniel Reardon and Mr. John McGowan. They were assisted by an orchestra of six pieces and a chorus of fifty voices.

At the 10 o'clock service, Webers Mass in G was sung, and at vespers, in the evening Mercadante's, Zingarelli's Laudate Pueri, O Salutaris by Faure and Tantum Ergo by Rossi. Previous to vespers, Miss White sang "I know that My Redeemer Liveth," by Handel.

Masquerade at West Quincy.

Granite lodge I. O. O. F., M. A. held a private dress social Thursday evening at St. Mary's hall. The affair was largely attended and was a complete success. From 8 to 9 o'clock Robinson's orchestra gave a concert and later furnished music for the dance. The grand march came at 9 o'clock and was led by Mr. Thomas V. Keating and Miss Mary B. Keating. All of the well known characters were represented by the masqueraders, and a jolly time was had.

Thomas V. Keating was floor director and J. A. Keating assistant, and they were assisted by a large corps of aids. Alfred J. Spargo was chairman of the reception committee, and was also chairman of the committee of arrangements, and Joseph A. Keating secretary.

MILTON.

T. L. Pearce, postmaster at East Milton, who had light shock a month ago, is reported as a little better.

The Thursday Evening club has elected these officers: President, Theodore I. Reese; Vice President, A. M. Gardner; Treasurer, M. G. Richardson; Secretary, Mr. Diamond. At this week's meeting of the club there was an entertainment which included a quartet from the Handel and Haydn society.

The ladies of the Mission of Our Saviour church held a very successful sale and entertainment at Ellsworth hall, Wednesday. Various tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles were arranged about the hall and were presided over by the ladies of the society. The entertainment consisted of readings, vocal, piano and mandolin solos and duets. About $300 was cleared as a result of the fair.

A new floor is being laid in the stable of the East Milton Hose house.

With quicksand and water to contend with, the contractors who are building the tunnel section of the Metropolitan sewer on Adams street, are having a hard time, and are making slow progress.

Court Roger Wolcott, Foresters of America, hold a social dance at Ellsworth hall, tonight.

A Treat Tonight.

Tonight it will be. It is perhaps unnecessary to state what. The understudies of the Castle Square of course. Fortune seems to smile for as luck will have it, sunlight once more gives the inhabitants an opportunity to creep out of their shelters without their Sunday clothes being harmed to any extent. An excellent audience is promised and those who desire seats had best come as early as possible. The doors will open at 7.20 o'clock, in order to accommodate any out of town people who may come early.

Here is a chance for Quincy to patronize a good old show—some good new specialties — and well—find out about the people.

The cast will not be changed from that announced in a former issue of the Ledger. It is perhaps well to mention again, that Miss Avonia Eldridge will play the part of Mrs. Morgan. A large contingent of friends is expected to attend the performance.

Tickets will be on sale at Music hall pharmacy until 7 o'clock when the sale will be transferred to the box office. Prices are fifteen, twenty-five and thirty-five cents.

Cars will be on hand connecting with all points, from the turnout near the hall.

No Longer Any Doubt.

One day recently as a flock of wild geese was passing over Mr. Charles Bailey's place on South street, Mr. Walter Bailey brought down with his trusty Lee rifle, a fine goose. Mr. Bailey spends his summers in Dublin, N. H., and his friends here have long heard of his success with rod and gun, and are greatly pleased over this latest proof of markmenship. He is being warmly congratulated upon his good luck, especially by the members of the Cribbage club of which he is an active member. Mr. Bailey expects to leave this month for Dublin, where he will remain until October.

Red Men Play Whist.

Fifteen tables were in play at the Red Men's whist party at Wollaston Thursday night. Prizes were awarded as follows: Mrs. J. L. Couburn (54), a pictture; Mrs. Bertha McLeod (49), a cheese knife; Mrs. Flossie Hirtle (43), a paper rack; W. A. Jordan (48) a lamp; H. D. Bowles (46), a card table; A. Keating a wall pocket. Next week the sixth anniversary of the tribe will be observed with a reception of applicants, whist and banquet. All who have attended the whist parties are invited.

LOOMIS IS COMING HOME

Tenor of His Repor to President Kept Secret

NOT FRIENDLY TO CASTRO,

Who, the Minister Declares, Has Accumulated a Fortune In Two Years on a Comparatively Meagre Salary. Revolution Possible Within a Year

San Juan, P. R., April 12.—The Scorpion, with Minister Loomis of Venezuela on board, arrived here yesterday Mr. Loomis sailed for the United States in the afternoon by the steamer Caracas. He emphatically declined to disclose the nature of his report to President McKinley, but judging from casual remarks which he let fall, he is evidently quite antagonistic to President Castro. He said that the latter's salary was $12,000 a year, but that he had laid up $2,000,000 in the last two years.

MINISTER LOOMIS.

President Castro has been working for the recall of Mr. Loomis ever since the minister persisted in collecting the American claim of $100,000, a year ago. The ill feeling then created has increased month by month, as the asphalt controversy, the revocation of the Orinoco company's concessions and the treatment of Ignacio Baiz, United States consular agent at Barcelona, would illustrate.

"President Castro told the Venezuelans," said Mr. Loomis, "that they and the Europeans in Trinidad were at liberty to seize claims in the Orinoco district on land previously ceded to Americans. It was evidently his intention to embarass the United States government, and to force it to make armed demonstrations, such as would possibly lead to trouble with foreign nations, owing to the large German and British commercial interests on the coast.

"The Venezuelan constitutional convention elected Castro provisional president until autumn, when there will be an electon for an eight-year term. General Andrade will not be president, but his friends are working, and a revolution is possible in the course of a year. He is now at Caracao awaiting developments.

"The situation, so far as the United States is concerned, has passed the acute point. Such difficulties as exist can be settled diplomatically.

"I scarcely expect to return to Caracas. I have already served four years, and am quite satisfied to brng the experience to a close."

Work Begun on New Bridge

New York, April 12.—To the screeching of whistles and the cheering of thousands of spectators on both sides of the river, the first cable of the new East river bridge was raised from the bed of the river yesterday afternoon and drawn taut by a powerful engine until it was 120 feet above the surface of the water. After being drawn back 620 feet over the top of the tower on the Williamsburg side, the cable was put in clamps and firmly fastened to the massive anchorage of masonry.

To Arbitrate Samoan Claims

Washington, April 12.—King Oscar of Sweden and Norway has accepted the post of arbitrator on the Samoan claims of the United States, Great Britain and Germany. King Oscar will have general charge, not only of the determination of the account of the claims, but also will have the more important determination of what claims arose as a necessary result of the military operations during the last uprising in Samoa.

Personal Success For Loubet

Paris, April 12.—At the conclusion of the festivities at Toulon last night, President Loubet proceeded to his home at Montelimar, to visit his aged mother and take a few days' repose, after the fatigues of the many functions of the week. The satisfactory manner in which the wohle affair has been carried out has been a personal success for M. Loubet.

Gamblers Swindled by Gamblers

Liverpool, April 12.—A gambling scandal occurred on the steamer Teutonic, which arrived here from New York yesterday. Two first cabin passengers were caught cheating at poker. They secured considerably over $1000, but were obliged to make restitution The same men were discovered swindling in the pools on the ship's daily run

Put Back For Repairs

San Francisco, April 12.—The transport Arab, which sailed March 31 for Manila with 700 horses, returned to port yesterday. When the Arab was about 1200 miles off Port Taylor, a week ago, she was discovered to be leaking and Captain Wills put back for repairs.

GAMBLING UNPROFITABLE

But It Still Keeps Pace With Other Evils In New York

New York, April 12.—The committee of 15 organized some months ago to investigate vice, as it exists in this city, made its preliminary report to the public yesterday. The report says that the committee agents disclosed the fact that gambling and pool rooms were being operated openly; that the gambling spirit is a distinct menace to the community, and that the resorts were undoubtedly protected in their operations by officers whose duty it was to close them. The raids made by the committee and its agents and the results obtained showed that a committee of citizens can force the police to close up such resorts, and also that the raids have resulted in making the gambling business unprofitable in this city.

The committee says that the actual condition of the tenement house population is alarming, and that in a 125 tenement houses examined by its agents, and in which disorderly women were living, there were found, in each house, on an average, 24 children under the age of 18 years. The recommendation is made that in each assembly district one assembly hall shall be built which shall be kept available for citizens' meetings, to discuss the evils that menace their civil life, and where they can occasionally meet their legislative representatives.

Prospect of Amicable Adjustment

New York, April 12.—The conference between the employes and officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey yesterday afternoon on the wage dispute did not lead to definite results, and will be resumed today. The prospects for a complete adjustment of their differences are very bright. Engineers and firemen on the eastern end of the road seemed certain that the conference this marning would not develop any hitch. The officials of the road are not disturbed over the troubles reported at the Ashley car shops of the company.

Fighting the Platt Amendment

Havana, April 12.—At the secret session of the Cuban constitutional convention yesterday several delegates offered motions that the convention should express its disapproval of the principles embodied in the Platt amendment. A motion that the subject be indefinitely postponed was supported by only six delegates. The effort of the radical element is to put the convention on record against the amendment before voting to send a commission to Washington. The matter will be further discussed today.

Stories of Plots Discredited

London, April 12.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the stories of plots against the life of the czar, which found their way into the American press, were common talk on the streets of St. Petersburg months before they were published, but their inherent improbability and falsity as to details caused them to be generally disbelieved. Emperor Nicholas certainly does not seem to entertain this fear, for he comes to the city frequently to transact state affairs, or to attend public concerts.

In Memory of Harrison

Indianapolis, April 12.—The movement to erect a monument to the memory of General Harrison in this city has been revived by Senator Fairbanks, who will head the list of subscriptions with a contribution of $1000. General John W. Foster, secretary of state during the Harrison administration, will also contribute $1000. The monument is looked upon with favor, and those who have the matter in hand say contributions will be forthcoming from all parts of the United States.

Duke and Duchess at Colombo

Colombo, Ceylon, April 12.—The Ophir with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, arrived here this morning, on the way to Australia.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, April 13.
Sun rises—5:08; sets, 6:23.
Moon rises—1:44 a. m.
High water—6 a. m.; 6:30 p. m.

Snow has continued in the central Rocky mountain region and rain in the slope region, the southwestern states and on the New England coast. Fair weather is indicated for New England. On the coast the winds will be fresh and mostly northeasterly.

ARE YOU PLUMP or thin? red cheeks or sallow life in your step or feel your weight? are you comfortable or hoping to be so next spring or summer or fall?

One is health; the other is not-quite health.

This condition of not-quite health can be turned into health with Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

It is a pity to get in the habit of thinking of health as a thing to be hoped for; why not go for it now!

There is only one way to make strength: by food. You want appetite first, then food. The emulsion will give you food-rest, to master your food with.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street. New York.

CAR STRUCK A WAGON

Three Men Were on the Latter and One Was Instantly Killed

Lynn, Mass., April 12.—Thomas Meehan, aged 40, was killed last night by being struck by an electric car on the Lynn and Boston Street railway, and J. B. Murray was rendered unconscious from bruises about the head, while another companion, George Brewer, was also in the accident, but escaped with a bad shaking up.

The men had been in Lynn during the day selling goods for a Boston instalment house, and were returning to Boston with their team, when they were struck by the car as they were proceeding along Western avenue. The car was going in an opposite direction, and when they came into collision the three men were thrown violently to the ground. Meehan landed under the car, which passed over his head and legs, killing him instantly. The car men were unable to extricate the body before the arrival of a wrecking gang from West Lynn.

Murray was considerably bruised about the head, and for a few minutes was unconscious as a result of his injuries, but he was shortly resuscitated.

Brewer, the other member of the party, fortunately escaped without any noticeable injuries.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 12.—Two of the most important liquor bills before the legislature this year were defeated simultaneously in the senate and house yesterday afternoon by decisive votes. The so-called semi-colon bill, a measure permitting innholders to sell liquor after 11 o'clock at night, now prevented by the recent decision of the supreme court, was killed by a vote of 28 to 7, with two pairs. In the house the bill to amend the abuttors' bill, so that persons owning property adjacent to buildings where liquor is sold cannot object to licenses after the liquor dealer has been established on the property two years, was defeated by a vote of 132 to 69.

The committee on metropolitan affairs, after a protracted session, decided to report leave to withdraw on all petitions for the removal or investigation of the Boston board of police. The action was not unanimous, and four of the members united on a minority report.

League Agent Attending to Business

Colebrook, N. H., April 12.—The presence of Rev. J. B. Carruthers, agent of the New Hampshire Anti-Saloon league, in town, has caused a panic among those who have been selling liquor. Several raids on saloons were made, the intoxicants taken from one drug store being worth $500. In West Stewartson, also, Mr. Carruthers made some unexpected calls and got plenty of liquor.

Babe Was Found In a Lot

Bridgeport, Conn., April 12.—Josephine Zohotski, a Polish woman, aged 25, and unmarried, was arrested last night on suspicion of the murder of a babe whose dead body was found in a vacant lot. It is stated by friends of the woman that on Sunday night she went away with the child, saying that she was going to place it in the care of a relative. An inquest will be held.

Said They Were Well Treated

Boston, April 12.—The investigation of the South Boston house of correction by the board of aldermen was resumed yesterday by the presentation of the evidence for the defense. A number of prisoners were called, who spoke in high praise of the institution, its officers, the food, the medical attendance, the general treatment of the inmates and the discipline.

Cigarmakers Won't Strike

Manchester, N. H., April 12.—All possibility of a strike between the cigarmakers and manufacturers in this city was declared off yesterday when a committee from the Cigarmakers' union visited the manufacturers and succeeded in coming to an agreement, there being concessions on both sides. The new price list will go into effect on Monday

Echo of Dixon Divorce Case

Boston, April 12.—Beginning next Monday, Rev. Joseph K. Dixon, once pastor of the Warren Avenue Baptist church, must pay to his former wife, Annie Dixon, $10 weekly as alimony, according to Judge Fessenden's decree yesterday. The custody of the young child, Dorothy, was given to Mrs. Dixon by the further order of the court.

Girl Charged With Setting Fire

Newton, Mass., April 12.—Evelyn H Gray, 16 years old, who lives with Mrs S. J. Hayward, was arrested yesterday charged with setting fire to the house. Evelyn has made her home with the Hayward family for more than 10 years. There was a fire in the house Wednesday night, and the police claim that the girl was the cause of it.

Curtailment at Biddeford

Biddeford, Me., April 12.—The Pepperell Manufacturing company, which employes about 4000 textile workers, this morning began a curtailment of production. The mills will be shut down today and tomorrow, and it is understood that they will be closed two days in each week, until there is an improvement in the market.

Epidemic on the Wane

New Haven, April 12.—The typhoid fever situation shows a noticeable improvement over the preceding days But 14 cases were reported up to noot yesterday, and it is understood that the reports for the afternoon, which have not yet been tabulated, also indicate a decrease of the spread of the disease.

Back to Normal Conditions

Bangor, Me., April 12.—So far as can be learned the danger point along the Penobscot from the great freshet which has prevailed since last Saturday afternoon has passed. Railroad men claim that within a short time whatever congestion the flood has caused in freight traffic will be relieved.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

The Social Realm.

Down in the hollow, where lately lay the snow,
Sleeping till the bitter winds have all forgot to blow,
Waking with the day dawn, when the bud is on the thorn,
Laughing softly to herself for joy that she is born,
There I found arbutus, pink and sweet and shy,
And with it found the child I was in happy years gone by.
For the hand that holds arbutus is a child's hand to the end,
And whoever knows the darling flower knows and loves a friend.—Margeret E. Sangster.

Beals--Woodsum.

Miss Laura Mabel Woodsum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Woodsum of Brainteet, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Eugene Beals, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beals, of Holbrook, at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday evening at 6.30 o'clock by the Rev. G. E. Whitehouse, pastor of the Baptist church.

The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Rufus H. Woodsum. The best man was H. Clifton Woodsum, brother of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Carrie Holland of Southbridge.

The bride was gowned in a pale blue silk dress trimmed with silk, with white silk corded front and a bouquet of red and white pinks at the waist.

The bridesmaid was gowned in black silk skirt with an olive green waist, trimmed with black and pink.

A reception was held at the bride's home from 8 to 10 and the happy pair were assisted in receiving by Miss Carrie Howland and Clifton Woodsum. The ushers were Benjamin H. Woodsum, Jr., Ernest Woodsum and Wilford F. Woodsum.

The house was prettily decorated with potted plants, lilies and cut flowers. Chessman's singing orchestra of Holbrook furnished music for the occasion. A banquet was served from 9 to 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Beals were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents, too numerous to mention.

Many friends and relatives were present at the reception.

The happy couple will reside at Holbrook, where they will be at home after May 1.

THE NEW FASHIONS.

INCLUDE FRESH DELIGHTS AND THE CREAM OF PAST MODES.

Princess Effects In High Vogue—Latest Swell Variations of the Bolero. A New Yoke Skirt—Revival of Crepon and Nun's Veiling.

Skirts still trail upon the ground, and, though this is hardly a wise fashion, it is an extremely graceful one. Although decorated on the hips with rows of machine stitching or tiny tucks, the skirt still continues to fit tightly at the top, only coming out full from the knees downward, where some skirts are finished with plain shaped flounces. The latter style is certainly gaining a fair amount of popularity.

A CLOTH GOWN.

Any sort of trimming that gives long straight lines from the waist down to the flounce is favored, and the princess effect is the keynote of fashion's present song.

The elegant tailor made gown illustrated is of the gray cloth now so popular, with black panne strappings stitched with steel. In harmony with this is the toque of black lace and steel, with clusters of white roses and those of black and white ribbon. Other smart spring gowns pictured show the newest jackets with undersleeves and skirts plain at the top and widening out at the bottom.

The bolero is a fixture, but all sorts of variations are played upon its outline. The cleverest up to date have been the little coattails added at the back, but just now are introduced the long stole ends at the front, reaching three-fourths of the way to the bottom of the skirt. An exceedingly swell gray cloth gown appliqued in white and with black velvet revers exploits these stole fronts on the bolero.

A deep yoke skirt, the yoke reaching a third of the way or more from the waist to the knee, has come in as a distinctly new feature in spring confections of the lighter materials, such as nun's veiling.

A great revival of the crepon fabrics so popular two or three years ago is predicted. A really good crepon is a fabric unequaled for appearance and durability.

Silks of every fashion are to delight the heart of the summer girl. Separate silk skirts, to be worn with fancy waists, retain their popularity, and tailor made taffetas will to some extent take the place of cloth suits.

The Dainty and Elusive Mouchoir.

Handkerchiefs are quite expensive items nowadays, for one must have them dainty, and as we are still pocketless and shall be while skirts continue to be cut on such severely simple lines they are always getting lost. Quite tiny mouchoirs are the newest, of fine cambric, plain silk scalloped and buttonholed with black or mauve embroidered or edged with fine narrow lace. These nice little affairs can be carried snugly tucked into the left sleevelet or in the front of the blouse when this has a "pouch."

A Novel Fad.

A new fad is that of having the eye photographed. One always thinks he knows all about the eyes of his friends, but does he? Try him by asking suddenly the color, shape, size and expression of the eye of any one of his closest acquaintances.

MODERN HOUSECLEANING.

Some Innovations That Turn Old Time Drudgery Into a New Art.

Perhaps one of the greatest differences between the old time housecleaning and modern housecleaning lies in the treatment of floors. The woman who has her house carpeted with rugs blesses the fashion when it comes to cleaning. Of course the floors must be polished. If the floor is not of hard wood, a coat of paint is the first application. After that there should be two or three coats of varnish, then a rubbing with sandpaper and after that a good oiling and polishing. The floor is then in good condition for several months to come. Many housekeepers make a practice of having floors rubbed weekly with kerosene, but this is not cleanly, and the fact that it proves ruinous to any light gown that trails over it is argument sufficient against the practice.

There are professional cleaners who may be secured to come in and thoroughly clean the most delicate carpet. They use nothing more or less than gasoline. It will clean your carpet so that it will look as good as new as far as removing spots and restoring color are concerned. Of course, there are all sorts of precautions to be taken in this work. The day should be a cloudy one, and then only a small portion of the fluid should be exposed at one time. There should be no heat in the room, and then also the windows should be left wide open. If these precautions are taken to the letter, there can be absolutely no danger for the home woman of judgment cleaning her own carpet.

It is often an extremely difficult piece of work to take up a heavy moquette or velvet carpet. As they do not sift dirt through them, the cleaning with gasoline is a great saving of labor. A small portion of the carpet may be cleaned at one time. In cleaning the carpet in this manner pour a very little of the fluid upon one small space and then rub with clean cloths until perfectly dry and fresh. The work requires plenty of clean cloths and plenty of fluid. The windows of the room should be left open until all the smell of the fluid has evaporated, says The New Idea Woman's Magazine in presenting the foregoing bits of modern household practice.

New Effects In Waists.

Blouses not only remain in favor, but present some very chic new effects, as witness the two here sketched. One is a lemon colored glace silk veiled with white chiffon and trimmed with sets of vertical and curved plaits, simulating a bolero. It has a chemisette with high collar, waistcoat front and battlemented cuffs, accentuated with black velvet ribbon.

The other is a wedgwood blue foulard, finely plaited in the front of the corsage, striped with black velvet, hurdle fashion, and studded with gold at the points. A huge chou on the left side is connected by a careless torsade to a smaller one with hanging end at right side of waist.

Loops For Dresses and Waists.

Waists may have the loops at back of neck, on the waist line or on each arm near the back. Wherever placed they should not be loops, strictly speaking, but a three or four inch piece laid flat and sewed to the garment at each end. Applied in this manner inside the skirt belt there can be no danger of a wayward loop protruding to view above the belt, advises Good Housekeeping. On each side back of the hips, to take the weight of the back fullness, is the proper place for loops, but a third may be placed in front and the skirt folded in a way to preserve the front crease when hung away.

A Neat Notion For the Bathroom.

For a dressing room or bathroom a very good idea is to have matting put along the wall as a kind of dado. It could be fastened under the wainscot board, but if it is being put up after the room is fitted a small additional piece of molding may be put along the top of the wainscot board to hold the edge of the mat. A similar piece of beading runs about two feet six inches round the wall to hold the upper edge. The advantage of matting is that it does not hurt if it gets splashed and gives a light, clean appearance to the room.

Notes From The Jewelers' Circular.

One of the most chic effects in cardcases is that of black suede with corner ornaments of tiny brilliants and pearls.

Very high, round topped and cabochon emeralds and rubies represent distinguished form in rings.

A snake bracelet or ring goes without saying with anybody who affects popular style in jewelry.

It is said that silver ferrets and tags are to be the next craze.

Burnt ivory inlaid with silver makes a good cane handle.

Alluring mourning chains are in gun metal and pearls.

Soft, lusterless shades of gray abound in silverware.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

TOPIC.—Foundations.—Math. vii, 24-27.

These are closing words of Christ's sermon on the mount. The people have heard His gracious words, but hearing alone does not benefit. They must not only be hearers but doers of His word before they are His. This Christ teaches them in the parable of the houses built upon the rock and sand. He who hears and does is founded upon the rock. He who hears and does not builds upon the sand. Christ points out the results of hearing and doing, and hearing and not doing, and then places the responsibility of action upon the people. We are not compelled to become Christians. Christ does not force us to do His holy will. He shows us the advantages of doing it and the direful consequences of not doing it, and if we are wise we will be both hearers and doers of His words.

Two foundations are mentioned in the topical reference as the basis of our study: 1. The foundation of rock. Our lives may be builded upon a foundation of rock. That rock is Christ Jesus Himself. He is "laid for a foundation" and "other foundation can no man lay." The man who builds upon Christ for time and for eternity builds upon a rock that nothing will ever be able to move. The very gates of hell shall never prevail against it. Christ here teaches us that we build upon Him as the rock when we both hear and do His words. He who knows what Christ would have him do and does it founds his life upon Christ. Christ's desire toward us is for our justification and our sanctification. We are justified and saved by faith in His death. We are sanctified by the power of His holy spirit. And in these two great works the will of Christ should be our will. Thus should we found our lives—our hopes for time and for eternity—upon Him as the rock of our salvation.

2. The foundation of sand. Any foundation other than Christ is sand. Any building material other than Christ is straw and stubble. Some build their hopes for eternity upon their personal goodness, their personal morality. But he who does this builds upon the sand, for he who hears and does the words of Christ will not have much confidence in self. Some build upon the hope of a future probation. But this is sand. The words of Christ call upon us to believe in Him and to accept Him now and teach us that our future is unalterably fixed at death. Some build their hopes upon a profession of Christianity. They have the name but not the power of religion. They profess, but do not possess. But this is a foundation of sand, as is everything else other than Christ Himself.

On what foundation are you building? The testing day is coming—the day of rain, of storm and tempest. Will the house of your life fall or stand? If founded upon Christ, it will stand. If founded upon anything else, it will fall. Build then upon Christ, the sure foundation. Act as well as sing

On Christ the solid rock I stand;
All other ground is sinking sand.

Prejudices Good and Bad.

All men and women are guided by their prejudices. They could not be safe without their guidance. They could not even live in the world of active life unless they were at every moment and at every point protected by prejudices which warn them against things that are dangerous or disagreeable and invite them to those that are useful and pleasant. The majority of all these prejudices are protective.

But there comes a time when by common consent reason should take the place of prejudice. After wisely avoiding things that might be injurious, but that there was not time to examine, it is well to test the prejudices that have been handed down from father to son and from mother to daughter, and especially those stronger impressions made by the father upon his daughters and the mother upon her sons. It is the mark of education and a sign of culture to revise one's prejudices, to strengthen those that are rational and lay aside those that have lost their meaning and are no longer useful.—Christian Register.

Hungering For the Truth.

There never was such an opportunity since the world began; the field was never so white for the harvest. Men are hungering for the truth; they are passionately seeking for the other life. The tangled threads are broken heartstrings snapped here on the border and bleeding to be knit up once more. Tell them not what you don't know, but help them to follow what we all do know to the final end and fuller revelation.—Evangelist.

The Promise of Better Things.

Hope is so strong and the expectation of better things to come is so active that to every new promise of truth to be revealed the public lends a willing ear. There are so many evils to be ameliorated that whoever promises relief in sufficiently persuasive tones will get a hearing. But the public does not listen long unless promises are quickly followed by performance and fulfillment.—Christian Register.

The Lost Chord.

I have sought, but I seek it vainly,
That one lost chord divine,
That came from the soul of the organ
And entered into mine.
—Sir Arthur Sullivan.

GOVERNMENT'S RIGHTS

Trespassed Upon by Neutrality Proceedings at New Orleans

Washington, April 13.—The legal proceedings at New Oricans to prevent the shipment of mules purchased in this country to South Africa was the most important matter discussed by the cabinet yesterday, and the attorney general was directed to make an investigation of the question, and report his opinion to the cabinet. As near as can be learned members of the cabinet with legal training are of the opinion that these proceedings are contrary to the rights of the government.

The view expressed is that when neutrality proceedings are inaugurated in United States courts they should be brought in the name of the United States, an alleged violation of neutrality being a question affecting nations, not individuals. The mover of the proceedings in the New Orleans case is a man claiming to be a resident of South Africa, who contends that his interests are placed in jeopardy. It is pointed out that if an individual could go into the courts and secure restraining orders on the ground that the neutrality laws of the country were being violated, the commerce of the country might be seriously endangered.

These views of the New Orleans proceedings were elicited during a brief suggestion with reference to the statement that the British government had decided to use no more American meat in its army. No official information exists concerning this report. Attorney General Knox will make a thorough investigation of the New Orleans case. If it is found that the neutrality laws are such as to permit individuals to bring proceedings in courts, congress may be asked to pass such amendments as will leave these questions wholly in the hands of the government.

Loomis In Hot Water

Washington, April 13.—It is learned that there will be no original appointment to the post at Caracas, vacated by Minister Loomis. The state department expects to transfer to that post some one of the United States ministers now serving in another capital. The various interviews ascribed to Minister Loomis at San Juan have attracted much attention here, and the minister will probably be invited to explain some of his utterances, if he is not able to enter a broad denial of the accuracy of the interviews. Reflections upon the personal character of the president of Venezuela are not regarded as proper, according to official etiquette.

Robbers Responsible For Two Deaths

Pittsburg, April 13.—Thomas D. Kahno, a Mount Washington grocer, was shot and killed in his home yesterday by three burglars, while defending his wife, who was being chloroformed. A few hours later the rendezvous of the alleged felons was discovered, and in a desperate fight which followed Detective Fitzgerald was instantly killed and the man who fired the shots that killed Fitzgerald was badly wounded. Two male and two female alleged members of the robber gang were arrested and diamonds and other booty worth from $3000 to $4000 recovered. The whole of the gang is believed to be in custody.

CATHOLIC DECLARATION

As Endorsed by Representatives of Their Colleges

ABSOLUTE STATE CONTROL

Said to Be the Tendency of Educational Legislation, Thereby Crippling Private Schools—Appeal For Protection From Alleged Illiberality

Chicago, April 13.—At the closing session of the national conference of the association of Catholic colleges a declaration of the Catholic position on education in the United States was adopted. The resolutions comprising the declaration received the unanimous assent of the representatives of 70 different colleges—practically the entire collegiate system of the Catholic church in America.

The declaration adopted was as follows:

First—That this association of Catholic colleges requests its president, Right Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, respectfully to call the attention of the bishops of the United States, at their annual meeting, to the work of this conference in regard to our collegiate conditions, and especially to the importance of the high school movement.

Second—That the tendency of educational legislation forces us to warn our Catholic people of the systematic and well-defined effort in certain quarters toward absolute state control in education, thereby threatening and crippling all private educational effort, thus depriving a large class of the citizens of the liberty of maintaining schools in which their religion shall be made an essential element.

Third—That we remind legislators of the rights of conscience guaranteed to us by our American citizenship, and call their attention to the system of schools which our people have maintained at great expense and sacrifice.

Fourth—That we protest against the unfair and unjust discriminations resulting from much of the educational legislation, and we appeal to the fair-mindedness and sense of justice of the American people to protect us from such illiberality.

Fifth—That this conference of Catholic colleges convinces us that we are justified in asserting that our college system deserves the generous co-operation of all interested in higher Catholic education, and we pledge ourselves to use every effort to protect still more our collegiate conditions.

Sixth—That we call upon all Catholics to recognize the imperative need of a more perfect organization of our educational system, and we assure them that with a fuller development of the Catholic high school we shall have a complete system with its headship in the university, and thus we shall continue to maintain a high collegiate standard.

A Freak of Nature

Butte, Mont., April 13.—Aportion of Butte, believed to embrace the larger part of the big hill upon which some of the Anaconda mines are located, has made a very perceptible movemem southwestward during the past few days. At the foot of the Anaconda hill the slide pushed the tracks of the street railway line about six inches for a distance of about 300 feet along the road. Geologists and scientific men claim that the entire range of mountains about Butte is constantly moving and that the sliding process is still going on.

Kruger Invited to Visit Illinois

Springfield, Ills., April 13.—A resolution was adopted without opposition by the lower house of the Illinois legislature yesterday lauding Paul Kruger as "the leader in the patriotic cause of his race in resisting British oppression and preserving to his people the inalienable rights of home rule and self-government," and extending to him "a cordial welcome to our shores and to the state of Illinois," and asks him if he should visit America to address the Illinois house.

Widows the Victims of Frauds

London, April 13.—The Statist has discovered a clique of swindlers here representing a leading American insurance company. "These swindlers," it says "notify the family of a man recently deceased that the last premium, which ought to have been paid at a given date has not been paid, and that if it is not forthcoming by a specific date the policy will lapse. The widow hastens to send the remittance."

Probable Work of Incendiary

Haywards, Cal., April 13.—Hunt Brothers' company fruit canning plant was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The company's boarding house and 8 cottages were also destroyed. Many families were rendered homeless. The loss will exceed $125,000. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

Caught by Mountain Slide

Denver, April 13.—A huge mass of snow and rock swept down from the mountain near Adelaide on the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad, burying a work train and killing three men and seriously injuring four others.

MILLER IS ACQUITTED

Government Had No Grounds to Sustain the Charge of Murder

Montpelier, Vt., April 13.—Upon the recommendation of the state attorney, Judge Foster of the Washington county court yesterday afternoon directed the jury in the case of F. A. Miller, charged with the murder of "Major" Seth Johnson, to find a verdict for the respondent. The jury returned this verdict without leaving their seats, and Miller was released from custody.

The trial has been largely in the nature of an inquest to find out how Johnson, whose body was found in a swamp, met his death. None of the respondent's witnesses were called, and the witnesses for the state failed to give any testimony to show that murder had been committed, all the medical experts examined declaring that Johnson came to his death by drowning. It was also found that certain stains found on Johnson's hat were not caused by blood.

Miller was indicted by the grand jury, which also brought in an indictment against a man now said to be in Texas. No attempt has been made to find and arrest the latter, and it is stated that there is nothing to prove that he ever knew Johnson. Miller was also indicted for alleged assault on John E. Wing, but it is understood that the case will be dropped.

Machinery Became Disabled

Boston, April 13.—Steamer George W. Clyde was towed into port late last night by the tank steamer Maverick from Philadelphia, which picked her up off Chatham, where she was lying in a helpless condition. The Clyde came from Jacksonville and Charleston. When off the Orleans life saving station her machinery became disabled. A heavy sea was running through the sound, and the steamer pitched and rolled considerably, until a steadying sail was hoisted, and she was hove to until picked up by the Maverick.

Trio Sent to State Prison

Boston, April 13.—David Werblinsky, Samuel Goldstein and David Kerner, convicted of stealing a safe from Max H. Morse, were sentenced by Judge Sherman yesterday, Werblinsky to state prison for a term of not less than seven years, and not more than nine; Goldstein to the same place for not less than six years nor more than eight and Kerner for not less than four and not more than six, with the usual solitary for all. The stolen safe, according to the owner, contained about $3000 in money and jewelry.

Hop Beer Is Intoxicating

Portland, Me., April 13.—The joint trial of five cases arising from the wholesale seizure of liquors by Sheriff Pearson's deputies early this month was concluded yesterday. Judge Hill rendered a decision that the hop beer under consideration was an intoxicating and a malt liquor. He sentenced the five respondents to pay a $100 fine each, or spend 60 days in jail. All the cases were appealed, and they will be fought over again in the superior court.

Old Glory Greeted the Sun

Highland Light, Mass., April 13.—The sun yesterday lifted an embargo of fog and storm on the Cape Cod coast which extended through 14 days. The weather has been the most exceptionable for the time of year in the history of the life saving station. At sunrise yesterday, by order of Superintendent Sparrow, all the life saving stations from Monamoy to Wood End hoisted the American flag and kept it up for an hour.

Alleged Firebug Arrested

Great Barrington, Mass., April 13.—Another serious fire started here last night. The Berkshire annex and the Watson block, the last two wooden blocks in town, were burned to the ground. Two men and a woman had narrow escapes from death. Roy Sagendorf was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Norton this morning, on suspicion of having set the fire. Total loss will be about $47,000.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 13.—Without a single speech for or against, the house yesterday killed the bill permitting those observing Saturday as the Sabbath, to work on the next day. The bill had already been passed by the house to a third reading, and the action of yesterday was in the nature of a surprise. A reconsideration will be asked for.

Engine and Cars Derailed

Proctor, Vt., April 13.—A freight train left the track here yesterday, owing to the giving way of a rail, and the engine and three forward cars were derailed. Nobody was injured. The engine has not yet been brought back to the track, and as the ground is very wet, the engine is sinking further into the mud continually.

Checks Said to Be Worthless

Machias, Me., April 13.—A number of checks on banks, said to have been given by one Frank Butterfield to people in this city, have been protested, and Butterfield is believed to be in New Brunswick. He had been buying up old iron and copper from condemned vessels along the coast during the winter.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Good Afternoon.

Easter weather has come, spring has burst its winter bonds and today for the second time for many days; the glorious sun has told us that leaf and root and seed are struggling to come forth in vernal freshness. While last Sunday we celebrated Easter in our many churches with fine music, rare flowers and impressive words from our preachers, today and tomorrow, a sermon written by the hand of God upon this northern land, will tell us that this century is his best and our best. Easter has dawned and winter gloom is dispelled.

Woman is taking a new field (no pun) for activities. Many of our good housewives are bent upon a small farm in their back yards, and already bushels of seeds are soaking, flower and vegetables seeds to be mixed indiscriminately soon a thousand to a square inch.

One enterprising young woman was seen with a ladies' pitchfork over a slender shoulder on her way home from her daily work, an umbrella was over the other and later, sweet peas and green peas, will mingle in feminine profusion.

For the past two nights, certain sections of Quincy have had an opportunity to find out how it seems on a dark night to be without street lights. Owing to a break in the machinery but few of the street lights could be operated, and it was extremely dark. The street railway men who run nights report several narrow escapes from accidents, owing to the darkness, and that they were unable to see carriages until almost upon them. Thursday night it was especially dark and last night it was 10 o'clock and after before the lights on Hancock street were turned on.

Drift of Opinion.

☞One is justified in wondering to what extent self-sacrifice and saving toward the future are commendable when one reads of the Waltham scrubwoman who died leaving over eighteen thousand dollars in the bank, for which other people are now scrabbling. Probably the poor woman never gratified a desire of her life in the haunting dread lest she should some day become dependent.—New Bedford Standard.

☞At the General Court, in the year 1639, Lynn was fined 10 shillings "for their bad wayes," and admonished to mend them by the next Court. Highways were undoubtedly intended, and it is probable that they were mended according to order. In fact, the town and city have been engaged in the work ever since, and nothing has yet been invented to pave the way to a condition which will require no further mending.—Lynn Items.

☞The average American business man is not a fool. Even upon the low level of expediency, he knows that success waits upon energy, industry, intelligence, when vitallized by honesty. He knows that the successful reversal of this is exceedingly rare. He knows that commercial standards were never before so high in determining financial standing and in deciding upon all business methods. He knows that the world is greater than himself as an individual, and that it would be folly to put dishonest plans for his own gain against the solid position of the business world. — Robert Ogden in Sunday School Times.

Unity Club.

The regular meeting of the Unity club was held last evening in the Unitarian vestry at Wollaston. A very large audience was present to listen to an exceedingly interesting program. The subject of the evening was "Netherlands," in charge of Mrs. Washburn.

Mr. Sampson, principal of the Quincy school, gave the first paper on Antwerp. He pointed out the rise and fall of Antwerp's commerce, stating that in the 16th century it was at its height, and no commercial port could compete with it. He showed the rapid increase of art and manufactures in the past centuries.

Mr. Hallett, a Boston artist, gave personal reminiscences of his visit to Antwerp. He described the several different paintings of all the Flemish painters—Van Dyke, Fraus, Hals, Rubens, and others. The most famous picture of Ruben's was the "Descent from the Cross," of which he exhibited a picture.

Mr. Southworth of the Quincy High school gave an interesting paper on the "Duke of Alva." He sketched his life and depicted his peculiar characteristics, cruelty and stupidity, a thorough Spaniard. As a general, he ranked the first of his time. He also described his military career, and cruel conduct while governor in the Netherlands, entering it in an enlightened age and leaving it entirely corrupted.

Mr. Waterman's voice sounded to a great advantage, while Miss Goullaud delighted the audience by singing in a charming manner French chansons. They also sang during the evening many pleasing selections.

Before the evening closed, Mr. Charles Finch, Mr. Frederick H. Bishop and Mrs. Charles T. Baker were chosen to nominate the officers for next year,

The next meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Corthell. Mr. Harper, Mrs. Washburn and Mrs. Marsh will read papers. As this is the last regular meeting of the club before the banquet May 10, it is hoped that a large gatherr ing will be present.

Castle Sbuare Understudies.

An excellent presentation of a new version of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" was given at Quincy Music hall last evening by the understudies of Castle Square theatre. Additional local interest was added by the appearance of Mr. Seth A. Arnold of Quincy in the leading part of Joe Morgan, the drunkard, and Miss Avonia Eldridge, also of Quincy, as Mrs. Morgan, the drunkards' wife. Many of the theatrical friends of the cast were present, and the audience was the largest that has greeted an out-of-town company this year.

Mr. Arnold took the various stages of his part true to life, in appearance and speech, and gave additional evidence of his powers in the reading of "The Murderer" between the acts.

Miss Eldridge's part was not very prominent, but was well-executed.

Henry Edwardes the typical rural Yankee, and Miss Harding, the girl who reads "yaller" novels, had the comic parts and were both clever. Little Marian Finley took well the part of the drunkard's child, and also pleased the audience in song and dance between the acts.

Miss Hubner, who took the part of Willie Hammond, the victim, was evidently travelling too fast, and the change in Landlord Slade and his son shows that it is not safe for well disposed people to sell drinks. Mr. Pierce, the card sharper, was successful for a while, but the work of Fred Bruce the philanthropist triumphed in the end, and those who survived were converted to temperance.

The musical specialties on the violin by Mr. Laveau between the acts astonished and pleased.

The stormy weather has somewhat interfered with work of excavating at the Fore River Ship Co. plant for the keels of the two battleships, but now pleasant weather has made its appearance work will be rushed.

Scores of visitors apply at the Fore River Ship Co. office every day for permission to go through the works, but are refused, as they would not only bother the workmen but would also affect the insurance.

There is a beautiful flower garden, a veritable art garden in Miss Collins' store. Tea roses of a delicate hue, Jacqueminots of a rich tint, green leaves and branches that make the woods dull now. These have gotten in ahead of the weather, and are a promise of brightness in our streets.

The Viking.

Lief Ericksen and his husky Viking crew clapped all sail on to ancient dragon-prowed craft, rode full tilt into the heart of Cambridge last evening, dropped anchor in the Pi Eta clubhouse, landed a full ship's company of lively song and dance artists, and got a king's welcome from 400 expectant Pi Eta "grads," gathered to welcome the hardy Norsemen after 900 years of absence.

The "Viking" made a tremendous hit. Society "boys" who have seen every Pi Eta show since the early 70's were there, and they cheered and yelled with the gusto and enthusiasm of freshmen. Their judgment is that this year's piece is "the best yet." Certain it is that for straight comic opera, with a book that scintillates with bright lines, and lyrics that are irresistable, set to music that is catchy and tuneful, "The Viking" holds its own with any one of the many successful pieces that have emanated from Pi Eta talent. And in one feature, that of costuming, the piece really eclipses anything heretofore produced.—Herald.

Safe Men Sentenced.

The three men who stole the safe in a Lowell street house, Boston, last November and which was later found in a battered condition in Quincy, received sentences yesterday. Werblinsky got from 7 to 9 years; Goldstein from 3 to 6 years, and Kerner from 4 to 6 years.

BREAK IN MAIN

Almost Shuts Off Quincy's Supply of Water.

There was a serious break in the 48-inch main of the Metropolitan Water supply at Brookline yesterday, and for a time the pressure at Quincy was very low, and there was a scarcity of water. All of the Quincy manufacturers using large amounts of water were notified by telephone of the trouble. Later Quincy was supplied through another source. In the meantime, however, the water was all gone from the reservoir and the only supply was what was in the mains. It was very fortunate that a fire did not occur at this time.

Last night the standpipe was filled to overflowing. Today the supply is being pumped from Chestnut hill. This has stirred up the sediment in the reservoir and pipes and accounts for the muddy appearance of the water this morning.

In Boston the pressure fell rapidly and nearly every elevator operated by water power was stopped.

The break is being repaired as fast as possible.

Supper at Atlantic.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Atlantic Memorial church gave a supper on Wednesday evening. It was in charge of the committee, Mrs. Theodore Parker, Mrs. H. S. Kolseth, Mrs. J. A. Kendall, Mrs. Geo. W. Hill, and Mrs. Frank Jenkins who furnished a bountiful and appetizing spread.

They had as guests at supper fifteen members of the Atlantic Boys' Brigade who with Councilman W. F. Gassett provided the evening's entertainment.

This consisted of solos by Mr. Gassett, violin solos, singing by a quartette of boys, recitations, a gun drill by a squad of the Brigade and also a flag drill.

Mr. George Geikie had charge of the entertainment which was very enjoyable and reflected credit upon the members of the Brigade who took part.

Mr. Gassett's singing was heartily encored as usual.

The Anniversary of the Benevolent Society occurs this season and there is a plan on foot to make a special observance of the occasion some time in the month of June.

Checker Victory.

The checker team of the Quincy Y. M. C. A., are happy over their victory of Thursday evening over the Boston Y. M. C. A. boys, particularly as the latter have defeated the Harvard team. The total score was 12 to 4 in favor of Quincy as follows:

May Festival.

The Annual School Childrens' Festival and May Pole Dances for the educational work of the Quincy Home Science Association is being planned this year with more than usual enthusiasm, in view of the recent decision of the School Board to give the schools a half holiday on Wednesday, May First, the day of the Festival, to enable teachers and children the more easily to attend and participate.

This action on the part of the Quincy School authorities, always alert to serve the interests of the schools, is a recognition both graceful and timely of the Home Science Association as a definite educational factor in Quincy.

And an encouragment to effort more carefully planned and effective in the future. The free class in sloyd for boys between the ages of 11 and 14 years promised for the coming summer if the festival is financially successful, is a recent development of Home Science work which will be watched with especial interest.

The Pi Eta.

A big social event comes off next week, when the last and best work of The Pi Eta will be given in Quincy Music hall next Wednesday evening. There are now in Boston and vicinity three troupe of young men who have worked conscienciously in the line of the stage in their leisure hour only, and they have done work that will bear comparison with the real stage of professionals.

One of these is the Cadets, so long known, another the Pi Eta by our Cambridge boys and a later one the young men of the Bankers' Association. Each has done credit to the stage. We in Quincy are to have a chance to see this refreshing spirited play called The Vikings and while there are so many good things on the carpet there is room for this.

Willing to Pay $5,500.

A special town meeting was held at Weymouth to consider the street lighting question. After a lengthy discussion, it was voted to appoint a special committee who should be authorized to make a coutract with the company to furnish the same number of lights as they had been furnishing for $7,000 for $5,500, and that the committee keep watch of the lights to see that the contract was executed.

The Superior Court.

Yesterday the Superior court at Dedham, found Maurice I. Gatcomb of Quincy, not guilty of violation of the liquor laws.

John Sparn, Jr., having pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the shop of Hannah M. Cronin at West Quincy, Feb. 28, his case was put on probation.

Tickets for the hundred fads and fancies worked out by our people have reposed quiety during the rainy weather, but those selling for these various things have begun to be brisk and probably lecture loving people will make up during the remaining evenings in April for the dullness of its first part. Society is to be out now in Easter garments and so are the woods and waysides.

New French Teacher.

Quincy has been fortunate in securing as temporary teacher of French at the High school, Mr. Gaspard de Coligny of West Roxbury, who was brought up and educated in France, and was graduated at the University of Paris. He will continue also as one of the lecturers at Harvard University.

His Method.

The bell in the private office rang three times, and the man at the desk hastily reached for a flannel bandage, which he put around his neck. Then he arranged a sling in which to put one arm, mussed up his hair, drew down the corners of his mouth, got out of his chair and painfully limped toward the door.

"Mr. Smithkins?" inquired the well dressed man who opened it just at that moment.

The man with the bandage gave a half suppressed groan and answered: "Yes; that's my name. What can I do for you?"

"You seem to be suffering," suggested the caller.

"Suffering!" returned the other. "Do you think I'm doing this for fun? Do you suppose I bandage my throat for amusement, tie up my arm for sport and limp because I think it's graceful? And I've been in this way for six months. But what can I do for you?"

"Pardon me," said the caller, backing out. "I'll call again some other time."

"It's some trouble," soliloquized the man with the bandage as he removed the harness and returned to his desk, "but experience has taught me that it is really the quickest way to discourage a life insurance agent and keep him discouraged. That fellow never will come back."—Chicago Post.

Appendicitis.

"Appendicitis," said Dr. Abbe in an address before the New York Academy of Medicine, "has few rivals in the surgical field and takes rank today with typhoid, pneumonia and rheumatism in medical thought. Surely when the active surgeon of today can number 100 operations for diseased appendices yearly—and there are a dozen such men in New York and in other cities in the same proportion—we begin to grasp the importance of the subject and its menace to the community.

"The public continues to ask the physician what was appendicitis formerly, and he answers, 'Probably it passed under the description of "inflammation of the bowels" or "peritonitis."' It is true that less than a generation ago numberless people in the course of summer travel were stricken with so called inflammation of the bowels or peritonitis and died.

"Now we hear of no one so reported, but it is said, 'He had an attack of appendicitis, was beyond the reach of a surgeon and died,' or, 'So-and-so had an attack of appendicitis, was operated upon and recovered.' Hospital statistics show the same changes of tabulated diseases. It is merely a new name, not a new disease."

Nobody Paid Her Fare.

A young woman got aboard a West Broad street car and discovered, to her humiliation, that her fare was missing when the conductor called. In a gruff manner the custodian of the car said he'd have to get the fare at once or the woman would have to walk. This declaration added to her embarrassment. The car was crowded. On her right sat a genial Irishman and on her left a well known bookkeeper. The bookkeeper and Irishman exchanged several meaning glances. The conductor was about to pull the bell rope. The bookkeeper said he'd pay the fare as the young woman looked perfectly honest. The conductor repeated that he'd put the woman off. This aroused the Irishman, who said, "If you put the woman off, your funeral'll be tomorrow." Seeing a slight nervousness on the part of the conductor, he continued:

"How many people on this car want to attend the funeral of this conductor?" Several answered in the affirmative. The conductor grew excited and in the altercation that followed walked to the platform without securing the woman's fare.—Columbus Dispatch.

Wigs For Hire.

"Men do not hire street wigs," said a New York wigmaker. "The man who wears a wig constantly owns it. But there are nevertheless many wigs hired out. Actors, for example, hire wigs, and wigs are rented for masqueraders and costume parties, and sometimes wigs are rented for surprises. So that after all wigs are included in the great list of things that can be hired, which list would be found, I fancy, to include pretty much everything that could be named."

Other Women Present.

Shoe Clerk—Are you being waited on, ma'am?

Fair Customer—No. I want a pair of walking shoes.

Shoe Clerk—What price and size, ma'am?

Fair Customer (rather loudly)—Threes!

Shoe Clerk—Threes?

Fair Customer (in a low tone)—Yes; $3; size, G D.—Philadelphia Press.

An Estimate.

Jack—That's a fine dog you have, Jim. Do you want to sell him?

Jim—I'll sell him for $50.

Jack—Is he intelligent?

Jim (with emphasis)—Intelligent? Why, that dog knows as much as I do.

Jack—You don't say so? Well, I'll give you 50 cents for him, Jim.—Exchange.

Clean Sydney.

In Sydney the streets are thoroughly cleaned every night, and any one throwing refuse or waste material of any sort on the street is arrested and fined. All the kitchens in the larger residences are on the top floor, and all the clothes are dried on the roof.

A cat may look the picture of personified innocence, but it is just as well to keep the door of the canary's cage closed.—Chicago News.

The musical instruments of the Greeks closely resemble those of Turkey and Syria.

Old Colony Street Railway Company.

Estimate of Western Churchmen as to Bishop Clark

HE HAD CRITICISED THEM

For Alleged Violation of Church Rubrics In a Consecration Service—A Protest Against His Use of Title of "Presiding Bishop of the Church"

Indianapolis, April 13.—Protestant Episcopal bishops McLaren of Chicago Gratton of Fon du Lac, Nicholson of Milwaukee, Williams of Marquette and Francis of Indiana, and Coadjutor Bishops Williams of Nebraska and Anderson of Chicago yesterday sent to Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal house of bishops, a protest against his use of the title "presiding bishop of the church," which, it is claimed, he did in an official communication published in the church organ of December "disclaiming any responsibility for the violation of the rubrics and the introduction of vestments having no authority or use in the church," which, he claims, was done on the occasion of the consecration at Fon du Lac, a few months ago.

At this consecration, copes, mitres and Episcopal staffs were used, the service was interpolated with special rubrics and, in the language of a prominent Episcopal clergymen of this city, "things were interjected that were not desirable or legal."

In The Churchman Bishop Clark published an "official communication from the presiding bishop," in which he formally made the disclaimer of responsibility for their interjection or use, and his signature to this disclaimer as "presiding bishop of the church" brought out the address which was forwarded yesterday by the bishops.

The address says: "For reasons which will appear, we cannot recognize you as holding any archepiscopal or judicial relation to our actions, nor do we propose in this letter to offer any plea to the charges mentioned in your communication. We disavow any desire to conceal our action; we simply decline to offer any plea whatever in the face of charges emanating from one who is absolutely devoid of any judicial relation to that action.

"We find ourselves compelled to emphasize the point because the title which, perhaps inadvertently, you employ in designating yourself, suggests the idea of some measure of review and control as vested in the incumbent of the position which you now hold. The title "presiding bishop of the church" is not found in our canon law. It would be very unfortunate if there should exist in the Protestant Episcopal church (and there are many who fear it does exist) a process of evolution which would end in clothing the senior bishop with metropolitan powers. This is very undesirable and nothing would be more calculated to prejudice a lawful development of the movement toward a proper provincial system.

"We disclaim any reflection upon yourself as though it had been your premeditated purpose to assume powers not conferred by the constitution or canon but drifts and tendencies often exercise influence where the minds is unsuspicious of the logical terminus ad quem. This particular drift and tendency can only be checked by protest and exposure so that the church may be put on its guard against the subtle encroachments of a centralizing policy which would work irreparable harm to religion and endanger our liberties as churchmen.

"That the canons do not recognize any authority original to and inherent in the presiding bishop of the house of bishop as such is evident, in that the canon under which you acted provides that, in case of his death, the duty passes to the bishop who, according to the rules of the house of bishops, is to preside at the next meeting of the house of bishops. Since, then, there is not a word or line of our statutory law which clothes the presiding bshop of the house of bishops with an iota of episcopal authority in any other diocese than his own, we must perforce look upon the communication to which we are referring as expressing only the private views of the bishop of Rhode Island."

Thornton's Boiler Gave Out

Washington, April 13.—Commander Hemphill reports that the torpedo boat Thornton was put on her trial over the Barren island course yesterday, and ran about 45 minutes at a speed of 26.7 knots, when the forward boiler gave out. The contract requires a continuous run of two hours at a speed of 26 knots per hour, so that the trial, while developng good speed for a short distance, was not sufficient.

Rev. Dr. Gray Called Abroad

Boston, April 13.—Rev. James M Gray, D. D., of Boston, teacher of the synthetic method of Bible study, has been invited to be the temporary supply of two pulpits in Great Britain. The question of acceptance will be decided soon. One of these pulpits is that of Rev. G. C. Morgan, London, who is coming to this country to do evangalizing work, and the other is the City Temple, Glasgow.

Riches For Dowager Duchess

New York, April 13.—The will of Fernando Yznaga was filed yesterday. All of his property is left to his sister Consuelo, Dowager Duchess of Manchester. The real estate is valued at $2,000,000, and the personal at $35,000.

Flood Derailed Electric Car

Brookline, Mass., April 13.—A 48-inch water main on Boylston street burst yesterday, causing considerable damage. An electric car, overtaken by the flood, was thrown from the track, and cellars in the vicinity were flooded.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

EARLY MUSKMELONS.

Transplanting From Thumb Pots and From Hotbeds.

Experiments in transplanting muskmelons for the purpose of securing extra earliness or increased yields have been conducted at several of the experiment stations. At the New Hampshire station transplanted plants obtained by starting seed in thumb pots, transplanting to four inch pots and hardening off in a cold frame were set in the field June 1 alongside of hills of the same varieties planted from seed on the same date. The largest total yield of each of the three varieties tested was obtained from the vines grown from seed planted in hills. The transplanted vines ripened their fruit earlier than the vines grown from hill planted seed.

At the Colorado station a test was made to note to what extent hotbed propagation may hasten maturity and how successfully it may be performed. The seed was put in hotbeds April 3. Some seed was put in cans so arranged that the plants could be taken from them without disturbing the roots. Other seed was put in the hotbed without any support. It was found quite difficult to transplant them when the roots were at all disturbed. Fully 95 per cent of those set out from the cans grew and about 50 per cent of those taken from the bed without support.

The first planting in the field was on April 29 and the next on May 10. The first ripe melon was taken from the transplanted vines Aug. 17, only one day ahead of the plants grown on alfalfa and manure and only four days ahead of those grown with no fertilizer. They ripened in quantity, however, faster and for the next ten days gave more ripe melons than any other planting.

A New Strawberry Louse.

Reports of a plant louse, or aphis, infesting the leaves of cultivated strawberry plants in myriads, which is an undescribed species never found before and must therefore be indigenous to the arid region, are noted in Denver Field and Farm. It is whitish or slightly yellow in color, and the winged form has some dark markings. These lice may be killed with kerosene emulsion, but it is of the utmost importance to obtain strawberry plants from reliable nurserymen. To make doubly sure of the condition of plants received it is desirable to dip them in kerosene emulsion or tobacco water or fumigate them with hydrocyanic acid gas.

Favorite Easter Plant.

Of all the plants high in favor the ericas are not outclassed at Easter. The erica is and is not a novelty. It is just receiving the recognition which it deserves, and of all the species the daintiest is Erica cupressina, a photograph of which is here reproduced from Gardening.

EASTER PLANT OF ERICA CUPRESSINA.

Wholesale florists have taken to the erica as a specialty, and we may expect it to soon become better understood and widely popular.

The ericas include white, yellow, delicate rose pink, crimson, mauve and other hues.

The Early Shrubs.

The season of hardy shrubs begins almost before the snow is off the ground and some time before the leaves put in an appearance with the forsythia, with its bell shaped flowers of clear yellow, which are in strong contrast with the green branches. This is followed closely by the flowering almond and its near relative, the flowering plum, and then, as the season fairly opens, comes a profusion of desirable plants, all eager to show their beauties.

What Others Say.

The demand for ornamental nursery stock is increasing.

There is considerable inquiry for peonies of varieties suitable for cut flowers, and buyers are in search of stocks of the true "drop white."

Mr. Morrill, the peach man, is a firm believer in wood ashes as a fertilizer, and he uses but little else.

California pears now reach England in such fine order as to rival the best French fruit. They include the Hardy, Clairgeau and Duchess.

The most beautiful gladioli of today are "much mixed hybrids."

Moisture favors pear blight; drought restricts it. The one factor is presence of the germ, no matter what are the conditions.

Spring is the most natural season for transplanting roses.

TO BE JOINT PRODUCT

New Canal Treaty In Process of Negotiation

THE PRESIDENT IS HOPEFUL

That the Influence of Time Will Overcome Objections Which Have Previously Existed and That New Measure Will Pass Without Amendment

Washington, April 13.—Another treaty between Great Britain and the United States, looking toward the same end as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, is under consideration and likely to be in shape for presentation to the senate at its session next winter.

The pretext for complaint seized upon by several senators who voted against the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was that they had not been consulted before the close of the negotiations. That excuse has been nullified for the benefit of the new treaty by a methodical process of inquiry which has put the president and cabinet into possession of the individual views of most of the Republican and several of the Democratic senators, and is as near an approach to the actual submission of the terms of the new treaty as would be practicable to make. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty, moreover, was drawn by Secretary Hay, on the lines of conversation held with Lord Pauncefote, and was signed by Pauncefote just as it left Hay's pen. Even the other members of the McKinley cabinet were not called into consultation upon the form and character of the instrument.

This time, it is said, not only will the secretary of state submit his work to his colleagues, so as to make it in a measure a joint product of the administration, but all the demands in behalf of this country which seem to have any serious support in the senate, and which can be made consistent with each other, will be incorporated in the first draft, to be laid before the British government before final revision. Objections from that government can be considered by our government, and by the time the senate meets it is hoped that the new treaty may be in such form as to go through without amendment.

It is believed that Secretary Hay is not very sanguine of success in this enterprise, but the president has hope enough for two. He is always inclined to take the cheerful view of things and has great faith in the "composing" influence of time. His notion is that the senate, even as composed last winter, would probably take a somewhat more favorable attitude toward the Hay-Pauncefote treaty if it had its work to do over.

The new organization of the senate, however, will be more strongly Republican. It will number 54 straight Republicans, two unclassed men of Republican antecedents and sympathies—Jones of Nevada and Teller—and 32 Democrats, including in this list five like Harrison and Heitfelt, who have left other parties or independent positions to enter the Democratic caucus. In case the president's overtures to the Addicks faction in Delaware succeeds in getting two Republican senators from that state, this will make the administration party so much stronger and the Republican contingent 56.

A very few Republicans may object to the new treaty on one ground or another. Mason of Illinois, for example, because it is against his principle to recognize England in any friendly way; but their defection, the president believes, can be more than be made up by attractions from the opposition ranks when the whole canal project seems to hang in the balance. The new military and colonial patronage opens a wide field for "conciliatory" operations among the senators who are only technically hostile, and the president is by no means troubled over the outlook. Some of the members of his administration are laying their wagers on "McKinley's luck" being as potent in this matter as always before.

The Clayton-Bulwer Treaty

London, April 13.—Negotiations on the Hay-Pauncefote abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty are progressing, though they have not yet passed the tentative stage. A representative of the Associated Press has been informed that they are being conducted on a quid pro quo basas, and that no other method of abrogation would be considered by the British government. The foreign office hopes that a settlement, satisfactory to both the United States and Great Britain, will be arrived at before congress is reconvened.

Averse to Making Martyrs

London, April 13.—A serious seditious movement, says the Pietermaritzburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, is spreading among the natives. It is headed by native ministers who preach the doctrine of "Africa for Africans" and incite the natives to throw off all European control. The authorities are carefully watching the propaganda, but are reluctant to interfere through fear of making martyrs of the ringleaders.

Aged Man Accused of Wife Murder

Mason, O. April 13.—Mrs. John McClung, wife of a retired farmer, was found dead in her bed yesterday with her head crushed. The coroner held an inquest and directed that McClung be arrested on the charge of murder. McClung is 68 years old, and is said to be worth $100,000.

Will Be a Total Wreck

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 13.—The sealing schooner Minnie L. F. is ashore at Savage Harbor, and will be a total wreck. She had 650 seals on board. Previous to striking one of the crew was washed overboard and drowned.

Counterfeiters Were "Well Fixed"

New York, April 13.—Secret service agents went yesterday to the headquarters of the counterfeiters, John A Skoog and Emil Mobert, in Brooklyn, and found a large quantity of English and foreign money, which the men used as copies to make counterfeits from. It was reported that from $5000 to $6000 in good English money was found, besides about $15,000 of foreign notes. A lot of chemicals, a large camera, 100 pounds of prepared paper with silk fibres running through it and a milling machine to make $5 Indian head bills were also found, and with the money were removed to the headquarters of the bureau.

Victim of Enraged Tiger

Indianapolis, April 13.—Rajah, the Bengal tiger that fatally injured one of the keepers at the zoo in this city several months ago, yesterday attacked Frank C. Bostock, proprietor of the zoo and dangerously injured him. His right leg and his face were badly lacerated by the tiger's fangs. The tiger was gnashing at his victim's face when a trainer rushed to the rescue and drove the enraged beast to his cage, after firing several shots into his body.

Still Far From Settlement

New York, April 13.—Representatives of the employers and employes of the Central Railroad of New Jersey held two lengthy conferences in Jersey City yesterday, but the conferees confess that no material progress toward a settlement has been made. It is expected that the conferences will be continued into next week.

No More Common Law Marriages

Albany, April 13.—Governor Odell has signed the bill to prohibit common law marriages. It provides that after Jan 1, 1902, there shall be no common law marriages recognized in this state, except the parties thereto have signed a contract in the presence of witnesses and had the same recorded.

NEWS IN BRIEF

It is asserted that King Edward intends to a great extent to abolish the giving of peerages and other honors for purely political and party services.

Admiral Melville, chief engineer of the navy, has gone on a tour of inspection of the northern navy yards, beginning at Portsmouth and including Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

The quartermasters' department of the army is making ready for the opening of the season in Alaska, and is arranging transports to carry supplies to the troops in that department.

Frank Keevan, 34, committed suicide at Worcester, Mass., by drinking carbolic acid. Despondency is given as the cause of the act.

For the Old Folks at Home

Chicago, April 13.—Frank H. Cooper, a millionaire merchant of this city, started for Holland yesterday to dedicate a home for old people in Akkrum, in the province of Friesland, where he was born. The dedication will take place May 8, and on that day Mr. Cooper will throw open the doors of the old folks' home whic hhe has built, and which he will maintain during his lifetime. Mr Cooper has made provision for an endowment fund to maintain the home after his death.

Conviction In Boxing Cases

Fall River, Mass., April 13.—The state got a conviction against the boxers of the Fall River Athletic association in the district court here yesterday. Four of the participants, two being boxers and the other two officers of the club, were fined after being found guilty. The cases were appealed.

From a Catholic Standpoint

Chicago, April 12.—Educational legislation in the United States was attacked yesterday in the discussion at the Roman Catholic educational conference, as being unfair, partial and prejudicial to the private rights of individuals and to religious institutions in the tendency of the laws to absolute state control of schools. The educators urged combined and earnest action to extend and perfect the Roman Catholic educational system and protect the institutions championing it, in order to win in the competition between the secular and church institutions. It was claimed that the present time is the most critical one to determine the supremacy or weakening of the church educational system.

Platform Modifications Not Unlikely

Fort Smith, Ark., April 12.—Chairman James K. Jones of the national Democratic committee, in an interview yesterday considered absurd the talk of some "formerly recognized leaders of the party about the necessity for reorganization." "It is quite within reason to believe," said Mr. Jones, "that there will be modifications of the platforms of Chicago or Kansas City, but what these modifications may be no one can say, although it is not probable such modifications will be radical in character."

Loving Cup For Miekeljohn

Washington, April 12.—Former Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn was presented last night with a big silver loving cup by his former associates in teh department, the contributors including Lieutenant General Miles, Adjutant General Corbin and others. The inscription on the cup is as follows: "Presented to Hon. George D. Meiklejohn on his retirement from the office of assistant secretary of war by his friends in the war department, April 11, 1901."

Single War Claim of $216,666

Washington, April 12.—The first claim presented to the Spanish war claim commission was filed yesterday. The claimant is Maria Soler L. Martinez, and the amount is $216,666, the stated value of personal and other property connected with a sugar plantation destroyed during the late insurrection. Mrs. Martinez makes the claim by virtue of the naturalization of her husband as a citizen of the United States.

DISAGREES WITH ALLEN

Borda Says Prosperity Has Forsaken Porto Rico

THE BALANCE OF TRADE

Is Against the Island to a Greater Amount Than Her Money Circulation — Misgovernment Declared to Be at the Bottom of the Trouble

New York, April 11.—Venceslao Borda, Porto Rican commisioner, has made the following statement in reply to public utterances of Governor Allen of Porto Rico since his arrival in Washington:

"The questions at issue between Governor Allen and the commissioners are merely two: First, whether his administration of Porto Rico has been conducted to the prosperity and welfare of the island, and, secondly, whether the Hollander revenue law was such a measure as should have been hastily, and, without a hearing, approved by the chief executive of Porto Rico.

"Governor Allen has gone out of his way to attack personally the commissioners when he says that the members of the so-called commission are foreigners—one a Spaniard, one a South American and one an Englishman. We fail completely to see how this assertion, even were it true, could affect the merits of our case, but we do think that it shows that his arguments must be poor when he has to avail himself of one of this nature."

"Commissioner Balbas is a native Porto Rican.

"Although born in London, I have been for the last 14 years a member of the New York bar, and ever since my majority a citizen of the United States. The charge or objection, therefore, that the commissioners are foreigners, is unsustainable, unless it be true that those only are Americans in Porto Rico who are public officials.

"Governor Allen states that Porto Rico has never before in its history been so prosperous; that more persons are employed today than ever before; that the sugar crop will yield 100,000 tons. He gives, however, no facts or figures to substantiate these assertions. They are, therefore, mere statements of an interested official. There is no more truth in them than in his first affirmation, that we were tax-dodgers, objecting to payment of our just share of taxation, and that the rest of the Porto Ricans were well satisfied with the situation. Now comes a Porto Rican labor leader, Santiago Iglesias, with a petition, signed by 6000 workingmen, which declares that the condition of Porto Rico could not be worse.

"That Porto Rico is not as prosperous as he would like the people of the United States to believe, is eloquently and conclusively shown by the customs statistics.

"It is misleading to compare the exports and imports of this year—that is to say the production and consumption of the island—with that of the years of the war and hurricane. The contrast should be made, to be fair, with the fiscal year just previous to our occupation of Porto Rico, and with the present fiscal year, which, according to Governor Allen, is also a normal one. The exports during the former year amounted to about $11,400,000; the imports to about $10,800,000—a balance of trade in favor of the island of $600,000. The exports from May 1, 1900, to Februray 28, 1901, were $5,814,083, and the imports $8,100,000, a balance of trade against the island of $2,285,917, which is wholly unsupportable and speaks ruin when it is recalled that our circulation is less than $2,000,000 and that Porto Rico has lost her credit in the commercial world.

"Governor Allen states that never has there been the number of laborers employed as at present. He fails to offer the grounds for his belief. The production of the island does not show it. The alarming emigration of laborers to Ecuador, Cuba, Hawaii and San Domingo, which he admits is taking place, emphatically belies the governor's assertion in this respect.

"Governor Allen also says that the sugar crop will amount to 100,000 tons. He cannot know this to be a fact, as it has not yet been gathered. It is purely one of his optimistic opinions. The sugar planters of the island estimate the crop, if favorable weather continues, not higher than 70,000 tons, a very high estimate. Why does not the governor mention the other industries of the island? We answer, because misgovernment nearly wiped them out."

Furnished Text For a Nation Sermon

Indianapolis, April 11.—W. B. Carrow, a traveling representative for Bell & Co. of New York, committed suicide at a hotel here last night with poison and bullets. A note on the dresser read: "I go to seek the hereafter. Tell Carrie Nation that rum and cigarets are a damnation. Wire T. L. Carrow, New York, and if he refuses, the potter's field is good enough for me."

Made Richer by Ten Millions

Chicago, April 11.—Armour institute in this city, which owes its existence to the late Philip D. Armour, today received an additional $10,000,000 to its endowment, the money coming from Mrs. P. D. Armour and J. Ogden Armour, widow and son of the founder. The announcement of the gift was a surprise even to the officials of the institution.

Goebel Murder Suspect on Trial

Frankfort, Ky., April 11.—A jury was secured yesterday to hear the case of Garnet Ripley, accused of complicity in the shooting of Governor Goebel. Ripley entered a plea of not guilty. In opening the case for the prosecution Judge Williams declared there was a conspiracy to kill Goebel, and that Ripley was connected with it throughout.

A DUTCH COLONIAL.

Floor Plans Most Conveniently Arranged—Cost to Build, $2,700.

[Copyright, 1901, by George Hitchings, architect, 1090 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

We herewith present a Dutch colonial style of architecture, making a very homelike, comfortable house. The exterior is very artistic, while the floor plans are most conveniently arranged. The hall is ornamented with a handsome staircase with turned balusters and carved newels. This hall contains a closet in the rear for hanging overcoats, etc., making it impossible to spoil this cozy little spot with coats and umbrellas exposed to view. The parlor has a nook in the front with three windows. This nook can be furnished prettily as a Turkish corner or window seat. The massive oak mantel with bevel plate mirror is a feature in itself. The dining room is connected with the parlor by sliding doors and has a large bay window, a dresser, or buffet, and an open fireplace. This room is trimmed with chestnut wood stained antique, and the walls are covered with red or maroon burlap, making a handsomely finished room. The kitchen is provided with all the modern fixtures.

The second floor has three good sized bedrooms and a bath with open nickel plated plumbing. Each bedroom has a large closet. The attic has one finished room and a storeroom. Dimensions—front, 20 feet; side, 31 feet; height of stories—cellar, 7 feet; first story, 10 feet; second story, 9 feet, 6 inches; attic, 8 feet. The exterior is covered with siding on the first story and shingles on the second story and roof.

Cost to build complete, $2,700.

Choosing the Location.

In choosing a location for a dwelling it is well to avoid flat ground. A gentle slope is much better. Especially undesirable are the bottoms of depressions having no drainage outlet for the excessive subsoil moisture, as malaria and other diseases are to be feared in such localities. A bald, treeless and grassless plain is undesirable as giving too great changes of temperature. A deep, narrow valley is objectionable, as it has insufficient circulation of air. Neither an open summit nor a flat surface at the foot of a hill is as satisfactory as the intervening slope. The upper half of a declivity furnishes usually the most desirable site. If there be a well drained break above it will intercept the ground water. Evergreen trees on the up hill side of the house temper the severity of cold night air. Trees on the northern side of a site serve as a valuable windbreak in winter. The location should afford plenty of sunlight.—New York Press.

To Remove an Ink Stain.

The peculiar acid of the tomato will remove ink stains from white cloth, according to The Household. Apply the tomato juice to the ink spot before water has touched it. A little rubbing may be necessary, and after the stain is out wash thoroughly in water. It should be said that different inks have different staying qualities, some of them being very persistent, but upon the kind tried, an ordinary black ink, the tomato juice was entirely successful.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Favorable Conditions Reported From All Parts of the Country

New York, April 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The tone of general business has been better this week. Marked activity in the distribution of merchandise is reflected in the gains of 45.9 percent in bank clearings at New York, compared with 1900, and 20.8 percent over 1899, with gains of 13.5 and 10.8 for the same periods at leading cities outside of New York. Even the textile markets show pronounced gains. Activity in the metals' division has taken pig iron production to near record figures. The government report of the condition of wheat on April 1 is the surest possible basis upon which expectations of continued commercial prosperity could be founded. Stringency of money is largely local in New York, and does not alter reports from most of the larger cities of favorable conditions in collections.

Speculation has been unusually heavy in foodstuffs, the local market averaging over 2,000,000 bushels of wheat daily. Prices receded sharply from the top point of two weeks ago, wheat losing about 4 cents for spot. Corn received better support by manipulation and lighter interior receipts. The large increase in hog packing at the west as compared with last year's figures probably accounts for the first sign of pronounced weakness in pork products.

Large producers of footwear in New England are still doing a good business, with sufficient orders to insure full time at the shops for a month or more.

Textile fabrics are in better position, although improvement is slight and confined to a few special lines. In the cotton goods division there has been more buying for China, while spring dry goods openings make encouraging exhibits. The raw material lost most of last week's gain, speculators making no resistance to the weakening influence of larger receipts and lighter exports than a year ago.

France a "Russian Sentinel"

Berlin, April 13.—Commenting upon the Franco-Italian festivities at Toulon, The Vossische Zeitung says: Such displays are necessary from time to time to satisfy French vanity. They are the most innocent safety valve for the most restless, most conceited, most ambitious and most foolhardy nation, a nation which is, nevertheless, now satisfied with the role of a Russian sentinel. Alsace-Loraine is more and more forgotten in the growing pressure of economic advancement.

No Leniency From Goff

New York, April 13.—R. M. Moore, counsel for Patrick, Short and Meyers, who are charged with the forgery of the will of William M. Rice, appeared before Recorder Goff yesterday and made a motion to decrease the bail of Short and Meyers. The two men are now in the tombs in default of $10,000 bail set by Justice Jerome. Instead of acceding to the request of Lawyer Moore, the recorder increased it to $20,000 each. No opinion was handed down.

A Remedy With a Drawback

Berlin, April 13.—At yesterday's session of the congress of surgeons in this city, Professor August Bier, inventor of the "anodyne method," consisting of cocaine injections under the spinal membranes, said the method had now been tried in 1200 cases, and had met with enthusiastic approval. He added, however, that he regarded it as dangerous to life and that it must not be used indiscriminately.

Official Notice Not Received

Washington, April 13.—The information in the possession of the department of agriculture regarding the British government's decision to buy only homebred beef for its army supplies after June 1 next, consists of the advices from packing houses in Chicago and the press report from London confirmatory of those advices. No official confirmation has been received.

Diplomats to Confer

Paris, April 13.—It has now been decided that M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, will go to St. Petersburg to confer with Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, and to see the czar. Chinese questions and the situation in eastern Europe will be discussed, and important consequences are expected to result from these conferences.

In a State of Uncertainty

Tientsin, April 13.—Trade prospects are extremely gloomy. Chinese importers and wholesale dealers are fearful owing to the disturbed state of the country, and the uncertainty as to the future. The customs collections for the March quarter were 37,000 taels, against 120,000 for the same period of 1900.

Against the Platt Amendment

Havana, April 13.—The Cuban constitutional convention placed itself upon record yesterday against the Platt amendment by a vote of 18 to 10. The Conservatives assert that this action is embarrassing, inasmuch as it practically ties the hands of any commission that might be sent to Washington.

Not a Gubernatorial Candidate

Cleveland, April 13.—Charles P. Salen Mayor Johnson's campaign manager states that the mayor will positively not be a candidate for governor this year.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, April 14.
Sun rises—5:06; sets, 6:24.
Moon rises—2:18 a. m.
High water—7 a. m.; 7:30 p. m.

The southwestern storm has assumed more decided proportions and has divided into two sections, one being central over southwestern Missouri and the other over off the coast of Louisiana. "I wrote Dr. Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free."

"I endured nearly four years of suffering," writes Mrs. J. L. Myers, of Washington, W. Va., "caused principally from improper medical attention after the birth of a child, and female weakness, resulting in a complication of diseases. Had a terrible cough and an incessant pain and soreness in lungs. Was reduced in flesh from 184 pounds to about 100 pounds in eighteen months. I had no appetite, and became so weak and nervous I could scarcely sit up. I doctored with our home physicians for two years with no benefit, I was finally induced to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I wrote to Doctor Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free, advising the proper medicines for my case. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three doses each day, also taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and some of his 'Pellets,' I ceased coughing, and am now enjoying splendid health and have gained thirty-five pounds in weight. I again feel like my former self, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his great medicines."

Keith's Theatre.

Nothing offered at Keith's Boston theatre this season has scored a solider hit than the revival of the novel song-sheet, with its capital chorus of 50 voices and the popular Belle Davis as soloist. The song selected for the opening week had a charming melody and is being whistled everywhere already, but in pursuance of the announced policy a change will be made the week commencing April 15 to "Take Me Back Babe" one of the best songs rendered two years ago. The capital orchestra, under the direction of Louis Baer, gives a swing to the songsheet that was absent when it was heard before, and those who fail to hear it under the changed conditions will miss a treat. ### Wollaston Unitarian Church.

A very pleasing evidence of the prosperity of the Unitarian church at Wollaston was afforded the public at the Easter concert of the Sunday school on Sunday afternoon. It seems that at the Harvest concert last October, each class for the Sunday school promised to earn and give to the church a certain sum these sums varying from $1.50 to $20, according to the age of the scholars and the size of the classes. So the winter has been a very busy one for most of the scholars.

Various methods have been tried, candy sales, entertainments, and parties of different kinds, and individual earnings and contributions. Some of the infant class have earned their pennies in very a unique maanner. One little girl, when asked how she earned her money, replied, "by folding papers and opening my bed."

The amounts earned by the classes were given to the treasurer, Mr. Wellington, on Easter afternoon. Some of the classes had exceeded their pledges by as much as two dollars. The whole amount was $135 a very acceptable Easter gift.

In thanking the Sunday school for their generous help, Mr. Wellington took the opportunity, on behalf of the church, to thank the Ladies' Alliance for their Easter offering of $200.

The Sunday school's Easter collection, which goes to the Children's Mission in Boston, was about $15. It is very gratifying to the people of the church, and also to the community to see such proofs of the activity of the Sunday school. Long life and good health to it!

Castle Square Theatre.

The excessive demand for seats for the performance of "The Merchant of Venice," at the Castle Square theatre last week, has led the management of this popular play-house to decide in favor of making it the attraction for its patrons for another week, beginning next Monday. That the local demand for seats for the performance of a Shakespearian play, by a stock company, should justify twenty-four performances of it within three weeks, shows that there is a far larger appreciation of the great dramatist than has been supposed by those most familiar with dramatic productions in this city. The Castle Square theatre production of this fine old comedy, merits all the good words that have been said about it. The players of the stock company have all shown their sterling worth in a standard play, which, in recent years, has been reserved for the star repertoire; and the management of the Castle Square theatre has given this production the aid of stage settings, groupings, music and tableaux quite equal to any associated with its earlier performances in this city. On Monday, April 22d, the drama "Lynwood," by J. K. Tillotson, will have its first Boston production at this theatre. Chocolate bonbons will be given all patrons of the Monday matinees until further notice.

End of "Ben Hur" Run.

Klaw & Erlanger's famous production of "Ben Hur," which has been scoring such a series of phenomenal triumphs at the beautiful Colonial Theatre in Boston, ends its remarkable run on Saturday, April 20, and on Tuesday, April 23, begins a brief engagement at the Columbia Theatre in Brooklyn. Those who have not yet seen "Ben Hur" must now realize that their opportunities are few. At the Colonial one may see and hear Ben Hur, Messala, Simonides, Iras, Esther, Ilderim, Amrah, and the other most interesting personages in the great tale of the Christ, and witness the sensational chariot race presented in a manner never before shown upon the stage. It is the acme of realism; a most thrilling spectacle. The tableaux of "Ben Hur" have never been equalled in the theatre. Of surpassing beauty is that showing the appearance of the Star of Bethlehem to the wise men in the desert; that of the Grove of Daphne; that of the Fountain of Castalia, and that showing the multitude on the summit of the Mount of Olives, where the crowd is awaiting the appearance of the Saviour and the lepers are cleansed. This last is one of the most inspiring and fascinating tableaux ever shown upon any stage in the history of the world's theatricals and can probably never be outclassed Saturday night, April 20, is positively the last performance of "Ben Hur" at the Colonial Theatre or anywhere else in New England.

MINISTERS "KILL TIME"

Postpone Meetings For the Most Trivial Causes

JAPAN IS EXPECTING WAR

Is Making Active Preparations For a Conflict With Russia—Kwang Su Is Urged to Return to Pekin In Order to Preserve Integrity of the Empire

Pekin, April 15.—The preparations which the Japanese here are making for an early start indicates that they still expect war between Russia and Japan. Vessels arriving at Taku from Nagasaki report the mobilization of the Japanese fleet and the continuance of preparations on board ship for the anticipated struggle.

Komoura Yutaro, the Japanese minister, accompanied by General Yamaguchi the Japanese commander, recently called upon Prince Ching and notified him that the return of Emperor Kwang Su to Pekin was urgently desired. Prince Ching was informed that the emperor's wishes would be respected by the foreign troops, and that every courtesy would be shown him.

It was pointed out to the Chinese plenipotentiary that the emperor's return was of the highest possible importance as affecting the maintenance of the integrity of the Chinese empire, and that he should come accompanied by every available soldier, by at least 20,000 men if possible. These troops, it was further contended by the Japanese minister, must be sent into Manchuria, as the Russians reported great disturbances there, and it was not right that the task of quelling the trouble should be thrown upon the shoulders of one nation.

Finally Prince Ching was assured that, if the 20,000 Chinese troops could not suppress the disorders in Manchuria, other powers would send an international force to co-operate with China, which all the powers regarded as a friendly power. No reply having been received to this communication, Li Hung Chang was yesterday notified to the same effect, and told that Emperor Kwang Su must give an immediate answer.

The conduct of the ministers of the powers over the negotiations with the Chinese plenipotentiaries causes much adverse comment among the military authorities. Their dilatory tactics have prevented what might have been accomplished two months ago.

Even now the meetings of the ministers are postponed for the most trivial causes. For instance, the desire of one of the ministers to go on a picnic to the Tomb of the Ming dynasty prevented the holding of a meeting for a number of days. Then M. De Giers and other ministers insisted upon celebrating Easter, and thus a week was consumed. In a third case an unnecessary visit by one minister to Tientsin held up the negotiations for four days. These are fair illustrations of what has been almost continuous from the beginning.

Prince Ching says all his reports go to show that the missionary statements regarding a rebellion in Mongolia are not supported by the facts. Neither does he believe that the rebellion of General Tung Fu Halang amounts to much.

"It is the object of certain elements," he asserts, "to make it seem that China is in a condition of constant broil, rendering it unsafe for the foreign troops to be withdrawn. Those who have this view will magnify a village quarrel into a big rebellion. The missionaries, naturally timid, take these reports in good faith."

Francis Joseph's Peace Offering

Vienna, April 15.—Emperor Francis Joseph has fulfilled a long-cherished desire of the Czach population of Bohemia by ordering the establishment at Prague of a modern national art gallery, toward the formulation of which he has himself donated 2,000,000 crowns. In a letter announcing the fact, his majesty expresses a hope that he may succeed in establishing peace in the land through the "conciliating powers of art."

Priest an Expert Builder

Toledo, April 15.—Archbishop Ireland, assisted by about 200 prominent Catholic clergymen from all parts of the United States, yesterday dedicated St. Patrick's church, said to be one of the handsomest church buildings in the country. Father Edward Hannin, though 75 years old, superintended the entire construction and even staked off the ground. There was no other architect or boss on the structure.

Death of Colonel Musick

Omaha, April 15.—Colonel John R. Musick, author, journalist and politician, died of heart failure at his apartments in this city yesterday. Injuries received while rescuing the injured after a cyclone at Kirksville, Mo., were causes which led to his death. Colonel Musick devoted a greater part of his life to writing historical stories for young people.

BOY KNEW HOW TO SHOOT

Fourteen-Year-Old Used Shotgun With Good Effect Upon Would-Be Robber

Ashburnham, Mass., April 15.—A masked man called at the farmhouse of Mr. Cushing, about three miles from town, yesterday afternoon, where only a 14-year-old boy was present at the time. The stranger, who carried a revolver in his hand, told the boy that he wanted money, but his demand was refused, whereupon he pushed his way into the house. The boy seized a double barrelled shotgun and shot his unwelcome visitor in the right arm, knocking the revolver from his grasp. The man picked up the weapon with his left hand and fired at the lad, the bullet, however, going wide of its mark, and he then made a hasty departure. He secured no money, and the boy, who only saw the man for a moment or two, is unable to give a very good description of him. Surrounding towns have been notified of the occurrence, and warned to be on the lookout for the wounded man.

Whisky Bottles For Deputy Sheriff

Brunswick, Me., April 15.—Deputy Sheriff Towne is an ardent Prohibitionist, and has made himself very unpopular with a certain element by his vigorous enforcement of the prohibitory law. As Mr. Towne was retiring late last night, he was startled by a crash of glass, which followed the entrance of a whisky bottle into the room through the window, and again, a moment later, by another bottle. Mr. Towne was cut about the head by the flying glass, but otherwise received no injuries.

Says She Cannot Help Stealing

Boston, April 15.—Mary Ann Taylor, an elderly woman with many aliases, said to be one of the most notorious shoplifters in the country, was arrested in one of the large department stores with a large quantity of stolen goods in her possession. She was released from the house of correction only last Friday, where she had served an 18 months' sentence for the larceny of goods valued at nearly $2000. The woman claims that stealing is a mania with her, and that she cannot stop it.

Carelessness Caused $10,000 Loss

Providence, April 15.—Fire started in the stables at the Narragansett Trotting Park at Cranston yesterday and burned seven stables, four of which were totally destroyed, and the fifth gutted. The fire was caused by the careless dropping of a match. The damage is about $10,000.

Two Men Suffocated

A VERMONT BANK CRASH

Receiver For the Farmers' National of Vergennes

SHORTAGE OF ABOUT $90,000

Prominent and Highly Respected Cashier Is Held Responsible For the Trouble—Defalcations Said to Cover a Period of Fourteen Years

Vergennes, Vt., April 15.—There have been no new developments in the affairs of the wrecked Farmers' National bank in this town. Special Examiner Cunningham hopes to get matters in shape by this afternoon so as to state just what the condition of the bank is. The controller of currency has appointed J. T. Sullivan of his office a temporary receiver for the bank.

Bank Examiner Fish, during an examination of the bank on April 3, discovered a shortage in the cash, and a further investigation which has been conducted by Special Examiner Cunningham indicates a total embezzlement by Cashier D. H. Lewis of $90,000. After the discovery of the defalcation the examiner secured the return of $25,000 to the bank.

The news of the alleged defalcation of Cashier Lewis seemed almost unbelievable when received here Saturday night. It was known to many that a bank examiner was at the bank, but the impression was that the customary examination of the bank was in progress. There had been some talk that things were not just right, but no general belief that the accounts were wrong.

The bank went into the hands of John P. Sullivan, as a receiver, at the close of business Saturday afternoon. The institution has a capital stock of $60,000, and was supposed to have a small surplus. The last report showed that it had deposits subject to check amounting to about $30,000, and time deposits of about the same amount. There was great reticence at the bank as to the exact amount of the shortage, but it was intimated that the entire stock would be wiped out and in addition the stockholders would be heavily assessed. It is not thought likely from present revelations that the depositors will lose. Special Examiner John B. Cunningham came here a week ago last Saturday, and began an examination of the bank on Monday. The directors have been in continuous session since Tuesday, and every effort has been made on their part to straighten out the affairs. The cashier of the bank is D. H. Lewis.

Special Examiner Cunningham was asked for particulars, but he declined to say a great deal, merely remarking that Cashier Lewis had deceived the officers of the bank and that he alone was responsible for the wreck. The exact method which Lewis used to deceive the officers of the bank and the United States examiner was not described. The peculations are understood to cover a long period, and from a source which seemed to be authentic the statement is made that the the funds appear to have been taken in small amounts to cover living expenses. However, as none of the bank officials will directly explain matters it remains to be seen in what manner Lewis used the sums he is accused of stealing.

Lewis is very well known throughout the state, has been a member of both branches of the state legislature, and in 1888 was a prominent candidate for state treasurer. He is very popular locally and this popularity extended to many sections of the state, where he has visited both in a business way and socially. He remains at home and has turned over to the officers of the bank his holdings of stock and negotiable property. His sureties are equal to $30,000, and the men who have signed his bond are believed to be good for that amount.

The bank was organized in 1880, Walter Scranton, the present president of the Lackawanna Steel and Iron company, being its first president and taking nearly all its capital stock.

As the news of the bank's troubles became current in the town there was much interest exhibited in the future of the institution, and in some quarters it is thought likely there will be interesting developments.

Examiner Cunningham says that the methods used by Cashier Lewis to cover his shortage and deceive the directors was a very clever one, the defalcations covering a period of 14 years. Lewis has a living room directly over the banking rooms, and he remained in doors all day and was seen by but a few of his most intimate friends. Lewis is a widower, his wife having died two years ago. His only daughter, Mrs. S. W. Hinds, was prostrated with grief when the facts were made known to her. It is claimed that Cashier Lewis is the only one responsible for the alleged defalcation.

Good Afternoon

A resident of Marshfield is opposed to entertaining President McKinley in that town for a peculiar reason. He says "The president should not come to Marshfield. He would waste valuable time. Let him take a trip to the Philippines and see the slaughter of the in—." Perhaps it would be a waste of time to visit Marshfield. There could be no question about it in winter, but its different in summer.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Wonderment is expressed at the cost of the preparation for the Buffalo exposition—from ten to fifteen millions of dollars. Still, three first-class battleships would cost more money.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ By applying a prolonged pressure of 18,000 pounds to the square inch, a Montreal professor makes marble flow like molasses. Uncle Sam may yet collect that little bill from the Sultan of Turkey.—Milford Journal.

☞ The immigration from the German empire has now fallen off greatly from its former vast volume. The mass of the German-born here is no longer recruited by as large and steady stream of fresh immigrants who cannot read English, as was the case formerly, while the number of those already in New York who have that inability is becoming smaller every day, until at length the time will come when Germans here will no more need a German printed newspaper than does Mr. Roosevelt a paper printed in Dutch. This is a development fortunate for both citizens of German birth or descent and for this republic and it is welcomed by no part of our population with more heartiness than by intelligent men of German blood.—New York Sun.

☞ Henry Faxon of Quincy is jubilant over the senate's vote on the semi-colon bill. He finds in the result of the agitation to restore the law to its original intent, an evidence of a growth of a public sentiment, in the direction of curtailment of liquor dealers' privileges in this state, rather than toward their expansion, and surface indications seem to warrant his belief that this is the tendency of the times. There are several causes leading up to this condition of affairs—causes, moreover, which were not apparent a few weeks ago, as they have since become, and which have yielded a certain amount of contributory support to the anti-saloon sentiment in the whole state. Chief among these is the coincident agitation directed against the Boston police commissioners. The hearings that have been held and the charges that have been made against them, principally in connection with their control of the liquor traffic, have focussed public attention not only upon the commissioners, but upon the saloons and hotels in a distinctly unfavorable manner. If the anti-saloon and anti-commmission people had planned a campaign of co-operation they could not have proceeded hand in hand more effectively. The semi-colon bill at the beginning of the session seemed almost sure of success Gradually it became more and more dangerous for the country members to be identified with it, and the meagre showing when a roll call was forced upon senators who did not want to go on record was suggestive of the final plunge of a scuttled ship.—Practical Politics.

A SOUVENIR.

Mayor Hall Sends President M'Kinley an Artistic Invitation.

The invitation which Mayor Hall has forwarded to President McKinley to visit Quincy is not a common letter on City Hall stationery, but the work of an artist with the pen upon extra quality of paper, and something which one would wrize as a souvenir. In size it is about nine by eight inches. The wording is by the Mayor and reads as follows:

CITY OF QUINCY,
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
April 9, 1901.

The inhabitants of the City of Quincy send greeting to His Excellency

WILLIAM McKINLEY,

President of the United States of America, and through their Mayor and City Council extend to him an earnest invitation to visit this historic city on the occasion of his visit to Massachusetts the coming summer.

Busy in City Square.

Commissioner Knowlton put a large gang of men at work in City Square this morning. One gang is opening a trench from opposite the old Court Room building through Temple to Washington street, in which a ten inch water main will be laid connecting the ten inch main on Hancock street with the main on Washington street. The other gang is at work opening a trench in the gutter on the west side of Hancock street in which a twelve inch pipe will be laid from the corner near Hearn's drug store to the drain connecting with Town brook. This is to take care of the surface water which always accumulates in the vicinity of City Hall after a storm.

A PRESENTATION.

To Uncle Henry by the Granite City Club.

The annual meeting of the Granite City club was held Saturday evening. This meeting will be a memorable one in the history of the club, as upon this evening not only did it reach its membership limit, but one of its best known members passed through the experience of being caned. Encouraging reports for the year had just been read by the retiring officers; and E. W. Henry Bass, who has been clerk and treasurer of the club for sixteen years, had just completed telling the members how good it made him feel, to report that the liabilities of the club could be expressed in ciphers, and that the cash assets were over $1,000, when ex-Mayor Porter stepped foward, with a mysterious looking package in his hand, and in a few words presented Mr. Bass in behalf of the club, with a gold headed ebony cane.

Mr. Bass in replying said that if he was ever surprised, this was the time. He further said that he should use the cane every day and if he lost it, he should call upon the members of the club to find it.

The cane which was very handsome, bore this inscription: "E. W. H. Bass, from the Granite City club—April, 1901."

Two were elected to membership in the club bringing the club membership up to 100 which is the limit.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, James H. Penniman.
Vice President, Henry McGrath.
Clerk, E. W. H. Bass.
Treasurer, E. W. H. Bass.
Finance Committee, W. W. Ewell.
Clarence Burgin and Henry F. Tilden.
House Committee, James H. Penniman, Henry McGrath and E. W. H. Bass.
Membership Committee, Eben W. Sheppard, W. W. Mitchell, John Curtis.
Entertainment Committee, George O. Langley, John Q. Cudworth, Fred E. Jones.

An Improved Genesee.

Those who were disappointed when the plans undertaken for the contruction of a centerboard yacht to defend the American cup fell through, will have satisfaction, in a degree, says the Globe, when Hanley's latest creation now building for the defense of the Canada cup is pitted against the boats now buillding in the preliminary races. The boat which Hanley is building will be called the Cadillac. She is being built for a Detroit syndicate, headed by Mr. John C. Shaw.

During the past week, the molds for the boat have been put up an from now on work will be rushed on her. It is Mr. Haney's intention to get her ready for business between the middle and end of next month. The Cadillac is an improved Genesee, which gave such an excellent account of herself a few years ago.

When Hanlley built the Genesee he was unfamilliar with the conditions of the wind and water on the lakes, but since that time he has learned a thing or two which will stand the Cadillac in good stead. Although the Cadillac has advanced only as far as the molding stage, workman have already begun on the cabin fittings, and as soon as the boat is ready for planking, the construction will be rushed.

Beautiful Floral Tributes.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary S. Alden was held from her late residence, Washington street Sunday afternoon and was largely attended, by relatives, friends, neighbors, and a delegation from Paul Revere, W. R. C., No. 113, of which the deceased was a member. The services were conducted by the Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church, assisted by the Temple Quartette, who rendered three selections. The floral display was beautiful, consisting of a pillow with the word "Mother," a mound of crocus from Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gray, crescent from the W. R. C., pinks from Mrs. E. A. Burrell, flat bouquet from the Misses Cudworth, a standing cross heart and anchor from employes of the O. C. street railway, and a number of other bouquets of calla lilies, roses, etc. As the members of the Corps took the last look of the departed, they dropped an offering of flowers into the casket.

The interment was at Mt. Wollaston.

After a Brief Illness.

The many friends of Mr. Henry F. Tilden will be pained to learn of the death of his wife, Abbie Ludden, which occurred Sunday after a brief illness.

Mrs. Tilden was a daughter of Mr. Franklin Curtis, and was a woman loved and respected by all. She possessed that rare disposition of making friends with all with whom she came in contact, and of retaining that friendship. With the ladies of the Granite City club she was popular, and her presence will be greatly missed at their gatherings.

—The United States Navy Department will exhibit at Buffalo an 8x20 foot map of the world, on which will be placed 307 miniature lead models representing the war-fleets of all nations and their location from day to day.

THE SCOTCH.

Address on their Heritage and Message to New World.

The Rev. Dr. Todd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered an address Sunday night to Clan McGregor No. 5, and the Loyal Ladies society of this city.

The members of the Loyal Ladies met in the vestry hall of the church and were received by Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Milne, and at the hour for service they marched into the church. The clan met at Doble's hall and marched in a body to church where seats were reserved for them. There was a large attendance of the members and the church was crowded.

The pulpit and choir platforms were tastefully decorated with flowers, and ferns, and the stars and stripes, and the Scottish national colors floated together over the platform.

Dr. Todd's subject was, "The heritage and message of the Scotch to this New World."

He referred to their wondrous history, and composite blood, and showed how much the Scotch were indebted for their varied and unique contribution to the Celt, Dane, Norman, Gaul, Saxon and Fenton. He also spoke of some special characteristics of the Scotch race, such as caution, thrift, love of home; loyally to conscience, and devotion to God.

Th Scotch proverb, "Dae naething in haste, but catch fleas," illustrated of their canniness, though many choose when abroad to develolpe the Celtic heat and the Gallic haste in preference to caution.

Thrift was illustrated by many examples of self-denial, as set faith in the families of Dr. John G. Paton, Thomas Carlyle and others, who scrimped and scanted to give their sons a university education.

Their love of home was revealed in the Cottar's Saturday night.

Their devotion to God and loyalty to conscience were evidenced by the fact that though Scotchmen are naturally contemplative and speculative, no great Scotchman had ever become a faddent or an infidel. And today where it is considerd the right thing among youth to be irreligious only ten per cent. were computed in Scotland to be outside of the Christian church.

The greatest philosopher around whom the thinkers still rally is Reid, a Scotchman. The three great leaders in theology today are Flint, Fairbairn and Bruce, Scotchmen. The two great novelists of the hour are Barrie and McLaren. The leading scientist is Lord Kelvin, professor of natural history in Glasgow University. The world's cynic poet is Robert Burns and perhaps the wealthiest man of today is Andrew Carnegie. But all of them bowed the knee to the God of our fathers, and were not ashamed of His truth. When such minds were witnessing for the spiritual and eternal, it were folly to charge religion with being a evanescent empty plaything. He urged all to become citizens and to live their heritage, and enrich this new world.

The speaker, wittily and eloquently enforced his truth until sometimes even the Scotch laughed in the kirk, and sometimes they felt soft and sad as the past was vividly portrayed. But all went home glad they had been there.

Contracted Pneumonia.

John Conlon, whose home is in Pawtucket, R. I., died at the City Hospital Sunday of pneumonia. Conlan had been employed at the Fore River Ship Co. plant, and last Monday was arrested in Quincy for drunkenness. At the time he was lying in the street and as it had been raining his clothing was wet and damp. It was in this condition that he was locked up. The result of his wetting was that he took a severe cold and was taken sick with pneumonia. He was removed to the City Hospital where he passed away.

Stuck in the Mud.

A horse owned and driven by G. F. Tarbox of Quincy took fright and ran away on Teneau street, Pope's Hill, about 10.30 o'clock, Saturday night, reports the Herald, throwing the occupants of the carriage out and demolishing the vehicle. Six hours later Patrolman Murrin, of station 11, found the horse in what is known as the "soft hole" on the mud flats at the foot of Taylor street, Neponset, with his body entirely buried in the mud, and his head and neck just sticking out of the tide water, which was slowly covering him. He was rescued from his perilous position by Patrolman Murrin and Clark, after an hour's hard work.

DOING INTO POLOTICS?

Gotham's Building Trades Unions to Start an Independent Labor Party

New York, April 15.—For the first time since they were organized, the principal building trades unions in this city decided yesterday to go into politics, and to start an independent labor party. This decision was reached at a meeting of the delegates from 21 unions represented in the board of walking delegates. Philip Weinseimer of the Amalgamated Society of Plumbers and Gas Fitters presided.

The meeting was called on account of the recent decision of the court of appeals declaring the prevailing rate of wages law and the state stone dressing law unconstitutional. These laws, the most radical of their kind that have yet been passed in the interest of labor, cost the labor unions many thousands of dollars in carrying on the agitation in their favor, and their annulment is admitted to be a severe blow at labor.

Those who conducted the agitation now say that the city officials who were supposed to be most friendly to labor did not stand by the labor unions as they were expected to do, and that their professions of friendship were not carried out in practice.

The Press Advances Religion

Baltimore, April 15.—In the course of his sermon yesterday, Rev. W. A. C. Frost, a prominent Protestant Episcopal clergyman of this city, said: "Many clergymen sin in remaining asleep to the opportunities offered them for spreading the principles of righteousness through the public press. We are to publish the glad tidings and if we can only reach hundreds by the voice we may reach hundreds of thousands by the journals. We cannot go out to the highways and hedges, but the newspapers can and they will take our messages for us if these are worthy. The devil has the ear of the world. We should be awake to get for God as large an audience as we can. He will hold us accountable if we remain asleep and keep the people slumbering."

Naval Gun Not Lost

Washington, April 15.—The 13-inch gun, which was shipped from the Washington navy yard a week ago yesterday, and which was thought to have been lost on the way, is safe from harm at the navy yard in this city. Admiral O'Neill, chief of the ordnance bureau, says that some mishap occurred to the car on which the gun was shipped, and it was brought back to the navy yard, that being the only place where the gun could be handled properly in transferring it to another car. This was done yesterday, and the gun, which is intended for the battleship Kearsarge, will be shipped to Brooklyn.

Engineers and Firemen Win

New York, April 15.—The Central Railroad of New Jersey has come to an agreement with its engineers and firemen. Their wages are increased, but the telegraphers and train hands did not fare so well. The former were told that they will be treated as liberally as their fellow workers in the employ of other roads, and the train hands are to have another conference with the officials. Timothy Shea, representative of the firemen in Jersey City, announces that there will be no strike on the New Jersey Central road.

Miners Get an Increase

East Liverpool, O., April 15.—The strike of the miners employed by the Salem Coal company, Cherry Valley Iron company and the Grafton Coal company has been settled and the miners, numbering 500 men, have returned to work. The demands of the men were granted and they will receive an increase of 5 cents on all coal mined.

Confessed to Robbing Employers

St. Louis, April 15.—William Hussman, an office employe of the Barrett Manufacturing company for 13 years, has confessed that he is an embezzler and forger to the extent of $4000. Hussman's operations extend over a period of nine months. He was arrested.

Three Killed by a Train

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 15.—Four persons, while crossing the tracks of the Lehigh Valley road at South Wilkesbarre yesterday, were run down by an express train and three of the party were killed and one injured.

Arrival of Transport Thomas

San Francisco, April 15.—The transport Thomas arrived from Manila last night with 70 cabin passengers and 1644 members of the Twenty-eighth and Thirty-fifth regiments of volunteers.

Yacht Racing Flag.

A new rule of the Yacht Racing Association reads:

A racing flag must be carried at the peak of the mainsail by each yacht sailing in a race. Any yacht not complying with this rule, unless excused by the judges, shall forfeit all claim to prize, and a yacht withdrawing from a race shall immediately take down the racing flag.

The racing flag is square, blue ground, with a white centre, size of the star to be one-third of the length of the flag. The flag will be 18 inches square. The racing flag will be presented free of charge to each entered yacht.

The official measurer has been instructed in case of protest to measure the protested yacht immediately, if possible, and, if not possible at the time, to inspect the yacht and take a complete inventory of everything on board, and to measure as soon afterward as possible. The fact that sails are wet shall be no reason for not measuring.

A MYSTERY IN MAINE

Body of a Murdered Man Found In Woods

WAS KILLED SOME TIME AGO

Had Started For Home In Canada With Winter's Earnings and Was Evidently Waylaid and Shot and Afterward Clubbed to Death

Greenville Junction, Me., April 15.—The body of Mathison Pare was found on Thursday on a tete-road at Asquith by a party of woodsmen, who were coming from Moosehead lake. The body had been frozen, but was thawing out, owing to the warm weather. It was covered with boughs and a coat and a hat were at one side at a little distance away. The finding of the body revealed a most brutal murder, with robbery as the motive.

The victim had worked during the winter months on Moosehead lake, above Kineo, for Sylvester Gaudet. On March 8, when he had finished his winter's work at the camp, he received his wages, amounting to $108, and remained at Gaudet's house on Moose river until the morning of March 11. Being anxious to reach home, he started to walk to Asquith station, some eight miles, to take the train for his home in Canada, having then all but $2 or $3 of his winter's wages on his person.

About 10 a. m., on the morning of March 11, he reached the camp of Percy Johnson, 2½ miles from Asquith, and it was when he departed from here for the station that he was last seen alive. His folks in Canada, knowing of his intention of returning home, were worried over his non-appearance, but no tidings as to his whereabouts were learned until Thursday last, when his lifeless, mutilated body was found by a party of woodchoppers lying near the road in Asquith. His parents have not yet been informed of the crime.

County Attorney Gower of Somerset county was notified Saturday of the finding of the body, and, in company with Sheriff Pennell and Coroner Addiston of Skowhegan, reached the scene of the murder yesterday. The place where the body was found is on a lonely winter wood road on the banks of Misery stream, about half a mile from Johnson's camp, where Pare was last seen, and two miles from Asquith station, in Raymond plantation. The body, which was frozen stiff, lay in the snow by the roadside, and the man had evidently been shot from ambush by a rifle ball striking him in the face.

There were indications that a struggle must have taken place, and that the rifle wound had not proved fatal, as there were knife cuts on the face and neck. The right side of the head was terribly crushed, as if from a blow with the butt end of the rifle, and the bones in the face were crushed out.

The money, and a valise, filled with clothes, which Pare had taken with him, were missing, and this fact lends color to the belief that robbery was the motive for the murder.

The body was taken to the Hollingsworth & Whitney storehouse, where Pare's former employer and his wife, the latter the cook at the camp, identified the man. They both spoke in the highest terms of the good character and peaceable nature of Pare.

County Attorney Gower says that no expense will be spared to discover the murderer. Thus far the only possible clue obtained is that one Joe Murray, who was at work on a drive some distance away, but has been sent for, is said to have stated that he could name the party.

Pare's parents are poor people, and as yet they are in ignorance of their son's fate. Deceased was unmarried. The state will probably send the body to his relatives.

The Cudahy Kidnapping Case

Omaha, April 15.—Edward A. Cudahy says that his going to Dallas will depend entirely on the result of County Attorney Shields' visit to that city, in connection with the alleged confession of H. C. Henderson to complicity in the abduction of young Edward Cudahy last December. Should it become practically certain that Henderson was one of the kidnappers, Mr. Cudahy and his son will leave for Dallas during the present week, when the young man will attempt to identify Henderson.

Marquis Said to Have Married Actress

London, April 15.—Considerable surprise has been caused here by the statement of The Sunday Special yesterday that the Marquise of Headfort was privately married during the present month to Miss Rosa Boote of the Gaiety theatre, and that they are now staying at Folkestone. It was generally understood that the marriage had been postponed, and that the marquis would go abroad.

Locked Out by Contractors

Minneapolis, April 15.—A lockout begun here today, involving 500 or more carpenters and other workers. Forty-four contractors are involved and they ordered their men off all jobs when they paid them Saturday night. The trouble is the refusal of the master builders to agree to the working rules of the Carpenters' union.

End of the Hope

Meat Cove, C. B., April 15.—The Newfoundland steamer Greenland took the crew of the wrecked steamer Hope off Byron island yesterday. The Hope was broken up by heavy seas during the past week, and all her seals were lost.

Strain Two Much For Steyn

Bloemfontein, April 15.—It is reported that the health of former President Steyn has broken down. It is also said that he has advised all Boers on commando to surrender immediately.

Big Plant Destroyed by Fire

Boston, April 15.—The main building of the extensive blower works of the B. F. Sturtevant company, off Green street, Jamaica Plain, was burned yesterday, causing a loss of $350,000. The concern manufactured various kinds of machinery and electrical goods, as well as blowers, and the plant was a splendidly equipped and very valuable one. Over 700 men will be thrown out of work temporarily.

Probable Work of Burglars

Waterville, Me., April 15.—Incendiaries started a fire in a block on Main street, occupied by a laundry, book bindery and harness shop, that did about $3500 damage early Sunday morning. Prompt discovery alone prevented a conflagration in the heart of the business section. It is believed to be the work of professional burglars.

Colliery Firemen on Strike

Shamokin, Pa., April 15.—The night and day firemen at Big Mountain colliery went on strike yesterday for an increase of $1 a week. The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, which owns the mine, could not get men to take the places of the strikers. Last week the firemen notified the company they would cease work yesterday unless their wages were increased.

Russia Yielding to Students

St. Petersburg, April 15.—The Official Messenger contains the announcement that in consequence of the closing of the high schools, owing to the student disorders, it has been decided that lectures shall be resumed forthwith and continued, if necessary, through the summer vacation, extra examinations being held to enable the students to make up for lost time.

Fisherman Drowned

Charged With Scalding Her Husband

Auburn, Me., April 15.—Mrs. Lillian Small of Wilcombe Corner was arrested on complaint of her husband, charged with throwing boiling water on his head. Mr. Small was nearly blinded. Mrs. Small secured bail.

Anti-Tammanyites to Organize

New York, April 15.—A formal call for the mass meeting at which is to be formed the Anti-Tammany organization for which John C. Sheehan and his friends have been laboring was issued last night. It contains an arraignment of Tammany's administration of the city government, and calls upon all independent Democrats to gather next Thursday night to join in the establishment of an organization "which will truly and properly represent the honest sentiments and aspirations of the Democracy of the metropolis."

Border Bandit Disposed Of

Silver City, N. M., April 15.—Red Weaver, a well-known border character and a reputed member of the famous "Black Jack" gang of bandits, was killed at Alma. Weaver had threatened to kill Tod Holliman. They met and fired at each other simultaneously. Weaver fell dead with a bullet through his head. Holliman was exonerated.

Bulgaria Warned by Turkey

London, April 15.—It is asserted here, says the Vienna correspondent of The Times, that the Ottoman government has addressed another sharp note to Bulgaria, demanding the immediate dissolution of the Macedonian committee and the prohibition of the approaching Macedonian congress.

Five Cases of Plague Daily

Cape Town, April 15.—There is no increase in the progress of the bubonic plague here, although there is an average of five cases daily. Since the outbreak 392 cases have been officially reported, of which 152 have proved fatal

Jews Flocking Into Hungary

Vienna, April 15.—The Hungarian census shows the population of Budapest to be 703,448. The Jews number 166,000. This represents an increase of 62 percent in the Jewish population during the last 10 years. The anti-Semite journals note the fact with alarm.

NOT HEREDITARY

In the main, consumption is not hereditary; it is infectious. People are too afraid of heredity; better not think of the subject at all. Infection occurs continually.

Low vital force is hereditary; which gives consumption its chance. And infection plants it.

Between the two, the crop is a big one: about one-sixth of the human race, so far as is known.

We suppose it needn't be 5 per cent, if people would take fair care and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

The care saves life in all ways; the emulsion is specially aimed at the lungs, beside its general food-effect.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Infuriated Man Shoots His Wife and a Boy and Then Kills Himself

New York, April 15.—Mrs. Kate Pitt, who was shot late Saturday night by her husband, Harry Pitt, is lying at her home very dangerously wounded. One of the bullets from her husband's revolver plowed a deep furrow under her right eye, and another struck her back of the right ear. Thomas Walsh, a boy who did chores about the Pitt house, and who was also shot by the man, is in a hospital with a bullet in his abdomen, another in the left side and a third in the shoulder. The surgeons say that Mrs. Pitt may recover, but there is very little hope for the boy.

Pitt made a living by selling sand and stone to contractors, and also carried on a beer bottling business in his own house, his wife attending to this part of it. He was of a quarrelsome disposition, and when he came home about midnight Saturday he tried to get possession of a jug of whisky which his wife had hidden in the stove. Her efforts to keep him from the whisky so enraged him that he tried to brain her with a poker, but was prevented by the Welsh boy. This only added to Pitt's fury, and, drawing his revolver, he shot his wife and the boy, and then, going into the next room, killed himself.

Union Men Barred

New York, April 15.—The Herald says: Two large watchcase companies in Newark, N. J., as well as the one in Sag Harbor, L. I., have informed their employes that beginning today they will no longer employ members of local unions. This movement to make employment conditional upon the relinquishment of membership in labor unions is said to be the result of an agreement reached by leading manufacturers of watchcases throughout the country. Eighty engravers at Sag Harbor and the employes at Newark generally, it is said, will stand by their unions and refuse to bow to the company's orders.

Rumored Attempt on Kruger's Life

Paris, April 15.—L'Estafette today publishes a report that an attempt was made to stab Mr. Kruger.

[According to a dispatch to the London Daily Express from Amsterdam, cabled to the Associated Press Saturday last, the Dutch police recently got wind of contemplated attempts upon the life of Mr. Kruger. It is quite likely that the report to which L'Estaffete gives currency is traceable to a similar source.]

Amsterdam, April 15.—The report cabled to the United States that an attempt had been made to assassinate Mr. Kruger is purely imaginary.

Mrs. Nation Again Arrested

Kansas City, April 15.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was arrested in this city last night on the charge of obstructing the streets, and taken to the police station in a patrol wagon. She was released on a cash bond of $6, and will be tried in the police court today. Mrs. Nation lectured in Kansas City, Kan., Saturday night, and came over to the Missouri side yesterday. She started on a tour of investigation among the downtown saloons last evening. A crowd of men and boys followed her until she was arrested because the crowd following her blocked the streets.

Compromise In Hat Trimmings Case

Philadelphia, April 15.—The Record says that the famous "hat trimmings" cases, involving about $20,000,000, and which since 1884 has been the subject of a bitter legal battle between the government and a number of importers, have at last been settled. It is stated on high authority that a compromise has been effected through which the merchants interested will receive about $4,000,000 from the United States treasury, in full settlement of the much larger amount they claim to have been forced to pay in excess of legal duties.

Bank Swindler's Rich Haul

Toronto, April 15.—A stranger opened an account in the Imperial bank Saturday morning, depositing $50. Shortly afterwards he presented a check for $20, which was marked by the ledger keeper. During the rush preceding the close this check, raised to $2455, was presented to the teller and cashed. The same procedure was adopted at the Bank of Commerce, where a check raised from $20 to $2900 was cashed. It is believed that several other banks were similarly victimized.

Movement Against Sunday Concerts

London, April 15.—The agitation against Sunday concerts has been revived in London. A circular, signed by leading churchmen, has been addressed to clergymen throughout the country, asking them to preach against the secularization of the Sabbath.

Attempt to Burn a Convent

Madrid, April 15.—Dispatches from Lisbon announce that an attempt was made to destroy by fire the Jesuit convent at Aveiro, Portugal, but the flames were extinguished by the police. The incendiaries have not been discovered.

Death Penalty For Opium Smokers

London, April 15.—According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, the Korean government has promulgated a law enforcing the penalty of death for opium smoking.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, April 16.
Sun rises—5:03; sets, 6:26.
Moon rises—3:24 a. m.
High water—8:45 a. m.; 9:15 p. m.

Since Saturday night the storm centre has moved slowly from eastern Georgia to the Virginia coast with increased intensity, and the rain has extended into Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Temperatures are below the seasonal average over almost the entire country. There will be rain in New England. On the coast the winds will be brisk to high northeasterly. Storm warnings are displayed from Delaware breakwater to Eastport.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease; get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

CHANGE OF SENTIMENT

Shown by All Classes Toward Trades Unionism.

IS NOT A TRUST SYSTEM

Gompers Declares That the Whole World Is Permitted to Join and Share Benefits of United Action—Has Something to Say in Defense of Strikes

Boston, April 16.—A meeting in advocacy of shorter hours of labor and to arouse sentiment for the nine-hour workday which will be demanded by the machinists of New England on May 20 was addressed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and James O'Connell, president of the International Machinists' association, in Faneuil hall last night.

President Gompers spoke of the progress of the labor movement and the duty that is now felt by members of the labor organizations to life up humanity. "On every hand," said Mr. Gompers, "we see the concentration of wealth controlling not only politics, but, what is of greater importance to us, controlling the industries of the country. We may discuss and hold in horror the great powers that are used politically in the world, but there is greater danger from industrial imperialism than from any other kind."

Mr. Gompers spoke of the increasing respect for labor organizations and the labor problems that have been noted during recent years, calling attention to the change in sentiment exhibited by the church, the partisan, the statesman, the press and the colleges. The trades union movement, he declared, improved the condition of the workers during the past 50 years more than all the other efforts in history.

Discussing the charge that trades unions are trusts, Mr. Gompers said: "Trusts are possessors of wealth that endeavor to confine the influences for good to the fewest possible number, regardless of what injury it may do to the masses of the people. You can't break into a trust with an axe. On the other hand, unions of labor cannot exist if they confine their membership to a few, and they throw open wide their portals and admit the whole world to join in the movement and share the benefits of united action." Defending the strike from the charge that it is a relic of barbarism, Mr. Gompers said: "The strike is the highest civilized method of the masses to attain their rights."

Mr. O'Connell made a plea to the machinists of Boston to join the short-hour movement.

Hosiery Operatives Going to Work

Ipswich, Mass., April 16.—The strike of the operatives at the Ipswich hosiery mills, which was begun about three weeks ago, was settled yesterday, the operatives voting for a return to work whenever the management is ready for them, under conditions named in an agreement.

Strike of Lowell Plasterers

Lowell, Mass., April 16.—The plasterers went on strike yesterday for an 8-hour day. C. D. Palmer of the state board of arbitration tried to arrange a conference between the men and the master painters, but the latter refused to treat with the unions.

Watch Case Makers Out

Newark, N. J., April 16.—Over 500 employes of the watch case factories of the Crescent Watch Case company and the Courvoisier Wilcox Manufacturing company went on strike yesterday. The men are members of the National Engravers' and International Watch Case Makers' unions, and when informed that their unions would be no longer recognized by their firms, immediately left their work.

Protest From Bulgarians

Sofia, April 16.—At an open air mass meeting here yesterday, at which 10,000 people were present, resolutions were passed protesting against the arrest of the members of the Macedonian committee and condemning the attitude of Russia on the Macedonian question. The meeting expressed itself in favor of asking for European intervention against the persecution of Bulgarians by Turkey. The demonstration passed off quietly. Numerous similar meetings have been held in the provinces.

TOLD "FAIRY TALES"

Girl's Romantic Story of Her Life Is Disproved by Her Mother

Dover, N. H., April 16.—At death's door, from the effects of drinking carbolic acid, with intent of ending her life, Eva Lee, 19 years old, yesterday told a story of her life which seemed to have considerable romance in it. But her mother last night waved away the romance by denying much of what the girl had said. Miss Lee came here some days ago, and for some reason not yet correctly stated, took carbolic acid and laudanum. She was rooming in a house on Second street, and the people there heard her groans and got a physician. The overdose of the poison gave the doctor an opportunity to save the girl, and he had great hopes of her recovery. During Sunday night, however, she had nightmare, during which she left her bed. This resulted in an internal hemorrhage, as the carbolic acid had eaten away the lining of her stomach.

Miss Lee had told those at her bedside that she came here to be married to a young man of this city, but unexpectedly the engagement was broken. She said that she had no relatives, that when 7 years of age her parents were lost by the wrecking of a vessel, and that as she was lashed to a raft she was rescued after two days. She claimed to have come here from Portland.

Her mother, however, came here from Portsmouth last night, and denied all the girl had said about her life. The father and brother live in Portsmouth, and the girl had been in Portland but once to the mother's knowledge. Further than this Mrs. Lee would not talk, as she hurried to the bedside of her daughter.

How much of the engagement story is true is not known. The girl repeatedly called for her alleged betrothed, and, although word was sent to him, he refused to see the girl. He is a well known young man. He appears to have no acquaintance with Miss Lee. Dr. Pattee says the girl cannot live.

Two Cases of Smallpox

Springfield, Mass., April 16.—Two cases of smallpox were discovered in Westfield last evening. Both are employes of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Henry Summers, a freight brakeman, walked into the office of Dr. Atwater, and the doctor immediately recognized the symptoms and notified the board of health. Summers was removed to an abandoned schoolhouse, under the care of the town physician. Later in the evening Daniel Van B. Schoten, employed as a telegraph operator at the station, who has been ill at the Foster House, was discovered to have the disease. He was immediately removed to the schoolhouse.

Remembered the Needy

Boston, April 16.—The poor of Boston are liberally remembered in the will of George L. Thorndike, who was a real estate dealer, which was offered for probate yesterday. The city of Boston is given $10,000 in trust, the income of which is to be used to purchase coal for distribution among widowed women. There are many personal bequests, and the testator suggests that when the estate exceeds the value of $200,000 the entire value shall be devoted to the establishment of a free hospital by the city.

Settled Out of Court

Salem, Mass., April 16.—It is understood that a settlement has been made in the contest over the will of the late W. S. Dickson of Salem, and that there will be no trial of the case. Mr. Dickson left about $400,000 to Salem charities and institutions, and $50,000 to Tufts college.

BANK'S DOORS ARE CLOSED

Friends of Cashier of the Farmers' National Promptly Furnished Bail When He Was Arrested—He Is Alone Responsible For Bank's Downfall

Vergennes, Vt., April 16.—The shortage in the Farmers' National bank is placed at $73,000, and of this amount Cashier Lewis admits that he took $25,000, which sum was restored. Of the remaining $48,000 he maintains that he knows nothing as to its disposal. His bonds of $30,000 will reduce the actual loss to the bank to $13,000, which amount will probably have to be made up by the stockholders.

The bank was yesterday closed by order of the comptroller of the currency, and Cashier Lewis was arrested by United States Marshal Field later, on the charge of misappropriating the funds of the institution.

The friends of Cashier Lewis remain true to him, and he was under arrest only nine hours before the necessary bondsmen had been secured to effect his release. Several prominent citizens volunteered to sign the bond, and many others also expressed a willingness to assist Lewis, but the district attorney said that no other names were required.

The arrest of Lewis was a surprise to many people here. He was taken into custody at the apartments of his married daughter, with whom he had made his home, over the bank.

The methods employed by Lewis to cover up his shortage the examiner refused to divulge. When asked how it was that Lewis was able to deceive so many examiners, Mr. Sullivan said that the device used was as clever a method as he had ever heard of, and that it required a good deal of nerve to carry it into effect. It is probable that the plans the cashier carried out so successfully will be explained when the directors arrive here.

Mr. Sullivan stated that there was absolutely no foundation to any report connecting a second party with the downfall of the bank. The bank is capitalized at $75,000, and its aggregate deposits are believed to be considerably less than $100,000, although it was previously reported they were much larger.

Successful Italian Mission

Rome, April 16.—The Italian consul general at Zanzibar has arrived at Aden from the Somali coast, where he went on a special mission to break up the trade in contraband. He caused the palace of the Sultan of Mijertain, Italian Somaliland, who was largely concerned in the contraband transactions, to be bombarded. The sultan's son was captured, and large quantities of arms and ammunition were taken. The sultan fled to the interior with a small following.

The Willard Safely Arrives

Boston, April 16.—It was with an intense sigh of relief that the consignee of the cargo of the first crop of molasses from Ponce, P. R., welcomed the arrival of the Portland schooner Charles J. Willard yesterday. This vessel had been out 84 days on the passage, while the D. D. Haskell, which also reached here yesterday from that port, was only 27 days. The combined cargoes of the vessels are 824 hogsheads, 6 puncheons and 95 tierces.

Dowager Duchess May Divide Money

New York, April 16.—The will of the late Fernando Yznaga was admitted to probate yesterday. Mr. Yznaga left all his estate, valued at about $3,000,000, to his sister, Consuelo, the Dowager Duchess of Manchester, making no provision for his other two sisters, Lady Natica Lister-Kaye and Miss Emily Yznaga, or his mother. It has been stated that the Dowager Duchess of Manchester will divide the fortune with her mother and sisters.

Decision as to Christian Scientists

Milwaukee, April 16.—Judge Elliott in the circuit court yesterday decided that Christian Scientists are not liable to prosecution under the state medical law. The court ruled that the scientists can no more be held for practicing medicine when their means for healing is by prayer than can a minister who prays at the bedside of the sick, and receives therefor a fee, either directly or indirectly.

Marriage Rumor Confirmed

London, April 16.—It is officially announced that the Marquis of Headfort and Miss Rosie Boote, the actress, were married April 11, in the registrar's office at Saltwood, near Folkestone, the witnesses being a villager and Daisey Roche, an actress. They have been staying quietly at the Hotel Metropole, Folkestone, for several days.

Fava to Return to Italy

New York, April 16.—Baron Fava last night gave the Associated Press the following statement: Baron Fava has not been recalled. Owing to important family affairs, which require his presence in Italy, he has applied for his retirement. Baron Fava on his return home will resume his duties in the Italian senate.

Good Afternoon

Some surprise will be manifested at the action of the House of Representatives on Monday, which reversed its vote of the Friday preceding and voted in favor of the Hebrew Sunday bill, which reads in part as follows:

"Whoever conscientiously believes that the seventh day of the week, or the period from sundown on Friday night to sundown on Saturday night, ought to be observed as the Sabbath, and actually refrains from secular business and labor during that day or period, or whoever having such belief actually refrains from keeping open his shop, warehouse or workhouse during that day or period, and has filed with the clerk of the city or town wherein he intends to keep open his shop, warehouse or workhouse on the Lord's day a certificate setting forth such intention, his name, the purpose for which he intends to keep open his shop, warehouse or workhouse and the place where the same is located, giving the street and number when practicable, shall not be liable to the penalties of this section for performing secular business and labor on the Lord's day if he does not disturb or interfere with any other person, nor for keeping open his shop, warehouse or workhouse at such place on the Lord's day if he does not disturb or interfere with any other person."

From a religious point of view, the Hebrews, perhaps, are more conscientious than many other denominations in America, for they close their places of business on their Sabbath without being compelled to, while many Christians, who profess to observe Sunday, would keep open shop if they could. Many seek common victuallers' licenses, that they may have this privilege, and others take advantage where possible.

No one objects to the Hebrews closing shop Friday night and Saturday, so that no one objects to their observance of the Sabbath. There would be more reason for their seeking a general suspension of business on their Sabbath day than to further complicate the observance of Sunday.

Sunday is needed as a day of rest, and workingmen should be the most earnest advocates in favor of its observance, even though they are not church members or attendants at church. Too many, now find that they must work on Sundays.

Probably there are some who work for Hebrews, and some Hebrews who work for others. Will the former under the new order of things be compelled to work Sundays by their Hebrew employers? Will the latter have two Sabbaths?

Will Hebrews who are liquor dealers, be allowed to sell on Sundays if they close their saloons on Saturdays? Will they be allowed to have base ball games, play golf, etc?

The proposed blow at the Sunday laws should receive its quietus in the Senate.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The miracle in the correction of the corner-stone of the Christian Science temple of New York, over which there was so much rejoicing, turns out to have been accomplished by the very natural means of the transposition of one design for another before the order reached the quarry. As in the majority of modern day miracles there was natural cause sufficient for the work accomplished, but it is too bad to disturb the enjoyment of the dream of the supernatural.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞A million dollars a year is the record-breaking salary of the world, outside the circle of "the crowned heads." Mr. Charles M. Schwab will receive that plump and pleasing stipend as the president of the new steel trust. In the New Yor World Mr. Schwab generously told other young Americans how to do it. "The prime secret of my success," he delares, "is loving my work—loving it for its own sake." It is a hard fact, however, that millions of men have loved their work intensely and somehow missed their million a year.—Milford Journal.

☞Boston looks in the right place for unsanitary conditions that are sometimes the source of an epidemic of disease and in order to promote the work two patrolmen have been appointed to assist the Inspector of the Board of Health in the work of keeping back yards clean and caring for persons stricken with contagious diseases. It has been found by experience that little attention is paid to the Inspectors in plain clothes, while the uniformed policeman is immediately obeyed. Spruce up the back yard on or before April 19.—Lynn Item.

☞There is a bill before the Massachusetts Senate which seeks to raise the age at which youths may legally smoke cigarettes from 16 years to 18. We humbly move to amend by making the age 68 instead of 18, and providing that the smoker even then be only permitted to enjoy his favorite delight in some sequestered nook at least one mile from any human habitation, in which he shall cease smoking the instant he perceives the approach of any human being, and shall abstain till that person gets out of sight again. With these additions we think the bill would be a good one.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The savings of millions of dollars in the operation of railroads and other great business concerns through perfection of consolidation schemes reads very well until one realizes that most of the saving will come through the discharge of employes and many thousands of them. The saving, even under those conditions, is, of course, along the line of true economies, but it must certainly be a hardship to carry out such reforms until some other way can be found of giving employment to these men necessarily cast on the world. It is easy to say that such things right themselves and that all men should be engaged in some work that is truly productive, but arguments and logic are not very satisfactory to the man out of employment and in need.—Dedham Transcript.

☞The building trades council of Cincinnati formally opposes the establishment of a technical school in that city, for the alleged reason that the technical schools graduate a class of mechanics who come in competition with a class of boys and young men who have not the advantages of a liberal education, and who are compelled to work from six to eight years before they are judged competent workmen by the members of the craft. In other words objection is made to competency when secured by any other method than that of the old-fashioned slow-going apprenticeship. As the number of apprentices is strictly limited by the unions, the opposition is in effect controlled by the desire to keep the number of workers down to the smallest limit. All this is another manifestation of the opposition to labor-saving machinery and must share the same defeat.—New Bedford Standard.

☞"The abolition of grade crossings in Massachusetts" was the subject of a paper read at a meeting, this week before a Cambridge organization, in the course of which the speaker directed attention to the fact that there are in excess of two thousand one hundred crossings in the State. The number of those abolished to date is one hundred and seventy-nine. Under the law in which the State joins with railroad corporations and counties in such abolitions, Massachusetts taxpayers have thus far been called upon, as their share, to foot bills in this class aggregating more than three million dollars. Without citing any more figures, the reader must concede that the statistics already supplied are alike significant and impressive. If they teach one thing more forcibly than an other, it is that in future work in this quarter, only the most dangerous crossings, ought first to come in for consideration; that is to say, if anything like regard for the best interests of all concerned is kept in view.—Salem News.

☞We want two or three good rents of 6 and 7 rooms. Metropolitan Land Co.

Houghs Neck Preparing for a Great Season.

Sturgess of Hotel Nantasket a Boniface.

Steamboat Line Assured --- New Cottages, Etc.

Houghs Neck is beginning to recover from its winter of inactivity and to brush up a little in anticipation of the approaching summer. An unusually good season is looked for this year, as it is as good as settled that there will be a line of steamers plying between the beach and Boston. It was expected that the deeds in relation to the wharf at the beach end of the line would be fixed up Monday, in the event of which work will be immediately commenced building the wharf. The landing will be on the Mears property just south of the Quincy Yacht club house.

The other line which it was proposed to establish, which was to have a landing near the Willows will probably be given up, for while it is believed that one line may pay it is almost certain that two will not.

The hourly service on the street car line which went into effect this week is appreciated, and the cars are being well patronized. Sunday was an unusually good day, and it was necessary to run two cars on many of the trips. The residents would like also a late evening car.

A few new cottages have been built and it is expected that several more will be during the next few weeks.

Off Manet avenue near "the Willows" a house is going up for Louis Jacobs.

Near George Morton's Red Lion a new cottage has been completed for Mrs. Clark.

Walter Littlefield is putting up a cottage near his stable.

Frank Leonard is erecting a cottage near Taylor's.

George Peterson has put up a little cottage in the rear of the Casino.

Ira M. Whittemore has sold his cottage on the hill to Herbert D. Rollins of Ashmont.

The Quincy Yacht club has sent out notices that no steps will be taken this year toward removing to a new location, as proposed at annual meeting.

Arthur Dunham has been busy during the past winter and has enlarged his post office store to twice its former size. It is finished in natural wood, and is roomy, neat and convenient, and withal is stocked with a first class line of groceries.

J. Dennis of Beverly has moved into his cottage on Winthrop avenue.

W. D. Carr has arrived at the Midland, which has opened up for the season.

Mrs. Eichorn of Roxbury is at her cottage on Manet avenue.

George Morrissey of Quincy has accepted position as clerk in Dunham's store. George is one of those accommodating fellows whom it is pleasant for customers to meet, and he will probably add a long list to those he may call friends before the season is over.

W. J. Tilley is at his cottage on Great Hill.

It is not thought that the metropolitan sewer, which crosses the boulevard leading to the beach several times and which follows through Sea street for a short distance will interrupt travel much this year.

Mr. Norteman of Somerville has leased the Meyers pavilion.

Sturgess of Hotel Nantasket fame has leased the Fensmere hotel, Sportsmans Grill, and bowling alley for the season. That insures good management.

People going to the beach this year will notice a marked improvement near the causeway, as Mrs. Adams has caused all the trees on Rye Island to be cut down.

Boston parties have leased the Loretto for the season.

George Peterson has purchased the Shaw cottage on Bay View avenue.

The all-the-year-round residents have buried the hatchet and peace and quiet reign once more.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

More rain.

A cold storm.

No school today because of the rain.

Cottages are in great demand at the beach at Norfolk Downs.

G. G. Roberts has opened his cottage for the summer at Wollaston Park.

The central fire station on Quincy avenue has been connected with the sewer.

The City Council Committee on Sewers and Drains will meet Thursday evening.

Mr. George Winslow and family are at their summer home, East Elm avenue for the season.

Auctioneer Johnson has a furniture sale tomorrow at 53 Canal street, foot of Spear street.

Those who have not given their back door yards a spring cleaning will probably do so Friday, Patriot's day.

The people of Wollaston Park want cars every half hour and a petition to that effect is out.

Two sail boats have been launched off Norfolk Downs already; it makes one think of summer.

H. Everett Crane of F. H. Crane & Sons, who was threatened with typhoid pneumonia, is improving.

A street car leaving Neponset for Quincy at midnight, would be appreciated by the public, and would be patronized by theatre people.

Christ church has succeeded in raising the $3000 necessary before work shall be commenced on the new rectory and work will now be pushed.

A break in one of the fire alarm circuits shortly before 1 o'clock this noon was the cause of the confusion of blows sounded at that time.

The order for the appointment of a committee on redistricting the State into Congressional districts was presented to the Legislature today.

Good progress was made Monday laying the surface drain pipe on Hancock street, and the job would have been about completed today but for the storm.

Mrs. Effie Rhines of Bigelow street will entertain the Reapers Circle of Christ church this evening. They will be addressed by Dr. Gallagher of Thayer academy.

A Reporter's Dilemma.

A reporter who visited Quincy to ask the clergymen of that suburb what use they were going to make of H. H. Faxon's $100 checks, was unfamiliar with local geography, and never failed to tax the good nature of the ministers interviewed for direction to the residence of the next pastor "down the line."

One clergyman was not at home, and the unfailing question was phrased to the lady who so kindly answered the bell.

"Did you wish to be married?" asked the lady.

"No, madam."

"Is it a question of a funeral?"

"No, madam."

"Oh, pardon me. One has to ask these questions."

"Yes,—

And then the reporter's question was answered—Boston Evening Record.

☞Metropolitan Land Co., have opened an office in Durgin & Merrill Block, Room No. 9, and in connection with the land, will rent and sell houses. Office open every day and evening.

Faxon as a Carnegie.

The latest phase of Henry Faxon's crusade against the demon rum came April 9, when he mailed 23 $100 checks to as many clergymen throughout the city. Accompanying each check was a letter in which the clergymen were urged to expend the money for the moral, spiritual, social and political welfare of the people of this city. Especial reference was made to the moral and political welfare. It is very likely that Mr. Faxon has overshot his mark and that a general crusade against rum politics will not follow. The checks will undoubtedly be used for the moral and spiritual good of the city, and if the desired purpose shall be furthered in some slight degree through replenished church treasuries, Mr. Faxon can have little cause to regret his liberality—Practical Politics.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Other games have been arranged as follows:

A Plea For The Boy

To most boys between the ages of ten and fourteen there comes a trying period. They have emerged from the interesting era of prettiness, and are growing so fast that their hands and feet seem out of proportion to the rest of their bodies. As for their appetites, they are enough to cause a dearth of provisons in the usual larder, and their lungs are amazingly productive of noise in season and out. Everybody pounces on the boy. Everybody sends him on errands. He is the object of much advice. He has not a fair show. The boy needs much patience, and is the better for having a little elbow-room. He will not always be a boy. But his future manhood depends somewhat on the kind of boy he is.—Collier's Weekly.

A VERY NARROW CHANCE

For Perpetuation of Maine's Old-Time Industry.

PULP IS CROWDING LUMBER

Sawmills Cannot Be Operated at a Profit Unless the Prices For Their Product Advance Considerably —A Shortage of Spruce Logs

Bangor, Me., April 16.—It is beginning to be realized by lumbermen that, as the pulp magnates declared last winter in the course of the legislative fight for the control of the Penobscot water, the day of the sawmill is nearing its end in Maine.

While it is undoubtedly true that spruce lumber will be in demand for building purposes for many years yet, signs multiply that the supply will not be drawn from the Maine rivers, for the day has already come when the competition of the pulp mills has sent the price of logs higher than the lumber manufacturers can pay. In Bangor logs are held at $14 per 1000 feet, while the lumber that can be sawed from these logs will fetch but $13 per 1000 feet. It is true that somewhat more than 1000 feet of lumber can be sawed from 1000 feet of logs, owing to a difference in the scale, but this difference, taken with the value of the waste, will not more than make things even, so that were the Penobscot mills to be started in operation today, their owners would receive for the product just what they had paid for the material, and lose whatever might be the cost of manufacture.

One of two things must happen before the Maine sawmills can be operated at a profit this year—logs must come down or lumber go up. There is no prospect that logs will decline in price, for the reason that, with 100,000,000 feet, or fully one-half the total cut, going to the pulp mills, there will not be enough left to supply the sawmills for even a moderate season's work. No one expects values to fall when the supply is short of the demand. The pulp mills will buy all the logs in sight at the present quotations, because they can afford to pay the price, and if the lumbermen cannot afford to pay that price they must go without logs.

As to the prospects of an advance in the price of spruce lumber, opinions differ. Everything depends upon the New York market, which makes the price for random spruce—the great bulk of the Maine lumber production, and of late years the New York market has been "up like a rocket and down like a stick." In 1900 it was difficult to sell the best wide randoms at $16 to $17.50 per 1000 feet. This year the lumbermen say they see little prospect of good prices, let alone high prices for spruce. There is about $4 per 1000 difference between the price of lumber in New York and that quoted in Bangor. From this it will be seen that $20 per 1000, which would be considered by lumbermen as a good price in New York, would be about $15 per 1000 in Bangor, and the Bangor price today is only $13. While only $13 worth of lumber can be sawed from $14 worth of logs, the pulp men can do much better —so much better that they can afford to pay the price asked for the logs and then make a fine profit.

One pulp mill on the Penobscot river eats up 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 feet of logs annually, this being the largest establishment of the kind in the world. This mill has been such a success that plans are now being made to enlarge it considerably, and there are numerous smaller mills in operation, with several new ones projected.

The situation is simple—the men who cut the logs will sell them where they can get the highest price. If the saw mills cannot pay the price set by the pulp makers, then the sawmills must shut down. It is a question of whether the logs shall be sawed or ground into pulp, with the chances decidedly in favor of the grinders. A boom in the lumber market would postpone the sawmills' doomsday, but the perpetuation of Maine's old-time industry depends upon a narrow chance—the discovery very soon of something that shall supplant spruce logs as a material for pulp.

Gave Performance on Sunday

New York, April 16.—De Wolf Hopper, Dan Daly and William A. Brady, who were arrested in the Academy of Music Sunday night on a charge of violating the Sunday law, were arraigned yesterday before Magistrate Zeller. The magistrate reserved decision. The annual benefit of the actors' fund of America took place Sunday night in the academy. Brady, Hopper and Daly took part in a burlesque of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Settled In First Round

Memphis, April 16.—Dan Creedon of Australia showed his old time form last night, and stopped Jimmy Handler of New Jersey in less than a half minute's fighting in the first round. The fight was scheduled for 20 rounds. There was practically but one blow struck—a left hook on Handler's jaw.

Seeking Extension of Business

St. Petersburg, April 16.—Frank A. Vanderlip, ex-assistant secretary of the United States treasury, is in St. Petersburg. He is investigating conditions with the hope of promoting business relations between the United States and Russia.

Vessels Will Be Laid Up

Genoa, April 16.—At a meeting of the shipowners held here yesterday it was decided that the owners preferred to lay up their vessels rather than yield to the demands of the strikers.

THE MANILA FRAUDS

Government Contractors "Put Up" In Fine Shape For Army Officers

Manila, April 16.—The trial of Commissary Sergeant John Meston, charged with complicity in the commissary frauds, is finished. No verdict was announced, and Meston's conviction is uncertain. Other trials of those implicated will follow. Captain James C. Read, formerly depot commissary at Manila, has been arrested.

It is alleged that entries upon the books of Evans & Co., government contractors, indicate that the commissary officers received the following sums: Major George B. Davies, upwards of $1000; Captain James C. Read, $1000; Captain Frank H. Lawton, $750; B. Tremaine, Colonel Woodruff's chief clerk, $700.

It also appears that Evans & Co. furnished the handsome residence of Colonel Woodruff. Harold M. Pitt, manager of Evans & Co., who is now under arrest, was notoriously lavish in entertaining commissary and other officers, while the depot commissary, a frequenter of the "tenderloin district," occasionally spent days in Pitt's house in questionable society. Pitt's house, it is said, is a bacchanalian rendezvous, and prominent officers frequently visited it, drinking champagne and playing poker. It is alleged that women of doubtful reputation have often been known to be there.

It is alleged that Pitt had the inside track in securing government contracts, and it is also asserted that he was the prime mover in the scheme to re-establish cock pits in Manila, Mrs. Lara being subsidized in securing a cock pit.

It is asserted that the commissary department made unauthorized purchases of quantities of champagne. In addition to what the transports brought, the commissary imported 200 gallons in February, and a like amount in March. The commissary and the commissary sergeant kept private carriages and indulged in other extravagances.

Engineer Acted Promptly

New York, April 16.—The sound steamer Rosedale sprang aleak off Fort Schuyler yesterday afternoon, and had to put in at City island to save her from sinking. There were 100 passengers aboard, many of them women, who became panic-stricken, and several fainted. The passengers on reaching City island were forced to walk three miles through mud ankle deep to the Bartow station on the Harlem River railroad. The quick action of the engineer of the Rosedale saved the steamer from sinking. He opened the throttle wide, and the steamer made a record-breaking run to City island.

Two Drowned and Two Rescued

Rockland, Me., April 16.—Three stone cutters, Colson, Hendricks and Carlson, all Swedes, were being rowed by A Johnson, 12 years of age, from Long Cove to State Point yesterday, when the dory suddenly capsized. Colson and Hendricks immediately went down and were lost. Carlson and Johnson started to swim to the shore. Two women on the shore saw the accident and started out in a small boat to the assistance of the two who were swimming, and by hard pulling they succeeded in reaching them in time to save them.

Martinelli a Cardinal

Rome, April 16.—At the consistory held yesterday Archbishop Martinelli, the papal delegate to the United States, was created a cardinal. Eleven other cardinals were created.

Silver Bullion Has Disappeared

Newark, N. J. April 16.—Forty bars of silver bullion, valued in all at $1200, have been stolen from the steamer Lide, now lying here. No clue to the thieves has as yet been obtained.

Big Purchase of Bonds

Washington, April 16.—The secretary of the treasury yesterday purchased $1,600,000 short-term 4 percent bonds at $113.50.

Forest Lowell, aged 15, was sentenced at Westbrook, Me., to the reform school during his minority, for stealing two watches.

The daughter of Governor Nash has been selected to name the battleship Ohio, to be launched at the Union Iron Works on May 18. The customary bottle of wine will be used to christen the vessel, as she moves from her stays into the water.

The supreme court of Pennsylvania holds that members of the American Federation of Labor have no right to entice apprentices working in a factory to become members of the Glass Workers' union.

Seventy thousand tons of wheat have recently been imported from California and Australia into Chili. This is a marked increase over former imports.

ARMY IN GOOD SPIRITS

British Expect to Resume Active Campaigning at Once

London, April 16.—The British newspapers and magazines, commenting upon the alternating periods of hope and apprehension which characterize the later stages of the South African campaign, compare these with the later stages of the American war of independence, as though to emphasize these fluctuations.

While the letters of responsible correspondents in Pretoria depict the situation in a rather despairing mood, the Pretoria representative of The Daily Mail sends today a dispatch of the most hopeful character.

"The next six weeks," he says, "will see a resumption of active campaigning. Lord Kitchener will renew his sweeping movements. He has an army of 250,000 efficient troops, including 60,000 mounted men, with a good supply of horses, 40,000 having been secured in Cape Colony alone. The army is in good spirits and Lord Kitchener is satisfied with the progress of events, slow though it seems."

Operations of British Troops

London, April 16.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, April 15: "Colonel Rawlinson's column rushed the south laager, northwest of Klersdorp, at daylight. Six Boers were killed, 10 wounded and 23 taken prisoners. He captured a 12-pounder, one pom-pom, complete, and two ammunition wagons with ammunition. Our casualties were three wounded. Colonel Plumer captured a field cornet and 7 men, with 10 wagons and 18 rifles. During Colonel Pilcher's operations in Orange River Colony seven Boers were killed."

Trouble For Police Captain

New York, April 16.—Police Captain Westervelt has been served with a summons directing him to appear in police court today. The complaint against the captain rose out of the raid of the committee of five on the Parole club. Of the 60 men caught in this raid eight were police officers, and of this latter number five were attached to the station commanded by Captain Westervelt. The story is that five of the eight policemen have turned state's evidence. District Attorney Philbin and his assistants have reached the conclusion that a police official who knowingly permits a disorderly house or gambling place to exist in his precinct is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Henderson Exonerates Crowe

Dallas, April 16.—H. C. Henderson, who gave himself up to the authorities here, saying he was concerned in the Cudahy kidnapping case, yesterday told County Attorney Shields of Omaha that Pat Crowe had nothing to do with the stealing of the boy. Mr. Shields is here investigating the case. It is understood that Mr. Cudahy and his son will arrive here in a few days to identify Henderson, if possible.

Captain Was In a Hurry

Santiago, April 16.—The Norwegian steamer Frey, from Baltimore for Colon, arrived here yesterday in distress, having struck a rock off Cape Maysi. She will probably be delayed several weeks in making repairs. The captain wished to continue the voyage and to make the repairs en route, but the crew refused. The Norwegian consul sustained their attitude, declining to allow the Frey to proceed.

Commission to Visit Washington

Havana, April 16.—At yesterday's session of the Cuban constitutional convention five delegates were appointed a commission to go to Washington to lay before President McKinley the desires of the convention regarding the future relations between Cuba and the United States. The convention will consider the advisability of adjourning until the return of the commission.

Russian Cities Under Siege

London, April 16.—Until after the Russian Easter, says the Odessa correspondent of The Daily Express, Odessa and five other large cities will be held virtually in a state of siege. All the public buildings are occupied by troops. The streets are patrolled by Cossacks, and assemblages are forbidden. These conditions result from a fear of the renewal of the student riots.

Thought He Was "Hoodooed"

Guthrie, O. T., April 16.—Fred Gay yesterday confessed to the killing of Solomon Russell at Ardmore, I. T., on the fifth instant, claiming that Russell was "hoodooing" him and his family. Gay placed a cordon of bluestone, salt and red pepper around the house after killing Russell, to keep away the spirits which were working on him.

General Corbin to Wed

Washington, April 16.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Edyth Patten to Adjutant General Corbin is received with deep interest in society here. Miss Patten is a very attractive brunette and has long been an acknowledged leader in Washington's social circles.

Won't Steal For Some Years

Know that in spite of hard work in the clear forest air the blood often becomes impure. The heavy food served in the lumber camps is to a great extent responsible for this condition of the blood, which renders the body an easy prey to many forms of disease.

There is no better blood purifier than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures eruptions, pimples, eczema, scrofula, rheumatism, and other diseases caused by an impure condition of the blood. It cures absolutely and altogether by cleansing the blood from the poisons which breed and feed disease.

Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for the blood.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. James Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

AFFAIRS BADLY TANGLED

Farmers' National Bank Shortage Will Reach $90.000

AN ASSESSMENT PROBABLE

In Which Event Stockholders Will Have to Furnish Money to Pay Depositors—Expert at Work on Books In Endeavor to Straighten Them

Vergennes, Vt., April 17.—There is dismay among the stockholders of the Farmers' National bank, for everything connected with the bank, it is said, is in a most chaotic state, and, while it is an assured fact that the alleged defalcation will reach the amount first stated, $90,000, it is also believed that the stockholders will be heavily assessed to pay the depositors.

David B. Lewis, the accused cashier of the bank, led a most tranquil life. His income from the bank was $1500 a year, and he received $700 a year as commissioner of taxes.

Robert Lyons, an expert accountant, arrived here from Washington last night, and a searching examination of the books was begun today.

Bank Examiner Cunningham says that the reports that have appeared in certain papers purporting to detail the methods adopted by Cashier Lewis to cover up his shortages, which was said to be the receiving of time deposits and failing to credit them on the bank's books, are untrue. When asked as to the securities turned over by Lewis, he said the latter deposited $25,000 in cash in the National Bank of Redemption. This, he said, was entirely apart from his personal property here, which was attached by the bank on Monday.

A representative of the security company which furnished Lewis' bond of $10,000 as cashier was here yesterday and expressed satisfaction with the bonds which the cashier has given for his appearance at the May term of court. Cashier Lewis, with his son-in-law, F. W. Hinds, who was at one time assistant cashier, was at work all day yesterday in the bank endeavoring to straighten out the tangled accounts.

The opinion has been expressed by some people that a second party is implicated in the embezzlement, but nothing has yet been discovered to warrant a statement of that kind.

Neighbors Watching For Crazy Man

St. Joseph, Mo., April 17.—John Record escaped from the state insane asylum here yesterday by breaking the iron bars from the window of his cell. Record had killed a farmer near Wallace, who had testified against him in court. He has been anxious to get out of the asylum for three years to kill other neighbors for giving testimony against him. The neighbors have been warned of Record's escape, and all are heavily armed.

Negroes Aspire to Political Office

Havana, April 17.—Rumors are prevalent that the negroes intend to take an active part in politics, and that an organization is being perfected. It is reported from eastern provinces that negroes will seek political offices at the coming municipal elections. Politicians here hear that this movement will result in the election of several negroes as mayors, as the whites are divided by party lines, whereas the negroes are always united.

Encouraging to Porto Ricans

San Juan, April 17.—G. W. Whitehead, collector of customs for Porto Rico, yesterday published his March report, which shows a decided increase upon the February figures. The receipts for the island last month were $87,758, as compared with $62,784 for February, while the exports for March were $1,149,574, as against $737,222 in February. The difference was chiefly in sugar.

Loomis Repudiates Interview

New York, April 17.—F. B. Loomis, United States minister to Venezuela, was a passenger on the steamer Caracas, which arrived here last night from San Juan. When seen on board that vessel Mr. Loomis said that it was untrue that he had expressed himself regarding President Castro's attitude toward Americans, nor had he said anything about General Andrade.

Panama In Need of Water

Colon, April 17.—In view of the prolonged drought, the mayor of Panama suggests that the Colombian minister of foreign affairs should endeavor to obtain, in whatever canal scheme is finally adopted, the insertion of a clause stipulating the obligation to construct an aqueduct to supply the isthmus with wholesome water.

King Edward's Coronation

London, April 17.—The coronation of King Edward will take place at the end of June, 1902. Westminster Abbey will be entirely closed to the public for four months prior to the event, and all services will be suspended in order to prepare the interior for the ceremony.

DR. FULTON DEAD

Acquired a Wide Reputation as Crusader Against the Roman Church

Somerville, Mass., April 17.—Rev. Justin D. Fulton, D. D., a well-known Baptist clergyman and formerly pastor of Tremont Temple, died at his home here yesterday, after an illness of a few days of paralysis. Dr. Fulton was born in Shurburne, N. Y., in 1826. He was educated in Michigan and Rochester universities and was ordained to the ministry in 1845. His first labors were in St. Louis, where, besides his pastoral work, he was engaged as an editor of The Gospel Banner. The opinions of the paper became so strongly anti-slavery that a number of leading slave holders of the state made a vigorous fight, and Mr. Fulton was removed from the editorship.

Dr. Fulton came to Boston in 1863 as pastor of the Union Temple church. In 1874 he went to Brooklyn, to become pastor of the Hanson Place Baptist church. Here he began his crusade against the Roman Catholic church. A book, "Why Priests Should Wed," became the most talked of book at the time. Its publication was stopped by Anthony Comstock and several passages were eliminated before it was allowed to go on sale again.

In 1879 he was suspended by the New York Baptist Pastors' association, but later he was reinstated. While preaching in Cape Breton against the Catholic church he was stoned and for a while chained to a lamp post.

The first Mrs. Fulton died in 1883, leaving four children. In 1884 he married Mrs. Laura Whipple of Brooklyn. In 1895 Dr. Fulton came to Somerville, as pastor of the First Baptist church. During this pastorate his wife died, and shortly afterward he married again. A controversy arose with the members of his church, and it resulted in a termination of the pastorate. Mrs. Fulton and two children, besides the four children by the first wife, survive.

To Summer In Berkshire Hills

Springfield, Mass., April 17.—The Republican says: It will be pleasant news to Berkshire people to learn that ex-President Cleveland has decided to spend the summer with his family in the Berkshire hills, and has leased the well known resort, "Riverside," at Tyringham. Mrs. Cleveland and her daughters are expected to arrive this week for a long stay, and will be followed by Mr. Cleveland in time to give him a chance at the speckled beauties in the famous Tyringham trout stream.

Brothers In Stabbing Affray

Boston, April 17.—Two brothers, Cornelius and Jerome Cowan, living at 146 London street, East Boston, quarrelled about some trivial matter last night, when Cornelius stabbed Jerome in the bowels, inflicting a very bad wound. The victim was taken to the hospital, where it is reported that his injuries are probably not fatal, unless internal hemorrhages should set in. Cornelius was arrested.

Bangor to Have Baseball Club

Bangor, Me., April 17.—A meeting was held in the board of trade rooms last night by those interested in baseball. W. W. Burnham of Portland was present and talked over the New England league situation with those present. As a result of the meeting the Bangor Baseball association was organized.

Held Under Heavy Bonds

Boston, April 17.—Louis V. Adams, known as the "original shirt-waist man of Chicago," pleaded guilty yesterday to charges against him, and was held in $7500 for sentence later. The indictment contained five counts for larceny aggregating $75 and forging a check for $3000.

Carter Was Easily Whipped

Middletown, Conn., April 17.—Patsey Sweeney of Manchester, N. H., last night whipped Joe Carter of Brooklyn in four rounds of what was to have been a 20-round go. Sweeney had it all his own way from the start.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Let the mother take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil for the two; it is almost never superfluous.

One can eat for two; but nourishing two is a different thing; it implies a degree of interior strength not often found in woman of either extreme.

Luxurious people are not very strong by habit, and overworked people are weak from exhaustion in some of their functions. Between the two is the happy mean; but how many women have plenty of life for two?

The emulsion is almost never superfluous.

INVESTIGATION WANTED

MacArthur Instructed to Probe Into Manila Frauds

EXPECTED TO PUSH TRIALS

And Make a Complete Report of All Wrongdoing—Major Davis Denies Having Received Money Credited Upon Books of Evans & Co

Washington, April 17.—The war department has no information of the details of the commissary scandal disclosures except what it finds in the newspapers. The orders are to probe the matter to the bottom, and to bring the penalty for every wrong act home to the man who committed it.

Secretary Root yesterday cabled General MacArthur asking for additional information concerning the reports of frauds in Manila. It is expected that a reply will be received today. While definite instructions have not been given General MacArthur heretofore to make a searching and complete investigation, it is understood that the requests for investigation were of a character to imply that the department expected such an investigation should be made.

Nothing definite has been received from General MacArthur about the alleged frauds, although reference has been made to the investigation in cablegrams received. The first dispatch on the subject from General MacArthur said there had been exaggeration in the press reports, but the presistence with which the reports have been reiterated and the news dispatches giving names and specific amounts have indicated to the department officials that perhaps General MacArthur was not advised fully when he made his first report. It can be said that the department intends to have all the information possible on the subject and General MacArthur will be expected to push the trials and make a complete report of any and all wrong doing.

Major Davis, wohse name is mentioned in the dispatch from Manila as being credited upon the books of Evans & Co. as having received $1000, is in Washington. To an Associated Press reporter he would say nothing when asked if he desired to reply to the assertion. He was called upon by the war department, however, for an explanation and to an officer said that he knew nothing about the matter. He said that he never had any money from the firm of contractors mentioned, had not borrowed any and could not explain why there should have been any charge made.

Commissary General Weston, whose theory of meeting an affair of this sort is to throw open every channel of information, said that he could not believe that Colonel Woodruff had done anything which would not be capable of every explanation when his side had been heard. The colonel was a man whose reputation has always been above reproach, and not only that, but he was one who would be careful to avoid even the appearance of evil. Woodruff and Davis are the only persons that are mentioned in the dispatches from Manila who are in the regular service; the rest are volunteers and civilians, of whom nothing is known at commissary headquarters here.

Evans, of the firm of Evans & Co., was in this country a short time ago, and may now be in New York, if he has not returned to Manila. It is not known whether he is an Englishman, an American or a Canadian. He was from Niagara, though from which side of the river is not known.

Court Martial For Boyer

Manila, April 17.—A court-martial has been convened to try Lieutenant Boyer, who is charged with the embezzlement of commissary stores. Captain Barrows, who was arrested under similar charges, will be tried later. A civilian named Fletcher, accused of unlawful conversion of commissary stores, will be tried by the provost court. Speaking of the commissary scandals, a prominent army officer says that he has every reason to believe that Colonel Woodruff, head of the subsistence department at Manila, is not implicated. He says that Colonel Woodruff is one of the ablest men in the service, and that his honesty is unquestionable.

Mascardo's Chief of Staff Gives Up

Manila, April 17.—The chief of staff of the insurgent General Mascardo has surrendered at the town of Marivales, position of Aguinaldo will soon be He said that Mascardos' band of followers, now greatly diminished, are in a bad way. It is intimated that an official announcement regarding the disposition of Aguinaldo will soon be made.

Result of Meeting Not Known

London, April 17.—A dispatch to The Times from Middleburg, Transvaal, says: There is no doubt that Acting President Schalk-Burger, General Botha, Mr. Steyn and General De Wet had a meeting at Ermelo, but their subsequent movements are obscure. Raids on the railway have become less frequent.

A Transvaal Mine Disaster

Johannesburg, April 17.—A cage filled with natives fell down a deep shaft of the Geldenhuis mine. Twenty-six of the natives were killed.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

The Daily Ledger will observe Patriots' day as a holiday, and therefore the issue of Friday will be suspended. Saturday's Eight-page Ledger will have all the holiday news, including the opening games in the base ball season.

Good Afternoon.

In the absence of any definite plan for utilizing the Woodward Institute to its fullest capacity, we would suggest that the Superintendent of Schools be elected by the Board of Directors as superintendent of the school. Whether this can be legally done we are not informed, but we see no reason why it could not. We are inclined to think that in the past the Superintendent of Schools, the teachers of the High school and the principals of our grammar schools have used their influence in favor of the High school, and recommended the graduates of our grammar schools to attend the High.

Certainly, they have succeeded almost beyond expectations in building up the Quincy High, so that in attendance it ranks among cities which are larger; and its graduates stand high when they seek admission to colleges. We are all proud of the High, and would not do anything which would detract from its progress or standing. And for this reason we hope it will be relieved of the crowd. This can be done by enlarging the building, but at considerable cost if the rapid increase is to continue.

The city is favored with an endowed secondary school which has not come up to expectations, and whose accommodations are not utilized. It has a large corps of accomplished teachers but only one-third of the pupils it should have. It is in a position to offer Quincy born girls a better education than even the High school, as the number of pupils per teacher is much smaller. Then there is the gymnasium and special teachers which Quincy cannot afford in her public schools.

With the Superintendent of Schools as superintendent of the Woodward Institute, the high standard of the school could be maintained, and its popularity increased.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The advocates of the proposition to give the pupils of the public schools certain of their text-books upon completion of the course will not be discouraged at the action of the senate in killing the bill. It was a good subject to ask the people to think about, and the matter will in all probability come up again.—New Bedford Standard.

The pupils of the public schools will find that they need their text-books more after they have graduated than they do now unless they are wonders.—Fall River Herald.

Perhaps, but by the time they come to a realizing sense of their need of those text-books they will find that things have changed since their school days and that books of those days are behind the times. With the constant introduction of new fangled methods of instruction the people who can keep pace with the procession are the book publishers.—Haverhill Gazette.

THE INDIVIDUAL.

His Obligation to the Community Told at Monday Evening Club.

At the regular meeting of the Atlantic Monday Evening club at the Memorial church on Monday evening, Miss Lillian Waterhouse gave a bright and sensible paper on the "Importance of the social element in Atlantic." She faithfully pictured the different social classes in Atlantic and wisely decided that the need was the unselfish devotion of each individual of a share of his social nature to the common good, endeavoring to make real in his own mind that however meagre he may consider himself possessed of social qualities, there are others in Atlantic who are less able to accomplish the desired results to whom his efforts would be an inspiration.

Dr. Gallagher followed with an address along the same line on "Individual obligation to the community." The doctor said that the main idea of an individual in a community was the realization that he must make the most of himself. In order to do it, it must be in its relations—"each for all, and all for each." This was the teaching of Christianity and reformers of whatever class, social or political, got around to this simple and undeniable basis — "each for all, and all for each."

In the very simplest of utensils, if we contemplate, we can see how the principle is already carried out in the manufacture of a lead pencil even, the almost countless number of individuals who have had a hand directly or indirectly in its completion, while the materials for an ordinary breakfast have been procured from countries encircling the globe and required innumerable services by individuals from its beginning until its arrival at the breakfast table.

In order to make the most of himself and be "for all," the individual must be "well-filled," must strive to progress and gain in knowledge outside of his immediate vocation. Must not confine himself to the ideas of his immediate surroundings, but broaden out and expand and be able to impart an added vigor to his value as a member of the community.

He spoke of the love which should be encouraged in all individuals for their community and instanced cases where he had known boys who had left their homes, prospered in business and afterward returned to their native place to share with it the result of other financial successes, simply from the love which was fostered in their early years toward the community in which they were reared.

The doctor's address was interspersed with telling anecdotes which were enjoyed by the club, together with the whole discourse, which was listened to with the closest attention and evidence of sincere approval of which the generous applause bore testimony.

Mr. F. S. Lunt of Tuft's college gave several impersonations, "Taking an elevator," "The school boy speaking one of Longfellow's poems," "The lisping girl," "The Æsthetic girl," "The Dutchman speaking 'Barbara Frietchie,'" "The stage struck tragedian" and an Irish character. They were all exceedingly realistic and gratifying to the audience.

Miss Florence Linnell and Miss Bertha Richards played a very pleasing duet, "Roses de Boheme" by Kowalski, which the club seemed to appreciate by their hearty applause.

Miss Carolyn Lewis Lum, soprano of the choir quartette of the Presbyterian church, Roxbury, sang with fine effect "Sweetheart" by Chadwick, and for an encore "Finland love song" by White.

With Mr. J.P. Esty, the tenor of the quartette at the Roxbury Presbyterian, she sang "Oh that we two were maying" by Gounod.

Mr. Esty sang beside, two solos, "Queen of the earth" by Pinsuti, and "Serenade" by Raff, the latter in response to encore.

It was an especial pleasure to the club to listen to Miss Lum and Mr. Esty as they are of the quartette of which Miss Alice Coe, a member of the Monday Evening club, is the contralto.

Mrs. William I. Scholes and Mr. Roger H. Wilde were the Literary committee, Miss Alice G. Coe and Mr. James H. Churchill the Music committee, and Miss Lillian Waterhouse and Mr. George W. Hight, Jr., the Introduction committee.

Though an unpleasant evening two hundred and ten were present.

Three New Pastors.

Among the appointments made at the Methodist conference Tuesday, were the following to the Quincy churches:

Atlantic, Rev. R. T. Flewelling.
West Quincy, Rev. J. Peterson.
Wollaston, Rev. J. Wagner.

Rev. C. W. Wilder, who was at West Quincy last year, goes to South Walpole; Rev. William Healy, who was at Atlantic, goes to Millbury; Rev. J. H. Humphrey, formerly of West Quincy, to Plainville; and W. F. Lawford, formerly of West Quincy, to Maynard.

THE PRESIDENT.

May Include Quincy in His Visit to New England.

Mayor Hall has received a prompt reply to the invitation which he forwarded to President McKinley on behalf of the city government, which is all that was expected. While it is not an acceptance, it is not a declination. It was not expected, that the President would formally accept, but that while a guest of Secretary Long at Hingham he would, if cordially invited, include the "City of Presidents" in one of his afternoon drives. The letter from the private secretary of the President reads as follows:

Executive Mansion,
Washington, April 15, 1901.

My dear sir: The President has requested me to express his appreciation of the cordial invitation extended to him by the citizens of Quincy to visit that city during his stay in Massachusetts.

The limited time which can be allotted to the President's trip to New England will preclude him from accepting a number of very kind invitations which have come to him, but I shall be glad to bear this matter in mind when the details of the trip are taken up for consideration.

Very truly yours,
George B Cortelyan,
Secretary to the President.

Hon. John O. Hall, Mayor,
Quincy, Mass.

The people of Quincy will be pleased if they can assist Secretary Long in entertaining his distinguished guest, if only for a few hours. They would like to have him visit the old houses where President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams were born, which are today preserved in their original quaintness by the Daughters of the Revolution and the Quincy Historical Society respectively. They would like to have him visit the Stone temple which is the resting place of these Presidents and their wives, and there hold an informal reception.

Mayor of Squantum.

A summer resident of Squantum and Squantum itself are known abroad, as the editor of the C. A. P. column of the Journal says.

I was much interested to read in a recent London publication the following information about Mr. George A. Schiller, comedian:

"In London Mr. George A. Schiller is known to the theatre-going public in the full dignity of his own name, or perhaps better still as Mugg in "The Belle of New York," but near to Boston there is a pretty little place, overlooking Quincy Bay, that is named Squantum, and Mr. Schiller on "the other side" is jocularly called The Mayor of Squantum, or the Son of Squantum or the Pride of Squantum! He takes it all in good part, for it would be hard to find a more affable, good natured, and thoroughly kind comedian than George Schiller. He is a Bostonian, and served his apprenticeship to the stage in the Boston Museum, playing with such actors as Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett and Joseph Jefferson."

A Rest from the Squeeze.

The observant Rockland Standard rises to remark that Since "The Lovers Squeeze" on Market street, east of Concord, was abolished by moving back the fence which stood within two feet of an ash tree on the outer line of the sidewalk, a spot some thirty rods to the west, marked at sunrise by a dew of peanut shells and orange peel, has come to be sweetly known as "The Lovers' Rest."

Storm of 1851 Recalled.

The storm Tuesday and the high wind that prevailed at night, brought to the minds of our older citizens the terrific storm that swept the New England coast fifty years ago April 16. It was the storm which carried away the iron lighthouse on Minot's ledge off Scituate beach, and did an untold amount of damage along the whole coast.

The electric street lights were working again Tuesday night on all the circuits and were appreciated.

Mrs. James H. Stetson has sold over a hundred tickets for the Song Cycle at First church chapel next week.

The young men of the Merry-go-rounds whist club are thinking of giving a dancing party at Atlantic soon.

The Knights and Ladies of Honor will enjoy a prize whist this evening at Wilson's hall, after their regular business at 8 o'clock.

The pupils of the Massachusetts Fields school have recently edited a schoolpaper, "M. F. S. Echo." To be a success, it should be appreciated and subscribed for by many. The next number will appear in June.

Thomas C. Brown of 219 Washington street was taken to the the Boston Homeopathic Hospital, Tuesday, where an operation for appendicitis was performed. The operation was very successful and at last accounts the patient was resting comfortably.

A great many ladies are anticipating a pleasant afternoon, Patriot' day, as Mrs. Joseph C. Morse is to give a whist at her home, for the benefit of the organ fund of First church. Many who have engagements for the evening are glad to have the afternoon free for the whist.

A gentleman living on Adams street says birds are thick in his neighborhood. The enforcement of some Massachusetts laws to protect birds, by Mr. N. B. Furnald's patient and kind labors, has done a great deal for the feathered bipeds in Quincy, and their old enemies the boys of the past, have disappeared and our public school boys are learning to think it is not the best thing in the world to kill off the innocent. Perhaps some Patriot's day will dawn when patriotism will not mean murder by the wholesale.

—The first English steel pens were sold at thirty shillings each.

— Long Terms For Perjury

Boston, April 17.—Horace F. Crossman and Cornelius J. Murley were convicted of perjury in the superior court yesterday, and were sentenced to state prison by Judge Gaskill, Crossman getting from 8 to 10 years, and Murley from 10 to 12 years. They furnished "straw bail" for Edward Shevlin, who was arrested for robbery. Shevlin subsequently defaulted and his bondsmen were arrested. During the trial Henry Worcester, a witness for the defense, was ordered arrested by Judge Gaskill, charged with giving false testimony, and was locked up in default of giving $3000 bonds for his appearance before the grand jury.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 17.—The last of the important measures presented to the legislature appeared in the house yesterday in the form of an order for a joint committee to consider a bill for the rearrangement of the congressional districts of the state in conformity with the recent act of congress. As an agreement has been reached between the leaders in both branches the order will probably be adopted within a week. With this redistricting bill out of the way there is little to keep the legislature in session, and it is confidently expected that prorogation will take place by the first of June.

Prizes All In One Direction

Boston, April 17.—Blue ribbons were showered upon Thomas W. Lawson and Eben D. Jordan at the Boston horse show yesterday, and competition in most of the blooded classes has narrowed down to these two. Excepting Thomas W. Watt, whose exhibition strength was in ponies, the rest of the honors were not well distributed. Lawson has taken 11 first prizes, all of them cash, and six second prizes. Jordan's winnings are nine firsts and seconds each, and four thirds. Mr. Watt has seven firsts and six seconds.

Minister Had Fatal Fall

York, Pa., April 17.—Rev. George B. Reeser, pastor of the Emanuel Reformed church, at Hanover, yesterday fell from the scaffold of a new church which his congregation is building, a distance of 50 feet, landing on a stone pile. He lived only half an hour.

Sale of Gilman Property

New York, April 17.—The horses and stable equipment of the late George F. Gilman of Black Rock, Conn., were sold at auction in this city yesterday. There were present at the sale some 500 persons. The sale brought in a total of $28,000.

Iron Workers on Strike

St. John, April 17.—Most of the iron workers of the city struck last night for 25 cents a day additional pay. The men in three shops are all out, part have joined the strike from another, while the fifth has granted the increase asked.

A TIN WEDDING.

Tenth Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. S. McLean celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Brooks avenue Tuesday evening.

The occasion was made happy and memorable by the assemblage of a number of friends, including many of Mrs. McLean's relatives, her father and mother (Mr. and Mrs. John Benzie), and others of the family. The evening was spent in merry making, songs, games, etc., which were enthusiastically participated in until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean were the recipient of a set of dining room chairs from members of their family, and a dining room table by the friends assembled, besides a picture and china ware from individual friends.

In the party were: Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cavanagh, Mr. and Mrs. James Birnie, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. James Park, Mrs Troup, Mr. Troup, Mr. and Mrs. E. Decelle, Miss Jessie Benzie, Mrs. Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cowe and Mr. and Mrs. Bowhay.

During the evening supper and refreshments were served.

Mr. Adam Gordon was musician and gave fine selections on the violin, Mr. John Troup and Mrs. Decelle also rendered some pleasing selections on the piano.

Civil Service Examination.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commissioners will hold examinations of applicants who wish to obtain positions as clerks, foremen of laborers, inspectors of work in the street, sewer and water departments, police officers and firemen in Quincy during the first week in May.

Citizens of the United States, who have resided in this Commonwealth during the past year and in the city of Quincy during the past six months, have a right to apply.

Women who wish to apply for positions as clerks must be at least eighteen years of age.

Men who wish to be examined for positions as police officers must be between 22 and 40 years of age, must be 5 feet, 7 inches in height in bare feet, and weigh at least 135 pounds without clothing.

Men who wish to be examined for the fire service must be between 22 and 35 years of age, must be 5 feet, 4 inches in height in bare feet, and weigh at least 120 pounds without clothing. Call men serving in fire department may deduct from their actual age any time not exceeding five years during which they have continuously served in such capacity.

Each applicant for the police and fire services must furnish with his application a suitable certificate of the date of his birth. There is no limit of age for the veteran of the war of the rebellion.

Blank forms for application can be obtained of Christopher A. Spear, secretary of the board of examiners. Those who apply on or before April 29th will be notified to appear at the examination.

Did He Get Off?

It was in a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H., and the car was well filled. The conductor came to the native of Sunny Italy, looked at his ticket and said: "This train does not go to Quincy." The other gave out a mttering sound and shook his head.

"This train does not go to Quincy," said the conductor. Then he looked at the Roman in a very linguistic and intelligent manner, and, with gentlemanly emphasis said: "This train does not go to Quincy."

Pausing for well earned breadth, he started an interrogatory: "You do not speak English?" The son from the sunny land shook his head.

After looking round the car in an inquiring way and discerning no ray of light, a bright idea struck the railroader, and he spoke again to the wanderer, "get off at the next station," and passed on to the remainder of his toil.—Brockton Enterprise.

It Stands the Test.

At the time of the hearings before the commission appointed by the supreme court to determine what the City of Quincy should pay for the plant and franchise of the Quincy Water Company, there was a great deal of testimony offered in relation to the cast iron pipes laid by the Water company and they were frequently referred to as gingerbread pipe. It was also claimed by some witnesses that the plant was built to sell, and that it would be a question of but a few years before the mains would have to be replaced.

In view of the statements made at that time it is interesting to note the condition of the pipe today.

The twelve inch main that runs through Hancock street near City Square was laid 1883. Monday a section of this pipe was uncovered to tap on a ten-inch main to connect with the main on Washington street. In making this connection a large oval section was cut from the twelve inch main and an examination of this showed it to be in fully as good condition as the day it was laid eighteen years ago. The inside of the pipe to all appearances had not been worn at all, and it was as smooth and clean as could be desired. It certainly compares very favorably with the heavier pipe used today, and if anything is superior to it.

COULD SAVE $5000.

If City Utilized Adams Academy and Woodward Institute.

The special committee appointed by the City Council to consider the matter of combining the endowed schools with the public schools so that they could be used to their fullest capacity, met Tuesday evening, with L. S. Anderson, the chairman of the Managers of the Adams Academy and Rev. E. C. Butler, the chairman of the Board of Directors of the Woodward Institute. The matter was talked over at length, but no definite result arrived at. Another meeting will be held at an early date.

It will be a matter of surprise to many that the Woodward Institute, which can with its present corps of teachers accommodate from two hundred to two hundred and fifty pupils, now has but eighty to ninety pupils. From fifteen to twenty more can be accommodated at the Adams Academy with the present corps of teachers.

This means that there are now in the public schools about 175 pupils who could be accommodated in the two endowed schools without increasing the present corps of teachers at these schools.

When it is considered that in the public schools the cost is about $33 per year for each pupil, quite a saving could be made if arrangements were made to use the two endowed schools to their full capacity.

Intelligence.

The St. Bernard dog is said to be very intelligent. A young couple near the Central station own one, which makes a great fuss when they begin to get ready to go to Friday night prayer meeting. The young people are not disciplinarians; and such howling and barking came that one evening, the grandmother of the family said: Let me attend to that dog. Calling him, his honest brown and white chin rested upon her knee. Now, said she, we are going over to Bethany church to be gone only a short time, you cannot go, you must stop barking and lie down quietly until we get back.

The dog listened, was convinced, and went to his corner to sleep with one eye open. Since then, he does not bark Friday evenings, which proves that the younger generation has not absorbed all the wisdom floating aroun, and that this century's grandmothers are not going to occupy all back seats.

ON VERGE OF INSANITY

Crew of a French Schooner Had Terrible Experience

THEIR VESSEL DISMASTED

During a Gale Off Sable Island and Men Aboard Were Without Provisions or Fuel—Crew of Hardy Gloucester Men Effected a Rescue

Halifax, April 17.—The Gloucester schooner Hazel Oneita towed the schooner Assomption of Bordeaux into this port yesterday, practically dismasted. The crew of Frenchmen had long been on short allowance of biscuit, and they were on the verge of insanity when the Gloucester sailors boarded them off Sable island.

The Assomption is a fine large vessel and when sighted by the Oneita on April 13 was anchored in eight fathoms off Sable island, and the wind was blowing hard, the water being very rough. The French schooner's masts were broken off some feet below the heads, and she was without sails.

The shallow water about her with the heavy sea made approach dangerous, but Captain Seely of the Gloucester schooner, urged on by the signals of distress, maneuvered about for hours, using the lead constantly in order to get near enough to the French vessel to lower a boat to board her. Twice he feared he had risked too much, but his gallant craft recovered herself in time.

A hardy crew put off in a dory and as they neared the Assomption's side they saw the French sailors leaning out over the rail towards them, gesticulating and talking excitedly. When on board the schooner they found that the French vessel had been out of provisions for two days, and for a week previous the sailors had been on an allowance of a biscuit a day. They were also out of fuel.

Captain Seely sent his crew back to the Oneita for provisions and fuel, and soon the Frenchmen were made happy by the return of the dory with supplies. The Gloucester men say it was touching to see how the French sailors held on the gunwale of the dory as it was leaving the side, fearing, apparently, that it might not return. In fact they held on so that the situation of the men in the little boat became dangerous and they had to hit the French sailors on the fingers to release their hold.

The Gloucester skipper was going to take the French crew on board his vessel and land them here, but he did not like the idea of leaving the Assomption while there was any chance of saving her. He suggested that the vessel be turned over to him, but that proposition did not suit the French skipper, who was not willing to give up the vessel altogether. Finally an agreement was made to tow the Assomption to this port, and after sails were rigged, she was taken in tow and brought 140 miles to this port. The Assomption had lost a man before reaching Sable island, and before she had anchored had passed over a sandbar. The crew are all able to be about the deck.

The Oneita left Gloucester about three weeks ago, and, owing to heavy weather had not done very well on the banks. Captain Seely expects the amount of his salvage will cover the actual time lost by the rescue and tow and any expense he is put to thereby.

Statistics of Men Behind the Guns

Washington, April 17.—Secretary Long has compiled a table showing the proportion of native-born and foreign-born sailors in the United States navy. This shows that during the Spanish-American war the percentage of native-born sailors was 63, and including foreigners who had become Americans by naturalization the percentage was 80. The statement also shows that of the foreign-born sailors more than one-half have become naturalized or have declared their intention of becoming citizens.

British War Policy Denounced

Chicago, April 17.—Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands was toasted and Joseph Chamberlain of England denounced at the sixth annual banquet of the Holland society of Chicago, which was held last night. The chief address of the evening was that of Rev. Henry E. Dosker of Holland, Mich. His praise of the heroic Dutchmen of the past and the present evoked loud cheers. The other speakers of the evening all united in condemnation of the policy pursued by the British in South Africa.

Republican Mayor For New Haven

New Haven, April 17.—The city election, held yesterday, resulted in the election of Judge John P. Studley, the Republican candidate, who defeated Mayor Driscoll by a majority of 919 votes. The rest of the Democratic ticket was elected. The result of the election comes as a surprise to the Republicans in the size of the majority accorded their candidate.

Railroad Men Killed

Buffalo, April 17.—A derrick car and a gondola toppled over a bridge over Eighteen Mile creek yesterday, and six men went with them to the rocky bed below. Two were so badly injured that they died within half an hour after the accident. Four others were brought to the emergency hospital in this city. Two of them will die.

Two Score Years a Marshal

Concord, N. H., April 17.—Assistant City Marshal James E. Rand of this city yesterday completed 40 years of active service, under 17 mayors and six chiefs of police. This record was commemorated by the presentation of a gold watch and chain to Mr. Rand.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE

Dozens of Needles Extracted From the Body of a Young Woman

Paris, April 17.—Julienne Landriuax, a servant girl at St. Germain, complained of considerable irritation of the skin, and last Thursday went to a local druggist, who found a number of needles emerging from various parts of her body. He extracted them with pincers. The girl has returned several times a day since, and up to yesterday the druggist had drawn out 120 needles from her arms, hands, feet, breast, the lobe of her ear, her eyelids and the corner of her right eye. The girl experiences no pain until she feels the needles piercing the epidermis. The needles always emerge thick end first and unless immediately extracted disappear again.

Two reputable newspapers, The Matin and The Temps, have investigated the matter, and vouch for the authenticity of the story. Mlle. Landriuax says that five years ago, when she was 11 years old, she amused herself and other children by swallowing quantities of needles. She swallowed 49 in one day, and never felt any inconvenience until recently, and has enjoyed the best of health.

A surgeon of the hospital of La Salpetriere said in an interview that the case was quite unprecedented. Needles inserted under the skin were known to have been borne through the muscles, but there was no record of a needle introduced into the stomach emerging from the lobe of the ear. In such a case the needle must have traversed the skull, which is incomprehensible.

An Old Soldier's Windfall

Dayton, O., April 17.—Henry H. Hawthorne, one of the invalid soldiers in the soldiers' home here, has just received notice that he has been made the beneficiary to the amount of from $200,000 to $500,000, left him by Mrs. Joseph Fairfax, who recently died in France. Hawthorne was born in England and came to the United States when a boy. Later he went to England on a visit. While at Kent bathing in the sea he saw a woman and her son in a boat, which capsized. Hawthorne succeeded in rescuing the woman, but the son was drowned. He returned to the United States and served in the army during the Civil war. A few years ago he met Mrs. Fairfax in England and refused a reward which she urged him to take. He heard nothing more from her until he was informed of the bequest left to him.

A Little Fellow's Sad Fate

Medford, Mass., April 17.—J. B. Perkins, a 6-year-old boy, with his sister, Doris, 4 years old, went into the room of Sabin Wadsworth, a boarder at the house, and drank from a tumbler containing a lotion of belladonna and arsenic, which Mr. Wadsworth had left on his table. Doris told her mother she had tasted the medicine. Mrs. Perkins gave the child an emetic and sent for a physician, and the girl's life was saved. The boy, however, had left the house and had gone to the home of his grandmother, where, while eating an apple, he gave a scream and fell to the floor. Five minutes later the child was dead.

Wood Will Come With Delegates

Washington, April 17.—It is stated at the war department that General Wood will come to Washington if the Cuban delegation comes. Nothing official is known regarding the appointment of the delegation from the convention, but when the matter was first under consideration General Wood was cabled that the president expected to leave Washington about April 20, to be absent for six weeks. It is now thought probable that the delegation will see the president before he leaves for the west.

Chinese General Refuses to Retire

London, April 17.—A dispatch from Pekin, dated April 16, says that General Von Cyle, in command of 5000 Germans and 3000 French troops, is heading an expedition to attack General Liu (Liu Kuan Ting?), who is within 120 miles of Pao Ting Fu. Liu's position is inside the territory defined as the sphere of operations for the allies. Liu has 10,000 men, and has refused to retire, saying if the allies wished him to retire they had better come out and compel him to do so.

Opposed to Bail For Carter

Washington, April 17.—Solicitor General Richards yesterday filed with the United States supreme court a brief in opposition to the application for bail filed on behalf of former Captain Oberlin M. Carter, now confined in a United States penitentiary, upon conviction of fraud in connection with harbor improvements, etc., at Savannah, Ga.

Shirt Waists For Letter Carriers

QUESTION OF A STRIKE

Being Considered by the Amalgamated Association.

MATTER IN THE BALANCE

Organization Has a Membership of About 50,000 and Is Said to Be In More Prosperous Condition Financially Than Ever Before

Pittsburg, April 18.—The officials of the Amalgamated association have been considering the strike matter carefully. They have decided that in case of a general strike the anti-combine cry will sweep over the country like wildfire, and that there will be an array of public sentiment on their behalf such as was never before arrayed on the side of a striking body of men.

Chances of a strike of all of the men of the Amalgamated association employed in the organized mills of the American Sheet Steel company and subsequently of all of the organized men in the mills of the United States Steel corporation, tremble in the balance.

On the one hand President Shaffer is backed up in his determination to call a general strike by a majority of the members of his advisory board and the district vice president and trustees who were in session all day yesterday.

On the other hand there is a new move toward conciliation and arbitration which may end the entire controversy in Pittsburg today or may be carried to New York to be adjusted by higher powers.

President Shaffer says that the outlook for settlement is better than at any time since the McKeesport trouble started. He refuses to explain this statement.

The session of the Amalgamated executives yesterday took no action on the president's proposed resolution giving him power to call out the men of the sheet company, and subsequently, as he sees fit, all the men of the new Morgan company. The meeting adjourned until today, when these officials will be present.

A canvass of all parties to the dispute indicates that the declaration of a strike will not take place for several days. The effort at conciliation to be made will be followed by others that will take time.

At McKeesport, while the strikers are alert and ready to meet any new move that may be made by the company, nothing resembling disorder has occurred. The crucial test of the men's determination to continue allegiance to the Amalgamated will come at the time all employes of the company have been notified to report or consider themselves discharged.

Fifty thousand men is considered by labor authorities to be a fair estimate of the membership of the Amalgamated association. The association is, according to the statement of Secretary Williams, in a more prosperous condition financially than ever in its history. Of the total membership, 15,000 are employed by the Republic Iron and Steel company, which is not a member of the Morgan combination, and by the independent mills' plants here and elsewhere. Of the American Sheet Steel company's plants, 65 percent of the total capacity is in organized mills. The company operates 18 large plants and a number of small ones, some six of the 30 plants owned by the combine being shut down and partially dismantled. Twelve of the plants are union mills. The most important of the non-union plants are the Vandergrift, Pa., works, the Apollo, Pa., works, and the mills at Wellsville, O., and Leechburg, Pa.

"No Possibility of a Clash"

New York, April 18.—William P. Hamilton of J. P. Morgan & Co., when asked concerning the strike of the employes of the American Sheet Steel company at McKeesport, Pa., made the following statement: "I see that one of the labor leaders has spoken of the danger of a spread of the strike. I assume that it is his duty to speak in this manner. But as far as this firm is concerned, its attitude toward labor is well known. We are friendly, and there is no possibility of a clash."

Switchmen Return to Work

Scranton, Pa., April 18.—The 200 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western yardmen, who went on strike Tuesday noon because two of their number were discharged, returned to work yesterday afternoon, after a six-hour session with the national head of the Switchmens union, Frank T. Hawley. They returned without exacting any conditions, but they found one of their grievances had been redressed, the two men who were brought on from Hoboken to take the places of the discharged men had been sent away, and two local switchmen promoted to the semi-official positions which the discharged men had filled.

ANXIETY RELIEVED

Overdue Transport Garonne Obliged to Stop at Honolulu to Coal Up

Washington, April 18.—The transport Garonne, with Massachusetts volunteers, returning from Manila, has been reported. She was at Honolulu, and will be in San Francisco in two or three days. The Garonne was long overdue.

A good deal of anxiety has been felt, particularly in New England, where the troops on board the Garonne were recruited, as to her safety, but the quartermaster's department never has felt seriously apprehensive. The report that the vessel was at Honolulu simply justifies their guess that the smaller vessels of this type plying between San Francisco and the Orient would be obliged to stop at Honolulu for coal in the event that head winds were encountered.

The news of the safety of the Garonne came in a message to the quartermaster general from Colonel Long, the quartermaster at San Francisco. His message stated that the steamer Doric had arrived at San Francisco and had gone into quarantine. She reported that the government transport Lawton left Honolulu for San Francisco 14 hours ahead of her, with three cases of smallpox aboard, and she was momentarily expected at San Francisco. The Garonne, with the Twenty-sixth infantry, was coaling at Honolulu on the 9th, and is expected at San Francisco in two or three days.

Launching of Independence Delayed

Boston, April 18.—The launching of the cup defender Independence will be delayed several days, possibly a week, because Builder Lawley finds that he cannot employ enough riveters to do the work that is in readiness. Five more gangs of men could be set at work, and several days would be saved if men could be secured. Every available employe at the Atlantic works has been detailed to work on the yacht. A week ago the designer and Mr. Lawley expected the launching could take place during the first week in May. They did not anticipate the scarcity of men. Extra inducements have been offered to experienced men to go to work on the Independence for the next two weeks. As this is the busy time of the year at all the ship yards, machinists are in big demand.

THE CUBAN DELEGATES

Will Find Statesmen Awaiting Them at Washington

TO ALLAY "SEVERE JOLT"

Caused by Abruptness of American Demands — Essentials of Terms of the Platt Amendment Will Not Be Changed—As to the Isle of Pines

Washington, April 18.—Preparations are now being made at the White House for the reception of the Cuban commissioners. They are expected here Tuesday or Wednesday, and several leading senators, including Mr. Platt of Connecticut, will make it a point to be in the city while they are here. Anticipations of the result of their visit are most hopeful.

It is said that the abruptness of the American demands gave the sensitive Latin-Americans what an administration official describes as a "severe jolt." To allay this sensitiveness will be the aim of our people in the treatment of their guests. They will have many things explained to them, they will see evidences of the benevolence of the president's purposes.

The delegates will be received with the utmost courtesy and at the same time given to understand that the purpose of the United States government is fixed; that there is no changing in essentials of the terms of the Platt amendment. The disposition of the Isle of Pines is still to be determined. Our naval officers regard it as of little value, and even its marble deposits are said to be over-estimated in worth. International lawyers here maintain that the island came to us by the terms of the treaty of Paris, while international lawyers there take the opposite view.

An explanation will be made to the Cuban commissioners that in such cases of conflict of legal authorities the opinions of jurists of the more powerful nation are apt to prevail; after the Cubans become convinced of this it is quite possible we may relinquish the island in exchange for something else, and to give the commissioners some trophies of a victory to take back with them.

It is believed that the Cuban delegation will come by way of Tampa. Ordinarily that route is not open after the 15th of April, but this year the summer quarantine regulations will not be put into operation until May 1.

Cuban Warrior Is Coming

Havana, April 18.—General Maximo Gomez is making arrangements to go to the United States to visit Estrada Palma. He desires to await definite action in regard to the Platt amendment, in order to avoid the accusation that the trip is made for a political purpose. He has always expressed a desire to meet the people of the United States, and to thank them for the assistance they rendered Cuba in the war with Spain.

Wholesale Raids at Gotham

New York, April 18.—The committee of 15 raided seven alleged pool rooms yesterday. The raids were made on warrants issued by Justice Jerome and upon evidence obtained by the staff of detectives working for the committee. In only one place did the raiders fail to make any arrests, and C. O. Brewster of the committee openly says the inmates of the place received a tip from the police that the place was about to be raided. A feature of the raiding was the effort by at least two of the police officials to prove that the places raided were not pool rooms, but orderly and well-conducted clubs. Captain Diamond declared that one place raided was not a pool room and that no evidence of one was found. Acting Captain Carson declared this was true of another club raided.

Davis's Presence Not Needed

Washington, April 18.—Major George B. Davis yesterday received a reply to a message cabled to Colonel Woodruff at Manila, expressing his willingness to start for Manila on the first available transport to face the charges that have been brought against him. Colonel Woodruff's reply was an assurance that such a step is not necessary. It is believed that if the affair was of any great gravity, Colonel Woodruff would not have advised against Major Davis' departure for the scene of the alleged frauds.

Signs For Detection of Disease

Berlin, April 18.—At the congress for the treatment of internal diseases yesterday Professor Courmont made a very interesting communication regarding his experiments and discoveries in connection with rabies and consumption, both of which, he asserted, could be diagnosed with certainty by the condition of the blood. In rabies he explained the white blood corpuscles increase greatly, and in consumption the serous condition of the blood is a sure sign.

Death Penalty For Conspirator

Seoul, April 18.—The Korean minister of justice, Yi-Kon-Ho, was arrested for participation in a conspiracy against the Empress of Korea. He named various high officials as accomplices in the plot. Yi-Koh-Ho was condemned to death, and the assistant minister of the Korean court was sentenced to 15 years' hard labor. The implicated officials were acquitted.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

The Daily Ledger will observe Patriots' day as a holiday, and therefore the issue of Friday will be suspended. Saturday's Eight-page Ledger will have all the holiday news, including the opening games in the base ball season.

Good Afternoon.

That is a good sensible building which the Y. M. C. A. will erect in Hyde Park, and it is also attractive. It will be 83 feet on the street and 43 feet deep, with two stories and a basement and will cost about $35,000.

The new ordinance concerning the laying out of new streets is now a law, having received the signature of Mayor Hall, and published as required in a newspaper. It is one of the most important steps taken by our city, and means better streets and wider streets.

The ordinance appears in this issue and the specifications will be of interest. While it may be in order to suspend rules of the City Council, it will not be legal to suspend an ordinance any more than the City Charter.

All streets opened for travel since the first of January must, before acceptance by the city, be built at least forty feet in width. The Department of Public Works should make a record of streets which were opened for travel before January 1, whether city streets or private ways.

Committees of the City Council, and city officials in general, are forbidden even to recommend the acceptance or laying out of private ways which are not constructed according to the specifications in the ordinance.

Some real estate men have laid out tracts of land in this city without any attempt at building streets, notably the Quincy Park, so called, on the Kittredge farm in Ward Two, where the street lines were ploughed some years ago, but are now nearly obliterated.

People who buy on private ways will find it necessary at some date to expend money for construction of the street on which their property is located; that is, if they want said street to be accepted by the city, lighted by the city, the snow removed in winter, or the street watered and repaired.

It has been quite a drain on the city to put in good condition streets which have been accepted of late. The new ordinance promises relief.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ According to the dispatches, Japan is now the biggest pebble upon the international beach of China. She is taking a guardian's interest in the emperor himself.—Manchester Union.

☞ This haste to get rich, the desire for money without work is to be judged by its fruits. Those fruits are social restlessness, disintergration of family ties, cynical materialism, a loss of faith in moral ideals. The remedy for this is not to be sought in the legislature or the police court, but in a fuller realization of Christian social duty. As yet, the evil of which Dr. Huntington spoke is less general than other symptoms of the same disease. It touches only the froth of society. The great majority are still content with honest pay for honest work. The social conscience of the democracy still rings true.—The Church man.

☞ In prosperous times such as the United States has passed through during the past few years, there is no legitimate excuse for labor troubles. There should be enough prosperity to do for all. Labor and capital should work together to the mutual advantage of both sides. In bad times, when neither side is making money, there may be some slight excuse for disagreement between employers and employes—although this is no reason why a little mutual forbearance and concession should not do away with even this cause of friction—but in good times strikes show either criminal carelessness or greed somewhere.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

☞ Yesterday papers contained the alluring story of a man who won nearly half a million dollars in speculation within ten days. That is the kind of tale that fires the young man's ambition to go and do likewise. But in the same papers was an account of the suicide of a New York broker who, after losing three hundred and twenty thousand dollars in stocks, spent a night in wandering through the streets of the metropolis planning to take his life, and finally shot himself. As a rule the public hears more of the big winnings than of the big losses in Wall street, but once in awhile a tragedy like this lays bare the real condition of things.—Providence Journal.

☞ Japan wants the world to join in a war upon rats. To exterminate the rodent is a work of some magnitude, and yet, if the whole world takes hold of it, the rat must go. There is an old story of a sea captain who rid his vessel of the nuisance in a rather questionable way. As he lay at the wharf a grain vessel came in and tied up alongside. After nightfall he quietly put a plank from his ship to the other, and next morning he had not a rat to his name. We cannot unload our rats upon some other planet, so if they are destroyed they must be exterminated here. Medical authorities agree that rats spread disease, and in the Orient it is believed the bubonic plague is largely due to them. The appeal of Japan should be heeded.—Lynn Item.

Tawasentha Musicale.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hunt entertained the Tawasentha club at a musicale at their home on Bigelow street, on Tuesday evening. A fine program had been arranged and was given by the following talent: Miss Nina Gertrude Fletcher, violinist; Miss A. Louise Holbrook, contralto; Miss Mae Raymond Poole, pianist; Mr. Albert L. Hayden, baritone; Mr. W. C. Hunt, flutist; Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, accompanist.

Of the many pleasant evenings spent by the club this winter, the final one will linger in the memory for days to come. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt entertained right royally and the musicale was worthy of repetition in a hall for the benefit of the public.

Miss Fletcher's violin selections received appreciative applause, as did also Mr. Hunt on the flute. The singing by Miss Holbrook and Mr. Hayden was much enjoyed and encores were responded to. Miss Poole's piano solos and Mrs. Hunt's accompaniments put the finishing touch to a complete program.

At a late hour all wended their way homeward expressing the wish that the club continue the meetings next winter.

The Viking.

It is said that the Pi Eta play at Quincy Music hall on Wednesday evening was very good, but the usual courtesies not having been extended to the press no extended report will be expected. The audience was large, but vacant seats were conspicuous. Many thought "The Viking" did not come up to the plays of the Pi Eta club in years past, but it ran smoothly and there was the enthusiasm of college boys to make it interesting. Several of the songs were encored.

No Ledger will be printed on Friday —Patriots' day.

K. OF C. BANQUET.

Prominent Gentlemen the Guests of Quincy Council.

Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, celebrated its seventh anniversary Wednesday evening by a banquet at the United States Hotel, Boston. There was a large attendance of prominent members of the order, nearly one hundred being seated at the table.

Edward J. Parker, Esq., occupied the seat at the head of the table, and on either side were William T. Shea, D. G. K; William J. Coleman, chancellor; B. A. McLane, R. S.; Timothy J. Carey, F. S.; Michael T. Sullivan, treasurer; Peter J. Cahill, warden; Edward J. Murphy, lecturer; J. J. McAnarney, adv.; Rev. Maurice Lynch, chaplain; John A. Mahoney, I. G.; Thomas R. McComack, O. G.; William T. Moran, John J. Cunniff and Bernard Cullen, trustees.

Cuff's orchestra furnished music during the evening and William J. Troy a well known entertainer kept the guests in good humor.

One of the pleasing events of the evening was the presentation to John V. Powers, P. G. K., of a past knight's charm.

The presentation speech was made by William T. Shea. The surprise was complete, and it was some minutes before Mr. Powers could recover himself and respond, thanking the members for their generous gift.

James F. Burke was toastmaster and toasts were responded to by Rev. Maurice Lynch, Rev. Francis A. Frigiuglietti, John V. Powers, Michael T. Sullivan, William J. Coleman, Thomas H. McDonnell and John A. Duggan.

Among the invited guests present were Rev. Maurice Lynch, Rev. Francis A. Frigiuglietti, and D. J. Daly, D. Q. S. K.

New Camp L. S. W. V.

The Legion of Spanish War Veterans had a red letter night at Brockton Wednesday evening. The National Muster instituted a new Camp to be known as Colonel Frye Camp, No. 22, L. S. W. V. The officers of John A. Boyd Camp of this city attended, and ably assisted. Among the charter members of Camp 22 are some prominent gentlemen one being Ex-Mayor Williamson of that city, now Maj. Williamson. The National muster who instituted the new camp included Inspector General W. F. Murray of East Boston, and Mustering officer H. J. Matthews of Quincy. Following the installation was a bountiful banquet. Several Grand Army men were present, among whom was Commander Jackson of Post 13, G. A. R., Brockton, who carried the electoral vote of Massachusetts to Washington. The Col. Frye Camp starts off in a prosperous condition, with a large charter membership.

Logs Driven Ashore.

Visitors to Nantasket Beach, Wednesday were treated to an unusual sight, and one that was never before seen along that shore, says the Herald. hundreds of big logs from way down East were thrown up on the sands, and the entire length of the beach from Green Hill to Point Allerton, was strewn with the product of the Maine lumber camps. The logs are a portion of those which were carried out to sea from the Kennebec river recently, and the strong easterly gale of the last two days had driven them across Massachusetts bay.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Quincy as follows:

SECTION 1. All petitions for laying out, widening, altering, or discontinuing any street or way shall be presented to the City Council and referred to the Committee on Streets.

English Linoleums.

For people who wish the best and are willing to pay a little more than the price of Oil Cloth, our English Linoleum will afford a comfort that never grows tedious.

Linoleums used to be a luxury for the few, today at our cut prices they are within the reach of everyone.

Think of having a floor covering, thick and durable, soft and pliable, easy to care for, that always looks well and wears almost a life time. Such is the Linoleum we sell you.

Understand, this is not a cheap light weight Linolcum, it is extra heavy, made up in artistic designs that look like carpet, prices 65 and 75 cents per yard. They will out wear three oil cloths, and if you use one once, you'll wonder why you ever lived without one.

AN EX-OFFICIAL.

Arrested for Concealing Leased Personal Property.

Dr. J. A. Elmere, City Physician under Mayor Keith, was arrested by Officer Barry, this morning, upon a warrant sworn out by Henry L. Kincaide & Co., charging him with concealing leased personal property to the value of $42. The goods in question were purchased on a lease while Dr. Elmere was located in Quincy. He left Quincy last fall and Messrs. Kincaide have been unable to get their pay for the goods or to locate them.

A warrant was issued against him several weeks ago, but the officers have been unable to find him. This morning Dr. Elmere visited Quincy and was about to leave town when arrested. He had boarded a Neponset bound car when Officer Barry got his eye on him, and his arrest followed. He had not secured bail up to noon and if unable to secure it he will have to stay in jail until the court meets on Friday.

Why Girls Cannot Throw.

The small boy at school is, at this season of the year, prone to poke fun at his sister because she cannot throw a stone or a base ball like a boy. "Girls ain't much good, they can't throw nohow," he sarcastically remarks when he watches their over hand delivery.

He isn't so far out of the way after all. Girls can't throw and never can—that is, like a man.

When a boy throws a stone he crooks his elbow and reaches back with his forearm, and uses every joint from shoulder to wrist. The boy's arm is relaxed; a girl throws with a rigid arm. This is because her collarbone is lower and set lower than is a boy's. This interferes with the free motion of her arm required in accurate throwing.

GROUND HAS BEEN LOST

THE FORCES ARE SCATTERED

The Fight Now Mainly Over Supplies —Interesting Report of Sir Alfred Milner, Who Has Not the Slightest Doubt of the Ultimate Result

London, April 18.—The appearance of the South African blue book just at this moment is explained as a characteristically bold stroke on the part of Mr. Chamberlain, who, with a view to anticipating the inevitable criticism upon the temporary absence of Sir Alfred Milner from South Africa, publishes important communications giving frankly the views of the men on the spot and showing that Sir Alfred seizes an occasion to secure well-earned rest while the military operations are still unfinished, so as to enable him to be back again when the time arrives for inauguration of the civil administration.

The blue book, containing recent dispatches from Sir Alfred Milner and other official correspondence, was issued last night.

Sir Alfred wired, under date of March 3, requesting permission to return home at an early date upon leave of absence for the purpose of resting. Mr. Chamberlain replied by granting this request, but expressed regret that it should be necessary for Sir Alfred at the present time.

Sir Alfred Milner reviews the situation in South Africa and says that he had hoped some definite point would be reached at which it might be possible to sum up that chapter of history concerning the war and forecasting the administrative reconstruction which must succeed it. "But I am reluctantly forced to the conclusion that there will be no such dividing line," he continues, "and I have not the slightest doubt of the ultimate result, but I foresee that the work will be slower, more difficult, more harassing and more expensive than was at one time anticipated. At any rate, it is idle to wait much longer in hope of being able to describe a clear and clean-cut situation.

"It is no use denying that the last half year has been one of retrogression. Seven months ago this colony was perfectly quiet, at least as far as the Orange river. The southern half of the Orange River Colony was rapidly settling down and even a considerable portion of the Transvaal, notably the southwestern districts, seemed to have definitely accepted British authority and to rejoice at the opportunity to return to orderly government and the pursuits of peace.

"Today the scene is completely altered. The fact that the enemy are now broken up into a great number of small forces, raiding in every direction, and that our troops are similarly broken up in their pursuit, makes the area of actual fighting, and consequently of destruction, much wider than would be the case in a conflict between equal numbers operating in large masses.

"Moreover, the fight is now mainly over supplies. The Boers live entirely on the country through which they pass, not only taking all the food they can lay their hands on, but looting the small village stores of clothes, boots, coffee and sugar, of all of which they are in great need. Our forces are compelled to denude the country of everything movable in order to frustrate these tactics of the enemy.

"The consequences of the war, although grave, are not appalling. The country people will need help to prevent them from starving, and probably a certain amount of capital. A more serious effect of the last six months is the moral influence of the recrudescence of the war, especially in the Orange River Colony."

He then sketches the rising against the British forces, the breaking of Boer pledges of neutrality under the pressure of old companions in arms and the establishment of camps of refuge for Boer families wanting protection. He describes the effect in Cape Colony of guerilla warfare and agitation and alludes to the "carnival of mendacity" accompanying the pro-Boer agitation.

He thinks that a majority of the Dutch colonies do not desire invasion. Discussing the plans of local defense put into operation he argues that the government's policy should be to consider the feelings and interests of the loyalists and thus to retain their loyalty, as well as to disarm enmity and to win the confidence of those fighting against Great Britain.

"South Africans are sick unto death of the war," he says, "but are prepared to suffer in order to make South Africa indisputably one country under one flag." He believes that the young country will recuperate in a few years when the war is over.

Other correspondence in the blue book relates to various phases of sedition, to incidents of the invasion and to details of administration. Among the letters are three dispatches from the government of The Netherlands to the Dutch consul general in Pretoria, before the war, advising Mr. Kruger to adopt a conciliatory attitude.

The question of who is to carry on Sir Alfred's work in his absence excites interest. In the natural course of things the duty would devolve upon Lord Kitchener, whose ability for the task is unquestioned; but, considering the already onerous nature of his military duties, it is felt that he ought not to be saddled with the additional work which Milner found so heavy.

RECEIVER TAKES CHARGE

No Failures Expected From Closing of Farmers' National Bank

Vergennes, Vt., April 18.—John T. Sullivan of the comptroller's office in Washington, who has been appointed receiver of the Farmers' National bank, arrived here last night, and immediately took charge of the institution. Examiner Cunningham will remain for a few days in order to make Mr. Sullivan familiar with the bank's affairs as far as they have been unravelled.

President Dunshee says that he has full confidence that the bank depositors will be paid in full, but expects a heavy assessment on the stockholders. The business men of the town who have funds tied up in the bank are adjusting their affairs to meet the money stringency, and it is hardly likely that any failures will follow the closing of the bank.

Mrs. Hallett of Concord, N. H., whose name has been mentioned with that of Cashier Lewis, denies some of the published stories, especially that which made it appear that she was engaged to Lewis. She says that there was no reason why her name should be brought into the story of the bank's failure.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 18.—An important bill, aimed directly at the American and Continental Tobacco companies, was passed to a third reading by the lower branch of the legislature yesterday. The measure prohibits corporations or associations of individuals from restricting their customers in the purchase of their exclusive goods. It was shown that numerous tobacco dealers in the state have been compelled to deal exclusively with the large companies. The house passed the bill by a vote of 174 to 8.

Barrie Sees the Independence

Boston, April 18.—David Barrie, Sir Thomas Lipton's representative on this side of the Atlantic, yesterday visited the Lawson cup yacht Independence. He examined the boat closely, but would not express any opinion as to her racing qualities. "As a representative of a boat which will possibly compete against the Independence," he said, "I cannot well say much in favor of her, and I certainly cannot give out adverse criticism."

Teresa Vaughn In Insane Asylum

Boston, April 18.—Teresa Vaughn (Mrs. Haupt), the ballad singer, has been taken to the Worcester asylum for the insane. Ever since the death of her husband, four years ago, the actress had been troubled mentally. Mrs. Haupt's first husband was W. A. Mestayer, a comedian, who died some years ago. The recent death of her brother, Joe Ott, affected her very badly.

Italian Wielded a Razor

Woonsocket, R. I., April 18.—Amide Beauchene, 28 years old, refused to pay for the grinding of his razor by an Italian scissors grinder, who refused to give up the razor. In a mix-up which resulted, Beauchene was so badly cut with the razor that he nearly bled to death. It is believed he will recover. The Italian escaped to the woods.

On Road to Recovery

Boston, April 18.—An intimate friend of ex-Congressman Sprague, who visited him at the McLean asylum, states that he has gained substantially in the past week or two, and that there is every reason to believe that his chances for ultimate recovery are excellent. It is hoped that he may be able to retire from the asylum within a year.

Marlboro Baptists Made Happy

Marlboro, Mass., April 18.—The clearing up of the last portion of a debt of $42,000 on the First Baptist church of this city was celebrated last night in a jubilation meeting at the church, after which Deacon Gale touched a torch to the mortgage paper and the audience watched the document burn.

Held For Vermont Official

Nashua, N. H., April 18.—Joel E. Emerson was arrested here yesterday at the request of the United States marshal of Vermont, it being understood that he is wanted for using the United States mails with intent to defraud accident insurance companies. The man is held for the Vermont marshal.

Canoe Capsized

Lakeville, Conn., April 18.—Otis Sawyer and George E. Innes, students in the Hotchkiss academy, were canoeing in Wonoscopowoc lake and were capsized some distance from shore. Their cries attracted the attention of persons on shore, but they sank before help reached them.

Ready to Pay Final Dividend

Exeter, N. H., April 18.—Treasurer Knight will immediately pay the final divided for the Squampscott Savings bank of Exeter and thereby wind up the affairs of the bank, which went into voluntary liquidation Nov. 4, 1896. This final dividend will make a total of 96 percent paid.

Placed Chocolate Contract

Boston, April 18.—Evelyn B. Baldwin, who heads the Arctic expedition which bears his name, made a flying visit to this city yesterday. One of the principal food supplies of the expedition will be chocolate, and Mr. Baldwin negotiated for nearly the whole of this article in this city.

Fight Went to O'Rourke

Fall River, Mass., April 18.—At the Fall River Athletic club last night Charlie O'Rourke of Boston defeated "Twin" Sullivan in the eighth round of what was to have been a 12-round bout. O'Rourke had the fight well in hand from the start.

Served Him Right

Boston, April 18.—Samuel D. Nevers, aged about 40, convicted of attacking three little girls, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Gaskill to state prison for from eight to nine years, at hard labor. He cried when he heard the penalty

Horsewhipping and Biting

Utica, N. Y., April 18.—Alois Brambach, a prominent piano board manufacturer of Dodgville, waited outside the postoffice in that place yesterday until Dr. Mangold should come out. Under his coat Brambach carried a short whip, and when the doctor appeared Brambach commenced to rain blows over him. The men clinched, and in the struggle which followed Dr. Mangold's left leg was broken. The doctor caught Brambach's hand in his teeth and terribly lacerated it. The trouble is said to have arisen over domestic affairs.

Thought to Have Bad Record

New York, April 18.—The detective bureau of this city says that John D. Hart, now in the tombs awaiting trial on charge of blackmail, has been identified by City Marshal Kendal of Chicopee, Mass., as J. E. Stoddard, a forger of national reputation, and that he has operated under several aliases. The detective bureau is being deluged with letters from the police of many states, asking for a description and photograph of Hart.

Allen Can Be Trusted

New York, April 18.—Judge Louis Sulzbacher, the only American member of the supreme court of Porto Rico, arrived here yesterday on the steamship Caracas. "The American people," he said, "can safely put their trust in Governor Allen. He knows the situation better than anyone else. If Americans understood the Porto Ricans thoroughly and vice versa we would all get along much better."

McKinley's New England Visit

Worcester, Mass., April 18.—President McKinley is to visit this city on June 26. He will attend the banquet of the board of trade on June 27, after a trip to the Rufus Putnam house in Rutland. He will leave on the 27th for Concord, N. H. He will be the guest of Senator Hoar while in Worcester. These plans were received from Washington yesterday.

Disaster on Frazer River

A "Watch Game," which called for quick and accurate answers to twelve questions pertaining to the various parts of a watch, preceded a "Clover Hunt," in which the fortunate finder of the most carefully hidden imitations received the unique Subway puzzle. A collation of ices and cake followed. The last and best feature of the evening, however, was the presentation to Mr. C. F. Merrick of the class gift, a handsome music cabinet of Evan Marten, richly decorated with hand worked designs of flowers and figures. This was, indeed, an appropriate token of their esteem and gratitude towards one who has done so much to make the class an important factor in the church.

PRIZES FOR BABIES.

One Under a Year of Age Weighed Over 27 Pounds.

The attractions at the City Band fair have proved popular beyond expectation. Patriots' day the baby show in the afternoon brought out a large number of fond and expectant mothers, with their pretty little charges. There were fat babies and thin babies, all were handsome and elegantly dressed, which made the work of the judges a very serious matter.

One had to be more beautiful than the others in order to get the prize. After considerable thought and comparing of points, the silver mug was awarded to Mrs. James Marr for having the prettiest baby.

The best dressed was the next difficulty the wise judges had to face, and in this as in the preceding contest some of the little beauties had to be ruled out because of their not belonging to the city of Quincy. After eliminated the strangers, the work of picking for the prize was proceeded with, and the final result was that Mrs. Hunter got the gold ring for having the best dressed baby in the show.

The heavy weight contest followed, and this depended not on poor human opinion but on the scales, "the emblem of justice;" there could be no mistake. The weighing proceeded, and after every one of the contestants had been on the scale, Mrs. Gurney found that her darling of twenty-seven and one-half pounds was the heaviest of any baby in the ring under oneyear old. She was awarded a silver fork, knife and spoon.

Then came the award for the lightest infant, and Mrs. Phillips carried away the three gold pins for having a little dear that weighed only twelve and a-half pounds.

The other star attraction of Patriots' day was Prof. Hornmann, a magician of rare ability. For hours he puzzled and mystified the audience with objects that appeared and disappeard so uncannily and rapidly that he made some of the onlookers imagine he ate everything on the stage from a hatful of baby clothes to a butterfly, the boys, exceedingly puzzled, some of them actually imagined they heard the splash of water in their heads which the Professor had put there in a trick.

At the stalls a good business was done, the fair attendants proving an attraction in themselves. The many other devices for profit and entertainment drew there quota of patrons, and are more popular every evening.

Prof. Ewoc gifted with second sight and a fine faculty for discerning ability and character by the bumps of the head has been rushed with business.

Altogether the Band fair deservedly merits the patronage it is receiving.

Recital at Wollaston.

An appreciative audience was present at Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Goodrich's at Wollaston, last evening, to enjoy the fourth series of recitals given by Miss C. F. Spear. Brief sketches and selections from following artists were given: Liszt, Franz, Rubenstein, Grieg and MacDowell.

Miss Spear opened the evening with the favorite selection, "O thou art but a flower."

Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell rendered with pleasing effect, "The Woods" by Franz.

A duet by Rubenstein followed, entitled "Song of the birds," sung by Miss Spear and Mrs. Tirrell, with sweetness and expression.

Other selections from Rubenstein and "The early primrose" from Greig were charmingly rendered by Miss Spear.

The "Sunshine song" sung by Mrs. Tirrell gave much pleasure.

Mrs. Chandler Smith presided at the piano and delighted all with her artistic interpretations of the authors Among the most enjoyable selections were: "The witches' dance" by MacDowell, and Kammeunoi Ostrow by Rubenstein.

All patrons of Miss Spear's recitals are looking forward to the last of the series which is to be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice, Adams street Quincy, Monday, April 29. A fine program is to be arranged for that evening, including a coteri of gifted artists.

THE OLD ROCKING HORSE.

Battered and bruised and worn and old,
Bereft of his mane and tail,
A veteran charger stanch and bold,
He has weathered life's fiercest gale—

The hero of many a gallant raid,
In many a bloodless war,
A soldier of fortune, undismayed
By battle and wound and scar!

'Neath the guiding touch of a little hand
He has traveled many a mile
Through the wonderful realms of Playlike Land,
Where the spirits of fancy smile.

But, strange to say, in his boldest fight,
Though he halted or rested not,
Through all his travels by day and night
He has stood in the selfsame spot!

He was ridden far, he was ridden hard,
He has borne fierce brunts and blows
And oft has felt, as a sweet reward,
A kiss on his wornout nose.

And, though he is rather the worse for wear
And is crippled and scarred and old,
In the eyes of his master he still is fair
And worth his weight in gold.

CARRYING OFF A BRIDE

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

The crew of the American brig Nemo had been paid off at Cadiz and as mate I was looking for another berth when a young and good looking man who was strolling about the wharf as if in search of some one accosted me with an inquiry as to my capability as a navigator and later on asked me to accompany him to a cafe for a talk. As the young man was a Brazilian and a landsman my curiosity was naturally aroused. He was rather slow in coming to the point, being evidently desirous of sizing me up, and I had begun to grow a little impatient when he leaned across the table and said:

"Senor, I have decided to trust you and tell you the truth. It is an expedition to carry off a young lady."

"If it is a scheme to abduct a woman, I want nothing to do with it," I replied.

"Do not mistake me, senor. I am a Brazilian. I am from one of the highest families in our country. I am in love with a Spanish lady, a young lady of highest birth, but her people are opposed to our marriage. I am not only in love with her, but she returns my passion. She has vowed to the Virgin that she will never give her hand to another. Indeed, she is ready to die if she cannot marry me."

A FAIRER GIRL I NEVER LOOKED UPON

"And why do her people object?" I asked, thinking that if his looks did not belie his character any father in Spain might be proud of him for a son-in-law.

"It was a feud between our fathers, senor, partly political and partly business. There was bad blood, and, though my father died years ago, Don Raminez still holds his bitterness. He has a son with whom I have fought a duel, and that I wounded and vanquished him has but added to the bitterness of the situation."

"Why, this Don Raminez is a government official of some sort, isn't he?"

"He is governor of the province of Cadiz, senor."

"If he is rich and powerful and opposed to the marriage, your cake is dough. You seem to run more of a chance of being shot than of becoming his son-in-law."

Senor Da Costa, as he had given me his name, looked troubled for a moment, and then a flash came to his eyes as he quietly asked:

"In your country, senor, what do they do in such cases?"

"The lovers? Well, if the old folks are opposed there is generally a runaway match."

"I have heard so, and there will be one in this case. We would both have it otherwise, but it is the last resort. I must take the senorita to Brazil to become my wife. It was settled that way last evening."

"But have you counted on the old man?" I asked, a little annoyed by the young man's coolness in disposing of the case. "He'll be after you in two hours, and he has the legal right to take his daughter off the steamer and put you behind the bars. I should say he would be a bad man to fool with."

"Listen, senor," quietly replied the lover. "You will find in this port a craft for sale or charter. She may be small, but she must be fast. It will be better for many reasons that she is a sail vessel. You shall buy her and clear her for some western port, and I will sail away with the senorita, and she will become my wife."

"But we shall be pursued," I said.

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled.

"And if captured it will mean years of imprisonment for me."

"Your pay will be commensurate with the risks, senor. Let us waste no more time. Set forth at once and find a craft."

At the end of another half hour we had the details arranged as far as possible, and I was ready to begin my share of the work. Within 24 hours I had found a schooner yacht from the Mediterranean, an English built craft whose owner had tired of playing sailor and left her in the hands of a broker for sale. It required a week to repaint, repair, find a crew and put provisions aboard, and Da Costa was ready with $2 wherever there was need for $1. It was given out that a yacht had been bought for a resident of the Azores and was to be delivered there, and there was no trouble about her clearance.

While knowing, of course, that Da Costa was in Cadiz, it appeared that Don Raminez had neither imprisoned his daughter nor set an extra watch on her movements. To dodge her duenna and escape from the house and grounds and make her way to an appointed rendezvous must have been a difficult matter, but she accomplished it, and two hours after dark one evening a boat brought the pair of lovers aboard. Ten minutes later we were under way. A fairer girl I never looked upon, and she was as brave as she was fair.

We left port with a fair wind and carried it all night as we headed out into the Atlantic, and the yacht slipped along as if driven by steam. We had got away so quietly that I did not look for pursuit, but daylight had scarcely broken when we found a steamer in our wake. As I afterward ascertained, the girl had been missed early in the night, the sailing of the yacht discovered, and while one steamer was headed for the Canaries a second took the course for Rio and was soon overhauling us.

At noon the steamer came up with us. The brother was aboard of her, while the father had taken the other route. She came slashing alongside, with shouts and yells from her crew, thinking to make an easy capture, but as there were no armed men aboard she quickly sheered off before our rifles. Within the next two hours she made three different attempts to crash into us, but each time our fire, which was not meant to kill, drove the men from the pilothouse and confused all. Then she settled down to pursue us, and, as a matter of fact, she hung to us for 48 hours. She had come out unprepared with fuel or provisions, however, and at last had to turn about and head for Cadiz. By the time she reached port it was too late to think of further pursuit, and we were left to make our voyage in peace and land our passengers in due time at Rio. I learned that Don Raminez and the Spanish government kicked up a great row over the affair, and there was a lot of correspondence and demands and red fire, but Da Costa won his bride, and the rest of us got safely away with our reward, and the obstinate old father had nothing to do but chew the rag and yell "Caramba!"

Died Whistling.

Dr. William Krauss in The Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases describes the case of a Polish herdsman, 27 years of age, weighing 230 pounds, who some months previous to an accident had suffered from apoplexy resulting in left hemiplegia. He was slowly regaining the use of his arm and leg when he was struck by a train and was found unconscious on the track with three scalp wounds. There was a depressed fracture of the skull three inches above and one inch behind the left ear. He was immediately trephined and the depressed bone removed.

About 10 o'clock at night he began to whistle, not, however, the "popular songs of the day," but the whistle calls he was accustomed to use in calling or driving his flocks. He would continue whistling for about one minute, then would cease for five or ten minutes and kept this up at regular intervals until he died. At no time was it possible to distinguish any melody. The sounds were of the same pitch and intensity and of the same character. They were audible throughout the ward and attracted the attention of patients and attendants. To the physicians in attendance it was a strange experience to hear these whistle calls coming from a patient in a state of unconsciousness. It was impossible to rouse the patient at any time before or after the accident, and he died, whistling a few minutes before death.

Peel Didn't Know Tennyson.

Peel regarded all light litterateurs as triflers and poets with their unprofitable pursuits as the butterflies of the human species. Carlyle had prompted Milnes to press Tennyson's claims for a pension. The rival claimant was Sheridan Knowles, the popular dramatist.

Peel consulted Milnes as to the course which he ought to take, accompanying the appeal by the statement that for himself he knew absolutely nothing either of Mr. Tennyson or Mr. Knowles.

"What!" said Milnes. "Have you never seen the name of Sheridan Knowles on a playbill?"

"No," replied Peel.

"And have you never read a poem of Tennyson?"

"No," was again the answer, accompanied by a request that Milnes would let him see something which Tennyson had written. Accordingly Milnes sent to Sir Robert Peel the two poems of "Locksley Hall" and "Ulysses."

The Maltese.

The Maltese are mainly the last surviving remnant of the Carthaginian branch of the old Phœnician people. Malta was the half way station between Carthage and Sicily, long held by the Carthagenians and of which Hamilcar, the father of Hannibal, was at one time governor.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 21—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Walking with Jesus.—Col. ii, 6, 7; Gal. v, 16-26.

Walk, as a figure of life, is a Hebraism introduced into the English translation of the New Testament. Old Testament worthies such as Enoch and Noah are said to have "walked with God." Borrowing this expression, the translators of the New Testament place before our minds the figures of "walking in truth," "walking in the Spirit," "walking with Christ." It is an apt and suggestive figure. The Christian life is a walk with Christ. No better practical definition of the Christian life can be given than this.

The reception of Christ is the necessary preliminary to a walk with Christ. "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in Him." The Colossians had received Christ. They had received Him as Lord. Therefore Paul reasons they should walk in Him. As the Colossians first received Christ before they could walk in Him, so must we. There can be no walking in Him without a previous reception of Him. Christ without is absolutely impossible until we have Christ within. The outward life is necessarily the expression of the inward life. Christ is received by faith. As a result of the reception of Christ, the heart, the inward principle of life, is changed. Then Christ, being within, is lived without.

Having received Christ, we should walk in Him. "As ye have received Him, walk in Him." To receive Christ and not to walk in Him would be both unreasonable and impossible. Why should we receive Christ if we do not intend to walk with Him? And how could we have Him in the heart and His presence not be manifested in the outward life? He has received Christ in vain who does not walk with Him. The Christian's life is necessarily a life of walking with Christ, a life of union with Him. Christ is no latent principle; He is not a theme to be idly contemplated nor a creed to be indifferently laid aside. Christ is a power, a divine power, that cannot be received without being manifested.

The walk with Christ should possess certain characteristics. 1. It should be enthusiastic. We receive Christ enthusiastically and should walk with Him in the same way. 2. It should be a stable and progressive walk. "Having been rooted and built up in Him." The figures are changed here to denote stability and growth. The tie that binds us to Christ in our walk with Him should not be a superficial one, but one that can stand the test of storm and of trial, and one that should increase in character and in results with time. 3. It should be a grateful walk, "Abounding therein with thanksgiving." We should be thankful to God that we have the joy and the privilege of walking with Christ. 4. It should be a fruit bearing walk. A life lived in union with Christ will produce the fruits of the Spirit and will be free from the works of the flesh. Gal. v, 16-26.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Let the leader or prayer meeting committee arrange a Bible reading covering the subject, "Walking With Jesus."

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xxiii, 1-6; Isa. ii, 5; Mark ii, xiv; John i, 35-37; Rom. viii, 1; xiii, 12-14; Eph. iv, 1-3; Col. i, 9-17; I Thess. ii, 10-12; iv, 1.

The Golden Opportunity.

All beginnings, both of days and service, shine with Christ's presence and thrill with the incentive of His trust. Nineteen centuries since the coming of our Lord have had their times of trial, of discouragement, of fear. The twentieth opens with a light of hope and faith. Brighter and clearer grow the purposes of God through all the changes of our years. There is shadow yet, but not for him who turns his face toward dawn. There are mysteries of life and death, but there is Christ, the greatest of all mysteries, the dearest of all friends. There are sorrows, losses, sins, but there is joy in God and wealth of love and help for overcoming. Widening fellowship of service, enlarging opportunity of work with God, deepening experience of life under guidance of the Spirit, fill our hearts with cheer. The golden age is yet to come; the golden opportunity of work with God comes every day. There was never a better time to live, a clearer hope, a larger field of witness. Serenity of faith, activity of work, joy of expectation, looking for the perfect reign of love, crown the new century's life. God is with us in our toil and rest. This is the golden opportunity, and in using it we hasten on the golden age.—Isaac Ogden Rankin in Congregationalist.

At the Door of the Heart.

The Master, with the shadow of the cross falling on His soul, was comforted by a woman's insight and a woman's love. Her own heart taught her the secret of sacrifice; her heart anticipated the longing for sympathy, and so beautiful in its grace and spiritual delicacy was her act that Jesus declared it would be told to her praise wherever [illegible]pels were read.

Forever this Friend of man, hungering for love and friendship, passes down the paths of life and knocks at the door of the heart. Blessed are they who hear His voice and give Him welcome, who are not ashamed of Him or of His cause, who serve Him with their best and pour upon His head the riches of their love.—John Watson.

Honest Reforms.

Society need not fear anything which is proposed with the intention to do good. Honest men may propose injurious things, but no harm will be done by any proposition to change the social order if it is honestly proposed and honestly dealt with.—Christian Register.

A MANIFESTO

Urging Filipinos to Accept Cause of Peace

Aguinaldo Has Faith In Promises of Americans

Can Best Serve His Country by Unreservedly Accepting Sovereignty

Manila, April 20.—The following is Aguinaldo's address to the Filipino people, made public last evening:

"I believe I am not in error in presuming that the unhappy fate to which my adverse fortune has led me is not a surprise to those who have been familiar with the progress of the war. The lessons taught with a full meaning, and which have recently come to my knowledge, suggest with irresistible force that a complete termination of hostilities and lasting peace are not only desirable, but absolutely essential to the welfare of the Philippine islands.

"The Filipinos have never been dismayed at their weakness nor have they faltered in following the path pointed out by their fortitude and courage. The time has come, however, in which they find their advance along this path to be impeded by an irresistible force which, while it restrains them, yet enlightens their minds and opens to them another course, presenting them the cause of peace.

"This cause has been joyfully embraced by the majority of my fellow countrymen, who have already united around the glorious sovereign banner of the United States. In this manner they repose their trust, and believe that under its protection the Filipino people will attain all those promised liberties which they are beginning to enjoy.

"The country has declared unmistakeably in favor of peace. So be it. There has been enough blood, enough tears and enough desolation. This wish cannot be ignored by the men still in arms if they are animated by a desire to serve our noble people, which has thus clearly manifested its will. So do I respect this will, now that it is known to me.

"After mature deliberation I resolutely proclaim to the world that I cannot refuse to heed the voice of a people longing for peace, nor the lamentations of thousands of families yearning to see their dear ones enjoying the liberty and the promised generosity of the great American nation.

"By acknowledging and accepting the sovereignty of the United States throughout the Philippine archipelago, as I now do and without any reservation whatsoever, I believe that I am serving thee, my beloved country. May happiness be thine."

To signalize this important step in the pacification of the country, General MacArthur orders the release, on the swearing of allegiance to the United States, of 1000 insurgent prisoners.

Services May Prove Useful

Washington, April 20.—It is believed by the administration that the manifesto of Aguinaldo will have a decidedly good effect both in the Philippines and in this country. It will take some time for its dissemination among the Filipinos, but it is expected to ensure continued improvement in the situation. Especial gratification is felt at the unreserved tone of the document, and the full acceptance it indicates of American rule. Aguinaldo, now that he has accepted American sovereignty, probably will be given considerably more liberty than he has enjoyed hitherto. His services will be used as far as possible in the pacification of the islands.

Waiting to Hear From Chaffee

Washington, April 20.—Adjutant General Corbin authorizes the statement that no material changes will be made in the army in the Philippines until after the war department has heard from General Chaffee on the subject. In accordance with orders previously issued, General Chaffee will relieve General MacArthur on June 30, and the present expectation is that a general civil government will be established in the archipelago about that time.

Home From the Philippines

San Francisco, April 20.—The Twenty-ninth and Thirty-second regiments, United States volunteers, arrived here yesterday from the Philippines on the transport Grant. The vessel also brought company F of the Twenty-sixth volunteer infantry, 123 sick soldiers and 80 cabin passengers. In all there are 1700 soldiers on board. During the voyage there were three deaths among the soldiers in the hospital.

TERRIO'S SNOWSHOES

Considered Valuable Evidence In Tracing the Murderer of Pare

Greenville, Me., April 20.—Owing to the unsafe condition of the ice in Moosehead lake, Sheriff Pennell did not arrive here with Alexander Terrio, charged with the murder of Mathias Pare, as soon as expected, but reached this place late yesterday afternoon. It is understood that Joseph Moreau will testify to the fact that the day of the alleged murder he passed along the west shore of Moose river and that when near the scene of the tragedy his own snowshoe tracks ran into the tracks of another man, who had but recently passed that way, coming from the direction of the Misery Stream tote road. The track of the other person was a peculiar one, which was familiar to Moreau, and he knew that either Terrio or some person wearing Terrio's snowshoes had been there.

Deputy Sheriff Haskell has found a rifle of the calibre of that with which Pare was shot, and he also found in Terrio's house at Moose River settlement $40 in cash. He learned that Terrio had paid several bills with money which he cannot account for as having received from anyone. The snowshoes owned by Terrio are now in the possession of the sheriff, and their outlines correspond with the tracks discovered by Moreau on the supposed day of the murder.

Terrio admits that he saw Pare the night before the crime was committed, but denies all knowledge of the murder. When questioned as to the tracks made by his snowshoes, he stated that he had loaned them to a stranger, who appeared at his house on the day of the murder, and that he subsequently found them sticking in the snow about 20 rods from his house, on the following day. It is stated that other evidence is in the possession of the sheriff.

Sheriff Pennell left here this morning for Skowhegan, where the preliminary examination will be held.

Convulsions Killed Preacher

Ogdensburg, N. Y., April 20.—Rev. George Green of New York, about 65 years old, was found dead in a room at the Seymoure House yesterday. Mr. Green had been assigned to the mission parish at Antwerp by Bishop Huntington. The parishioners complained of his eccentricities and inhibition followed. Death resulted from asphyxiation, due to convulsions.

Thousands For Missionary Work

Philadelphia, April 20.—Under the provisions of the will of Elizabeth Steele, who died recently, her entire estate, amounting to $10,750, with the exception of $100, is bequeathed to the board of trustees of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church in North America, to be expended in carrying out the work of foreign missions in connection with the church.

Incorporation of White Mice

Albany, April 20.—The Benevolent Order of White Mice of America, with principal offices in New York city, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday. The order proposes to voluntarily aid and assist women of the theatrical profession, playing minor parts, in case of sickness and distress or in any other emergency.

Threatened With Destruction

Pittsburg, April 20.—Newtown, a mining hamlet, containing 100 houses, near Turtle creek, inhabited largely by foreigners and negroes, is located on the brow of a steep hill, and the rains of Thursday night and yesterday have so weakened the treacherous soil under the houses that they are all liable to go down at any time.

Boutelle Goes on Half Sea Pay

Washington, April 20.—The comptroller of the treasury has decided that Captain Boutelle, U. S. N., retired, late representative from Maine, is entitled to one-half sea pay of a captain of the navy, computed with a previous record of five years' service at an appointee from civil life, or at the rate of $1925 a year.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

PROGRESS OF AMERICA

Has Evidently Aroused Jealousy of Europeans

ADVOCACY OF AN ALLIANCE

With the Object of Dispelling "Annoyance of the Continent"—Greatly Worried by Our Wealth and Attitude In Asia and South America

London, April 20.—Taking as a text a portion of an interview with Admiral Count Canevaro, at Toulon, which, The Spectator believes, has not attracted the attention it deserves, that paper discusses "the Continent and America." Admiral Canevaro, in concluding his utterances regarding the triple alliance and dual alliance having given Europe 30 years of peace, said:

"This fact would, perhaps, lead European nations to consider the possibility and necessity of uniting against America, Africa and Asia, as the future of civilization will require them to do so."

The Spectator does not consider this the rash outburst of the "man in the street," for Admiral Canevaro has been Italian minister of foreign affairs.

"His utterance," The Spectator says, "corresponds exactly with that of Count Coluchowski (Austro-Hungarian foreign minister), and with all the recent trend of affairs. The annoyance of the continent with America, which is very deep, is based upon three reasons, the first being the dread, or rather the conviction, that competition with America is nearly impossible, her wealth and energy being too great. Both are employed, the continent thinks, to monopolize trade and so to control in the end all the wealth of the world, an idea not without advocates, even among ourselves."

The Spectator mentions the giant trusts and protection and refers to the Americans as "not scrupling to commence a quick and severe reprisal if European governments fence them off with tariffs."

"The second reason," the article says "is that America is sadly in the way in Asia. The whole action of the Washington government in the Chinese muddle points to the conclusion that, although the Americans took the Philippines, they are not willing to see any but native powers in control of the richest countries of Asia.

"The third reason is America's attitude in South America. She will neither take it nor let anybody else do so.

"The total result is a bitter dislike for America, mixed with dread. Our object is only to awaken the Americans from an illusion, to induce them to increase their fleet and to persuade them to think steadily out what they are. They may rely upon it that the continent will lose nothing by want of planning and that, when the alliance against America, of which Admiral Canevaro talks, is transmitted into facts, it will be full grown and full armed."

A Strike and a Return

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 20.—The miners at the Stevens colliery, Pittston, yesterday demanded a 10 percent increase in wages for a difficult piece of work in a gangway. The demand was refused, and all hands, 250 in number, struck.

The 500 miners employed at a colliery of the Temple Iron company, who went out on strike last Tuesday, returned to work yesterday. The company made no concessions.

Prolonged Struggle Probable

Montreal, April 20.—Eight hundred cigarmakers, every factory in the city being represented, quit work at 7 o'clock yesterday. The men do not ask for an increase in wages, but for uniformity of price in the different factories for the same kind of work. The men say they intend staying out until their demands are granted. The manufacturers say these demands are impossible, and meeting them would mean ruin to the trade.

A Millionaire's Sudden Death

New York, April 20.—Joel G. Goldenburg, a lace importer of this city, dropped dead from heart failure last night, while waiting for a street car. Mr. Goldenburg lived at the Hotel Netherlands, and was worth $2,000,000. He had no immediate relatives, and it is understood that he left a will giving the bulk of his estate to charity.

Heavy Snow In Kentucky

Middlesboro, Ky., April 20.—A heavy snowstorm is raging throughout eastern Kentucky. Two days of heavy rain brought on freshets in Powell's valley, which rendered 20 families homeless in that section. There is two inches of snow in Yellow creek valley and it is a half foot deep on the mountains.

Ripley Case In Jury's Hands

Frankfort, Ky., April 20.—The case of Captain Garnett D. Ripley, charged with being an accessory before the fact in the Goebel assassination, is now in the hands of the jury. J. T. O'Neall made the closing argument for the defense yesterday, and was followed by Prosecuting Attorney Franklin.

Locomotives Demolished

Florence, Col., April 20.—A head-on collision between a passenger train and a light engine occurred near Russell yesterday. Six persons were injured. Both engines were entirely demolished.

Good Afternoon

The weather of Patriots' day was not so bad when compared with that of today.

Well! Well! That was an auspicious opening of the season by the Boston National League team. Not only a victory, but the New Yorks were whitewashed. The attendance was over 6,500.

That was a remarkable celebration which was held at Weymouth on Patriots' day. After six weeks of darkness, the electric street lights were turned on and Weymouth of 1775 became a 20th century town.

Many estates of the city are looking better for the holiday of yesterday, as the man of the house in many cases spent the whole day in raking over the lawns, removing ashes, old cans and rubbish, etc., etc.

Base ball would be more popular in Quincy if games could be played without disputes. When a game is unfinished the spectators become disgusted with base ball, and withdraw their support. Why is it men and boys quarrel over base ball?

It is said that the Pi Eta club will not give many more plays in Quincy unless they receive more extended reports of their productions. Neither the Boston or Quincy press enthuse much over the Quincy performance in marked contrast with the reports given of the play in other cities. Many artists and companies insisting in advance that the press shall receive generous treatment, while others realize, when too late, their mistakes.

The suggestion to place the Woodward Institute under the supervision of the Superintendent of Schools has met with universal favor generally, and it remains with the ministers, who comprise the Board of Directors, to say whether the step shall be taken. Such a large and changeable board, made up of all creeds in the city cannot be a unit in the management of the school, and it was a mistake of the donor to place the school in their charge. Under Supt. Parlin we fully believe there would be an immediate gain in attendance.

Drift of Opinion.

☞If the so-called Jewish Sunday passes the Senate, as it has the House, there will be stacks of people ready to change their religion for the privilege of keeping their stores open Sunday.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞There is undoubtedly a growing recognition by public spirited citizens of the obligation to render public service through other channels than those of public office. This is true, the country over, as it would be easy to cite many illustrations to prove. It is a most hopeful sign of the times.—New York Post.

☞The new party is based on a supposed general demand for municipal ownership of public service agents, but it has a long process of ripening before it to win a large following. The general lack of business economy in municipal affairs needs repairing before it will be popular to rush more property into the control of politicians who have rewards to pay for sustaining their ambitions. —Worcester Telegram.

May Day Festival.

The plan of the school children's May Day festival includes besides the charming May pole dance—this year to be given on the stage so that it may be seen from all parts of the hall—a more than usually entertaining programme of speaking, singing, dancing and gymnastics by older school children. Nor are the very little ones to be left out. Some 75 or 80 of the youngest grades will sit on raised seats in a semi-circle at the back of the stage, and this charming sight with the rendering of the two or three choruses which these little ones are to contribute the public is assured will be in itself worth more than the price of admission.

The May pole dance is to be the closing feature of the entertainment which will begin soon after 2 o'clock and—including two or three 15-minute intermissions—probably last until 4 or 4.30 o'clock. May baskets of every size and style from the very elaborate ones to those costing but two or three cents will be for sale, also candy and lemonade will be there to feed the hungry and refresh the thirsty.

National Society, D. R.

Several Daughters of the Revolution leave today for New York to attend the annual meeting of the national society at Brooklyn, N. Y. Sunday they will attend the Plymouth church; Monday take trolley trips to Fort Hamilton, Coney Island, etc.; Tuesday business meetings all day; Wednesday morning business meeting, and in afternoon a reception at the home of Mrs. Henry Sanger Snow, past president-general; Thursday water trip upper New York bay and Friday reception and luncheon at Delmonico's. As outlined it will be a very pleasant week's outing. It is to be hoped the business meeting will be more harmonious than were the meetings of the Daughters of the American Revolution at their convention at Washington, a few weeks ago, and doubtless they will, for good breeding and harmony have always characterized all the meetings of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Mrs. William Dunton.

The death in Fitzwilliam, N. H., April 15, of Mrs. William Dunton, at the age of 71 year, is of interest to the older resident of Quincy who remember the deceased in her early married life as Mrs. Henry Hayden. She lived in this city many years and made many warm friends. She was the mother of Mrs. Marcus Wight and the sister of Mrs. J. A. Hayden.

Her funeral took place Wednesday, April 17th, and was largely attended by the townspeople who esteemed her a pleasant neighbor, a devoted wife and loving mother.

Unitarian Sunday School.

The Sunday School will observe "Association Day" on Sunday, April 21. There will be appropriate exercises bearing upon the work and aims of the American Unitarian Association. This will take the place of the usual session at 12 M.

Postmaster Pearce.

The funeral of Postmaster Thomas L. Pearce of East Milton was held Thursday afternoon the services being conducted by Rev. A. H. Mulnix. Huntington F. Wolcott Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member, was represented by a delegation. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery at Quincy.

MINSTREL SHOW.

The South Quincy Social Club Dance in the Holiday.

The South Quincy Social club, one of the popular social organizations of South Quincy, observed its fifth anniversary Thursday by a minstrel show followed by a dance at Music hall. There was a large audience present, which was free with its applause. Many of the jokes were local although some were slightly off color.

While the performance was in progress thirty members of the Pine Bank club of Jamaica Plain entered the hall preceded by a bugler, and were given a rousing welcome.

The interlocutor was Mr. M Lennon.

Tambos—L. Tinney, M. Fay, A. C. Marnock.

Bones—P. Savard, P. O'Brien, W. Malcolm.

Circle—W. Westland, A. McCarthy, J. McVey, R. Kennedy, A. Barry, W. Lowe, D. McCarthy, G. Ripley, R. Lowe, R. Craig, W. Higgs, G. Craig, J. Daly, T. Smith, W. Dunstan, C. McKenzie, P. Smith, J. Barry, W. Lawry, Ed. Fitzpatrick, John McIntosh, D. Donahue, J. P. Fitzpatrick, Jas. McIntosh, Irving Joy, J. McGuane, J. Clare, J. Roche.

The circle was assisted by Purdy's orchestra and the mascot, Cliff McLeod.

Part second consisted of coon songs by Miss Bella McIntosh, a sketch by Messrs. Malcolm and Smith, and Ed. Fitzpatrick the female impersonator. The entertainment closed with a laughable farce entitled "Scenes in a Sanctum."

John Phelan was musical director, T. Fitzpatrick the stage manager, and T. Shea stage director.

Following the concert came the dance of which Mr. A. G. Marnock was floor director, Mr. Lemuel Teney assistant, and Messrs. John McVey, Daniel McCarthy, Peter Smith and William Lowe the aids.

Concert at Atlantic.

Atlantic was treated to a concert by the "Boston Ideal Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar club. It is composed of Mr. C. L. Lansing, director, Messrs. B. E. Shattuck, A. A. Babb, A. C. Robinson, and W. P. Hovey.

One lady said to her neighbor before the concert began "I do not care anything about mandolin, banjo or guitar and if it had not been that the concert was under the auspices of Mrs. Ida F. Waterhouse, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Small, and for the benefit of the Memorial church, none of our family would have been here this evening." But before three numbers had been completed she turned to the same neighbor with "I shall have to take back what I said a few moments ago. The performance is delightful." At the close of the evening she declared it was a concert worth far more than the price of admission and she had enjoyed every moment of it.

It was a large and enthusiastic audience that greeted Mr. Lansing and the other members of the club and the performers could not fail to note the appreciation on the part of the hearers, as every number was applauded with a zest and spirit unmistakable.

The club responded generously to the numerous encores and every time with something which showed the finish, nicety of expression, refinement, taste, musical skill and harmonious blending of the instruments to an extent that certainly warranted its title as the "Ideal Club."

Social at Wollaston.

The last Unitarian sociable of the season at Wollaston was held Thursday evening in the church vestry. There was a large gathering and an enjoyable supper was partaken of. The entertainment for the evening was a most attractive one. Miss Hatch opened the program by a piano solo. A sunflower medley consisted of a songsheet of the following faces, Mrs. Bennett, Weston, Baker, Moulton, Roe, Comins, Delano and Miss Helen Foster. The medley consisted of the songs: Jingle Bells, My Bonny Lies over the Ocean, Just One Girl, and Goodbye My Love, Good bye. Mr. Charles Jameson pleased the audience by a solo. The entertainment closed with a comedietta entitled, "Differences of Clocks." The characters were: Miss Maria — a spinster, Mrs. Almira Simmons; and Joshua Stebbins — a bachelor, Mr. Simmons.

Universalist Conference.

The Old Colony Association of Universalist churches will meet at New Bedford, Mass., Wednesday, April 24. The program will be: 10.30 A. M., praise service led by Rev. L. W. Attwood. 11 A. M., address, "Religious training of the young" by Rev. Elbert W. Whitney. 12 M., collation. 1 P. M., business. 1.15, address, "Applied Universalism: or, the personal realization of the Christian life according to the Universalist teaching," by Rev. Willard C. Shelleck. 2 P. M., address, "Modern Journalism: secular and religious," by Rev. F. A. Bisbee. Discussion and adjournment.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Think of having a floor covering, thick and durable, soft and pliable, easy to care for, that always looks well and wears almost a life time. Such is the Linoleum we sell you.

Understand, this is not a cheap light weight Linoleum, it is extra heavy, made up in artistic designs that look like carpet, prices 65 and 75 cents per yard. They will out wear three oil cloths, and if you use one once, you'll wonder why you ever lived without one.

All the scoring was done in two innings, the visitors got their runs in the fourth and ninth and the acadamy boys scored theirs in the second and fifth.

Thayer Academy B. B. C.

Thayer Academy will open the baseball season this afternoon with Milton Academy at Milton. While the outlook is not as promising as last year, a very good team will undoubtedly be developed by Coach Townsend before the end of the season.

Captain Newell, Borden, Emerson and Gallagher are left of last year's team, but unfortunately Gallagher has been very ill this spring and will be unable to play. Thayer will thus suffer through the loss of one of the most promising out-fielders she ever had.

Of the remaining Captain Newell's ability as an all round player is far above the preparatory school average.

Coupled with the fact that he is a Braintree boy, has played four years on the team and is a general hustler, he makes one of the most popular captains Thayer ever had.

Borden proved himself last year a good short-stop and a fine batsmen, and if Emerson can make himself as good a batter as a fielder and a sprinter, he will make a very strong man for the team.

Of the new men Osborne of Cohasset comes with a very good reputation as a pitcher. Woodsum, Remick and Kelley of the old High school team should make catcher, 1st base and 3d base, respectively, while second is a toss up between Carr and Riley.

Emerson will probably cover left field, Capt. Newell centre, and the best batters of the many substitutes which include, Thayer, Clark, Hammond, Winslow and others, will get right field.

Manager Winslow has got some very good teams in his schedule this year, but its arrangement is rather unfortunate. With the first two games, (Milton and Groton) away from home, much enthusiasm among local rooters cannot be expected. Thayer has at times complained of the lack of local support, but if Saturday afternoon games at home were arranged and properly advertised, the boys would find financial support promptly forthcoming.

Saturday Evening Post.

Sir Thomas Lipton, K. C. V. O., has written especially for the Saturday Evening Post of May 11, an article on "The Sports that Make the Man." He places yachting high on the list, and gives some interesting anecdotes of his own career as an amateur yachtsman.

Sir Thomas is hopeful, if not confident, of "lifting" the America's Cup next autumn. He says, however, that if it were a certainty he would not cross the water; for there is no sporting interest in "sure things."

This article will appear exclusively in The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia.

Thayer Academy B. B. C.

Thayer Academy will open the baseball season this afternoon with Milton Academy at Milton. While the outlook is not as promising as last year, a very good team will undoubtedly be developed by Coach Townsend before the end of the season.

Captain Newell, Borden, Emerson and Gallagher are left of last year's team, but unfortunately Gallagher has been very ill this spring and will be unable to play. Thayer will thus suffer through the loss of one of the most promising out-fielders she ever had.

Of the remaining Captain Newell's ability as an all round player is far above the preparatory school average. Coupled with the fact that he is a Braintree boy, has played four years on the team and is a general hustler, he makes one of the most popular captains Thayer ever had.

Borden proved himself last year a good short-stop and a fine batsmen, and if Emerson can make himself as good a batter as a fielder and a sprinter, he will make a very strong man for the team.

Of the new men Osborne of Cohasset comes with a very good reputation as a pitcher. Woodsum, Remick and Kelley of the old High school team should make catcher, 1st base and 3d base, respectively, while second is a toss up between Carr and Riley.

Emerson will probably cover left field, Capt. Newell centre, and the best batters of the many substitutes which Coyle, Thayer, Clark, Hammond, Winslow and others will get right field.

Manager Winslow has got some very good teams in his schedule this year, but its arrangement is rather unfortunate. With the first two games, (Milton and Groton) away from home, much enthusiasm among local rooters cannot be expected. Thayer has at times complained of the lack of local support, but if Saturday afternoon games at home were arranged and properly advertised, the boys would find financial support promptly forthcoming.

Saturday Evening Post.

Sir Thomas Lipton, K. C. V. O., has written especially for the Saturday Evening Post of May 11, an article on "The Sports that Make the Man." He places yachting high on the list, and gives some interesting anecdotes of his own career as an amateur yachtsman.

Sir Thomas is hopeful, if not confident, of "lifting" the America's Cup next autumn. He says, however, that if it were a certainty he would not cross the water; for there is no sporting interest in "sure things."

This article will appear exclusively in The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia.

AT THE TARGETS.

Our Soldier Boys Begin Out-Door Practice.

K company, 5th regiment Infantry opened the target season on Patriots' day, at Braintree, with the following scores, which are out of a possible 25. Most of the low scores were made by recruits, but the range was in an unsatisfactory condition because of the recent rains. A little practice probably would show marked improvement. The score:

STINSON'S FINE WORK

Though Meeting With An Accident, He Defeats Nelson

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

Bostons Celebrate the Event by Defeating the New Yorks, Seven to Nothing—Brooklyns Beat Philadelphias and Chicagos Lose to St. Louis

Boston, April 20.—Over 7000 people at the opening bicycle races of the season at Charles River park, yesterday, saw William Stinson of Cambridge defeat Johnnie Nelson by a trifle over one lap and Bobbie Walthour, the southerner, by one and one-third miles, his time for the 25 miles being 40 minutes, 34 2-5 seconds.

One of the finest exhibitions of pluck was exhibited when Stinson, after having lost three-quarters of a lap in the fourth mile, because of an accident to his motor pace, continued gamely, and shortly after he regained his pace made up the distance he had lost. Nelson had taken the lead over Walthour, and after the latter Stinson went, closing the gap between them inch by inch until he had passed him.

It was not until the 17th mile that Stinson passed Nelson, although he did not succeed in getting far enough ahead of the Swede to lap him until the 24th mile. There was added interest and enthusiasm in the outcome of the race because Stinson for the first time defeated Nelson in a race.

Walthour was the favorite, but the cold weather apparently had an ill effect on him after his stay in a warmer climate.

Albert Champion gave an exhibition on his motor bicycle and also on a tricycle, both of which were very exciting. On the bicycle he covered a mile in 1:31, and he made five miles on the tricycle in 7:50 4-5.

ON THE DIAMOND

Bostons Open the Season by Whitewashing the New Yorks

Boston, April 20.—The baseball season in Boston formally opened yesterday afternoon on the National league grounds, Boston shutting out New York with ease by batting Taylor's curves in all innings but the seventh. Nichols was in fine form, and allowed New York but five scattering singles. The new foul-strike rule caused much merriment among the spectators, but it shortened the game many minutes.

Games by Checker Experts

Boston, April 20.—Checker teams representing the pick players of New England yesterday defeated by the small margin of 46 to 45 the Boston team, thus reversing the tables of the last meeting of the teams, when Boston won by a score of nearly two to one. The session lasted all day, and there was a simultaneous play against all comers by A. J. Heffner, George W. Dearborn and Sam Grover, three of the masters of the game in this country. The games between Heffner and Dearborn and between Grover and Lawrence created most interest. That between the first two resulted in draws twice. The game between Grover and Lawrence was a draw, but a second one was won by Grover after an exciting contest.

Caffrey Won Marathon Race

Boston, April 20.—John Caffrey of St. Patrick's Athletic association, Hamilton, Ont., won the Marathon road race of the Boston Athletic association yesterday, from Ashland to Boston, 25 miles, in 2:29:23 3-5, lowering the previous record, made by himself last year, by 9 minutes, 36 2-5 seconds. Thirty-seven men lined up when the start was made in Ashland at noon.

Violated an Agreement

Detroit, April 20.—The agreement which the National league has with the minor league clubs under its protection, forbidding them to play with American league teams, was broken yesterday, when the Grand Rapids team of the Western association was beaten by the local American league team.

Lipton Has Great Faith

Glasgow, April 20.—All is now ready for the launching of Shamrock II today. Sir Thomas Lipton, when asked what he thought of his new boat, replied: "I can only tell you what John Henderson, who built the Meteor, Thistle and Valkyrie, remarked after close inspection: 'She is the finest yacht ever built on this side of the Atlantic.' I can see nothing in the way of resistance. She is a marvel. This opinion is shared by other experts who have seen the Shamrock II."

Rebel Leader Assassinated

Merida, Yucatan, April 20.—General Felipe Yama, the chief leader of the Merida rebel Indians, has been assassinated by some of his under officers, who were exasperated at his advice to surrender and end the war. Three minor chiefs, it is said, attacked him with machetes, nearly cutting him to pieces. Then the Indians placed the corpse in front of them and indulged in a long orgie.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Dun & Co. Note an Encouraging Aspect All Along the Line

New York, April 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Favorable crop reports, heavy bank clearings, record-breaking railroad earnings a large distribution of spring and summer goods and easy collections give the business situation an encouraging aspect. Wall street speculation does not yet discount any approaching reaction in commercial lines, and the money market seems to have turned the corner at least for the present. Cotton and woolen goods retain their gain of last week, though partly on account of the idleness of many mills. The wool market is steady, notwithstanding the absence of demand from large producers of goods.

Aside from the uneasiness caused by labor controversies, no set-back has appeared in the iron and steel industry. Conditions of supply and demand are similar to those existing for the past few months.

Shipments of boots and shoes from the east declined to 86,547 cases, against 94,453 two weeks ago, but there still appears a good margin above the movement a year ago. Contracts are unevenly distributed, many shops having orders for some time, while others are seeking business. The general situation is much more satisfactory than a year ago, however.

American credits abroad steadily expand. Final returns for March show a trade balance on merchandise account of $49,026,676, which makes the excess of exports over imports for the last 12 months $673,374,762.

Actor Lester's Strange Death

New York, April 20.—The Journal and Advertiser says: "Harry E. Lester, an actor, who was an inmate of the alcholic ward at Bellevue hospital, was found dead in bed Thursday last by Nurse Dorsey. Lester's face was purple, and wrapped tightly around his neck was a bed sheet which previously had been coiled in rope fashion. The ends of the noose were fastened to the iron bars at the head of the bed. These ends were drawn perfectly taut. The report made by Coroner's Physician Weston upon the request of Medical Inspector Schultz reads: "Death due to edema of the brain and Bright's disease."

Man With Honorable History

New York, April 20.—"Honest Tom" Sampson, detective, army veteran and life saver, died yesterday at Mount Vernon. Captain Sampson had 10 medals for meritorious service, a number of them for saving life, one being awarded to him by congress. He aided in the arrest of persons charged with being implicated in the plot to assassinate President Lincoln. Captain Sampson was born in England in 1827, and came to this country at an early age. He joined the police force of New York in 1851.

To Prevent Unnecessary Killing

Columbus, O., April 20.—Adjutant General Gyger has decided to supply the Ohio militia with cartridges loaded with shot instead of balls, to be used when the troops are called out for riot duty. General Gyger says the new shells are reasonably effective at short range, and will not kill innocent people at a great distance from the rioting, as is often the case where cartridges loaded with balls are used.

Dawson Cleanup of Thirty Millions

Seattle, April 20.—James H. Ardern, a member of one of the mining companies of Dawson, came to the city yesterday on his way to England. He said that the cleanup this year in the Dawson camp would amount to $20,000,000, making it the biggest output in the history of the Klondike. Mr. Ardern is taking to London samples of the quartz which is said to be fabulously rich in free milling gold.

The Goldsborough Comes to Grief

Washington, April 20.—Like almost every one of the torpedo boats recently added to the navy, the little Goldsborough, which promised so well, has come to grief on her final trial by the breaking of the port low pressure eccentric rod, 46 minutes after starting. Probably not less than 10 days will be required to refit. The break was due to a defect in material.

Boys Perished In Sand Bank

Durall, I. T., April 20.—While playing in a sand bank near this place, five boys were buried by a cave-in. Four of them, James and Presley Rhodes, aged 13 and 4 years; Claude Etheridge, aged 15, and John Bain, aged 13, are dead. Claude Bain, aged 15, worked his way out with his hands. The other four dug in the wrong direction.

Japan May Head Reform Movement

London, April 20.—There are very strong indications, says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, that the Japanese government proposes to put herself at the head of the reform movement in China, in order to overthrow the Manchu dynasty, which it considers bound hand and foot by Russia.

Feud Settled With Bullets

Lexington, Ky., April 20.—Owen Bradley, a prominent trainer and owner of famous race horses, was shot and killed by William Nicholas yesterday. Both are of prominent families. The cause was a feud of long standing.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, April 21.
Sun rises—4:55; sets, 6:32.
Moon sets—10:08 p. m.
High water—12:45 a. m.; 1 p. m.

The center of the southern storm has moved slowly northeastward to western North Carolina, carrying the rain area over the middle Atlantic states. The storm center will move east of north, causing rain in New England. On the coast northeasterly gales will shift to northwesterly. Storm warnings are displayed from Wilmington to Eastport.

BOOKS IN A TANGLE

Tax Collector of Somersworth, N. H., is Removed From Office

Somersworth, N. H., April 20.—Sinai Carignan, tax collector for Somersworth for the years 1899 and 1900, had the tax books taken away from him by his bondsmen yesterday afternoon, and they are now in the possession of A. L. Faunce, one of the number. During the past week a committee of the city collector's office found an apparent shortage of $4493, in the shape of taxes not turned in or not collected. The real condition of the finances being hidden in a tangle which only an expert can straighten out, the committee, as a preliminary to clearing up the matter, notified the bondsmen of the collector that they were required to turn in the amount of the apparent shortage at once. It is now claimed that Carignan had been attempting to make collections not only for the years 1899 and 1900, but for this year, of which he is not the collector. The bondsmen, in taking away the books, decided that Carignan was incapable of attending to his financial affairs, being of unsound mind by reason of illness.

The city council met last night and received a petition for his removal, and as an outcome Elisha C. Andrews was chosen tax collector, and his bonds placed at $5000. There will be no delay in starting to work on the collector's books in order to determine the exact amount of the shortage which the city council committee claims to have found.

Rubber Workers' Grievance

Watertown, Mass., April 20.—A mass meeting of the employes of the Hood Rubber company, who have been on strike since Wednesday, was held yesterday, and a committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. Hood and present their grievances against the company. The union demand the withdrawal of Foreman Pearce, claiming that he discharged several English-speaking employes on the slightest pretext, and filled their places with Armenians. If the company decides to discharge Pearce, it is said that Superintendent Mason also may leave. On the other hand it is feared if nothing is done to remove Pearce serious trouble may be th outcome, as the feeling at the rubber works is very bitter.

Reminder of Colonial Days

Medford, Mass., April 20.—"Hobgoblin Hall," which, a century ago, in the troubled times before and during the Revolution was used as a prison for slaves, was yesterday transformed into a colonial mansion as it was during the days of its occupancy by the Royalls, by the Sarah Bradlee Fulton chapter, D. A. R., who opened its doors in commemoration of Patriots' day. The house was well filled with antiquities and the old grates blazed again as they did in olden times. Over 200 visitors were present, and the older inhabitants entertained by recounting stories of the Revolution and of the ride of Paul Revere.

Weymouth's Darkness Dispelled

Weymouth, Mass., April 20.—Patriots' day was celebrated here by the turning on of the electric street lights last night, after the total darkness in town of the past six weeks. The committee appointed by the town at the special meeting have arranged with the company for the lights until the appropriation of $5500 is exhausted, which will be until about the first of next March. The turning on of the lights was celebrated by the firing of guns and cannon crackers, and about everybody seemed to be on the streets. Since the lights were turned off there has hardly been a woman on the streets at night.

Thirty-Two Horses Drowned

Greenville, Me., April 20.—Thirty-two horses have been lost through the ice on Moosehead Lake during the past few days, being valued in all at more than $6000. Thursday afternoon 24 were being taken across the lake to Kineo, and all broke through and were drowned. During the same day two stage horses from Kineo were lost. Wednesday four horses were lost in the same way near Sugar island, and another pair were lost near Lilybar the same day.

Shocked to Death

Boston, April 20.—Edmund B. V. Seaverns, an electrician, was fatally shocked at the L street power house of the Boston Electric light works yesterday. He was in charge of the dynamo room, and was moving along the platform setting the switches when his left arm came in contact with a live wire, sending a shock of several hundred volts through his system.

Emerson Held For High Court

Rutland, Vt., April 20.—Joel E. Emerson, who was arrested at Nashua, N. H., charged with fraudulent use of the mails for the purpose of swindling insurance companies, was arraigned before the United States commissioner yesterday, and was held in $500 bail for the May term of the United States court. Bail was furnished, and Emerson was released.

Discussed South African War

Boston, April 20.—At a meeting under the auspices of the United Irish societies in Tremont Temple last night, Commandant Snyman of the Boer army and Montagu White of London, the representative of the Transvaal republic in Europe, together with P. A. Collins, spoke on the war in South Africa.

Barred From New Hampshire

Concord, N. H., April 20.—Insurance Commissioner Linehan yesterday revoked the license of the Manhattan Fire Insurance company of New York to do business in this state. It has 50 agents in New Hampshire, and last year wrote risks in the state for $131,000.

France Claims Forty Millions

Paris, April 20.—The officials of the French foreign office say that France's Chinese indemnity claim amounts to $40,000,000.

The man who can hardly crawl, and has just strength to get through a day's work, has no strength left for family life. He wants to be quiet; to be alone, out of sight and sound of everybody.

What a difference between such a man and the healthy, hearty man who romps with his children and rides his laughing baby to "Banbury Cross."

What makes the difference? Usually disease of the stomach, involving the entire digestive and nutritive system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured the hindrance to the proper nourishment of the body is removed and strength comes back again.

"I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine," writes Mr. A. J. Vanderwater, of 879 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill. "In all I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets.' They have done me worlds of good. These medicines have brought the great change in me from a slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, and could do no work. Now I can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling is all going away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little liver 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years. No other doctor for me, only Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

TOP WORKING.

Hastens the Fruiting of Young Apple Trees—How to Do It.

Top working is thought to hasten the fruitfulness of young orchards. As ordinarily planned, a young tree of most varieties does not bear a barrel of apples before it reaches the age of 12 years or more. Scions on old trees bear in three or four years. We have seen many 4-year top worked trees bearing a bushel of fruit and 6-year-old trees, top worked after two years in the orchard, with a barrel or more of apples on them. The buds in all of these cases were taken from bearing trees, and this hastens fruitfulness.

Well grown, medium sized 2-year-old trees with well developed roots and tops should be set in the orchard for the permanent stock, and the second summer afterward they may be budded, or they may be grafted at the beginning of the third season. To illustrate: If an orchard is planted in 1901, it may be budded in the summer of 1902 or grafted in the spring of 1903.

Grafting is done in the spring just as the leaves are pushing forth. It may be done for a month longer, though the scions will not then grow so large. The scions are inserted on three to five branches in top working, or sometimes they are inserted in the central leader alone. Care should be exercised in selecting the branches that they are well distributed on the trunk, no two being closer together than four or five inches. On all branches less than a half inch in diameter the whip or tongue graft is used; on larger limbs the cleft graft is employed.

As soon as the scions begin to grow in the spring all the remaining branches of the stock should be cut off.

The first season that the scions grow, except in June budding, the orchard should be gone over two or three times and all water sprouts removed, and it may be necessary to head in many of the scions about the middle of July or 1st of August, for they often grow so large that there is danger of their being broken off.—G. H. Powell, Delaware.

To Grow Dahlias.

In warm localities plant dahlias in open ground soon as the weather becomes settled, thinning the sprouts or dividing tubers, as appears best. In the north they should be started from the middle of March to the middle of April or they will be cut off by frosts in the height of their blooming season. Start in cold frame or plant in large boxes of loose, rich soil without separating the tubers as the shoots cluster about the neck. As these appear divide by cutting through the stem with a sharp knife, leaving one strong shoot to each available tuber. Grow the plants to a single stem. If more than one should appear, rub off all but the strongest.—Vick.

Flowers and Fruit In Storage.

Fruit wrapped in heavy brown paper will stand 15 degrees more cold than if not wrapped.

Eastern grapes bear low temperatures better than California or Malaga.

Young fruit trees, flowering shrubs and plants are injured by temperatures below 36 degrees. They are stored in cellars packed in straw and generally shipped in the same manner as potatoes as regards packing.

All tree seeds, including peach, plum, walnut, etc., sprout better in the spring if frozen during the winter. Bulbs, including tulips, lilies and hyacinths, are not injured if subjected to a temperature below zero

Topping Berry Bushes.

In commercial fruit growing it is almost a universal practice to top the canes of raspberries and blackberries when growing in order to make them stocky and self supporting, as this is a great saving of time and expense. The canes have their tops pinched off when about two feet high. The side shoots, which come then, add another foot or two of length before the season is over. This process gives stout bushes, which sustain themselves without any staking or support.

The Golden Gate Rose.

The Golden Gate is one of the most beautiful roses in the land, the coloring is exquisite and in some hands it has been a decided acquisition, while with others a failure. Of late improvement in the quality is giving it greater popularity.

Temperature For Cut Flowers.

The best condition for the preservation of cut roses, smilax, asparagus and ferns is a moist temperature of 42 to 50 degrees; for carnations, violets, sweet peas, lilies and lily of the valley a dry temperature of 50 to 60 degrees.

"OF DIVINE ORIGIN"

Revelation of Head of Mormon Church Becomes a Part of Its Religion

Kansas City, April 18.—The revelation of President Joseph Smith to his people was read to the conference of the reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, at Independence, Mo., yesterday. The revelation came to the prophet after the saints had indulged in a season of fasting and prayer last Sunday. It has been in the hands of the various quorums since Monday, and was approved by them. Yesterday it was opened by the conference without a protest, and thus became a part of the religion of 45,000 persons, all of whom believe it is of divine origin.

The revelation directs that Peter Anderson be chosen to fill the vacancy in the quorum of 12; that the rules of representation remain as they are till the growth of the church renders a change necessary; that two new stakes be established, one at Independence, Mo., and one at Lamoni, Ia.; that the church provide tracts in Scandinavian, German Japanese, Portuguese and other languages as the missions require, and that Gomer T. Griffiths be sent to England in the interest of foreign missionary work. Also that the missionary work of the church be prosecuted in Australia and the islands of the sea.

More Chinese Trouble Imminent

Pekin, April 18.—Trustworthy Chinese report that troops in large numbers are massing in the province of Chi Li. Well informed natives prophesy further troubles. It is impossible to ascertain whether the court is playing a double game of its authority is insufficient to prevent the Chinese generals acting in a manner likely to provoke hostilities. Probably a great deal will depend upon the French-German expedition, inflicting a severe defeat upon the Chinese who have transgressed the agreement by entering into the sphere of the allies. If these offenders are thoroughly smashed it is likely to produce a good effect.

Cebu Riflemen Defy Troops

Cebu, April 18.—A thousand troops in the island of Cebu are unable to accomplish the surrender or capture of the 200 insurgent riflemen who are still out. Of the 50 towns, a dozen of the larger have been organized under military order. The others are believed to have insurgent governments. Judge Taft, addressing the convention yesterday, called on the delegates to decide whether 200 men would be permitted to restrain peace and prosperity or whether the majority would organize and notify the mountain skulkers to cease causing trouble. The exhortation was not demonstratively received.

Bank Robbed by Its Manager

Sioux City, Ia., April 18.—The Lemars National bank, at Lemars, did not open for business yesterday. Thomas F. Ward, vice president and manager of the institution, is a self-confessed embezzler to the amount of $25,000 to $30,000. He has also absconded. It is alleged that he took $30,000 with him or lost it during the past few days in speculation, as it is missing from the vault of the bank.

Would-Be Rescuer Perished

Baltimore, April 18.—The charred body of Henry Ellard, a shoemaker, was found yesterday in the ruins of the drug house of Gilpin, Langdon & Co., which was burned a week ago. Ellard was in an adjacent saloon when the fire broke out, and entered the building to aid in the rescue of women on the top floor.

Von Waldersee Burned Out

Pekin, April 18.—The palace of the empress, occupied by Count Von Waldersee and his staff, was burned to the ground yesterday. Major General Schwartzkopf, Count Von Waldersee's chief of staff, has disappeared. With the exception of the military papers, everything else was destroyed.

Jockey Wilkerson's Mishap

New York, April 18.—In the first race at Aqueduct yesterday Osman Digna fell, throwing Wilkerson heavily, and the boy is thought to be mortally hurt. His arm was broken, and a hasty diagnosis at the track indicated that his skull was fractured, as partial paralysis set in.

Senator Washburn Turned Down

Harrisburg, April 18.—The Democratic state committee yesterday adopted resolutions condemning State Senator Washburn for his "hypocrisy, treachery and infidelity" in joining the ranks of the Republican party.

Plague Deaths Kept Secret

Cape Town, April 18.—Sixteen cases of bubonic plague were reported yesterday. The corpses of three men, whose deaths had not been recorded, were discovered.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco has signed a contract with the navy department for the construction of the protected cruiser Milwaukee. She is to have 22 knots speed, to be finished in three years, and is to cost $2,825,000.

As the result of a fall from a coal pocket at Providence, John J. Hart, 22 years old, a laborer, received injuries which resulted in death.

It is announced that King Edward will resign the post of commodore of the Royal Yacht Squadron, to become its patron in the place of the late Queen Victoria.

The contract for what will probably be the largest gymnasium in New England, has just been awarded by the Y. M. C. A. of Hyde Park, Mass. The building will cost $35,000, and the site cost $10,000.

An old-timer in Boston politics and one who wore the crown in the days when might was right in party politics, Michael Carney, died at the age of 72. He was the last tie that bound the old Democracy with the present party in city politics.

VIRGINIA DRAWN WORK.

More Popular Than the Mexican and Can Be Used In Many Ways.

An interesting new kind of drawn work has attracted attention lately, and from The Ladies' Home Journal, in which occurs the illustration here given, the following is learned about it:

It is less expensive than the Mexican drawn work and appears to be more durable. It is also less intricate in design and not nearly so trying to the eyes and for that reason is more popular. Any woman who has the leisure and clever fingers can learn to do the work and fashion for herself and her friends many pretty pieces for the decoration of her dining room.

Many pieces are deeply fringed and the inner edge of the fringe embroidered with fancy buttonhole stitches partly as an ornament and partly as protection against raveling. The inner border, where the design comes against the linen, is finished in the same way, with the addition of a fine feather-stitch worked in white floss wash silk. If preferred, the edges may be hemstitched or buttonholed in scallops or points with either linen thread or embroidery silk.

The linen which is generally used is of medium weight and of the best quality. The handsomest pieces are those which are worked in silk. The little honeycomb pattern seems to be the only one used, and variety in design is secured by having pieces of linen in the middle in different forms, such as stars, squares, triangles and diamonds.

To one not familiar with the difficulties met with in drawn work coarse linen or scrim is the best material to practice on. Nor need the practice work be wasted, for many useful and durable table decorations may be made from scrim at 12 cents a yard. It should first be carefully hemstitched. The threads should not be drawn until everything is in readiness for putting the stitches in, as so coarse a material is liable to pull.

A simple border about two inches deep is a good thing to begin on. After the threads have been carefully drawn in either direction the depth that the border is intended to be both edges of the border should be overcast with No. 100 cotton or buttonhole stitched with floss silk.

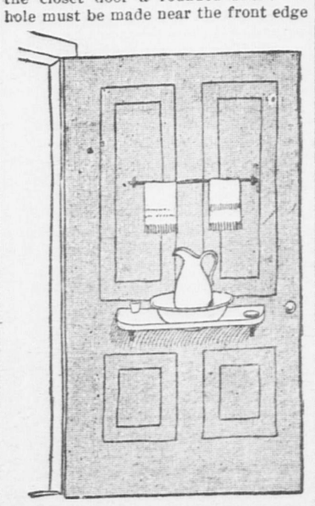

A very pretty effect may be had on scrim by drawing together with cream colored darning cotton the clusters of threads that form the pattern. It makes the stitch heavier than if done with thread and very much richer looking. Another pretty effect may be had by using yellow floss silk and scrim.

Perseverance at the Piano.

Paderewski, the great pianist, illustrating perseverance, declared that before playing the etude in thirds by Chopin in public he had practiced it every day for two years without interruption. The averge pupil imagines he does all that can be expected of him by rushing through the entire set of etudes by Cramer in six months. The example of an artist as great as Paderewski wrestling with a single etude by Chopin for fully two years ought to serve as a splendid illustration of what may be attained through the efforts of perseverance.—Etude.

In Cramped Quarters.

A washstand is a very ugly thing to have in cramped quarters. Occasionally the closet is large enough so that it may be accommodated there, but where such is not the case the following is suggested by Good Housekeeping as a most convenient, simple and cheap device: Get a carpenter to fasten with strong brackets to the inside of the closet door a rounded shelf. A hole must be made near the front edge large enough so that the washbowl may be set firmly into it. A thin strip of wood about an inch and a half wide should be nailed to the outer edge of the shelf, and the device is complete. The tooth mug, soap dish and other toilet articles are prevented by the strip from any danger of falling. A towel rack may be fastened to the door above the shelf. The modern pitchers of light metallic ware are particularly desirable.

James Blythe, Jr., was arraigned for drunkenness at Randolph. Case continued until June 1.

Frank Miller was arraigned for drunkenness at Milton. Case continued until April 26.

James Dean was arraigned for assault on Officer Knights at Randolph, also for drunkenness. He was sent to the house of correction for two months for assault, and fined $10 for drunkenness.

The continued case of Theodore Hayden, for violation of the liquor law at Braintree, came up, and paid a fine of $50.

Castle Square Theatre.

Another interesting dramatic novelty has been secured by the Castle Square Theatre management as its attraction for the coming week. This is the drama of Southern life, during the rebellion, called "Lynwood," written by Mr. J. K. Tillotson whose play "The Young Wife" proved so successful in its recent production by the Castle Square company. The play deals with the love story of a Kentucky girl and an officer of the Federal army and touches lightly upon the unpleasant realities of the struggles between the North and South. The action passes in Kentucky and the author has tinged his scenes with local color in a fascinating way. The plot is developed skillfully and holds the interest to its final scene. The cast arranged is as follows: Victor Blanchard, John Craig; Dudley Middleton, Edmund Breese; Judge Carlyle, J. L. Seeley; Edwin Carlyle, Charles Mackay; Epenetus Ebenezer Erastus Confucius Carter, James A. Keane; Patrick O'Flaherty, William J. Hasson; Lucile Carlyle, Lillian Lawrence; Gay Carlyle, Hope Ross. At the Monday matinee the usual distribution of chocolate bonbons will be made.

BRAINTREE

The total appropriation for the town of Braintree for this year is $90,757. The amount to be raised by taxation is $84,557, which is a trifle less than last year. We hope to have a lower tax rate.

Mr. Stephen Horsman's little son Roy is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

The Oriental Drum Corps accompanied the Union boys to the muster at Arlington, yesterday.

Rev. William Kirkby will preach Sunday in Pawtucket, R. I., where he will be stationed for the coming year.

Charles Nickerson has purchased a house lot on Liberty street, known for years as the Armstrong place, of Miss Charlotte Hobart.

Thomas Uniac of last year's Thayer academy base ball nine is a candidate for the varsity team at Dartmouth college.

Hartley L. White came up unexpectedly this week from East Falmouth. There was too much rain down there for him.

Rev. Edwin R. Smith of Farmington, Maine, is expected to preach at the First Congregational church as a candidate, Sunday, April 21.

Mr. T. R. Newell is preparing to move into his house on Hollis avenue, recently purchased of Mr. Clark and occupied by Mr. S. P. Wardwell and family.

At the Cochato club yesterday bowling was vigorously kept up all day, prizes being offered for best strings, ladies and gentlemen. In the evening whist and dancing were enjoyed.

The Rev. L. O. Williams of Ashmont, Dorchester, will preach for All Souls' church at Cochato hall, next Sunday at 10.30. Sunday school to follow at 12 o'clock.. All are cordially invited.

Rev. J. S. Bell, who has made many warm friends during his pastorate at the South M. E. church, has been transferred by the conference to Scituate, where he will preach next Sunday. He has been quite neighbor-

Next Wednesday evening Class No. 27, of the First church, will hold in the chapel its sixth annual reception. These receptions have been held for the purpose of acquainting members of the society and their friends with the nature of the work done by the class.

The new uniforms for the members of the Braintree Fife and Drum Corps arrived on Monday. They are fine, and the boys are very proud of them.

George L. Young has commenced on the cellar for his new house on land recently purchased by him of A. S. Pennock. Herbert Borden has the contract. The house is to be of the very latest, with all the modern improvements.

There was a small gathering yesterday at auction sale advertised by C. S. Hannaford of land owned by the Rev. William Full on Pond street. There were seven lots sold. Ansel O. Clark purchasing five of them and a gentleman from out of town bought the other two.

There is talk among the members of the Braintree club of forming a base ball team for the coming season. There are some very good players in that organization and a good nine could be picked. If not, Hollis and Walker will play with the Quincy A. A.'s, as they did last summer.

The box of cigars offered at the Kenwood bowling alleys last week for the best three string total of candle pins was captured by Fred Tenney with a three string total of 292. The bowlers are wondering if Fred will stop winning sometime and give them a show, for he has won three straight weeks.

The Jonas Perkins School Association celebrated the fourth anniversary of their organization, Tuesday evening, in the school hall. About seventy responded to the invitations issued and listened to the following program which had been prepared for the occasion:

Piano Duet,
Misses Bessie and Bertha Cherrington

Keith's Theatre.

The leading attraction at Keith's Boston theatre for the week commencing Monday, April 22, will be Cissie Loftus, the erstwhile imitator of other stage celebraties, now blossomed forth into a "legitimate" player, and in a very ambitious piece. The title to Miss Loftus' offering is "Undine," an adaptation from the famous German story, with a special cast of actors, new scenery, original incidental music, etc. The cast will include William Courtney of Daly's theatre. Other entertainers scheduled for the same week are: Nich Long and Idalene Cotton, in their character sketches and imitations; the Vilona sisters, a trio of accomplished violinists; Harry Parker's trained dogs, a capital act for the juveniles; the Razaris, illusionists and magicians, and Jacklin and Ingram, song illustrators. Mr. and Mrs. Royle will remain and play "Capt. Impudence," and the songsheet chorus will be "Take Me Back Babe," one of the best liked melodies when it was featured the first time.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

DAM YIELDED

Residents of Chester, Mass, Fled For Life

Heavy Damage by Floods In Western Connecticut

Losses Reaching Into the Millions In Pennsylvania and Ohio

Springfield, Mass., April 22.—The dam at Middlefield, 30 miles west of here, gave way at 6 o'clock last evening. Several small houses at Chester were washed away, and the people driven to the hills. The greater part of the town is submerged. No lives were lost.

The dam was built in 1874, to take the place of the one which was destroyed by the freshet of the year before. It was poorly constructed of stone and timber, and had been a constant menace to the town of Chester.

The heavy rains overflowed the reservoir and the dam showed signs of weakening early yesterday morning. Station Agent Cole of this town was sent by the officials of the Boston and Albany railroad to inspect it. He at once sent word to the people of Chester to take to the hills, for the dam was almost certain to go out.

Thirty families in the lowlands got what things they could together and made for places of safety. They were none too soon, for the dam broke, and with a deafening roar a torrent of water was let loose into the Flood Hollow brook, which empties into the Westfield river.

The huge timbers of the dam were hurled into the foaming torrent and went in one great, crashing mass onward Chester. Two quratz mills at Flood Hollow, barns and outbuildings, were swept along in the torrent. At Bancroft, the station for Middlefield, the Boston and Albany stone bridge was carried away, together with 600 feet of track. Wreckers were sent out from Springfield and Pittsfield, but it will probably be two days before trains are running.

Chester presents a desolate sight. Houses are flooded and the streets filled with the timbers from the dam. The water is going down rapidly and all danger has passed.

Much Damage In Connecticut

New Haven, April 22.—Reports from around the state show that the damage done by the floods resulting from rain has been very serious. A score of washouts occurred on the Central New England railroad between Winsted and Hartford. At Satan's Kingdom, a few miles from Winsted, tons of rock have fallen on to the tracks and a hundred men have gone to the scene to clear the way. The men will be obliged to use dynamite to remove the debris. The tracks of the Naugatuck division of the Consolidated railroad, and also those of the Winchester Street railroad are completely submerged and travel has been suspended.

At Naugatuck the damage is extensive. Trees have been uprooted along the river banks and a number of sheds have been washed away. Cellars of houses have been flooded, and livery men have been obliged to remove their horses to save them from drowning.

At Torrington the Naugatuck river is higher than it has been for a number of years. The section known as East Branch is entirely inundated, and the occupants of houses are unable to leave their homes without wading.

The Connecticut river at Hartford is 16 feet above the low water mark. At Farmington the river is higher than it has ever been before.

In the eastern part of the state the situation is not so serious, although considerable local damage has been done to roads and electric lines. Two landslides are reported along the line of the Central New England, one at Tariffville and another in the open country between that town and Hartford.

At Derby the Naugatuck river has done considerable damage to property along the banks, flooding factories and cutting off communications by a number of highways leading to this city. The lower portion of the city, inhabited by the foreign colony, is completely under water, and on several streets boats have been called into service.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Reports received this morning from the various portions of the state indicate that the turning point has been passed, and that the water is receding. That the pressure has been relieved through the Naugatuck valley, where the situation has been the worst, is indicated by the receding of the water at Derby, where the Housatonic and Naugatuck rivers, each draining many miles of country, meet in a basin, half a mile across.

Fifty Thousand Workers Idle

Pittsburg, April 22.—Pittsburg and Allegheny are slowly emerging from the murky flood. The rivers are receding at the rate of a foot an hour. Conservative estimates of the total damage in this district is between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, and 50,000 workers are suffering from enforced idleness. While there have been greater floods at this point, there was never one that caused so much financial loss and discomfort. This was due to the denser population caused by the recent rapid growth of the two cities, and to the fact that all the manufacturing plants on the river banks were in active operation, most of them working night and day, until the rising water put out the fires and drove the workers to higher ground.

Cut Off From Outside World

Cleveland, April 22.—The fierce storm of wind and snow that swept over this city and northern Ohio throughout Saturday and Saturday night gradually subsided yesterday. Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the telegraph and telephone companies to repair their prostrated lines, there has thus far been little improvement to the service. Not a single wire is working on any direct route between this city and Buffalo or Pittsburg. It probably will be several days before direct communication with points east of Cleveland can be fully re-established. Trains on practically all roads entering the city continue to arrive from one to three hours behind schedule time.

In West Virginia

Wheeling, April 22.—The river here is 42 feet 4 inches, and rising. This stage shuts Wheeling entirely out of outside communication by rail and only the big Cincinnati liners are able to run now, and irate residents along the river banks are firing frequently at the boats because the swell from them is washing the foundations away from their houses.

DOMESTIC DISCORD

Between Duke and Duchess of Manchester Has Been Smoothed Out

Paris, April 22.—The Duke of Marlborough, after travelling for a month in the south of Spain, came to Paris a week ago and stopped at the Hotel Bristol on the Place Vendome. While the duke was in Spain the Duchess of Marlborough (Consuela Vanderbilt) has been in Paris, and for the past three weeks she has been staying at her father's mansion. After the duke returned from Spain he visited his father-in-law, where he saw the duchess. Yesterday the duchess drove to the Hotel Bristol, where she was joined by the duke, and together the Marlboroughs proceeded to London. This would indicate, if discord existed between the duke and duchess, that her father had succeeded in smoothing it.

Farmer Robbed of $6000.

Kendallsville, Ind., April 22.—The home of John Andigo, a farmer, was entered Saturday night by three men, who secured $6000, after burning the old man's ears, nose and fingers with lighted matches. A 19-year-old daughter of Andigo was insulted, and when her father refused to give up his money as readily as demanded, she was dragged down to the floor by her hair by one of the robbers. The mother, who had seen her husband's torture and her daughter's indignities, told the robbers that if they would desist she would give up the money. She led the way to the cellar where, in an old cupboard, the savings of years, $6000, was handed over to the robbers. The robbers escaped.

Remarkable Surgical Operation

St. Louis, April 22.—Dr. H. L. Neytert, superintendent of the city hospital, has just taken three stitches in the heart of Philip Gunn, who had been stabbed in a saloon brawl. The point of the knife blade had entered the right ventricle, and had pierced to the cavity of the heart. Luckily the knife had entered the heart obliquely, and the result was that the opening between the cavity and the pericardium, or covering of the heart, was lip shaped on both sides. The wound acted as a valve, and at each pulsation of the blood through the heart but a small quanitly escaped through the artificial opening. The task of stitching this unusual wound was a very difficult one.

Receiving a Warm Welcome

Singapore, April 22.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, who arrived here yesterday morning on the Ophir in the course of their tour of the British colonies, have visited the Chinese section of Singapore. Everywhere they have been enthusiastically received with fetes and illuminations.

Was Long In Public Life

Dover, Del., April 22.—Former Governor Charles C. Stickney, a picturesque figure in Delaware politics, and formerly a Democratic leader, died last night, after a long illness, at his home in Georgetown. He was 82 years old and had served in public life since early manhood.

LONG JOURNEY ENDED

Twenty-Sixth Aboard Garonne For Forty-Seven Days

ENCOUNTERED BAD STORMS

Furniture Was Pounded to Pieces and the Men Suffered Greatly With the Cold—Over Four Hundred Were Claimed by Bullets and Fever

San Francisco, April 22.—The transport Garonne arrived here Saturday from Manila, via Nagasaki and Honolulu. On board were the officers and 849 men of the Twenty-sixth volunteer infantry..

There were no deaths during the voyage, and none of the men are seriously sick.

The regiment embarked at Hoilo, Panay Island, March 5, and was, therefore, aboard the transport for 47 days, counting the day lost when the 180th meridian was crossed, which was on March 31.

That the men were delighted when the vessel passed through the Golden Gate goes without saying. They were glad to get home, and they were more than glad to see a possibility of getting clear of a transport which ill luck seems to have followed ever since she had been in the service.

There was little seasickness during the voyage and the quarantine officers released the vessel in thea fternoon.

From Honolulu to the Golden Gate head winds were encountered, and the trip was a slow one.

Company commanders put to a vote the question as to the preference regarding muster out, whether it should be at the presidio or at the place of enrolment. It was unanimously voted in favor of mustering out at the presidio and going home as individuals.

The travel pay is 4 cents per mile, or $133.24 from the presidio to Boston, and the scheduled railroad fare is $60.75. It was thought that a much cheaper rate than this can be secured, however.

The time required to prepare muster-out rolls and other papers and complete the muster-out depends on the condition of the regimental records, generally about two weeks, so the boys of the Twenty-sixth will probably be at liberty to start for their New England homes early next month.

The boys have not been paid off since Feb. 1, which was for the month of January, and will not receive any money until they are mustered out.

They will, therefore, have three months' pay in addition to that received for travel, when they leave Uncle Sam's service.

Effort will be made to effect some sort of an organization, and if the men can come to an agreement regarding routes, etc., they might be sent home in carloads.

The Garonne sailed from Hollo, island of Panay, March 6. She had rough weather to Nagasaki, where she arrived March 16, but experienced the worst storm of the voyage March 30. She ran into a terrible gale that lasted three days. Furniture was pounded to pieces and a valuable piano in the main saloon was ruined.

During this trying time the troops suffered greatly with the cold. The transport had been making less than 200 miles a day, and as the coal was nearly exhausted it was thought best to run to Honolulu for fuel.

The Twenty-sixth regiment served 17 months in the Philippines. It was recruited at Plattsburg, N. Y., by Colonel Rice, who is still in the islands as colonel of the Second infantry. The men are mostly from Massachusetts, most of them service men of the Spanish war.

Over 400 members of the regiment have been claimed by bullets and fever in the Philippines. Lieutenant Colonel J. T. Dickman, who commands the Twenty-sixth, was General Chaffee's chief of staff in China.

Good Afternoon.

Affairs in police circles are unusually quiet this spring, and as the police are on the alert for wrong doers it can not mean other than Quincy is a quiet city and remarkably free from crime.

It is said that Supt. Parlin does not crave the job of supervisor of the Woodward Institute, and would accept only on conditions. He realizes, however, that there might be a great saving to the city, and that Quincy is not making the most of its opportunities.

Rabbi Fleischer in his sermon in Boston Saturday sees danger in the proposed Jewish Sabbath bill which should be sufficient to defeat it. As it is specially for the Orthodox Jews, he characterizes it as class legislation. He gives figures to show that very few Jewish Bostonians observe the Saturday Sabbath. That out of a possible 1500 who gather on great holy days not 150 have attended any of the last four Friday evening services. The rabbi says:

"To me it seems altogether unfortunate that under existing conditions this law has been asked for. Not that I would have any one denied religious liberty. Indeed that was not denied those for whose benefit this law was framed. For these pious Jews were free to observe their Sabbath on Saturday. But they should have been ready to make whatever sacrifice was necessary even to the extent of giving up still another day to rest in order to prove their attachment to the Jewish Sabbath. This would have been a serious industrial handicap but at any rate an attitude inspiring to the world and in every way worthy of the martyr people who have already endured so much more for a cherished cause. In days when the dollar is the measure of all things, these Jews would fairly have shone with a new luster if they had given us this manifestation of heroism in the form of commercial self-sacrifice."

An attempt will probably be made by the City Council this evening to pass the annual appropriation order regardless of the warning of the Mayor that it is in excess of the legal limit, but this is one of the cases where a majority of the Council, or even two-thirds, or a unanimous vote of the Council will not stand if any taxpayer is disposed to bring an injunction. According to the Mayor's figures in his communication of April 9 to the City Council, the amount of which can be assessed this year under the $12 limit is $236,230.00 plus receipts of last year. As the receipts were $50,632.78, the total which can be raised is $286,862.78.

The estimates aside from debt and interest, and wafer and sewers, amounted to $291,497.00.

The order as reported by the Finance Committee, with the same deductions amounted to $295,958.00, and has since been increased $450.00 in the Assessors' department, making the total at present $296,408.00.

If the amount which can legally be raised is but $286,862.78, the order is $9,545.22 in excess of the limit or a sum sufficient to make the tax rate about fifty cents higher than it legally should be. We claim the excess is even greater than does the Mayor who placed it at $4,445.22. To the $9,545.22 or the 4,445.22 should also be added the item of $65,500.00 for interest on temporary loans which should not be in excess of the $12 limit as it is not for debt or interest therefore. Temporary loans are not considered debts.

Another law which the City Council seems to overlook is that contained in Section 45 of the City Charter which requires each item in the appropriation order in excess of the estimates to be passed by a two-thirds vote. The section in full is:

"Sec. 45. The administrative officers and boards above named in title six shall annually, on or before the first day of March, furnish to the mayor an itemized and detailed estimate of the moneys required for their respective departments or offices during the ensuing financial year. The mayor and city treasurer shall examine such estimates, and shall submit the same to the city council on or before the first day of April, with their itemized and detailed recommendations thereon. No gross appropriation of money, AND NO ITEM THEREOF, in excess of the recommendations of the mayor and city treasurer, in case they shall agree in such recommendations, shall be passed by the council, except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting, and in no case by vote of less than a majority of all the members of the council.

There are now 16 items in the appropriation order in excess as follows:

| | Estimates. | Order |
|---|---|---|
| BY BOARD OF ASSESSORS. | | |
| Transfers from Register of Deeds and Probate, Books, advertising, binding and postage, Miscellaneous expenses, | $600 | $650 |

| BY CHIEF OF POLICE. | | |
| Special police and miscellaneous, | 2,000 | 2,500 |

To the above was added by amendments: $450 for assistant assessors and an increase of $256.25 for interest on city debt.

The Finance Committee made some reductions as well as increases but their grand total was in excess. The estimates of the Mayor and Treasurer and the School Committee footed up $414,654, while in the order the total is $419,115.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ We have taken pains within a few days past to make inquiries of parties in this city—not only officials connected with the police department, but of private citizens—concerning the real workings of the curfew ordinance from a legal view point, and also from that of people interested in the affairs of the city. In every instance the answers to our questions have been favorable to the law. There is a better moral tone and a more orderly and quiet condition of the streets and public places, with less disturbances and fewer petty annoyances than previous to the enactment of this restrictive ordinance. It is not only noticeable by the police, but observable by all thoughtful people who are upon our streets during evenings.—Bangor Commercial.

☞ The American heart is too tender to sanction the bloody bull fight of the Spanish nations, and our laws discourage dog fighting and cock fighting because of their element of cruelty, but with full sanction of the law and with great interest to the sporting public the live pigeon shoot of the American marksmen is an annual event. This year 20,000 birds were slaughtered at the meet on Long Island with no interference from the law except the requirement that birds mained or injured without being killed should be put out of misery if they fall within the bounds of the club grounds. True sport does not demand any such sacrifice as this. —Haverhill Gazette.

CLOSING NIGHT.

The Winners of the Guessing Contests at City Band Fair.

Saturday evening, though wet and disagreeable, did not deter the people of Quincy from turning out to see the sights and spend a dime at the Band fair in Hancock hall.

Saturday, the last night of the four, in which the fair was run, was marked by a stir and enthusiasm which was to some extent lacking during the preceding three nights.

There was an eagerness to make purchases from the mixed assortment of articles exposed for sale on the various tables.

An amount of good natured dickering between the cautious buyers and the anxious sellers added to the general liveliness of the scene.

By ten o'clock the bulk of the saleable material had been disposed of at prices that did credit to the persuasive abilities of the saleswomen who stood behind the stalls.

One feature of surpassing interest to the throng who surged through the hall during the evening was the guessing contests, hundreds of the those who were there had risked a few cents in order to get a chance to draw a prize and as the result of the contests could not be known until the last, the restlessness of the crowd became more marked as the hour of announcement drew near. At last the committee of management were ready to set at rest the fluttering hearts, and though, but a comparative few had the satisfaction of having their hopes rewarded the others did not, apparently feel a pang at being out done.

Among those who were lucky in their guess were:

Mr. Everett Woodbury who drew a handsome chair, a gift from Guy's Coliseum. Messrs. William Summers John Westland and Alex. Hall tied on a fancy pin-cushion, presented by Mrs. John Garmory; a toss of a coin gave it to Mr. Hall. Mr. DeForest's keen eye decided at a glance the exact number of Chinese coins which form a sword, the gift of Mr. Charles Nicol. Miss Annie Grant staked a nickel on a beautiful book-case, given by Henry L. Kincaide & Co., and she got the book-case carried home for her.

Mr. Alex. Kemp's big hand lifted more peanuts than any of the others who tried, and he took a dandy sofa pillow home with him. Mrs. James Smith had a fine eye for nails and Miss Katie Wood gave her an elegant eese wool shawl for guessing the nearest to the number in a bottle. Mrs. Norman Ross was another to pick a winning number, and carried away a gorgeously decorated pillow from Mrs. Alex. Hall's table. Pin-cushions were popular and stuck full of pins too, Miss Alice Findlay hit the right number on one and of course she got it.

A barrel of flour is a big and useful prize, and Mr. Carl Brannan's lucky number will keep him from starving for some time; the flour was from the store of L. M. Pratt & Co.

Boiled dinners were objects of absorbing interest and commanded much attention and judgment as to weight; Mr. James Marr and Mrs. Pierce proved themselves equal to the best adjusted scales for they guessed the exact weight of the dinners at stake; one was the gift of A. H. Doble & Co. and the other of R. E. Foy & Co., Water street.

There were prizes for exceptional services rendered towards the makings of the fair a success. Master John Raleigh led off in this class and was awarded a brand new up-to-date bicycle. George Garmory in another contest outdistanced his competitor and carried off the camera, Alex. Cowe, Jr., had second place and was awarded a kodak.

The girls worked for a fine doll, in Scotch highland costume, and Mary M. McDonald was the winner, with Mary Summers a close second for a money prize; Maud Chick also got a money prize.

Maggie Hall was another who did Trojan work for the bike though she failed to make first place she received a cash reward.

Attending the several tables were: Mrs. Alex. Hall, Mrs. D. T. Drummond, Mrs. John Sutherland and Miss Hunter; Mrs. John C. Murray, Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mrs. Alex Raleigh and Mrs. Alex Cowe; Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. J. Sprague and Miss Maggie Hall, Miss Katie Wood, Miss Lottie Mundie, Miss O'Hara and Miss Bessie Taylor.

The candy table was in the hands of Miss Bella Murray, Miss Aggie Souter, Miss Mary McDonnell and Miss Olive Smith.

At the ticket office were Mr. Marnock assisted by James Copland. The door was guarded by Mr. A. Smith and John Sutherland.

There were a number of other positions which were ably filled by Messrs. John C. Murray, W. Elrick, A. Raleigh, A. Souter, D. Drummond, A. Hall, James Marr, Robert Smith and others. The members of the City Band should now have wind for their horns and music for the citizens for months to come.

TAUNTON ASYLUM.

A Lady Writes of a Visit to the Institution.

Miss Floretta Vining, the editor of the Hull Beacon visited the Insane Asylum at Taunton recently in company with E. W. H. Bass, the Overseer of Poor of Quincy, and his wife, and writes interestingly in her paper of the visit. Quincy has 19 patients in the institution.

We had especial invitation from the governor, as it was not visiting day. We had every attention and were shown all over the building. It was amazing to see so many women there.

Among the women from Quincy was one who when Mr. Bass mentioned my name' knew me at once, and said "I used to go to Derby academy with you," and when she told me whose daughter she was I was amazed. She seemed well to me.

There were also men from Quincy I have known well and seen prosperous. I could hardly believe that for seven years that asylum had been the home of one of them.

Another man, servant of my father 15 years, married a girl 10 years in the employ of my father, and yet he is there for an indefinite time.

I inquired for my girlhood friend from South Weymouth, brilliant, accomplished and wealthy, who would marry the man her mother objected to. The doctor said her case was hopeless and she had been sent to Westfield. Think of it. That girl to end her days thus, while her two children are in different places. What a fate. How little we know when and how we may die.

My relative from Assinippi as we were walking down the corridor, recognized me instantly, but said "how stout you have grown." The eight years she has been there has told on her, but she is the same high spirited girl who has been her own mistress and commanded all her life, and finds it doubly hard to be ruled with the doctors and rules of the institution. The associations of the other women of the ward seems to trouble her very much. She is much troubled with rheumatism and the pain at times is intense. I think she could be cared for in a more agreeable way to her. She longs for her home and Assinippi, asked about many of her neighbors and relatives. I shall send her the paper, as she spends all her time reading and sewing.

There was an acquaintance of Mr. Bass there, a very pretty young woman from South Weymouth, whose case seemed to me hopeless. Such a change. We all exclaimed upon leaving, "Would to God we might die before such a fate befell us."

That Quincy coterie how brilliant and smart all have been in their day.

Dr. Brown the superintendent a kindly man who has been there 15 years received us and made us welcome. After a little chat with him we were presented to the woman doctor who was most kind and went about with us. After we had finished with the woman's ward a man physician took us among the men.

The institution is kept neat and clean and the food is good and well cooked. We were much pleased and gratified with all things connected with the institution and if one has got to spend their time in such an asylum that is a good place.

We took an electric car for Brockton which was through a woody country where the men must have been industrious, as there were large quantities of cut wood all along the highway. The accommodations are very limited at Taunton but trains are more frequent at Brockton.

It was a hard and trying day but we were all pleased that we had been; interested with our observations such as they were, and Mr. Bass feels that it was his duty to know just how his many patients were getting on and how cared for.

$29,000 Paid During Year.

The Wollaston Cooperative bank makes a good showing. After crediting a dividend of 6 per cent. to all shares the past year the bank has a surplus of $977.08 and its guaranty fund is $1800. There are 587 members holding 5047 shares; real estate loans $198,675; share loans $1,1035. The first series of shares matured with the October payment at a value of $202.22 on $138 paid in, giving profits of $64.22 per share. Secretary Pinkham states in conclusion that 260 shares were retired during the year on which $29,495.15 was paid to the shareholders.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

Miss Myra Spear has been appointed clerk in the Water department office at City Hall.

There has been but three days thus far this month when it has not rained during some part of the day or evening.

There is a large gulley in the sidewalk on West Elm avenue which ought to be attended to before some one is hurt.

A young son of Charles E. Ford was taken to the City Hospital Saturday night to be operated upon for appendicitis.

This is the 22d day of the month, but up to noon today the total hours of sunshine have been but 50, and 12 minutes.

The clerks in the Assessors department are working day and night getting the cards ready for the Assesors to start on their annual tour of the city the first of May.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Quincy Cooperative Bank held on Saturday evening, a dividend at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent. per annum, for the past six months, was declared.

It was very dark on Hancock street Sunday night until after 9 o'clock, when the street lights were turned on. Citizens who have to be out nights hope the Electric Light company will get its plant in working order soon.

Bicycle riders who are anxious to ride such rainy weather as we have been having for the last month, should keep in the streets, even if they are muddy. Sunday a party of young men, eight in number, came scorching down Hancock street from School street; when near ex-Mayor Hodges' house they turned onto the sidewalk and continued riding on it until they reached Col. Packard's home. Such reckless rididg is not only dangerous to pedestrians, but it is a direct violation of the law, and if caught, the law would deal with them as they rightly deserve.

Council Business.

A meeting of the City Council will be held tonight.

The committee on Sewers and Drains will report on the order for an appropriation for house connections to the sewer.

The Commitee on Licenses will report on several petitions for minor licenses.

It is also probable that the Committee on Finance will report upon some of the matters they have before them.

On the table is the annual appropriation order, and the vetoes of the Mayor on the amendment to the order for purchasing material, and to investigate the system of bookkeeping.

Jurors for the civil term of the Superior court will be drawn.

Two Reports.

It is probable that there will be two reports made to the City Council tonight on the order for the Warren avenue bridge. The committee's report to withdraw and a minority report signed by a majority of the committee in favor of the order. The report should have been made at the last meeting of the City Council, but for some reason the chairman held it back.

A Record Broken.

With the exception of one inning by Adams, both nines scored in every inning of the Hopkinson—Adams game played Saturday. A total of 37 runs in six innings almost beats the record at base ball in run getting. The score:

| | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Hopkinson, | 8 | 2 | 5 | 9 | 1 | 7 | —32 |
| Adams Academy, | 1 | 4 | 0 | 5 | 2 | 3 | —15 |

Two-base hits—Parker, 3, Wright. Leatherbee, O'Brien, Davis, 2. Sacrifice hits—Leatherbee, Davis, Wales, Colley, Royle. Stolen bases—Newhall, Wales, Hall. First base on balls—Newhall, Whidden 3, Wright, Leatherbee, Coley 2, Reardon 2, Royle 3, Thomas 2. Struck out—Wales, Coxie, Pinkham, O'Brien.

—Now that the trailing arbutus season is approaching, seekers after the modest flower should bear in mind that the law says it shall not be torn up by the roots. It's well to remember, too, that the Mayflowers would be far more plentiful were it not for the destructiveness too often exhibited in gathering them.

ARTISTIC FRAMES.

A SUGGESTION ABOUT AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPH MOUNTING.

The Possibilities of Water Color Paper Brought to Light—Two Typical Designs Illustrated and Described. How to Hang Frames.

Every amateur photographer will appreciate anything new that will add to the interest and decorative value of a kodak picture. The Designer suggests frames as infinitely better than albums and mounts and tells of very dainty ones, two of which are here shown, that may be made of water color paper at a trifling cost, nor need the maker be an artistic genius to reproduce them.

A piece of heavy cardboard 8 by 10 inches will serve as a good foundation. To this may be fastened another piece of cardboard 2 by 5½ inches, for an easel rest. After the water color paper has been decorated and an opening made for the photograph the whole may be glued to the foundation, leaving an opening at the top or bottom for the admission of the picture.

The first cut shows a frame in poster style for a baby's picture. Bright colors only should be chosen for this. The background should be white or colored, according to taste. The child's hair might be a bright red or yellow, the dress blue, the napkin tied about the neck white and the chair green. An open space should be left in the chair for the picture. Each color should be outlined with black.

The second design is one described as suitable for a frame intended for a picture of a marine scene. The background in this is a delicate pink and green, while the leaves and stems are of gold put on solidly. The background should be put on in a simple wash over the whole paper, leaving no spaces of white for the gold. In this way a clear and satisfactory result may be produced. When the background has thoroughly dried, the gold leaves and stems may be put on with smooth, broad strokes.

These designs are not beyond the ability of even a very inexperienced amateur artist, for the colors are laid on perfectly flat, without any attempt at shading. A broad, flat sable brush should be used, and plenty of the tint required should be mixed at one time, so that the color will be quite even.

If small rings be affixed to the stiff cardboard backing, the frames may be hung instead of stood up, and a pretty way to arrange three or more oblong frames is to hang each from a separate cord of colored silk, making each cord a little shorter than the other, the first of all being about 18 inches in length, then hang all the pictures from one hook, and they will have a panel effect. Of course for such an arrangement the frames must all be decorated with designs of a similar character, or, if a flower design be used, the sprays and blossoms may be carried from one frame to another.

Care of Artists' Brushes.

All brushes that are used for oil must be carefully washed out first by agitating the brush in a vessel of turpentine, then drying it with a cloth. To further cleanse them they should be washed with soap and water. Do not scrub or bend the hair unnecessarily. Give the soap time to amalgamate and destroy the oil in the paint. Dry so that the hair remains straight. All soft hair-brushes when not constantly in use should be dipped in gum water to keep the hair straight and packed away in a tin box, says Art Amateur.

An Appetizing Breakfast Dish.

To make a simple cheese toast take thin slices of bread and toast them to a delicate brown, spread them with butter and then cover them thickly with grated cheese and sprinkle lightly with paprika. Lay the slices upon a tin and place them in a hot oven long enough to melt the cheese. It is best to make only a few slices at a time, as the cheese hardens quickly. A slice of crisp bacon laid upon each piece makes an excellent breakfast dish.

Seal Rings and Fobs For Women.

The "all gold" seal ring is affected by some women—a bit of style after the same order as the adoption of the watch fob, says Southern Jeweler. This latter article, by the way, is very daintily prepared in gold and jewels for ladies' use.

Has Made No New Deal

St. Petersburg, April 22.—The statements that Russia has proposed to Japan an entente regarding the far east and offered to reduce her indemnity claim to $50,000,000 on condition that China sign the Manchurian convention and grants further concessions in connection with the Siberian railway, are declared to be quite unfounded. On the contrary, Russia is determined, it is asserted on high authority, to enter into no negotiations with China in the present circumstances.

Caused Too Much Annoyance

New York, April 22.—The $10,000 reward offered by Rev. Father Mullin of Highbridge for the return of the lost Willie McCormick to his parents, and the arrest of his kidnappers, was withdrawn by the priest yesterday. He said he had been compelled to take this action to escape a horde of mountebanks, clairvoyants, fakirs of every sort, and cranks of all degrees, who have besieged him since he posted the money.

Priest Mysteriously Disappears

Montreal, April 22.—Rev. Edmond Joly, a well-known priest, in charge of a parish 60 miles from here, has been missing for five months, and his disappearance has been kept quiet until now by the church. Though supposed to be poor, it is now found that he has thousands of dollars in banks here. Two weeks before his disappearance he drew $2000 which cannot be found.

Double Tragedy Ends Honeymoon

Chicago, April 22.—J. J. Gillen, an attorney 25 years old, killed his wife and then fatally shot himself in a hallway on Lake street. The couple were married only a few months ago, and soon parted. Gillen accused his wife's relatives of drugging her and keeping her as a prisoner.

Church Official Murdered

Constantinople, April 22.—Consular dispatches from Monastir, Macedonia, report the murder April 2 of the Bulgarian pope, Parthenius, supposedly by members of the Macedonian committee, who had suspected him of espionage in behalf of the Turkish authorities.

Market For Dominion Iron

London, April 22.—It is asserted that negotiations have been concluded between representatives of the Dominion Iron and Steel company of Sydney, C. B., and certain British and Scottish firms to secure the marketing of all the company's iron output in Europe.

Missionaries Killed by Australians

Sydney, N. S. W., April 22.—Advices received here from New Guinea say that the natives on Fly river recently murdered Rev. James Chalmers and Rev. Oliver Tomkins.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, April 23.
Sun rises—4:52; sets, 6:34.
Moon sets—11:53 p. m.
High water—2:15 a. m.; 3 p. m.

The storm center has moved almost directly northward to western Maryland, with somewhat decreased intensity, causing a prolongation of the rains and snows in the upper Ohio valley and lower lake region. Snow also continued in the mountains of Tennessee and rain in the middle Atlantic states and New England. Rain will continue in New England. On the coast the winds will be brisk to high northeasterly.

Stock Market Is Booming

New York, April 20.—The aggregate sales of securities on the stock exchange yesterday reached 2,193,200 shares, which is the largest single day's business on record. On Jan. 7 of this year the day's record reached 2,127,500 shares, and on several days since have amounted to from 1,800,000 to over 1,900,000 shares.

Wind Caused $50,000 Damage

Chicago, April 22.—A high wind loosened a large iron water tank from its fastenings on the roof of the Galbraith building yesterday, causing it to crash through the six floors to the ground, injuring five persons, and resulting in a damage to the building estimated at $50,000.

Does a Two-Year-Old Baby Pay?

(By J. H. D. in Detroit Free Press.)

PART I

Does a two-year-old baby pay for itself up to the time it reaches that interesting age?

Sometimes I think not. I thought so yesterday when my own baby slipped into my study and "scrubbed" the carpet and his best white dress with my bottle of ink.

He was playing in the coal hod ten minutes after a clean dress was put on him, and later in the day he pasted fifty cents' worth of postage stamps on the parlor wall and poured a dollar's worth of the choicest "White Rose" perfumery out of the window "to see it wain."

Then he dug out the center of a nicely baked loaf of cake, and was found in the middle of the dining-room table with the sugar-bowl between his legs and most of the contents in his stomach.

He has already cost over $100 in doctors' bills, and I feel that I am right in attributing my few gray hairs to the misery I endured walking the floor with him at night during the first year of his life.

What has he ever done to pay me for that?

THE KILLING OF GROGAN

Developes a Case Which Will Prove Noteworthy.

MANY PECULIAR FEATURES

In Connection With the Trial of C. R. Eastman, a Harvard University Instructor, Who Is Charged With the Murder of His Brother-In-Law

Cambridge, Mass., April 22.—Rarely has a capital case aroused so much interest as that of the trial, which begun this morning in the superior court here, of Charles R. Eastman, an instructor at Harvard university, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Richard H. Grogan, Jr., who was shot on July 4 last, while engaged in target practice with Eastman.

The social as well as educational standing of the accused, his near relationship by marriage to the victim of the unfortunate affair, both having married daughters of the late Alvan Clark, the world-renowned maker of large telescopes; the apparent friendliness of the two men an hour before the tragedy; the target practice which ended in the shooting of Grogan, accidentally as claimed by Eastman; Grogan's dying denunciation of Eastman as his murderer; the arrest and somewhat remarkable discharge of the instructor, after a hearing or inquest by a local judge, and finally, Eastman's indictment for murder by the grand jury, in spite of the result of the inquest, have all combined to make the case one of the most noteworthy in the legal annals of the state.

The two young men, for Eastman is but 32 years old, while Grogan was 29, lunched together at the Clark residence on July 4, and at about 5:30 that afternoon went into the garden back of the house to engage in target practice. It is claimed that some months previous to this the two had had an altercation, said to have been caused by jealousy on Eastman's part by Grogan's success in business, but no ill feeling was manifested between the men before they went into the garden. Just what took place can only be learned from Eastman. He stated at the inquest that after firing at the target with Smith & Wesson revolvers, an old Colt rim-fire pistol was brought out, and that while fixing the trigger the pistol was suddenly discharged, the bullet striking Grogan in the left breast. He staggered out of the yard crying for help, and neighbors rushed to his assistance. Then it was that, in his dying gasps, he denounced Eastman as his murderer, repeating it over and over again, until he fell back exhausted, "He murdered me." Grogan died in 10 minutes after he was shot. There seems to have been some delay in notifying the authorities, and it was not until late at night that Eastman was arrested.

The usual hearing before a local police court judge, which in this state is regarded as the inquest, followed in a few days. An effort was made to show an animus for the affair on Eastman's part, but the judge decided that there was nothing sufficient to hold him for murder or even manslaughter, and he was discharged. The case apparently rested for some three months, when the district attorney laid the matter before the grand jury, with the result that an indictment was found and Eastman again arrested, last October. Since then he has been in the Cambridge jail, although a strong and somewhat extraordinary effort was made about two months ago to have him released on bail. This, however, was denied by Judge Gaskill, who will be the senior judge at the coming trial.

Much of the government's case is based upon the bullet which killed Grogan. If it should be proved that the bullet taken from the body of the victim was fired from a modern target pistol, or Smith & Wesson revolver, then Eastman's statement, made at the inquest that Grogan was killed from a shot from an old Colt revolver will be false, and his excuse of accidental shooting shown to be groundless. The complications in the decision of this question consist in the fact that the old pistol and the new are of exactly the same calibre.

The question as to from which revolver the fatal bullet was fired is expected to be decided by the marks which the rifling of the two barrels produced upon the lead as it passed through them. How much the variation in the marking of the two bullets fired from the two revolvers would be is expected to be one of the most important pieces of evidence in the trial.

For the first time for many years in a capital case the attorney general announced his intention of not appearing as the leading counsel for the government, but, owing to District Attorney Wier's sudden illness, yesterday, Attorney General Knowlton was forced to reconsider his decision and appeared in court.

The body of Grogan has been disentombed by order of the district attorney, in order that a more particular autopsy may be held.

Golden Wins Six-Day Race

Columbus, O., April 22.—Peter Golden of New York city won the six-day go-as-you-please walking match, which closed at 11:30 Saturday night. His distance was 335 miles and eight laps. Ten of the 17 men who started in the race finished.

Shipping Held Up by Ice

Sydney, C. B., April 22.—Fifteen steamers and sailing vessels are icebound in the harbor, and two steamers which cannot be made out are reported outside, unable to get in, owing to gulf ice blocking the entrance to the port.

THEY DIED TOGETHER

President and Cashier of Closed Bank Put Bullets into Themselves

Vancouver, Wash., April 22.—Charles Brown and E. L. Canby, president and cashier, respectively, of the First National bank of Vancouver, which was closed Saturday by the controller of the currency, committed suicide Saturday night, two miles from this city, by shooting themselves with revolvers. Their bodies were found yesterday lying together in a small clump of bushes. Both used the same weapon, and Canby evidently died first, as the revolver was found in Brown's hand. Each put the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth and blew the top of his head off.

Canby, upon being told by Bank Examiner J. W. Maxwell on Friday evening that the bank would not be permitted to open Saturday, went out in the yard behind the bank and attempted to shoot himself. His revolver failed to explode. After failing to shoot himself, Canby came into the bank and he and President Brown left together, taking his revolver.

When Examiner Maxwell confronted the bank officials with the shortage of $81,000, both men admitted their guilt. It is said that Brown and Canby had been speculating in stocks. Beside Brown's body there was found a package containing $25 and a note saying that the money belonged to his daughter. Upon Canby's body the following brief note was found:

"My Dear Wife: I feel what I am about to do is for the best. Forgive me if you can, and try to live for our dear children. God bless you all. Goodbye. Ned. April 19."

Brown, who was 54 years of age, has lived in Vancouver since 1862. Canby was 52 years of age, and was well connected.

Leyte Falls Into Line

Tacloban, April 22.—Enthusiastic throngs greeted the appearance of the Philippine commission in the capital of Leyte. Confidence in American purpose was reiterated. The people are alert and patriotic. The president of Tacloban, with a detachment of natives, is absent chasing the remnant of a hundred insurgents. Most of the municipalities have been organized, and all were represented at the conference. The province will be created today, with Major Allen of the Forty-third volunteer infantry as governor, and Lieutenant Conroy of the same regiment as treasurer. The population is 300,000.

Promiscuous Shooting Match

Kansas City, April 22.—Four innocent white men were shot, one perhaps fatally, a negro was shot and another badly cut, as the result of a drunken fight started yesterday by a crowd of negroes in Rosedale, Kan. The negroes were quarrelling in front of a saloon when Sid Rawles, a negro, precipitated the trouble by cutting Ben Cable, the latter securing a shotgun and firing into the crowd. During the excitement that followed, half a dozen negroes secured revolvers and shotguns and began firing promiscuously.

Complimentary to Odell

Albany, April 22.—The legislature of 1901 has practically completed all of its labor except the fixing of the tax rate and the passing of the Greater New York charter amendments. It has accomplished at least 90 percent of the work which the chief executive of the state outlined for it, and Governor Odell's dominance over the component branches of government has been so great that 90 percent of his recommendations have been carried out.

One Game For Each Side

New York, April 22.—After a battle which lasted two days the chess players representing the United States and the United Kingdom broke even in the sixth international match by cable. The Englishmen scored two games and kept the lead until Saturday evening, when victories by Newman and Pillsbury offset their advantage. Two games were agreed upon as drawn, so each side was awarded one game.

Shamrock Has Light Draught

London, April 22.—A Times correspondent, describing the launching of Shamrock II Saturday, says: "She looks a vessel that will be very easily driven, though her lack of draught will make her a trifle tender, and she will probably do her best in a jack yard topsail breeze."

FOR A CHILD

who is "not doing well"—the condition occurs now and then with all children.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is a food that begins to build you up at once—of course, it don't show at once.

"Not doing well" means that the child is not getting the good of his food. Not today, or this week; it may have been going on for a month; before it begins to show in the child's condition.

You want him to get back to turning his usual food into strength.

You want the food that begins to build, up at once.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

FACE AND ARMS GONE

Badly Mutilated Body of a Man Found in a Steamer Dock

Boston, April 22.—The body of a man, with face and both arms gone and both legs broken, was found in the slip of the Portland boat at 4:15 yesterday afternoon, just after the Governor Dingley was docked. The body had on only part of a shirt, a pair of trousers, stockings and shoes, and, there being nothing in the pockets, the police are unable to say whether the case is one of murder, accident or suicide. They do not believe, however, that the mutilation was done by outside hands, but by the propellers of the steamers. The body, which is of a man of 5 feet 7 inches tall, and 150 pounds in weight, was taken to the morgue.

Prominent Old Citizen Gone

Haverhill, Mass., April 22.—Dr. George Cogswell of this city died last evening, aged 93 years. He was born in Atkinson, N. H. In 1852 he was a member of the electoral college, and served in the same capacity in 1864. In 1860 he was delegate to the Chicago convention which nominated Lincoln for president. During 1858 and 1859 he was a member of Governor Banks' council. President Lincoln, in 1862, appointed him collector of internal revenue for the Sixth district, which position he filled until 1867, when he was removed by President Johnson. He was reinstated, however, by President Grant, in 1870, and served until 1875, when he once more resumed his medical practice.

Rain Helped the Firemen

Springfield, Mass., April 22.—The worst fire in the history of West Springfield broke out just before midnight Saturday, and resulted in a property loss of over $50,000. Nearly 20 people were rendered homeless. The water service was wretched, and, with the high wind, the loss would have been much greater had it not been for a driving rain. Three business blocks, two houses and two barns were destroyed. The body of Mrs. Margaret Mathias, 65 years old, was found yesterday in the ruins of the Tourtellette block. It was apparent that she had died in her rocking chair, probably after she had been overcome by smoke.

Thinks He Was Chloroformed

Cambridge, Mass., April 22.—Ronald J. McDonald, the Cambridgeport runner who collapsed while competing in the Marathon race Friday, is under the care of a physician. McDonald claims that he was drugged, and he is not alone in his opinion that he was chloroformed, for Dr. Thompson says the same thing. McDonald won the Marathon race two years ago, and was confident of beating Caffrey this year.

Curtailment Nearing the End

Fall River, Mass., April 22.—The majority of Fall River mills will be in operation this week, and the number of hands idle during that time will be the smallest since the curtailment plan has been in operation, less than 4000 operatives being affected by the shutdown movement. At the close of the week six corporations will have completed the terms of the shut-down agreement.

Killed Herself With Poison

Cambridge, Mass., April 22.—Alvina G. Colson, a handsome young woman of 24, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid in Fresh Pond grove yesterday. Miss Colson left home just before noon, and four young men found the body in the grove at about 3 o'clock. A brother of the young woman says she had been melancholy for the past few days.

Engine Off the Track

Waterville, Me., April 22.—A shifting engine of the Maine Central is off the track near Fairfield. It is said that the engine was driven at a high speed up a steep grade, and left the iron without any apparent cause. Engineer Freeze has a broken shoulder blade and is badly bruised. Fireman Tillson was not injured beyond a bad shaking up.

Charged With Attempted Murder

Rutland, Vt., April 22.—Charles Chappell, an employe of Barben Bros., at Wallingford, is under arrest for the alleged attempted murder of Charles F. Campbell, bookkeeper for the firm. Chappell protests his innocence. He was held in $4000 bonds, which he was unable to furnish, and he was taken to the county jail.

Decided to Have a Doctor

Southington, Conn., April 22.—The condition of Mrs. St. John, the smallpox patient, is reported somewhat worse by Dr. Stedman, who visited the house yesterday. A second trained nurse has been called, and it is understood that the family have withdrawn their objections to the attendance of a physician.

Jewelry Store Cleaned Out

Boston, April 22.—By means of false keys thieves entered the jewelry store of Alexander Romm at 92 Staniford street, Saturday night, and stole the entire stock, amounting in value to about $1277. The articles stolen included jewelry, clocks, mileage books and opera glasses.

Terrio Claims to Be Innocent

Skowhegan, Me., April 22.—Counsel for Alexander Terrio, charged with the murder of Mathias Pare, has secured a postponement of the preliminary hearing until Wednesday. Terrio feels that he is placed in a precarious position. He still stoutly declares his innocence.

Many Captures and Surrenders

London, April 22.—The war office has received a dispatch from Lord Kitchener reporting that since April 18 various British commanders have taken 81 prisoners, together with 100,000 rounds of ammunition and many horses, cattle and wagons. Lord Kitchener reports also the surrender of 29 Boers since that date.

RESERVOIR IS NOW A POND

Houses, Barns, Bridges and Culverts Were Swept Away In the Rush of Water Through the Valley—Old Course of the River Diverted

Springfield, Mass., April 23.—During today at least the Boston and Albany railroad will run no trains through to the west, owing to the damage done at Chester and Middlefield by the breaking of the reservoir dam at Flush Hollow Sunday night. At present no tickets are being sold over the Boston and Albany for points west of Westfield, two stations west of here, and four stations this side of Chester.

A special to The Union from Middlefield says: For three miles through the beautiful Middlefield valley there is nothing but destruction and ruin as the result of the great flood of Sunday evening. Where was formerly the reservoir, a mile and a half long and covering nearly 200 acres, there is now but a diminutive pond, from which flows the receding river through the gorge in the dam that broke away.

Down the stream at the Boston and Albany railroad nothing is left but a few granite blocks and the rails of the arch bridge that spanned the Factory river and the highway leading up to Middlefield Centre. The flood carried in its wake houses and barns, bridges and culverts. It made great gullies in the highways and did thousands of dollars' damage. But nobody was drowned, and so far as can be learned not a single person was injured, although there were a number of narrow escapes.

The destruction would have been much greater all through Blush hollow had the flood swept down like a tidal wave, but instead the dam at the reservoir wore away gradually and it took something over half an hour for the lake to become emptied.

About an eighth of a mile below the structure there are several houses that lay directly in the path of the deluge, but these were saved from total ruin by the spreading out of the waters, whose momentum and energy were so great, however, that immense boulders from the retaining wall were swept down stream for several rods.

The old course of the river has been diverted and the highway for a quarter of a mile has been obliterated. All the way down the river to the railroad there are long stretches where the visitor would never imagine there had been one of the finest roadways in this section.

The reservoir rose rapidly during Sunday afternoon, and Superintendent William Carter became apprehensive about the safety of the dam. Several men tried to raise the gates that extend along a section of the structure for about 80 feet in four-foot sections. The pressure was then so great that it was impossible to raise them, and the men at once warned their families of the danger, and they fled to the hills.

The Flood at Cincinnati

Cincinnati, April 23.—The stage of the river here is 51 feet, and still rising. This will mean that when 53 feet is reached, trains will be shut out of the Grand Central station. All of the railways have also made arrangements for using higher stations, so there will be no interruption to railroad traffic. The residents of tenement houses along the Ohio river front were driven from the first stories when the river reached a stage of 45 feet. The most hopeful fact is that the flood is unobstructed in the lower Ohio, and there is less backwater than usual and that the trouble will be of short duration.

Still Snowing In Kentucky

London, Ky., April 23.—The snow which commenced last Friday has not ceased falling. The waters are higher than they have been since 1883. Great damage is being done by the drowning of livestock. The farmers are also heavy losers by having all the soil washed off their freshly plowed fields. Many bridges have been washed away.

Flood at Northampton

Northampton, Mass., April 23.—As a result of the rain of the past two days the Connecticut river has overflowed its banks here and is nearly as high as during the freshet of two weeks ago. The tracks of the Holyoke and Northampton Street Railway company are under water near Mt. Tom.

Lumber Swept Away

North Anson, Me., April 23.—The piers and boom of Emery & Porter in the Carrabasset river were carried away last evening, and 1,250,000 feet of spruce lumber was swept down the river. The water is very high, but no further damage is expected at this point.

BABY BURIED ALIVE

Is Life Saved by Prompt Action of a Laborer Who Witnessed the Crime

New York, April 23.—By the merest chance a 2-weeks-old baby, which had been buried alive at Hastings by a man and a woman—presumably the parents—was discovered yesterday by Patrick McEvoy, a laborer, just in time to save it from death from suffocation. The child had been thrown into a hole about three feet deep. A little cape worn by the baby had in some way fallen over the face. This kept away the earth and held the air for a moment.

A man and woman, who answer the description furnished by the baby's rescuer, were arrested by the police of Yonkers, several miles away from Hastings, on a trolley car. The man said he was married, and had three children. The woman said she was Francisca Stimella, 18 years old, a dressmaker, and unmarried. She declined to say where she lived, but a police officer in Yonkers volunteered the information that she was a niece of her companion. The woman denied that the baby was hers. She appeared very little concerned over her arrest.

After being questioned by the police they were arraigned and turned over to the chief of police of Hastings, who took the prisoners back to that place. In the man's possession was found a lather's hatchet. It was covered with dirt. On the man's hands and under his nails was also sand and dirt. A motorman on a Yonkers car line told the police that he had seen the couple early in the day on a car passing through the city. He thought they had come all the way from New York by trolley.

BOXER KNOCKED OUT

Smith's Contest With Roberts May Result In the Former's Death

Falmouth, Mass., April 23.—The mystery surrounding the finding of an entire outfit of girl's clothing near Perch pond Saturday was cleared up yesterday afternoon, when Joseph Roderick, 14 years old, and Margaret Towers, 12 years old, were arrested at Barnstable by Deputy Sheriff Crocker. The girl had discarded her clothing and donned masculine attire in an attempt to elope with Roderick. The couple said if had been their intention to walk to Boston. The girl is a town charge, and will be returned here. Roderick will be sent back to his parents at South Dennis.

New Brunswick Postoffie Robber

St. John, April 23.—There was a daring robbery of the mails at Moncton last night between 8 and 9 o'clock. All the registered mail for St. John and Halifax was taken. The robbery was discovered about 9 o'clock, when the janitor was locking up. It is customary for the clerks to leave at 7:30. The private part of the office is locked, but the lobby is left open until 9. The robber must have climbed a partition from the lobby to the private part of the office and secured the mail bag keys.

TALK WITH AGUINALDO

In Which He Reiterates His Desire For Peace

WILL USE BEST EFFORTS

Toward Inducing All Insurgents to Surrender—Has Been Led to Believe That American Sovereignty Is Preferable to Independence

Manila, April 23.—A representative of the Associated Press visited Aguinaldo yesterday at 56 Solano street, whither he was removed from the Malacanan, and found him in a large room upstairs, furnished with a table, a typewriting machine, three settees and 20 chairs. His wife, who was entertaining a number of Filipino women friends, sat at one end of the room, while Aguinaldo, smoking a cigar and chatting with Benito Legardo, occupied the opposite corner.

Others present were Lieutenant Colonel Mallory, who has charge of Aguinaldo; Lieutenant Youngberg and Mr. Fisher, general MacArthur's secretary.

Aguinaldo, whose bearing was courteous and dignified, was dressed in white, looked well and altogether made an excellent impression. Legardo, who has recently returned from the United States, was telling him about the trip. He seemed intensely interested and inquired particularly as to what President McKinley said and seemed anxious to know what was thought of him in the United States.

He was rather reluctant to talk for publication, and considered every question carefully before answering. He said he was doing all he could to assist in the pacification of the Philippines, and expressed himself as surprised at what the Americans had accomplished. When he was first captured, he said, he was greatly astonished to find that a majority of the Filipinos entertained the opinion that American sovereignty was preferable to independence, but now he was inclined to believe that way himself. He explained that, since the dissolution of the insurgent congress and the declaration of guerilla warfare, the chiefs had operated to all intents and purposes independently. They recognized him as commander-in-chief, sending him reports occasionally, and he issued some orders; but for the last seven months communication had been difficult, and he had been almost disconnected.

"I am now urging in the strongest possible manner," said Aguinaldo, "that all insurgents should surrender and swear allegiance to the United States."

He expressed the opinion that the representative insurgents will surrender as soon as they come to understand the nature of the amnesty offered them. He said he hoped that when the work of pacification was completed and conditions were settled the prisoners in Guam would be released.

After referring in grateful terms to the courteous treatment accorded him by the military authorities, he declared his conviction that the civil government which would follow pacification would realize the highest hopes of the Filipino people.

When questioned regarding the report that he would visit the United States, he replied that he would like to do so, but had made no plans as yet, placing himself entirely at the disposition of the United States government.

In concluding the interview he observed: "Every word in my address to my countrymen, the Filipinos, came from my heart. I hope the Americans believe me thoroughly sincere in my efforts to secure peace and, under American auspices, to promote the welfare and prosperity of the Philippines."

Jury Visited Scene of Tragedy

Cambridge, Mass., April 23.—In the trial of Charles R. Eastman a jury had been secured before noon yesterday from the 168 talesmen called together by a special venire. A foreman was appointed by the judge in the afternoon and the remainder of the day was occupied by a visit to the scene of the fatality, on the estate of the late Alvin Clark, whose daughters Eastman, the accused, and Grogan, the dead man, married.

They had all the conditions in their favor.

Dover, N. H., April 23.—A body found floating in the upper Cocheco river yesterday has been identified as that of Bernard McGeough, about 38 years old. McGeough left his boarding house one night in November last very suddenly and nothing had been heard of his whereabouts until the identity of the body was secured yesterday.

Had Premonition of Death

Drift of Opinion.

☞Rev. Dr. Buckley objects to the admisssion of women to participation in the legislative functions of the Methodist Episcopal church, on the rather queer ground that "man in the family, the church and the state has the shadow of power and woman the substance." Evidently he feels that the shadow is in danger, and he wants to preserve it as long as he can. Why not be candid and say that having the power, he does not propose to share it? He deceives neither himself nor anybody else by his averment that the women of the Methodist church are unfit to take active part in the legislation of the church.—New Bedford Standard.

☞The Logan monument at Washington has bas reliefs that have invited criticism. Mrs. Logan directed the sculptor to group certain figures representing statesmen who were in the Senate with her husband. The artist has arranged them in a scene that did not occur, and so a false impression is given that will make trouble in the future, as the supposed history of the panels is studied in connection with the real history of the period. Mrs. Logan says:—"We wanted those panels to portray the most prominent men in the history of the country who were in the Senate during the 16 years that my husband was a Senator. It would have been absurd to have reproduced literally the group at the Vice President's desk when Gen. Logan took the oath of office. The selection of those who were to be represented on those panels was left to me, and I tried to select men who served at some time with Gen. Logan and were representative of the country's history." This may satisfy Mrs. Logan, but it will always be open to criticism.—Lynn Item.

Wollaston Yacht Club Pier.

Although it was stormy Monday evening about fifty members of the Wollaston Yacht club turned out to help put the pier out for the season. After about an hour's labor the members returned to the club smoking room where a social was enjoyed for about half an hour. Then Mr. S. B. Wiley, chairman of the House committee announced that the entertainment committee wished to receive the members in the hall above. A collation of good old Boston baked beans, pickles, bread, butter, coffee and doughnuts were served in abundance. All the members agreed that the coffee made by the chairman of the Entertainment committee, Mr. C. W. Page, could not be excelled, and that it went to the right spot. Mr. Jones and Mr. Barstow also of the Entertainment committee filled the wants of the hungry yachtsmen and saw that nobody went away hungry. After the collation was served, a speech was requested from Commodore A. L. Baker, who quickly responded with many encouraging words to the fellow yachtsmen for a bright and prosperous season. Mr. S. B. Wiley extended many thanks to the members for responding to his call for help on the pier, and remarked that the members certainly showed much enthusiasm and interest in the welfare of the club. Chairman Page was also called upon for a speech, but thought as he had made the coffee he had done his part, to which all the members agreed. With a rousing three cheers for the Entertainment committee, who certainly deserve many thanks, the members disbanded, feeling well paid for their labor.

APPROPRIATIONS

Passed by City Council for the Year 1901.

Finance Committee Overruled on Assessors.

A Veto of the Mayor Sustained But Afterwards Reconsidered.

Councilman Newcomb was the only absent member at Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

JURORS DRAWN.

Assisted by Councilman Hultman, Mayor Hall and City Clerk Cleaves drew the following jurors: Albert G. Dolliver, Charles G. Battson, Michael C. Ahearn.

APPPOINTMENTS.

The Mayor sent in the appointment of Edward J. McKeon as registrar of voters for three years. Confirmed.

DRAIN AT ATLANTIC.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the City Solicitor relative to a drain which ran through the property of Catherine E. Kelley near the Atlantic depot, upon which an injunction had been placed, and requested the passing of an order for $500 to run the drain elsewhere. Laid on the table until later when an order for that amount was offered.

PETITIONS.

The New England Telephone Co. petitioned for the location for one pole on Shaw street.

A large number of minor petitions for victuallers, pool table, junk wagon, fireworks, pool tables, auctioneer's licenses, etc., were received.

A petition was received for the apportionment of the sidewalk assessment of C. S. J. Badger on Copeland street. Laid on the table until later when order was offered and passed.

STREET RAILWAY LOCATION.

The Committee on Streets offered an order for a public hearing on the petition of the Old Colony street railway for a location for an additional track on Hancock street between Johnson avenue and Carruth street for May 22.

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

The Committee on Sewers and Drains reported ought not to pass on order for $6,000 for house connections with the sewer to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works. Report accepted.

The same committee reported an order for $6,000 for house connections with the sewer to be expended under the direction of the Sewer Commissioners. To Finance Committee.

ASSISTANT ASSESSORS.

The joint Committee on Ordinances and Finance reported a substitute order relative to assistant assessors, which provided for the appointment of one assistant from each ward at a salary of $50 each instead of three at $75 each.

Principal Assessor Thompson remonstrated against the proposed compensation. Before the city charter was amended the salaries of the Principal Assessors and six assistants amounted to $2,700. Now with a board of three Assessors the expense was $2,000. If to this was added six assistants at $75 each—$450—the total would be but $2,450, or $250 less than last year. He maintaiud it was not the intention by the change from last year to reduce expenses, but to equalize assessments. He questioned if $50 each would secure competent men. He read from a card, showing the information which the Assistant Assessor was required to obtain of each family. The Assessors department was the only source of revenue to the city and it was important that all poll and tangible personal property should be assessed. He questioned if three men could assess all the real estate. The Ordinance Committee were in favor of $75 but when the matter came before the Finance Committee the Board of Assessors were not invited to appear before them. Possibly they understood fully what is to be done. He would like to know why the amount was reduced.

Councilman Bass thought it foolish to squabble over the small amount. Competent men were needed and $75 was small enough.

Councilman Alden was called to the chair.

Councilman Bryant took the floor and spoke at length upon the question. He was present at the meeting of the Ordinance committee and the matter was talked over thoroughly. It was the opinion that it would be best to have a man in each ward as every poll left off cost the city $2. It would be more economical to pay $75 and get a competent man. He believed it would be a saving to the city.

The substitute order was first adopted.

Upon motion of Councilman Bryant the order was then amended making the amount $75 for each assistant.

The rules were suspended and the order passed.

RESERVE POLICE.

The Committee on Police reported no legislation necessary relative to accepting of the act relative to a Reserve Police force. Laid on the table.

LICENSES.

The Committee on State Aid and the Committee on Licenses reported upon a number of petitions for the State aid and minor licenses.

WARREN AVENUE BRIDGE.

The Committee on Finance reported ought not to pass on the order for $2,650 for bridge over the railroad tracks at Warren avenue.

A minority report in favor of the order was also offered.

Upon motion of Councilman Nichols the matter was laid on the table.

PURCHASE OF MATERIALS.

Upon motion of Councilman Freeman the Mayor's veto of the order relative to the purchase of materials was taken from the table.

Councilman Freeman said the order could not be amended in its present state. The only way was to pass it over the veto and then amend it which he hoped would be done.

Councilman DeNormandie asked for a ruling of the chair if the order could be amended after it was passed over the veto.

President Bryant ruled that it could not, but that the ordinance could be amended.

The question then came on passing the order over the Mayor's veto.

The veto was sustained by the following vote:

YEAS — Adams, Alden, Callahan, Elcock, Freeman, Gassett, Hadlock, Hughes, Hultman, Langelier, McLellan, Smith, Thompson—13.

NAYS—Bass, Craig, DeNormandie, Faxon, Nichols, Nicol, Sherman, Spargo—8.

Absent—Newcomb.

Upon motion of Councilman Freeman the vote was reconsidered and the order was laid on the table.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.

The Committee on Public Buildings was permitted to sit during the Council meeting relative to the proposed schoolhouse for Ward Two.

PETITIONS.

Several applications were made for licenses of various kinds.

A petition was received for the rebuilding of New road. To Committee on Streets.

The petition of William McGuane to have his sidewalk assessment apportioned was granted.

POLICE STATION.

Councilman Callahan offered an order appropriating $3,000 for fitting up the old Steamer house on School street for a police station. To joint Committee on Finance and Police.

ASSESSORS' PLANS.

Councilman Faxon offered an order appropriating $1,000 for a partial survey of the city for the Assessors. To Committee on Finance.

SIDEWALKS.

Councilman Nichols offered two orders, one refunding $40 to Hannah E. Dow and one refunding $27 to Elizabeth C. Dow, in half payment for 40 and 27 yards of granolithic sidewalk. laid on Grand View avenue. To Finance Committee.

ELECTRIC CARS.

Councilman Nichols offered the following order which was adopted:

That a committee of three members of the Council shall be appointed to investigate in what streets (other than those in which cars are now running) the Old Colony Street Railway Company possess a franchise to operate cars and that His Honor the Mayor be requested to cooperate with said committee, and confer with the officials of the said Old Colony Street Railway Company to secure better service and better connections with the different lines radiating from City Hall square.

The President appointed as the committee, Councilmen Nichols, Bass and Adams.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS.

Councilman Freeman had the annual appropriation order taken from the table. Upon his motion the individual salaries in the Water department included in the maintenance were dropped, but the officials were enumerated and the total for salaries placed at $5,000, and the total for maintenance increased from $9,000 to $10,000.

Councilman Alden had the vote reconsidered and moved to strike out all but the word "maintenance" and the amount, "$10,000."

Councilman Freeman was called to the chair, and Councilman Bryant opposed the motion. He argued that all these salaries should be charged to maintenance and not divided as in the past with construction.

The amendment of Councilman Alden was lost, and the subtistute of Councilman Freeman prevailed.

The rules were suspended and the question came on passing the order.

Whist at South Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Craig entertained friends at whist Monday evening, at their residence on Franklin street. The gathering was in the nature of a reception to the gentlemen, by the ladies of an afternoon club of which the hostess is a member. Seven tables were in play, at the conclusion of which handsome souvenirs were presented those having the highest scores. The fortunate ladies to receive these were Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell and Mrs. John Lawry, and the equally fortunate gentlemen were Theo. Craig and Geo. T. Magee. Following the whist there was vocal and instrumental music by Frank Craig, Mrs. Craig, Master Newman Savage and William Wilson, and a mirth provoking game entitled "Nancy's Naughty Baby." Refreshments were served during the evening and at a late hour the guests departed for their homes having enjoyed an unusually pleasant evening.

FURNITURE
PRICES.

It's a common thing in these days of sharp competition for a firm to advertise for a day some one article at cost, for the purpose of misleading buyers into thinking all their prices are on the same basis.

Our policy is to sell all goods at a uniformly low price.

Money saved is money earned.

Our furniture prices are the lowest in New England, will you profit by them.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Councilman Nichols said the Council was faced with a communication of the Mayor which claimed the amount was in excess of the limit. He would like to hear from the Finance Committee.

Chairman Freeman said he had sought information at the State House, and had ascertained that the Assessors alone can notify the Council that the amount is in excess of the limit. He has requested the Board of Assessors to pass upon the amount, but they have refused to do so until July or August. At present no official can state that the amount is in excess.

Different Councilmen then asked as to increases in particular items over the estimates of the Mayor. These included: removal of snow, miscellaneous city, horses and harnesses in the Fire Department, fire alarm, Assessors department, repair of public buildings, etc. The answers seemed to be generally satisfactory as they were not questioned.

Upon roll call the appropriation order was passed 19 to 2, as follows:

YEAS—Alden, Bass, Callahan, Craig, DeNormandie, Elcock, Faxon, Freeman, Gassett, Hadlock, Hughes, Hultman, Langelier, McLennan, Nichols, Nicol, Smith, Spargo and Thompson —19.

NAYS—Adams and Sherman.

Absent—Newcomb.

Not Voting—President Bryant.

A Granite Palace.

News comes from Rockland, Me., that Stonington contractors will furnish stone for the palatial residence soon to be erected on Long island by Howard Gould. Within a few days Mr. Gould's yacht Niagara paid a visit to Deer Isle and Mr. and Mrs. Gould made a personal inspection of the Goss quarries on Crotch island, together with Mr. Gould's master builder, Mr. Murdock. The trio expressed themselves pleased with the granite and the arrangements for handling and transporting it.

On the Diamond

Philadelphia, April 23.—Pitcher White, who came here from the Georgetown college club, made his National league debut and Brooklyn's defeat was principally due to his excellent work. He was in fine form, had perfect control and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. Philadelphia had no trouble with Kitson's delivery.

Anxiety Over Missing Steamer

Halifax, April 23.—Steamer Lusitania, which left St. John on Friday for Halifax and Liverpool, has not yet arrived. The steamer was to have embarked Canadian mails and passengers at this port on Saturday. She has not been reported by any of the steamers which came over the same route. Dense fog has prevailed over a wide area for three days, and it is thought that the captain of the steamer ran his ship to sea on account of thick mist on the shore.

Van Wyk's Veto of No Avail

Albany, April 23.—Governor Odell last night signed the Greater New York charter amendment bill, passed over Mayor Van Wyck's veto yesterday by the legislature. It is chapter 466 of the laws of 1901.

Commandant Boksburg Surrenders

Pretoria, April 23.—The force under Commandant Boksburg, composed of 106 men, with wagons and rifles, have surrendered near Middleburg, Transvaal colony.

New Coal Fields Discovered

Copenhagen, April 23.—It is reported that great coal deposits have been discovered on the east coast of Iceland.

Floods Cause Drowning Accidents

Marietta, O., April 23.—A boat containing nine men was carried under a wharf here yesterday by the swift current, and Joseph Everett was drowned. Later two boys named Hanley, aged 7 and 14, were drowned at the same place.

Glen Falls, N. Y., April 23.—One hundred feet of a coffer dam at Spier Falls went out yesterday, owing to the high water. Frank Smith was thrown into the river and drowned.

Subscribers Not Backward

London, April 23.—It is estimated in financial circles that the $150,000,000 of the new loan offered to the public has already been covered five times, and the subscription list will probably close today.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. ### How Niagara Wears the Rock.

All who have been to Niagara know that the cataract is divided by Goat island, the larger portion of the fall being on the Canadian side of the river. This part is known as the Horseshoe fall and was so named because years ago it was identical with a horseshoe in shape. A few years ago a V shaped break occurred toward the New York side, and since then other changes have taken place, until today the Horseshoe fall is more like its original form, but clearly shows the effects of the wearing of the waters.

Many people fail to see how the falls wear the rock away, and this is a little mystery until the exact conditions are realized. The ledge of rock over which the water of both the American and Horseshoe falls flow is of hard limestone. It is all of 60 feet thick and naturally very heavy. Underneath this ledge of limestone there are the shales of the Niagara locality. This soft rock is many feet thick. The rock of the Horseshoe fall is unprotected, and as the water falls over the precipice and boils in the river below it washes away the soft shale beneath the limestone, so that the limestone is left in sheflike form, projecting far out into the gorge. Observant visitors to the falls have no doubt noticed this condition.

In the course of time the shale foundation of the limestone ledge is excavated to such a point that the unsupported ledge breaks away by its own weight, and the crest line of the Horseshoe fall recedes so much farther. Then the water attacks the newly exposed shale, and in time the process outlined is repeated. This has been going on for centuries, and it will continue until the falls of Niagara are no more.—Philadelphia Record.

The Preacher Was Glad She Swore.

The daughter of a well known clergyman in Washington had a severe attack of scarlet fever when she was 3 years old which resulted in deafness. Up to that time she had been a regular little chatterbox, doing her infantile best to carry out the proverbial:

Being a woman, she'll talk forever!

Upon her recovery her parents were nearly heartbroken to find that she had not only lost her hearing, but the power of speech as well. Whether she had really forgotten how to talk or whether it was obstinacy or lack of confidence they could not determine, but despite all efforts of the best tutors the child remained a mute.

One day when she was nearly 10 years of age she was playing with a cat, and with as much cruelty as though she were of the sterner sex she used its tail as a handle with which to pick it up. The poor animal, not appreciating the economic use of the aforesaid tail, inflicted a deep scratch across the chubby little hand.

"Damn that cat!" she said, flinging it down.

And her father, devout clergyman as he was, clasped his hands and, raising his eyes to heaven, exclaimed:

"Thank God, that child has spoken at last!"—Detroit Free Press.

The House That Tresham Built.

One of the curiosities of architecture in England is, according to The Stone Trades Journal, the house erected about 300 years ago at Rushton, in Northamptonshire, by Sir Thomas Tresham, a Roman Catholic, who wished by his design to typify the Trinity.

The house is all threes, has three sides, three stories and three windows on each flat, each of them in the shape of the trefoil—the three leaved shamrock. Where the roofs meet rises a three sided pyramid, terminating in a large trefoil. The smoke escapes from this chimney by three round holes on each side of the three sides. The building is almost covered with mottoes and carvings, three Latin inscriptions, one on each of the three sides, having 33 letters in each. Three angles on each side bear shields. Over the door is the text from the Vulgate, "There are three that bear record." Inside the house each corner is cut off from each of the three main rooms, so that on every floor there are three three sided apartments.

Architectural Oddities.

At Frankfort-on-the-Main there is one street in which two houses on opposite sides of the street lean over so far that their roofs meet over the street. In one of these houses Lord Rothschild was born. In Paris, on the other hand, it is noticeable that the builders intentionally construct the houses so that they lean backward slightly to add to their stability. But almost in the center of Paris there is one big stone building which leans out fully 3½ feet over the sidewalk. So solid, however, are the Paris buildings that this one is claimed to be safe.—Pearson's Weekly.

Told the Truth.

Mother—Now, Georgie, I shall tell your papa to punish you severely for telling an untruth. You said you didn't touch one of those six peaches, and there is only one left, and I found the five stones in your nursery.

Georgie—I told no story, mamma. The peach I didn't touch is the one that's left.

Spoiled His Breakfast.

"How is the landlady this morning?" asked one of the boarders.

"Threatening and cooler," answered the man with the newspaper, misunderstanding the question.

And the other boarder, who was notoriously slow in settling with the landlady, looked partly cloudy.—Chicago Tribune.

All There.

She—How many pictures have you painted since you first began?

He—Oh, I haven't any idea.

She—Some day I am coming around to your studio and count them.—Exchange.

GRANITE STRIKE.

One Is Probable at Cape Ann---Workmen Ask Advance.

Dispatches from Cape Ann indicate that a general strike among the granite workers of that place is likely to occur May 1. The men have presented their demand to the manufacturers and an unfavorable reply has already been received from one firm.

The chief change demanded by the men is an increase in the price for cutting pavers and "motions" to $2.50 per thousand. There are eleven other articles in the bill asked.

The Rockport Granite Co. have replied that while able to grant some of the provisions asked for, they are unable to acquiesce to the main demands, on account of dull times and keen competition.

A meeting of the men is to be held tonight to discuss the situation, and the men declare that unless a satisfactory settlement is reached before May 1, work will be stopped.

Quadruple Drowning Accident

Erie, Pa., April 23.—Four men, belonging to the Rockefeller fleet laid up in the upper bay, went ashore in a yawl boat Sunday afternoon. They were drowned on their return, the first knowledge of the accident being the finding of the boat upside down yesterday. There was a fog on the bay and the sea was high.

Pigeon Killing Will Continue

Albany, April 23.—The bill prohibiting the shooting of live pigeons was killed in the assembly last night after a brief debate, it failing to receive the constitutional majority. The defeat of the measure was followed by charges and counter-charges of lobbying.

Children's Corner.

Does a Two-Year-Old Baby Pay?

(By J. H. D. in Detroit Free Press.)

PART II.

Ah! I hear his little feet pattering along out in the hall. I hear his little ripple of laughter because he has escaped from his mother and has found his way up to my study at a forbidden hour. But the door is closed. The worthless little vagabond can't get in, and I won't open it for him.

No, I won't. I can't be disturbed when I'm writing. He can just cry if he wants to. I won't be bothered for —"rat, tat, tat," go his dimpled knuckles on the door. I sit in silence.

"Rat, tat, tat."

I sit perfectly still.

"Papa."

No reply.

"Peeze, papa."

Grim silence.

"Baby tum in—peeze, papa."

He shall not come in.

"My papa."

I write on.

"Papa," says the little voice; "I lub my papa. Peeze let baby in!"

I am not quite a brute, and I throw open the door. In he comes with outstretched little arms, with shining eyes, with laughing face. I catch him up into my arms and his warm, soft little arms go around my neck, the not very clean little cheek is laid close to mine, the baby voice says sweetly:—

"I lub my papa."

Does he pay?

Well, I guess he does! He has cost me many anxious days and nights. He has cost me time and money and care and self-sacrifice. He may cost me pain and sorrow. He has cost much. But he has paid for it, again and again and again in whispering those three little words into my ears: "I lub papa."

Our children pay when their very first feeble little cries fills our hearts with the mother love and the father love that ought never to fail among all earthly passions.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

UNIVERSITIES REOPEN

Russian Students Make Suggestions to Government

ARE OF A MODERATE TONE

Demand For Recall of Absentees Is Modified Sufficiently to Receive Respectful Consideration by the Authorities—Text of Resolution

St. Petersburg, April 23.—The universities were reopened yesterday. With the permission of the minister of public instruction, General Van Novski, the students held a meeting and, after a four hours' debate, adopted the following resolution by a vote of 1561 to 228:

"The students, confiding in the government's benevolent intentions and desiring to give time to accomplish necessary reforms, resolve to beg the minister not to begin lectures in the spring, and to defer the examinations until autumn, when they could be attended by comrades who are now excluded, because in the contrary event, the difficulties might arise in the universities which we wish to avoid."

The students were entirely alone, except for the presence of the chief beadle. Ten addresses were made, most of them moderate, and the temper of the meeting was distinctly conservative.

The meeting, in a certain sense, was a continuation of that held Saturday, the same student presiding, but the more radical resolutions adopted Saturday were not accepted. The Saturday meeting had been forbidden, but the rector finally opened the hall and 400 students were present. They demanded the recall of the absent students.

It is believed that the resolutions adopted yesterday will render those passed Saturday nugatory, and will receive respectful consideration by the government. One of the speakers yesterday related a conversation he had Sunday with Senator Aeschaninoff and the new minister, M. Mechianinoff, who emphasized the statement that the government could not receive categorical demands from the students, but expressed the belief that if the students behaved moderately the absentees would be recalled before the summer.

The university students will meet again today to receive the answer of the authorities to their resolution.

Legal Battle Over Old Shoes

Binghamton, N. Y., April 23.—Captain George C. Broome, who served in the Spanish-American war and will represent Nicaragua as commissioner at the Pan-American exposition, has brought suit here to recover possession of three pairs of old shoes which he left with a local cobbler for repairs. About $10 is involved in the suit. The cobbler has engaged as one of his attorneys United States Attorney Curtis, assisted by Assistant United States Attorney Armes. Captain Broome has resolved to fight the matter to the bitter end.

Thinks Americans Lack Courage

Cambridge, Mass., April 23.—"If the United States is to free itself from political corruption the individual himself must be purified," said Bishop Potter of New York in a lecture to Harvard students last night. "The trouble in America is that the people lack moral courage. They let things slide along as they please and allow their towns and cities to become buried under a load which cannot be shaken off. In this respect England is far above America. Her people are more honest to themselves and to their country.

What It Costs to Run New York

New York, April 23.—Controller Coler's report for the year 1900, which was made public yesterday, shows that the city, for running expenses and improvements, spent last year the sum of $135,000,000. This sum is said to fairly represent the average yearly expenditure of the city. Including balances turned over to the credit of the city for last year, the income of the New York treasury for 1900 was $178,877,296.33.

Secretary Long's Niece Dead

Boston, April 23.—Miss Ruth Cordis Long, a niece of Secretary of the Navy Long, and a well known singer, died at her home in Dorchester. Miss Long had been ill with pneumoula, and the shock sustained by the death of her mother, which occurred on April 14, is thought to have caused her death. Miss Long was 37 years old. For several years she was contralto soloist at the Portland musical festival.

Giant Wins Another Match

St. Louis, April 23.—Nouralah, the Bulgarian wrestler, gained an easy victory over Charles Wittmer, the Cincinnati heavyweight wrestler, last night, winning two straight falls in exactly five minutes. The match was at catch-as-catch-can style, best two in three falls, all holds to go. Nouralah tipped the beam at 354, and Wittmer at 215 pounds.

The Boat Capsized

Woodsville, N. H., April 23.—Harry Randall, 15 years old, was out on the Ammonoosuc river in a boat with Ollie Eastman, when the boat struck a floating tree, and capsized. Eastman gave Randall all the assistance he could, but was finally compelled to leave him, and Randall was drowned.

Coal Steamer Stranded

Montreal, April 23.—Steamship Ashanti, Tyne for Montreal, with 3000 tons of coal, is aground near River Branch, 190 miles below Quebec. A wreck pierced the ship's bottom, and one tank is flooded. Assistance has been sent from Quebec.

TO KILL THE KAISER

Man Said to Have Been Formally Chosen by Conspirators at Paterson

Berlin, April 23.—With reference to the statements cabled from the United States of a plot said to have been concocted against Emperor William and other European rulers by anarchists in Argentina and New Jersey, extreme reticence is observed in official circles in Berlin.

After careful investigation, however, a representative of the Associated Press ascertained in a reliable quarter that the Berlin police presidency issued an order, April 6, for the arrest, wherever caught, of the alleged anarchist Rodolf Romagnoli. The order simultaneously requested all inland and foreign authorities to assist in apprehending Romagnoli. Photographs of the alleged anarchist, with a minute description after the Bertillon method were furnished for identification.

The information received by the Berlin authorities was that Romagnoli had been formally chosen by the alleged nest of conspirators in Paterson, N. J., to murder Emperor William. They were furthermore informed that he left Buenos Ayres, March 27, on board the steamer Halle for Bremen. Whether this information is correct they have no means of knowing, but since a portion of it came officially, they are inclined to give it credence.

Emperor William has been advised as to the situation, and has issued strict orders to the president of the Berlin police to keep him informed as to all similar news, but that the matter is not to be brought to the attention of the empress.

It is a fact that for some months the Berlin police have kept a very close watch upon known anarchists in the city, and an unusually careful surveillance of arrivals known or suspected to be of anarchist affiliations.

More Fighting For Russia

London, April 23.—According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to The Daily Mail, official information has been received that renewed military activity is beginning in Manchuria. Chinese troops to the number of 27,000 are strongly entrenched at three points around Mukden. They are armed with good Mauser rifles and have 30 Krupp guns. Admiral Alexieff has accordingly organized an expedition under General Zerpinsky, consisting of two regiments and five sotnias of Cossacks, 16 guns and a body of volunteers to operate against the three points. The first movement was successfully carried out in the beginning of April. In this action the Russians had 13 killed and 4 officers and 18 men wounded.

Took Poison In Family's Presence

Boston, April 23.—In a little one-room tenement at 14 North square, while her husband and children were at supper last night, Carmella Turco, 35 years old, took a dose of paris green. Seven years ago John Turco, a master plumber, lost his wife, she leaving him with two small children. He wrote to friends in Italy to send him a woman fitted to become his wife. Carmella was sent, and as Turco was considered wealthy she was thought fortunate. The two were married and seemingly lived happily. Lately, however, Carmella has seemed unhappy and morose. The doctors say there is but slight hope of her recovery.

Telephone Companies to Combine

Chicago, April 23.—President Clark of the Chicago Telephone company admits that active measures are under way to organize the telephone business of the country into one large concern, with headquarters in this city. It is claimed the combination will affect the telephone business in New York, Boston, Pittsburg, Duluth, Milwaukee, Chicago, Buffalo, Cincinnati, St. Paul, Detroit, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Denver and Minneapolis.

Became Insane In Jail

Fall River, Mass., April 23.—Martin English, for 20 years a showman in New England, was taken to the city hospital last night a raving maniac. English came here some time ago with Mrs. Annie Benoit, whose husband accused the woman of having deserted him, and she and English were arrested last week, charged with an offense against morality. While confined in jail English became suddenly insane.

What Perseverance Can Do

Chicago, April 23.—George S. Dobbins, who has been wholly blind for 18 years, graduated yesterday with honors from the Chicago homoeopathic medical college. During his four years' course at the college, Dobbins devoted all his efforts to diseases of the lungs, chest and respiratory organs, being guided altogether by sound.

Almanac, Wednesday, April 24.

The storm which has long existed over the south Atlantic states has turned abnormally to the northwestward. It has practically dissipated, although rain will continue in New England. On the coast the winds will be fresh east to northeast.

LOVE'S DREAM DISPELLED

Youngsters of Romantic Turn of Mind Had Intended to Elope

London, April 23.—At the National Sporting club last night Jack Roberts of England knocked out Billy Smith, the American, in the eighth round. The fight was for the nine-stone championship of England.

After the fight Smith was removed to a hospital, where he was still unconscious at 6 o'clock this morning. It is feared that his injuries will prove fatal.

Smith is a New Yorker and resides on Manhattan island. His fighting before he crossed the Atlantic showed him to be a boxer of fine promise, and his American friends counted on his defeating Roberts, although it was expected that he would have a hard fight on his hands. Roberts is the best featherweight who has figured in England of recent years, and has never been defeated.

Once a Lawyer, Now a Vagrant

Boston, April 23.—"It would be a long story, your honor," said Bernard Padden in the Dorchester police court, when asked why he was a vagrant and had no home. Padden said he was a lawyer, and formerly practiced in Providence, but beyond these meagre facts the police could gather up nothing regarding the man's identity or his previous history. He contented himself by the terse answer, as quoted, and the supplementary brief answer that it would take too long to tell the whole story. Padden was sentenced to two months at the house of correction. He appealed, and his story may be told in the superior court.

Burglars' Victim Dies

Rutland, Vt., April 23.—Charles P. Campbell, who was shot at Wallingford on Friday evening by burglars, who, it is thought, had planned to rob the factory where he was bookkeeper, died yesterday. Campbell became unconscious after he had dragged himself from the factory to a hotel, and he did not recover sufficiently to give any details of the affair. Miss Goldurtz of Staten Island, N. Y., to whom Campbell was to have been married on Wednesday of this week, and her brother, reached here yesterday.

Probably Carried Out Her Threat

Manchester, N. H., April 23.—Nellie Fountain, aged about 29, left her boarding place Sunday night, leaving a note behind in which she said she was going to drown herself in the canal at the Manchester mill gate. She was in poor health and her sufferings are thought to have turned her brain. Watchmen are stationed at the lower wier of the canal in which she said she was going to drown herself. She was an employe of the Manchester mills.

No Reflection Upon Missionaries

Boston, April 23.—The executive officers of the American Board have received from President Tucker of Dartmouth college a communication in which he repudiates the construction put upon a recent sermon delivered by him in Boston, in which it was alleged that he had reflected upon the conduct of the missionaries in China. He stated that the Christian nations, and not the Christian missionaries, had discredited missionary work.

Two Victims of Lightning

Chester, Vt., April 23.—The first thunder storm of the year in this vicinity resulted fatally to two men in the town of Grafton, yesterday. A man named Hughes was struck by lightning and instantly killed, and another man named Tuttle was fatally injured. Several other men were more or less severely injured by the bolt. The men were shearing sheep in Hughes' barn when the lightning struck the building.

Probably Sunk In Mud

Lakeville, Conn., April 23.—The third day's search for the body of Otis Sawyer, drowned in the lake here, has been entirely unsuccessful. Submarine electric lights were carried to the bottom yesterday, and a diver covered the entire lake bed in the vicinity of the spot where the young man went down. It is thought that the body has sunk in the mud on the lake bottom, making recovery almost impossible.

Not to Consolidate Just Yet

Fall River, Mass., April 23.—No little stir was made here yesterday by published statements made that a further attempt to consolidate the print cloth mills of New England and the southern states was on foot, and that J. P. Morgan & Co. were behind the movement. Inquiry among leading mill men brought out statements that the reports have no foundation in fact.

Depositors Needlessly Worried

Lawrence, Mass., April 23.—The auditing committe appointed by the Lawrence Savings bank completed their labors last night. They found that the accounts and securities of the bank are all right. Some of the depositors were worried because Treasurer Spaulding resigned last week.

Salmon Plentiful and Large

Bucksport, Me., April 23.—The catch of salmon in this vicinity is the largest for years at this time of the season. The fish are plenty and running large. Fishermen are netting 50 cents a pound. No shad or alewives have yet made their appearance.

Arbitrators to Take a Hand

Watertown, Mass., April 23.—The employes of the Hood Rubber company, who struck last Wednesday, were paid off yesterday, and dispersed without causing any trouble. Superintendent Mason announces that the state board of arbitration will take the matter up.

Missing From Soldiers' Home

Togus, Me., April 23.—Julius Mueller has been missing from the soldiers' home for three weeks and foul play is feared. He went out on a pass to visit his summer camp, but search by the home officials show that he did not go there.

There is no anxiety, no dread of the approaching time of travail. When the birth hour comes it is practically painless, the recovery is rapid, and the mother finds herself abundantly able to nurse her child.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge, and so obtain without cost the advice of a specialist in the diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Annie Blacker, 629 Catherine Street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby. I have recommended your medicines to several of my friends and they have been benefited by them."

GROGAN'S ACCUSATION

Called Eastman a Murderer When Dying

IDENTITY OF FATAL BULLET

May Be Questioned by the Defense—Witness For Prosecution Admits Performing Second Autopsy Without Notification to the Defense

Cambridge, Mass., April 24.—The places of the large number of jurymen who were excused from further attendance on the trial of Charles R. Eastman in the superior criminal court were occupied by women yesterday, drawn there, not by curiosity, but by the summons of the court to give evidence in the case.

Assistant District Attorney Sanderson made the opening statement for the government, describing in detail the relationship of the accused and the deceased, the premises on which they lived and the surroundings of the place where the shooting occurred. The government would show, he said, that after the shooting the two men were seen to be struggling for what appeared to be a large revolver; that Grogan was heard to shout: "Oh, don't. Oh, don't," followed by "Charles, you have murdered me;" also that Grogan made these statements just before his death:

"Charles Eastman murdered me. He shot me twice and he did it purposely;" and "there is the man who shot me," pointing to Eastman. He also claimed that Eastman must have been close to Grogan when the former's clothes were burned by the shot from a pistol, which, he says, was fired at him by Grogan.

The chief witness yesterday was medical Examiner William D. Swan, who gave in detail his examination of Grogan's body. The cause of death was a hemorrhage, resulting from a bullet wound in the chest. The bullet passed downward from the outside, stopping in the lower margin of the fifth rib.

A hint of what may turn out to be a portion of the defense in the trial was presented in the cross-examination of Dr. Swan by Counsel Bartlett, who asked questions with reference to the number of times the witness had seen the bullet he had extracted from the body of Richard H. Grogan. Dr. Swan said he had seen it twice—once in October before the grand jury, and once in the office of the district attorney later in the year. The manner in which these and other questions were put led many to conclude that the defense would maintain that the bullet exhibited in court was not the one taken from Grogan's body.

The disclosure on the part of the witness that he had performed a second autopsy on the body of Grogan at the tomb in Mount Auburn cemetery was the sensational bit of testimony of the day. Dr. Swan, accompanied by Medical Examiner Durrell, State Detective Whitney and an undertaker, went to the tomb and the witness removed from Grogan's body a piece of the fifth rib and a fragment of the bone which he had sawed at the first autopsy. Witness admitted that the defense was not represented at the autopsy, nor had any notice of the intention to hold the autopsy been given the defense.

Struck Reef and Sank

Louisburg, C. B., April 24.—The schooner Verbena, Captain Reid, bound from here to St. Lawrence, N. F., with a cargo of coal, struck on a reef at Green island last night, and almost instantly sank to the bottom. The crew had just time to jump into a dory and row away from danger. They succeeded in reaching port two hours later in an exhausted condition, having lost everything but the clothes they had on.

Must Have More Money

London, April 24.—In the house of commons yesterday various members sharply criticized the budget's increase of the income tax, and the chancellor of the exchequer replied that more money must be raised somehow. He hoped that the additional taxation might bring home to the country the virtues of economy. The income tax resolution was adopted by 363 to 88 votes.

Robbery Charge Against Callahan

Omaha, April 24.—James Callahan, arrested in connection with the kidnapping on Dec. 18, 1900, of Edward Cudahy, Jr., was yesterday brought before Judge Baker for trial on the charge of robbery of $25,000, which is the amount of ransom paid by Mr. Cudahy for the return of his boy. A jury was secured after some delay, and the prosecution will begin offering testimony today.

Alleged Would-Be Murderers Held

New York, April 24.—Girio Buttaonvalo and Francesca Spinella, charged with burying a baby alive in a lonesome spot near the New York Central tracks at Hastings, were yesterday held for the Westchester county grand jury. The prisoners refused to discuss the case, but declared they were not the parents of the child.

STRIKE AT NAVY YARD

Men With Alleged Grievances Fired Out by Marines

Boston, April 24.—A strike on the new dry dock at the navy yard caused momentary excitement yesterday, and resulted in several strikers and a walking delegate of the Hoisting Engineers' union being rounded up and thrown out of the yard by a detail of marines.

One of the union officials visited the work at the yard, and had a talk with the 10 engineers of the derrick and engine crews. After the noon hour, six of the engineers, members of the union, refused to return to work unless a demand for eight hours' work and increased pay was granted.

They were told that they had accepted their jobs under the present conditions and had been satisfied to work under them up till then; if they were dissatisfied they could quit. They struck and attempted to prevail upon the other men to quit work, but without success.

The delegate and the strikers were persistent, and the contractors' boss ordered them off. They refused to go, whereupon Captain Barclay, captain of the yard, was notified. He sent a marine officer and a squad of guards to enforce the contractors' command, and to see that there was no disturbance. Upon the matters reaching this state some of the men who were familiar with yard methods guessed what action had been taken, and quietly withdrew from the yard. Several others, one being the delegate, did not, and they were promptly gathered in by the marines and escorted to the gate, where they were told to stay out of the yard. In all eight men joined in the strike.

Mrs. Rathbun's Trial Begun

New Haven, April 24.—Accused of the murder of her husband by poison intended for her paramour, Ann M. Rathbun, a woman of middle age, and the mother of four children, was yesterday placed on trial in the superior criminal court. By the time of adjournment eight jurors had been secured out of the special panel of 100 men. The poisoning occurred on Dec. 20 last, when Rathbun and John Hart were made violently sick by coffee from the latter's dinner pail, which, it is alleged, was filled by Mrs. Rathbun the night before. Hart was at first held in connection with the case, but was later released, after confessions of intimacy with Mrs. Rathbun; which led to the recent conviction on a charge of adultery.

Days of Usefulness Over

Boston, April 24.—The historic old United States ship Minnesota, which will be turned back to the government by the state authorities next Saturday, will not be towed to Norfolk as an auxiliary receiving ship at that point, as was practically determined a few weeks ago. An investigation has shown that it would be impossible to safely tow the old hulk to Norfolk. Orders from Washington came to the navy yard yesterday to appoint a board of survey, appraise and condemn the old ship, as soon as she was turned over, the purpose being to sell her.

Ashore on Bible Rock

Portland, Me., April 24.—Captain Nicholson of the steamer Mora, from Louisburg, which arrived here last night, reported that a large two-masted steamer is ashore on Bible rock, between Wells and Ogunquit. The steamer is thought to be the Hamburg-American liner Drumelzia, bound from Hamburg for Portland. Captain Nicholson said the ship was in a rather bad position, in the breakers, and it is probable that those on board were unable to reach the shore as ask for assistance. He could not approach the distressed vessel.

Tried to Pass Bad Check

Medford, Mass., April 24.—F. W. Harrison yesterday afternoon presented at the Medford National bank what purported to be a check for $25, drawn on the Medford National bank by Dr. F. W. Draper of Boston. The bank officials called an officer and had the man arrested, after they were satisfied that the signature to the check was a forgery.

Coasters Short of Provisions

Nantucket, Mass., April 24.—The foggy weather and high easterly winds which have prevailed here for the past 15 days continue, the fog being very dense. A large fleet of coasters caught in the sound during the northeast gale of the 15th are still riding at anchor near Handkerchief lightship. All are short of provisions.

Booms to Catch Stray Logs

Gardiner, Me., April 24.—The Kennebec river has again risen very fast. The Kennebec Central railroad track at Randolph is under water. Booms have been strung at different points along the river to catch the logs which broke at the North Anson boom, and it is thought they will all be captured.

Campbell May Have Killed Himself

Rutland, Vt., April 24.—The theory is becoming stronger that the somewhat mysterious shooting affair in which Charles F. Campbell, a bookkeeper for a firm in this city, lost his life, may not have been a murder, and the belief that the man died at his own hands now seems to be a plausible one.

CITY FATHERS' PLANS

Cause Commotion Among the People of Gloucester

AN ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS

Called For by a Councilman Who Declares the City to Be in a Bad Plight—Proposition of an Alderman Touches Purses of Taxpayers

Gloucester, Mass., April 24.—Citizens of Gloucester are stirred up over two acts of the city government last night because of their sensational nature, and one of them at least is likely to cause an uprising among the taxpayers. One calls for the purification of the city by the police, and the other aims at the settlement of a law suit that involves an expense to the city of $850,000.

Both branches of the city government met and in the lower body Councilman Gorman presented a set of resolutions with a preamble calling for the enforcement of the law against the illegal sale of liquor, against houses of ill fame, games of chance and gambling dens, and also the selling of cigarets to minors. The resolutions which he embodied in an order took the council by surprise.

Councilman Gorman, in a sharp speech, scored the city government in pointed terms, saying among other things that the city is in the worst plight of any year in its history. It was bad enough last year, he said, and there had been no improvement this year. He demanded that reform be instituted without delay, and that this reform should take the nature of a general purification of the entire city. The order went through the council and then through the board of aldermen without delay.

In the upper board Alderman McQuin created a sensation by an order calling for the appointment of a committee of six with absolute power to settle the suit of the estate of George H. Norman of Newport against the city of Gloucester, which involves the adjudication of the question of water supply, a matter which has been in the courts for about eight years.

The suit is now rated at about $850,000, and dates from the time the city voted to take the water service for itself by right of eminent domain. Mr. Norman had control of the water system, and his compensation was left to a board of arbitration. It was finally decided that the property was worth $600,000, and that he was entitled to 6 percent interest until final settlement. The decision of the arbitrators was carried on exceptions to the courts and is now before the Massachusetts supreme court on matters of law, and its status is that of a case in the last stage of settlement. The order passed both branches as quickly as did that of Councilman Gorman.

The startling thing about the water case is that after being fought for eight years at tremendous expense a committee of six men is given the right to practically nullify the court proceedings and settle the case as they think best. This is the effect of the order, and it is expected to not only rouse the taxpayers, but is likely to lead to attempts to secure injunctions to prevent the settlement in this way.

This order, as that of Councilman Gorman, has yet to go to the mayor for his signature.

Doctor's Bill of $160,000

Pittsburg, April 24.—The executors of the estate of the late C. L. Magee have determined that the claim of Dr. Walter C. Browning for the sum of $190,000 for professional services during the illness of the senator will have to be passed upon by the court before the bill is settled. Dr. Browning is credited with saying that the late senator had even offered him $300,000 for his services, and that the bill rendered was in keeping with the actual contract he had made with the senator.

Says Porto Rico Is Prospering

Washington, April 24.—The first annual report on the affairs of the island of Porto Rico was presented to Secretary Hay yesterday by Governor Allen. A large portion of the report deals with the formation and operation of the civil government of Porto Rico, and shows that status to which it has developed. Generally speaking it says the island is in a prosperous condition.

To Investigate Race Track Gambling

New York, April 24.—At the meeting of the board of aldermen yesterday Alderman Wentz, Republican, introduced and had passed a resolution appointing a committee to investigate race track gambling in New York. He said that the violations of the law were open and flagrant, and he had reason to believe that the police were in league with the race track men.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.
My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.
Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Good Afternoon

That is good advice of a Ledger reader to Quincy people, particularly during this rainy season, viz: That we make our own sunshine. despondency should be banished, and everybody make the most of the situation. We never had but one storm that did not give way to sunshine.

That triangular plot of land bounded by Copeland, West and Common streets could with a small outlay be made very attractive. The plot now is covered with blocks of granite. If these were used to fill up the holes and then the whole sowed down with grass West Quincy would have as pretty a park as any section of the city.

Isn't it small of the rich towns of Brookline and Milton and rich cities of Newton and Cambridge to kick, over park assessments. Any one of the four can pay the awards of the commissioners without pinching themselves in the least, which is more than can be said of Quincy and other cities whose per capita valuation is very much smaller. It is only another case where the rich want the best end of the bargain, regardless of the burden upon others.

The Finance Committee of the City Council made a poor stand relative to the salaries of the Assistant Assessors.

The arguments of Principal Assessor Thompson were so convincing that none of the committee had a word to offer in favor of their report. If the gentlemen appointed find 100 more polls than cheaper men would find, they will more than make good the increase in salary. Perhaps they will find 200 to 300 more.

South Quincy people say that ten times as many people daily cross the railroad tracks south of the Quincy Adams station than between the Beale street and Adams street bridges, but that an attempt to get a foot bridge would be sure to meet defeat. For this reason, and it is a pretty good one, they are against the proposed Warren avenue foot bridge, which at present is having rather hard sledding. It is one of the things which can wait. The city is in more need of sidewalks.

There are several good reasons in favor of the order to locate the Police Station in the old Steamer house on School street. One is to get it out of City Hall, and thereby purify the whole building. Another that the Police department may have adequate accommodations. Another that the School street property which is owned by the city may be utilized; at present it is going to ruin and is a disgrace to the city. In a new location a start can be made toward securing some of the improvements which the department seem to need, viz: a police signal system, a patrol wagon, a separation of the sexes, separate quarters for tramps, etc.

How different the attitude of the City Council this year to the $12 per $1000 limit on current expenses. Last year the Council passed an amendment increasing the School appropriation, but when Councilman Freeman raised the point that it was in excess of the limit, the President ruled the point well taken, and declared the amendment null and void, and there it rested.

This year the Mayor, in a formal communication, notified the City Council that the appropriations were in excess of the limit, but instead a reducing then, the City Council increased them, and at the same time reduced the receipts available by increasing the water maintenance item $1000, which is to be met from water rates. Inasmuch as the Mayor is on record, that the appropriations are in excess of the limit, he would hardly be justified in signing the appropriation order. The City Charter permits him to veto any item of the order, and it would not be surprising if he availed himself of this privilege.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Pay cash, and buy in large quantities, and you will pay only half as much as the man who buys in small quantities, and on credit. It pays to save your money. If you want to get coal and wood cheap, buy in summer. Your head was not intended entirely for singing coon songs. — Atchison Globe.

☞The bill making the time limit for supplemental poll tax assessments in Boston August 20 instead of October 1, might be extended to cover the entire state. Two and a half months gives ample opportunity for a voter to discover whether his name is on the voting list or not and to have it placed there and the measure will serve as a great preventitive of fraud which undoubtedly is practiced in the majority of cities of the state, although, of course to a greater extent in Boston and the larger places.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞Let us beware always of cant. And particularly of international and racial cant, which is the parent of those wholesale prejudices and enmities that threaten to make wars perpetual and divide all mankind broadly into three classes—soldiers, pensioners and taxpayers. The duel is no doubt a survival of the brutal ages of so-called "chivalry." But there are other survivals of those ages, and—well, let us shun international cant!—New York World.

☞One of the curious things in life is the fact that so many people want to see the streets denuded of trees until the denudation takes place, and then the same people want other trees set out to take the places of those that have just been cut down We had that same experience in this city. For years there was a loud cry to have the trees along the main streets cut away. This was quite the fashion and the city became quite metropolitan, with its streets rapidly becoming bare of forestry. Then, after many of the big fellows had been chopped away, the sentiment changed. We all mourned the disappearance of the trees and their beauty and their grateful shade, and now the weight of sentiment hereabouts is strongly in favor of more trees, and the more the merrier. But it will take half a century to restore the work that a few hours sufficed to destroy.—Brockton Enterprise.

Missing.

The family of William Panton, formerly of Quincy are much concerned as to his whereabouts. Mr. Panton, who has resided at Randolph, left that town Monday morning to visit a man on Quincy avenue. He came to Quincy and called upon several parties. Later he was seen to take an East Milton car. Since that time he has not been heard from. Inquiry has been made at Quincy and Milton, but no trace of him could be found. Mr. Panton is in the vicinity of 80 years of age.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

POSTAL STATION

To Be Opened at South Quincy July 1.

One More Carrier to be Added.

Additional Deliveries in Some Parts of the City.

Frank N. Benson, senior substitute carrier at the Quincy post-office has been promoted to the permanent force and will go on duty as such May 1. This increases the force of permanent carriers attached to the Quincy office to twelve.

The growth of the office in Quincy during the past few years has been phenomenal. It was in 1890 under Postmaster Spear that free delivery was established in Quincy with four carriers. As business increased the free delivery system has been extended until now all parts of the city are covered. Wollaston, Atlantic and Houghs Neck having been included last year. So that whereas Quincy once had half a dozen post-offices it now has one central office with Charles L. Hammond as postmaster, and sub-stations at West Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, Quincy Point and Houghs Neck. To these will be added another station July 1, which will be located at the store of L. M. Pratt & Co. on School street.

Postmaster Hammond has been continually on the watch to improve the service of his office, and will receive the thanks of the business men at South Quincy and Quincy Neck for the increased service made possible by the addition of a new carrier.

For some time certain portions of business section at South Quincy have had three deliveries a day, but after May 1 all sections of this district will receive the benefit. This district will be covered by John D. Williams, who returns to duty after an illness of several months. The present carrier for this section takes in that part of Hancock street between the post-office and Williams corner and School street. Under the new plan he will be relieved of this section and will commence his delivery at L. M. Pratt & Co.'s store. This means that the business men will receive their mail three quarters of an hour earlier.

Quincy avenue and Howard street which includes the Fore River Ship and Engine Co. plant will also receive three deliveries instead of two as now.

Houghs Neck which now has one delivery will have two deliveries and the boxes on the outskirts of the city now collected in the morning by Carrier Dunham will be covered by carriers.

The new sub-station at L. M. Pratt & Co's. store, which will be established July 1, will be for the sale of stamps and the issuing of domestic money orders, and the registering of letters.

It will be seen by the above that the general service of the Quincy office will be greatly improved. Postmaster Hammond also promises further improvements as fast as the business warrants.

TODAY'S COURT.

The cases against Frederick Trentor, for keeping a liquor nuisance and for keeping and exposing liquor for sale at Quincy came up. Trentor entered a plea of nolo. The nuisance case was then placed on file and he was fined $50 upon the other.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

The members of the Wollaston Yacht club are getting their flyers into the water. The Mudjekeewis, Capt. A. L. Baker, and the Neptune, Capt. A. E. Linnell, are already in commission.

It seems natural to see signs of activity at the old George L. Miller plant on Miller street. The plant was taken some few weeks ago by John Reinhalter and business is booming.

Mrs. Alice Bates Rice, Mrs. Jeannette Noyes Rice, Mr. George Parker and Dr. George B. Rice will sing "In a Persian Garden" at the First church chapel tomorrow evening.

The concert in First church chapel tomorrow evening will be a treat to the music loving people of Quincy. The song cycle, "In a Persian Garden" will be sung by Boston talent under the direction of Mrs. Edith Noyes Porter.

Mr. Henry H. Faxon has given $100 to the Swedish Congregational Church, Quincy. As the congregation are going to rebuild their old church, because it is too small for the Sunday school and for special meetings, the sum was received with great thankfulness.

The street railway has had its open cars newly painted and varnished and they are now being put in condition for summer use. One thing noticeable about them this summer is the fact that they are entirely free from lettering, other than the signs giving their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tenney entertained on Monday evening at their home on Prospect avenue, the Edward Hewitson associates who are assisting in the instrumental music of the club this season. Mr. Lloyd B. Wright of Boston was the guest of the evening. A delightful time was enjoyed.

HOUGHS NECK.

If the weather ever comes out pleasant, there will be considerable building at Houghs Neck. Henry L. Mitchell of Dorchester is building a cottage on Littlefield street.

William J. O'Brien of Dorchester is to build a cottage on Turner street.

M. J. Sullivan of Roxbury is to build a cottage near the Red Lion.

Street Railway Unable to Use a New Car Barn.

Third Attempt at Brockton to Get Location.

Many Restrictions Placed the First Two Times.

It is said that the order introduced into the Quincy City Council this week, relative to locations and service on the street railway is a forerunner of a tilt between the city and the company, which may crop out when the order granting the Old Colony Company a location for a double track on Hancock street to the proposed car barn near Carruth street is considered.

In Brockton the company has built a new car barn but is unable to use it because there are no connecting tracks. The situation is similar to Quincy and will be understood from a partial report of a hearing given in Brockton Monday evening, taken from the Enterprise:

The board of aldermen gave a hearing to the Old Colony Street Railway Company Monday evening at 8 o'clock on its petition for the right to extend its tracks on Main street in Campello, for the purpose of connecting with the new carhouse of the company.

This petition is the third that has been presented by the company for this same privilege. The two which were sent in during 1900 were granted, with restrictions imposed which the road declined to accept. As a result, the carhouse, which was completed last year, has not been available for use as intended up to the present time.

There was a good crowd present at the hearing, and all the members of the board were in their places. Judge Warren A. Reed, with Supt. Horace B. Rogers, appeared in the interest of the petition, and the former made an extended argument for the granting of a franchise.

Judge Reed began by saying that this was the third time the company had appeared before the board with this same petition for extension. The aldermen of last year granted the road a franchise in May last, hedged about with requirements which if carried out by the company would mean an expense of about $10,000. In July another agreement was reached, in which certain restrictions which the road did not see fit to accept were imposed.

Now for the third time they came to the board for this extension. These proceedings he characterized as remarkable, in view of the importance of this matter. This question means much to the city, the road and the people.

To deprive the road of the use of its carhouse is an injustice to all of these, and the road, does not wish to assume the responsibility of discommoding the people for whose better service the new carhouse was built.

The road is already in possession of a franchise over Main street granted some years ago, from the boundary line of West Bridgewater, which incorporates every foot of the extension now asked, except for the turnout into the new carhouse. The tracks have actually been laid over the street where tracks are now asked. The only right which the company has not is to lay tracks over the six or eight feet across the sidewalk to connect with the new carhouse. In view of these things it is remarkable that a board of aldermen should have to be approached three times for the granting of this right.

There must be some reason why this petition was not granted last year, and it is proper to know what that reason is. For that purpose he called attention to the laws bearing upon this subject and its relation to these conditions. The commission through whose recommendations these laws resulted decided that there should be one responsible head in the matter of franchise grants, and the city was therefore made solely responsible.

As a result of these laws the street railways of Massachusetts are four times taxed, on property, dividends, franchise and through the excise tax. There has been in this State, and more so than in any other place to be mentioned, a fair and full endeavor to honestly show the duties of the railroads to the people.

If a money equivalent is paid for the care of streets in the form of a tax, then there should not be an additional consideration asked for acquiring a location. The law specifically says the city shall not impose restrictions in the granting of a franchise which are additional to those imposed by the original franchise under which the location was granted. That seems to cover this case exactly. That 100 feet of location ought not, in the interest of fairness, and in the interest of the city of Brockton and its people, to be so loaded with restrictions. When the increased traffic of the summer comes, there may be, as in the past, criticism of the inconvenience of service, but the responsibility must rest not with the company but where it belongs, on the city.

The road which was to do with the city in this matter desires to go on record as willing to carry on honest business relations with the city. The road has never been small or unjust in its treatment of the city, and there is no reason why it should not be honestly and fairly met.

He asked that a decision on the matter be given by the board as soon as possible, as the company feels the necessity of using the carhouse as early as may be. He stated further that in and out and around the carhouse of the company 300 men are daily employed.

From questions by the aldermen, it would appear that some of the restrictions were: The resurfacing of the street where new tracks are located, and the discontinuance of tracks to present car barn. There were no remonstrants heard.

The Month's Sunshine.

Up to midnight last night there had been less than 63 hours of sunshine this month out of a possible 303, the percentage of sunshine being a trifle over 20. Aprils in the past nine years have ranged between 43 and 73 per cent, the April of 1898 being the only time when sunshine did not predominate. The general average for the year round is a trifle over 55 per cent. sunshine, or a little more than half the time. In the last eight years May and November are the only months which have averaged less than one-half, while September has been the pleasantest. This is the fifth month out of the last seven where sunshine has not predominated, while December broke even. February, the exception, was a very pleasant month, and the pleasantest February with one exception for nine years. Thursday may be fair.

Dirigo Oil Company.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, of the Dirigo Oil Company.

H. A. Rideout of Wollaston Heights is one of three men who are successfully managing several valuable mining properties, gold, silver, zinc, lead and oil mines.

Several of our readers during the past two years have invested in these properties. Some of them have opened up very rich ore, which has made the values of the shares worth several times the amount paid for them.

Full particulars will be given by letter or person of H. A. Rideout, 7 Exchange Place, Boston, Mass.

Half a Million More.

The committee on metropolitan affairs of the Legislature held an executive session yesterday and voted to report two metropolitan park appropriation bills, one being a general deficiency bill for $450,000, and the other appropriation $100,000 for the completion of the Nantasket Beach reservation. A provision will be inserted in the latter bill that the money shall not be placed to the credit of the commission until it is actually needed.

I. O. O. F. Anniversary.

Morse, the humorist, will be one of the attractions at the 82d anniversary of Odd Fellowship to be celebrated by Mt. Wollaston lodge, No. 80, at Faxon hall this evening. The entertainment at 7.30 includes addresses, vocal and instrumental music, and the humorist. A supper will be served about 9 o'clock to be followed by dancing.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.
A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

Loomis In Good Standing

Washington, April 24.—Francis B. Loomis, United States minister to Venezuela, reported to Secretary Hay yesterday. The general tenor of his statement was that there has been no appreciable change in Venezuela since his last interview with President Castro, when the wishes of the United States government respecting the issues between the two countries were set out. Regarding the future, Mr. Loomis may return to Caracas, or may be provided for elsewhere in the diplomatic service as he chooses.

Two Captains and a Seaman Died

New York, April 24.—The four-masted ship Lyndhurst of London arrived here from Hiogo, Japan, after a voyage of 175 days. She arrived in command of Captain Taylor. On Nov. 4, Captain Beatty died of heart disease and was buried at sea. Captain Walters took charge of the ship, and on April 6 he died suddenly of apoplexy. On Dec. 5 Hans Stockfell, seaman, fell from the upper foretopgallant yard to the deck, and was instantly killed.

Father Suspected of Awful Crime

Chartres, France, April 24.—Suspicion in the brutal murder of five children, aged respectively 14, 11, 7, 5 and 4, which occured Monday at a farm in the neighborhood now falls upon the father of the murdered children, who has been arrested. It is suggested that the father murdered his children in a fit of drunken madness, as he spent the evening in drinking and as no trace of the alleged tramps has been found.

Talking Shop.

"Ah, fraulein, this is a beautiful place! The silver brook, with golden grapes hanging over it, dew glistening like diamonds on the leaves and the emerald green of the fields"—

"How poetic you are! Do you write verses?"

"No, fraulein; I'm a jeweler!"

Cadets' Conduct Being Investigaded

West Point, N. Y., April 24.—A court of inquiry has begun the investigation of a charge of breach of discipline on the part of several cadets of the military academy. Aggrieved cadets assembled on the parade ground under cover of darkness and indulged in yells, directed at the superintendent. They also removed the sunset gun from its position on the parade grounds and dragged it over in front of Colonel Mills' quarters, but were prevented from firing it by the appearance of several sentinels, who promptly reported the incident.

Burglary Charge Against Him

Hartford, April 24.—Henry Nichols of Brockton, Mass., was held under bonds of $1200 in the police court here until his record can be investigated. He is charged with burglary. He was found in the house of City Engineer Bunce, having entered it while the family was out.

Little Fellow Instantly Killed

Fitchburg, Mass., April 24.—While playing in the street near his father's home, Frank Stockdale, 3½ years old, was run over and instantly killed by an electric car. No arrests have been made.

A Morocco Superstition.

In a paper to the Anthropological institute Dr. Westermark showed from investigations in Morocco that the Arab ginn, or gnun, is regarded as a special race of beings created before Adam, of no fixed form and assuming, like Proteus, who was perhaps a personage of the same extraction, almost any shape they please. Bad ginns attack men, but are kept away by salt or steel and verses of the Koran. The author supposes that the belief in ginns has come down from a saltless and ironless age, but was absorbed and developed at a later time under the influence of Islam.

Children's Corner.

Make a Pet of the Rat.

"As a matter of fact," says a courageous writer in the Boston Transcript, "the common rat is a vastly more intelligent creature than the squirrel or the average cat. I am more than half convinced that the resources of the rat as a household pet would if fairly tested prove very great. The rat is undoubtedly capable of a higher and more intimate form of domestication than that which he now commonly assigns to himself. He is at present a resident of our houses on unwelcome terms, and he makes himself, quite naturally, as much an enemy of the household as possible.

"Let the rat be welcomed and made a friend of the family, as has been done in a few cases, and he becomes a different sort of fellow altogether. No longer forced to steal his food, he becomes a playmate and a companion. The sleek and well groomed gray rat is, barring the ordinary baldness of his tail, quite as pretty and graceful a creature as the squirrel, and there is no reason why we should not become so much accustomed to the appearance of his tail that in time we should regard it as quite ornamental."

To Punish Johnny.

Francis Parkman, the historian, had a Mosaic idea of justice. A friend met him one day walking along the street leading a street boy with either hand. "What in the world are you doing, Parkman?" asked his friend. "I found that Johnny here had eaten all of the apple instead of dividing with his little brother. I am going to buy another for the younger boy and make Johnny watch him while he eats it."

WANT TROOPS TO LEAVE

Cubans Express a Desire For Absolute Independence

AN ELEMENT OF SPANIARDS

In Favor of Annexation From a Purely Commercial Motive—General Wood Is Not Popular, According to Statement by General Portuendo

Washington, April 24.—The Cuban assembly commission arrived in Washington this morning. General Portuendo of the party defined the position of Cuba in a statement to the press as follows:

"Ninety-nine percent of the Cuban people desire absolute independence. It is their wish that the military occupation by the United States come to an end at once.

"Peace with the Americans, without the independence of Cuba is impossible. I mean moral peace. I do not mean to say that in the event that independence is not granted war or revolution would follow, but there would be no sympathy, no friendliness between the peoples.

"It may be that a small element of Spaniards, from a purely commercial motive—I should say not over 10,000—would favor annexation, but the wish for independence is felt generally by Cubans and Spaniards alike. Those Spaniards who favor annexation are not impelled by any love for the United States. They hate Americans, but they seem to wish some sort of guarantee as to their property and business interests.

"We do not desire free trade with the United States if the independence of our country were established. We should require revenues to support our government, and we would find it necessary to raise them by custom duties. What we would wish would be a specially devised system of tariff duties between the two counties, making the rates as low as practical and to the mutual advantage of both countries."

General Portuenod was caustic in his general criticism of Governor General Wood. "General Wood," he said, "is a man who will make any kind of promise, but is not regarded as one who carries them out. If a street is wanted opened or cleared, he answers that the order will be given at once. This consent he invariably gives, and that is usually the last of it." The speaker clearly intimated that General Wood was not popular in Cuba. "Sanitary conditions may have been improved a little in Havana," he continued, "but they have been expensive to the Cubans, very expensive."

Arrival of General Wood

New York, April 24.—Major General Wood, governor general of Cuba, and Mrs. Wood, were passengers on the Ward line steamer Morro Castle, which arrived last night from Havana. General Wood goes to Washington in connection with the committee from the Cuban constitutional convention. General Wood will present the committee to the president, before the president starts on his western tour.

General Wood did not hesitate to talk about affairs in Cuba while the Morro Castle was feeling her way through the fog from quarantine to her berth. He said that there had not been a case of yellow fever in Havana since March 5 last, which was an unusually good record, and showed that the city is in excellent sanitary condition.

The governor said that the relations in Cuba between representatives of the United States and the people of Cuba have been harmonious ever since he went to that country. He added, however, that, of course, he was not able to please everyone, and individual cases had occurred which he was obliged to handle somewhat severely.

Governor Wood expressed the belief that the report of the Cuban commission would favor the Platt amendment and that after it was accepted and political affairs straightened out, the economic conditions would be in every way improved and satisfactory.

Has Become a Good American

Baltimore, April 24.—Arthur W. Robson, a prominent steamship agent of this city, and former president of St. George's society, declined to attend the banquet of the society last night because "the king" preceded "the president" in the order of the toasts. It has always been the custom to toast the monarch first. Mr. Robson recently resigned the presidency of St. George's society because of the majority vote declaring the organization to be strictly English.

Minneapolis Strike May Spread

Minneapolis, April 24.—Sash and door manufacturers of this city have agreed to terminate on May 1 an arrangement with the Wood Workers' union, by which the union label was stamped on all mill work. This action, it is feared, will cause the strike of the carpenters now in progress to spread to all the other building trades.

Government Will Grab It

London, April 24.—In connection with the recent discovery of gold at Leith, Scotland, by workmen who were preparing the foundation for a new hospital, it is announced that the crown authorities have notified the owners of the property of their intention to claim all the gold found.

Presence of Mind Saved Two Lives

Middletown, N. Y., April 24.—Walter Owen and Arthur Smith, two boys, were walking along the railroad track here when the fast express bore down on them. They were pulled from the track with a garden rake by Owen's father, just in time to save their lives.

REQUESTS REFUSED

Russia Thinks She Has Made Enough Concessions to Students

St. Petersburg, April 24.—The rector yesterday informed the students that General Vannoffski, the Russian minister of public instruction, had refused to defer the examinations until autumn or make further concessions to the students.

Although the popular professor, M. Petrozicky, pleaded against an action which would render it difficult for a Liberal minister to carry through his benevolent intentions, the students decided, by a vote of 684 to 649, against participating in the examinations. They resolved, however, not to create obstructions, and the minority agreed to submit to the will of the majority.

The electro-technical, the civil engineering, the women's medical and the women's academic institutions will also decide against taking the examinations. The sincere friends of the students regret the step taken in this respect, believing that the students should allow the recall of the absentees to come as an act of grace from the government, and should not attempt to force concessions.

Terrorized by Lukban

Tacloban, April 24.—The session of the Philippine commission at Catbalogan, Samar island, yesterday, developed the fact that the inhabitants of Samar are still terrorized by the forces of General Lukban, the rebel leader, which consist of 600 rifles and many bolomen. The only delegates present at the session were representatives from several garrisoned towns on the east coast, and they feared to give information to the Americans. The commissioners assured them that the increased American forces would cope with the rebels, and that a vigorous campaign would be instituted in Samar.

Over a Hundred Massacred

New York, April 24.—The Times says: News has just reached here of the complete destruction in Maragnone, Brazil, of the Roman Catholic mission established there a few years ago by the Capuchin Fathers, by a band of hostile Indians. The mission was situated in a desolate district, but the missionaries had been successful in their efforts to evangelize the natives and had already founded two orphan asylums. It is known that four of the priests, all Italians, seven Capuchin sisters, and more than 100 of their little charges were massacred.

Will Abide by Premier's Decision

Genoa, April 24.—Premier Zanardelli has telegraphed the strikers here that he would arbitrate their differences with their employers, if both sides agreed. Upon receipt of this communication the ship owners also wired Signor Zanardelli asking him to arbitrate the matter. The dock laborers had previously communicated with the premier asking him to act as arbitrator.

Tennessee Negro Lynched

Nashville, April 24.—A mob of 100 men forcibly entered the court house at Springfield last night and took Wyatt Mallory, a negro, from the officers guarding him, and hanged him to the nearest veranda, and each member of the mob fired a shot into the body. Mallory had fatally wounded J. H. Farmer, a white man.

New Wage Scale Agreed Upon

New York, April 24.—The Central Railroad of New Jersey yesterday agreed with the representatives of the trainmen on its lines on a new wage scale for the men. This agreement includes baggagemen, brakemen, switchmen, drillers, flagmen and others employed in the yards, as well as those on the road.

Will Be Bishop O'Connell

New York, April 24.—Archbishop Corrigan received a cablegram from Rome yesterday announcing the appointment of the Very Rev. W. H. O'Connell as bishop of Portland, Me.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Thursday, April 25.

Sun rises—4:49; sets, 6:36.

Moon sets—12:33 a. m.

High water—4:15 a. m.; 5 p. m.

The weather conditions remain unsettled east of the Mississippi river. Unsettled weather will continue in New England, with probably light local showers. On the coast the winds will be light to fresh northerly.

A PALE-FACE GIRL

may be almost safely set down as wanting red in her blood. If subject to dizziness, fainting, shortness of breath on slight exertion, no doubt remains.

To want red in the blood is to fail of the good of one's food. Her food is not nourishing her. She needs a change.

The easiest change she can get, and one of the best, is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

It gives her the upper hand in the contest—her food has the upper hand now—she is pale no more.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

CHAFFEE AND WALDERSEE

Have a Disagreement Which May Require Diplomatic Representations

Pekin, April 24.—Many applications have been made to Mr. Rockhill and General Chaffee by Chinese of all degrees for the retention in China of the American troops until the general withdrawal of the troops of all the powers. Many of those who are making this request think the withdrawal of the Americans will make the others remain longer. There are also people who do not desire to see any of the soldiers go, fearing anarchy and an uprising against foreigners. The soldiers who return do so with all the honors of war.

Field Marshal Von Waldersee has made application that the gate of the Forbidden city be guarded by German troops after the departure of the Americans. General Chaffee has replied that American soldiers will continue to guard the gate. At this the Germans are indignant, saying this impugns their honesty and that if the United States desires to do her share of policing the city she should leave behind enough troops for that purpose; that merely a few men belonging to the legation guards should control the gate, which will be within the German quarters, cannot be allowed. If General Chaffee persists in this course, diplomatic representations will be made in the matter.

The ministers of the foreign powers are meeting daily. They do not at present show a disposition to reduce the claims which many think to be extremely reasonable.

Sir Ernest Satow, British minister to China, yesterday formally presented the Red Cross to Miss Saville and Miss Chapin, American missionaries, for their conspicuous services during the siege of the legations last summer.

On the Diamond

Philadelphia, April 24.—Up to the eighth inning the game between Boston and Philadelphia looked like a victory for the visitors, but a timely triple by Delehanty, with three men on bases, brought in the winning run for the locals.

Boston .....0 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3 10 2

Phila .....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 4 —5 8 0

Batteries—Orth and Douglass; Willis and Kittridge.

Pittsburg .0 2 1 0 0 1 0 0 0— 4 8 5

Increase In Regular Army

Washington, April 24.—It has been determined to increase the regular army to approximately 76,000 men, and to leave it at that number unless conditions in the Philippines should make more troops necessary. The president and Secretary Root reached this conclusion yesterday, and the details will be worked out by the secretary and General Miles. The number of officers appointed will be as originally contemplated.

No Opposition Developed

Albany, April 24.—The eight bills amending the Greater New York charter law were passed by the assembly yesterday, and were immediately sent over to the senate and passed there. An emergency message from Governor Odell, urging the passage of each bill, was read. There was no opposition to any of the bills.

Saxonia's Large Passenger List

London, April 24.—The Cunard liner Saxonia, Captain Pritchard, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday for Boston, took 2260 passengers, which is believed to have been the largest number ever taken for Boston from Liverpool.

Indian Pupils Have Smallpox

Washington, April 24.—The Indian bureau has received advices that smallpox has broken out in the Indian school in Oregon. There are six cases in the hospital. There are 500 pupils there, all of them having been vaccinated.

Officers Laid Out by Tramps

Joplin, Mo., April 24.—Officer Sweeney was killed and Officer Brannon was fatally wounded yesterday while attempting to arrest five tramps in a box car. In the confusion following the shooting four of the tramps escaped.

Many Years a Diplomat

Washington, April 24.—Dr. Horatio Guzman, secretary of the bureau of American republics and for many years minister from Nicaragua to the United States, died here yesterday afternoon, aged about 50 years.

Extremely Low Tax Rate

Albany, April 24.—The state tax rate for the coming fiscal year will be 1.20 mills, the lowest rate in 40 years.

A DEAD SHOT

Uses a Weapon With Terrible Results

Two Men Killed and Two Are Fatally Wounded

Attack Came Without Warning and Without Apparent Cause

Portland, Me., April 25.—One of the bloodiest and most appalling tragedies in the history of Portland in recent years occurred yesterday afternoon on the fourth floor of a building occupied by the New England Telephone company.

The principal actor in the affair was George H. Brainerd, a foreman electrician, who has been employed by the company for almost 20 years. For some unknown reason, and without the slightest provocation, while quietly chatting with a number of fellow workmen, he suddenly whipped out a 38-calibre revolver and opened fire on the party around him. He was evidently an expert marksman, for, although the fusillade lasted only a few moments, in that brief space of time he killed one man outright and fatally wounded one other and probably fatally wounded two others. Not satisfied with this he made a desperate attempt to kill Deputy Marshal Frith, when the officer tried to place him under arrest. It required the free use of a billy to bring the frenzied man into submission, and he was taken to the station bleeding profusely from a scalp wound some two inches long.

The dead men are I. H. Farnham of Boston, the electrical engineer of the New England Telephone company, and Earl M. Buxton. The probably fatally injured are Elmer Z. Lane and James Wadsworth, the latter's chances for life being extremely poor.

While the only charitable motive that can be assigned for the deed is insanity, yet neither before nor after the tragedy did Brainerd exhibit any marked traces of mental derangement.

All the men concerned in the shooting were employes of the New England Telephone company, and with the exception of Farnham all were engaged in installing a new exchange system on the upper floor of the building. There were 14 men in the crew, and Brainerd was the man in charge of the work, which was being done under the general supervision of Farnham. The entire force was attached to the general office in Boston.

The men went to work as usual yesterday, and just before 2 o'clock Farnham and Brainerd walked over to a corner of the room where a carpenter was at work. Brainerd gave the carpenter a few instructions and then he and Farnham walked away. A moment later the report of a revolver rang out, and Farnham fell to the floor, Brainerd standing over him with a revolver in his hand.

Just what occurred after this will never accurately be told, as no one has a clear idea as to just what happened. Brainerd did not remain inactive for a moment after shooting Farnham, but he immediately opened fire on the other workmen. A panic followed and each man endeavored to get under cover to escape the bullets which were flying in every direction.

Lane and Wadsworth were working together directly across the room from him, and Brainerd turned his revolver on them and opened fire. Wadsworth fell to the floor, while Lane made a dash for a closet in a corner of the room.

Buxton was standing at a bench, and Brainerd sent a bullet straight through his body. Buxton fell to the floor, and, although perfectly conscious, lay quiet and closed his eyes as though he was dead. He saw Brainerd come over to the head of the stairway and reload the revolver, and then start towards the closet in which Lane had taken shelter. Brainerd went to that closet apparently with the deliberate intention of killing Lane, and although he did not kill him instantly, he inflicted wounds which will probably prove fatal.

In the meantime a telephone message had been sent to the police station, and Deputy Frith, with Turnkey Massure and Patrolman Frank, responded. When they entered the building the deputy was in the lead and at the foot of the stairway leading to the fourth floor he encountered Brainerd coming down. The deputy determined to overpower him, and secure the revolver. As Frith attempted to seize the weapon, Brainerd turned to meet the attack, at the same time levelling the revolver at

Legislature Votes to Continue Boston Police Commission in Office

Boston, April 25.—All the agitation for the abolition of the Boston police commission before the legislative committees, and the complaints and criticisms regarding the board's license policy, came to naught yesterday when the lower branch of the legislature voted, 26 to 132, with 20 pairs, against a motion to substitute the Russell police bill to legislate the present commission out of office. Party lines were almost obliterated in the vote. The vote was taken at 5 o'clock, after the whole day had been spent in a discussion of the bill, and after repeated charges had been made on the floor of the house against the police commissioners. The standing rule of the house to adjourn at 4:30 was suspended in order that the issue on the police bill might be disposed of at once.

The vote occurred on the substitution of the Russell bill for the report to withdraw, made by the committee on metropolitan affairs. The Russell bill provided for a license commission of three, to be appointed by the mayor of Boston, the commission to have authority to appoint a chief of police, who should exercise all the police powers of the present police board.

Supposed Suicide Heard From

Pawtucket, R. I., April 25.—The disappearance of Mrs. Frank Maronetti of this city from Newport, R. I., last summer, and the circumstances surrounding the case were recalled yesterday when word came of the whereabouts of the woman in Scotland, through a friend. Mrs. Marchetti left a note saying that she was to jump into the ocean from the cliffs and drown herself and her son, but it now appears that she reconsidered her plans and departed with her boy to a place where her identity was secure.

English Terms Accepted

New Haven, April 25.—Yale and Harvard mailed their reply to Oxford and Cambridge to the terms suggested by the Englishmen for the track meet next summer. The American universities state that they prefer to have the games held in July or some date in the early summer, but if such a date is impossible they will hold it Sept. 21. The other arrangements for the meet suggested by the Englishmen are accepted.

Steamer Wasn't Ashore

Portland, Me., April 25.—Steamer Drumelzier, concerning whose safety such grave fears were entertained Tuesday night and yesterday morning, safely arrived at this port yesterday afternoon. The steamer was undoubtedly the vessel sighted in the vicinity of Bible rock by Captain Nicholson of the Mora, only instead of being ashore, the steamer was merely lying at anchor. Captain Emerson of the Drumelzier reports an extremely rough passage.

Lopez Will Follow Aguinaldo

Springfield, Mass., April 25.—Senor Sixto Lopez stopped over a train here to tell his friends he is going home, and that if he finds press reports true as to a general submission to American sovereignty he will acquiesce and join Aguinaldo in working for a peaceful acceptance of American rule. He said he will make one more speech, in San Francisco, before sailing, and expects to reach Manila in July.

Evidence Wholly Circumstantial

Exeter, N. H., April 25.—The trial of Martin Tehan, aged 19, under indictment for murderous assault on William Judson with an axe in this town last December, commenced yesterday. Judson, who was 75 years old, died from the effects of the assault alleged to have been committed by Tehan, for purposes of robbery. The state's evidence, which was wholly circumstantial, was completed last night.

Consigned to Ocean Grave

Boston, April 25.—R. L. Houghton of the firm of Houghton & Clark, hardware dealers in Portland, Me., died suddenly on April 20 on board the steamer Admiral Sampson, which arrived yesterday from Jamaica. Mr. Houghton was a saloon passenger, and the cause of death was heart failure. The body was consigned to the deep, after Captain Hopkins had read the burial service.

Car Plunged Into Cab

Beverly, Mass., April 25.—An electric car collided with a cab in which E. W. Cone, a shoe manufacturer, was riding, smashing the vehicle, and injuring the occupant severely. The accident occurred at a curve in the railroad and the motorman was unable to see the carriage in time to prevent the collision.

Long Embargo on Shipping

Boston, April 25.—A good idea of the embargo on shipping by the fog and easterly weather is given by the departure of the six-master Eleanor A. Percy, yesterday, which cleared for Philadelphia nine days ago. She was the first sailing vessel to leave port for a week.

Cattle Broker Kills Himself

Norway, Me., April 25.—Charles Lewis, a prominent farmer and cattle broker of Lovell, committed suicide yesterday morning by drinking carbolic acid. Despondency, caused by ill health, is supposed to have been the motive for the act.

The Shamrock In Petticoats

Glasgow, April 25.—The sides of the Shamrock II were draped with canvas when she was docked yesterday, concealing her underbody. She floated in the dock, clear of the keel blocks, at 18 feet 6 inches.

IN FAVOR OF EASTMAN

Certain Evidence Declared to Be Inadmissible

STATEMENT OF DYING MAN

Decided by the Court to Be an Opinion, and Not a Specific Declaration —Strikes Out Much of Testimony Allowed in the Lower Court

Cambridge, Mass., April 25.—A strong point in Eastman's favor was decided yesterday, when the court ruled that Grogan's last words, when he lay beside the Grogan house, at the point of death, were not competent evidence, and will not be allowed. Nor will the words, "Charles Eastman has murdered me," uttered by Grogan as he ran toward the house, and heard by the child, Lottie Broughton, be allowed.

The point raised by Mr. Elder for the prisoner was one of intense interest, as it was being argued by Mr. Elder on the one side and Attorney General Knowlton on the other, and coming in the afternoon it seemed to make a climax to the day's proceedings.

The point raised was, apparently, unexpected by the attorney general. It came out in this fashion: Lottie Broughton, a witness, was asked to repeat what she had heard Grogan say, her testimony having already gone beyond the point where it had been shown that Grogan was wounded. Mr. Elder, interposing, said he anticipated the answer to be, "Charles, you've murdered me," and to it he objected as incompetent evidence, on the plain ground that it was Grogan's opinion, not a specific declaration of the dying man. On the same ground he objected to evidence already presented which, in effect, was opinion and not bare statement of fact.

Attorney General Knowlton immediately took the opposition ground, and the exposition of the law by the two attorneys was so keen that the issue was taken by Judges Gaskill and Aiken into a conference, which lasted an hour. The decision was against the government in almost every particular, the exception being that the identical words objected to were allowed to stand in the direct testimony of Mr. Titus, a druggist, who saw the struggle between Grogan and Eastman, and heard the former speak immediately after having been shot. The court's reason for the exception was that Mr. Titus, who saw the men before and after the shooting, was qualified to testify to what he saw and heard as facts, while other witnesses who heard Grogan speak at a later time heard him simply express his opinion of the reason for the wound.

It is understood that the strength of the government's case was built up on incidents following the shooting, and it is further understood that Attorney General Knowlton will take issue with the court's ruling, which has the effect of striking out much of the testimony allowed in the lower court.

The entire day was full of sensational evidence, beginning with that of Walter D. Titus, a druggist, and eye witness of the fight between the men. He saw Eastman with a revolver in his hand and identified one exhibited in court as the same. Several persons who live in the neighborhood of the Alvan Clark estate told of the excitement following the shooting, and of hearing cries of "Help, murder."

The concluding witness, and the one whose evidence is expected to be very important, was Belle Bryan, the housekeeper for Mrs. Grogan. Her story had not proceeded far enough at the day's adjournment to disclose the government's strength at this point in its chain of circumstances.

Pulled House Down on Themselves

Chicago, April 25.—One man was killed last night and a number of people were injured by pulling down a house on themselves. The house stood at 100 Maxwell street and had been condemned. It was a frail wooden affair, and when the report was given out that it was to be destroyed a large number of Polish Hebrews living in the neighborhood came to supply themselves with firewood. In their eagerness to obtain the wood, the crowd caused the structure to collapse.

Joint Smashers In Jail

Wichita, Kan., April 25.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, Mrs. Lucy Wilhite, Mrs. Julia Evans and Mrs. Lydia Muntz appeared before Judge Dale yesterday, and failed to give bond. They were taken to the county jail and will remain there until a bond of $500 each is approved or until their trial at the May term of court for "joint smashing."

The Chartres Tragedy

Chartres, France, April 25.—The bodies of the five murdered children of the farmer, named Briere who were killed April 21, were interred yesterday afternoon. Briere, who is suspected of having slain the children himself, in a fit of drunken madness, has not confessed, but the authorities are satisfied he is the murderer.

To Patrol Philippine Coast

Washington, April 25.—A cablegram received at the navy department announced the arrival of the mosquito fleet at Cavite, P. I. The four vessels of this little fleet will be utilized in patrolling the coasts of Luzon and the lower islands of the Philippine group.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent.

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

☞"Any business is a good business that is well managed," said a Springfield business man the other day, even a peanut stand." We are not surprised that the man who said this is described as an "able" business man,—the sentiment is as sound as sound can be, and if the man who uttered it lives up to it, he is finding no fault with the condition of his own business. We commend the idea to all fault-finders with business conditions.—New Bedford Standard.

☞The value of a physician's services bids fair to come before the courts for determination in the case of the Pittsburg physician who claims the sum of $190,000 for attendance upon the late Chris Magee for 21 months. If his treatment had been successful against death there is little doubt but that the Pittsburg millionaire would have cheerfully paid the bill, and a larger one if need be, but since all skill and effort failed there is a disposition to question the justice of the claim.—Haverhill Gazette.

As for the rest, a genaration of vigorous, healthy children, born of young and healthy parents, are to be preferred for the work of developing and maintaining a commonwealth to the children of a decaying race of which the deaths are double the births.—New Haven Palladium.

A Cry for Rough Granite.

The weather this month has been very disastrous for the granite manufacturers. There is scarcely a firm in the city that is not backward in its orders, and there will have to be some tall hustling when good weather comes to catch up and get orders shipped and set before Memorial day. The trouble is not because the cutters cannot work, but because the manufacturers cannot get the rough stock desired. All of the quarries are rushed with orders, which they cannot begin to fill. With a few pleasant days they could catch up, but with weather such as that of this month it is impossible to work the quarries and get out the rough stock. The trouble is largely with what is known as extra dark stock, for which there is an unusual demand this year.

LITCHFIELD--FIELD.

A Pretty Wedding of South Quincy Young People.

A Brilliant Reception at Home of Bride.

Bride the Daughter of Ex-Councilman J. Q. A. Field.

The stormy weather outside was in marked contrast to the good cheer that prevailed inside the hospitable home of ex-Councilman and Mrs. John Q. A. Field, of Independence avenue, on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Jennie Bartlett, became the wife of Mr. Jesse Ira Litchfield, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Litchfield of Pearl street.

Only the immediate relatives of both families were present at the ceremony, which was solemnized at seven o'clock by Rev. Ellery Channing Butler, of the First church. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Alice Keith Prescott, an intimate friend of the bride, and Peters' orchestra played softly during the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Florence R. Emery of Quincy, and the groom by Mr. Ralph T. Goodhue of Brookline.

From eight until ten a reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Litchfield being assisted in receiving by their parents. The ushers were, Dr. Harvey A. Field, of Mattapan, Mr. C. Eaton Pierce of Wollaston, Mr. George D. Follett of Quincy and Mr. Louis A. Sterling, of Boston, all intimate friends of the groom.

Owing to the rain many were unable to be present and extend their congratulations, still the spacious parlors were at times full to overflowing.

A fine supper was served by Dill, and there was continuous music by Peters' orchestra. The floral decorations were from the conservatories of William Patterson of Wollaston, consisting of palms, laurel, asparagus vine, pinks and tulips, green and white being the only colors used. Friends of the bride arranged the decorations, and the result was most artistic.

The bride looked tall and willowy in her bridal gown of ivory satin and white chiffon. She carried bride roses. The gown was one of the prettiest ever worn in Quincy. The maid of honor wore white muslin and carried pink roses.

Friends who stayed to see the happy pair off, and gathered at the front and back stairs, were greatly disappointed to learn when too late, that there was still another flight of stairs. The couple passed from one chamber to another by means of a hole in the closet wall which had been prepared for them and down the stairs to the carriage, across the fields to Penns hill, and were away before their flight was discovered.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Litchfield are to reside at 63 Brook street, Wollaston, where they have a prettily furnished home and will receive friends, Thursdays during June.

Mrs. Plummer, a sister of Miss M. E. Dearborn the principal of the Coddington school, died Wednesday at Manchester, N. H., having been dangerously sick for a few weeks. The Coddington school will send a floral tribute.

ODD FELLOWSHIP.

Quincy Brethren Celebrate the 82d Anniversary.

The 82d anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America was celebrated by Mt. Wollaston Lodge, No. 80, of this city, on Wednesday evening at Faxon hall, with an entertainment, banquet and dance. A good number were present, although the rainy weather was against as large an attendance as usual.

Past Grand C. M. Jenness was chairman of the committee on the anniversary, and he introduced Past Grand W. H. Cobb as chairman of the evening. The latter spoke a brief word of welcome, setting forth the object of the celebration, and then introduced Past Grand Frank F. Prescott, who gave the historical address.

Mr. Prescott was the first recording secretary of Mt. Wollaston and afterwards passed through the chairs in both the lodge and encampment, and entered the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment, and has also been a district deputy. He spoke of the organization of the first lodge in America at Baltimore, Md., April 26, 1819, and of its early struggles. Particular attention was given to Thomas Wildey, the father and founder of Odd Fellowship in America, and to James L. Ridgely, the preserver and benefactor of the order. The claim was made that Odd Fellowship was the greatest of all secret benevolent societies, and that the work it was doing in the sick room merited favorable comment.

Past Grand Prescott spoke of the first lodge in Massachusetts and of the old and new lodge in Quincy, and tributes were paid to Past Grand George L. Gill, Past Grand Dudley Folsom, Past Grand Frank W. Folsom, Past Grand Representative Charles B. Newton, and others. A few stories were also introduced.

Rev. A. A. Ellsworth although not a member of the order, knew of the good work it was doing in the sick room, and spoke enthusiastically of Odd Fellowship. He urged the members not to be content with past achievements, but as an order, as lodge and individuals to make the most of the opportunities.

Past Grand Master Cook of South Weymouth, the clerk of courts for Norfolk county, also spoke of the early days of the order in America and its founders, and of the growth and progress of the order and of the position it has won for itself.

The addresses were interspersed with selections by Curtis Morse, the humorist, who greatly amused the audience. He gave in all six sketches, and each one increased his popularity. There was also popular music by Wilson's orchestra.

The supper served in the lower hall deserves to be called a banquet. It was the first in Quincy by the new landlord of The Greenleaf, Mr. D. W. Estabrook, and the Odd Fellows present can give him a good recommendation. They do not recall a better one. The menu was as follows, and every dish was excellent, especially the salad and the ices:

THE MENU.

Escalloped Oysters.
Roast Turkey, Cranberry Sauce.
Mashed Potatoes, Peas.
Chicken Salad.
Lettuce. Pickles.
Plain and Fancy Cake.
Harlequin Ice Cream.
Frozen Pudding.
California Oranges.
Bananas.
Coffee. Rolls.

After the banquet there was dancing to the popular music of Wilson's orchestra in the upper hall.

Prize Whist Players.

The whist tournament which has been in progress during the past winter at the Granite City club closed Wednesday evening. The evening prizes were awarded to J. Q. Cudworth and T. W. Lincoln. The prizes for the best percentages during the season were awarded to Warren H. Rideout and James H. Penniman. These were two handsome solid silver cups. At the conclusion of the evening's play a supper was served. The menu included escalloped oysters, chicken salad, ice cream, cake and coffee. The entertainment committee announce that a consolation tournament will be held on Wednesday evenings during the next month.

The Unity Club.

The last program meeting of the Wollaston Unity club will be held on Friday evening April 26, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. William S. Washburn and Mr. Charles F. Harper having papers on "The Netherlands." A quartette composed Mrs. H. Y. Follett, Mrs. E. A. King, Mr. E. E. Bullock and Mr. H. Y. Follett will sing several numbers and Mr. Bullock will sing a solo. The annual election of officers will also take place.

A DEAD SHOT

Terrible Deed of a Wollaston Man at Portland.

the deputy. A desperate struggle followed, during which the revolver was discharged, the bullet glancing the officer's side. Here the other officer took a hand, and a club was freely used, an ugly gash being cut in Brainerd's head.

This ended the resistence, and Brainerd was taken to the police station. He appeared very much excited and ugly and the handcuffs were allowed to remain on his wrists after he was placed in the cell. His collar, shirt front and coat were saturated with blood. He paced restlessly up and down the cell throughout the night.

Brainerd is 48 years old, and was born at Williamstown, Mass.

HIGHLY SPOKEN OF

The Herald says: George H. Brainerd is well known in Wollaston, where he has made his home with his cousin, Mrs. Mary T. Taylor, at 365 Newport avenue, the past 11 years. He has been an electrician several years, and previous to his becoming connected with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company he was engaged in electrical work in South America. Upon his return from South America, 11 years ago, he entered the employ of the telephone company.

His work has taken him to various sections of New England. He was in Boston last Saturday, and took a run out to Wollaston to secure a few personal effects which he desired to take to Portland with him.

Mr. Brainerd is a descendant of the Brainerd family of Vermont, and has a mother and a sister living at Williamstown. His father has been dead 20 years.

Although Mr. Brainerd has made his home with Mrs. Taylor, he was away supervising construction work for the company most of the time, and it was only when he was in this vicinity that he spent his time in Wollaston. He is an expert shot, and is one of the best marksmen of the Wollaston Gun Club, of which he is a member.

Among those with whom he was acquainted in Wollaston he is highly spoken of, and is well liked and respected by all with whom he came in contact.

Mrs. Taylor was loth to give credence to the news and remarked that it did not seem possible that it could be so. She has known Mr. Brainerd since he was a child, and speaks of him in the highest terms. Her relations with him had always been of the most cordial nature and she had always found him a model of politeness around the house.

KNOWN TO DRINK.

George H. Brainerd, the man who killed Mr. Farnham is a man with a peculiar career, says the Globe. He is a man of great genius, but he drinks. He is about 45 years of age. Brainerd has been with the company since about 1890. He was what might be called a steady but moderate drinker. Brainerd never came into the Boston office under the influence of liquor. His habits did not prevent him from attending to his work in a thorough manner, and as he was a very competent workman he was able to hold his position.

Brainerd is not a sociable man. He is much older than the men who worked under him, and he did not make confidants of them. He has been inclined to distrust his associates and is of a jealous disposition. He had an idea, which was quite without foundation, that his work for the company was not appreciated, and that some men in the Boston office were given more consideration than he. So far as can be learned there was no foundation for such jealous suspicions.

Brainerd is a very capable man and knows his branch of the business thoroughly. While in Mexico he was what is called a "trailer," a sort of field superintendent of telephone lines. The working of lines and the placing of wires was left to him, and he did his work well. But he tired of it, and came back to Boston to enter the employ of the New England telephone and telegraph company.

Brainerd is what is commonly called a "crack shot." A man who has seen him shoot at a target said he could hit a bullseye four times out of six shots at 50 feet, using a revolver. He had been used to rough life in South America and Mexico, and had made himself proficient with firearms. With that deadly and accurate aim he laid low his fellow-workmen yesterday afternoon. Brainerd always carried a loaded revolver in his hip pocket, and it was with this weapon that he shot his victims yesterday afternoon.

Farnham and Brainerd had never had any trouble, according to the Boston office. Neither had any of the men under Brainerd caused him to be angry or revengeful. The theory that he had become crazed with drink and did not know what he was doing is the one most entertained by those who best know Brainerd.

Brainerd had no fixed residence in Boston, because his duties did not permit it. When he was here for a few weeks he stayed at a hotel or took a room temporarily. About six months ago he went to Lowell to superintend some work. His duties being closed there, he went to Portland Jan. 16, and there he has been since. He has made trips to Boston, and was here only a few days ago, but the Portland office of the company was being enlarged, and his supervision of the work connected with it took practically all his time.

Brainerd was not a bad foreman to get along with, but he did not relish jokes, and the jolly disposition of the men under him, nearly all of whom were under 25 years, did not always please him. When the hours of labor were ended he went his way, and he expected his men to do the same.

A MAN OF MYSTERY.

It is a peculiar circumstance in this case, says the Post, that, though he has worked with the company for eighteen years, little is known of George Brainerd. He is a man of mystery, and it is said of him about the offices that he lived where he hung his hat.

None of the employes about the Milk street offices of the company knew that he was married. He was silent on this subject. Even the directory man did not know where he lived. His address is simply given at the company's office at 125 Milk street, the room of the man he murdered.

The question of motive seems to have been brought up, and none can be given.

Mrs. Farnham and her daughter say that no one ever quarreled with Mr. Farnham, as he would not quarrel, and if he had to quarrel with any man in his employ that man would be at once discharged. That Brainerd was with him for years argues that there was no quarrel, and that Brainerd must have indeed been stark mad when he killed one who was almost a comrade.

Mr. Manson, assistant to Mr. Farnham, stated yesterday afternoon to a Post man that there was no quarrel between the men. It was he who gave the above characteristic sketch of the supposed insane murderer.

UNSUBSTANTIATED REPORTS.

Wollason people think there must be some mistake about Brainerd having a wife, as it is news to them. They therefore doubt the accuracy of the following from the Post:

One of the most pathetic incidents in the whole sad affair was that while Brainerd was dealing out death to his fellow workmen, his wife was making purchases for a proposed fishing trip planned by herself and her husband.

While the woman was still in the store the report of Brainerd's terrible deed reached there, but none of those present felt the duty of breaking the news.

Five minutes after the shooting occurred Mrs. Brainerd went to the office in the store and asked if she might use the telephone. The request was granted and she called for her husband to ask his advice about some purchase. She was told that Mr. Brainerd was not at the telephone building, and finally walked out of the store and down to the exchange to hear for herself that her husband was not there—that he had been taken to the police station as a murderer.

There were numerous reports current tonight regarding Brainerd's mental condition, one being to the effect that several years ago he fell from a pole while stringing wires in Bath and was so severely injured that he was laid off for nearly a year and that for six months of that time he was insane. This report was not substantiated, however.

GREATLY AGITATED.

The Boston Advertiser says of the arrest: Brainerd appeared very much excited and ugly and the handcuffs were allowed to remain on his wrists after he was placed in the cell. He paced restlessly up and down the cell, occasionally pausing to press his hands on his head and exclaim, "Oh my head."

Deputy Marshal Frith attempted to converse with Brainerd at the police station tonight, but could get little satisfaction.

"You have got yourself in a bad fix," said the deputy. There was no response from the prisoner.

"And you came pretty near getting me," continued Frith.

"It was your own fault," responded Brainerd. "You should have allowed me to return up stairs to see what job they had put up on me."

In answer to the query: "What caused you to shoot those people?" Brainerd replied: "I am in no position to talk now—I won't say a word."

All night he moved about restlessly in his cell, first sitting for a moment with his face buried in his hands, and then pacing up and down. He seemed greatly agitated, but showed no signs of violence.

Interviews.

Tax Collector A. L. Baker was frequently with Brainerd when he was in Wollaston and was perhaps as well acquainted with him as anyone. Mr. Baker when seen this morning by the Daily Ledger, said he was very much surprised that Brainerd should have committed the crime attributed to him, and was at loss to understand why he should have done the shooting, unless it was during a fit of insanity.

Brainerd was a great marksman, both with a gun and the revolver, and there was but one member of the Wollaston Trap club who was counted as his superior. He had not been in Wollaston much during the past year, other than on Sundays or holidays and was seldom seen on the street, except in the evening. He has however, been a frequent visitor to Wollaston during the year, making his home with Mrs. Taylor and as far as Mr. Baker knew, he was always looked upon as an "old batch."

Mr. Baker further said that he had been off on trips with Brainard many times. He never knew him to get intoxicated. He was a good man to get along with. He never got irritated, never had any trouble with anyone, and never showed any temper. He was an unusually quiet man, talked but little, and seldom said anything, except when spoken to. If anything he might have been a little sullen, yet he was thought a great deal of, by members of the Trap club, and others with whom he came in contact. There was, however, nothing whatever in his makeup that would lead one to believe he was not in his right mind.

Speaking again of his skill as a marksman, Mr. Baker said, he pitied the man that Brainard ever aimed a gun or revolver at, as he was almost a dead shot.

Herbert T. Whitman knew Brainerd quite well and had been off on gunning trips with him. He was a good ocial fellow and he never saw anything out of the way with him. Of recent years Mr. Whitman had not seen much of him, for he was not about Wollaston much during the day, and evenings he remained at home. Those who were about nights had more opportunities to become acquainted with him than he, but he had never heard a word derogatory to him, except that he drank. However he had never seen him when drunk.

Joseph C. Morse, who is also a member of the Wollaston Trap club, had met Brainerd but was not at all acquainted with him. He remembered him as a good shot.

Will Whitmarsh, another enthusiastic Wollaston gunner, knew Brainerd well, although he had not seen him for nearly a year. He had always found him a very pleasant fellow. His only peculiarity, if any, was that he took a very decided opinion and did not like to be contradicted.

James S. Whiting is well acquainted with Brainerd. He always considered him a fine fellow, as straight as a string. He was pleasant and sociable, and as far as he knew had no bad habits. He saw him last week and noticed no change in his appearance. In fact in all Mr. Whiting's acquaintance with him there had been nothing that would lead him to think he had any trace of insanity, and he was of the opinion that the trouble Wednesday must have been caused by the sudden bursting of a blood vessel.

Charles F. Marr knew Brainerd but not intimately. He was one of the committee to whom Brainerd's application for membership in John Hancock lodge of Odd Fellows was referred a few weeks ago. At that time he looked him up, but found no one but who spoke a good word for him. He was a man generally liked and had many friends.

BRAINERD AT LEWISTON.

A dispatch from Lewiston, Me., to the Herald says: George H. Brainerd is quite well known in this city. He was here in 1899 and superintended the work of placing the switch-board in the central office. He was regarded as a genial fellow and was made much of by those with whom he became acquainted. He was an indomitable worker, and at times would go three or four days without sleep. He was quick of temper, and when he became angry was very excitable. He would then be moody for a while, and would brood over the matter. He made intimate friends here, and they thought nothing strange of the way he conducted himself when out of temper.

Death of a Soldier Boy.

Alton I. Page, formerly of Quincy, died at Mattapan Wednesday of typhoid fever. He was a son of Andrew A. Page, who for many years carried on a bakery business in Quincy, later purchased by Hon. William A. Hodges. While yet a young man, he removed with his parents to Mattapan, where he has since made his home. He served in a Massachusetts regiment during the Spanish war and received an honorable discharge. He then reenlisted and was sent to Manila last August. He left Manila for home in December, but was taken sick after leaving San Francisco, and it was not until a few weeks ago that he was brought home. He will be buried in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

WITH BLACKEST DISMAY

Merriman Views the Policy of England In South Africa

SUPPRESSION OF THE FACTS

As to the "Treachery and Espionage" Going On—Predicts Bitter Fruits From Insults Which Have Burned Hearts of the People

London, April 25.—J. H. Merriman, the former treasurer of Cape Colony and who is now a representative of the Africander Bond in England, speaking at a meeting of the League of Liberals, yesterday, against aggression and militarism, said military law, the abnegation of all law, was established in Cape Colony.

The newspapers had not heard of the treachery and espionage going on. Respectable people were committed on the evidence of natives alone. They were brought up and fined for harmless observations, called seditious, and the town guards barried them. These things create greater irritation and indignation than actual violence. The press was deliberately stopped, and four editors had been sent to jail. The fruits of this policy would be bitter, as the memory of those insults burned the hearts of the people.

Mr. Merriman detailed instances of the punishment of the Dutch under military law, usually on the testimony of natives and employers. He mentioned an instance of a "cheeky girl" being fined for saying things against the town guards. Martial law and the censorship throughout Cape Colony prevented the people of England from knowing the hardships of the Dutch. As an Englishman, Mr. Merriman said, he viewed the policy pursued in Cape Colony with the blackest dismay. If persisted in, South Africa was lost to the English empire. The only thing that could save it was recognition that the people wanted self-government, and were determined to have it.

J. W. Sauer, the former commissioner of public works of Cape Colony, said the camps in which the Boer women and children were kept were guarded by sentries with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets. A majority of the women had been placed in them against their will. Their households had been burned and their possessions had been taken. He had tried to get the military authorities, through the government of Cape Colony, to permit 200 or 300 women and children camped at Port Elizabeth to be liberated, food and shelter having been promised them by the town, but the military authorities refused the requisition.

Resolutions opposing annexation and crown government were adopted.

Story Needs Verification

London, April 25.—It is reported, say. The Daily Chronicle this morning, that the British agent in New Orleans has discovered that Boer agents, employed as cattlemen, have infected horses destined for South Africa with glanders and other diseases. Hundreds of these animals are said to have died on the way to the cape, while many on their arrival have had to be destroyed. The government has wired the British agents in Texas and elsewhere to take precautions and it is hoped that the United States authorities will also take measures. The Daily Chronicle refers to the report as "incredible."

A Protest From Orangemen

Campbell, N. B., April 25.—A strong resolution was adopted by the Grand Orange lodge of New Brunswick yesterday recording the complete disapproval of the resolution passed by the Canadian commons asking for the elimination from the British coronation oath of words offensive to Catholics. It declared the resolution a step which indicated the wedge of Roman domination and "that we are drifting all too quickly to the time when the temporal affairs of this dear land will be guided by the voice of Rome."

Knockout Resulted Fatally

London, April 25.—Billy Smith's death yesterday, the fourth which has resulted from contests at the National Sporting club, causes much comment upon the ill-luck of that institution. Roberts sat at Smith's bedside almost continuously until the last, and he quite broke down when the end came. It is asserted that Smith was medically examined before the contest, and gave no sign of heart trouble.

Remains Again In Monument Crypt

Springfield, Ills., April 25.—Unostentatiously and without ceremony the caskets containing the remains of Abraham Lincoln and the other members of his family, which have been entombed in a temporary stone vault near the National Lincoln monument, were yesterday replaced in the crypt of the monument. The work of rebuilding the monument cost the state of Illinois $100,000.

Robbers Got Safely Away

Ithaca, N. Y., April 25.—The postoffice safe at Ludlowville was blown open with dynamite, and the thieves obtained about $400 in cash and stamps. There is little hope of apprehending the burglars, as there is no clue to work upon.

Limited Suffrage For Women

Albany, April 25.—Governor Odell yesterday signed the bill authorizing women taxpayers in villages and towns to vote on propositions to spend money for public purposes.

British Unearth Munitions of War

Tientsin, April 25.—The British have discovered 19 Krupp field guns with a quantity of ammunition, buried in the vicinity of Shan-Hai-Kwan.

BURIED BABY ALIVE

After Mother Had Prevented Its Murder With a Hatchet

New York, April 25.—Francesca Spinello, who is in jail at White Plains, with Givio Buttacavalla, her uncle, the two having been arrested after an attempt to bury a baby while it was yet alive, made a confession yesterday to Mrs. Jarvis, the jail matron.

The girl said that her uncle was the father of the child which she had borne; that he came to her home in New York and told her to take the baby and come with him for a walk. He took her to Hastings and when the ravine was reached he wanted to kill the baby with his hatchet, but she prevented him doing this, and begged that it be not harmed in that manner. He finally relented, and the baby was buried.

They had just begun to cover it up when she heard a noise behind her, and, looking around, saw McEvoy, the laborer who rescued the baby. She spoke to her uncle and they fled. After running a little distance she says she wanted to go back and get the baby, but her uncle threatened to kill her if she returned. She did not dare disobey him. She was glad, she said, the baby was alive, and wished it was with her so she could care for it.

Germans Cause Bad Feeling

Pekin, April 25.—The Germans have been ordered back from the Pao-Ting-Fu expedition. Their behavior for the last week or so has caused great indignation in Pekin, not only among the Chinese, but among the foreigners as well. Carts, horses, mules and ponies have been impressed for transportation purposes; coolies have been made to work for nothing, and even educated Chinamen have been impressed. The Chinese say there is intense feeling throughout the province against foreigners, largely because of the harsh treatment the Chinese have received from the Germans.

Four Thousand to Return to Work

Scranton, Pa., April 25.—By a vote of 324 to nothing the weavers of the Sauquoit silk mill yesterday voted to accept Superintendent Davis' offer and return to work. The terms are an increase in wages of from 8 to 12 percent, a Saturday half-holiday in the summer and a few other minor concessions. "Mother" Jones, who is engineering the girls' campaign, declared that the strike is practically over, and that all of the 4000 strikers will be back at work next week.

Schooner Sunk by Tank Steamer

Marcus Hook, Pa., April 25.—The German oil tank steamer Manhattan, from Philadelphia to Savona and Genoa, anchored off here yesterday and reported having sunk the schooner Mary Baxter of Billingsport. The crew of the Baxter were saved.

Entombed by Fall of Coal

Shamokin, Pa., April 25.—Anthony Murcavich and Anthony Schuvacavich were entombed at Luke Fidler colliery yesterday by a fall of coal. Rescuers are at work, but no hope is entertained that the imprisoned miners will be brought out alive.

Preacher Charged With Theft

Washington, April 25.—Rev. Robert B. Robinson, colored, who is wanted in Boston on a charge of embezzlement of funds from a Masonic organization, was surrendered yesterday to Detective Kelly of that city, and they left for Boston.

Premier Settled the Strike

Genoa, April 25.—The striking dock laborers of the Navigation company have accepted Premier Zahardelli's decision as arbitrator in the matter of their differences with their employers. The strike has been declared off.

Made Nothing by Striking

Cleveland, April 25.—The tug firemen and linesmen employed by the Great Lakes Towing company, who went on strike several days ago, for an advance of $5 per month in wages, returned to work yesterday at the old rate.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

Failed to Produce Desired Result

Lakeville, Conn., April 25.—Over 200 pounds of 35 percent dynamite was exploded in several charges in the lake here yesterday, in a final effort to recover the body of Otis Sawyer, the drowned student, but without apparent result.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c., and 50c.

QUESTION OF DUTIES

Considered of Great Importance by Cuban Delegates at Washington

Washington, April 25.—General Wood called at the war department yesterday and held a conference with Secretary Root respecting Cuban affairs. Senator Platt, chairman of the committee charged with the care of Cuban affairs, was present, as also were Assistant Secretary Sanger and Admiral Bradford. The secretary's door was closed to all callers.

It is gathered that, next to the subjects of coaling stations and the right of the United States to intervene in Cuba in the interests of peace and order, the Cubans attach most importance to the subject of sugar duties. The commission is trying to secure a remission of the United States duty on Cuban sugar. The president cannot grant this request, as it involves a change in the tariff laws, and therefore application must be had to congress.

Tobacco, too, is another subject which the secretary of war will be obliged to discuss with the commissioners. The Cubans are exceedingly desirous of securing a considerable abatement, in favor of their own tobacco, of the extremely high tariff imposed by the Dingley act.

After a conference lasting for more than three hours it was stated that there was nothing regarding the conference that could be made public.

Quite a number of officials called on the Cuban delegates yesterday. Mr. Tamayo, one of the delegates, said that the delegation felt it will be discourteous to enter upon a discussion of their business before they called on the secretary of war.

Cannot Find Out Senate's Attitude

Washington, April 25.—Lord Pauncefote was in conference with Secretary Hay at the state department yesterday for an hour. The important subject of discussion was the canal project. Lord Pauncefote was extremely anxious to be able, during his visit to London, to report to the British foreign office the exact situation here respecting the canal problem. Secretary Hay has been taking soundings with a view to learning just what could be expected of the senate in case he should submit another treaty to that body. But he has not been able to secure a satisfactory view of the legislative field.

Congratulations For Tom Reed

New York, April 25.—Former Speaker Thomas B. Reed argued a case yesterday before the United States court of appeals in the Federal building. It was the suit of Charles F. Gale, receiver of the Elmira National bank, against the Chase National bank for a balance of $15,012.50. Mr. Reed spoke for nearly two hours. Many lawyers gathered to listen. At the close of his argument the ex-speaker was surrounded by members of the bar, who welcomed him to the federal court practice, this being his first case since he was admitted last Monday.

Queen's Fad Abolished

London, April 25.—The apartment formerly occupied by John Brown in Windsor Castle, which had been closed for 18 years, has been reopened, and will be redecorated and converted into a billiard room. Queen Victoria had a fashion for shutting up rooms in which her favorites died. When Brown died the queen placed a tablet on the wall in his room, lamenting his death and commemorating his virtues, and the room has been locked up ever since.

Dying From Alleged Poisoning

North Vassalboro, Me., April 25.—Mrs. George Soucci and her daughter Maude are believed to be dying from the effects of poison administered through the food taken at tea last evening. George Soucci says that he took everything at tea that his family did, or at least he does not know that the women ate anything which he did not.

The Cramps Not Interested

Philadelphia, April 25.—In speaking of the reported shipbuilding combination, Charles H. Cramp, president of the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building company, said that his company was in no way interested in any such combine. He said the scheme looked well on paper, but that it would not work in practice.

Many Families Driven From Home

Sharon, Pa., April 25.—The Shenango river has reached the highest stage in its history. Portions of this city are already under water, scores of families have been compelled to leave their homes, and many factories have been forced to shut down by the high water.

Washington Belle to Wed Englishman

London, April 25.—The Times this morning announces the approaching marriage of Archibald Edward Balfour, second son of Archibald Balfour of London, to Miss Vivien May, eldest daughter of Mrs. Satoris of Washington.

Ruined by Drink

North Vassalboro, Me., April 25.—John McQuillan, 27 years old, and single, committed suicide yesterday by shooting. McQuillan had been drinking hard of late and had lost his job in the woolen mill in consequence.

An Antipodean Comet

London, April 25.—Dispatches received from Cape Town and Sydney, N. S. W., this morning, report the appearance of a brilliant comet.

Doctors not seldom give up a case, but a mother never does. While life lasts, while there is a spark of vitality which love's labor may fan into a flame, she tolls untiringly for the child she brought into the world. And sometimes where the doctors fail the mother succeeds. She has no prejudices. Any means she will use which will save her child.

The mother's prescription given below is a case in point. Her daughter was given up by physicians as suffering from an incurable disease, called "wasting of the digestive organs." The mother prescribed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription," and had the happiness of seeing her daughter restored to perfect health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a nerve-nourishing, flesh-forming medicine—making new blood and new life.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a true temperance medicine.

"My sister (of Arlington, Washington Co., Nebr.,) was taken very sick and had several doctors," writes Mrs. C. L. Harrison, of Elk City, Douglas Co., Nebr. They could not do her any good, and told my mother they would not come any more, as no doctor could help her, that she could not get well. She had 'wasting of the digestive organs.' My mother said to my sister 'Well, I almost know that Dr. Pierce's medicines will cure her.' So she bought six bottles—three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' three of 'Favorite Prescription,' and some of the 'Pellets;' and now my sister is a well woman.

"We thank you for your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Doctors not seldom give up a case, but a mother never does. While life lasts, while there is a spark of vitality which love's labor may fan into a flame, she toils untiringly for the child she brought into the world. And sometimes where the doctors fail the mother succeeds. She has no prejudices. Any means she will use which will save her child.

The mother's prescription given below is a case in point. Her daughter was given up by physicians as suffering from an incurable disease, called "wasting of the digestive organs." The mother prescribed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription," and had the happiness of seeing her daughter restored to perfect health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a nerve-nourishing, flesh-forming medicine—making new blood and new life.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a true temperance medicine.

"My sister (of Arlington, Washington Co., Neb.) was taken very sick and had several doctors," writes Mrs C. L. Harrison, of Elk City, Douglas Co., Nebr. "They could not do her any good and told my mother they would not come any more, as no doctor could help her, that she could not get well. She had 'wasting of the digestive organs.' My mother said to my sister: 'Well, I almost know that Dr. Pierce's medicines will cure her.' So she bought six bottles—three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' three of 'Favorite Prescription,' and some of the 'Pellets' and now my sister is a well woman.

"We thank you for your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GROGAN'S ACCUSATIONS

Again Excluded by Court In the Eastman Trial

THE DEFENSE ENCOURAGED

By Testimony Showing That Accused Man Was Solicitous For Grogan's Condition at Time of Tragedy—Many Neighbors on Witness Stand

Cambridge, Mass., April 26.—The heavy downpour of rain yesterday did not deter the people from trrning out in large numbers to attend the trial of Charles R. Eastman in the superior criminal court of Middlesex county, charged with the murder of Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4 last. Many women were present, members of the family of the accused and the victim, and others drawn there by morbid curiosity.

The defense of Professor Eastman continued to score points at law on the government, the court holding to its opinion of Wednesday that declarations made by Richard Grogan, Jr., the dying man, were not competent as evidence where the accusation was of murder.

The court went further yesterday by ruling as incompetent other statements that witnesses heard from Grogan's lips, which appeared to be replied to Eastman's denials of other than accidental shooting. Not only in the law of evidence did Lawyer Elder for the defendant worst Attorney General Knowlton, but in the testimony itself there was much to encourage Eastman, which showed that the latter was very solicitious for Grogan's condition and exhibited much grief at the unfortunate episode.

Judge Gaskill, in delivering the opinion of the court, said:

"The court had occasion yesterday to consider the ground relied on by the government as to the statement made by Grogan, when it was claimed that evidence would be offered tending to show that Grogan, as he was running, made use of the phrase, 'Eastman has murdered me;' that there was considerable distance between the two men, and that Eastman was not called upon to make any reply.

"Now in reference to the offer of the government of further evidence as to what took place in the yard and the declaration upon the bank made by Grogan, charging particularly an intentional shooting. It is said by the commonwealth that in a different form, but probably meaning the same thing, that utterance was repeated in the presence of Eastman three times. That in response to the first statement he shook his head; in response to the second, he also shook his head; in response to the third, he made a denial.

"We can have no doubt as to the correctness of the ruling, when statements of that kind are made or denied, and not part of a conversation, that, if denied, no part of it is competent. The court is satisfied that each act of Eastman was a denial of the statement made by Grogan; that shaking of the head was denial, and that the last statement was a denial. Therefore, the question resolves itself into this: Can it be said that the answer of Eastman was equivocal?

"The court cannot think it was, or that the denial was not positive and emphatic enough. We know of no rule of law that would make Grogan's statement competent. So far as the statement of fact said to have been made by Grogan, that Eastman shot him twice, that standing alone is a statement of what had taken place. If the government had asked for a ruling on this the court would consider whether that might not be considered part of the res gestae. But that has not been asked."

The day's evidence seemed to dwell upon the dying moments of Grogan and Eastman's mental and physical condition at the same time. The chief reason was that the witnesses were those who upon hearing the pistol reports and cries ran into the Clark garden.

Under cross-examination, Miss Millner testified that when Grogan said, "There is the man that shot me," she was looking directly into his face. He looked very pale and so did Eastman when she talked with him at that time. Witness, asked as to the general appearance of Eastman, explained that he had spoken the words, "O, tell me he isn't hurt badly," in a pleading and anxious way, and that when he was bending over Grogan on the ground his breathing was difficult and labored.

Another witness, who had heard the exclamation, "Oh, don't," in a woman's voice, appeared in the person of Louis C. Thayer, who said he was attracted to the Clark estate by firing and cries of agony. Witness went in and saw Grogan lying on the ground, and Eastman standing, seemingly in thought. Witness noticed the hole in Eastman's trousers, and asked him how he had received it. Eastman responded by saying: "It's a terrible thing."

Thayer said the exclamation, "Oh, don't," came to him just before he met Mrs. Eastman, who was running from the gateway.

Robert R. Meharg, another neighbor, was present with others in the Clark yard when Grogan was dying. The witness remembered that Rev. Dr. Gushee, who was there, asked Eastman what had caused Grogan's wound, and that Eastman answered, "A 32-calibre revolver." Court here adjourned.

During the afternoon counsel for both sides took exceptions to rulings of the court.

Leroy G. Tilson saw Grogan lying on the walk, with Miss Millner standing over him. He was pale and calm.

REFORM IN EARNEST

Gloucester Evidently Determined to Clean Out Places of Bad Repute

Gloucester, Mass., April 26.—The purification of Gloucester began yesterday afternoon in lively style, and last night all the questionable places of entertainment were in darkness. Not for years has the city been so quiet or so morally inclined as after it got noised about that the police were in a raiding mood. As a result of the order passed by the city government, and Mayor French's notification to the city marshal, the officers were told to proceed against places alleged to have been run as gambling rooms, houses of questionable character, and kitchen barrooms.

About 10 raids were actually made, but in most instances the supposed questionable places took the hint and closed the doors. So precipitate was the retreat of the female inmates of several places at which the police called that clothing was left behind.

The hackmen seemed to do a lively business about train time, in carrying passengers to the depot, and on the cars the scene was not unlike that attending the return home of delegates to a woman's convention. In only one place raided did the police get the evidence they wanted. Last night a number of rooms, usually brilliantly lighted, and in which it is claimed "a quiet game" could be found, were in darkneess.

A Marlboro Mystery

Marlboro, Mass., April 26.—The Marlboro police are making desperate efforts to satisfactorily account for a startling occurrence that took place about 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning, which is vouched for by all the night force who were on duty in different parts of the city at that hour. In the midst of the dreary downpour of rain there were distinctly heard two wild, piercing shrieks, as though coming from a woman in distress. They were heard simultaneously by officers in different parts of the city, each officer being confident that they came from his own immediate neighborhood.

Work on Dry Dock Tied Up

Boston, April 26.—The strike of the hoisting engineers at the navy yard has tied up the work on the new dry dock. Officers of the Hoisting and Portable Engineers' union yesterday induced all engineers employed there to remain away, and as a result more than 250 men are idle. The committee of the engineers' union say that the wages were not paid in full to the engineers, and that the contractors do not intend to pay the men in full, owing, they allege, to the fact that the contractors expect the government to make up the difference in wages from that received and due the engineers.

Fires In Massachusetts In 1900

Boston, April 26.—State Fire Marshal Whitcomb has sent to the insurance commissioners his annual report for the year 1900. The total number of fires occurring throughout the state during the year was 4968. The loss on the same was $5,983,335; the sound value of the property damaged by fire was $67,530,881; the amount of insurance at risk on the same was $57,524,571; insurance loss paid on same, $4,620,156. Of the total number of fires, 256, or 5 1-7 percent of the total number, were of incendiary origin, representing a loss of $1,212,521.

Awarded Damages of $20,000

Salem, Mass., April 26.—The case of Andrew Kleibaz vs. the Middleton paper mills for damages in the amount of $50,000 for personal injuries through the collapse of an elevator, was decided yesterday, the jury returning a verdict awarding the plaintiff damages in the amount of $20,000. The plaintiff alleged that because of the accident to the elevator he has become paralyzed and incapacitated from work.

Did as She Said She Would

Manchester, N. H., April 26.—The body of Nellie Fountain, who disappeared from her boarding place in this city Sunday night, leaving a note in which she said she had drowned herself in the canal, was found last night. The water was drawn off from the canal, and a searching party waded down the bed of the canal with torches and grappling hooks until the body was located.

THE BURNING OF CHURCHES

Will Be the Signal For General Risings Along the Yang Tse River—Story of Franco-Russian Deal Which Leaves Powers In the Lurch

London, April 26.—"I have received information which may prove to be important," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post. "My informant declares that all the disaffected elements in the Yang-Tse provinces, including the organization known as the 'Kolnoh-Wei,' the so-called 'Reformer,' salt smugglers and disbanded Chinese soldiers, are combining for the purpose of organizing general risings in May or June."

"The movement is expected to begin by the burning of foreign churches, throughout the provinces bordering on the Yang-Tse-Kiang. The motive of the leaders is said to be revolutionary, but the rank and file are simply pillagers.

"My informant points out that the French churches in these provinces far outnumber the British, and that the French might benefit by the opportunity to seize the Kain Guan arsenal and the adjoining powder mills.

"Confirmation is given to the report that the court has ordered the stoppage of supplies for Sian Fu in anticipation of removal. It is reported on good authority that Count Von Waldersee has telegraphed to Berlin suggesting the possibility of needing further reinforcements from Germany."

The most sensational development in the Chinese situation that has come to the surface for a long time is the report from Paris to the effect that France and Russia have planned to leave the rest of Europe in the lurch and reap for themselves all the spoils.

The scheme is extremely plausible and the report is generally considered accurate, for all the circumstances seem to point to the story being true.

The plan as outlined is that Russia will make a loan to China which will enable that country to pay the indemnity demanded by the powers. France, having plenty of money, will let Russia have the requisite funds to make the loan.

Russia will take Manchuria as a pledge in security for the loan, which means that the czar secures permanent possession of China's richest province. France will, through Russia, obtain many important concessions also.

The other powers will get the indemnity, which, after all, is a matter of little importance, but they will not get the concessions in territory, trade and commerce which their souls are longing for.

Thus France and Russia are stealing a march on the rest of the powers, and the French foreign minister, Delcasse, is now in St. Petersburg arranging the terms of the deal with the Russian foreign office.

Cailles Should Be Rounded Up

Manila, April 26.—It is reported that the rebel general, Cailles, ordered eight American prisoners to be shot April 21, the same day on which he condemned to death Colonel Sancio, one of his staff officers, and Senor de la Rosa, a wealthy native, who had refused to contribute to the insurgent war fund. Sancio escaped. The others were tortured and then butchered. Cailles, who is now lurking in the mountains of Tayabas province, proclaims himself dictator and the successor of Aguinaldo, and announces his intention to continue a war of extermination.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of late of Quincy, in said County, deceased intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Julius Johnson of Quincy, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the eighth day of May, A. D. 1901, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of April, A. D. 1901.

A Legitimate Investment
Which Increased Over 700 per cent.
WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

Good Afternoon.

Harvard graduates who oppose conferring a degree upon President William McKinley only belittle the college, and further emphasize the extent to which the anti-imperialistic doctrine the Harvard Professors are inculcating is carried. Probably the President is not begging for the degree. It would be well for him to pass Harvard by on his proposed visit to Massachusetts.

The idea suggested in the postals sent out by the Quincy Home Science Association, that if sufficient money is raised by their children's May festival in Music Hall, an industrial school for young boys may be opened in the vacation weeks, is a most welcome one. Few of our Quincy lads can go away in summer and idleness is bad for them and the good influences of our teachers and schools will not go to sleep if this can be carried out.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Brockton has evolved a good scheme in the distribution of public library books. They are to be distributed about the public schools for the use of pupils by special carrier, one-half the expense to be borne by the library and the school department respectively. Good books cannot be too widely circulated and this scheme will not only add to the circulation but will relieve the library rooms of congestion, which frequently occurs. — Taunton Gazette.

☞Senator Chauncey M. Depew, in his birthday speech at Brooklyn, said, "that there is a section of the very rich who are doing more to promote socialism and anarchy by their actions than all other agencies combined They aim to hedge themselves about with a social exclusiveness unknown in Europe." The senator should send that element marked copies of his speech, for it may be that the offenders unlike a multitude of others, are not aware of the harmful effect which they are producing on society. One extreme is productive of the other.—Lynn Item.

TWO VERY SUCCESSFUL CONCERTS.

Song Cycle "In a Persian Garden" at First Church

The extremely unpleasant weather Thursday evening, did not prevent a good attendance of music lovers at the grand concert given at the First church chapel for the benefit of the organ fund. Those who did attend were well repaid, for a rare musical treat was given.

The concert opened by two piano selections by Miss Alice Eldridge. Her first selection was "Tarantelle," by MacDowell. This was rendered in a masterly style. She has an exquisite touch, and expressed a great deal of feeling in her playing, which immediately captivated her audiance, who listened all the more closely for her second selection, which was an Idyll by the same composer. An encore was demanded but was not granted. At Miss Eldridge's second appearance, she played another selection by MacDowell, her closing number being Grieg's Bridal March. The encore that followed this could not go unheeded.

Another treat were the solos by Miss Florence Emery, her selections being "The Spring has Come," "Fast Asleep," and "The Miller's Daughter." Miss Emery has a very sweet voice, and it is always a pleasure to hear her sing. She was at her best Thursday evening.

Part two of the programe was a song cycle "In a Persian Garden," the words being from Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, and the music by Mme. Liza Lehmann. Those to render this were Mrs. Alice Bates Rice, soprano; Mrs. Jeannette Noyes Rice, alto; Mr. George Parker, tenor, and Dr. George B. Rice, basso.

It was a very pretty spring song with opportunity for individual work. It opened with a quartette, "Wake! for the Sun who scattered into flight." Mrs. Alice Bates Rice's solos, "I sent my soul through the Invisible," and "Each morn a thousand roses brings, you say," were beautifully rendered.

Mrs. Jeannette Noyes Rice's solos were equally well rendered, but did not afford the opportunities for her voice as did those of the soprano. Her best solo, perhaps, was, "The worldly hope men set their hearts upon."

Mr. Parker's solos were a treat, especially that of "Ah, moon of my delight, that knows no wane." The solos of Dr. Rice were also finely rendered more especially that, "As then the tulip from her morning sup."

But once was an encore responded to, and that was the quartette "They say the lion and the lizard keep." The applause that greeted this could not be mistaken, and it was rendered a second time. The cycle closed with a quartet "Alas, that spring should vanish with the rose."

Mrs. Edith Noyes Porter was the accompanist of the evening, and shared equally with the soloists the honors of the evening, for to her accompaniment was due in a great measure the successful rendering of the cycle. The financial success of the concert was entirely due to the efforts of Mrs. James H. Stetson, who made all the arrangements for the concert and personally sold over two hundred tickets.

Supper and Toasts.

The annual church supper of the Atlantic Memorial church was held Wednesday evening with a fine attendance notwithstanding the storm. Mr. H. A. Abercrombie was toastmaster and fulfilled his duties in a most felicitous manner.

The following toasts were given: "The church building," Mr. B. F. Thomas; "Our Denomination," Mrs. E. R. Wade; "What a Deacon in the Church stands for, Mr. W. F. Blake; "Where are our men?" Mr. Percival A. Hall; "The church and the parent," Mr. Theodore Parker; "What a member of the church stands for," Rev. J. H. Whitaker; "The church from a business man's standpoint," Mr. Frank Jenkins. "Church attendance," Mr. Henry Hallett.

The committee on the supper, which was choice and bountiful, were Mrs Edward Crocker, Miss Susie Hall and Miss Agnes Mackenzie.

Some of the oldest scholars of the high school who were at the concert Thursday night, the last in the Quincy Teachers' Association course, were reminded of the subscription concert given so many years ago by the Mendelsshon Quintette club, at the Town hall. They were managed by Mr. Edward Turner, the late John Randall and other music lovers, who sometimes wanted a musical feast. Concerts were rare then, music had not taken on so much art and the fine simple works were enjoyed. The variations in Pleyel's hymn were especially popular.

—"Our ticket," said the politician, confidently, "will sweep the city." "I'll vote for it, then," replied the citizen; "the city certainly needs sweeping."

The Walter E. Loud Co. at the High School.

The course of lectures held this winter at High School hall by the Quincy Teachers' Association, have been of unusual merit and enjoyment, but no matter how good the literary feast presented, the final entertainment in the course is the one looked forward to with the greatest pleasure.

Although very stormy, one of the largest audiences of the season greeted the Walter Loud Concert Company on Thursday evening, and the greeting accorded the artists as they stepped upon the stage for the opening selection was spontaneous and hearty.

With the exception of Miss Edna Goullaud, the artists were well known to Quincy audiences, having assisted Mr. Loud at musicals which he has given in previous winters. Miss Goullaud lives at Braintree and her fame has spread beyond the neighboring towns. She has a remarkably sweet voice of wide range, and also a pleasing personality. Although down for but three selections, the applause was so prolonged she responded twice.

Mr. Wulf Fries and his 'cello are great favorites, and although Mr. Fries is over seventy-five years old, he does not lose his fine touch and is a musician who seems to grow better and better and more beloved as the years roll by. His solo work, duets with Mr. Loud, and trios with Miss Fisher and Mr. Loud, were all fine and heartily encored.

As a pianist Miss Annie E. Fisher has few equals, either in solo work or as an accompanist. Whenever she has appeared before a Quincy audience she has won fresh laurels and Thursday night was no exception, for she seemed to capture all.

We speak of Mr. Loud last, not because his work merits it, but because he is a Quincy boy, right at home, whereas the other artists were the guests of the evening.

Quincy music lovers are proud of Mr. Loud, and have watched his career as a violinist for several years. When very young his musical talent was marked, and as he grew older he took lessons on the violin of the best teachers in this country and later went abroad for the finishing touch. Since his return he has met with great success and it is only occasionally that Quincy people are privileged to hear him. Thursday night was one of the times, and judging by the hearty encores, his efforts were as much appreciated as ever.

The program included nine numbers but was lengthened to about twenty, the artists being generous in responding to encores.

Every one was most enthusiastic, and praises of the artists were heard on every hand after the concert was over. It was a thoroughly delightful musical evening.

Episcopal Fair.

The Episcopal fair, which was held in Odd Fellows' hall, Wollaston, Thursday afternoon and evening, was extremely successful. Despite the severity of the weather, the hall was crowded. All the tables were tastily arranged. The fancy table was in charge of Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Mills. Miss Abbie Baker and Miss Jennie Flood disposed of the lemonade and flowers. Mrs. Bainbridge and Mrs. Lee had charge of the apron table. The attractive table of bric-a-brac was presided over by Mrs. George H. Page, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Fowler. A household table was under the direction of Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Howard. The candy table under Miss Lillian Bates, Mrs. Davidson and Miss Grace Fowler and the grab bag under Mrs. Whitacre were as usual well patronized. The candy table was in charge of the guild of St Perpetua. Miss Lucy Luard and Miss Margaret Mills dispensed the ice cream. An excellent supper was served under direction of Miss Blanche Mills, Mrs. E. A. Atkins, Mrs. Hemregar, Mrs. James, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs Ditmer and Mrs. Rose. In the evening Miss Bjorkman, pianist; Mr. McTeer violinist and Mr. Critchly, cornetist, furnished pleasing music. Dancing was indulged in later by many young people. The sum realized was about $675.

Foresters' Dance.

Quincy Court M. C. O. F., held its first grand social Thursday evening at Hancock hall. The affair was largely attended and a good time was enjoyed. Hugh P. Tracy was floor director, Patrick J. Ward assistant, and Daniel Driscoll, George Cahill, John Heffernan, Alcide Caron, Herbert Griffin, William Taylor, and Andrew Mischler were aids. The reception committee were Hugh P. Tracy, Daniel Driscoll and Michael Burns.

MURDER CHARGED.

Brainard Arraigned at Portland Today.

Prof. Mears His Brother-in-Law with Him.

His Counsel Suggest Over Devotion to Duties.

George H. Brainard of Wollaston, Lowell, Portland and other places, was arraigned at Portland, Me., today for the murder of I. H. Farnham of Wellesley, Mass., and Earl M. Buxton of Springfield, Mass. He was defended by Lawyer Levi Greenleaf and Judge Enoch Foster, formerly of the Supreme bench. The plea of the prisoner was not guilty, and a continuance was granted.

As the claim of the defence is insanity, it is probable that Brainard will be sent to the insane asylum of the State of Maine for observation.

If this course is taken the case may not be heard before the September term of court.

A coroner's inquest will be held beginning Monday, and many of the employes of the Telephone company have been summoned.

A dispatch to the Herald says: Mr. Colvin of Manchester, N, H., an electrician, who, at the time of the shooting, was at work on the third floor, and whose attempt to investigate was cut short by Brainard's command to "keep back there," is said to be in possession of certain information which the prosecuting officers consider of some value as showing a motive for the murders. Mr. Colvin was interviewed Thursday evening in his room at Smith's Hotel. He said he could not at the present time make any talk about the matter. He has been summonsed as a witness at the coroner's inqurst. Mrs Brainard, wife of the prisoner, has made several attempts to interview Mr. Colvin since the shooting, but he has declined to talk with her. Mr. Colvin will go to Springfield Friday, in charge of the remains of Earl M. Buxton.

The condition of James A. Wadsworth of Malden, Mass., and E. Z. Lane of Mechanics Fall, Me., continue critical and the chances are against their recovery, but the latter may live.

Boston papers report the following incident which is regarded as incriminating:

Night Turnkey Henderson had a chat with the prisoner, just before going off duty. "I suppose you will be going off duty soon won't you ?" said the prisoner. Receiving an affirmative reply, he said: "I want to thank you for the way in which you have used me."

After a minute's hesitation, Brainard added: "I did not mean to shoot Deputy Frith. Perhaps you won't believe me, but I certainly had no intention of harming him; it was purely accidental. But in regard to those fellows——" Here the prisoner quickly paused.

The turnkey tried to induce him to finish his reference to the victims of the shooting, but the prisoner remained silent on that point.

Relatives Arrive.

Prof. Leverett Mears of Williams College, whose wife is a sister of George H. Brainard, arrived at Portland, Thursday, from Williamstown, Mass., and will remain till after the arraignment. He called at the police station in the afternoon and talked with the prisoner. The Dispatch to the Herald says: Brainard evinced no appreciation of the long journey of his brother-in-law to see him, though it was Brainard's expressed desire that Prof. Mears be summoned by telegraph.

When told that his aged mother was prostrated with grief he showed no indication of concern.

After the interview, Prof. Mears was asked his opinion of the mental condition of the prisoner. He replied:

"There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that he is insane. His present condition is certainly not normal. His talk is incoherent, and he does not seem to have any appreciation of his situation."

Asked if he had ever noticed any previous indication of insanity, Prof. Mears replied:

"Yes, at several different times. When he last visited my home, at Christmas, he acted strangely. On other occasions, too, he has given unmistakable evidence of mental derangement. On one occasion, when he visited my house, he said that men had followed him all the way out from Boston, and that he could see them peering in through the windows. In order to ease his mind, I closed the blinds.

"We had never consulted a physcian in regard to his condition, nor did we have any apprehension that it would culminate in his doing harm to any one."

Prof. Mears says that 11 years ago Brainard went to Chili, South America, to install an electric lighting plant in the mines. He remained five years. He frequently wrote letters home but in the early part of his fifth year in that country his communications ceased. His long continued silence kept his relatives in a state of apprehension.

After nine months, they received a letter from a fellow-workman, stating that if they would send a sufficient sum of money to pay his passage he would be sent home. The money was sent, and Brainard came home, broken down both physically and mentally. He told of great suffering and of a long confinement as a result of a conspiracy. Believing that the alleged conspiracy was but a delusion, his relatives made no endeavor to investigate. He was sick a number of months.

After he had recovered his health his mind also seemed to have fully cleared, and he went to work for the New England Telegraph and Telephone Company. Prior to his going to South America he had never shown any indication of mental trouble.

Prof. Mears said that his wife had worried a great deal over her brother's delusions, and when, yesterday afternoon a dispatch was received stating that Brainard had in a fit of insanity, shot down four men she exclaimed that this was the culmination of the mental breaking down which they had so long worried over.

In answer to the reporter's inquiry as to whether Brainard had ever been heard to express ill feeling against Chief Electrician Farnham or any of the members of the construction crew, Prof. Mears said:

"He did not like Mr. Farnham, but I never heard of any contention or ill feeling between them. I know, too, that he was sometimes fretted because the company hired as members of his construction crew young men who had acquired book knowledge but were inexperienced in the work to which they were assigned. But I am told that he treated his fellow-workmen kindly and considerately."

Chief Electrician Farnham, who was the first to receive a fatal wound from Brainards weapon, had come to Portland Tuesday night, and visited the telephone office before he met Brainard.

Brainard supposed when the chief entered the room where the construction crew was at work that he had just arrived in town. During the noon hour Brainard was informed by a member of the crew that the chief was in Portland the night before.

Brainard seemed displeased at this and is said to have been overheard to say to Chief Farnham: "Why did you lie to me?"

It is thought that Brainard, brooding over the delusion that some of the company's employes were conspiring against him, regarded the chief's unannounced visit of inspection as a part of the fancied conspiracy, and this conclusion brought about the fatal climax.

Brainerd's Wife.

A strange story comes from Lowell which Wollaston friends of Mr. Brainard are inclined to doubt. The Globe says:

George H. Brainard, accused of the murders in Portland, roomed for six weeks last year at the home of Capt. A. V. Partridge, corner of Tyler and Lawrence streets.

Mrs. Brainard was there with him and they also roomed at several local hotels. Brainard told Capt. Partridge he had been in South America as a miner and electrician. He was born, he said, in New Hampshire, but had lived some time in Alabama.

Mrs. Brainard's maiden name is said to have been Blanchard, and her father died in Boston. She said when here, that when in Portland she lived at the Preble house.

Brainard said he was afraid that some one was going to steal his electrical inventions, and he would produce plans and talk by the hour on that subject.

It was learned that during Mrs. Brainard's residence at one house here a young man called for her one night. Mrs. Brainard was upstairs at the time, it is said, but when she heard the stranger's voice she came down stairs and told the young man if he did not go away she would shoot. The owner of the house, it is said, told her he had charge of the house, and, at the house owner's request, the youny man went away.

Brainard and wife, according to the statement of Charles H. Chagnon of this city, were the occupants of a cottage at Belle grove, Dracut, last summer. Mrs. Chagnon says Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd were constantly practicing firing at a mark with revolvers. Mr. Chagnon states that Brainard was a man of very violent temper and jealous of Mrs. Brainerd.

"When Mrs. Breinard told her husband one day," said Mr. Chagnon, "that a man occupying another cottage said something to her which was not right, Brainard and the cottager had a fight, in which both rolled down the bank into the Merrimac river. Mr. and Mrs. Brainard remained at Belle grove about three weeks after the other cottagers removed to their homes in Lowell and Lawrence.

Perhaps an Illusion.

A dispatch from Williamstown, Mass. the home of Brainard's mother, gives additional light relative to the murderer. According to the Globe, a careful inquiry among the relatives and acquaintances of George H. Brainard, tends to disprove the theory that an over-indulgence in intoxicants was in any way responsible for his crime.

He was well known in Williamstown as a strictly temperate man. who not only refrained from the use of intoxicants of any kind but of narcotics as well. If Brainard become addicted to either habit, it is said here it was after his last visit to Williamstown.

The standing which the electrician had in this town was an exceptionally good one. He had a wider acquaintance than one would usually get from occasional visits, due to his frank but genial manner. He was of a quiet disposition, but the fact that his emotions were easily aroused was manifested at different times.

People who have accompanied him on fishing tours now recall his extreme excitement when he had a trout on the end of his line. In spite of this he loved the sport and never missed an opportunity of going fishing.

Mrs. Brainard, the electrician's mother, lived until recently with her daughter, Mrs. Leverett Mears, and when Brainard became ill as the result of overwork some time ago he came to this town. He was attended during his illness by Dr. J. J. Hull and for some days was in a serious condition. During a part of this time he had trouble with his heart. This organ became very weak and the physician, though he knows nothing of the case, save what he has read, believes that an effusion of blood from the heart and its sudden rush to the brain, which sometimes happens from a weak heart, may have caused an illusion, during which the deed was committed.

The mention of the newspaper accounts from Portland of the wife of Brainard was a surprise here, since it was not known that he was married. It is thought that there must be some error.

Brainard was very fond of the children of Prof. Mears, his nephews and nieces, and they of him, and the news of the tragedy came as a great shock to them. Two of them are now members of the sophomore class of Williamstown college and one is a graduate of Vassar college.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

"PLEASE DRY UP."

Unique Petition Presented to Dr. Bowditch.

It Prays for Relief from the Rain.

And the Stars Shone Brightly in the Night.

It has become to be understood during the past few weeks that Dr. Bowditch,—vocalist, newspaper messenger, and other callings too numerous to mention—is responsible tor the deplorable weather. He seems to take delight in the distinction, and any word with him about the matter brings out the cry in his musical voice, "I told you so."

People in general have become tired of this weather, and Thursday determined to see what effect a petition would have upon Galen, one was drawn up and circulated in City Square and soon had in the neighborhood of fifty names attached to it.

Constable Furnald had the petition in charge and late in the afternoon Galen was found and it served upon him. He did not know what was coming, but evidently thought someone had commenced a law suit against him. When Constable Furnald handed him the paper he turned pale and his hand shook like a leaf. He was visibly agitated, so much so that he lost his composure, and was unable to read. It was then read to him, and he took the paper and silently went behind the boiler and pondered over it. At last in a trembling voice he declared that he could not help it. However, something did, for there was a change in the weather during the night and the stars shown brightly.

The petition, which was unique in way, read as follows:

THE PETITION.

To His Royal Highness, the Honorable and Most High and Mighty Potentate and Dead Sure Prognosticator and all around Infallible Aftercaster of the Atmospheric Condition of this Humble and Mundane Sphere of Eternal Wettedness and Envoy Ordinary to the All Powerful Jupiter Pluvius, Galen Vinton Bowditch, Q. X. W. K. Z. &.,

We the undersigned ordinary crawling and creeping worms do most respectfully pray Your High Mightiness to Condescend to lend your powerful and benign Influence for the relief of Your Most Loyal subjects from the present deplorable conditions which now assail us; And we will ever pray for Your Majesty's most prosperous and Dishonorable reign.

A Remarkable Court Scene

Little Falls, N. Y., April 26.—Alovs Brambach, a piano manufacturer of Dodgeville, was held for action of the grand jury at Herkimer, for publicly whipping Dr. W. G. Mangold of Dodgeville. The jury refused to find an indictment, and summoning Brambach before it, each juror shook hands with the accused man, and told him he should have thrashed Mangold harder.

M'KINLEY SYMPATHIZES

With People of the "Pearl of the Antilles"

THE DELEGATES MEET ROOT

Some Fine Legal Sparring Over Construction Which Could Be Placed Upon Certain Propositions In the Platt Amendment

Washington, April 26.—The Cuban delegation from the convention framing a constitution for the new island republic saw President McKinley twice yesterday, once in the early part of the day, when there were introductions and a formal exchange of expressions of friendship between the United States and Cuba, and again at night, when the members of the delegation were the guests of honor at a state dinner at the White House.

Mr. Capote, in his address to the president, spoke of the desire of the Cubans to have the closest possible relations with the United States. He said that United States soldiers and Cubans had fought side by side, and driven Spain from the island, and the ties between the two countries always should be most amicable and closer than that which usually exists between nations. He also spoke of the gratitude which Cuba felt to the United States for the assistance rendered in her liberation.

In response the president expressed his pleasure at meeting the delegation and desired through them to extend his kindest wishes to the people of the island. He said that his interest in Cuba always had been very great. Its welfare always would be the subject of his most earnest consideration. He congratulated the members of the delegation upon being members of the Cuban constitutional convention. He said it was a high honor, and it fell to the lot of but few men to have the opportunity to frame a government for a republic.

The real business which brought the delegation here was transacted with Secretary Root at the war department, the president in the forenoon interview at the White House saying to the delegates that he would confer with the secretary, who would act as his representative in conferences over the Cuban situation.

The delegates and Secretary Root were closeted for some hours in the afternoon in a discussion of the relations of the island to the United States.

It was made plain to the Cubans by Secretary Root that no modification of the Platt amendment could be made by the executive department of the government, and the Cubans themselves understood that there is little possibility of congressional action in that direction, so the conference was directed largely to the construction which could be placed upon the amendment.

The law states that the propositions contained in the amendment shall be "substantially" agreed to by the Cubans, and the discussion revalved chiefly around what will be considered a "substantial" agreement to the Platt amendment requirements. There was some very fine legal sparring between Secretary Root and Senor Capote, the president of the constitutional convention and chairman of the delegation, as to the meaning of the amendment and the meaning of certain proposed drafts of the different propositions that were considered.

Both the secretary and Senor Capote expressed their views quite freely, and the exchange of suggestions and replies was very interesting to those present. The intervention proposition caused the most discussion, and as this had received much consideration in the convention in Havana, the Cubans were familiar with all phases of the construction that might be placed upon it All members of the delegation took more or less part in the discussion and the views of each were given careful attention by Secretary Root.

It is understood that the Cubans are impressed with the desire on the part of this government to deal fairly by Cuba and the belief is expressed that the delegation will take home favorable reports of our intentions.

The delegation made no complaint of the present military government under General Wood.

The Bailey Does Her Work Well

New London, April 26.—After many postponements the official speed trial of the new torpedo boat Bailey was held yesterday afternoon off this harbor. The Bailey eclipsed all records for her trial, maintaining an average speed of 30.2 knots during the entire two hours, and at one time reaching a mark of 31.12 knots. During the trip the engines worked with the greatest smoothness. The naval board and builders all express themselves as highly pleased with the performance of the little craft.

Strike Probably Averted

Gloucester, Mass., April 26.—The second strike of the stone workers on Cape Ann, which was practically scheduled for May 1, and which would have effected 1000 men had it been carried into effect, may be said to have been averted. The Rockport Granite company and their employes have expressed a willingness to meet half way. The union will probably meet tomorrow night and settle the question.

Relieved of Quite a Burden

Albany, April 26.—By the reduction in the state tax rate for 1901, it is estimated greater New York will be relieved of about $3,000,000 in taxes. The reduction in the various counties of the state outside of Greater New York will range from $14,250 for Schenectady, to $217,000 for Erie county.

CONGER HAS ARRIVED

What He Has to Say Concerning Politics and Affairs In China

San Francisco, April 26.—Edwin H. Conger, United States minister to China, accompanied by his wife, daughter and Miss Pierce, arrived from China yesterday afternoon on the steamer Hippon Maru. There was a great desire to know what position he would assume with regard to the coming gubernatorial nomination in Iowa. To a representative of the Associated Press Mr. Conger, when asked if he cared to make any expression on the subject, repeated his previous statement that he would accept if the nomination came to him, but that he was in no sense a candidate. His present intention and desire was to return to China and finish his work.

Touching events in China, Mr. Conger turned interviewer, and was particularly anxious to know what had been done by the powers in the matter of indemnity. He was asked for his opinion as to the amount of indemnity China could pay.

"Three hundred million dollars," he replied, accompanying his answer by the statement that it would be necessary for the government to practice economy. The time of payment, too, should extend over a long term of years.

Concerning events in China, Mr. Conger said that there was nothing now to be said in that direction, as everything that happened had been told fully, together with many things that never occurred. Tales of brutality had, he thought, been exaggerated. Of course there were cases of outrages by individual soldiers, that were not sanctioned by officers. These were but incidents of war which found some palliation in the fact that the Chinese had killed 40,000 native Christians and 100 Europeans.

Nat Smith's Dark Suspicion

London, April 26.—Nat Smith, brother of Billy Smith, the pugilist who died, says: "We are sure that apoplexy was not the cause of death. It is certain that my brother was given something to drink at the end of the seventh round and after that he was utterly useless. He had the fight won when he began to stagger about the ring and fell unconscious. He never got up again. It is a difficult matter to prove, as everybody here is interested in hushing up the scandal, but I shall have my say at the inquest if it is possible."

Terrible Disaster In Germany

Frankfort, April 26.—A disastrous explosion occurred yesterday afternoon at the electric chemical works, near Greisheim, where smokeless powder is manufactured. Most of the boilers exploded. The factory immediately became a mass of flames and a strong wind carried the sparks to neighboring villages, where several houses were also set on fire. The number of dead and injured is estimated at 150, but cannot be determined until the list of employes of the chemical works can be compared with the survivors.

Refuses Opportunity of Freedom

Scranton, Pa., April 26.—Seven years ago next June, James Gannon, now 68 years old, was sent to jail in contempt for refusing to sign a deed. Two days ago Governor Stone signed a bill which passed the legislature, designed expressly for the release of Gannon. Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted yesterday to get Gannon before the court, that an order might be made for his release. Gannon refused to sign the habeas corpus petition, and further declared that he would not raise a hand to gain his freedom.

Strike of Rubber Workers

Boston, April 26.—After a three days' conference with the members of the firm, at the rooms of the state board of arbitration, at which no agreement could be reached, the workers of the Hood Rubber company, who have a big factory at Watertown, have declared a strike against the firm. The strike will affect about 1000 persons. The reason given by the strikers is the firm's refusal to discharge an objectionable foreman, Richard Pierce.

Liabilities of Nearly $200,000

Boston, April 26.—Dudley H. Bradlee, who carried on a hardware business in Fort Hill square, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $191,478.15, and he has assets of $49,072.91.

CURTAILMENT A FAILURE

Another Break In Prices of Product of Fall River Mills

Fall River, Mass., April 26.—The selling committee yesterday afternoon dropped the price of odd print cloth to a basis of 2 3-4 cents, and slight sales were made at the new price basis. No change was made in the price of regulars for the reason that no sales of regulars have been made at the 2 7-8 cents price for some time. It is likely that the price for regulars will also be lowered when a bid for that make of goods is made on the new price basis.

The break in the price of print cloth comes as the result of a long period of dullness. The selling committee has at last been brought to a realization of the futility of endeavoring to maintain prices when outside competitors are cutting under the Fall River figure and obtaining whatever business there is in sight.

The curtailment plan has not been the success that manufacturers here hoped for. They felt certain that buyers were in the need of goods, and believed that the withdrawal of 1,000,000 pieces from the market would force them to purchase in large quantities. The sales thus far during the time of the shutdown have barely equalled the production of the mills which have been in operation and have not relieved manufacturers of the large surplus stock stored in local warehouses.

Animal Trainer's Horrible Fate

Peru, Ind., April 26.—Henry Huffman, an animal trainer, with the Wallace show, was killed here yesterday by "Big Charley," an elephant, while the animal was bathing in the river. The animal wound his trunk around Keeper Huffman and hurled him far into the stream. The man was uninjured, and when he returned he was grabbed by the big elephant and thrown to the bottom of the river and held there by the forefeet of the animal. Then the elephant ran away. He broke down fences and roamed about in a big field, keeping everybody at a distance. Apples, loaded with strychnine, were finally thrown near him, and he ate one. An hour later he laid down and was in terrible agony. A rifle shot settled him. Big Charley weighed over three tons and was valued at $10,000, and in his lifetime had killed four men.

Travis Clings to His Title

New York, April 26.—Walter J. Travis of the Garden City Golf club sustained his title as amateur champion of the United States Golf association a few weeks ago in playing off a tie with Archibald Graham. Travis established an amateur record for the Lakewood links, by negotiating the 18-hole course in 79 strokes. Since that time the course has been made a little more difficult by the erection of bunkers, but notwithstanding this, Travis succeeded in making the round yesterday in 80, just one stroke behind the record.

Raid on Gambling Joint

New York, April 26.—Agents for the Society For the Prevention of Crime descended on Frank Barlow's alleged gambling club at 52 Broad street yesterday. When the raiders got into the room there were more than 30 men playing roulette, faro and poker. They made a frantic effort to escape, but were prevented. Five men were arrested, and gambling paraphernalia worth upwards of $5000, several thousand chips, many packs of cards and about $30 in small change was taken away by the raiders.

Sealing Steamers In Danger

St. John's, April 26.—It is feared that the sealing steamer Virginia Lake, with 270 men on board, may be frozen in amid the ice floes in White bay, on the northern coast of Newfoundland, for the next six weeks. The Arctic ice fields are now packing in upon the floes which have enclosed her for the past month. The Kite, with 150 men on board, is similarly situated in the gulf of St. Lawrence. The owners are apprehensive that both ships may be driven ashore.

Can't Exibit Tolstoi's Portrait

London, April 26.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the Russian government has forbidden the exhibition, at Moscow, of Repine's life-size portrait of Count Leo Tolstoi, representing him in the costume of a peasant and barefooted. When the portrait was recently exhibited at St. Petersburg the public paid unusual tribute to the picture, and surrounded it with flowers.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 26.—The state senate yesterday killed the bill to permit cities to build conduits for electric wires and to lease the same to companies. The question came on substitution of the bill for the adverse report of the committee on mercantile affairs. This was rejected, 11 to 24. It was a Cambridge bill, and was favored by 11 other cities.

An Insane Woman's Suicide

Watertown, N. Y., April 26.—Dressed in a man's clothing, Mrs. Bert Weeks, aged 70, left her home at midnight, walked over a mile to the river bank, and there, tying about her 30 pounds of railroad iron, threw herself into the river. The woman was insane.

Headed Toward the Sun

Cape Town, April 26.—The comet, first seen here yesterday morning, is visible on the eastern horizon. It is brilliant and triple-tailed, and is approaching the sun.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Saturday, April 27.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

ON THE DIAMOND

Plenty of Enthusiasm Shown at Opening Game at Baltimore

Baltimore, April 27.—Baltimore defeated Boston in the opening game of the American league season in this city. An old time crowd was present, and the enthusiasm was great. Shortly after noon a parade, about 40 carriages, containing officials and players of both clubs, representatives of the trades unions, manufacturing concerns and sporting organizations, passed through the principal streets. President Johnson of the American league was present and tossed the first ball upon the diamond. The floral tributes presented to the members of the Baltimore team were numerous and very handsome. Boston was given a floral scroll, bearing the inscription: "Welcome, Boston." The first American league game here made an excellent impression for the business like way in which it was conducted.

A Terrible Spectacle

Clinton, N. M., April 27.—Thomas E. Ketchum, alias Black Jack," the notorious outlaw, who had terrorized the people of the southwest for the past 15 years, was hanged here yesterday for train robbery. His head was torn from the body by the rope, and the headless trunk pitched forward toward the 150 spectators, the blood spattering upon those nearest the scaffold. The body dropped to the ground quiverig and bleeding. Men groaned and turned away from the horrible sceptacle. Ketchum spent the greater portion of the morning in reviewing his past life. He cursed the railroad and express companies and the officers who were instrumental in his conviction, the people of New Mexico in general and their laws. He acknowledged that he planned and led his gang in many robberies accredited to him.

NO MOTIVE YET SHOWN

By Government Witnesses In the Eastman Trial

MEN BUT FOUR FEET APART

When the Shot That Caused Grogan's Death Was Fired—Jury Given an Illustration of the Position at the Time of the Shooting

Cambridge, Mass., April 27.—The suggestion of sunshine yesterday was a relief to the general sombreness that has hung over the court room in which Charles R. Eastman is being tried on a charge of having murdered Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4 last. The defendant, while evidently nervous, appeared bright and confident. The crowd in attendance was large, including many women.

The government produced eight more witnesses, only three of whom could shed any light on the affair, while not one could show any motive on Eastman's part. A young employe of the Clark factory told the jury how he marked out the positions of the several revolvers, but said that Eastman and Grogan often practiced shooting in company, and that Eastman had invited him to participate in the target practice on the fatal day.

Police Officer Rowe told of Eastman's voluntary recital to the chief of police of the circumstances connected with the shooting, but even Eastman's repetition of Grogan's words, which caused much legal controversy on previous days, was stricken out of the record.

Officer Rowe said that another officer made notes of Eastman's statement to the chief of police, as did the defendant's brother-in-law, Clark. The next few days was spent by the officer in collecting evidence. The officer caused some merriment in court when describing a grove of trees back of the house, by admitting that he did not know the difference between a pine and an oak.

Dr. J. A. McKenzie, one of Eastman's neighbors and one of the first to reach the scene of the affair, was, perhaps, the most interesting witness of the afternoon. He saw the body of Grogan within a few minutes after death. He described the bullet wound in the left breast, and another slight wound or abrasion on the back of the left hand between the thumb and fore finger.

The bullet wound, when the left arm rested by the side, was eliptical, but when the arm was raised the wound was round. The doctor went into the yard with Officer Rowe when the revolvers were gathered up.

He described the ground where the shooting is said to have taken place, and said that it had the prints of shoes and also long marks made by shoes being drawn roughly across the dirt. Grogan's handkerchief was on one side of this disturbed place, while Eastman's hat was on the other side.

The doctor, at the request of Mrs. Eastman, went over to the house and heard the defendant make his statement to the chief of police. In doing so the doctor described Eastman's illustration, while making his statement to the chief of police, of where he stood when the revolver went off.

The attorney general, who was examining Dr. McKenzie, then had the witness step off the witness box and illustrate Eastman's illustration, the doctor taking Grogan's place while the attorney general represented Eastman. This showed that the men were within four feet of each other when the shot was fired; Grogan's right arm was raised horizontally and he was turned slightly away from Eastman, so that the latter was just off his left side. On the other hand, Eastman was almost facing Grogan. This is the first time that the position of the two men at the time of the shooting has been described to the jury.

Great Possibilities

New York, April 27.—The Cunard line intends to equip its steamers with instruments for wireless telegraphy, and make an experiment to determine its value. It is said that the approach of a steamer reporting itself by wireless telegraphy to a station at Montauk Point would be known here more than 12 hours before she arrived. This method of reporting steamers would have another advantage over the present one, in that fog would in no wise interfere with it.

Unreasonable Shooting Case

New York, April 27.—John Gunn, aged 6, one of a group of small boys playing on a pier last night, was shot in the forehead by a man standing on a sand scow lying alongside the pier. The boy may not recover. Aaron Olsen of the sand scow was arrested on the charge of shooting the boy. The police say the shooting was absolutely without justification, and that Olsen's only cause for firing the gun was that the boys annoyed him.

WORKED AN OLD GAME

Brace of Swindlers Got More Than $1100 From a Man at Portland

Portland, Me., April 27.—Too much confidence in newly made friends cost Anton F. Anderson, a Norwegian on his way home to the old country, more than $1100. The police are looking for the swindlers, but they have little hope of capturing them.

Anderson came here Thursday from Minneapolis, where he had worked for many years. He had with him a trifle more than $1100, which he had saved since his arrival in this country. He was on his way to his old home to engage in business. On the train he got acquainted with a stranger, who proved to be a most obliging and sociable person, and to this man Anderson told where he was going and the fact that he had considerable money with him.

Yesterday he unexpectedly met the man on the street, and renewed the acquaintance of Thursday. The stranger was in great trouble. He said he had $4500 with him and was going to pay it to his sister, but somebody had doubted his honesty. The Norwegian was indignant, for he was convinced that his new friend was all right.

Soon a third man came into the game, apparently a stranger to both. By the same old artifices, in order to prove that he was an honest man, the Norwegian was induced to put all his money into a bag, while his new friend put in a big roll of bills, supposed to be $4500. Then the bag was given to the stranger and later turned over to the Norwegian, to be deposited with a Catholic priest.

When the stranger and his new friend had gone the Norwegian bethought himself to examine the contents of the bag, when he discovered that the bags had been changed, and the one in his possession was filled with old paper and stones.

Attack on Harvard Resented

Cambridge, Mass., April 27.—Considerable agitation prevailed here yesterday on account of an attack upon Harvard, made by Professor Herron, in a lecture here given by invitation of the Harvard Social Science club. Professor Herron referred to Harvard in terms of caustic criticism, and he also attacked Vice President Roosevelt as a Harvard graduate. The speaker's utterances were hissed by the audience.

Marlboro "Mystery" Solved

Marlboro, Mass., April 27.—After two days of anxious search to locate the cause of the unearthly screams early Wednesday morning, the police last night ascertained the cries were those of a woman who was taken with a fit. The screams were distinctly heard by Policemen Early a mile away, and the whole town was in an uproar quickly over the possibility that someone had been murdered.

Nineteen Mills Yet to Close

Fall River, Mass., April 27.—The mills of 15 corporations, employing about 6000 operatives, will be closed during next week. Ten corporations will be shut down in every department, and five others will close in part. At the end of next week but 11 mills will have complied fully with the terms of the agreement. The other 19 mills will make up the remaining time during the month of May.

Almost Ready For Business

Boston, April 27.—Unless unforeseen difficulties are met with, trains on the L road will be running by June 1. The northerly end of the subway connection was made yesterday, thus giving a continuous roadway for a distance of about six miles. Everything is in readiness for the running of trains, with the exception of the stations. These are fast being completed.

Strikers' Ranks Increased

Pawtucket, R. I., April 27.—As a result of the strike at the factory of the United States Finishing company, in which 35 employes of the bleaching department originally participated, has increased so that at present one-fifth of all the operatives in the mill are out, other departments being forced to shut down because of the bleachers' action.

Police Captain Missing

Springfield, Mass., April 27.—Captain Boecklen of the local police force, who went away on a two days' leave of absence a week ago last night, has not returned, and the city marshal has begun an investigation. Boecklen has been connected with the police department here for 27 years, 17 years of which he has been captain.

Slugger "Lost His Head"

Sanford, Me., April 27.—Before a large crowd here last night a bout between Max Cote of Biddeford and Angelo Horne of Sanford ended abruptly and amid disorder in the third round, when Cote lost his head over a decision of the referee and struck him a severe blow in the face. The police at once called the fight off.

Two Straight Falls For Parker

Brockton, Mass., April 27.—Harvey Parker of Brockton last night defeated Robby Reakes of Michigan, two straight falls, in a wrestling match, in 14 minutes and 30 seconds, and 6 minutes and 50 seconds, respectively. The match was catch-as-catch-can, for $250 a side and a division of the gate receipts.

Maine Men For the Constitution

Bristol, R. I., April 27.—The 19 Deer Isle, Me., sailors who will form part of the crew of the Constitution, arrived here yesterday afternoon, coming by way of Rockland, Me., and Boston. They are a fine looking body of men. The average age of the men is under 30 years.

Good Afternoon

The report of the committee of the City Council relative to utilizing the Adams academy and Woodward institute to their fullest capacity is awaited with interest. There is no attempt, we believe, to make either an annex of the Quincy High, but a desire to make the most of our opportunities. We do not believe that Dr. Woodward would be pleased at the small attendance at the institute, when so many Quincy born girls are seeking an education at some other institutions. The ministers, who comprise the board of directors, are not at all satisfied with the progress of the school, and do not feel that they individually, have had much to say as to the management. Usually only three or four out of 25 to 30 have attended the meetings. The suggestion to elect the superintendent of the public schools as their supervisor, meets with favor, and would place an educational expert in control.

Ten thousand dollars may not be a large sum for the State to spend for looking into the canal scheme, but it will be money thrown away and the leak should be stopped. The committee on harbors and public lands has voted to report the resolve appropriating $10,000 for a survey for a canal from Quincy to Narggansett bay via Brockton and Taunton.

Brockton was favored on the redistricting committee of the Legislature, having not only a senator and a representative, but the chairman. What will they do with the city of Quincy? That's the question.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ An unwonted demand for maps and pocket compasses is reported by the large dealers in such articles. This is taken to indicate that many more persons than usual are making plans for their summer holidays with a view to visiting picturesque places afoot or awheel. Very likely this may be a correct explanation. The love for outdoor life has vastly increased within the last twenty years, and not all of it can be charged to a desire to be in with a rather pleasant fashion. Bicycles and trolley car and the automobile are all great helps to escaping the city and to enjoying the country easily and inexpensively. Of these undoubtedly the trolley car is most convenuient for the largest number. Comparatively few can walk for a long distance, and the wheel and automobile are more or less the objects of care. But the electric road is going almost everywhere with small fares and with opportunities to stop at any point and to resume the journey at almost any time. In a very short time it will be possible for a person to make a very complete tour of this state by electric cars, and thus to see it in a way which would hardly be possible otherwise—in a way which certainly is more practicable to many than any other way. The electric railway companies will find one of their best sources of income in those persons who use their cars for pleasure travel, and they are bound to make that use as pleasant as possible.—New Bedford Standard.

Posters are printed announcing the drama "Our Folks," to be given by class 1901 of the Braintree High school, May 10.

NEW OFFICERS.

Elected at Meeting of the Unity Club.

The last meeting of the Unity club for the season was held last evening. The subject, "Netherlands" was in charge of Mr. W. G. Corthell.

The meeting was opened by a selection from the quartette consisting of Mr. Bullock, Mrs. Follett, Mrs. E. King and Mr. H. Y. Follett, who sang, "My love, is like a red red rose."

Mr. Corthell introduced the subject with a short talk on his visit to the Netherlands.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh had the first paper on Brussels, "le petit Paris," which was bright and interesting.

Mr. Bullock the popular tenor sang with great feeling and expression the following songs: "My sweetheart when a boy," and "Beam from yonder star." A hearty applause greeted him at the conclusion.

Mrs. W. S. Washburn presented with much interest the next paper on Charles V. Philip II and Duke of Egmont. She portrayed the cruel characters of the infamous kings, recalling the days of the inquisition.

Intermission followed after which the election of officers took place. For the coming year the following officers will serve: President, Mr. Charles F. Harper. Vice Presidents, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Rev. F. W. Pratt. Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. H. G. Fay. Librarian, Mr. W. G. Corthell. Executive Committee, D. E. B. Johnson, Mrs. W. S. Washburn and Mrs. H. Y. Follett.

The quartette gave another pleasing selection entitled, "Softly falling shades of evening."

The last paper an instructive one, by Mr. Harper, dealt with the government of Belguim under Leopold I. In conclusion, the quartette sang "Good evening," and were so heartily encored that in response they repeated the selection.

An unexpected guest dropped in, Supt. Lull of Newport, who was warmly greeted by his old friends.

A fine literary and musical entertainment is promised at the banquet which will come off May 10.

TWO BURGLARIES.

Breaks at Atlantic and Squantum Last Night.

Burglars were abroad in Quincy last night, and it is known that at least two places were broken into. One of these was the building on the marsh at Atlantic known as the felt mill. The building is now occupied by a boat building concern whose specialty is naptha launches, canoes, etc. A canoe for racing purposes is now being built for Thomas W. Lawson. Entrance to the building was had by prying off a board and then raising an iron bar, with which a door was fastened. The only thing missed is a box carpenters' tools, valued at $25, belonging to one of the workmen.

The second place entered was the summer residence of Mrs. George F. Burkhardt at Squantum. Just what was taken here or how the burglars gained entrance is not known at the present time of writing. The break was reported to the police and Officer McKay, who has gone down to investigate, had not returned when the Ledger went to press. There is no telephone connections with Squantum during the winter months and therefore it could not be reached.

Mrs. Burkhardt's residence is the most prominent house at Squantum; it is closed during the winter months, and the doors and windows are boarded up. There is however a watchman in charge of the property and word was sent to Atlantic by electric car and telephoned to Quincy. It is thought that both breaks were made by the same party.

Minstrels at Atlantic.

In spite of the bad weather of Wednesday evening, Music Hall, Atlantic, was crowded to the doors to witness one of the best minstrel shows ever given in that hall. It was by the choir of the Sacred Heart church. Many local hits were given and all the latest coon songs were rendered, each with a good strong chorus. All were encored.

Mr. B. F. McLane was the interlocutor, and Ed. Shea and T. Whalen manipulated the bones while J. F. McKenna and P. F. Shea thumped the tambos. In the circle were: K. L. Hastings, M. R. Sullivan, Ed. J. Sullivan, Ed. DuFault; James Brennan, P. Colligan, Ella Pitts, and Clara Nelson.

Part second included: Solo by Mr. Edmund DuFault, recitation by B. A. McLane, "For a few minutes," by Tom Whalen; sketch, "Irish Life in America," Messrs. Shea, McKenna and Brennan.

Civil Trial List.

The following cases are marked for trial at the civil session of the district court next Tuesday:

316—Newcomb vs. Adrian.
71—Kennedy vs. Gage.
88—Magann vs. Hardwick & tr.
86—McConarty vs. Prescott.

THE SOCIAL REALM.

Miss Lou Ella Hamblin, daughter of R. Willard Hamblin of Hyde Park, and Mr. Harry Wells Palmer of the same town, were married on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. C. Tripp, of Fairmount avenue. The reception was attended by friends from Boston, New York and neighboring towns.

The children are looking forward to the May day festival, given every May day at Music hall by the Quincy Home Science association.

Success of Former Pastor.

The Courier of Camden, N. J., in a report of the annual meeting of the Second Presbyterian church of that city, says Rev. Robert Westly Peach formerly of Quincy, broke all records during his first year as pastor.

The treasurer's report showed an income for current expenses, including interest charges, from envelopes and plate offerings, of $2,904.66, an increase of $447.85 over last year, and of $246.30 over 1897, the best previous year. The receipts of the trustees from other sources, of the session, deacons, Sunday school and societies, brought the total net income up to $5,210.67, over $100 a week. The membership of the church is 400; forty-three new members were received during the year. The gifts to beneficences were also larger than ever before, aggregating $919.08, which went to missions and local reforms and charities.

Rev. Mr. Peach was recently elected moderator of the Presbytery of West Jersey.

Robertson—Davidson.

A pretty home wedding occurred on the evening of April eighteenth, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of Neponset when their second daughter Miss Agnes, was given in marriage to Mr. Thomas Robertson of Quincy. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Robert F. Gordon of the Dearborn Street Congregational church of Roxbury. Mr. John Green of Roxbury was best man, and Miss Jessie Davidson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in a very becoming dress of the latest fashion, and carrried white roses.

Among the guest were friends from Quincy, Lowell, Hyde Park Roxbury, Dorchester and Highlandville. After the ceremony, the guests partook of a bountiful spread given by the bride's mother. During the evening songs and recitations were rendered and the young folks found pleasure in dancing. The couple were the recipents of many beautiful gifts.

Three Bitten by Dog.

While at play in the school yard of the Washington school yesterday a number of children were bitten by a small terrier dog. It appears that the children were romping around with the dog, who evidently got excited at the noise the children made, and in the moment of excitement he attacked the crowd, indiscriminately snapping at the onlookers as well as his former playmates. Altogether three children were bitten one little girl through the upper lip. Several other receiving minor scratches.

Merrymount Lead.

The schedule of the Norfolk County league is completed and the Merrymount teams of Wollaston won handily both at bowling and billiards. The South Braintree club won at pool and the Commonwealth club of Weymouth at whist. The Wessagusset club of Weymouth was the only team which failed to lead in one of the four. The prizes will be on exhibition later in Braintree, Weymouth and Wollaston.

The summaries are as follows:

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.
We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.
We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.
The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

A BOX OF MONKEYS.

And Other Attractions at Anniversary of Loyal Ladies.

An entertainment of unusual merit and attraction was given by the Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor, No. 1, last evening in Music hall.

The occasion was in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the order, and was a decided success.

The entertainment was entirely historical and consisted of a farce in two acts, entitled "A box of monkeys," and a one-act comedy, "Thy neighbor's wife."

The cast of characters in the opening play were Messrs. Alex. Russell, John Troupe, Mrs. Lizzie Perry, Miss May Rose and Miss Maggie Esson. All acted the parts assigned to them with more than ordinary amateurish ability.

Miss May Rose as "Sierra Bengaline," a prairie rose, depicted the ease and grace with which an American girl can charm and entertain high bred lords and ladies. Miss Maggie Esson, as an English daughter of rank and faultless breeding, was softened out in the neatest fashion possible, from a stiff, mannerish young lady to a lively, wide awake, ready for all chit of a girl, it who became a pleasure to meet. Mrs. Lizzie Perry, as the lady and admirer of rank, was unsurpassable, while Mr. John Troupe and Alex. Russell, as young adventurers, who often found themselves in difficulties and awkward positions, were a success.

"Thy neighbor's wife" was of a different cast, and afforded to the large audience no end of fun. Those who played in this farce, and made a hit, were Mrs. Margaret Allen, as Mrs. Somerton, the buxom wife of Mr. Somerton, an artist. Her trouble was, being pestered with the undesirable love of a Mr. Brown (John Ross) and a Mr. Smith (John Wedderburn), crazy headed neighbors who had high rolling young wives of their own. Mrs. Somerton acquainted her husband of the state of affairs and together they planned to discomfit Messrs. Brown and Smith in their unwarrantable conduct.

Mr. and Mrs. Somerton succeeded in their object, and gave Brown and Smith along with their wives, who were Miss Belle McIntosh and Miss Jennie McDonald, more than was pleasant. The whole cast acted in a highly creditable manner and received a rousing applause.

Mr. Robinson's orchestra was in attendance throughout.

At 10.30 o'clock the signal for the grand march was given, which was quickly responded to. It was led by Mr. John Troupe and Miss Belle McIntosh on the right, and Mr. Osgood and Miss May Rose on the left. These were followed by couple after couple until the limit of accommodation was reached. The dancing was kept up with the usual spirit till 3 o'clock.

The Loyal ladies in their ten years of work as a society have attained from a charter membership of a little over twenty, to an active wide-awake society of about three hundred. When they organized, their object was to succor and aid in every way possible those who allied themselves with the order, according to its rules and by-laws. That the Loyal Ladies have done what they proposed to do is best known by those who from time to time have been in a position to fully test the good faith and stability of the order. The society is in a most flourishing condition, which bespeaks the sterling abilities of our good sisters.

Mrs. Mary A. Smith, the president, was as watchful and tireless, as ever, and saw that the committees in charge of the various details were all attention. The floor was directed by Miss Belle McIntosh and Miss May Rose. The aids were Miss Anna Booth, Miss Mabel McDonald, Miss Sadie McDonald, Miss Jennie Gorman, Miss Lulu McIntosh and Miss Jennie McDonald.

The committee of arrangements were: Mrs. Maggie Ross, Mrs. Maggie Hall, Mrs. Lizzie McIntosh, Mrs. Maggie Stronach, Mrs. Lizzie Perry, Mrs. Mary A. Smith (president) and Mrs. Agnes Donald (secretary).

The reception committee: Mrs. Mary A. M. Smith and Mrs. Lizzie Perry.

LIFE'S MIRROR.

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best shall come back to you.

Give love, and love to your heart will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

For life is the mirror of king and slave;
'Tis just what you are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

A MIXED MENU.

A Story Illustrating an Ingenious Plan For Keeping a Servant.

By Charlotte W. Eastmans.

It was a charming little sitting room in which Mrs. Mason sat sewing dainty stitches. Before her stood the servant girl, who, with a stolid stare, announced that she had found a place down town.

"But, Mary, you surely would not leave me without help," Mrs. Mason answered.

"I got a place where I get t'ree dollar."

"I would give you $3, but you agreed to work for me for $2.50 if I would teach you to talk and do the work."

"I got anoder place down town. I say I go next week."

Entreaty and persuasion were alike in vain. It all ended with, "I go next week."

One year from this time Mrs. Mason was a wiser if not a better woman, and when Lena announced, "I got another place down town," she merely answered, "Very well," for this was the third girl that she had trained for the woman down town.

When Mr. Mason came home to dinner that night, he saw at once that some shadow had clouded the domestic heaven, but when his wife had poured out her tale of woe she proceeded to lay before him plans for her future campaign. When he had fully caught her idea, he laughed long and loud.

"You're a mighty smart little woman, Maria, but if you try that game you'll fall down," he announced when she asked for his opinion of her plans.

"I'll not fall down any harder than I have in my other plans, and I believe I can do it."

"All right, I'll back you," he promised encouragingly.

Assured of her husband's co-operation, Mrs. Mason very willingly agreed to take Lena's cousin, Christina, who had just arrived from the fatherland. In the week which intervened before the advent of the new domestic one might have supposed Mrs. Mason to be a blue stocking of the deepest dye, for she carried a pencil stuck in her hair and stopped to jot down burning thoughts on whatever was most convenient to rest her notebook upon. The baby's back or the bottom of the dishpan were alike available. When the new Christina appeared, fresh and rosy and clean, she started at her task with vigor. Her former experience taught her the best method of instruction, and, taking up one article after another, she told the names distinctly and encouraged Christina to repeat it until she was sure of it.

The first performance in the domestic act was to fry potatoes for luncheon.

"This, Christina," said Mrs. Mason as she held up the spider, "is a kettle, and these are eggs," pointing to the potatoes.

After this the bread and the meat, the crackers and the raisins, the coffee and the lemons, changed places, and 50 of the commonest utensils in the kitchen and the dining room were in a confusion that had no order except in the fertile brain of Mrs. Mason. But she had her list well memorized, and her mistakes were few. Mr. Mason gave her enthusiastic support, and, though he feared to give an order to Christina without first consulting his wife and his appealing look at the table when he held up the cracker jar to Christina and asked for more raisins was very amusing, he gave his wife unstinted admiration for the glib manner in which she could order a six pound bread, fried rare, or a small piece of roast beef for the water pitcher.

Unsuspecting Christina worked hard at her part of the game, evidently desirous of fitting herself as soon as possible for the "t'ree dollar place" down town. She jabbered in her native tongue gladly with her friends, and her English, that chance might call into use, never intruded on the ground with which Mrs. Mason had tampered. The excitement of her experiment added quite a little interest to the usually monotonous work of training a green girl, and Mrs. Mason taught her many mysteries in salads and soups that she had heretofore kept as strictly private knowledge. Christina had reached that stage in her development when Mrs. Mason could give an order for dinner and go out for an afternoon with some assurance that a palatable, well served dinner would await her return. She knew that the time was near at hand for the inevitable announcement, and so when Christina said, a little more shyly than some of the former girls, "My cousin, she got me place where I see her every day; the woman, she say she glad to get girl what you make; she have your girl anoder time," Mrs. Mason answered cheerily:

"All right, Christina, you can go right along. I'll get along without a girl for awhile, but Mr. Mason is going to bring company home tonight, and I want a very nice dinner."

Christina smiled at so willing an acquiescence to her plans and asked, "What I get for dinner?"

"We'll have some of that nice oatmeal cream, a cabbage fried cake, some souped eggs, a chicken omelet, and you may get some of the best oyster cookies from the pickle. Make some coffee soup, Christina, and make the freezer full. I think we'll have soda pie with it."

"All right. I do it," answered Christina willingly. And Mrs. Mason smiled as she thought of the lady down town. "Now, madam, you're welcome to the fruit of my labor."

If she felt the least bit guilty, the memory of the many hours of care and thought that she had given to the training of green girls came to appease her conscience.

"I only wish I could see the other acts," she said to Mr. Mason. "I expect to be in the fifth myself, but I feel I shall miss the third and fourth."

Christina reported bright and early at Mrs. Bender's, eager to prove herself worthy of her advance. Circumstances compelled Mrs. Bender to leave her entirely to her own devices the first day, but on the morning of the second she came in haste into the kitchen.

"Christina," she said, "get breakfast as quickly as possible. Mr. Bender wants to make that early train. We generally want toast, but we will get along without it this morning, and we like it rare," she said, pointing to the beefsteak.

"Rare!" Christina exclaimed.

"Yes, rare. You understand what that is, don't you?"

"Y-e-s."

"Well, we always take it rare and our coffee strong."

"You take coffee for breakfast?"

"Always. And we would like it as soon as possible, Christina."

Mrs. Bender sailed out of the kitchen and confidentially told Mr. Bender that the new girl seemed exceedingly stupid or else she had a very peculiar manner.

"She is in a constant state of surprise," she added, "and, I declare, I smell bread toasting. I told her not to toast it this morning."

In an incredibly short time the breakfast bell rang, and when the Bender family sat down to the table the look of surprise was transferred from Christina's face to theirs, for on the platter lay a fine steak, fresh from the refrigerator, and in place of the pot of steaming coffee sat a pitcher of ice cold lemonade. Mrs. Bender rang the bell with exceeding energy, and when astonished Christina appeared they each made a frantic effort to convince the other that she was responsible for the mistake. Mrs. Bender grew angry, and Christina resorted to tears, and while Mr. Bender listened to their confusing explanations he made his breakfast on toast and lemonade.

Matters grew worse rapidly, and in spite of repeated and patient explanations Christina's ideas were in a state of hopeless confusion, but neither she nor Mrs. Bender ever thought of the little woman on the hill as the author of all their troubles. At the end of two weeks Mrs. Bender took a street car for Walnut hill and, seeking out Mrs. Mason, asked her if she would not be willing to take Christina back. Mrs. Mason artfully hesitated a moment and then consented.

"I am so relieved," Mrs. Bender said, "for I keep her in tears half of the time, and she seems so anxious to please me. I can't understand how any one can be as stupid as she is."

So Christina came back, and for four years she did faithful service in Mrs. Mason's kitchen, and for the first time in her life that ingenious little woman did not live in constant fear of "anoder place down town."—What to Eat.

The History of Etiquette.

Etiquette is a form of fashion more important than style in dress, for the reason that the varying codes of manners have influenced morals, something changing the cut of a coat cannot be said to have done. When etiquette demanded that a gentleman accept a challenge or acknowledge himself a coward in the minds of his fellow citizens, it encroached sharply upon ethics. Now that it has gone out of fashion to kill, gentlemen find small difficulty in keeping the sixth commandment. The less formal etiquette becomes the less wanton taking of life there is among those who consider good breeding of consequence.

As the civilized race now stands either man or woman can be refined, regardless of shape of hat he or she wears. This was true in any century, but 200 years ago and back of that period a gentleman and lady could, according to approved etiquette, gobble food with their hands from a common dish set in the center of the dining table and filled with the entire fashionable bill of fare prepared for the occasion. Gratefully we now acknowledge such proceedings to be "bad form" and in so doing pronounce ourselves two centuries removed from the table manners of swine and one point away from that brute, no matter how similar to him our turn of mind may remain in some other respects.—National Magazine.

Salt Water Fish.

The number of species of fishes living habitually in the salt waters of the world can only be approximately estimated, probably about 10,000. Those classed as "shore fishes" live, as a rule, close to the surface and near the land and are well known to the salt water angler in his outings as the weakfish, striped bass, kingfish, etc. Of the shore fishes there are about 4,000 species. The "pelagic fishes," or those which inhabit the upper waters of the seas, are relatively few in number. The "deep sea fishes," which live in depths varying from 200 to 2,500 fathoms, cannot be even approximately estimated, as new species are being constantly discovered.—Field and Stream.

Nicely Laid Out With Many Artistic Features—Cost, $3,500.

[Copyright, 1901, by George Hitchings, architect, 1099 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

This design is of a colonial style of architecture and is nicely laid out with a center hall 9 feet wide and 28 feet long and with an ornamental grille and seat at rear. There is an open fireplace with a brick mantel. The massive carved platform staircase, with a large art glass window on the landing, is an artistic feature. The parlor is large, 12 feet wide and 15 feet deep, and has a mullion window in front and a large oak mantel with bevel plate mirror. The library is a pleasant room, with three large windows and a sash door opening on the piazza. This room is provided with a large open fireplace, with an oak mantel and a tile hearth and facing complete. The dining room is connected to the library by sliding doors. This dining room is a very artistic room, with a large bay window and a window seat, an open fireplace, a Philadelphia faced brick mantel and a large buffet built in. There is also a neat design of parquet flooring. The walls are covered with red burlap, and the ceiling is tinted with a delicate floral decoration. The pantry is fitted with a china closet and a copper pantry sink. The kitchen is provided with all the modern fixtures. The second floor is most conveniently arranged, having a large hall in the center and doors opening to all the rooms. The four large chambers are provided with large closets. The bathroom is fitted with open set fixtures with nickel trimmings, a tile floor and imitation tile wainscoting. The attic contains one finished room for servants and a large open attic for storage. The cellar has a concrete floor, a laundry, servants' water closet and a large furnace and coal bins.

The foundation is stone, the superstructure frame. The exterior is covered with three coats of Atlantic white lead and pure linseed oil. Dimensions—front, 35 feet 6 inches; side, 36 feet. Cost to build complete, $3,500.

Turkish Rooms.

The cozy corner that became so horrible a certainty in the average home when oriental art gained its firm place in the hearts of cosmopolitan flatters has been displaced by the Turkish room, a possession more pretentious and more difficult to attain.

For this purpose an entire room must be set apart, a parlor alcove being usually chosen for the purpose. The entire ceiling and walls are draped in tented style, and the appointments and furnishings are all in keeping with eastern customs.

Chandeliers and gas jets are replaced by hanging lamps of jeweled brass or Italian iron, and effects are produced far more pleasing to the eye of the artist than to the careful housewife who knows what dust catchers these oriental hangings are.

While these draped rooms are usually designated and are sometimes used as smoking rooms, they are not adapted for the purpose, the draperies retaining the odors of smoke in a manner most unpleasant to fastidious nostrils.—New York Sun.

Use For Flour Sacks.

The strong sacks in which flour comes can be utilized in a number of ways for household purposes. It is first necessary to clean them and remove the lettering on them. The printed letters can be taken out by soaking in buttermilk for several hours before washing. The sacks make excellent towels, dishrags, mops and coverings for ironing boards. Those buying their flour in bags will find it of value to save the cloth and put each one away until a pile is collected. Then some day when it is convenient wash them out and cut them up into useful articles, hemming the edges for towels or dishrags the same as if the material had been purchased at the stores. The flour sacking is superior to much of the toweling material, for it is made very strong and durable in the beginning.—New Voice.

Take Care of Floors.

Bare floors should be wiped daily, but they should be well swept with a hair brush before wiping. Mattings should be swept twice or three times a week. Sweep with a brush and then go over them with a cloth on the broom. Salt and water is very good for the matting, but the matting should be rubbed dry after the salt has been used.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 28—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Fidelity to pledges, "I promise."—Ps. lxv, 1-4; lxi, 1-8; cxvi, 12-14.

The second clause of the Christian Endeavor pledge is "I promise," and on this clause of the pledge the entire structure rests. Everything depends upon the keeping of the pledge. It is useless and worthless unless it is kept. The criticism that the pledge at first aroused has practically ceased, and yet there is a phase of the pledge that needs still to be emphasized—the necessity and importance of fidelity to it. It is not kept as it once was. It is not kept as it should be, and perhaps the fault lies in the fact that it is not emphasized as it once was and should still be. Fidelity is the all important characteristic of a vow. It is better not to vow than to vow and not pay. As Endeavorers it may be well to note some reasons why we should be faithful to the promise clause of the pledge. The reasons will apply to all pledges, whether made to God or to man. All vows should be performed. All promises should be kept. All debts should be paid. "When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for He hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed."

1. The Christian Endeavor promise should be kept because of the person to whom it is made. That person is Jesus Christ. "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, I promise Him." The promise, the pledge, is made to Christ, not to man, not to the church, not to the society, but to Christ. This should make this pledge absolutely inviolable. All promises should be kept, but above all those made to Christ should be kept. We cannot afford to be indifferent to pledges made to man, but infinitely less can we afford to break a pledge made to Christ.

2. The Christian Endeavor promise should be kept because our personal honor and character are at stake. Nothing tests true honor and character better than a solemn pledge. The man who is indifferent or false to his word is not to be trusted. A reputation for failure to keep promises is a most undesirable reputation. A reputation for fidelity to promises is a most desirable one. We should shun the former and cultivate the latter. For our own sakes we should make our word as good as our bond, whether given to God or to man.

3. The Christian Endeavor promise should be kept because of Christ's fidelity to His promises. Christ has given us precious promises, and He never fails in the keeping of them. His example should inspire us to fidelity to our promises to Him. How can we break faith with one who has never broken faith with us? If He were unfaithful to His promises, a lack of fidelity on our part might seem to be excusable, but He is always faithful, and as He is so should we be.

4. The Christian Endeavor promise should be kept because it is a voluntary pledge. No Endeavorer was forced to take the pledge. Christian vows are always voluntary, and hence no excuse can be given for indifference or faithlessness to them.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Arrange a special programme with an address on the subject, "Fidelity to the Pledge."

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xxviii, 20-22, with Gen. xxxv, 7; Job xxii, 27; Ps. xxii, 25; lvi, 10-13; lxvi, 13, 14; cxvi, 18, 19; Eccl. v, 1-5; Isa. xix, 21; Jonah ii, 1-10; Acts xviii, 18.

Retarding the Spread of the Gospel.

It is equally true that he who seeks to retard the conquest of the world for Christ affiliates and may be reckoned among the adversaries who seek to defeat the object of His coming among men. Why should any man dare to excuse himself from doing what Christ positively requires, especially when the decree has gone forth that every knee shall bow to do Him homage? Has not the Father given all to His Son? Has He not said to the church militant, "Ask of Me, and I will give thee the nations for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession?" It may be said this is the promise of the Father to the Son, but whatever is given to the Son is given to the church, for blessed are they who put their trust in Him; and to trust Him means that we implicitly obey Him, and obedience brings victory.—Philadelphia Methodist.

Larger, Fairer Worlds.

Blessed are they to whom science and art and religion and all natural beauty and all sad and joyous experience are gates through which the soul freely passes into larger and fairer worlds than earth, where the symbol is changed for real being and where each mortal form is made resplendent by its indwelling, immortal life.—Christian Register.

Sunset.

After a day of tempest,
A battle of wind and rain,
Just when the gloom was thickest,
The sun shone forth again;

Lit with a blaze of glory
The track of the seething waves,
Fell like an angel's blessing
On the desolate churchyard graves;

Gave heart of hope to the fisher
Wearily faring home,
Brightened the brow of the goodwife,
Watching till he should come,

And the words of the Holy Scripture
Were borne to my soul again
As I thought of the wonderful gladness
Of sunshine after rain,

And thought that ever the Master,
As once in Galilee,
Is ready to calm the tumult
Of storm on land or sea.

And yet when the gloom is thickest
And the day is almost done
He sends us cheer and courage
In the gleam of the setting sun.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

LEADING HOUSE VINES.

The Clematises Are Among Our Most Popular Climbers.

The clematises furnish a number of the choicest climbing vines. Of the sorts native to the eastern region of the country none is perhaps better known than Clematis virginiana, or virgin's bower, found climbing over woodland bushes, along streams, generally north of the gulf states.

In the northwest the closely related Clematis ligusticifolia is the favorite instead, and Professor Buffun places this at the head of the list of ornamental climbing vines for Wyoming.

Another small flowered clematis is the Clematis paniculata, a very fine

introduction from Japan that has rapidly becom deservingly popular because of its vigorous habit and profusion of small, sweet scented white flowers that cover the plant with a sheet of bloom for several weeks, followed by the abundant light, airy plumes of the fruit that in maturing in autumn pass through very attractive shades of green, pink and brown.

The foliage is light, delicate and in strict accord with the fine bloom and fruit. The vine thrives well in the full sun, and when carefully pruned may be taken anywhere upon the porch, using wire netting to hold it in place and thus not detracting from the light, feathery nature of the vine in all its details.

American Gooseberries.

Quite a new view of our gooseberries is given by Professor S. A. Beach when he says, in American Agriculturist, that the gooseberries derived from native American species are unexcelled in flavor, quality and productiveness. Neither have they the tough thick skin common to the European sorts. They are inferior to the European varieties only in size. The best of these is undoubtedly the Downing, which bears pale green, roundish oval fruit, covered with thin, whitish bloom; skin, thin and smooth; flesh, soft, juicy and sweet, ranking among the best in flavor whether compared with American or European sorts.

The bush is upright, vigorous, rarely troubled with mildew and very productive.

Sweet and Sour Cherries.

If there is any fruit that the markets are never oversupplied with in the summer, it is the cherry, either sweet or sour. The reason for this is that it takes a long time to raise a bearing orchard of trees, and between the time of starting the trees until they begin to bear there are many enemies to contend against, and when the fruit is ripening the birds are bound to get more than their share. Consequently cherries are not as profitable as they should be. The market demand is always good, the prices rarely drop low, but yet the farmers do not make very much. In California they do make considerable from their cherry orchards, but elsewhere the crop seems a neglected one.

Cemetery Planting.

I notice in the Greenwood cemetery, in Brooklyn, that many of the graves are covered with English ivy. I would say there is nothing better than this beautiful plant for the purpose, but it would not be hardy in some sections. It would suffer during the bitter snows of March while it was severely frozen. There are quite a few graves lately covered with Vinca minor, the common periwinkle. In situations where the graves are beneath the shade of trees and grass is difficult to grow the Vinca comes in excellent. It is perfectly hardy, forms a close material and looks green the whole year. It needs shearing every spring.—Florists' Review.

Citrus Trifoliata.

The Citrus trifoliata becomes entirely dormant during the winter, withstanding zero weather without injury. With the use of Citrus trifoliata as a stock for oranges and grapefruit the orange industry can not only be revived in the old orange belt, but extended into the more northern portion of Florida, along the gulf coast and in southern Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, according to a Florida nurseryman.

A Splendid Street Tree.

That splendid ornamental tree, Liriodendron tulipifera, should be planted only in spring and pruned closely. It is very desirable for street planting, says Gardening.

The Cost of Cutting an Old Atlas.

In the state department at Washington is the most comprehensive and complete set of atlases and maps to be found anywhere in this country. As can be readily appreciated, they are vitally necessary to the carrying on of the department, and therefore neither trouble nor expense is spared in keeping them constantly up to date. It would be supposed that their extreme value and importance would be patent to every one.

Some years ago, however, one of the most valuable atlases was found with two of the maps cut out. The maps had not been abstracted. They had simply been detached from the binding. Investigation proved the mutilation to be the work of a certain clerk, who on being hauled up by his superior explained why he had done it as follows:

"Those books are terribly heavy and hard to handle, and so I cut the maps out in order to get at them easier. The atlases were very old, and I didn't suppose they were of any value or that any one would care."

To the state department an atlas is like a bottle of wine to a judge of fine drinks—its value increases in direct ratio with its age. It was felt in the department that that particular clerk had mistaken his calling in life, and to him was accordingly given an opportunity to pursue another one.—New York Tribune.

Cure For Insomnia.

I suppose all of us are suffering from the invasion of electricity. My old friend Bounce, who was a victim of insomnia for 40 years, thinks he sleeps now better than any other man on earth. He lost his way in the Adirondacks and staid overnight in the cabin of a forester. His sleep was the deep sleep of a just man made perfect, and in the morning he found that he had not moved half an inch all night.

"It's the insulation," the forester insisted. "You city folks are killin yourselves with contact. If you'll break the contact you'll be able to sleep and get your nerves back."

This matter of "contact" was finally explained to mean that our bedposts are in contact with the floors, the floors with the walls and the walls with mother earth, so that whatever personal magnetism a man has in him goes away in the nighttime, leaving him like a log on his mattress. The forester had obtained four glass insulators from telegraph poles somewhere and screwed them on the posts of his guest bed, so that the electricity could not run away. Bounce the very day he got home insulated his bed, and from that moment to the present his insomnia has been banished.—New York Press.

Cautious.

Many years ago, when printed music was dearer than it is now, a plain, quiet man, evidently from the country, went into a London music shop and asked to see a certain book of tunes. The clerk laid before him an oblong volume with two tunes on a page, a book familiar to old time choir singers.

The old man drew out of his coattail pocket an ancient yellow fife and, opening the book at the first page, began to play softly, turning the leaf with careful fingers as each page was finished.

The clerks, very much amused at first, grew weary of the droning noise after a time, and one of them, waiting till a tune was ended, ventured to say politely:

"Do you think you will take the book, sir? Does it seem to suit you?"

The fife was lowered, and the player, looking over it at the youth in mild surprise, said gently:

"I cannot tell. I have played only half the tunes," and placidly turned another leaf.

Hobson's Choice.

How many of us who use or hear the familiar expression, "It was Hobson's choice," are acquainted with the real sort of selection that Tobias Hobson offered his guests? This is the genuine version of the tale: The said Tobias Hobson was a Cambridge innkeeper, with 40 horses in his stables, some better, of course, than others. When a traveler came to request a mount, he was obliged to take the steed that stood nearest the door, although there were so many others advertised as for hire. If the traveler objected to that mount, all he could do was to wait until some other traveler had come for one and so removed this and left its next door neighbor nearest the stable door.

An Unexpected Retort.

"Where," asked the female suffrage orator, "would man be today were it not for woman?"

She paused a moment and looked around the hall.

"I repeat," she said, "where would man be today were it not for woman?"

"He'd be in the garden of Eden eating strawberries," answered a voice from the gallery.—Boston Traveler.

Got What They Wanted.

Their Caller—I don't see why Count Parchesi and his American wife should quarrel.

Miss Davis—Their interests clash, do they not?

Their Caller—Not to any marked degree. She wanted a foreign alliance and he a foreign allowance, that's all.—Harlem Life.

No Need of Chasing.

Jeweler—This ring is $1 more than the plain one on account of the chasing.

Farmer—See here, mister, yew don't haf ter chase me. I'm goin ter pay fer what I git.—Chicago News.

Willing to Listen.

Mr. Sly—I love you more than words can tell.

Miss Sharp—Then let the preacher do the talking.—Detroit Free Press.

FLOWERED WALL PAPERS.

Gay and Gigantic Blossoms Now In Order For Bedrooms.

This is the season when walls are redecorated, hangings renewed and general renovation is the work of the hour. The New York Tribune tells that for bedroom wall papers there are most charming designs, and without exception they are bright to garishness.

Wall papers have burst out into giant clover blooms and into great chrysanthemums, and when they are applied to the bedroom walls they should be bounded at the top by the molding, thus leaving a plain tinted frieze the same as the ceiling.

This flowered wall paper does not encourage the use of pictures, and in the case of the country house this is an admirable scheme, as it relieves the necessity of such decoration. The only pictures that appear well at all against the garish floral background are the dark etchings in black frames that are composed either of narrow molding or of black passepartout.

There is also a fancy for having the ceiling covered with floral paper which extends as a frieze down as far as the molding. This effect is novel and attractive. The side walls, being tinted to blend with the prevailing tone in the ceiling, afford an excellent background for pictures.

An artistic woman, having ideas of her own, recently created a little scheme to do away with a deep cornice in the room, and with excellent effect. Over the cornice were tacked sheets of cardboard, thus making a beveled surface, a trifle rounded necessarily from ceiling to side, and over this the paperhanger was directed to extend the ceiling paper. The curved effect of the paper extending to the molding was most attractive.

"It is a great mistake," said this woman, "to carry out the design of the wall paper into the fabrics of the room furnishing, as in the bedspread and window curtains. If the wall is plain, the counterpane may match the window draperies if desired, but not otherwise.

"The effect of harmony in the blending of shades is what produces that indescribable atmosphere in a room, rather than in the carrying out of the one idea. And the white muslin window hangings will do much to temper the display of color elsewhere."

A Few of the Parasols.

That charming detail, the sunshade, crowns the harmony of a picturesque summer toilet. It weighs down the scale for good or bad in the effect of a costume. Vogue sketches, as here shown, a few novelties which give a faint idea of the prevailing assortment of parasols. Transparencies will be very much used this year for dressy occasions, and they carry out an ideal of daintiness and airy fragility to perfection. On this order is a parasol of white crepe de chine appliqued with black chantilly lace, on which steel paillettes are sewed by hand. The crepe de chine is cut away under the lace, making a pretty effect when seen either on the top or from underneath.

SUMMER PARASOLS.

An elaborate affair of white taffeta, intended for ceremonial occasions, is spangled with golden sequins, and there are three double ruffles of mousseline de soie with hemstitched edges. This makes a singularly fluffy effect when either opened or closed.

Very handsome is a parasol of black silk bolting cloth doubled and ornamented with four rows of lace, and it would be difficult to find anything more attractive than the charming sunshade of white taffeta striped with black satin.

A Good Cleansing Fluid.

The following recipe is highly recommended for its excellence in cleansing fabrics without injuring the texture or "starting" the color, however delicate: Grate two medium sized potatoes into a bowl containing one pint of clean, cold water. Strain carefully through a sieve, allowing the liquid to fall into another vessel containing an additional pint of cold water. Let it settle and then pour off the water and bottle it for use. It may be put into a clean fruit jar. Softly rub the soiled fabric or garment with a sponge dipped in the potato water, after which wash it in clean water, dry carefully in the shade and iron.

Monotony Will Put You to Sleep.

Long, deep breathing kept up as long as possible by will power is the most generally recommended remedy for occasional sleeplessness. The main aim in such cases is to keep the mind from thinking. This is sometimes accomplished by the strain of keeping the eye fixed on some point in the ceiling or keeping the will fixed on the effort not to move even the smallest muscle. Monotony will put any man to sleep in spite of himself.

A Point In Scrambling Eggs.

For scrambling eggs or making an omelet a cooking school teacher says that cream, stock or water is better than milk, as the casein of the milk tends to toughen the albumen of the eggs.

Vibration.

"Vibration is the great bugbear of this business," said one of the best informed stationary engineers in New Orleans. "It is governed by fixed laws, of course, but they are so subtle and intricate that it is next to impossible to master them. They have a most important bearing, however, on the life of machinery. I have known valuable engines to jar themselves literally to pieces for no apparent cause. Some slight error in adjustment had set up a vibration that was communicated from part to part, like a contagious disease, until the whole plant was affected.

"A steady tremor of that kind will not only wear out the parts, but it causes what we call 'structural changes' in the metal itself. Wrought steel will gradually lose its toughness and elasticity and become as brittle as cast iron. When it is fractured, the interior will have a strange, granulated appearance, and the worst of it is that the alteration may be going on for months without the knowledge of the most careful engineer alive. That is the secret of the breaking of a great many propeller shafts at sea.

"There are different ways of stopping vibrations, and one of the most curious is to set up a counter tremor in the opposite direction. One neutralizes the other."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Among the Advantages.

A pretty, highborn girl engaged herself to a young tradesman and never wavered in her determination to marry him despite the gloomy forecasts of her friends, who predicted lifelong misery for her.

"My child, do be advised," urged one of these well meaning ladies, calling to see the radiant bride on the very eve of the wedding. "I am an older woman than you and have seen more of the world, and it always makes me sad to hear of a nice girl marrying beneath her station. It is social suicide."

"Then from a social standpoint consider me dead," smiled the light hearted girl, "for I shall certainly marry Tom tomorrow. We reckoned up the situation long ago and found a whole host of advantages, but not a solitary thing could we discover to place on the disadvantage side."

"Then you couldn't have searched very far, my dear," said her counselor icily. "Take my own case. Much as I love you, I shall be unable to visit you when you are married. Have you bargained for that?"

The bride blushed.

"Oh, yes, indeed," she answered hastily. "We put that down first of all."—London Telegraph.

Charmed the Beast.

"Look at this handkerchief," said a young society man to his professional friend who has an office in the Porter building. "That bit of lace and ruffle is worth its weight in gold to me."

"Some connection with old associations—a mere sentiment, I suppose," suggested the professional man.

"Nothing of the kind. From a practical standpoint it is just as valuable as I describe it to be. A sentiment enters into the case, however."

"Well, tell us about it."

"The handkerchief, then, is the token by which I am permitted to enter the house where my sweetheart lives. Without it I should be torn to pieces by a huge bulldog there. The beast is as ferocious as a tiger. During the day he is kept in chains, but after 7 o'clock in the evening his mistress releases him in the yard. No stranger after that hour can enter the gate. The terrible animal was a menace to my suit until the lady hit upon the plan of giving me her handkerchief for use as a pass. Now when the dog rushes toward me I have only to toss the dainty token to him. He smells it and walks peacefully back to his kennel. Do you blame me for valuing it so highly?"—Memphis Scimitar.

A Great Bawl.

Walter Damrosch once related an amusing experience that befell him in Orange. The musical director took upon himself the task of training a chorus in that burg. They were studying Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and had reached the chorus.

"Hear us, Baal; hear us, mighty god!" the male voices were booming out sonorously, when Damrosch cried out, as is his wont: "No, no! Not that way. Not that dreadful howl! Don't say 'B-a-a-l.' Soften a little. Give a more musical sound to the words. Say 'Bawl.'"

"Whereupon," he says, "the Orangeites took up the strain again:

"'Hear us Bawl! Hear us Bawl! Hear us, mighty god!'

"They quickly realized the peculiar fitness of the sentiment and broke down in laughter."

The Happy Ass.

The chief beauty of the following poem is that it is both rhyme and blank verse—rhyme according to the spelling and blank verse according to the pronunciation:

Through twilight's gold I heard the wild ass bray
His love song, which resounded o'er the quay,
While he, well knowing that for joy he should
Cavort in glee, kicked up the mossy mould,
And with the energy of lusty youth
Once more let off his everlasting mouth,
Which set on edge two polka dotted calves
Until they, too, oped wide their safety valves
And fled like me, and I flew like the wolf
Or e'en the hit ball in the game of golf.
—R. K. Munkittrick in Smart Set.

Part of It.

"Yes, sir; we have 200 deaf and dumb inmates on the roll of the institution, and fully 100 of them are voters."

"Indeed? This must be a part of the silent vote to which reference is so frequently made in the daily papers."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There are certain flowers the perfume of which is produced by microbes.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

Albert Keating has been appointed assistant assessor for Ward Two.

The building lots which Julius Johnson advertises today are in one of the best neighborhoods in the city, and handy to City Square.

The druggists in Ward One held a meeting Friday, the main object of which was to fix upon a uniform price for articles sold by them.

Charles Stanley, who had his shoulder dislocated by being thrown from his team last Sunday, on Quarry street, has entered suit against the city for damages.

In the repaving of the gutter on the west side of Hancock street in City square enough paving blocks were saved to pave the new gutter on the east side of the square.

The high wind of yesterday and today has dried up the streets so that dust is being blown about in clouds and the watering carts will have to go on duty immediately.

The torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence has been waiting for settled weather before making a record trial. At her next trial she will be speeded up to her full capacity. There is no question but what she will do more than required.

The two rounds of five blows sounded on the fire alarm circuit last night was the lost child signal. The three-year-old child of Fred Goss was missing. A few minutes after the alarm he was found on Washington street near the residence of N. B. Furnald.

When it is realized that thirty knots means about 35 land miles, and that few steam trains pass through Quincy going faster than thirty miles an hour some idea may be had of the speed a torpedo boat destroyer must make to be accepted by the government.

Loomis, who made the Loomis institute of Winsted residuary legatee after the decease of various living heirs, yesterday filed with the probate court a final account of the administration of the estate. ### Castle Square Theatre.

The interesting announcement is made, by the Castle Square Theatre management, of an elaborate production of the fine old drama "The Octoroon", written by Dion Boucicault, and originally played throughout the principal northern cities of this country some forty years ago. The revival of this famous stage presentation of scenes all to familar in the southern states at the time it was written will afford the younger generation of play patrons a glimpse of a period of American life that will undoubtedly prove both interesting and instructive. Many opportunities are given in the several scenes of this play for novel and effective stage pictures and the introduction of an old time Mississippi river steamboat, with the surrounding incidental to a night landing will brove a bit of stage realism that promises to make a novel sensation. This production begins the fifth regular summer dramatic season at the Castle Square Theatre. The principal chacters in "The Octoroon" will cast as follows; George Peyton, Charles Mackay; Salem Scudder, John Craig; Mr. Sunnyside, Edward Wade; Jacob M'clusky, Edmund Breese; Wahnotee, J. L. Seeley; Captain Ratts, Lindsy Morison; Colonel Pointdexter, James A. Keane; Jules Thibodeaux Stanley Kent; Mrs. Peyton, Leonora Bradley; Zoe, Lillian Lawrence; Dora Sunnyside, Leonora Gnito.

Keith's Theatre.

The only holdover at Keith's for the week Commencing Monday April 29, is Cecilia Loftus the ex-imitatrix, who has scored a solid triumph with her one act play, "Undina," which the critics unanimously pronounced one of the most artistic offerings ever made in vaudeville. Miss Loftus' surporting company is also the most competent that has yet appeared with a star in the continuous theatres. Belle Davis is announced to appear again with the songsheet chorus, singing "It's Honey All the Time" and "Take Me Back Babe." Clayton White and Marie Stuart, in their screaming funny comedy, "Dickie;" Louis M. Grant, the famous whistling soloist; Arvello, a wonderful equilibrist and balancer; the Bacheler club, a quintet of comedians and singers, and the Craigs, musical artists, are others who will be prominently in the bill. The orchestra, under direction of Louis Baer, will render selections from "Rogers Brothers in Central Park," and other up-to-date music.

Boston Music Hall.

There are or have been German comedians by the score, but the one who looms largest in the theatrical eye is Sam Bernard, now in great demand as a vaudeville entertainer. Boston Music Hall announces the engagement for a limited period of this popular funmaker, and mirth will be rampant while he is on the stage. Henry Lee, the noted impersonator, has been retained for one more week only.

Others on the bill will be Clifford and Huth, in one of their bright sketches; Charles R. Sweet, the amusing tramp burglar; the Donovans in a lively dialogue; Stella Lee, the prettiest and daintiest of fancy and buck and wing dancers; Brown and Marsh, phenomenally high jumpers; Reed and Shaw on the flying rings; McBride and Goodrich, clean cut dancers Henderson and Ross, acrobats; Powell, the magician; Nute Laurell, a Swedish comedian with a musical dialect; Margaret Rosa, singing comedienne; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Darrow, in shadowgraph and sand painting novelties; and the vitagraph, with a fresh series of motion views.

Edinburgh, April 27.—J. X. Merriman, former treasurer of Cape Colony, who, with J. W. Sauer, is now representing the Afrikander Bund in Great Britain and urging the immediate federation of South Africa into a self-governing commonwealth, under the British flag, addressed a meeting of 3000 here yesterday. Before he could proceed it was necessary, to suppress organized disturbance, to eject a large number, and to arrest several persons for assault. A large force of police prevented thousands from raiding the hall. Several were injured in a scrimmage. Fifteen thousand people waited to see Mr. Merriman when he emerged from the building, but he managed to make his exit unobserved by a private door.

Possible Clue to McCormick

New York, April 27.—Captain Titus was notified yesterday by the police of Washington that they had in custody Hannah and Lizzie Michelk, members of a band of gypsies, who were encamped at Highbridge, this city, a short time ago, on suspicion of being implicated in the kidnapping of Willie McCormick. One of the girls, it is said, while in a photograph gallery, dropped a piece of paper bearing the name of the missing boy. Captain Titus sent a detective to Washington to make an investigation.

Oleo Cases Not Prossed

Washington, April 27.—The government has nolle prossed 36 cases of violations of the anti-oleomargarine law on account of lack of competent witnesses for the government. The cases have been pending several years.

Against American Sovereignty

Madrid, April 27.—The Filipino committee here has adopted a resolution calling upon their countrymen in the Philippine islands to continue their struggle against American sovereignty to the bitter end.

NOW IN JAIL.

Murderer Brainard Taken Thither After Arraignment.

Seems to Realize His Position Now.

Trial Not Expected Until the September Term.

George H. Brainard of Wollaston, who has been confined at the police station at Portland since his arrest for murder, was after arraignment yesterday taken to the county jail, where are also confined Bill Hands, the self-confessed murderer, and Ed. Graffam, accused of the murder of Clifford Moshier.

The important question to be decided is whether Brainard was insane.

The Herald reports that yesterday afternoon, Dr. Sanborn, superintendent of the state insane hospital, who has been summoned by County Attorney Whitehouse, and Dr. Addison Thayer of Portland, who was called in by the defending attorneys, submitted the prisoner to a thorough examination. His broher-in-law, Prof. Mears of Williamstown, Mass., and a Boston friend who had come here in response to a telegram from the prisoner, were present during a part of the interview.

Some doubt was expressed as to whether Brainard would freely express himself to the physicians who were strangers to him, but both of them exercised great great tact in the matter, and he became as talkative to them as if they were old firends.

At times he became so confidential when being questioned by one physician or the other concerning his alleged hallucination about conspirators against him that he whispered his answers close at the ear of his questioner.

Brainard closely adhered to his former theory that he had been plotted against and hounded by persons connected with the telephone offices.

Dr. Thayer stated after the examination that he firmly believed the prisoner insane. Dr. Sanborn made no statements regarding the matter, except in confidence to the attorneys, but the defending attorneys seem satisfied that his opinion does not differ from that of Dr. Thayer on the question of insanity.

Brainard offered no objection yesterday to having his picture taken, and it is said he is trying to keep up his spirits. Deputy Frith, says however, that Brainard now keenly realizes his position.

After this he will see no one except the officers of the jail and his attorneys. Last night he declined to eat any supper.

If any steps are to be taken relative to the claim of insanity, it is for the defence to take the initiative.

OF INSANE STOCK.

The Post has a sensational story of insanity among Mr. Brainard's ancestors. It says:

George Brainard, the slayer of Electrician Isaiah H. Farnham and Carl Buxton at Portland on Wednesday, comes from insane stock, or at least he comes from a father who was insane before him.

That father was George Brainard of Nottingham, N. H., and he became mentally deranged more than twenty years ago, after having met with heavy financial losses.

These facts were given to the Post man yesterday by a relative who does not wish to have her name used, but who told the whole story, not only of the father's insanity, but of traces of it that she had suspected in the son.

When the man now accused of murder was about 20 years old his family lived in Nottingham. The father was engaged in the lumber business and was accredited with being well off. Suddenly he met with several heavy losses, and when he found that his New Hampshire business was not prospering he said he would go South. Before he started he brooded a good deal over his troubles and was treated for what is called nervous prostration. Finally he became better spirited and went to Pensacola, Fla., and there he went into business again. Here, too, he was unsuccessful and again his mind brooded over his misfortunes. His wife, Sarah, tried to console him, but without avail and finally word was sent to his brother in St. Albans, Vt. This brother feared to leave the wife alone with the elder Brainard and went to Pensacola and brought the family back to Nottingham. Here, again, his mental troubles took an acute turn. Often Mr. Brainard would walk the floor and bemoan his fate. One day while doing this his wife said to him: "Why, if everything else fails us, there is a nice building awaiting us at the county farm at Brentwood."

The spirit was strong in the husband that he had nothing, however, and he answered:

"You can go there, but I can't. I have not lived here long enough to acquire a residence."

The wife tried to reassure him that he had, and that they could get along on what they had left, but Mr. Brainard was inconsolable and brooded over his troubles till he died.

All this brooding led him to attempt to take his life three times, but each time he was prevented by his relatives, who were constantly watching over him.

After the death of the father and husband George Brainard's mother went to live at Williamstown, Mass., during the summers with her daughter, the wife of Professor Mears of Williams College, and in the winter with her husband's brothers folks in Vermont, sometimes visiting the old home in New Hampshire.

All of this bears favorably on the theory that George Brainard was insane when he did his mad shooting on Wednesday.

MRS. BRAINARD INTERVIEWED.

A wife continues to figure in the Brainard case. In an interview she told a Herald reporter:

"I was married to Mr. Brainard three years ago. During most of our married life he has been extremely kind to me, but within the last few weeks has had occasional violent outbursts of temper over trivial or purely imaginary causes. At such times he acted like a mad man. I was living in constant fear of him, as I was satisfied in my own mind that he was insane."

"I did not make talk with any one about it, except on three occasions when persons who boarded in the house with us were taken into confidence because they had overheard his threats of violence. I was practically a stranger in Portland, and did not consider it expedient to say anything that would cause his employers to lose confidence in him.

The night before the murders he asked me to lock the doors, as he feared somebody was after him. He slept hardly any, and I scarcely closed my eyes. I know he is not mentally sound."

Free Bureau of Information.

With a liberality which characterizes all enterprises undertaken by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, the founder of the World's Dispensary, he has established a free bureau of information and assistance, free to visitors and householders.

The purpose of this Bureau is to provide headquarters for visitors to the Exposition, where mail may be addressed and delivered. To furnish conveniences for correspondence, such as writing desks, stationery, etc. To provide a list of desirable accommodations for guests which will obviate the tiresome search for lodgings in a strange city. To give information concerning Buffalo and the adjacent points of interest, in order that the visitors may do their sight-seeing with economy of time and money. To help visiting friends in any way consistent with the proposed scope of the Bureau.

This Bureau is located in a beautiful old mansion of Buffalo, at 652 Main street, just opposite the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is chief medical director. The Free Bureau is fitted up with reception-rooms, wash-rooms, dressing-rooms, parlors, and all conveniences for out-of-town visitors.

Dr. Pierce's Free bureau had its origin in the desire of the Doctor to be of some aid and assistance to the sixty odd thousand druggists and dealers, who are mostly his customers as well as his old patients; but when the plan was formulated it was found that it would take little more effort and expense to care for everybody who might need the Bureau's assistance.

When visitors arrive in Buffalo, they can go straight to the Bureau, at 652 Main street, and ask for the needed accommodation.

No bureau organized for profit can afford to do what Dr. Pierce is doing, and no other bureau could attempt it by reason of lack of facilities and the great expense involved.

Dr. Pierce has arranged to make your visit inexpensive, free from annoyance and anxiety, and give you every minute of time to enjoy the wonderful Exposition and its manifold features of charming interest.

—Do but half of what you can, and you will be surprised at your own diligence.

MARRIED.

OLSON—ANDERSON—In Quincy, April 27, by Rev. A. W. Lundelof, Mr. Ernest O. Olson of Cambridge to Miss Ida C. Anderson of Quincy.

HANLAN—In East Weymouth, April 26, Mr. Richard Hanlan aged 83 years, 3 months and 8 days.

He Was Slow.

Lincoln used to be fond of telling a story of a lawyer in a western town who desired the nomination for county judge. On the morning preceding the evening on which the county convention was to meet he applied to the livery stable keeper in his village for a horse and buggy in which to drive to the county town, 16 miles distant, where the convention was to be held. "Give me the best and the fastest horse you have, Sam," said he, "so that I will have time to go around and see the boys before the convention comes in."

The liveryman, however, was supporting a rival candidate and gave the lawyer a horse that outwardly appeared perfect, but which broke down entirely before half the journey was completed, so that when the candidate arrived the convention had adjourned and his rival had been nominated.

On his return to the stable late the following afternoon, knowing that it was useless to resent the trick played upon him, he said to the owner: "Look here, Smith, you must be training this horse for the New York market. You expect to sell him to an undertaker for a hearse horse, don't you? Well, it's time wasted. I know from his gait that you have spent days training him to pull a hearse, but he'll prove a dead failure. Why, he's so slow he couldn't get a corpse to the cemetery in time for the resurrection."

The Famous Asphalt Lake.

Asphalt is being dug out of the famous tar lake of Trinidad, the most notable existing source of the material in the world, at the rate of 80,000 tons per annum. There are still 4,500,000 tons in sight, but as this rate the supply could not last long were it not that the lake bitumen referred to is receiving a constant accretion from the bowels of the earth. This accretion is reckoned as amounting to about 20,000 tons yearly and would suffice to restore the lake to its original condition if it were allowed to remain undisturbed for a few years.

This wonderful lake of pitch has an area of 114 acres, and recent soundings made in the middle of it have shown the depth to be 135 feet in that part. Near the center it is semiliquid and bubbling, but elsewhere it has so hard a surface that a man on horseback can ride over it without danger of breaking through the crust. Scattered over its surface are a number of small islands which have no proper roots in the earth, so to speak, but are composed merely of accumulations of soil, though trees of considerable size grow on some of them. These islands are not stationary, but are carried slowly from place to place by the movements of the lake. Now and then one of them is entirely engulfed.—New York Post.

The Hot Water Cure.

Boarding House Keeper—A glass of hot water? What can the man want with a glass of hot water? He doesn't shave.

Cook—He wants to drink it.

"To drink it? Well, I never!"

"Oh, all the boarders is sending for hot water now three times a day."

"Goodness me! What for?"

"Fur to drink. They calls it the hot water cure. It beats all newfangled notions what come up."

"What does it cure?"

"Oh, they say it really cures everything just splendid."

"Thank fortune it's cheap. Give 'em all the hot water they want, Maria."

"Yes'm."

"So hot water is a great cure, is it? Well, I shan't let any of my boarders get ill for want of medicine. Just put another gallon of hot water in that oyster soup, Maria, and I think you'd better take out the oyster now. It might get too rich."—London Tit-Bits.

To Keep Butter Sweet.

One can keep butter sweet a long time, even in a hot room where it is half melted, by keeping it covered with brine made by putting into boiling water all the salt it will take up. Then let it cool and pour over the butter. Meat may be preserved in the same way. To be sure, it will become rather salt, but when you wish to use it take it out of the brine the night before and lay it across two spoons or sticks to lift it from the bottom of the dish in which you wish to soak it and then cover it with fresh water. The salt will then settle out of the meat, and it will freshen nicely. You throw meat or fish into the bottom of a vessel and cover it with water, and it will freshen very little, for the salt does not fall out, but only to the lower side.

Character Shown by the Nose.

"Here is an article in the paper that says a woman's character can be determined by her nose."

"Well, there may be something in that, but there's a surer way. No one can make a mistake concerning a woman's character if he will look at the noses of other women who meet her. The extent to which they turn up at such times shows just what she is or isn't."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Discouraging.

"It's very discouraging," said the young man. "I confess that at times I considered myself a genius."

"But perhaps you are," suggested his friend soothingly.

"Impossible. I explained my plans to half a dozen hard headed, practical men, and not one of them seemed to think that I was a blamed fool."—Life.

The Commercial Instinct.

Mamma—Tommy, do stop that noise. If you'll only be good, I'll give you a penny.

Tommy—No; I want a nickel.

Mamma—Why, you little rascal, you were quite satisfied to be good yesterday for a penny.

Tommy—I know, but that was a bargain day.—Philadelphia Press.

John L. Sullivan's Brawn.

Some eminent tragedians were once quizzing John L. Sullivan, then in his heyday. Said one of them:

"Say, John, why don't you try the legitimate? Look at Muldoon. He has played the wrestler until he is as well known in connection with Shakespeare as he is on the mat."

John looked thoughtful for a moment and then growled:

"Say, do you think I could do it?"

"Why, sure. Play 'The Gladiator.' Just the piece for you."

Once again John thought awhile and then said:

"Say, that's a good idea. I think I've got a good scheme to work with it too."

"What is it, John?"

"Why, I'd have a real solid iron arena. I'd come into the arena and holler, 'Bring out your wild ox!' See? Then I'd have 'em bring in a live bull. I'd wrestle round the ring with it until I got a good hold on its horns, and then I'd slowly twist it down and break its neck. Then I'd put my foot on its neck and say, 'Behold the invincible, you truly, John L. Sullivan, champion of the world!' I'd kill a real live bull for 'em every night. How do you think that'd hit 'em?"

"Great! But great Scott, John! Can you kill a bull like that?"

"Huh! Can I? Come out to the slaughter house and see me do it."—Kansas City Independent.

The Chinese Cook.

Mrs. White determined in the first flush of her newly wed dignity that she was not going to be "squeezed" by the Chinese cook and the storekeeper, as it was quite plain every one else was. Accordingly she purchased scales and weights and announced her intention of personally weighing everything. For some days this method proved very satisfactory, but she was sometimes a little puzzled on finding that the provisions occasionally weighed more than was charged for.

One day the mystery was solved. She was carefully weighing a chicken. In China not only is everything, living and dead, sold by weight, but fowls are always supplied alive. The chicken during the weighing operation suddenly entered a vigorous objection and began to flap and struggle with all its might, and during these flappings and strugglings something weighty fell with a thud to the floor, evidently from somewhere about the chicken. This turned out to be a large piece of lead which had been cunningly fastened under one of the wings. Further investigation led to the discovery of a similar piece underneath the other wing. The overweight of the past few days was now accounted for.—Chambers' Journal.

Christening the Children.

An English parson of a church in Berbice, British Guiana, writes entertainingly of his pastoral duties. In the matter of christening the choice of name is left to the taste or fancy of the parents. This leads to strange combinations. He copies from his register "Nannie Bellona," "Trank Locust" and "Whisky Emmanuel." Of earlier times he tells the following:

One black man brought his child, and when the minister asked its name he said, "Seriatim ad Valorem."

On another occasion the parson asked, "What is the name of the child?"

The father said, "Ax, parson." The minister looked inquiringly at the man and said:

"But I don't understand you."

"Well, parson," said the man, "my mind gi'e me to go troo de New Testament. I have had four boys. The first was named Matthew, the second Mark, the third Luke and the fourth John. Now, this, the fifth one, is to be Ax [Acts], parson."

English Peers Can't Vote.

Disfranchisement is one of the peculiar disabilities under which a peer of the realm suffers. Lord Salisbury once attempted to secure a vote for Hertford and Middlesex, but the revising barrister at Hatfield refused the claim on the ground that time had given the disability the character of law and that peers by the law of parliament necessary for the dignity and freedom of the two houses were not permitted to vote for members of the house of commons. Lord Salisbury took the case to the appeal court, but as he could quote "neither precedent nor authority" he was obliged to go back to Hatfield without his vote.—London Chronicle.

Beginning Early.

"Shall I have to get married when I grow up?" asked little Flossie one day of her mother.

"Just as you please, dear," answered her mother, with a smile. "Most women do, however."

"Yes; I suppose so," continued the little girl musingly, "and I think I'd better start and look out for a husband now. They say that Aunt Jane has been at it for 20 years and hasn't caught one yet."—Exchange.

Proof to Her.

"I am quite certain that poor man has seen better times," said Mrs. Gazzam after giving breakfast to a tramp.

"No doubt," added Mr. Gazzam dryly. "They all have."

"But this poor fellow didn't ask me for broken victuals. He said it grieved him to be obliged to apply for a collation."—Detroit Free Press.

The levees on both sides of the Mississippi are of sufficient extent that if they were built in a single straight line they would be about 1,300 miles long or long enough to stretch the greater part of the distance between New Orleans and New York.

The Le Conte pear, which revolutionized pear growing in southern California, was originally the Chinese sand pear, grown solely for ornamental purposes.

ARE YOU READY.

INTERVENTION CLAUSE

Not a Serious Obstacle to the Platt Amendment

CUBANS NOW UNDERSTAND

That It Will Be Useless to Expect Modification of Terms by Waiting For the Next Congress, Which Will Strongly Support Administration

Washington, April 27.—The members of the Cuban commission have impressed the cabinet favorably, as was shown during the discussion of Cuban affairs yesterday, and the prevailing opinion is that on the return to Havana they should be able to explain the attitude of the United States so that there no longer will be a doubt in the mind of the convention regarding the interpretation of the Platt amendment.

Secretary Root, as the result of his protracted interview with the committee, was able to give a clear idea of the objection which is strongest with the Cubans. This proves to be, as anticipated, the third clause, recognizing the general right of intervention by the United States. The Cuban committee held to the view that it could be used by the enemies of independence to stir up strife, which would be made a plea for American intervention, but the notion that the United States was going to make every local row a cause of interference was dispelled.

Secretary Root found that the members of the committee were too much inclined to take a lawyer's view of all the points, but he gave them the assurance of the broader interpretation which the United States puts upon the amendment. The cabinet view is that the knowledge that there is only one subject can be safely left in the hands of the secretary of war after the president's departure for the Pacific coast on his proposed trip, for the Cubans now have been fully impressed with this policy, and that is the administration policy.

President McKinley has caused it to be made known to the commission that it will be useless for them to expect any modification in the terms of the Platt amendment by waiting for the meeting of the next congress. The president has sought to have the resolutions of congress accepted by the Cubans as a national policy rather than as simply an administration or a Republican party policy.

But since some of the Cubans have in only the personal view of the president and might be changed by another congress than the one which enacted it, President McKinley has caused the explanation to be made to the members of the commission that the next congress will be more strongly Republican than was the one which passed the Platt amendment, and, therefore, will be stronger in supporting the administration in its attitude regarding Cuba. That the president will stand on the Platt amendment in its present form also has been fully explained to the commission.

It has developed that while much prominence is given by the Cubans to the need of commercial concessions, and while they seek to have a pledge or a promise that the influence of the administration will be directed to securing concessions on the sugar and tobacco duties, they also want some assurance that whenever a Cuban congress is elected, it will not be prohibited from paying what the Havana convention has recognized as the Cuban revolutionary debt. This includes the obligations issued by the Cuban junta after January, 1895, and also payment for the insurgent troops. The Platt amendment does not contemplate interference with such payments, and the commission will return to Havana with that knowledge. General Wood reiterates his belief that the convention will accept the amendment.

Latest In Amalgamation

Pittsburg, April 27.—The Dispatch says that at a meeting in this city on May 5, a movement will be started for the organization of a central labor council of the United States, which is aimed to be an amalgamation of all the labor organizations of the country, with central headquarters, the object being to secure co-operation among all branches of labor and aimed to operate especially against the great trusts.

Increase of Wages Not Warranted

Halifax, April 27.—The first arbitration under the act for the prevention of strikes has finished the case in dispute between the Dominion Coal company and its employes. The latter claimed an increase of wages. The board decided in favor of the company. The basis of the decision was that the company's profits during the past year would not warrant an increase of wages.

Miners Sent to Their Doom

Springfield, Mo., April 27.—Rosebud mine at Aurora caved in yesterday and buried five men at a depth of 110 feet. At 7 o'clock last night the men were alive. The sounds of their tapping on the steel ground rails gave their friends that assurance. Several hundred men, working in relays, are striving to rescue the entombed men, but it will take at least three days to reach them.

Bresci Sent to Penal Colony

Berlin, April 27.—The Berliner Tageblatt prints a special dispatch to the effect that Bresci, who assassinated King Humbert of Italy, has just been removed to the penal colony on Ventilene island, and that he will remain there for life.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Business Has Been Somewhat Handicapped by Bad Weather

New York, April 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Business continues very brisk for the season in the face of some drawbacks, which at times, might cause marked hesitation. Chief of these is the floods in many directions which have interfered with railroad operations, and interrupted the distribution of merchandise, and the weather all over the east has been adverse to an increase of retail trade. Bank clearings, however, show that, while speculation has been heavy, there must have been a well sustained volume of legitimate business.

Much unfavorable comment has appeared regarding the advance in steel rails to $28. Yet the change is only in keeping with recent increases in prices of pig iron and billets.

After a long period of waiting for definite crop news, the cereal market suddenly awoke to unusual activity.

Wool is fairly steady, and this is the best that can be said. Eastern markets are quiet, with light demand from the mills. Reports from many correspondents in the chief sheep raising states indicate that a larger clip than last year may be expected, and the condition is satisfactory.

Another decrease is reported in shipments of boots and shoes from New England shops, although there is still a heavier movement than in the same week last year. As yet, however, quotations are unchanged. Much city spring trade has been lost through inclement weather, and local jobbers no longer expect an average season's business.

Carelessly Handled Dynamite

New York, April 27.—John A. Ralph was instantly killed at Fort Schuyler yesterday by the explosion of a box of 50 pounds of dynamite. Peter Haley was rendered unconscious and Philip Lewinsky sustained a slight injury as a result of the explosion. The government condemned 60 old smooth bore Rodman guns. They were purchased by Lewinsky, who, with the assistance of Ralph and Haley, was breaking up the guns. Ralph had softened a stick of dynamite in water, and tried to break it. Failing to break the stick of powder with his hands, he endeavored to break it with a stone and the explosion followed. The explosion of the stick set off an entire box of powder.

Predicts German-American Conflict

London, April 27.—The Saturday Review says that "the expansion of the German navy is more in preparation for a contest with the United States than with Great Britain, because the readiest causes for future naval conflicts will be found in the struggle for the partition or the exploitation of the great South American continent." The Review describes the resources of South America and Germany's hundreds of thousands of settlers in Brazil and Chile and the inability of Germany to pursue her designs in South America without a conflict with the United States.

Cannot Mortgage Salaries

Chicago, April 27.—The assignment of unearned wages as security for money loans was declared unlawful yesterday by Judge Dunne. To uphold such assignments, the court said, would be to nullify the 13th amendment of the federal constitution, which declares against slavery and involuntary servitude. The decision is an amplification of Judge Dunne's former ruling that public employes, because of their position, have no right to mortgage their unearned salaries. In this decision he extends his original holdings to all persons working on salary.

To Marry Famous Inventor

New York, April 27.—Miss Josephine B. Holman of Indianapolis, a daughter of the late Justice Holman of the Indiana supreme court, and a cousin of the late Congressman Holman of Indiana, says that the report that she is engaged to Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, is true. Marconi is now on the way to Europe, and it is said that the marriage will be in the autumn. Miss Holman is now living in this city with her mother and sister.

Alleged Shortage In Accounts

Portsmouth, N. H., April 27.—Men appointed to investigate the conduct of former city officials during their terms of office made a partial report last night, charging former City Clerk William H. Moore with being short in his accounts $1685.46. The report was made by the committee in open meeting, and Chairman Emery was ordered by the board of aldermen to instruct the city solicitor to take the necessary steps for the best interests of the city.

Officer Moore Is Dead

Providence, April 27.—Special Officer Herbert Moore, who was shot by a burglar at Valley Falls, Thursday morning, died at 1:30 this morning. Moore was wounded in the abdomen and since the shooting has been hovering between life and death. He was delirious most of the time since being carried to the hospital, and gradually grew weaker until the end came, not unexpectedly, this morning. He leaves a family.

State Won't Lose Its Money

Albany, April 27.—Fifteen thousand dollars of state funds are tied up in the failure of the banking house of Leroy C. Pattridge of Ovid, which was the chief depository of the Willard state hospital. The state is protected, however, by a bond of $25,000.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Sunday, April 28.
Sun rises—4:44; sets, 6:40.
Moon sets—2:06 a. m.
High water—7:30 a. m.; 8 p. m.

Clear weather prevails generally east of the Mississippi river, with moderate temperatures. Fair weather is indicated for New England. On the coast the winds will continue fresh to brisk northeasterly.

TROOPS' WITHDRAWAL

May Mean Further Slaughter of Chinese Christians

BOXERS ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Reinforced by People Rendered Desperate by Alleged Excesses of Foreign Troops—State of Affairs Said to Be Growing Much Worse

London, April 27.—The Reuter Telegraph company has received the following dispatch from Pekin, dated yesterday:

A band of Boxers, estimated at 1000, is operating 20 miles south of Pao-Ting-Fu. It has raided three villages within a week and threatens to massacre the Christians in that vicinity, many of whom have fled to Pao-Ting-Fu for refuge.

In the Man-Cheng district, northeast of Pao-Ting-Fu, another strong band is committing depredations, and has announced its intention to attack the city of Man-Cheng, where there is a post of 20 German soldiers.

Even Pao-Ting-Fu, since the town was practically denuded of troops by the expedition to the great wall, is not wanting in evidences of serious unrest among the more disorderly elements of the population.

Competent observers believe that the worst class of Chinese are only awaiting the withdrawal of the foreign troops to resume the campaign of extermination against native Christians.

The Boxers, who are reported active in these districts, are composed of the worst characters in the province. They prefer brigandage to honest labor, and they are reinforced by people rendered desperate by being driven from their homes, by having their horses and cattle seized by the foreign troops, in many cases by being compelled to witness the killing of their kinsmen without provocation.

The evil appears to be growing. No doubt the state of affairs is much worse than it was three months ago, and it must continue to grow worse so long as the allies fail to form an efficient government or to allow the Chinese to deal with the situation in their own way.

The new board of reforms scarcely apears to be a regency. An error in translation is responsible for the mistake. The council, according to the Chinese, is formed for the purpose of undertaking reforms when the court returns to Pekin. It includes one reactionary, Lu Chuan Lin, and others of doubtful tendencies, and it is not altogether approved by the foreigners here.

Notices in Chinese were placarded at Pekin during the night, calling on patriotic Chinamen to rise May 15 and expel all foreigners.

Sixteen Krupp guns and 67 carts of ammunition, captured by the British near Shan Hai Kwan, are in excellent condition. An Indian native officer, who made the capture, was offered two carts of silver if he would not take the guns and say nothing about them.

Forged Certificates Discovered

Little Falls, N. Y., April 27.—Forged certificates of stock in the National Herkimer bank of Little Falls were found yesterday in the safe of ex-Mayor Hadley Jones of this city. Seventeen of the certificates had been used and some of the remaining certificates had the names of President Milligan and Cashier Story forged thereon. The amount of stock issued will not be known until the banks make reports, but it is estimated that the total will be at least $25,000. Jones is absent from the city.

Government Majority Shaky

London, April 27.—The unstable character of the government majority received a pointed illustration last evening in the house of commons during the discussion on money votes. Numerous divisions were taken in a thinned house, the government majority ties ranging from 33 to 60. It is evident that unless the government is really riding for a fall, their whips need constantly to be alert in order to prevent an unpleasant surprise.

More Klondike Riches

Takoma, Wash., April 27.—Passengers just in from Dawson give details of the discovery of a rich bed rock on the famous Eldorado creek of the Klondike. In the gravel now being hoisted, it is said, nuggets can be seen, running all the way from a quarter of an ounce in weight. The discovery has created intense excitement all along the Eldorado.

Charged With Theft of $50,000

Buffalo, April 27.—Thomas McGeehan, manager, superintendent and cashier of the brewing firm of Boyle & McGlynn of Philadelphia, was arrested here last night by detectives. McGeehan, who had the full confidence of his employers up to a week ago, is charged with having embezzled $50,000.

Millions Threatened With Starvation

New York, April 27.—A cablegram dated Pekin, April 25, has been received by The Christian Herald from Li Hung Chang, saying: "Very serious famine spreads over the wohle province of Shan-Si. Over 11,000,000 population affected. Urgent relief necessary. Conditions warrant immediate appeal."

Barracks Destroyed by Cyclone

Washington, April 27.—Admiral Kempff, at Cavite, cabled the navy department yesterday as follows: "Cyclone struck Polloc on the 22nd. Barracks destroyed. Hospital unfit for use. No casualties. Government damage, $2000. Request this amount be made available."

Look Ahead, Girls.

If young girls would look ahead it would sometimes save them from serious collision with the men they marry. It is here that ignorance is almost a crime. The young husband cannot understand it when the wife changes to a peevish, nervous, querulous woman. And the young wife does not understand it herself. She only knows that she is very miserable.

If ever there is a time when nature needs help it is when the young girl is adjusting herself to the new conditions of wifehood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It promotes regularity, dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All womanly confidences are guarded with strict professional privacy. Write without fear or fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me so much good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

GOING INTO LIQUIDATION

Savings Bank at Westerly, R. I., Has Suspended

MANY DEPOSITORS SUFFER

Will Receive In the Neighborhood of Eighty Percent—Western Securities, Which Are Understood to Have Decreased In Value, Caused a Loss

Westerly, R. I., April 29.—Late yesterday afternoon E. B. Foster, recently elected treasurer of the Mechanics' Savings bank to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his brother, J. B. Foster, issued the following notice:

"The trustees of the Mechanics" Savings bank, owing to the doubtful value of some of the bank's assets, have decided that it is for the best interests of the depositors that the bank go into liquidation, and action has already been taken looking to this result. Pending the granting of the authority no money will be received or paid out."

This action came as a great surprise to the town, and naturally great excitement prevails among many small depositors. The estimated amount of deposits is something less than $1,000,000, the securities on their face value something less than $1,100,000, the number of depositors about 2000, and the largest amount of any one depositor about $12,000. Many of the securities are western investments, which are understood to have decreased in value year by year.

Because of the recent death of J. B. Foster, no one has a comprehensive knowledge of the condition of the bank, and even among the trustees there is marked difference of opinion, except on one point, which is that the bank should close. None of the trustees can give an idea of the length of time which will be required to wind up business.

The depositors may receive 80 percent, possibly more, possibly less. The bank was established in 1870, in connection with the National Phoenix bank. The latter is not affected by this liquidation nor is any other bank in town involved.

Mrs. Nation Is Quarrelsome

Wichita, Kan., April 29.—Charles Moore, brother of Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is confined in the county jail here awaiting trial for joint smashing, died Saturday at Lewisburg, Kan. When Mrs. Nation received a telegram stating that her brother was dying and asking her to come to his bedside, her attorney and former bondsmen went to the jail to arrange for her temporary release. She quarrelled with them, and it was decided that she should not be released. Mrs. Nation and her fellow crusaders had been confined in a cell together, but the sheriff has removed her to a separate cell, owing to her inability to agree with the other prisoners. Mrs. Nation was last night released, on her own recognizance, until after the funeral of her brother.

Talked of Moral Degeneracy

Boston, April 29.—Under the title of "Catholic Education; Its Importance at the Present Day," Dr. Francis J. Barnes lectured at Boston college last night, speaking harshly at times of the public school system of the state. He said that while the advance in civilization has been great, the domain of morals shows signs of degeneracy. Religious influence is on the wane, and scepticism is taking the place of faith.

Plague Gaining Ground

Cape Town, April 29.—During the last 48 hours 16 fresh cases of bubonic plague have been officially reported. Since the outbreak of the disease there have been 319 cases, of which 217 have proved fatal.

Calcutta, April 29.—The officials engaged in combating the bubonic plague were assaulted here yesterday by natives while disinfecting. Several arrests were made.

Court Believed His Story

New York, April 29.—Edgar J. Howarth, the drug clerk arrested in connection with the death of John M. Elliott, was discharged in police court yesterday. It was charged that he had sold the poison which it was thought killed Elliott and failed to register the sale, but Howarth made strong denial of this and was believed.

WON'T STRIKE ON MAY 1

But Cape Ann Stone Workers Are Determined to Have Higher Wages.

Gloucester, April 29.—Theer will be no strike of the stone workers on Cape Ann May 1. Whether or not there will be one later, is problematical, but it is the general opinion that it will be extremely fortunate if one is wholly averted. The 400 stone workers assembled yesterday and earnestly and soberly argued the question "How to secure better wages." The men are determined that a different wage schedule must prevail. The committee who waited upon the Rockport granite officials submitted a report as to the slight concessions the company offered to make, and after a full discussion the union voted to continue its demands as contained in the bill submitted to the companies a week ago. Instead of striking May 1, the union voted to request Frank McCarthy, president of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor, to visit Gloucester and confer with the granite companies. The result of this visit will determine the question of a strike. It is hoped that a strike may be averted, but unless the companies grant the requests of the workmen, it is hard to see how one can be prevented. If it comes about 1000 men will be affected directly and as many more indirectly.

Lewiston Man Killed

Lewiston, Me., April 29.—Joseph McBrien met his death by falling from a platform in the rear of 11 Main street yesterday. His neck was broken, and death followed immediately. The place where the accident occurred is run by Mrs. Susie O'Connell. At the time of the accident, Mrs. O'Connell's sister, Mary Sullivan, was in charge. McBrien entered the house in an intoxicated condition, and was told to leave In doing so, it is alleged, Miss Sullivan assisted him, and that as a result of said assistance, he met his death. Miss Sullivan furnished bail to the amount of $2000 for her appearance at court.

Armenians In Serious Quarrel

Worcester, Mass., April 29.—David Samoniah, an Armenian, fatally wounded Jacob Dousdoomian, a fellow countryman, in a shooting affray here yesterday. Baba Kasablan was also slightly wounded and the bullet which passed through his elbow also passed through Aaron Yagjian's coat on the left side. Samonian was placed under arrest, and Dousdoomian is at the city hospital, with no hope for his recovery. The trouble grew out of the election of a treasurer for the Kasirog Educational society, which has headquarters in this city.

Awful Sight For a Father

Northampton, Mass., April 29.—Luke Powers saw his 4-year-old daughter Elizabeth almost burned to death without being able to save her, because of being helpless himself through inflammatory rheumatism. The child was playing in the yard when her dress caught fire from a bonfire, and before her father's cries brought the neighbors to the scene her clothes were entirely consumed. The little one died later in the day.

Calcimine as Antidote For Rum

Cincinnati, April 29.—Mrs. Richard Grater, the wife of a house painter, on being unable to keep her husband from a saloon, went to the place yesterday with one of his calcimine buckets and a whitewash brush. She calcimined him from head to foot in the saloon. He returned to the saloon after he had accompanied her home and changed his clothing. She followed him again, and the next time calcimined the saloon keeper and his bar and its fixtures, and gave notice that she would repeat the performance to any one selling liquor to her susband.

HOLE IN THE LUNGS

There are thousands of men and women, as well as ever, with holes in their lungs: consumption stopped.

Consumption stopped is consumption cured. What does it?

Some change in the way of life and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

With the emulsion, give some attention to circumstances: change from a dark damp close room to a sunny dry airy one; from city to country; from hard to an easy life; indoors to out.

A hole in the lungs once healed is no worse than a too tight waist or waistcoat.

Take the emulsion, and give it a chance to heal the wound.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

CHINESE LOST HEAVILY

In a Stubborn Battle With German Troops

WERE FOUR ENGAGEMENTS

Enemy Dispersed and Afterward Overtaken In a Fresh Position and Driven Over the Great Wall—French Troops to Occupy Ku-Kuan

Berlin, April 29.—The German war office has received the following advice from Count Von Waldersee, under date of Pekin, April 27:

"Three engagements occurred April 23, and a fourth April 24, at the great wall, between four columns under General Kettler and the Chinese troops under General Liu. The Chinese were everywhere defeated, and after a stubborn resistance were forced back over the wall, being pursued as far as Ku-Kuan. Our casualties were four officers wounded, and three men killed and 32 wounded. The French troops were not engaged."

Subsequently the following additional dispatch regarding the four engagements was received from Count Von Waldersee:

"Pekin, April 28.—The following reports only received last night, owing to the difficulty of communication:

"General Kettler's brigade, reinforced, marched in four columns against the great wall, Colonel Ledebur's being the right wing, then those commanded by Colonel Hoffmeister, Colonel Wallmeich and Major Huehlenfels. Ledebur reached the wall April 24, after a slight engagement near Hai-Shan-Kwan.

"Hoffmeister drove back the enemy April 23. On the same day Huehlenfels encountered a strong party of the enemy occupying a bastion on the heights commanding the pass. The enemy fought stubbornly, in a particularly strong position, which was only taken after 11 hours' fighting.

"Huehlenfels and Lieutenant Richert were slightly wounded, and Lieutenant Drewelle was severely wounded. A standard-bearer and another were killed, and six men severely and 10 slightly wounded.

"Wallmerich attacked and dispersed a far superior force of the enemy on April 23 in a strong position east of the breach of Hae-Ho, and effected a junction on the battlefield with the battalion under Major Muelmann, from Tsing-Ching; then, taking up the pursuit, overtook the enemy in a fresh position to the south. This was captured and the enemy were pursued as far as Ku-Kuan. Wallmerich followed them thither.

"The enemy suffered severely. Eleven old and two new quick-firers were captured. On our side one man was killed and three were severely wounded, and nine slightly. Lieutenant Duesterberg was shot through the right arm.

"The enemy are everywhere in retreat. General Von Lessel has arranged with General Bailloud that the French troops shall occupy Ku-Kuan for the present, and secure his left flank.

"Kettler's brigade is marching by short stages to Pao-Ting-Fu, and Huehlenfels' battalion along the mountains to Pekin."

Didn't Use Big D

Atlanta, April 29.—Governor Candler yesterday made a public statement regarding his reported utterances at Savannah on the negro question, which were sent to many northern papers. The governor says that his remarks as published first in the Savannah paper are substantially correct. "However," said the governor, "the statement that I said that 'the people of the south did not need, did not want and would not have the assistance of the damned Yankees in this matter,' as published in some papers, is absolutely false."

Died With His Boots On

Chicago, April 29.—While trying to escape arrest for snatching a woman's purse, Richard Donahue, a notorious pickpocket, was shot and instantly killed last night by Policeman Gardiner. Donahue was accompanied by three companions, but the latter managed to escape. The four thieves had been working in a crowd watching a fire.

Answered Description of Murderer

Attleboro, Mass., April 29.—A burglar answering the description of the man who shot Officer Moore at Valley Falls last week, entered the house of Charles E. White on Pleasant street, during Saturday night, and secured three pocketbooks. The burglar drove away in an express wagon, in which were two other men.

Family of Five Cremated

Houston, Tex., April 29.—In a fire which destroyed a stable and three residences yesterday, Job Copping, his wife and three children were burned to death. A negro has been arrested on the charge of having fired the building to revenge his discharge by his former employer.

Quickly Captured by Posse

Monticello, N. Y., April 29.—Ed Sullivan, a noted housebreaker and all-round crook, escaped from jail here Saturday night. A posse of deputies was quickly sworn in, and went in pursuit. Sullivan was captured by ex-Sheriff Fulton, 14 miles south of Monticello.

A Legitimate Investment

Which Increased Over 700 per cent

WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.

We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.

We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

The block of stock we are selling is about three-quarters sold and quick application will have to be made to secure any of it at the present price.

IN BOSTON TODAY.

Vice President Roosevelt a Guest of Home Market Club.

Theodore Roosevelt, the Vice President of the United States, arrived in Boston this afternoon as the guest of the Home Market club. The Lancers met him at the South station, and will escort him to the residence of Collector Lyman on Commonwealth avenue. Tomorrow afternoon, from 4 to 6 the Vice President will receive at the Mechanics Building, and at 6 P. M. there will be a grand banquet, similar to the one given to President McKinley last year.

Castle Square Understudies.

By reason of the demands of many persons who were unable to see the performance given by the understudies of the Castle Square theatre in Quincy Music Hall on the 12th of the present month, it has been decided to give another production in Quincy on the 10th of May. The understudies will be augmented by many other persons, including a few well-known Quincy favorites. The play will be a melodrama entitled "A Broken Compact," being a dramatization of Charles Readis' famous novel, "Love and Money." Special scenery will be transported and an excellent production is promised in every particular.

A very large audience is expected to attend, if indications go for anything, as the company drew a large crowd at an old play, it is very fair to expect that they will draw a larger one with a new play.

The prices will be a little higher than before as the production will reach a higher degree of excellence.

The advance sale will commence on Saturday, May 4th, at Hearn's and the Music Hall pharmacy.

Tickets will be twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents.

The cast will be announced in a later issue of the Ledger.

In Business Again.

Observing people have perhaps noticed that a sign bearing the name of William A. Hodges adorns the side of the Wilson building. This means that Mr. Hodges is going to take up active business again, and that he has purchased an interest in the grocery and provision business of George H. Wilson. Mr. Hodges has always led an active life, and although he has business it is of the nature that requires but little of his time, and he feels as though he would like to enter active life again. It is the intention of the new firm to make some changes at the store and to make it up to date in every way.

FOUND HANGING.

Suicide of a Theatrical Man at Houghs Neck.

Formerly One of the Bostonians.

Had Been Unsuccessful in His Business Ventures.

Fred Dixon, a former well-known member of the Bostonians committed suicide at his summer cottage at Houghs Neck last week Friday or Saturday but it was not until Sunday that his dead body was found hanging from the balustrade in the front hall of his cottage.

The body was suspended by a towel and a strap and an over-turned chair beneath the body showed that after making the towel fast to the balustrade he had kicked the chair from under him and had strangled.

Mrs. Clara Colby, a friend of Mr. Dixon, and her daughter Inez discovered the body. They went over to the Bostonian cottage Sunday afternoon to see Mrs. Dixon. They found the front door locked and everything quiet about the place.

Going to the back door it was found to be unlocked and they entered expecting to find Mrs. Dixon within. Entering the front hall they were horrified to find Mr. Dixon's dead body hanging from the balustrade.

Medical Examiner Jones was notified by telephone and upon viewing the body said he had been dead since Friday night or Saturday morning.

Despondency is given as the cause for Mr. Dixon's suicide. Mrs. Colby saw him last Friday at his cottage which he was getting in readiness for the summer and to all appearances he was in good spirits and gave no indications of an intention to take his own life.

Mrs. Colby invited him to visit her home in Roxbury and dine with her on Saturday. He accepted the invitation but did not keep his appointment. Nothing strange was thought of it, as she knew he was busy preparing to open his cottage.

The body was removed to Hall's undertaking rooms and Mrs. Dixon notified. She arrived in Quincy at 9 o'clock this morning and arranged for the burial, which will be held Tuesday at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mr. Dixon has been a summer resident of Houghs Neck for a number of years and was highly esteemed by all the people of that place. His cottage is situated on Bay View avenue near the Loretto and was named the Bostonian after the organization of which he was so long a member.

Fred Dixon was well known among theatrical people of England and America, says the Herald, as stage manager, dramatic writer and actor of character parts.

He was born in London. His wife, Mrs. Clara Dixon, is wardrobe woman with the Bostonians. She was also born in England, and has played parts in a number of productions. The company is now in Washington, and will open its New England tour in Waterbury, Ct., tonight.

The business manager of the company, Percy Weadon, is in Boston, at the United States Hotel. He was shocked to hear of the death of the former stage manager. He said Mr Dixon left the Bostonians about 10 years ago.

"He was very versatile" said Mr. Weadon, "being an able stage manager, a good actor, singer, playwright and dramatic writer. He was not content to work for a salary, however, but was always entering into new ventures. He took several companies on the road under his own management, and engaged in roof-garden ventures out West. He was not over successful in his enterprises, and I don't think he was very well off financially"

Mr. Dixon was associated with the Boston Ideal opera company in 1885, and later with the Bostonians. He was stage manager of the opera of "Robin Hood," first produced by the Bostonians about 1890, and many of his suggestions were used, which helped to make that opera a success. He was also connected with the Castle Square theatre of Boston during the introduction of light opera there.

The only cause that can be assigned for his self-destruction is despondency resulting from his failure in business undertakings.

—Season rates from Boston to Buffalo and return have been fixed at $19 to $21 according to the routes, with a 15 day ticket, at from $15 to $18; with a still further reduction to $12 or $13 with an eight-day limit.

FELL OVERBOARD.

Timely Rescue By Drawtender Hayden at Quincy Point.

An accident occurred at the Quincy Point bridge Sunday evening that might have had a very serious ending, but for the prompt action of the draw tender, John Hayden. The pleasure sloop Endora, Captain Dan McQueen in charge, with a small fishing party on board, had just got through the draw, when McQueen, through some unexpected cause, fell overboard. He was instantly swept away by the strong outgoing current, and would have had considerable difficulty in saving himself, had it not been for the presence of mind shown by Mr. Hayden, who at a glance realized the man's danger. He procured a line and making a noose, threw it in a dexterious manner over the struggling man. The rope caught him under the arms and with the assistance of several spectators, McQueen was drawn onto the bridge.

Attractive School Yard.

Work is well advanced on grading the Cranch school lot and it promises to be an attractive spot. The lot is bounded entirely by streets, and will be completely surrounded by a curbed sidewalk. A portion of the lot will also be curbed. The front and westerly side of the building are now being loamed and grass seed will soon be sowed. The children will have an ample play ground on the south or Granite street side.

Warmest Day for Six Months.

The temperature at noon today was 73. It is the first day the mercury has been above 60 this year. On March 21 it reached 59, and the highest this month before today was 55. It is the warmest day since October 24.

Last Friday afternoon a number of little girls played upon the railroad track near Dimmock street. Mr. Coffin, superintendent, says the railroad will doubtless mend the broken fence back of the Brackett estate, but it is the mothers who will really be responsible if the children come to harm. If the policemen, see these little ones they should teach them a lesson, as the children gradually encroach more and more upon the railroad track.

It was an amusing sight Saturday morning to behold the youthful army that tramped from street to street at Atlantic in a long, even line of two and two, headed by a lad beating a great bass drum, and protected by two American flags held by small boys. Whatever the inspiration to march might have been, no one knows, but the young soldiers were full of spirit and many a cynical passer by stopped and watched the little army with a smile of amusement on his lips.

Unsuccessful Raid.

Chief of Police Hayden, Inspector McKay and Officer Barry, accompanied by Officers Pratt and Dunham of the State Police and Henry H. Faxon, were out on the war path Saturday night.

About 11 o'clock they put on sneakers and paid a visit to the rooms of a tenant in the Adams building. The officers were not after liquor but were armed with a gaming warrant. After listening at the door a few minutes, the officers entered. Several men were found seated about the room engaged in conversation. No gambling implements of any kind were found and no arrests were made. Henry H. Faxon was the prime mover in the affair and it was he who brought out the State officers. Chief Hayden, however, swore out the warrant.

Made Eighteen Runs in First Inning.

Dr. Everett Shows Appreciation of Good Work.

The Adams Academy blue and white banner and a banner bearing the score of 53 to 3 are flying from the gables, of the Adams Academy building today, to celebrate the result of the game between the nines from the Academy and the Quincy High school on Saturday, which was a victory for the Academy boys, so overwhelming that the score was almost beyond belief. At recess a handsome scarfpin was awarded by Dr. Everett to Reardon, the captain, for the best general playing, though he was closely pressed by several competitors for the honor.

The captain of the High School nine, won the toss and sent his men into the field, giving the Academy boys the first chance at the bat. The chance was improved, and before the inning was over, 18 runs stood to the credit of the Academy. The High school side went out in one, two, three, order.

In the second innings the Academy boys scored 11 runs and again shut out the other side.

The game was really won at the end of the first inning for very few teams can play down a lead of 18 runs.

The playing of the High school team showed want of snap and judgment all through, but part of this may doubtless be attributed to the discouragement always accompanying the playing of an uphill game.

That nothing succeeds like success was also illustrated by the work of the Adams nine for their field work was splendid, two errors, both trivial, being the only faults. At the bat everybody hit the ball and at the end of the game the two High school pitchers had the comforting record of 38 hits off their pitching to contemplate. Tate and Anderson excelled in running bases for the Adams side, both crossing the plate seven times. Reardon, Pinkham, and Doble made six runs each. Tate excelled in batting, 8 hits with a total of 10, being credited to him.

In the fielding, Anderson, Moyle, and Reardon did the best work the double play by Anderson, Moyle and Flaherty, being one of the finest features of the game. Doble pitched an excellent game and his curves were too much for the High school nine. After the fifth inning when the High School braced up a little. Bennett was put in to play left field and with three High school men on bases and two men out, he caught a difficult long low fly, shutting out the side. The general field work of the nine was excellent.

For the High school, Histon made several fine stops, but his throwing was poor. The catcher, Nichols, had a hard time, for his pitches were both extremely wild. Many of his stops were extremely well made and he saved his nine from errors more than once. Brown at second base showed more head work than most of the team and played a pretty fair game.

Without doubt, the next game between the two schools will be a closer one. The Academy boys had the advantage of two match games, and this steadied them much.

A large crowd witnessed the game. The score in full is given below:

West Quincys Have a Close Call with the Randolphs.

An interesting game of base ball was played at West Quincy Saturday, with the Randolphs. The West Quincys led for the first three inning, then the visitors up to the last inning. The score was then 11 to 10 in their favor but the home team shut them out and then scored two and won.

Hathaway excelled at the bat with two doubles, and accepted 17 chances out of 18 at first.

Thayer vs Groton.

Thayer Academy gained its second victory of the season, from the Groton school boys Saturday afternoon in a very exciting game at Groton. The grounds were not in very good condition. The pitching of Mr. Townsend was very strong, striking out fifteen men. Once it looked as though the game was in Groton's hands when with one man out and the bases full, Mr. Townsend pulled Thayer out of a deep hole. The batting of Townsend, Clark Woodsum and Crocker was very good. The feature of the game was the slick tandem catch made by Winslow and Carr. The score was as follows:

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

FABRIC OF PROSECUTION

Has Been Much Weakened In the Eastman Trial

EXPERTS TO GIVE EVIDENCE

On the Firearms Used by Eastman and Grogan on the Day of Tragedy —Affair Thus Far Has Hardly Proved to Be a Case of Manslaughter

Boston, April 29.—The long thread of evidence with which the prosecution hopes to weave a net of conviction about Charles H. Eastman, the Harvard instructor, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Richard H. Grogan Jr., on July 4 last, was again taken up today.

The work of spinning this thread has already been going on for a week, and it may be a week more before Attorney General Knowlton and Assistant District Attorney Sanderson are satisfied that the mesh will withstand the onslaught of Eastman's legal representatives. That the government thread during the first week of the trial has been drawn out exceedingly slender and looks quite weak cannot be denied, and this was due more especially to the destruction of several apparent strong fibres through the ruling out of the expressions used by Grogan after he had been shot. This ruling has clearly been a handicap to the prosecution, and, although not actually breaking down the spinning machinery, has, nevertheless, deranged it to a considerable extent, so that it will be necessary to speed it pretty high this week to make up for the lost ground.

The high speed will be put in principally in the expert testimony on the numerous firearms which Eastman and Grogan used on the fatal day in target shooting. The government hopes to show that Eastman, for some hidden reason, misstated the real facts when he told the police, the local judge who acquitted him, and finally the grand jury which indicted him that the shot which killed Grogan came from the old brass or rim fire revolver, which he had in his hand, and that in reality Grogan was shot by a modern centre fire revolver, or one of those which had been previously used, according to Eastman, in the target shooting. Some hours after the affair, according to the testimony given Saturday, Eastman denied that there was any struggle between he and Grogan, but later he remembered one, and this will be used to show how unreliable he was in his statements.

If it can be shown that the shooting was done by a centre fire, instead of a rim fire revolver, through the instrumentality of the bullet taken from Grogan's body, the government's case will be materially strengthened.

But even this strength will hardly be sufficient to stand any hard strain, and until many more strands in the way of direct motive, undoubted intent, coupled with deadly hatred are added, few lawyers believe that the whole fabric will encompass the Harvard instructor.

In a word, the government's case, through the severe blow received during the first of last week, will have to be strongly bolstered up in order to show actual murder even in the second degree; in fact, up to the present time, the affair has hardly proved to be a case of manslaughter.

It is expected that the case will run on for 10 days at least, and that this week's feature will be the expert testimony on the firearms.

Thinks A. F. L. Is Sufficient

Washington, April 29.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor gave out the following statement referring to the Pittsburg project for the organization of a central labor council: "it seems to me that it is useless to attempt the formation of a new general organization of labor, for, as a matter of fact, never in the history of labor has there been such a union of the forces of the workers as there is today, under the banner of the American Federation of Labor."

Inspection Not Requested

Washington, April 29.—The department of agriculture has received no information bearing on the reports that have been circulated in England charging Boer emissaries with innoculating horses shipped to South Africa with glanders and other animal maladies. There has been no examination of the horse shipments by the agricultural department's representatives, as the British agents never have requested such inspection.

Big Tanks of Tar Burned

Sydney, C. B., April 29.—Fire yesterday destroyed two tar tanks belonging to the Dominion Iron and Steel company, and containing 320,000 gallons of tar each. The damage is estimated at $15,000. Three men were badly injured. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a spark from a passing engine lighting the tar about the tank.

Priest's Body In Lake

Montreal, April 29.—The body of the missing priest, Rev. Mr. Joly, was found in the lake near the parish Saturday. Father Joly disappeared five months ago, but the fact was not made public until April 20. Two weeks before his disappearance he drew $2000 from the bank. The money cannot be found.

Cattle Food Consumed by Fire

Hyannis, Neb., April 29.—The prairie fires that for four days have been raging over this section of the state are now nearly under control. There were only a few buildings burned, but the range for many thousands of cattle is entirely destroyed.

CAILLES GOT AWAY

Notorious Filipino Slipped Through the Fingers of American Troops

Manila, April 29.—Captain Wilson Chase, with a detachment of the Twenty-first infantry, on April 26, surprised the camp of the insurgent general, Cailles, at Dugot-Dugot. Cailles was at his camp at the time of the American attack, but managed to escape. Captain Chase's force captured his adjutant general, five others of his staff officers 14 men, 20 rifles, a large amount of ammunition and stores and all the papers and personal effects of the Filipino leader. The insurgent major, Velo, was killed during the engagement, as were Corporal McGill and Private Tipps, Americans. Several of the American troops continue vigorously to pursue General Cailles.

General Cailles recently offered a reward of $10,000 for the head of Captain Edward N. Jones, Jr.

For more than a year past Cailles has commanded the insurgent forces operating to the east of Bay lake, not far from Manila. He is said to be a French half-caste. He has a reputation for vindictiveness and cruelty, and is one of the Filipino leaders still in the field who have clearly ignored the observances of honorable warfare.

The Society of Mando-Ducats, whose practice it is to assassinate and burn alive those of their countrymen who accepted American sovereignty whenever the latter fell into their hands, operate with the cognizance, if not the support, of General Cailles. If Cailles were captured it is doubtful if he could claim immunity for past actions under the terms of the amnesty. In January of this year Cailles offered a reward of $10 apiece for the heads of all Americans brought to him.

The Prince Was Searched

New York, April 29.—The Times says: As Prince Henri de Croy of Belgium, who arrived in Hoboken on the Potsdam yesterday, was preparing to leave the pier, he was accosted by a customs inspector and informed that an examination of his person would be necessary. As a result of that examination the inspector found a magnificent emerald and diamond bracelet, a gentleman's ring, two Angora shawls and three snuff boxes. The prince was not detained, and is supposed to have gone to Washington. Three trunks and two valices made up the prince's luggage, and as these had been examined and passed by an inspector, the prince thought the ordeal was at an end, and was taking his departure when another inspector detained him and escorted him to the doctor's cabin on board the Potsdam, where he was searched.

Motorman Was Confused

Providence April 29.—A rear-end collision between two electric cars took place in East Providence last night. The cars were running together, and the forward one stopped to let off a passenger. The motorman of the rear one became confused, and his car struck the forward one with considerable force. One of the passengers of the forward car was injured, and was taken to a hospital. Both cars were badly damaged.

Jones Thinks It a "Joke"

Middlebury, Vt., April 29.—Nelson Jones, for weeks locked up in the county jail in connection with the Ida Fosburgh poisoning case, will have his hearing at Shoreham on Thursday. State Attorney Donaway will be assisted in the prosecution by William H. Davis. Jones will be represented by Frank L. Fish and W. B. C. Stickney. Jones seems to regard his arrest and the whole affair as a joke.

The South African Campaign

London, April 29.—Lord Kitchener continues the process of wearing down the Boers, who, however, are very active in the Kroonstad district, where they recently derailed two trains and also captured, after severe fighting, 25 men of the Prince of Wales' light horse, whom they stripped of their horses and accoutrements and then liberated. Colonel Plumer's force captured a small laager of 45 men.

Kite Safely In Port

St. John's, April 29.—The sealing steamer Kite, for whose safety some fear had been felt, reached port yesterday with 10,000 seals. She lost 1400 when frozen in between floes, which number would have meant a complete cargo. Her coal being exhausted, she was obliged to depend upon her sails to reach port. The Virginia Lake is the only steamer now out.

Brothers Died Together

New York, April 29.—Frederick Steffens, his brother, Richard, and Henry Styner, all of Brooklyn, started in a sailboat yesterday on a fishing expedition. When off Rockaway shoals a puff of wind capsized the boat, and the two Steffens boys were drowned. Styner was rescued.

Miners May Have Perished

Latrobe, Pa., April 29.—The entire tipple, engine house and boiler house of the Dorothy Coal and Coke plant of the American Steel and Wire company, is a smouldering mass of ruins, and it is rumored that either four or six miners have lost their lives. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

Whole Family Missing

Brookville, Ind., April 29.—The farm residence, barn and all buildings belonging to Joseph Horn were burned to the ground and the family cannot be found. The family consisted of Horn, his wife and five children. It is believed that all perished in the flames.

Weather Conditions and Forecast

Almanac, Tuesday, April 30.
Sun rises—4:42; sets, 6:42.
Moon sets—2:57 a. m.
High water—9:15 a. m.; 9:30 p. m.

The weather in New England will continue generally fair and temperatures will rise. On the coast the winds will be mostly fresh easterly.

CALLAHAN NOT GUILTY

Decision of Jury In the Kidnapping Case Arouses Judge's Wrath

Omaha, April 29.—James Callahan was declared not guilty yesterday of any complicity in the kidnapping of Edward Cudahy, Jr. The jury had been out since 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. A small audience of attorneys and interested persons had heard the news and was waiting when the 12 men filed in. The foreman announced that the verdict was not guilty.

The judge had evidently been expecting another verdict, and was openly disappointed. "It is impossible for me to understand," he said, "how 12 intelligent men could have agreed upon such a verdict, after listening to the testimony. The defendant could not have chosen more wisely if he had been selecting his own representatives, and the community could not have made a more unfortunate selection. This jury is discharged without the compliments of the court."

Callahan's attorneys were not present, and the defendant expressed a desire to thank the jurors on his own behalf. This the court refused to permit. He said the jury did not deserve any thanks

Two other counts still exist against Callahan, and he was at once re-arrested under these. There is doubt, however, whether the state will bring the cases to trial. Chief of Police Donohue announces that the $5000 reward offered for the apprehension of Patrick Crowe will be withdrawn. He says it is one thing to arrest the culprit and another to convict him.

As far as could be ascertained from the jurymen, there was at no time any serious difference as to their opinion of Callahan's innocence. Three were inclined to favor a verdict of guilty, but were soon convinced by their colleagues that a reasonable doubt existed.

In a Living Grave

Paris, April 29.—The French League of the Rights of Man has received a letter from the Ottoman liberal committee in Constantinople, appealing to the league to take up the propaganda for the release of former Sultan Mourad, who was deposed in 1876, on grounds of ill health and mental incapacity. The communication says in part: "The deposed sultan was imprisoned on the pretext of madness. He has not seen a human face, except that of his jailer, for 25 years, nor a letter, a newspaper or book. He is not allowed to leave his room, and is thus buried in a living grave." The committee urges that, if he is really deranged, he should be treated scientifically.

A Bad Beginning

Pekin, April 29.—While the first train from Pekin to Tientsin was traversing the bridge between Lo-Fa and Yang-Tsun yesterday, it was derailed through the collapse of a culvert. Eleven Chinese were killed and 40 Chinese and two Americans injured. One of the Americans cannot recover.

"Father of Telegraph" Dead

New York, April 29.—James D. Reid, known to telegraphers throughout the country as "the father of the telegraph," died here yesterday. He had been ill for many weeks. Reid was born in Scotland in 1819, and came to America in 1834. His entrance in the telegraph service was in 1845.

Gas Was Turned On

Boston, April 29.—A man who registered as George Green of Salem, Mass., at the Hotel Leverett, was found unconscious in bed with the gas turned on full force. He died a few minutes afterwards. He was about 55 years old, and had grey hair, beard and moustache.

Traveler Devoured by Cannibals

Sydney, April 29.—Herr Mereke, a German millionaire, who was cruising in his yacht, and Herr Caro, his private secretary, were recently murdered by natives of the island of New Britain, off the northeast coast of Papua. Herr Caros' body was eaten.

PRESIDENT'S HOLIDAY

First Day's Journey Westward Was Very Pleasant

WASHINGTON "DRESSED UP"

Great Crowds Witnessed the Departure of the Special Train—Flattering Reception to Chief Magistrate at Various Points In Virginia

Bristol, Tenn., April 30.—In spite of the indifference which the Washington public ordinarily exhibits toward persons of note in national affairs, the departure of the presidential party yesterday served to bring offt great crowds of people. The streets about the Pennsylvania station maintained a holiday appearance. The crowds wanted to see the "dignitaries of the land," for everybody of prominence was at the station, those who were not in the party going to bid farewell to those who were.

The first day of the president's long tour to the Pacific coast lay through an historic section in the valleys of the Rapidan and James, in sight of the homes of Madison and Jefferson, up past the Peaks of Otter, so dear to the hearts of the Virginian, into the picturesque Blue Ridge mountains.

The Tennessee line was reached at 10:53 last night, with the arrival of the train at Bristol. The route as far as Lynchburg was over the Southern railway. There the train was shifted to the tracks of the Norfolk and Western for a short cut to Bristol, where it resumed its flight over the Southern road.

The presidential party received a flattering ovation from the time the train left Washington. Large crowds assembled at every station, the countryside and crossroads, and each had its little group of waving watchers straining their eyes to catch a glimpse of the chief magistrate as the train whisked up.

At Charlottesville, the students of the University of Virginia turned out, at Lynchburg Senator Daniel, Virginia's crack orator, made a speech greeting the president, and at Roanoke two bands crashed out their welcome. At each of these places the president responded to the loud calls made upon him, and spoke briefly, from the rear platform of his car.

If yesterday's reception through Virginia is an indication of what is to occur throughout the rest of the trip, the president's tour across the continent will be a triumphant one. Some people, in their eagerness to grasp the president's hand, clambered up the railing surrounding the platform. The president received these demonstrations good-naturedly, and never failed smilingly to grasp the hand extended to him.

Mrs. McKinley, sitting at the window in the observation car, smiling and waving her handkerchief in response to the greetings of the multitude, created no less enthusiasm than the president.

The president and his party will keep in close touch with Washington throughout the trip to California, and every facility has been arranged to transact such business as is necessary from the train. The railroad officials in charge of the train and the various divisions over which it passed took every precaution against the possibility of a mishap of any character.

All the members of the party enjoyed the first day of their trip, and the president expressed his gratification over the reception he had received. Mrs. McKinley, who was not feeling perfectly well when the train started, became better as the day progressed, and at night said she had enjoyed it all very much. Today the train will make brief stops at Huntsville, Decater and Tuscumbia, Ala., and Corinth, Miss.

A Court's Singular Order

Toledo, April 30.—When the case of Charley Foster, leader of the notorious gang under indictment for the murder of W. C. Johnson, was called in the common pleas court, Judge Young entered an order against the press, "restraining any person from sending out for publication any of the evidence given in the trial of Charles Foster or anything purporting to be evidence given in this case in the trial of said case."

Many Thousands Didn't Vote

St. Etienne, April 30.—The result of the referendum held in all the coal basins on the question whether a general strike of miners should be declared in support of the miners on strike at Monteau les Mines shows that a majority of the 165,000 French miners abstained from voting, so a general strike is improbable.

Embezzler Turned Loose

Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—Governor Dietrich yesterday granted a conditional pardon to Henry Bolln, sentenced five years ago to 10 years in the penitentiary upon conviction of having, as city treasurer of Omaha, embezzled $100,000 of city funds. Bolln is old and his health is broken down.

TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

Roosevelt Will Be Chief Guest of the Home Market Club

Boston, April 30.—Vice President Roosevelt arrived here yesterday afternoon. At the South Station a great crowd was gathered and the great space in the midway of the station was kept clear by a cordon of 100 policemen. A detail of 12 mounted men and the National Lancers escorted Mr. Roosevelt and the party to the residence of Collector Lyman, whose guest the vice president is to be while in Boston. Crowds lined the streets as the procession passed, and Mr. Roosevelt was accorded a warm reception.

The interior of the grand hall in Mechanics' building has been transformed into a banquet hall. The 1600 or more guests will sit down about 6 o'clock tonight. The after-dinner exercises will be presided over by President Draper of the Home Market club. About 300 waiters will be kept busy at the dinner.

Verdict Is Held Up

Boston, April 30.—The disappearance of Juryman Patrick Farrell has caused a singular complication in connection with the prosecution in the superior court of James R. Hamilton, a restaurant keeper, accused of receiving large quantities of cigars, tobacco and cigarets, stolen from the wholesale house of McGreenery Bros. & Manning, by three young men, who admitted their guilt. The jury brought in a sealed verdict which should have been opened yesterday. As Farrell cannot be located the verdict cannot be announced until the jury is in the box.

Bay State Legislature

Boston, April 30.—The senate yesterday passed to be engrossed the Springfield bridge bill, which allows the commissioners eight months additional time and provides that the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad shall not be raised more than three feet above the present grade. The house engrossed the bill to authorize the Plymouth County Railroad company to extend its line, acquire land for pleasure resorts and to issue stocks and bonds.

Manslaughter Is Charged

Lewiston, Me., April 30.—Kate Sullivan was arraigned in court yesterday, charged with manslaughter, arising from the death of Joseph McBride Sunday. The state claims that Miss Sullivan pushed McBride, who was drunk, out of her doorway, and that he fell over the railing to the ground, breaking his neck. Miss Sullivan pleaded not guilty, and furnished bail in $2000 for appearance at a hearing on May 4.

Mrs. Rathbun Breaking Down

New Haven, April 30.—During the afternoon session of the superior court yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Rathbun, who is charged with the murder of her husband, she collapsed and had to be carried from the court room. Mrs. Rathbun wept throughout the day. She appeared to be a nervous wreck. When she had sufficiently regained her composure she was taken back to the court room, and the trial was resumed.

Mysterious Fire and Theft

Boston, April 30.—Deputy Fire Marshal Shaw began an investigation yesterday into the fire in the Arlington town house yesterday morning, which damaged the building to the extent of $2000, and enabled a burglar or burglars to get away with nearly $1300 from the safe in the treasurer's office. Deputy Shaw examined several witnesses, but they were unable to throw any light on its origin.

Carrado's Assailants Senteneed

Boston, April 30.—For killing a fellow countryman, Frederica Carrado, a sentence of six years in state prison was yesterday given to Guiseppe Zarella, an Italian. Raffaele Faua, for assault and battery with intent to murder Carrado, was given not less than four years in the same place, and Paolo Luongo, for assault and battery on Carrado, was sentenced to two years in the house of correction.

"Bucket Shops" Make Returns

Boston, April 30.—Yesterday was the last full day for "bucket shop" operators in Massachusetts to file their returns with the collector of internal revenue and to pay the special tax imposed upon them by the last congress. Fifty-eight have made returns to the office. Twenty-eight of these are doing business in Boston.

Effort to Save Storti

Boston, April 30.—William M. Stockbridge, who has joined counsel of Luigi Storti, condemned to death for murder, was in consultation with Chief Justice Holmes yesterday regarding the plans for a move to save Storti. Mr. Stockbridge intends to test the constitutionality of the electrocution act.

Young Adams Sentenced

Boston, April 30.—Louis V. R. Adams, aged 19, who is alleged to have toured the big cities of the country obtaining money under the pretence that he was a collector in the interest of charitable institutions, was sentenced yesterday to serve two years in the house of correction.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

EASTMAN'S TESTIMONY

Given Before Grand Jury Ruled Out In His Trial

MORE FAVORABLE EVIDENCE

Revolver With Which Grogan Is Said to Have Been Killed Worked Very Hard—Previous Quarrel Between the Men Now Under Consideration

Cambridge, Mass., April 30.—The defense made some strong points for Charles R. Eastman in the trial in East Cambridge yesterday, and the Harvard instructor left the court room with a smile on his face through the favorable evidence of one of the principal government witnesses and a comforting decision by the court, in ruling out the defendant's testimony before the grand jury which indicted him.

There is pending, however, a most important decision from the court, on the question of the admission of evidence showing a bitter quarrel between the two men some seven months before the shooting. Long arguments were made yesterday afternoon on the admission of this evidence, the defense claiming that a quarrel seven months before the shooting had no bearing on the latter affair as showing intent. Numerous supreme court decisions were quoted.

The government called John Grogan, a brother of the dead man, but before he took the stand the attorney general told the court that he desired to put in evidence something which occurred between the two men in November previous to the shooting.

Young Grogan did not, therefore, testify, and the jury was sent out while the lawyers indulged in half an hour's argument on the question of the admissibility of the evidence.

The attorney general said that he wished to show that in November, 1899, an angry altercation took place between Eastman and Grogan. It will be claimed that this amounted to a threat to kill.

The defense, in reply, said that such evidence was not competent, as it was seven months between the time of the threat and the time of the shooting. The question was what was the state of mind of the defendant on July 4, and not on any previous date. The November quarrel was a momentary one, and there was everything to show good feeling between the men after that time. If the evidence is admissible it must be shown that the threats were continued and accompanied by other acts of hostility.

The attorney general in further explanation of the government's contention, said that the quarrel was a severe one, that harsh words had been used and that Eastman had picked up a chair to strike Grogan, but that the witness had stepped in between them. Eastman left the scene, saying: "If I wait five years, I will shoot you for this."

The court, after half an hour's consultation, asked to have the matter go over until today.

The favorable evidence yesterday came out on cross-examination, when the officer who has had charge of the several weapons testified that he had made numerous experiments with them and that the revolver which Eastman declared he used worked very hard, and that the cylinder refused to turn, except when the hammer was drawn back with the thumb.

On the other hand, the defense failed to shake any of the witnesses on the identity of the bullet taken from the body of the dead man, half a dozen witnesses testifying to seeing it removed at the autopsy while the officer who had the pistols declared that it had never left his keeping from the time he received it, two weeks after the shooting, until it appeared at the trial. During that time he had carried it to half a dozen of the leading firearms companies in the country and compared it with bullets for both rim and centre fire revolvers.

The day ended with rather a gruesome spectacle, when the jury was shown Grogan's ninth and tenth dorsal vertabrae, which the medical examiner h. removed at the autopsy last January. The bullet hole in the bone was also plainly shown, and a 32-calibre bullet dropped through this hole into the place where the surgeon's saw found it.

A Bookmaking Conviction

New York, April 30.—Benjamin Levy was yesterday convicted of bookmaking before Recorder Goff and remanded for sentence. This is the first bookmaking conviction in this county in years. Levy was arrested by agents for the Society For the Prevention of Crime in a pool room raid.

Coal Resolution Holds Over

London, April 30.—The house of commons last evening adopted by a large majority all the budget resolutions in the report stage, with the exception of the coal tax resolution, which will be taken up today.

Canadians Seized a Barge

Washington, April 30.—Assistant Secretary Spaulding yesterday wrote a letter to the secretary of state, asking him to request of Lord Pauncefote an explanation by the Canadian government of the seizure on April 23 at Nanaimo, B. C., of the barge Ajax, belonging to a firm in Seattle, which was sent into Canadian waters to raise the wrecked steamer Williamette.

To the Interested Bicycle Public.

My opening day statement and challenge was that I would easily be the leading bicycle dealer of Quincy this year. I expected to gain this end by selling the finest line of bicycles within my power to secure, at fair prices. Not to misrepresent or deceive my customers and friends. It is your friendship and trade I want and in return you can expect honest statements, honest treatment and perfect satisfaction from me. I am pleased with the jealousy my success has developed in my competitors. It simply means that I have bicycles and a policy of selling that is popular.

Give me a call and examine my line of wheels. I am not a mud slinger or sharp skate. I can deliver all bicycles at the prices asked. This is more than my competitors can do.

Good Afternoon.

The response to the Sabbath call of spring Sunday, was general. Nature's pulse was felt by all, and a thrill shot into every pore of our responsive being.

It was a Sabbath call for rest after the long, weary phenomenal season of cloud and rain. The birds answered first of the living things, and the sun came out of a crimson and gold curtain.

Then the elder portion of the community, appeared in undress costume and a hoe or rake even was seen on our new streets. The children were in the field early, because later Sunday School came. The wheelmen sped down Adams street next in the procession and on Goffe street a long line of blue flowers, nature's most rare tint in flowers opened their eyes to the more blue sky. In other gardens purple flowers and swollen lilac buds took their places in the procession to do honor to the first spring day this century had given us. Still later some fine teams rolled through our central thoroughfare; the trolly cars held happy hearts, and at twilight as if to complete the procession as the sun disappeared, a tender moon lent her voice to this chorus of rejoicing and the evening star and lesser stars closed a joyous April day.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The present governor of this State is quiet, undemonstrative business-like sort of man He makes no splurge and he is notably without frills or color. He is not a brilliant speech-maker. But he goes along in a sensible, easy-going yet determined fashion, like an easy running black battleship, and with a good deal of the battleship's potentialities for danger if interfered with. Gov. Crane is a man of great common sense and good, cool judgment. His executive acts have been most satisfactory to the majority of the people of this State, and he has won a high place in the regard of all thinking and sensible people by an administration that has made no attempt at advertising, but has been useful to the people at large and in all ways sound and wise.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞All things considered, a hobby that takes us out of doors is the best. The different open-air sports may be classed under this head. The ideal hobby, it seems to me, is one that keeps us in the open air among inspiring surroundings with the knowledge of natural objects as the end in view. The study of plants, of animals, of the earth itself, botany, zoology, or geology, any one of these will answer the varied requirements of an ideal hobby. Potentially they possess all the elements of sport. Often they require not only perseverance and skill, but courage and daring. They are a means of health, a relaxation to the mind from ordinary cares, and an absorbing interest. Any one of them may be used as a doorway to the others. If parents realized the value to their children's minds and bodies of a love for plants and animals, of any such hobby as birds or butterflies or trees or flowers, I am sure they would take more pains to encourage the interest which instinctively a child feels in these things.—Frances Theodora Parsons.

We notice that the two nines of Adams academy are playing against each other. Can it be that other clubs are frightened away since that Adams —High game?

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Rich Student at Thayer Academy Professor.

Marries Daughter of the Family.

Miss Pitkin, the Bride, aged 21, and Mr. Mott, the Groom 19.

The Boston Post reports the elopement and marriage of young people well known among the young people of Quincy and Braintree. Little surprise is expressed at the marriage, but the first question of their friends seems to be,—Why did they elope?

The affection between Dr. Mott and Miss Pitkin was marked, and was known to the parents of the bride if not to the parents of the groom.

The Post story is given in full:

Professor Charles A. Pitkin of Thayer Academy, South Braintree, Monday, profited to the extent of a millionaire son-in-law, the same coming to him through the elopement of his beautiful daughter, Caroline W., with one of his students, great big blonde Jordan L. Mott of New York, a scion and the third of the millionaire iron family of that name.

The elopement terminated at Park Street church, Boston, where the knot was tied by the Rev. John Lindsay Withrow of that parish.

The couple came unattended and two ministers who happened to be calling and several ladies who were preparing for a banquet in the church vestry were the witnesses.

The ceremony was at 11 o'clock, and soon afterwards a telegram was flashed to Father Pitkin that his daughter was no longer of his name—that she was the wife of his handsomest and most manly student.

The bride is 21 and the groom but 19, but here is what the Rev. Dr. Withrow says of him: "He looks several years older than his bride, and he is one of the best looking young men I have ever seen. He is tall and stately and cultured and handsome, and she is as sweet a bride as I ever married. I am very sure that they are well mated and will be very happy."

For some time young Mott, who was one of the ushers at Vanderbilt-Fair wedding a short time ago, has been several terms at Thayer Academy, but there were doubtless other attractions there than Professor Pitkin and his text books. Society in the town has for a long time noted this fact, but it failed to comment on it, as it was expected that the young man would finish his studies before he thought of married life.

Cupid works in mysterious ways sometimes, and in this case Cupid worked fast. The young people were very fond of each other. Young Mott was a most persistent wooer, and finally the prettiest girl in Braintree consented to come to Boston with him and be his bride.

Plans were not made on Sunday either, for Mott came over to Boston on Saturday and called on the pastor, who married him. Would he marry him? He would. Would he have witnesses, if they were necessary? He would, though Mott said he would bring his own witnesses if he could. Evidently he preferred the trip alone, and yesterday morning he and his bride came to Boston and at 11 o'clock they were at the pastor's office in the Park Street Church. At five minutes after 11 o'clock the young couple were husband and wife.

The ministers present—Dr. Withrow does not want to tell who they are, for ministers, he says, do not like to be dragged into such things — and the ladies all kissed the bride and wished her years and years of happiness and every one congratulated the groom on his excellent fortune.

Both the young people were elegantly but quietly attired, the bride wearing a light street gown and small toque bonnet. She carried no flowers.

As soon as the ceremony was over a carriage was taken and the young couple went to send a telegram and then went to a hotel for lunch, where they awaited the coming of the father, who will evidently forgive them for runing away.

When a Post man called at the bride's home in South Braintree yesterday afternoon Mrs. Pitkin was very much surprised. She thought that the Post man was mistaken, but he told her as gently as he could that he was very sure that he was not. Then he asked if Mr. Pitkin was with the young couple in Boston, and the answer was: "He may be."

Mrs. Pitkin then said in response to a question, that if the young couple had run away and been married the announcement of their marriage would be made at once.

In order to throw their friends off the scent the marriage license was taken out at Braintree.

Both the young people are blondes and have been popular in South Braintree and the society of other places where they were well known. They will reside for the time being in South Braintree. Young Mott has notified his parents of his marriage.

The report that Mr. Mott was a student at Thayer academy is incorrect. Young Mott was being tutored by Mr. Pitkin for Harvard college, and for six months or more has been a member of his family. Mr. Mott and Miss Pitkin attended many social functions and dances together, and were much in each others' company.

Musicale.

The patrons of Miss Spear's recitals enjoyed a musical treat Monday evening. It concluded the series and was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Rice on Adams street. A varied program had been prepared and full justice was done all the selections by the gifted artists.

The opening selection was a solo, entitled, "To Spring," by Mrs. Tappenden.

Miss Hilton gave the violin solo, "Nazareth." "The Vision Fugitive," by Massanet was sung with great power and expression by Mr. H. Y. Follett. "Good Night" by Mrs. Hunting followed. Miss Spear gave the three following songs—"The sweetest flower that blows," Hawley; "Life and Love," Judas Jordan. "Fairy Lullaby," Mrs. Beach. Duet, Hildaek, sung by Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Follett.

Miss Hilton entertained the audience with another violin solo, "Marie Mascagni." Mrs. H. Y. Follett delighted all with her rendering of "Farewell ye hills" by Tchaikowsky.

Mr. Hughes presented the Welsh song "Three Shipwrecks," in his native tongue, which was followed by "All through the night" in English version.

A trio— "In the woods" by Miss Spear, Mrs. Follett and Mrs. Hunting. Mrs. Tirrell's bright rendering of Nevin's April song, gave much pleasure. Miss Spear sang the "Rosary" charmingly. She followed with three Irish love songs. Mr. Follett gave another violin selection entited Bacarole.

The three songs, "Go not happy day," "O that 'twere possible," and "Come into the Garden Maud," were sung in an expressive manner by Miss Spear. The accompanists for the evening were Mrs. Chandler Smith and Mr. L. Dowley Williams whose superior accomplishments are well know.

This series of recitals have been very instructive in both a literary and musical way, and remind one of the Wollaston musicals of long ago. Miss Spear is to be congratulated on the success in gathering together so much superior musical talent.

Assessors Ready.

The newly appointed Assistant Assessors met at City Hall Monday night and received their instructions in the work of assessing which starts in Wednesday. The assistants will take the horses, carriages, cows and dogs in addition to polls. The three Assessors who also start out Wednesday will commence work in Ward Two as this is the ward in which there has been the greatest number of changes in real estate during the past year.

Against Sunday Work.

The Clerks' Association are out after the grocery and provision dealers who open their stores Sunday mornings. According to the clerks there are seven or eight of these. Last Sunday the clerks' committee was out looking after these merchants and notified them that if they opened their stores again on Sunday they would be prosecuted.

Earlier Assessment.

The Saunders bill for the close of the supplementary assessment of polls and real estate in Boston on Aug. 20 passed the House Monday by a decisive vote. There were 117 yeas to 49 nays, with 40 paired. Representative Badger voted yea, and Representative Sheppard was paired in favor.

The Arcola Oil Company's stock sold for $135 per 1,000 shares, and in six months $1,000 per 1,000 shares was refused for the stock, for the reason that the first well was a large producer and there is room for forty wells on the Company's land, which makes it about certain that the stock in the near future will be worth ten dollars per share.
We offer you the same opportunity for a large gain by investing in the Dirigo Oil Company's stock, the first block of which is being sold for $150 per 1,000 shares. The Company owns a block of land adjoining the Arcola Company's land which has large producing wells on all four sides. There is eighty acres of the Company's land in the center of the oil belt, which we feel absolutely certain will give a large producing well in each acre.
We now have machinery on the ground, and are ready to sink the first well, and expect to strike oil by May 1st, which will then make the stock worth par value, if the well is as good a producer as the Arcola.

Raised by Ladies of Christ Church for New Rectory.

Monday evening was a notable occasion in the history of Christ church parish as it was then that the Womans' Guild formally presented to the church wardens the $500 raised by them as their contribution to the rectory fund.

There was a gathering at the parish house and to it were invited, the wardens and vestry with their wives, and all members of the guild, the Reaper's circle and their gentlemen friends, and the St. Margaret's Guild. The invitation extended was generally accepted and a hundred or more were present.

The $500 which was in $20 gold pieces was encased in a bag and was presented to the wardens by Mrs. John Downs, in a few words. The wardens felt unable to fittingly reply and this pleasant duty fell upon the rector, Rev. George A. Strong.

The plans for the new rectory were then shown, and were explained by the architect. It is expected, if arrangements can be completed, to commence on the work May 1.

Ice cream, cake and coffee was served during the evening.

May Day.

Tomorrow is May day and some of our citizens usually go to Plymouth, if it is pleasant on this day. Invitations are sent out by the Universalist society of Plymouth, to come and enjoy a good dinner, and visit many historical places in that ancient town. The invitation is not confined to people of that denomination only, but to all who wish to spend a pleasant May day. Tickets can be secured at the Quincy Station at reduced rates for the round trip, including dinner tickets.

School Boy Hurt.

James Weston, the 7 year old son of J. W. Pratt of South Quincy, met with quite a serious accident on School street this noon. As near as can be learned the lad caught hold of an electric car as it was passing him. He was thrown down and received two deep scalp wounds. He was attended by Dr. Sheahan and later taken home.

The Ice Bill.

In the Senate Monday Senator Sprague hoped the Senate would not suspend the rules and recommit the McNary bill to regulate the sale of ice. The Senate refused to concur with the House in recommitting the bill.

Westminster Chambers.

The Senate on Monday concurred with the House, by a vote of 7 to 18 not to substitute the bill to permit the Westminister chambers in Boston to remain at the present height.

Papa—Nurse nothing! What he needs is a night watchman.—Exchange.

A birdseye view of the sanitary situation of Europe shows that it is the damp, chill, cloudy north which is healthy and the dry, warm, sunny south which is unhealthy.

The largest city in the country in Washington's time was Philadelphia. It had 69,000 inhabitants.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is KEMP'S BALSAM, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease! get a bottle today and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. KEMP'S BALSAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose, lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell KEMP'S BALSAM at 25c. and 50c.

AN ATTRACTIVE DESIGN.

Floor Plans Simple, but Very Well Arranged—Cost, $2,300.

[Copyright, 1901, by George Hitchings, architect, 1090 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

Simple but well arranged floor plans and attractive elevations are combined in this design. As all the dimensions of the rooms are marked on the plans, it will not be necessary for me to mention them. The hall and parlor are connected by a large grille opening with portieres. The parlor is connected with the dining room by sliding doors. The pantry is provided with a china closet and shelves. The kitchen is fitted up with all the modern improvements. The entry on the rear is a splendid place for the icebox.

FRONT ELEVATION.

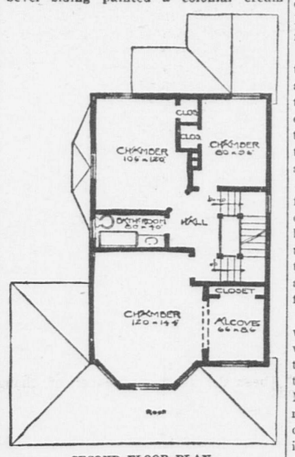

The second story has three large bedrooms, an alcove and a bathroom. The attic has two finished rooms and a large open attic for storage. The cellar floor is concreted and is fitted up with coal bins and furnace.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

The exterior is covered with white pine bevel siding painted a colonial cream with white trimmings. The gables are shingled, as is the roof. The underpinning is brick. The roof of the veranda is ornamented with a balustrade. The buttress for the columns is shingled. Dimensions—front, 20 feet, not including piazza; side, 34 feet 6 inches; height of stories—cellar, 7 feet; first story, 10 feet; second story, 9 feet 6 inches.

Cost to build complete, $2.300.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Selecting the Hardware.

A good architect may be safely trusted to select the hardware of a house not only with good artistic taste, but as well in consonance with the cost and intended uses of the house he has designed. But it often happens that the client—that is you—has seen something he or she liked, and would prefer to adopt that in the expected home. This is a very frequent condition, and that is why it is mentioned here. It is at just this point the influence of this article should be felt. Get a good, reliable hardware dealer to let you examine such catalogues, or, better still, show you the goods, if he has them on his shelves. Learn the prices and make an estimate of about what you will need—you can't be exact. Take clear and concise memoranda of numbers and sizes, designs, etc., and carry them to your architect for a consultation with him. He will see things you will not, and possibly you may give him some new ideas, too, and together you will soon arrive at correct conclusions as to what are the proper things to use.

Left to himself, the architect will seldom make any mistake in such matters, but it is when and in such cases as the above, or where the intending builder has a clear idea of what is correct in color, form and price, that it is of supreme importance that your tastes and preferences be made known before the specifications are prepared.

Don't allow yourself to become the victim of any fad in such matters. If your new home is to be in the colonial style, it is just as important that the hardware should carry out the idea as that the mantels or doors should.—American Homes.

BASE BALL AT PARK.

An interesting game of base ball was played at the Park Monday between two teams chosen from the players in Adams Academy. ### Literary Notes.

Many persons, especially women, when taken to see outdoor games and sports, find themselves at a loss to understand what those that take part are doing. Mr. J. Parmly Paret's Woman's Book of Sports, announced by D. Appleton and Company, gives a chapter on men's sports from the standpoint of the spectator, so that any one in a half-hour's reading may get sufficiently initiated to enjoy foot ball, base ball, yacht-racing, rowing, and other athletic exercises. The book will be fully illustrated.

Fall River, Mass, is the city taken up for treatment this month in the series of articles upon New England cities, which is appearing in the Magazine. Fall River is the greatest cotton manufacturing city in the United States. How extensive the industry is one cannot realize until one reads an article like this; and even then it is hard to believe the figures which are given. Essentially a city of factories, Fall River has the larger interests of an active and public spirited New England city; and its history and its present life are depicted here by one of its own citizens, Rev. Payson Williston Lyman, with royal pride. His account is reinforced by a great wealth of pictures.

That monthly mirror of the world's news, the Review of Reviews, covers in its May issue a great variety of current political and industrial topics, including the recent municipal elections; the Cuban and Philippine situations, the relations of labor to the new steel trust, the threatened war between Russia and Japan and England's enormous war taxation.

Many women have been reproached for living for the sole object of entertaining. No one doubts that such an aim is petty and narrowing, but it is equally certain that it is a woman's duty to understand The Art of Entertaining, and this forms the subject of an attractive and useful article by Lady Jeune in The Cosmopolitan for May.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps has never written with more depth of feeling, with more convincing realism of the life beyond this world, than in her new drama, "Within the Gates," the first act of which appears in McClure's Magazine for May. The work has not only a religious but also a literary appeal; for students of psychic forces, it is full of suggestiveness; indeed there is more than one incident in this first act of "Within the Gates" that migh have been drawn from the reports of the Psychic Society.

TO COVER A SHORTAGE

Alleged Basis of Commissary Frauds at Manila

THE SOLICITING OF BRIBES

Admitted by a Naval Officer, Who Says He Acted at the Instance of Reed For the Purpose of Making Up Deficiency In Davis' Accounts

Manila, April 30.—What bids fair to become a celebrated case was developed in the trial which begun here yesterday of the former depot commissary at Manila, Catain James O. Reed, who was arrested about a fortnight ago for alleged participation in the commissary frauds. Captain Reed is charged with soliciting and receiving bribes and with other official misconduct.

When the hearing opened, counsel for the defendant made several objections to the jurisdiction of the court. All these objections were overruled, and the hearing of testimony was begun.

Mr. Schindler, manager of the Alhambra cigar factory, testified that in November Captain Reed told him that Major George B. Davis, who was the depot commissary before Captain Reed, but who was sent to the United States on sick leave, and whose name appears upon the books of Evans & Co., government contractors at Manila, as the recipient of $1000, was $2000 short in his accounts. Continuing, Schindler testified that those having profitable contracts with the government were asked to assist in making good Major Davis' deficiency. Schindler gave Captain Reed $1050, which was 2½ percent commission on the cigars sold to the commissary department during the time that Major Davis was post commissary at Manila.

An officer named Franklin, who was assistant commissary, testified to the effect that on March 18, and following the direction of a superior officer, he obtained $1000 form Major Davis and paid this money over to Schindler.

Inspector General Garlington testified that during the preliminary investigation of the commissary scandals Captain Reed admitted having recovered money from Schindler and others and gave as an excuse that the money so recovered was intended to cover Major Davis' beef shortage.

Lieutenant Townley of the navy, at present superintendent of the Manila nautical school, testified that as the result of a conference with Captain Reed he went to see Castle Bros., contractors, who supply the commissary department with vegetables, etc., and wanted them to give Captain Reed $2000 and 10 percent commission on all sales. Castle Bros. demurred to this proposition. Lieutenant Townley again went to Castle Bros. and this time only asked them for $2000. Castle Bros. were reluctant to hand over this sum, and Lieutenant Townley explained that Captain Reed was in a position to advance the interest of the firm, and that it would be advantageous to Castle Bros. to oblige him.

Lieutenant Townley testified that he further explained to Castle Bros. that Captain Reed might allow them the use of government lighters and possibly be less rigid in the inspection of goods purchased. Lieutenant Townley said that he thought Captain Reed was doing a noble thing in attempting to protect the character of a brother officer. He also said that such transactions were not customary in the navy. When cross-questioned, Lieutenant Townley said, rather sheepishly, that he was not so sure he was doing right in taking the witness chair.

Colonel Woodruff, chief of the subsistence department in Manila, explained the circumstances of Captain Reed's appointment and described the duties of the depot commissary, not knowing whether the accounts of Major Davis were correct or not.

Colonel Woodruff explained that on Dec. 30 Castle Bros. aroused his suspicion by intimating that money was being collected by an officer of the commissary department. Later Colonel Woodruff sent for Captain Reed, who admitted receiving rebates for the purpose of covering the delinquencies of Major Davis. The testimony of Colonel Woodruff is unfinished, and other witnesses are awaiting examination.

Lieutenant Haussermann is judge advocate of the court, and Major Hartigan and Captain Marple are the attorneys for the defendants.

Friends of Platt Amendment

Havana, April 30.—The mass meeting held yesterday at Matanzas by the Democrats, the opening rally of the campaign, was largely attended. Senor Moutoro said the Cuban problem was an international one, and that the Platt amendment was a wise measure. Senor Giberga said the Platt amendment was opposed in the convention by Radicals who did not represent the Cubans in any way—politically, economically or socially.

Labor Difficulties Settled

A RECORD BREAKER

Nearly Three Million Shares Changed Hands on New York Exchange

New York, April 30.—Transactions on the New York stock exchange yesterday were by far the largest in the history of that institution, the total being estimated at 2,760,000 shares. Transactions were so large and the market was so active that it was impossible for the reporters to secure a record of all the sales, and it is probable that even the large total mentioned may be 50,000 shares short of the mark. The largest transactions were in United States Steel, 432,600 shares of which changed hands at from 49½@52, closing at 51 3-4. About 172,500 shares of United States Steel preferred were sold at prices ranging from 97½ to 99. The activity in Union Pacific throughout the day was very great, the total sales in that stock being 392,500 shares, at prices ranging from 109½ to 120. The stock closed at 118 3-4, an advance of 11 points, compared with last Friday's close.

The dealing in bonds also was tremendous, the most active being the Union Pacific convertible 4s, large blocks of which changed hands at prices constantly advancing. The first sale of the day in these bonds was a block of $35,000 at 113½, and the last sale of the day was one of $115,000 at 117 7-8. The high price for these bonds was 119 1-4.

"Strange Manifestation", Indeed

Menominee, Mich., April 30.—A most strange manifestation is alleged to have developed here yesterday in the home of a Polish family. Anton Czarnecki, a devout Catholic, returned from church and knelt in prayer. On the wall was a picture of the Saviour on a cross. Upon looking up he discovered blood trickling down outside of the glass from the points where the hands and feet are pinioned. In great alarm he sent for priests. Two came and wiped the blood off, but it reappeared as fast as it was wiped away, running down a distance of six inches. Hundreds affirm the strange occurrence, and great excitement prevails. The house has been closed and no further visitors will be allowed. Bishop Eis has been sent for.

Negotiations Incomplete

London, April 30.—The Daily Mail this morning publishes an interview with Mr. Glynn, a director of the Leyland line at Liverpool, in which Mr. Glynn says that the American syndicate, represented by Mr. Morgan, sought to obtain sufficient of the ordinary shares of the company to give them the right to the nomination of two of the directors. Mr. Glynn explained that the negotiations were incomplete, but that only to this extent would the Leyland line be under the influence of the American syndicate.

AWARDED TO PARKER

Roeber Refused to Continue Wrestling For More Than an Hour

Boston, April 30.—The first big wrestling match for years in Boston ended in a fizzle last night, to all appearances, although Harvey Parker of Brockton was given the decision over Ernest Roeber, the world's champion at Greco-Roman. The decision had to be given as it was, because Roeber refused to continue wrestling at the end of the first hour, claiming that his understanding was that an hour was the limit for a bout if no fall was taken in shorter time. The general understanding was that the men should wrestle until a fall was taken, and Roeber's claim gave the 2500 men in Mechanics' hall a disagreeable surprise.

The Parker-Roeber match for the championship was expected to be the feature in a long bill of bouts, and while it was on the prospects were good for a stiff fight. Up to the time of the disagreement Parker did all the work, striving time and time again to break Roeber's bridges in order to secure a fair fall. Parker was many pounds lighter and far quicker than Roeber, but the latter's offensive work was not seen at its best, as Roeber played for time, apparently.

At the close of the Parker-Roeber match there was a lively mixup, and for a time it had the appearance of becoming a free fight. Roeber was assailed a number of times, and had to flee to his room and secure police protection to prevent an angry crowd from doing him injury. It was the general opinion that the result of the bout was predetermined, and this was borne out by Roeber's statement to that effect.

Nine men entered in the lightweight tournament for the championship of New England, but the bout ended, as did the other, in a fizzle, for John H. Little declined to wrestle his brother, James J. Little, in the deciding tilt, and the match was awarded to the latter.

Exposure

To cold and stormy weather opens the way to an attack of bronchitis. The man on the wagon, be he farmer, milkman or truckman, needs to pay special heed to the first symptoms of weakness or disease of the organs of respiration.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure bronchitis, deep-seated coughs, bleeding of the lungs, and other conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate fatally in consumption.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"For seven years I had been troubled with what the doctors called bronchitis," writes Mr. Arthur Maule (general merchant), of Nilestown, Middlesex Co., Ontario. "A year ago, after I had been taken sick with a severe attack, I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I rapidly recovered from the attack and felt no more of it that fall. This season I began taking the 'Discovery' in August, and have so far been perfectly well. I can go out in all kinds of weather and not feel the bronchial trouble at all. Let me say to all who are suffering from such complaints to give Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a fair trial, and I am convinced that good results will be obtained."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper-bound, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only; or 31 stamps for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
